DEMAND FOR LAND ALREADY EVIDENT

FIFTEEN TRANSFERS IN ONE TOWNSHIP THUS FAR RECORDED.

An exceptionally large number of inquiries for Pennington county farming lands are this spring reported by the real estate dealers in the city. This section of the Northwest received much favorable advertising by reason of the excellent crops of last year and has besides become the spot toward which men looking for the most promising openings in the dairy business are casting their eyes.

Fifteen land transfers are reported from the township of Reiner alone during the past two months. Part of this movement is due to the farmers already resident there adding to their holdings, but it also means a number of entirely new arrivals. Several purchasers were formerly farm owners in Pennington county but permitted themselves to be carried off their feet by the Canada fever a few years ago. They have been disillusionized and glad of the opportunity to again cast their lot with Uncle Sam.

A practical farmer with two carloads of live stock, farm implements and household goods this week moved onto the J. H. Hay farm near Goodridge. This makes a total of seven carloads for eastern Pennington county this month—four for the Goodridge neighborhood and three for Mavie. This is the largest number in any one month since November, when there were also seven.

STATE BOARD MAN IS TOO ENERGETIC

RED CROSS MAY HAVE TO RETURN FUNDS COLLECTED AS FINES.

During the most drastic conservation period of the past year a young man visited Pennington county as a representative of the state food administration, his mission being the discovery of farmers who were hoarding wheat. His investigations disclosed no one in this section attempting to evade the law and he gave our farmers a clean bill of health, complimenting the entire section on its patriotism at the same time.

Other counties did not fare so well at his hands and several farmers, particularly those residing in McLeod, Carver and Brown counties, were hauled before local magistrates on wheat-hoarding charges and assessed fines in varying amounts, the collection going to the Red Cross. Vye was the complainant in each case and the victims started an investigation to discover just how much authority he had. From the evidence it would seem as if Mr. Vye had far overstepped his authority and Food Administrator A. D. Wilson now suggests that the money be returned.

The farmers maintain that they had at no time any hesitancy in contributing toward the Red Cross but object seriously to this particular method of levying the assessment. They claim that even their seed wheat was taken from them by orders of Mr. Vye and that small amounts kept for feed was magnified into hundreds of bushels when the report was made to the authorities.

Returns From France.

Rev. A. A. Larson of the First Swedish church, last week received word that his brother, Melvin, had landed at Charleston, after a term of service with the American army in France. He was a member of the famous Wildcat, or 118th infantry division, and saw his full share of actual service. The young man enlisted from Fergus Falls early in the war. Another brother of Rev. Larson is still in France.

Leaves For Canada.

John Mier, for many years engaged in farming near Thief River Falls, left the first of the week for Star City, Sask., where he will follow the same pursuits. Mr. Mier has two brothers in that section and has made previous visits there. Waldie and Carsten Christenson bought his property in this county and will farm the place in connection with their own already extensive holdings.

PUPILS GRADUATE AT AGGIE SCHOOL

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT CROOKSTON INSTITUTION ON THURSDAY.

Northwest Farm school alumni, students and friends gathered at the institution last Thursday for the thirteenth annual graduation exercises. The program consisted of practical farm and home demonstrations by members of the senior class, an address by Dean Guy Stanton Ford of the University of Minnesota, the presentation of diplomas to twenty-four graduates and certificates to eleven students by superintendent C. G. Selvig. Four seniors were unable to be present on account of being in the army.

Diplomas were awarded the following young people from Pennington county and territory immediately surrounding: Oscar R. Knutson, Warren; Henry Nabben, Thief River Falls; Olga Thunheim, Newfolden; Ruth M. Solem, Thief River Falls; Clary Eliason, Kratka, and Hilda Jorgenson, Goodridge.

Interest in the farm school at Crookston is on the increase and the year just closed has been the most successful in the history of the institution. Here the farm boys and girls of the Northwest are given an opportunity to acquire an education which will better adapt them to their work and thereby make them more useful citizens.

Soldiers Give Good Show.

Uncle Sammy's Minstrels, a troupe composed entirely of returned soldiers and sailors, gave a very creditable entertainment at the auditorium on Sunday evening. The company is composed of about a dozen young men and among them are some very talented singers and entertainers. Army life in all its phases was portrayed in a very vivid manner by the boys and the camp scene at the close of the program was a very pretty thing. Some of the young men are fine singers and were repeatedly encored when presenting their numbers. The jazz band and orchestra furnished delightful music and taken all in all it was a well balanced and delightful entertainment. A record crowd was in attendance at the show.

PRINCE ALBERT

NEVER was such right-handed-two-fisted smokejoy as you puff out of a jimmy pipe packed with Prince Albert! That's because P. A. has the quality!

You can't fool your taste apparatus any more than you can get five aces out of a family deck! So, when you hit Prince Albert, coming and going, and get up half an hour earlier just to start stoking your pipe or rolling cigarettes, you know you've got the big prize on the end of your line!

Prince Albert's quality alone puts it in a class of its own, but when you figure that P. A. is made by our exclusive patented process that cuts out bite and parch—well—you feel like getting a flock of dictionaries to find enough words to express your happy days sentiments!

Toppy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and—that classy, practical pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

Our reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

NO farmer is rich enough to feed high-priced butter to his hogs or his calves in partially skimmed milk.

It's a waste of money and food that your pocketbook, your neighbors, your country, all condemn.

But it's a waste that is going on today wherever an inferior or half-worn-out cream separator is being used, or the wasteful "gravity" method.

Why not put a stop to this needless waste with a De Laval Cream Separator?

You can't afford to do this

There is no other separator that can compare with the De Laval in clean skimming, capacity, ease of operation, freedom from repairs, and durability. It's the world's greatest cream saver.

Choicest Residence Lots in City to Be Offered for Sale

The finest inside residence lots in the city are to be put on sale at once. Sale will continue this spring until every lot is sold.

The big reconstruction idea now is a home for everybody. Not one that someone else owns and you rent, but a home that you own. This is going to be made just as easy for you as it is to pay rent and in the end you will have a deed to your own home instead of paying rent to a flat owner so that he may build more flats to get more rent to build more flats.

It is not necessary to take a bus to look at these lots nor will you need a taxi in bad weather if you buy one and build upon it. They are all within three or four blocks of the Post Office, Auditorium, Library, High School, Stores and business places, and more reasonable in price than lots so far out where there are no conveniences. Nearly all of these lots have city water, sewer and sidewalk all established and paid for, so you do not need to wait several years for these conveniences.

You can pay for these lots at the time of sale with cash or Liberty Bonds of any issue which bonds will be taken one hundred cents on the dollar, or you can pay one-fifth of the purchase price down and the balance at the rate of one-tenth each month, with six per cent interest on the part remaining unpaid from time to time.

Warranty deed delivered to you immediately upon payment in full. No taxes due until next year. All paid by owner this year. These lots are put on sale by the owner, who will show them at any time and give prices.

Wonderful Power Built Into A Light Tractor

Allwork

Kerosene Tractor

"Backed by 12 years of tractor experience"

THE striking feature of the Allwork Tractor is its big, powerful 4-cylinder motor (5-inch bore and 6-inch stroke). In our Valley soil, three plows will overload the small motor, but the Allwork, with its powerful motor and wealth of reserve power, simply rolls along with three plows in all conditions of soil, without any effort.

Why do you use four horses on your binder, when three could pull it? Because you must have that surplus of power that your four horses give you.

Give your tractor as square a deal as you do your horses, and your tractor troubles will disappear. You can do this by buying plenty of power.

We know of no place where $1575 will buy you as much power as it will in the Allwork tractor.

And the motor burns kerosene successfully. The specially constructed kerosene manifold, designed and perfected by engineers who have spent years in tractor research, delivers a perfect mixture to the cylinders. We advertise the Allwork strictly as a kerosene burner. We do not mean half kerosene and half gasoline, nor any other gasoline mixture. Just common, ordinary kerosene, and we guarantee the results.

Every wearing part is easy to get at. We consider the Allwork the most accessible tractor on the American market. This means much to you, Mr. Buyer. Look into it!

The Allwork is built by manufacturers who have had 12 years' successful experience in building tractors that have given complete satisfaction in all parts of the United States. It has plenty of power for all kinds of field and belt work and will give you good service, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. Stock of repairs carried at Crookston, Minn.

RULES

Rules for battery care are simple and few. Remember and follow them, and your battery will have better health and longer life.

1. Make hydrometer test. If reading is no higher than 1,275 use starter and lights as little as possible for a time.
2. Add distilled water to each cell every two weeks, so that solution just covers battery plates.
3. Never put acid into your battery.
4. Watch your ammeter and always be sure that you are putting in a little more current than you are taking out.
5. If hydrometer reading does not come up to 1,275 drive around and have your battery inspected.

50,000 Volunteers Wanted.

The immediate call for 50,000 volunteers for service in Europe has been reported by the war department. As an incentive to enlistment the men are offered early duty in France as relief for men in the expeditionary forces who wish to return home. Enlistment in this special force will be for three years. The men will be concentrated at Camp Meade, Md., and probably will be sent overseas in contingents 1,000 strong.

Farmers Use More Tractors.

Increased use by the American farmers of tractors is indicated in reports from factories, stating that approximately 315,000 of the machines will be produced this year. This estimate is more than double the number manufactured last year.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage containing a power of sale, dated the 1st day of March, 1915, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota, on April 8th, 1915, at 8 o'clock A. M., in Book 53 of Mortgages, on page 213, executed by Edward F. Dann and Lela Dann, his wife, as mortgagors, to Crookston State Bank, a corporation, mortgagee, and mortgaging the following described premises situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, to-wit: The South Half of the Southwest Quarter (S½ of SW¼) of Section Three (3) and the East Half of the Northeast Quarter (E½ of NE¼) and the Southeast Quarter (SE¼) of Section Nine (9), in Township One Hundred Fifty-two (152) North, of Range Forty-three (43) West, of the 5th Principal Meridian; and no action or proceeding having been instituted to recover the debts secured thereby, and there is claimed to be due on such mortgage at the date hereof the sum of One Thousand Six Hundred Eighty-eight ($1,688) Dollars, to which should be added the sum of Nine Hundred Twelve and 50-100 ($912.50) Dollars, the interest accrued since March 1, 1915, upon a prior mortgage on said land in the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars, which interest has been paid by the above named mortgagee, and for the payment of which, with interest thereon, an additional lien is given and claimed under the provisions of the mortgage hereby foreclosed, making the total amount due and claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon the mortgage herein be foreclosed the sum of Two Thousand Six Hundred and 50-100 ($2,600.50) Dollars.

Now Notice Is Hereby Given, that by virtue of the said power of sale, and the statute in such cases, said mortgage will be foreclosed and said premises sold at public auction by the sheriff of said county, on Saturday the 17th day of May, 1919, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, to pay said debt, interest, attorney's fees, and the disbursements allowed by law, and taxes, if any, paid by the holder of said mortgage.

Dated March 26, 1919.

THIS GLORIOUS COUNTRY OF OURS WAS A COUNTRY OF SLAVES—SLAVES TO SELFISH, DOMINATING FOREIGN RULE UNTIL IT DECLARED ITS INDEPENDENCE,

YOU ARE NOT INDEPENDENT AS LONG AS YOU FIDDLE AWAY YOUR MONEY AND DO NOT SAVE SOME OF IT.

BEGIN TODAY AND DECLARE YOUR INDEPENDENCE BY STARTING TO SAVE. PUT SOME MONEY IN OUR BANK AND KNOW YOU HAVE STARTED A BANK ACCOUNT. YOU CAN AND SHOULD DO IT.

WE PAY FIVE PER CENT INTEREST.

COME TO OUR BANK

First National Bank
Thief River Falls, Minn.

The One Safe and Sensible Investment

Any money you may put into the improvement of your home is better than having it in the bank. Under present conditions the improvement is certain to increase in value with the passing years by reason of the almost inevitable raise in the price of building material.

Good buildings are a source of pride and satisfaction, and there will never come a time when they can be secured as cheaply as now.

The Building Boom is On

In every section of the United States people are building something. Sometimes it is a house, sometimes a barn or a silo.—Others are only fixing fences—but nearly all are doing something along this line.

Do Not Allow Your Property to Run Down

Buy the material now. The opportunity will never be better. And buy it from a concern that has been dealing with the people of this section for more than 20 years. We know what is needed as soon as you tell us what you want. Our experience is at your service.

Do Your Duty by the Country---Build Now

We have everything you may need and will make a satisfactory price.

Winton-Nichols Lumber Company

Expanding to Meet Public Needs

THE packer is a purveyor of foods. Largely dependent on him are the producer, the retailer and the consumer. The farmer looks to the large packing concern to provide outlets for what he raises. The housewife relies upon the packer for an important part of her daily food supply. Retailers expect prompt service and regular deliveries. Thousands of workmen are given gainful employment.

Of all industrial undertakings none is so closely allied to the comfort and security of the nation.

To meet these responsibilities successfully makes large scale operation imperative. For, in order to buy from the grower whenever he is ready to sell, Armour must have a national market to distribute foods everywhere. And conversely, to make food supplies certain, Armour must be able to buy in many producing centers.

Serving both producers and consumers, it is evident that such a business must be conducted fairly and beneficially to all. In no other way can its existence be justified. In no other way could it have thrived.

But to carry out its uses fully, the responsibilities of the business must be met by the responsibilities of those it serves. In its own interests the public must give big business the opportunity to perform the service which is very properly expected of it.

With a multitude of problems to be solved in national collecting and distributing, a complex though smoothly working system has been evolved in the Armour organization through the course of years. Each part dovetails in its work with the rest. All are dependent upon and interrelated with the others.

Food plants would be unable to give stock-growers outlets without the branch houses which are continually competing for trade. And neither the producing plants nor the distributing branches could operate on an efficient and economical basis, without the modern refrigerator cars directed under a single management which controls their movements.

In short, the Armour system is the outgrowth of national needs—a system that can give maximum service only as a whole—and that dismembered, would fail to live up to the requirements which the country and city public today demands.

Harbingers of Spring.

Signs of spring are becoming more numerous every day, and several citizens have reported seeing robins, geese, crows, etc. Hubert Buck called up The Times on Monday and stated that he had seen a robin that morning. Whether this was the first one seen in the city this spring is not known, but that it was a vanguard in the northward march among the birds is certain.

ELKS TO ARRANGE FOR GREAT DRIVE

AIM IS TO MAKE TOTAL MEMBERSHIP ONE MILLION DURING 1919.

Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308 will install the newly elected officers at the regular meeting to be held on Friday night. There is also an even dozen fawns to be adopted into the herd at the same time so the session will be one of the most interesting of the year. The officers assuming their positions are: L. R. Johnston, exalted ruler; G. Howard Smith, esteemed leading knight; H. W. Protzeller, esteemed loyal knight; J. W. Hendry, esteemed lecturing knight; J. T. Elsenpeter, treasurer; E. F. Dolan, secretary; J. H. Brumund, tyler.

At this meeting the plans for the big membership drive will be announced. The grand lodge of the order has set a goal of one million as the total to be reached by the organization during 1919, and every subordinate in the country is staging a campaign for members. The local lodge will be divided into teams and there will be keen rivalry to see which can bring in the greatest number of applications.

The Elks lodge has perhaps grown faster than any other similar organization in the city during the past few years, the same statement holding good for the entire country. Should the campaign for an even million be successful it will bring the order up to where it is numerically among the very leaders.

While the different teams will be ambitious to secure members, there are a number of things they will not be permitted to forget. The Elks exercise great care in choosing candidates for their order and admissions are by no means indiscriminate, even during the heat of a campaign. For those who may not know just what kind of a man is wanted as a member of the Elks the following lines, written by Meigs O. Frost of New Orleans Lodge No. 30, should furnish all the instructions needed:

If he looks the whole world squarely
  in the eye;
If he helps a friend in trouble,
  Nor asks why—
He's the kind that Elks are made of—
  He's no chap to be afraid of.
You'll be proud to call him "Brother!"
  Bye and bye.

If his kiddies grin, expectant,
  When he comes;
If he brings 'em gifts and helps 'em
  Do their sums;
If his pet pup leaps to greet him,
  If his neighbors smile to meet him,
If his grip upon your hand your Fingers numbs.

If his eyes are framed in wrinkles
  Made by smiles;
If his clothes don't always set the Latest styles;
If he leaves his echoed laughter
  For the folks who follow after,
Making short Life's trail, so full of Weary miles.

Don't you worry 'bout his money,
  Or of time
He forgot, somehow, to spend in Social climb.
Sign him up—the Elks can use him,
  They'll be mighty glad to choose him,
And to lose him for the lodge would
  Be a crime.

—THINK IN INTEREST—SAVE—

DOWN AND OUT—BUT HIS TONGUE STILL WAGS.

The bonds are absolutely the best secured in the world so he dare not attack them openly.

He whispers to you to sell them, hoping to demoralize the market.

And he has about as much chance of doing this as he had of winning the war. It is characteristic Hun stupidity.

Every time you are approached to sell your Liberty Bond or to trade it for stock in some unknown and unestablished project, remember it is the voice of the Hun speaking.

Then take another grip on your Liberty Bonds and hold tight. Keep those you have and be ready to buy more when the Victory Liberty Loan is offered for sale in April.

MOLINE, ILL.
THE TRADE MARK OF QUALITY MADE FAMOUS BY GOOD IMPLEMENTS

Plow Bottoms Fix Plow Value

How soon will you have to replace the tractor plow you are going to buy? How much will the plow cost you for repairs? How much power will it take to pull the plow? And what sort of seed bed will the plow make? The answers to these questions are in the bottoms on the plow. The bottoms determine the value of the plow.

John Deere Plow Bottoms Give a Special Value to John Deere Pony Tractor Plows

John Deere plow bottoms are the result of eighty years' close study of soil conditions. For three-quarters of a century they have been the world's standard in plow bottoms. This quality is maintained—is made uniform—by special workmen using the highest grade material. John Deere bottoms wear much longer than ordinary bottoms. They do better work with less draft than other bottoms.

For Use With Any Standard Tractor--Easily Operated by the Tractor Driver

Wide range of hitch permits John Deere Pony Tractor Plows to be used with any standard tractor. They are "one-man" plows. A slight pull on the rope causes the bottoms to lift high and level—another slight pull causes them to lower and enter the ground. Unusually high clearance prevents clogging. The driver can stay with the tractor until the plowing job is finished.

Beams Guaranteed Not to Bend or Break

Beams are John Deere special steel, fully tested, and amply strong for heavy work. They are warranted not to spring or break.

Any farmer using a tractor plowing outfit will find exceptional value to him in the John Deere Pony Tractor Plows. See them at

Who Owns The Standard Oil Company?
(Indiana)

THE Standard Oil Company of Indiana is a corporation owned by the people at large, doing for the people, to the best of its ability, a big job in a highly specialized branch of industry.

The ownership is spread over 4623 stockholders—2084 of them women—not one owning as much as ten per cent of the total.

The 30 million dollars of capital stock represents a cash investment of $117,509,465.00.

You may become a stockholder—go to any broker and he will buy for you as much stock as you want at the market price.

NEWS NOTES OF SHOP AND RAIL

SOO TRAINMASTER RETURNS TO CITY

H. D. KEENE BACK AT FORMER JOB AFTER THREE MONTHS ABSENCE.

H. D. Keene, former trainmaster on this division of the Soo, returned Monday morning and has resumed his former position. Mr. Keene had for three months been working on the Chicago division of the Soo, with headquarters at Fon du Lac, Wis. The return of a number of railroad men from military service made it unnecessary for him to remain there longer and he accordingly was given the option of returning to his former work here. Mr. Keene held a very responsible position at Fon du Lac, the regular incumbent of which had been called to Washington to work with the railroad administration during the war. This gentleman was recently released from his duties at Washington and of course was given the privilege of returning to his former position, while Mr. Keene in turn was given an opportunity to return to his old job in this city. While the local friends of Mr. Keene are glad to see him back at the old job, they are sorry that he was not permitted to hold the other position permanently, it being a decided promotion and one which he justly deserves.

Rip Track Crew Reduced.

Due to the fact that work was getting somewhat slack, twenty men in the car repair department of the Soo were laid off last Thursday evening. This leaves the force under the jurisdiction of Car Foreman Conklin only 47 men, the smallest it has been for some time. The following men were released last Thursday: Sam Skramstad, Chas. Longevin, Peter A. Kolden, Frank J. Cowell, W. A. Rhode, Jens Olauson, Gunder T. Lee, John Kassa, Joseph Neseth, C. F. Erickson, Alfred Johnson, Olaf J. Erickson, Philip Lundberg, Otis Dokken, John L. Bamford, Louis Qualey, John Dahl, Andrew Tveten, Alfred Hermanson and Halvor Oftelie.

Division Jottings.

F. L. Pettit, agent at Eckman, N. D., is enjoying a short vacation.

H. Vance is relieving Agent P. M. Johnson at Orleans for two weeks while the latter enjoys a much needed vacation.

O. A. Paulson, helper at Lancaster, was here Friday evening on a visit to local friends.

Olaf Sorenson, car man, has been in the Twin Cities since Tuesday evening on business.

C. Wittensten, warehouseman at Mahnomen, was a visitor in this city between trains last Friday.

B. Bergsten is relieving W. C. Fleming, warehouseman at Alexandria, who is laid up by illness.

Storeman Nels Nelson left on Tuesday for Winnipeg to look after business matters for a day or two.

O. C. Hanson, engineer, has returned to work after being out of the service for some time on account of sickness.

Otis Dokken, formerly a car man, is now engaged as coach cleaner for the Soo and began work the first of the week.

Emil Norquist, boilermaker foreman, returned last Friday from Mahnomen, where he had been to test and overhaul boilers.

Peter Olson, box packer for some time, has advanced a notch and is now employed by the car department of the Soo as repairer.

Alex Campbell, fireman, who recently returned from army service, has gone to Adams, N. D., to take charge of a run on the Soo.

Bernard Burggraf, day call boy, is laid up with a badly sprained ankle and will probably not be able to go back to work for two weeks.

H. L. Ward, fireman, is enjoying a short layoff from his duties and is putting in the time visiting relatives and friends in the Twin Cities.

F. S. Dalton, agent at Fordville, spent last Thursday with friends among the local railroad boys, returning to Fordville the following day.

F. C. Paine, agent at Erskine, was here Monday evening and left the following morning for Pinewood, N. D., where he had business which demanded his attention.

Anton Carlson, stationary fireman at the Soo roundhouse, has returned to work after having been confined to his home for three weeks with a severe attack of influenza.

C. A. Joslin, car man, returned to work on Tuesday. He had been absent for a month, during most of which time he was confined to his home with a severe attack of the flu.

George Erickson, who has been holding down a job at the Soo roundhouse for some time, has been transferred to a similar position at Enderlin, N. D., and left on Saturday for that place to take up his new duties.

Fireman Mike Vanek spent Tuesday with friends at this place. Mr. Vanek recently returned from army service and will resume his former position as fireman on the Minnesota division of the Soo.

Henry C. Simonson, storeman, has left the service and will go to Kenmare, where he has secured a position in a drug store. Mr. Simonson formerly was employed as druggist and accordingly goes back to his first love.

E. E. Brown of Harvey, N. D., business agent of the maintenance of way and railway shop employes, was here on Tuesday looking after business at the local branch of the organization. He found everything in tip-top shape and the union in a healthy condition.

Engineer F. W. Johnson and family are planning an extended trip to the west coast and will leave as soon as arrangements can be made. They will visit Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco and many other points, expecting to be absent for several weeks. Mr. Johnson's health has not been of the best for a while and he has planned this trip in the hope that it will give him an opportunity to recuperate.

Poor Week For Weddings.

Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund has not been called upon to issue a marriage license during the past week and business will have to pick up materially in the near future if the average for previous years is to be maintained. Even the returned soldiers seem to hesitate about getting married, only one such having applied for a license since the first of the year.

GIRLS CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEET

PLANS MADE TO KEEP MEMBERS BUSY FOR SOME TIME.

Another rousing meeting was held Monday evening by the Girls' Community club, and a large number of the young ladies were in attendance. The meeting was held in the basement of the Presbyterian church. Gymnasium work occupied most of the session and the girls found this very interesting. The gym class is under the able instruction of Miss Martha Kleppe and Miss Mildred Ortman.

Mrs. C. G. Selvig of Crookston, president of the district federation of women's clubs, gave a very interesting talk on club work. The members of the club voted in favor of federating the local organization with state clubs, and it is expected this will be accomplished in the near future. A class in expression was organized and this will be coached by Mrs. C. A. Pitkin. The girls are making preparations to put on a class play in the near future but no date for this has yet been decided upon.

Another new feature was added in the form of a "hiking club." This will be in charge of Miss Florence Prichard and those desiring to join the hikers are asked to notify that young lady.

All those having books and magazines which they wish to contribute to the shipment which is to be sent to the fire sufferers near Duluth, are asked to turn them in before next Saturday in order that the shipment may go forward promptly.

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel surest about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-

It" anyhow, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic.

MONT BOOZE CASE DISMISSED BY STATE

LACK OF EVIDENCE ESTABLISHES FUTILITY OF FURTHER PROSECUTION.

John Mont, arrested Saturday evening of last week and charged with illegal liquor selling, appeared for trial last Thursday afternoon in municipal court. Mr. Mont had been out on $100 cash bail since his preliminary hearing. The state had come to the conclusion that it was impossible to get sufficient evidence to secure a conviction and therefore moved that the case be dismissed.

Made Extended Visit.

W. W. Prichard, Sr., returned last Thursday from a trip which has taken up the greater part of the winter. He has been in Iowa and Illinois and extended his visit to include Boston and other eastern cities. Mr. Prichard made the journey east for the purpose of looking into the condition of his son, James S., who has been confined in a hospital since his return from overseas duty last fall. He found the young man improving rapidly and received every assurance that within a short time all traces of his trouble would disappear. So far toward recovery has "Jim" advanced that it was possible to permit him to accompany his father back as far as Fort Snelling, where he will remain until completely cured.

Plummer Man Injured.

Ben Meyers, a farmer residing west of Plummer, was brought to the local hospital last Saturday evening in a serious condition as the result of an accident. Mr. Meyers had fallen from a wagon and was unconscious when found. An examination by Dr. H. W. Froehlich disclosed the fact that the patient was suffering from concussion of the brain. He is now making a satisfactory recovery and will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Royally Entertained.

Ten members of the Woman's club, in this city, left Tuesday afternoon for St. Hilaire to attend the Lyceum course lecture in that village. The ladies were entertained at the G. W. Hooper home and an elaborate dinner was served. After the lecture the seats were moved aside and a dance finished the evening's entertainment. Those who were present are: Mesdames H. O. Loken, L. G. Larson, G. Tessum, S. C. Coumbe, H. W. Froehlich, A. Sapero, E. O. Mogensen, J. H. Hardesty, O. L. Cronstrom and L. M. Rayson.

W. O. W. Meeting.

The W. O. W's. will have a general meeting at the Lost Loon lodge this evening. P. X. will entertain.

Order For Hearing on Petition to Convey Lands on Contract.

State of Minnesota, County of Pennington, ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, March 13, 1919.

On Reading and filing the petition of John Ferweda claiming to be entitled to a conveyance of certain real estate from the administrator of said estate, setting forth that Hattie Long, deceased, was bound by a contract in writing to convey said real estate to the said John Ferweda upon the terms and conditions therein stated, with a description of the land to be conveyed, and the facts upon which such claim to conveyance is predicated, and praying that the Probate Court make a decree authorizing and directing the said administrator to convey such real estate to said petitioner as the person entitled thereto.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, That all persons interested in said estate may appear before this Court, at a special term thereof to be held on Friday the 25th day of April A. D. 1919, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at the Probate Office in the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls in said County, and oppose said petition.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That this order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing in the Thief River Falls Times, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Thief River Falls, in said County.

By the Court,
IRA C. RICHARDSON,
Judge of Probate.

Autimobile Showroom.

The Prichard company is having a part of the former machinery warehouse on Horace avenue remodeled for the purpose of making a show room for automobiles. The concern has recently taken over the agency for the Buick and Chevrolet cars and have already placed a considerable number of these machines for future delivery. When completed the new show room will be one of the finest outside the large cities.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. E. J. Overland entertained thirty-four young people at her home, 801 Main avenue north last Saturday evening in honor of her son, Elnor, who was on that day 18 years old. The evening was spent in singing, dancing and playing games. At midnight a delicious two-course lunch was served, after which the guests departed for their respective homes.

Easter Party.

Misses Ione and Ruth Loken entertained a number of their young friends at their home, 315 Second street west, Wednesday afternoon. The children amused themselves by playing games, and had a delightful time. At five o'clock a dainty two-course lunch was served. The table was decorated with yellow and white place cards on which little chickens and yellow-flowered candy baskets were pictured. The event being the girls' birthdays, they were presented with many charming remembrances from their little friends. Those present were: Misses Margaret Barzen, Verna Fillmore, Gladys Weeks, Gladys Christianson, Jeanette Kennison, Jeanette Mogensen and Robert Gambell.

The metal market has struck rock bottom and a standing price is hard to make on account of the continued lowering of prices due to the little demand, but the highest market prices will be paid.

Wool

It is expected that the market will be much better than was earlier predicted. Clean wool will fetch the highest price. Dirty, chaffy, and taggy wool will likely sell at 10c per pound lower than clean wool and we would advise farmers to take up their wool in good shape if the highest market price is to be expected.

VICTORY LOAN TO GET BOOST ON WEDNESDAY

BIG PARADE AND MASS MEETINGS ARRANGED FOR APRIL 16.

WAR TANK ALSO COMING

PREPARE TO LAUNCH FIFTH LOAN IN ENTHUSIASTIC MANNER.

In order to give the forthcoming Victory Loan a rousing start, Chairman G. Howard Smith and his co-workers in the great cause have decided to arrange a big celebration for this city next Wednesday, April 16. There will be afternoon and evening sessions, the former being held on the vacant lots just south of the auditorium while the evening meeting will take place in the auditorium building. Speaking and musical programs will be carried out both in the afternoon and evening.

Big Parade Comes First.

A meeting of loan chairmen and others interested was held Tuesday afternoon at the Commercial club rooms. Details of the meetings were at that time worked out and committees appointed to take charge of the various phases of the work. The first thing on the program will be a big parade, in which all of the people of the city, including school children, are asked to take part. Lodges, churches and other organizations are requested to arrange for floats to represent them in the parade. A committee consisting of Julien Provencher, W. B. Fuller, W. W. Prichard, Jr., and Supt. J. H. Hay was named to take charge of the parade, and these gentlemen will no doubt see to it that the thing is done up right.

A Real War Tank.

On this occasion Pennington county people will be given an opportunity to see a real war tank. One of these machines will be sent here by the district loan organization and is scheduled to arrive early in the morning over the Soo. The tank is of the "whippet" type and weighs about seven tons. It is one of several machines used in the Argonne Forest battles and has seen real service. Two experienced drivers will accompany the tank and will give demonstrations showing how this famous form of fighting mechanism is used in battle. The tank will likely be given a chance to lead the parade in its march through the city, and will remain here until the following afternoon, when it will be taken to Red Lake Falls for further exhibition.

Starts at One O'clock.

The parade is scheduled to start promptly at one o'clock. Stores will be closed from 12:30 until three o'clock in order to give everyone a chance to take part in the celebration. The parade will be routed over the principal business streets of the city and will terminate near the auditorium. Here the afternoon program is to be carried out providing the weather is agreeable. If the weather is uncomfortable the meeting will likely be held in the auditorium. Rev. J. A. Orrock, Dr. G. A. Penney and Mrs. H. W. Froehlich were named as a committee to arrange a suitable program for the occasion. Besides short addresses by local speakers, it is planned to have several returned soldiers recount their experiences in the war zone. It is planned to conduct a community sing under the supervision of the Woman's club in order to add zest to the gathering, and everybody will be asked to join in this part of the program. The city band has been engaged to render several numbers and will also take part in the parade.

The Evening Meeting.

The evening meeting is scheduled for the auditorium at eight o'clock. Supt. J. H. Hay and other prominent local speakers will deliver addresses to boost the Victory loan, and many other attractive numbers are under consideration by the committee. The ladies also expect to conduct a community sing at the evening meeting.

All returned soldiers and sailors in Pennington county are urgently requested to be present in uniform next Wednesday. They will, so to speak, be the guests of honor, and seats on the auditorium stage are to be provided for them at the evening meeting. The local company of home guards has taken upon itself the task of entertaining these soldiers and sailors while they are in the city and will keep open house at the Commercial club rooms all day for this purpose. Lunch will be provided for the boys at noon, and it is desired that a large number of them be present as guests of the home guard.

To Boost Good Roads.

A number of farmers and business men held a meeting last Saturday afternoon at Goodridge to discuss topics of importance to the community. A good roads movement was strongly favored by those present and an executive committee consisting of Stuart McLeod, A. B. Mandt and B. O. Norby was chosen. This committee was instructed to arrange several "bees" in June and to appoint subcommittees in the townships tributary to Goodridge. All present at the meeting will talk, boost and work for better roads. Further announcement of work done by these committees will be made in the future.

TO ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS

The Home guards will act as hosts to the soldiers and sailors who visit Thief River Falls next Wednesday during the Victory Loan meetings. The Commercial club rooms will be open all day and the boys are cordially invited to make themselves at home there. A free lunch will be served at noon under the auspices of the Home guard.

May Locate Here.

J. H. Hermanson, hardware man, now located at Kelliher has moved to Thief River Falls with his family and will probably engage in the hardware business here. Negotiations are pending whereby he may purchase one of the stores now operating, but if this falls through it is understood that Mr. Hermanson will start a new business. He is a man of long experience in this line and believes that there is an opening here for another enterprise of this kind.

WRIT IS PROCURED BY CITY ATTORNEY

MANDAMUS PROCEEDINGS ARE STARTED TO FORCE SALARY PAYMENT

In an attempt to force Mayor G. A. Penney to sign warrants for his salary as city attorney, Theo. Quale last week secured a writ of mandamus from Judge A. Grindeland of the district court. The writ is an order requiring the mayor to show cause why he should not sign the warrants and is returnable April 12 at Warren. An answer to the order has already been filed and Judge Grindeland now has the matter under advisement.

Mayor Penney contends that the office of city attorney has been vacant since the first of the year, at which time Mr. Quale assumed the position of county attorney. According to Mr. Penney the two offices are incompatible and he bases his assumption on an opinion rendered some years ago by the attorney general in a similar case. Mr. Quale maintains that he is legally entitled to his salary, having been chosen as city attorney by the council and continued in his position by the sanction of that body. He claims that as long as his legal services are acceptable to the council he should be entitled to compensation for such services.

LARGE SUM GIVEN FOR ADVERTISING

BUSINESS MEN PROVIDE LIBERAL PUBLICITY FOR VICTORY LOAN.

A total of $150 was this week subscribed by the business men of Thief River Falls to pay for newspaper advertising and other publicity to be used in spreading the gospel of the forthcoming Victory loan. This is a very generous sum and will provide means whereby this publicity may be sent broadcast to all parts of the county and surrounding territory. The first of a series of newspaper appeals is printed on another page of this issue of The Times. Following is a list of contributors to the fund:

Thief River Grocery company, First and Peoples State bank, First National bank, Citizens State bank, Farmers and Merchants State bank, The Times company, McFarland Auto company, The Prichard company, Hanson-Barzen Milling company, Winton-Nichols Lumber company, The Pennington Publishing company, Roy Lambert, A. S. Sapero, C. S. Simonson, Oen Mercantile company, City Bakery, Carl Christofferson and company, Swartz & Johnson, Jung Bros., Stanton Bros.

WEED INSPECTOR UP TO FARMERS

MUST MAKE THEIR DESIRES KNOWN OR PLAN WILL FALL FLAT.

Unless the farmers of the section indicate a desire for a weed inspector appointed the plan for appointing one will fall down for lack of support on the part of those most vitally interested.

Petitions for the appointment of an inspector must have the signatures of ten per cent of the voters of the county. This number could easily be secured right in the city of Thief River Falls but it is desired that the farmers themselves shall decide the matter. For this reason petitions have been placed in all the banks in the county and at Plummer, Viking and Wylie. Any farmer who is in favor of the appointment of an official of this kind should attach his signature at once. Only in this manner will the commissioners be authorized to take action on the matter.

LOCAL MAN IS UNDER ARREST FOR LARCENY

GEORGE CHRISTO, PROPRIETOR OF CANDY KITCHEN, CHARGED WITH CRIME.

GROCERY COMPANY VICTIM

LOCAL FIRM CHARGES THEFT OF LARGE QUANTITIES OF ITS GOODS.

George Christo, proprietor of the Minnesota Candy Kitchen on Third street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff W. J. LaBree on a warrant charging grand larceny. The warrant was secured by Nels Christianson, treasurer of the Thief River Grocery company. Christo was given a preliminary hearing today before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court. He waived examination and was bound over to the district court under $700 bonds, which he is now making an effort to secure.

Large Thefts Charged.

It is claimed that by working in conjunction with an employe of the grocery company, Christo has during the past two years been able to secure large quantities of goods. The employe connected with the deal is said to have made a complete confession to the authorities regarding his part in the affair. It is stated that shortages aggregating several thousand dollars have been discovered in the stock of the grocery company covering a period of two years, and an investigation has been carried on to discover what was becoming of the goods which so mysteriously disappeared. Suspicion became attached to a certain employe of the company, who has for some time been making deliveries of goods to various business places in the city. When questioned regarding his knowledge of the missing property the employe made a clean breast of the whole affair. He implicated Christo in the deal, claiming that the latter had taken the goods for his store, paying him only a very small part of the real value. The case is causing considerable comment by reason of the large acquaintance of both men concerned.

FARMER KILLED IN FALL FROM WAGON

EDW. ENRIGHT MEETS DEATH SUDDENLY ON WAY FROM TOWN.

The body of Ed. Enright, a farmer living in Browns Creek township, six miles north of Red Lake Falls, was found Monday night lying in the road, four miles from Red Lake Falls, according to telephone advices from that city. The report states the man is supposed to have been seized with an epileptic fit and in his convulsions fell off the wagon which he was driving. He is believed to have fallen on his head as his neck was broken and this was the cause given for his death.

Enright is declared to be a man about 50 years old and was married, although he had no children. He has a brother at East Grand Forks. A brother-in-law, Peter Kelly, also living in East Grand Forks, died last week.

J. H. HAY ACCEPTS NEW SCHOOL FIELD

CHOSEN TO SUPERINTEND WARROAD SCHOOLS FOR COMING YEAR.

Supt. J. H. Hay of the local schools this week definitely announced that he had accepted the position of superintendent of the Warroad schools for next year. Mr. Hay is stepping into a more lucrative position than he now holds, the increase in salary being quite substantial. His daughter, Jean, also has secured a position as teacher in the Warroad schools, which will make it possible for the family to remain united during the school year.

Mr. Hay has been offered a free hand in conducting the Warroad schools, this being granted upon the recommendation of state school inspectors who are familiar with his work. A large new high school building has recently been erected at Warroad and the school is one of the largest and best in the smaller cities of the Northwest.

After spending many years in the Red River Valley and being closely associated with its development, Mr. Hay naturally feels gratified to know that he will continue to make the valley his home. His position there will enable him to continue his good work for the section.

It Rained in the Cities.

L. A. Lampert of the Farmers and Merchants bank returned Monday night from a short business trip to the cities. He states that while the weather here is not ideal for this time of year the brand they are enjoying in St. Paul is no improvement. Snow, sleet and rain was the established program of the weather man during the time that the Thief River man das down there.

Successful Basket Social.

In spite of the threatening weather last Saturday evening the basket social held at Goodridge was a huge success. A total of $215.15 was raised through the sale of baskets and this amount will be placed to the credit of the recently organized Tri-County Fair association. Stuart McLeod acted as auctioneer and sold baskets as high as $27. This is the first attempt made to raise money for the new organization and its success shows the people to be heartily in favor of the project.

Mrs. R. L. Hiatt, who has been teaching school at Oakes, N. D., for the past few weeks, is down with the flu and has been taken to a hospital in that town. Letters received by Lieut. Hiatt state that a sister, with whom his wife was staying, is also down with disease. At last reports the ladies did not consider the situation sufficiently serious to warrant Mr. Hiatt in making a trip over there.

Attends Golden Wedding.

Mrs. E. O. Erickson returned this morning from Henning, where she had been visiting at her former home for several days. While there she attended a celebration held in honor of the golden wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Johnson, which took place April 7.

ZIEGLER HERE TO PLAN WITH BOARD

NEW SCHOOL HEAD GETTING LINE ON WORK FOR COMING YEAR.

W. A. Ziegler, recently appointed as superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, is in the city today, having come up last evening from the university where he is engaged in teaching while taking a post graduate course.

Mr. Ziegler is in conference with the board this afternoon, it being his intention to acquaint himself as early and thoroughly as possible with the requirements of his new position. The hiring of teachers for the coming term has been postponed for the reason that it was felt the new school-head should be consulted before contracts were closed. It is expected that the board will finish up this matter before today's meeting is adjourned.

No difficulty is expected in securing a sufficient number of high class teachers. Many of these have been engaged in war work of one kind and another for some time, a considerable number having even seen service in France, and these are now returning. They will naturally look for openings as teachers again and the scarcity of the past few years is expected to be relieved to a large extent.

BANKERS WILL HELP FINANCE NEW LOAN

MONEY AT LOW RATE OF INTEREST AND ON LIBERAL TERMS.

Bankers of Pennington county will do their share in helping to put the Victory loan over the top. At a meeting held last Thursday evening they decided to loan money to be used for the purpose of making deferred payments on bonds at a lower rate of interest than usually charged, seven per cent being the rate set. This will make it possible for buyers who have not the ready cash to borrow the sum required and pay for the bond upon date of purchase. Interest on the bond dates from May 10 and the small difference in the rate paid by the government and the rate charged by the banks for money borrowed is not sufficient to work a hardship on anyone. Any reasonable terms of payment can be arranged with the banker to suit the convenience of the man who finds it necessary to borrow.

The meeting Thursday evening was held at the Citizens bank in this city and was attended by representatives from every bank in the county. No other business of importance came before the meeting at this time. The bankers are optimistic with respect to the Victory loan and believe that Pennington county people will do their share this time with the same spirit of patriotism displayed on previous occasions.

LARGE SUM IS PROVIDED FOR COUNTY ROADS

COUNTY DADS VOTE TO SPEND $50,000 IN NEXT TWO YEARS.

ANTICIPATE BABCOCK LAW

HALF IS FEDERAL AID, REMAINDER TO BE RETURNED BY STATE.

Pennington county is due to witness a real boom in road building during the next year or two. The county commissioners at their meeting yesterday decided to provide a fund of $25,000 to be used in highway construction in the immediate future. When a like amount of federal aid is added this will provide $50,000 with which to build good roads.

Will Cost But Little.

Under the provisions of the Babcock amendment, which will come up for ratification at the next general election, the county will be reimbursed in full by the state for any amount it may spend in improving trunk lines from now until that time. If the amendment passes—and there is little douth but what it will—this road building program will not directly cost the taxpayers of Pennington county a cent. The state highway determines where this money is to be spent. It is likely that some of it will be used in improving a stretch of the main road near St. Hilaire, and the Pembina Ridge also will come in for attention.

Great System Planned.

When the program now planned by federal, state and county authorities is completed, this and other sections of the state will be adequately provided for in the matter of roads. And every mile of good road adds just that much to the prosperity of the entire country.

PRESBYTERIAL IN TWO-DAY SESSION

WOMEN OF ADAMS PRESBYTERY BEGIN MEETINGS THIS AFTERNOON.

A large number of women church workers are in the city today for the purpose of attending the annual meeting of the Women's Organizations of Adams Presbytery. The meetings will be continued thru two days, beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. F. R. Gambell of Thief River Falls. Mrs. E. A. Nelson of Hallock, will respond for the delegates. A part of the afternoon session will be devoted to the reading of reports and general routine business. Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher will sing and a conference will be led by Mrs. J. E. Miner, Minneapolis. The particular feature of the first day's work will be an address by Mrs. Guy Davis of New York, who is scheduled to speak at 4 o'clock.

This evening there will be a popular meeting presided over by Mrs. R. L. Barackman, with a general program of speaking, and music.

Friday's session will open at 9:30 with devotionals led by Mrs. J. E. Miner. The committee chairmen will make their reports and there will be a solo by Miss Helen Barackman of Thief River Falls. The afternoon devotions will be led by Mrs. C. W. Williams of St. Paul, and there will be an address by Mrs. M. A. Stone of Chicago. Mrs. G. Halvorson will present a musical number.

A general program will be presented at the meeting on Friday night, the session closing with an address by Mrs. Stone.

The general public is invited to these meetings, the ladies of the city and surrounding country being made particularly welcome.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HOLD LOAN MEET

MONDAY TO BE RED LETTER DAY IN LOCAL ORGANIZATION

The next regular meeting of the Woman's club of Thief River Falls will be held on Monday, April 14. It promises to be the most important meeting of the year, both in point of attendance and the character of work to be accomplished. The ladies have undertaken the task of assisting in the Victory loan drive and the principal matter before the meeting on Monday will be a discussion of the most effective means of doing this.

While the men are appealing to the pocketbooks, the women are going to appeal to the hearts of the great American public to "Keep the Loan Fires Burning." Meetings for the purpose of arranging this work have been called for eight of the larger cities of the state. The meeting here will be attended by delegates from almost the entire Ninth congressional district, and the local club is making arrangements to entertain quite a large number of visitors.

Corporal Fred T. Scanlan, recently returned from France, has consented to give a talk at the meeting concerning his experiences as a soldier. His part in the program is looked forward to with much interest. In addition, the following numbers will be given:

Community Sing, led by Mrs. G. Halvorson
Address of Welcome, Mayor G. A. Penney
The Fifth Liberty Loan, G. Howard Smith
Woman's Part in the Liberty Loan, Mrs. L. G. Larson
Solo, "When the Boys Come Home", Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher
Address, Miss Hester Pollock, St. Paul
Solo, "Easter Eve," Mrs. Albert Johnson
"Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory," Club.

Miss Pollock, who speaks Monday afternoon, is executive secretary of the woman's department of the state liberty loan organization, and is sure to have a message worth hearing. Every woman's society or club in the city is urgently requested to send as many as possible of their members to this meeting.

CITY FATHERS IN REGULAR SESSION

MANY MATTERS GIVEN ATTENTION TUESDAY AT BUSY MEETING

The city council met Tuesday evening in regular monthly session. After accepting reports of the various municipal officers, several other matters were brought up for consideration. M. V. Evenson was granted a permit to remove the old State bank building from its present location to a new site near the Telemarken hotel, where it will be converted into a modern flat.

The Standard Oil company was given permission to erect a filling station on the corner of Second and Main, the estimated cost of the structure being given as $4,000.

S. Brennan, teamster for the fire department for some time past, handed in his resignation to take effect at once. The resignation was accepted and G. Lee chosen to fill the vacancy. A compensation of $150 per month was allowed for the work, Mr. Lee to furnish his own team.

An extension of water mains beginning at the intersection of Zeh street and Knight avenue was ordered by the council. Only one bid was received for the construction of the new sewer lift at Horace and Seventh. This bid was for $1,685 and was submitted by L. D. McAdams. It was accepted by the council without further discussion.

C. Elliott Magraw, representing the bond department of the Northwestern Trust company, St. Paul, appeared before the council and gave a short outline in regard to a new law which is now before the legislature and which has a bearing on the matter of paving in cities of the fourth class. He stated the new law provides that a city council may order paving without a petition from affected property owners, but there is a clause in the law which provides that these property owners have a right to be heard in the matter before action is taken. The speaker also stated that paving assessments under the new law may be spread out over a period of twenty years, making the increase of taxes very slight. No further discussion of the paving proposition took place.

After passing the usual bunch of bills, the council adjourned until the next regular meeting.

ENTERPRISING HOG BOOSTS OWN VALUE

BRINGS FANCY PRICE SOLELY ON STRENGTH OF PERFORMANCE AT SALE.

"Pigs is pigs," but there is a difference in their values. Some bring a big price by reason of their pedigree while others make a record by some sort of spectacular performance.

In the latter class was a scrub sow sold at a public sale on a farm between St. Hilaire and Red Lake Falls last week. This porker had no ancestry to be proud of but in spite of this handicap she brought $113 on the auction block. And this is the reason:

While the neighbors were gathered from far and wide to attend the sale of live stock and household goods on the place, this porker decided to prove that selling her was a serious mistake and, with all the visitors looking on, she proceeded to increase the pig population of Red Lake county by an even dozen. As each little squealer arrived the price went up, every farmer on the ground wishing to become the possessor of an animal capable of displaying so much enterprise. When the twelfth baby pig had made its appearance the mother evidently figured that she had done enough for an owner so lacking in judgment as to put her up at auction, but by that time her price had been run up to $113.

CONTROL OF BIG PRINTING HOUSE CHANGES HANDS

MAJORITY STOCK OF SHARP CO. ACQUIRED BY G. W. CONNELL AND R. H. ROSS.

COIN BOX PLANT INCLUDED

BUSINESS WILL BE CONTINUED WITH MR. ROSS AS MANAGER FOR THE PRESENT.

A business deal of more than usual interest was consummated last Thursday when G. W. Connell and R. H. Ross purchased the stock of P. W. Sharp, A. E. Sharp, [illegible] Erickson and Albert Lonson in the P. W. Sharp Printing and Manufacturing company of this city.

At a meeting of the board of directors held immediately after the deal was closed Mr. Ross was selected to manage the business, which will be continued as heretofore for the present.

Makers of Coin Box.

The Sharp company was incorporated five years ago and carried on a general commercial printing business. Besides this the plant was the home of the Lonson coin box, a patented container for coins, used extensively by banks and mercantile houses all over the country. This department of the business has assumed very large proportions and it is thought that one of the purposes of the change in management is to enable the concern to devote more attention to this particular branch. The coin box is recognized as having great posibilities and every effort will be made to get it properly established as an article of general use.

Is Fine Plant.

When the plans of the company are all carried out it will mean the location here of the largest and most modern printing plant north of the Twin Cities and west of Duluth. Mr. Sharp, who has been in business here for nine years, is a progressive business man and has kept the establishment up-to-date in every particular. He is a man of ability and energy and has already received a number of offers to become associated with some of the largest concerns in the West. Mr. Sharp has not yet definitely decided upon his future course and will look the field over before making a final choice of location.

The New Management.

Mr. Ross, who succeeds Mr. Sharp as manager, is president of The Times company of this city, and the plans include the probable consolidation of the two corporations when all the preliminaries have been attended to. Mr. Connell came here about a year ago from Luverne, Minn., to take the position of cashier for the Winton-Nichols Lumber company. He is a young man with a thorough business training and will be a decided asset to the new concern.

A further announcement of the plans of the company will be made in the near future.

SNOW STORM SETS THE FARMER BACK

SOIL WILL BE GREATLY BENEFITTED BY MOIST BLANKET, HOWEVER.

Pennington county farmers were generally expecting to get at their spring seeding this week, but on Monday morning a snow storm hit the section and never stopped until a soft, slushy blanket covered the entire northwestern corner of the state. As a consequence there will be no seeding for at least another week.

The farmers are perhaps not any the worse off because of this untimely precipitation. The soil needed the moisture it will provide and authorities claim that a spring snow of this kind is filled with ammonia and is of great benefit to the soil. The ground will take on this moisture instead of shedding it, there being no frost left to prevent its sinking to a good depth, and thus help form a margin of safety against possible dry spells later in the season.

Farmers generally are agreed that a few days difference in the time of seeding is not of any great importance. With the proper amount of rain and sunshine during the remainder of the season the crop will be just as good as if it were planted earlier.

Health of Army is Good.

Health conditions in the army at home and abroad continue very satisfactory, according to the report issued this week by the surgeon general. The report stated there was no unusual prevalance of disease worthy of note at any camp or station within the United States, and that the non-effective list in the expeditionary forces had continued to decline and now was lower than similar rates in this country.

FRED T. SCANLAN CONCLUDES LONG SOLDIER CAREER

RETURNS HOME AFTER SERVING FOR TWO YEARS AS YANK FIGHTER.

A VICTIM OF GERMAN GAS

TOOK PART IN MANY IMPORTANT BATTLES IN FRANCE LAST SUMMER.

After having served in the army for nearly two years, most of which time was spent in France, Corporal Fred T. Scanlan has received his discharge and returned Sunday morning to his home in this city. Landing at Philadelphia the last week in March, he was transferred to Camp Dix, N. J. From that place he was sent to Camp Dodge, where he received his discharge and proceeded on the last lap of his long journey from Paris to Thief River Falls. Fred left Paris on the first day of February, over two months being required to make the trip.

Has Enviable Record.

Corporal Scanlan has an enviable war record. He, in company with Harold Provencher, who is now on his way home with the famous Rainbow division, enlisted at Fort Snelling on April 26, 1917, which makes the period of his military service only a few weeks less than two years. The unit to which Corporal Scanlan originally belonged was known as the First Minnesota artillery, but this was afterward changed into the 151st field artillery, and the regiment is still in existence as a part of the Rainbow division. The boys were given preliminary training at Fort Riley and later sent to Camp Mills, N. Y., where they were given more hard training before embarking for overseas duty. On October 18, 1917, they sailed for France and landed at St. Nazaire on the last day of the same month. The 151st was a part of the first complete American army division to reach French soil. Here the boys were put through more drill in preparation for their conquest of the Hun. The regiment was equipped with French "75" guns and soon showed what Yanks could be expected to do in the great war, establishing several records in the manipulation of these famous field pieces.

The Fun Begins.

The American lads had come to France to fight and the great adventure was not long in coming. On Feb. 22 they were moved to the Lorraine front and from that time until the signing of the armistice wrote their names in large letters on the pages of history. Corporal Scanlan and his fellow artillerymen saw their first real fighting at Banedvillers, where they made a pronounced gain against the picked battlers of the kaiser. For 110 consecutive days the 151st remained on active duty in this sector, thereby establishing a record for continuous fighting which has not been equalled by any other American unit. When the Germans launched their memorable drive early in July, Fred and his companions were ordered to the Champagne sector to aid in keeping the Hun out of Paris. After taking part in this great battle for several days, Scanlan was badly gassed and incapacitated from further service at the front. This occurred on July 16 near Suippes on the Champagne front and Fred admits that he was afraid he had enough chlorine gas in his lungs to put him out of commission for good.

Examples of Hun Warfare.

Corporal Scanlan, after being overcome by gas, was picked up and sent in a truck to field hospital No. 169, no ambulances being available. This was a trip of six miles and was far from being a joy ride. In the field hospital he remained for about two hours, during which the Huns violently shelled the place with nine-inch guns. Two nurses lost their lives during the bombardment and others were wounded. From this hospital Fred was removed to the evacuation hospital, which was 12 miles farther to the rear. Here he was forced to wait for five hours before receiving attention. Fred remained conscious all of the time but was very ill from the effects of gas and was unable to stand up. The Huns also treated this hospital to a bombardment but all lights were immediately turned out and only a few of the inmates were wounded.

Germans Badly Fooled.

From the evacuation hospital Fred was taken to camp hospital No. 23, which was situated a considerable distance back of the lines, near a German prison camp. That night the Huns carried out an air raid, with this hospital as their objective. Upon being informed of the approach of the German airplanes the Americans quickly extinguished all lights in the hospital and turned on bright lights in the prison, with the result that this received the bombs intended for the hospital and over one hundred Hun prisoners were killed as a result of the mistake made by their former comrades. Such instances furnish conclusive proof that the Germans would stoop to anything, including the bombardment of hospitals. After remaining in this place for two days, Corporal Scanlan was transferred to base hospital No. 66, where he remained for seven weeks. More than half of this time he was confined to his bed. After he was able to leave the hospital, Fred was sent to the casual depot at Blois, and from there was immediately transferred to Paris.

Sees Much of Paris.

On Nov. 3 Corporal Scanlan was reclassified in Paris and recommended for immediate evacuation to the states. He was not destined to get an early start, however, being detained there until Feb. 1. Fred was assigned to clerical work in a Paris railroad station, which was not so bad as he was required to work only five hours a day. He also did military police duty for a time. Here life was more interesting and Fred lived well, taking his meals at good hotels and sleeping in a real bed. He also had an opportunity of seeing many things of interest, including famous buildings, art galleries, etc. Among other things which the average American seldom has the chance of seeing, Fred states that he saw at close range many of the crowned heads and other notables of Europe, including the kings of England, Belgium and Italy. He also saw President Wilson on several occasions.

Paris Celebrates Peace.

Corporal Scanlan was in Paris when the news of the signing of the armistice reached the city. He states that the celebration of this great event beggars all description. Paris simply went wild, and all Frenchmen did everything in their power to glorify the American soldiers. Nothing was too good for the Yanks and Paris was literally turned over to them. Prior to the signing of the armistice, Fred had the doubtful pleasure of experiencing two German air raids on Paris and was also there while the famous "Big Bertha" was throwing shells into the city from a distance of about 60 miles.

Doesn't Like France.

That France does not look good to the average American, is the opinion expressed by Corporal Scanlan. In spite of the fact that France has been a republic for many years, class feeling there still runs very strong. Almost everything in the way of public service is conducted on a plan of first, second and third class, and every man is presumed to know to which class he belongs. Much unrest is evident among the laboring classes at the present time, with numerous strikes and demonstrations in all parts of the country. Several strikes were called within a week after the armistice was signed. Workingmen's wages are higher in France now than ever before in the country's history, but the cost of living is out of all reason and much suffering among the poorer classes is the result. Corporal Scanlan cites as an instance of the high prices that he often paid twenty cents each for eggs at hotels and restaurants.

No Definite Plans.

Corporal Scanlan is not yet entirely over the effects of being gassed. Besides a general weakness he is still troubled somewhat with shortness of breath. He has no definite plans for the future but will remain at his home here until he has a chance to thoroughly rest up. It seems mighty good to him to be back in Thief River Falls once more after what he has gone through. He is glad that it is all over and hopes that he may never again be called upon to repeat the performance. One war is enough for any man, in Fred's opinion.

—THINK IN INTEREST SAVE—

Soldier Boys in France Are Poets

PUT IN SPARE TIME WRITING VERSES, SONGS AND PARODIES.

Now that active warfare is over on the western front, time often hangs rather heavily on the hands of the soldier boy. Some of them put in spare moments writing poetry and some real gems have been produced by the lads in khaki. One of the best things recently come to notice is a parody on "Siver Threads Among the Gold," written by a Yank who evidently thinks the government is a trifle slow about sending the boys home. The parody follows:

Darling, I am coming back,
Silver threads among the black,
Now that peace in Europe nears,
I'll be back in seven years.

I'll drop in on you some night
With my whiskers long and white;
Yes, the war is over, Dear,
And we're coming home, I hear.

Home again with you once more,
Say—by Nineteen Twenty-four.
Once I thought by now I'd be
Sailing back across the sea.

Back to where you sit and pine—
But I'm stuck here on the Rhine.
You can hear the gang all curse—
"War is hell," but peace is worse.

When the next war comes round
In the front line I'll be found.
I'll rush in again, pellmell—
Yes, I will, like hell—like hell!

PAYS VISIT TO HISTORIC SPOTS OF GAY PAREE

HERBERT HANSON WRITES TO HOME FROM ADENAU, GERMANY.

Makes tour of castles

While the general burden of all communications reaching Thief River Falls from France these days is "we want to come home," yet some of the boys evidently manage to keep interested in their surroundings. Herbert Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson, 504 Horace avenue, while voicing the usual desire to get back to America as soon as possible, writes very interestingly of some of the places he has visited, particularly in and about the French capital.

"Just came back yesterday from Paris," he writes. "We had a fine time and saw a number of the old historic places of which I have read but never expected to see. Was out to Versailles and saw the old buildings and castles built by Louis XIV. They are most wonderful.

Saw Famous Room.

"Was in the room and saw the table in one of the castles where Ben Franklin in 1776 signed the alliance with France when that country furnished us with money and boats during the revolution. It is this same table and room that President Wilson has referred to in his addresses as the one on which Germany will sign the peace terms. Also saw the old cathedral of Notre Dame where Joan of Arc, after her victories, rode in with her generals and was decorated by the pope. Saw Napoleon's tomb, the palace of justice, the great Eiffel tower and a great many other historic places, but it would take a book to tell about them all.

"The most wonderful thing of all was the great world's war picture called The Pantheon. It is said to be the greatest and most costly painting in the world today and is hung in a round stone building made purposely for it. The picture covers the entire circular wall of the building. It was started early in the war by two great French artists. They had the assistance of 14 other men of their craft and finished the picture shortly after the signing of the armistice. In the background is portrayed all the great battles of the war, while in the foreground is seen representatives of all the allied nations. The portraits are so realistic that it looks as if a person could talk to them. One could study it for days and still not get the meaning of it all. It is surely the most wonderful piece of work made by man.

"Have a number of pictures that I am sending home, and I ask you to take good care of them as I have seen all the places they represent. You can see by the photos of the great picture that the characters look as if they had been taken from life, but they are only different views of the same masterpiece.

Nothing Like Paris.

"As for Paris itself, it sure is a gay town. I do not believe there is another like it in the world and it was surely named right when called 'Gay Paree.' But I don't believe that I would fancy living there. Me for some good old U. S. A. burg.

"Well, the life over here is as dead as ever and we will be most thankful when we pull out. Gen. Pershing reviewed the Fourth division yesterday and said that it was the best on this side, but I suppose he says that to all of them. At any rate, it will not get us home any sooner.

"It is getting late and will have to stop. Send The Times over to me once in a while so that I can keep posted on what is going on at home."

The above letter was written from Adenau, Germany, a town located directly west of Coblence and south of Ahrweiller.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

There's Only One Genuine "Corn-Peeler"—That's "Gets-It."

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will. "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, eases pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns.

Should Eat More Lamb and Mutton is Packers' View

The difference of a few cents in the cost of a pound of meat frequently determines whether that meat appears on the table in many households. Yet that difference of a few cents just as frequently is caused by the limited knowledge of the housewife of the meat which she desires.

Take the cost of mutton and lamb. It is regarded as high, but the average housewife who so regards it speaks only in terms of chops and hind-quarters. The fore-quarter of mutton is just as dainty, just as full of flavor, just as eatable in every way if it is properly prepared. It also is many cents cheaper per pound.

Your butcher, if he is up-to-date, knows how to bone and roll a shoulder of lamb or mutton so that it may be cut into Cartoga chops or made into a roast of unusual sweetness.

Breeders of sheep have paid more attention to raising a better flavored meat in the last few years, and their efforts show clearly in the resulting product.

Some objectors to lamb and mutton say that they cannot eat it because of the "wooly taste," and that they know of no way to remove it. That is merely a case of pulling the wool over your own eyes. If the fell, or tough outer membrane that covers the meat, is removed, there will be no "wooly taste."

You are taking no chances when you order lamb. The healthfulness and strength-building qualities of this meat have long been recognized by physicians, who have prescribed its extensive use in the diet of convalescents.

These facts are worthy of your studied consideration. They have long had that from the New England housewife, as is attested by her continued buying.

HOW CAN YOU TELL YOUR FAVORITE TOBACCO?

As Plain as the Nose on Your Face—Just Smell It

Smokers do not have to put tobacco in their pipes to find out if they like it. They can just rub the tobacco between the palms of their hands and smell it. The nose is an infallible guide to smoking enjoyment.

All smoking tobaccos employ some flavoring "to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves", to quote the Encyclopædia Britannica. Naturally, there is considerable difference in the kind of flavorings used, and the nose quickly detects this difference. TUXEDO Tobacco uses the purest, most wholesome, and delicious of all flavorings—chocolate. And the almost universal liking for chocolate in a great measure explains the widespread popularity of TUXEDO Tobacco.

Carefully aged, old Burley tobacco, plus a dash of pure chocolate, gives TUXEDO Tobacco a pure fragrance your nose can quickly distinguish from any other tobacco. Try it and see.

CHURCH BODY HAS VERY GOOD YEAR

PRESBYTERIAN MEETING INDICATES HEALTHY CONDITION OF SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church was held last Thursday evening. At 6:30 supper was served in the church basement, after which the business meeting was called to order at the auditorium. Here the business and activities of the church and its auxiliaries were thoroughly gone over, and reports from the various officers were considered.

It was found that the past year has been one of the most successful in the history of the local church organization. The report of Treasurer O. L. Cronstrom showed finances to be in a satisfactory condition. The Sunday school and Ladies Aid society, through their respective treasurers, Miss Effie Hamry and Mrs. Theo. Quale, reported a very successful year. Miss Ellen Crandall made a similar report as treasurer of the Junior Christian Endeavor.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Member of sessions, C. M. Wilson; trustees, O. L. Cronstrom, E. O. Mogensen, H. O. Loken, H. W. Kinghorn, L. N. Peck and F. F. Haynes.

After the business session had been concluded the remainder of the evening was devoted to a musical program followed by a reception.

A Good Bill.

(Red Lake Falls Gazette.)

Senator Oscar Naplin's bill providing that the state shall pay to high schools $3 a month as tuition fee for non-resident students has been favorably reported by the senate committee on education and is said to stand an excellent chance of passage. This sum would in a measure offset the increased burdens put upon a high school by pupils living outside the district. The Red Lake Falls high school has about twenty non-resident students now, and at the rate of $3 a month apiece the district would receive $540 from the state for the school year. This is a bill we would like to see enacted into law.

MANY PRIZES FOR POULTRY RAISERS

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS OFFERED MANY EXCELLENT INDUCEMENTS.

Boys or girls entering the Pennington County Poultry club have a very good opportunity to receive many premiums not only in the county, but also throughout the state as well. The premiums listed below are given in addition to those awarded by the Pennington County Fair association which were published some time ago:

The publishers of Farm, Stock and Home, Minneapolis, will give a grand championship of $50 to the boy or girl who makes the highest score in his or her poultry work during the year, 1918-19; a second prize of $20 for the next highest score; a third prize of $10, and $2 each to the next ten standing highest.

The M. M. Johnson company, of Clay Center, Neb., will give a 120-egg "Old Trusty" incubator to the club finishing with the largest number of members.

The poultry club member finishing with the largest flock of standard-bred chickens will receive a $5 prize given by the Minnesota State Poultry Breeders' association.

The Mankato Incubator company, Mankato, Minn., will give a 120-egg incubator to the club making the highest average score.

The Bell City Incubator company, Racine, Wis., will give a Champion Belle City incubator and brooder outfit to the club making the highest average score of birds exhibited.

The publishers of the poultry magazine, "Poultry Herald," of St. Paul, will give a year's subscription, worth 50 cents, to each of the one hundred poultry club members making the best records in this project.

If the poultry project is one of the two strongest projects in the county, the boy 15 years or over, making the best record will get a free trip to the state fair and membership in the boys' camp.

There are no charges for entering any of these clubs. For further information or instruction call on the high school agriculturist or at the Farm Bureau office in the city auditorium.

NEW PARK TO OPEN NEAR MAPLE LAKE

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR SEASON AT POPULAR SUMMER RESORT.

When Lakeside Park at Maple Lake was platted years ago, there was set aside block four, comprising about three or four acres, to be used as a park. It is heavily wooded with birch, maple, oak, elm and basswood trees. There was some talk at one time of the Maple Lake Improvement association buying the park, cleaning it out and throwing it open to the public for a picnic ground Lack of funds caused it to fall through. Of late years, the great increase in number of autos going to the lake on holidays, Sundays and other recreation days has made it almost a necessity that some place be opened up to park autos in so they would be safe from thieves and that would be in such shape that any one of the autos could leave for home at any time, without waiting for the last one in to get out first.

Seeing the need, W. W. Hall at Breezy Point bought the park and hereafter it will be known as Hall's Park. The intention is to fence it with a high wire fence, run a driveway around inside in such a way that four or five hundred autos can be parked inside and outside the drive way and have an officer at the entrance and exit gates, so that no one can take a car out of the exit unless he has the proper credentials, which will be given him when he goes in.

A pavilion for holding public gatherings, dances, and moving picture shows will be built, with refreshment stands, retiring places, outdoor stoves for picnicing purposes, seats, swings, running water, electric lights and, in fact, the park will be put in shape for the public to enjoy themselves when they come to the lake.

Work has already started clearing and Mr. Hill is in hopes to have it ready by the time the lake season opens. The entrance will be on the avenue back of Breezy Point.

Sen. Nelson Gets Welcome.

United States Senator Knute Nelson was given an informal welcome home Friday evening, which expressed, in a marked degree, the home people's appreciation of the work and public service of their fellow townsman. The occasion was a Liberty Loan meeting, the senator being one of the audience.

On his entrance the assemblage arose and applauded until Senator Nelson took his seat, and, later in the evening, when he was called upon for a few remarks, those present again expressed their cordiality in no uncertain manner. Senator Nelson's arrival had not been known in time to include him in the program.

SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY SOON

APRIL 22 IS DATE FOR PRESENTATION OF "GREEN STOCKINGS"

Tuesday, April 22nd, has been decided upon as the date for the presentation of the annual senior class play. Under the able tutelage of Mrs. A. H. Pitkin the young folks are making splendid progress and will without doubt be able to present the play in a highly creditable manner. "Green Stockings" is the name of the play chosen by the senior class in the local schools. It is a rollicking comedy and gives each actor a splendid opportunity for the display of talent.

Seven young men and five young ladies take part in the presentation of "Green Stockings," and every one of these has been chosen because of his or her particular fitness for the part. The story starts out with a good plot and has many amusing mix-ups throughout. As in the case of all good plays, everything turns out all right in the end and everybody is happy. The play will be given at the auditorium a week from next Tuesday and tickets are to be placed on sale at Lambert's drug store.

If you would make good you must understand that the work which counts is the work in hand—its the things you've done that show what you can, not the bigger and better things you plan. The work you do NOW must be done right if you reach your goal or your utmost height—so keep your aim but watch your step, doing your part each day with pep—for its not what you do but how you do it that counts in making good.

Easter Creations in Women's Coats and Suits

Easter is almost here. Nature reflects the smile of Spring in a birth of new coloring. The dull garments of Winter are cast aside and emulating nature, we too, seek to express our joy of living in a new coat or suit for Easter wear.

A coat or suit is the real foundation of one's wardrobe, therefore it should be chosen with care and discrimination. Too many women purchase carelessly, thinking only of outward appearances, giving no thought to the more important details of quality and workmanship.

Printzess coats and suits are made for discriminating women. They are not amateurish attempts at "something different" but artistic achievements of expert craftsmen. There is a superior richness in the all-wool quality fabric, a touch of individuality in design and each garment is tailored with that dependable thoroughness characteristic of every garment bearing the Printzess label.

Printzess

DISTINCTION IN DRESS

Every detail of a Printzess suit, from the original conception of the design itself to the finished garment receives the same careful attention. The fabrics are of a fine all-wool quality material, tested and preshrunk; the designs masterpieces of Parisian conception adapted to American ideals; the tailoring so solidly built, so carefully executed, that each garment gives promise of retaining its shape and inherently smart lines through several seasons' wear.

It pays to buy a coat or suit that is quality made. It fits. It looks better. It wears better. That is why "Printzess Distinction in Dress" has a national reputation. Drop around today, visit our garment department and try on some of the new Spring models we are showing. Get acquainted with Printzess clothes before you are ready to buy, then let the Printzess label guide your purchase.

ONE THING LACKING.

In a big community-boosting poster the other day we noted the following advantages advertised for the town referred to:

Excellent water and sewer system.

Paved streets.

Excellent high school and numerous graded schools.

Low rate of taxation.

Located in good farming region.

No saloons.

Churches representing practically every denomination.

Progressive, helpful citizens.

That particular town, located in another section of the Northwest, had nothing whatever on Thief River Falls except in one respect, to-wit: The paved street item. As regards this modern necessity we are so far behind the times that it seems hardly worth while to call attention to our many other advantages. The condition of our thoroughfares is the one drawback to the immediate progress of the city. It is the first thing a visitor observes and the last thing he forgets. He figures—and no one can blame him for so doing—that a city the size of Thief River Falls is either lacking in enterprise or blind to its opportunities when it permits its streets to remain in a condition that would disgrace a tank town in the gumbo belt. He looks further for a place in which to locate and the city loses a good citizen.

Another man comes here with the intention of going on to a farm. He knows that there is no better land in the world and has long considered moving here. Everything suits him but the appearance of the county seat. If he is from districts farther south he is accustomed to finding the principal town of the county spick and span, in which case he cannot help noting the contrast. Or he may be from some backwoods district and looking for a chance to move into a section with convenient markets and certain crops. If such is the case he finds that our chief city is not much of an improvement over the little village near his former home and he gets a poor impression at the outset.

The unpaved condition of our streets is yearly costing the merchant, workingman and farmer thousands of dollars. The merchant loses for the reason that people like to come to a bright, clean town to trade; the workingman foots a yearly loss in the failure of his little property to advance in value as it should, while the farmer is also a loser by being unable to get to and from markets with capacity loads.

Any way it is figured the lack of paving is a drawback. Now is the time to begin attending to a matter that has too long been neglected.

THE RIGHT ATTITUDE.

Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate, has informed President Wilson that America will accept the League of Nations without the dotting of an "i" or crossing of a "t" and that the senate will ratify it without amendment. The senator added he is of the opinion that the senate will vote down any amendment presented to preserve the Monroe doctrine.

The American people will approve this attitude on the part of the senate. If the League of Nations is ever to become anything but a subject for discussion some kind of a start will have to be made and the draft presented at least heads things in the right direction. If Senator Hitchcock has matters sized up right something definite will be accomplished before the end of summer.

A number of the best-posted men in Europe, and particularly in England, state that the world will have to decide between a League of Nations and Bolshevism. One Englishman of international note goes so far as to say that if the League program is not endorsed it will mean a Bolshevist uprising in the British empire with results that will make the Russian article look like a joke. He further goes on to say that America need not for a moment consider itself safe from this menace, as there is already a strong undercurrent of Bolshevist sentiment in the large cities, and that while it would be a harder matter for any such thing to secure the upper hand here, yet it might prove very dangerous to the peace and prosperity of the country.

The League Covenent is not perfect, but it is generally agreed that it is the best article of the kind to be obtained just now. Its acceptance may forestall trouble of the very gravest nature and assurances that the senate does not intend to place any obstacles in the way of its acceptance will be received with a sense of relief by the country and the world.

BILL NOT IN DANGER.

Governor Burnquist has signed the bill giving the women the right to vote for presidential electors in Minnesota. The anti-suffragists—who, by the way, when the bill was brought up for passage declared themselves in favor of the submission of a constitutional amendment—immediately brought pressure to bear upon the governor to veto the bill because of its alleged unconstitutionality. Briefs were filed with the governor by Romo G. Brown and James E. O'Brien, of Minneapolis, Judge T. D. O'Brien and Morton Barrows, of St. Paul, giving reasons why they believed the act to be unconstitutional. The gist of their arguments was that the constitution of Minnesota grants the franchise to every male person as specified in Section 1, Article VII; also that Section 2 of the Constitution specifies that no person not belonging to one of the classes specified in the preceding section shall be entitled or permitted to vote at any election in this state. As the Constitution, however, is a state constitution and provides for the election of state, and not national, officers, friends of the bill are not at all anxious as to the result when the question comes before the courts. Other states with practically the same constitutional provisions—notably Illinois—have enfranchised their women in the matter of voting for presidential electors, without an amendment to the constitution. The courts have upheld the action of these states, and there is no reason to believe that they will reverse themselves in the matter of women voters in Minnesota.

WHERE GASOLINE SCORES AGAIN.

The tractor farmer is naturally far ahead of his less fortunate or less progressive neighbor because of the fact that he can do more and better work in a shorter time and at less expense, but there is another point at which he gains to an even greater extent. He can plow deeper.

The top six inches of the soil of northern Minnesota contains more wealth than all the forests and iron mines within the state's boundaries. This idea is not original with The Times but it is as true and sound as though it wree. For centuries after the timber and iron is all gone the top six inches of soil will still be producing wealth and contributing to the happiness and prosperity of the people. In fact, if properly conserved and treated with judgment this half-foot of surface will be better at that time than when first turned up to the sun.

But we are speaking of six inches, not three or four. The trouble with the modern farmer, particularly on the prairie, is that he will not get down to where the real wealth lies. Year after year he has been satisfied to scratch the top of the ground, and so rich was the soil naturally that this has proven sufficient. He now knows better than to suppose this program can be continued indefinitely, and in changing it the tractor will prove his friend.

Plowing is hard work on horses and the deeper one plows the harder the work. Farmers do not like to abuse horseflesh. Besides representing actual cash to them, their humane instincts rebel at treating the beasts with anything but kindness and consideration. Not so with the tractor. Almost any farmer likes to hear the brute snort and is very willing to set the plow-share down to where it will count the most in the final results. And the results will be such as to cause him to bless the day that he made up his mind to plow his acres to their full six-inch depth of richness.

The tractor will bring prosperity to the farmer for more than one reason and among the most important will be his ability to turn a deeper furrow up to where the sun and air can make the soil a more fertile bed for the products he raises.

POOR, MISJUDGED KAISER.

Bill Hohenzollern, sometime emperor of Germany but now a resident of Holland, says he will kill himself rather than face any kind of a trial at which he is charged with responsibility for the great war. To most of us this will look like an added inducement for starting proceedings at once.

Reports from Holland are to the effect that Wilhelm is still impentinent, claiming to have striven harder than any one else to avert the war.

Holds the war was brought on by diplomatists and the whole guilt rests on the Russian government.

Did nothing to enter the Entente because he "could not trust Russia."

Protests his love for England.

Hotly resents the charge of organized atrocity in the war.

Terms sinking of Lusitania mistake he will never cease to regret, but blames the British blockade.

Deplores execution of Edith Cavell, which he says was carried out by a drunken general. He says he later ordered that no woman should be shot without his personal sanction.

Admits he made mistakes, saying he ascended the throne when too young to deal with the statesmen who surrounded him.

The last statement can harly be said to apply as an extenuating circumstance. Bill did not bring on war until quite awhile after he had ascended the thrown and the statesmen who surrounded him at that time were mostly dead. Admitting that he has made mistakes will not help now. The rest of the world has realized that fact for some time and insists that he shall bear the consequences of those mistakes.

LET'S DO IT AGAIN.

Pennington county has a reputation to sustain in this next loan drive. The community consistently met every demand made upon it during the years of the war and we are certainly not going to fail now.

The plan under which the allotments are to be made will meet the approval of every citizen. Instead of a certain sum being stipulated by those in charge of the county headquarters office, each township loan organization is to be permitted to specify the amount each citizen should take. This will make certain a much more fair distribution and it will be next to impossible for anyone to escape taking his just and proper share. His neighbors may be expected to know his circumstances better than any person connected with headquarters in the city and there will be less chances of inequalities in the assessments.

The meeting held in this city on Saturday was an eye-opener. Anyone who figured that our people will approach this loan in a lukewarm manner should have been present. He would have gone away with an altogether different impression. The general feeling is that the government needs this money in order to finish the job and there will be no hanging back in Pennington county.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

A homestead claim in the Red Lake country was sold for $6,000. The Press remarked that a little pine must have been left standing on this claim.

Heavy rains seriously delayed seeding operations and farmers were feeling blue as a result.

After a high wind and rain, snow began to fall and in a short time the ground was covered with a layer eight inches thick.

Landlord Robbecke completed extensive improvements to the Oganmah and The Press was elated over the fine appearance it presented.

Dr. Henry Francis, physician and surgeon, established himself in the city for the purpose of practicing medicine.

Ice in the river was leaving gradually and no trouble was anticipated through the forming of gorges as in former years.

Ten Years Ago.

The long fight over the establishment of a normal school in this section of the state was at last over, the legislature having decided to place the school at Cass Lake. Gov. Johnson later vetoed the Cass Lake bill.

Morris Gotham and Miss Bessie Hill were married by Rev. J. B. Smith. They expected to make their home in Minneapolis.

The vote at Middle River on the saloon question was a tie and the council decided that the village should be dry for the coming year.

President Pennington of the Soo announced that work would soon be started on the proposed line from Thief River Falls to Duluth.

The output at the local sawmill for the season was expected to reach a total of 45 to 50 million feet of lumber. Work was to be started as soon as the river was clear of ice.

Daniel Shaw was elected secretary of the county fair association, and Dr. G. A. Penney was named to assist him in the work.

Otto Morrison was convicted of forging a check and sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail.

The factory of the Stowell Culvert company was completed and a force of men was engaged in turning out the finished product.

The thirteenth child arrived in the family of John A. Dahl of Smiley township. Mr. Dahl could now boast of the largest family as well as the best farm in the township.

Arthur Fox, general manager of the local co-operative alligator farm, returned from a trip through the southern states. He brought with him two alligators, which were placed on exhibition at the Oyster Bay restaurant.

Miss Mary McGinn and Robert McGinn went to Green Bay, Wis., to attend the funeral of a brother who met his death in an accident.

C. L. Hansen spent the week in the Twin Cities on business.

The following prices were quoted in the weekly market report: Wheat, $1.06; flax, $1.56; oats, 47c; rye, 65c; barley, 55c; creamery butter, 25c; dairy butter, 20c; eggs, 15c; potatoes, 50c.

Dr. Gambell reported a case of small pox in Reiner township, August Knutson being the man afflicted with the dread disease.

The Press was full of arguments in favor of bonding the city for the purpose of building an armory.

MODERN BARN FOR THE SMALL FARM

Equipment Now Available Removes Much Irksome Toil.

DIRT NO LONGER TOLERATED

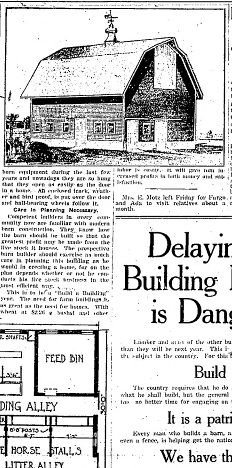
Plans Show Stables for Cows and Horses That Can Be Kept Clean With Little Trouble.

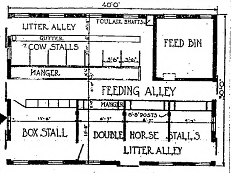
By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, and only inclose three-cent stamp for reply.

The word "barn" brings to the mind of everyone who lived on the farm more than ten years ago a building in which the first and last work of the day was performed amid a variety of odors and in partial or total darkness. But a barn to the modern business farmer means a clean, well-lighted and ventilated home for his live stock—a place in which the work of caring for the animals can be performed with comparative comfort and in much less time than it formerly took.

Barn construction has made greater progress than building of any other sort. And a great deal of this progress has been brought about by the investigations made at the state experiment stations and the agricultural colleges. These investigations have proven that a cow or a horse, or even a hog, must have a clean, well-lighted place in which fresh air can circulate freely in order to be healthy and in consequence as productive as possible.





Floor Plan of Small Barn.

As a result, the barns that are now erected are planned so that these features are included. Lack of water meant less milk, so running water is now carried to each stall; a cold barn had the additional effect of requiring a greater amount of feed, in order that the animal might be kept warm; lack of sunshine meant that the barn was a breeding place for all sorts of disease germs, sunshine being nature's greatest germicide. Shown these facts the modern business farmer at once decided that sick animals were bad investments, so he accepted the modern way of housing his animals.

Good Barn for Average Farm.

On the average farm, however, not such a great number of live stock are kept as to require a large barn. The building shown in the accompanying illustration is designed to house four horses and seven cows and to provide storage space for their winter's supply of feed. This gambrel-roofed barn will meet the requirements of a majority of farmers. The floor plan shows how the stalls are placed in the two compartments, it now being required in many states that milk-producing cows be separated by a closed wall from the horse barn, as the ammonia fumes in the latter contaminate the milk.

The animals all face in, allowing the sunshine from the windows to strike the litter alley and gutter, and to keep the bright light out of the eyes of the cows and horses. It was observed by students of live stock that both cows and horses in the pasture always turn their backs to the sun. So this has become an accepted practice in barn building.

Through the center of the barn runs the feed alley, the mangers being on either side. Contrast this with the old system of having to carry feed around the horse or cow to the manger built against the wall. On either side of the barn is a litter alley, usually provided with a carrier running on an overhead track. While this barn is only 30 by 40 feet the same plan can be used on a larger barn, with the exception that the feed alley will be made wide enough so that a wagon may be driven through it, and when larger numbers of cows are kept a silo will be added.

In the floor plan that accompanies the perspective of the barn it will be noticed that the foul air flues are placed in the walls and lead to the ventilator on the ridge. These flues follow the walls and roof, thus making the mow space clear of obstructions.

Hanging the barn doors has engaged the attention of the manufacturers of barn equipment during the last few years and nowadays they are so hung that they open as easily as the door in a home. An enclosed track, weather and bird proof, is put over the door and ball-bearing wheels follow it.

Care in Planning Necessary.

Competent builders in every community now are familiar with modern barn construction. They know how the barn should be built so that the greatest profit may be made from the live stock it houses. The prospective barn builder should exercise as much care in planning this building as he would in erecting a home, for on the plan depends whether or not he conducts his live stock business in the most efficient way.

This is to be a "Build a Building" year. The need for farm buildings is as great as the need for homes. With wheat at $2.26 a bushel and other grains in proportion, none of them will be wasted. And it is sheer waste to house the live stock in poorly constructed barns, where they will require a greater amount of fuel in the shape of feed than they would in a tight barn, where water is available. There is no place where work can be so lightened on the farm as in the barn.

In considering the care of live stock, the silo should be also considered. One-third of the feed value of the corn is in the stalk. To allow this feed to be lost is another waste that should be eliminated. The silo provides the live stock with fresh nourishing food throughout the several months they are in the barn and goes a long way toward solving the problem of feed.

Erecting such a barn as has been here described is good business for the farmer. It will save him labor, and labor is costly. It will give him increased profits in both money and satisfaction.

Mrs. E. Motz left Friday for Fargo and Ada to visit relatives about a month.

PUT UP BUILDING AND HELP COUNTRY

GOVERNMENT ASKS THAT CONSTRUCTION WORK BE STARTED AT ONCE.

"Build something and help the country get back to normal conditions." This is the advice sent out by every department of the national government, and the press all over the country has taken up the cry. Construction work of all kinds is urged, but it is particularly desired that building operations be undertaken.

In presenting this program the department of labor sets forth that building can now be done comparatively cheap. It is certain that in case prices on materials drop the labor market will also fall to pieces. It should be the aim of every good American to keep matters so adjusted that there will be no serious disturbance of balances, and a steady demand for labor and materials will accomplish this.

Building material dealers in Thief River Falls will do their utmost to assist those wishing to build this spring. Their advertisements on this page should be read over carefully as therein the managers of the different plants set forth their willingness to cooperate with the builders in every way possible. The lumber yards and supply sheds of Thief River Falls are perhaps better equipped to supply everything needed on short notice than any other similar plants in northwestern Minnesota. The concerns are the most reliable in the business and Times readers will make no mistake in entrusting plans to their care.

Delaying that Building Program is Dangerous

Lumber and most of the other building materials are cheaper today than they will be next year. This is the opinion of every authority on the subject in the country. For this reason the sensible man will

Build now

The country requires that he do so. No rules are laid down as to what he shall build, but the general warning is sent out to the effect that no better time for engaging on the work can be found.

It is a patriotic duty

Every man who builds a barn, a home, a silo, a chicken house or even a fence, is helping get the nation back to a normal basis.

We have the material

Permit us to figure on the bill of supplies you will need. We can furnish everything in the line of lumber, lath, shinges, wall plaster, windows, doors, mill work—in fact anything that goes into a building. This concern has been supplying the public here for many years and has a reputation for the squarest kind of square dealing. You make no mistake in placing your order here.

Prices are right

Do not wait for prices to go down. When that happens your own products—whether you are a business man, workingman or farmer—will also go down, and to a greater comparative extent. Build now while your wages or the returns from products will buy more material than ever before. This is the government's advice and it is sound.

Tell us of your needs. We can fill them and at the right prices.

"Bill and Hasry."

The Mistake of Waiting for Lower Prices

The Government requests all patriotic Americans who contemplate building in the near future to do so now. If the people hesitate and hold back in this important matter other industries will be halted and the evil effect will become general.

Don't wait for pre-war prices. Such prices can only be brought about at this time by the total absence of demand and the colapse of industrial America. This no right-thinking man or woman wants to see.

Lumber and building materials generally are cheaper today, when compared to other essentials, than before the war. It will take less of wheat, beef, not to mention labor, to pay for the improvements needed than ever before in the country's history. For this reason you can build cheaper, comparatively speaking, now than in 1913.

The American people should not long for an era of low prices. The workingman and farmer will in such case be first to feel the pinch.

For this reason the demand for goods and labor should be kept up and this can be done in no better way than by building—building everything from steamships and highways to chicken coops.

Let us figure on the job you have in mind. Nearly a quarter of a century in the lumber business in this section has taught us what is required. This experience is at your service, and the advice is free.

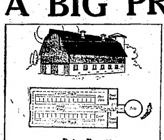
A BIG PROSPEROUS-LOOKING BARN

You Can Start it Now---It's A Good Time to Build



Dairy Barn
For 28 Cows
Drawing No. 947

YOUR BANKER will take your Liberty Bonds as collateral for building and he'll be liberal in loans for permanent, fireproof structures. He knows they cut down risks for you and for him. That means—

BUILD WITH UNIVERSAL CEMENT
We Recommend It.

THE BEST PLACE to put profits from 1918 crops is where they will make more profits---back into modern improvements, such as barns, stables, silos, hog houses, feeding floors, barnyard pavements. These will help you to get along with less labor, will make operating costs lower or help you market more milk, pork or eggs every year.

This will be a big year for barns. War stopped much building. We have two years' work at least to do in one---just to catch up.

The Barn For You

No matter what type of barn you want, it will pay you to look over our plans and get our suggestions. We have several designs and we want to prove to you that they are the best possible for you to build. You will want all the modern features—concrete floor, gutters and mangers with labor-saving carriers. You will want the foundation and lower walls at least of concrete and we recommend a concrete floor between stable and mow because that locks the barn against fire. There is little for it to feed on in the stable and should fire happen above, your stock is safe. You can select plans in our office for the barn or anything else you want to build. We have the best materials your money can buy. Let us give you a figure on everything from foundation to ventilators.

BUILD NOW!

Build now and keep your help busy.

Build now whatsoever will let you market more products at present high prices.

Build now while you can buy more building materials per hundred pounds of pork or wheat than ever before.

Any building is a good investment these days, for the time to build is when money is plentiful. The first time you are in town let us talk over your plans. It is a good time to buy now. You had better cut the high cost of delay.

PROSPECT FOR VICTORY LOAN IS EXCELLENT

NO APPARENT REASON WHY COUNTY SHOULD NOT GO OVER THE TOP

GOOD MEETING SATURDAY

DETAILED PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN FORMULATED BY COMMITTEES

Anyone who has fostered the idea that Pennington County is lacking in enthusiasm regarding the forthcoming Victory loan, should have been present last Saturday afternoon at the meeting of township and ward chairmen, held at the Commercial club rooms in this city. This meeting was attended by delegates from every township in the county, and many precincts were represented by their entire Victory loan committees of three members. Much enthusiasm was shown by these representatives and indications are that every man will do his part in putting the loan across. The attendance on Saturday far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of County Chairman G. Howard Smith who naturally feels greatly encouraged as a result of the splendid spirit shown by his co-workers in the cause.

Plan of Action Formed

After the meeting had been called to order and its object stated by Mr. Smith, those present were treated to a splendid patriotic address by Supt. J. H. Hay. The speaker emphasized the importance of every man doing his share in the forthcoming loan drive, and brought out the fact that it was every man's solemn duty at this time to stand behind the government in its effort to properly "finish the job." Mr. Hay's remarks were well received by those present and did much in bringing the delegates to a proper understanding of the subject.

County Chairman G. Howard Smith explained in detail the plan of action decided upon for carrying on the loan. These plans and other suggestions made by delegates were discussed at length and every man left the meeting with a thorough understanding of what he is expected to do. In no previous loan drive have the details been worked out with more care than in the present effort.

Many Meetings Planned

It is planned by those in charge of the loan drive to conduct meetings in every neighborhood during the week preceding April 21, the date upon which the sale of bonds begins. Speakers will be provided for these meetings under the direction of Mayor G. A. Penney of this city, who has been designated by the county chairman to take charge of this highly important matter. Many of the speakers will be soldiers who have recently returned from active service. These boys will be able to bring home with much force the reasons why such a large sum is needed by the government at this time. Mayor Penney announces that, beginning next Sunday evening, four-minute men will appear at the Princess theatre in this city and the movie houses at St. Hilaire and Goodridge for the purpose of spreading the gospel of the great Victory loan. Ministers of the county will aid by giving publicity from their pulpits.

No Soliciting Teams

A new method of selling bonds will be tried out when the Victory issue is placed on sale. Instead of teams making the rounds of the various precincts and calling upon each man who has been allotted a certain sum, every man will be notified by the township or ward committee how much he is expected to subscribe. He then will be asked to call at the place designated in the notice, to purchase his allotted share of bonds or give a good reason why he cannot do so. All allotments will be made by the township and ward committees, which insures that every man will be treated as nearly right as possible. A clean-up committee will visit all those who fail to appear as requested, and if these men cannot make a satisfactory agreement the cases will be turned over to the department of justice for further consideration.

Where to Report

In the city of Thief River Falls the regular polling place for each ward at the auditorium has been decided upon as the point where bonds are to be sold. These places wil be kept open from early morning until late in the evening so as to give every man in the city ample opportunity to subscribe the amount allotted to him. In the country districts, the regular polling places will be used wherever possible, but in many instances these are in school houses and where school is in session other arrangements will have to be made. Such changes will be announced previous to the opening of the drive.

It has been somewhat difficult to get complete data so that every man in the county can be notified of his allotment. If, by chance, any person is missed, he should not on that account hesitate to present himself for the purhcase of bonds. It is his duty to do this whether he has been notified or not.

Sleigh Tracks Made Uniform.

Sleigh tracks in the snow will be of uniform width beginning Jan. 1, 1921, in Minnesota. Gov. Burnquist last week signed the bill passed by the legislature prohibiting the sale or manufacture in the state of any sleighs that are other than four feet and six inches from center to center of runners. Supporters of the bill maintained that sleighs of uniform width would make road conditions better.

Fighting the Barberry.

The common barberry, which helps to spread the black stem rust of wheat and robs the farmers of the wheat belt of millions of dolalrs annually, has been banished from the state of Minnesota. The legislature has passed and the governor has signed a law requiring owners or occupants of premises within the state on which common barberry bushes grow to destroy the bushes, declaring them to be a public nuisance.

The act gives authority to the state entomologist to enforce the law, and provides penalties for violations.

Cemetery Board Meets.

A meeting of the cemetery board was held Monday evening in the office of City Clerk A. H. Akre. Routine business occupied the time of the members, nothing of particular importance coming up for consideration.

St. Hilaire Wants School

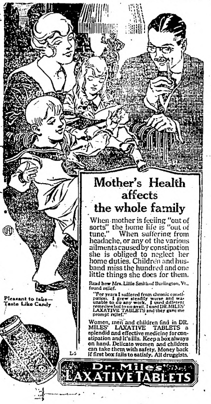
A special election has been called for April 22 at St. Hilaire to vote on the proposition of issuing bonds in the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of building a new school house. The old school house has been inadequate for some time and the more progressive element in the community finally succeeded in bringing the question of a new building to a vote. St. Hilaire and the community comprising District No. 102 is blessed with a progressive set of citizens and the bond proposition will undoubtedly carry by a large majority when put to a vote.

Rosewood Farmers Club.

The fourth annual meeting of the Rosewood Farmers club was held at Rosedale last Friday evening, the following officers being elected: Alex Helquist, president; Joel Shoberg, vice president; William Sorenson, secretary; Adolph Hanson, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at the same place on the evening of Friday, May 2. For this occasion William Sorenson and Joel Shoberg were appointed as a program committee, while Alfred Rafteseth and Benhard Ranum were named caterers.

At Friday's meeting an interesting program of musical numbers and readings was presented and the usual lunch served.



Mother's Health affects the whole family

When mother is feeling "out of sorts" the home life is "out of tune." When suffering from headache, or any of the various ailments caused by constipation she is obliged to neglect her home duties. Children and husband miss the hundred and one little things she does for them.

"For years I suffered from chronic constipation. I grew steadily worse and was unable to do any work. I used different remedies but to no avail. I used DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS and they gave me prompt relief."

Women, men and children find in DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS a splendid and effective medicine for constipation and it's ills. Keep a box always on hand. Delicate women and children can take them with safety. Money back if first box fails to satisfy. All druggists.

FINANCIER HAS VISION OF BIG STORM COMING

ROGER BABSON OF BOSTON GIVES VIEWS REGARDING RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD

MUST PUSH PUBLIC WORK

SEES GRAVE TROUBLE AHEAD BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABORING CLASS

Roger Babson is a Boston financier who issues periodical reviews for his clients which are considered as among the most reliable forecasts of industrial conditions in the world. In a recent review he makes this statement regarding world conditions:

Anything—But Hurry!

Every client should use his influence with his local community, his representatives to the State Legislature and Congress to push public works with all possible speed. Clients also have an opportunity to perform personal patriotic service by building at this time.

Prices will be lower later, but it is a good deal better to build now and head off anarchy, than to wait until it is too late, for the sake of saving 30 per cent. Spend the money now and then charge 20 per cent. to insurance, good-will, or something else. Clients who already have plans for building and who have suspended the same on account of high prices should again ask for bids. Clients who in any way contemplate building should at least have plans drawn. Mind you, we are not pretending that now is the cheap time to build. On the contrary, it is an expensive time to build, and we frankly say so. But it is much better to build now at a high cost and save business, than it is to wait for lower prices and run the risk of anarchy.

What Is Happening Abroad

The war of nations in Europe is over, but the great class war apparently has just begun. Because of the strict censorship of news the real conditions in Europe and elsewhere are not generally known. Working class unrest has expressed itself in revolutionary form throughout all the European nations. The statesmen at the Peace Conference in Paris are really more deeply concerned over the outcome of the Labor and Socialist Conference at Berne, Switzerland, than they are in their own activities in Paris. While the Peace Conference is discussing formulas for a League of Nations, the Labor Conference at Berne is discussing the possibility of having their working class constituents at home take over the ownership and control of industries. Strikes are rife throughout England, Ireland, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal and Sweden. They all show symptoms of economic rather than political revolutions. In Argentina and Chile violent labor uprisings have recently occurred. Given below are some specific instances which serve to show the trend of the times.

Can't Hang On, Dare Not Let Go

In England at least 250,000 workers of various trades have recently been on strike. These strikes are not over isolated disputes, but have as their base the fundamental principles of privileges which working classes are to receive henceforth. All of this has occurred, notwithstanding the fact that only a portion of England's military forces has been demobilized. What will be the situation when some 4,000,000 men return to look for jobs? The strike at Belfast, Ireland, is a direct repudiation of parliamentary action and is quite in sympathy with the Sinn Fein government recently elected.

Dignity In a Trot

Reports from Italy indicate that an explosion may take place at any time. The labor leaders of Italy are calling for the abolition of monarchy and for a soviet government. The sudden return of the Italian delegate, Orlanda, to Rome, because of the resignation of the Italian cabinet, is significent of the serious trouble in Italy. When the President recently conferred with the Vatican he was afterwards rebuked by the Italian workers for refusing to address one of their labor conferences. They retaliated by darkening the city and cutting off transportation for two days. Here we see that the weapon of direct action is being used in Italy.

Royalty and Riots

In Portugal the recent attempted overthrow of the republic by the monarchist party indicates that the working classes of Portugal are demanding power and have broken with the present regime. Seeing this dissention, the monarchists took the opportunity and attempted the restoration of the Portugese royalty. In Spain the working class and labor riots are frequent. While no recent reports have been received there is bitter class feeling in that country which may burst into flames at any moment. In Japan trouble is imminent, as is further indicated by the rapid withdrawal of Japanese troops from Russia. The rice riots of a few months ago show the temper of the people, who are beginning to revolt against the imperialistic designs of their leaders.

At this moment the Allies are confronted with the very serious and pressing problem of demobilizing their armies. French labor groups are demanding that their members be immediately released from army service. British labor groups are also persistently demanding the demobilization of the workers. The reason that this demand is not complied with is not because they need any longer fear the German army, but because of the more genuine fear of sending back these millions of soldiers to the homes, factories and workshops from which they were conscripted during the war, to find panics and unemployment.

Resting for Revolution

On the other hand, to keep millions of soldiers resting on their arms with no immediate prospect of using them, tends to disrupt army discipline and precipitate mutiny. The longer they remain resting on their arms, the worse this situation becomes. If they are released and sent back to civilian life and do not find conditions and opportunities such as all the promises of war guaranteed, then there is going to be trouble on a scale such as we have never known before! People in the United States have little conception of what is really going on. The conditions which exist abroad may not be duplicated here, but we cannot hope entirely to escape from the suffering which they produce. We cannot hope to have prosperity in America while there is revolution and anarchy in Europe.

SYSTEMATIC PLAN TO KILL THISTLE

THIS IS NECESSARY IN ORDER TO ERADICATE PEST FROM FARMS.

Something should be done in every county in the Red River valley to fight the sow thistle. The most practical plan yet proposed was tried during 1918 in Clay county where the county commissioners appointed a county weed inspector under the provisions of Chapter 394, Laws of 1917. The annual report of this inspector shows that his work was mainly educational; that it was not necessary to force anyone to do anything; that nearly all the farmers and land owners were willing to cooperate; and that the campaign was popular and successful.

The principal thing accomplished by the county weed inspector acting in co-operation with the county agent and Farm Bureau is to call to the attention of each individual farmer and land owner the best method of fighting this weed, and to secure co-operative community efforts in the entire county.

The Northwest Experiment Station advocated the passage of the county weed inspection law and has urged the appointment of inspectors. It may be said that this will cost something, but the entire cost to the county is a mere nothing compared to the losses in crop returns from sow thistle. One of the most important things the inspector will do is to point out the need of crop rotation, the need of livestock, especially sheep, and other plans.

Ten per cent of the voters may petition the county board to appoint this inspector. His salary is limited to $100 a month for six months only. No county can afford not to use this law and start a movement to fight the worst weed in the valley.

Expects to Return Soon.

Sergeant Algred L. Porrier, who is at present stationed with a coast artillery corps at Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, California, writes The Times that he will probably return to this city in two or three weeks. He does not state whether he will be released from service at that time or will be home on a furlough.

SHORT COURSE FOR JUNIORS BIG EVENT

SESSIONS ARE HELD AT THE CROOKSTON AGGIE SCHOOL THIS WEEK.

The Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston is holding a very interesting convention this week. The future farmers and farmers' wives of the Red River valley are in session to study problems of the home and farm. They are the boys and girls between the ages of twelve and eighteen who are enrolled in the junior short course for the special study of club projects such as bread making, canning and sewing for the girls and the raising of corn, potatoes, calves, pigs and poultry for the boys. Besides the class work, they are enjoying a fine outing. In the afternoons excursions are taken to points of interest in Crookston and vicinity. The evenings are taken up with illustrated lectures on farm life, moving picture entertainments of educational value, community singing and social games.

Friday, the closing day, has been designated as special club day and a very interesting program has been arranged. The county agents and county leaders will meet at the school in conference with O. H. Benson, national club leader from Washington, and T. A. Erickson, state leader from St. Paul. A demonstration by the McIntosh canning team, who were the champions of this district last year, will be a special feature. There will also be various demonstrations by teams that have been trained during the week.

The attendance this year at the junior short course is the largest in the history of the school. There are representatives from eleven of the northwest counties of the state.

YOUNG MAN WRITES FROM GERMAN TOWN

H. M. HANSON, LOCAL BOY, NOW WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION.

S. A. Hanson, 504 Horace avenue north, this week received a letter from his son, H. M. Hanson, who is with the army of occupation in Germany. Parts of the letter are of local interest and The Times reproduces these for the benefit of its readers. They follow:

"Aderau, Germany, Feb. 28, 1919. Dear Folks: Received a letter today from home written Feb. 10, so you see we are getting better mail service over here now. I went to Coblenz yesterday to see a football game. Our division was playing the 89th. Just a little while before the game started I was standing along the side lines and happened to look back, and mind you, there was Albert Johnson. Guess that he was just about as surprised as I was, and we had quite a talk. We almost forgot all about the game. Believe me, I sure was tickled to death to meet Albert as he is the first boy from Thief River Falls that I have seen since coming across.

"Albert told me he had been in Coblenz for two and a half months. I surely wish I had known it before as I have had plenty of chances to go there. He is with Evacuation Hospital No. 4, and is booked to leave for the states in a few days. It seems funny, but he has been around close to where I had been too, but I never had run across him. Went up to the hospital with him and ate supper and had a fine time. Don't suppose I will get a chance to see him again as he intended to leave in a couple of days, but am mighty glad that I met him.

"Well, I see by the papers that there isn't much of a chance for us to get home before July or August. There are seven regular army divisions picked to stay as occupation troops, and we are one of them. Saw a list of the divisions and when they were booked to leave up until July, and we are not even in it so I guess we've got a long stay ahead of us over here.

"It sure makes a fellow sore to think of all the other fellows going back and think we're stuck over here in Germany. The first and second divisions have been over here for a year and they are also to stay as occupation troops, while a lot of the divisions made up of drafted men, coming over in August and September, 1918, are already home. But we are here and have to stay, I guess. Well, no more news so will close. Your loving son, Herbert."

STATION SELLING PURE-BRED SEED

REPORT FOR PAST YEAR JUST ISSUED BY NORTHWEST AGGIE.

The finishing touches have just been put upon the annual report of the Northwest Experiment station and the copy has gone to the press for publication. It contains a comprehensive statement of the experimental work done during the past nine years and indicates that during that period the work of the station has developed greatly in extent and variety. The potato work shows especially valuable results. The detailed results in drainage investigations, pure seed work, fertilizer and rotation projects, and live stock and poultry management, makes a volume worth reading. As soon as printed copies will be distributed to all inquirers.

The report of the 1918 peat experiment work at Golden Valley has just been issued and copies are available for all who may be interested.

The station has about 3,500 bushels of pure bred seed that is being sold to farmers in small lots when they agree to try to keep the stock pure and free from weeds. The report from 1918 cooperators show a substantial increase from the pure seed over ordinary seed.

Why Meat is High.

"Why has not the price of meat decreased since the signing of the armistice?" asks Mr. Consumer and his wife.

"Because livestock costs more," is the answer of Armour and Company.

Cattle for the month of February cost the meat packing company $12.40 a hundred. This was 23.38 per cent higher than for the same month a year ago and 72.70 per cent higher than in February, 1914.

Hogs during February averaged $17.16, an increase of 4.14 per cent over the corresponding month a year ago and an advance of 102.36 per cent over the figures for 1914.

Sheep were only .78 per cent higher than in February, 1918, but the percentage of increase for the five-year period was 130.79.

No More Casualty Lists.

The war department on April 1 discontinued the method of issuing casualty lists which hitherto were made available for simultaneous publication for all newspapers throughout the country. It was decided on because practically all casualties incurred in fighting have been announced. The government has been telegraphing lists from Chicago and San Francisco five days in advance of publication. Press associations have been distributing the lists.

LIBERAL SUPPORT OF PAVILION PLAN

LIST OF MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION DONORS TO NEW BUILDING.

The Times last week referred in a news article to the liberal donations made by members of the Merchants association toward the erection of a new live stock pavilion at the fair grounds, but owing to lack of space it was found impossible to give a list of those who assisted in the worthy movement. The complete list is printed below, together with the amount given in each instance:

Traveling Men's Memorial.

Thief River Falls Council, O. C. T., held the annual memorial service of the organization at Odd Fellows hall last Sunday afternoon, a good sized audience being present to witness the pretty ceremony.

This is an annual observance by the traveling men all over the country every year and is in honor of the members of the order who have died during the preceding twelve months. The floral decorations were profuse and very attractive and the entire program decidedly impressive.

RAINBOW DIVISION STARTS FOR HOME

FAMOUS FIGHTING UNIT ON HOMEWARD JOURNEY AT LAST.

The war department has decided definitely that it will be impractical to parade the 42nd (Rainbow) division in Washington as a complete organization, Gen. March announced this week. Gen. Pershing has been so advised. The division will go to Camp Meade and subsequently each unit of the division will be sent to its home camp for demobilization. Regiments and smaller units will be paraded in the principal cities of their home states, if this can be arranged.

The entire 42nd division should be in this country before the last of April, Gen. March said, under the present plan. The department is anxious, he added, that the country shall see as much as possible of this extraordinary regiment.

Two Thief River Falls lads, Hardy Bothun and Harold Provencher, are members of the 151st field artillery, a unit in this division, and have been on active duty in France for nearly two years. Fred Scanlan and Martin Langseth, who recently returned to their homes in this city, also were members of this unit, but were sent home as casuals previous to the departure of the division.

Wonderful Power Built Into A Light Tractor

Allwork

Kerosene Tractor

"Backed by 12 years of tractor experience"

THE striking feature of the Allwork Tractor is its big, powerful 4-cylinder motor (5-inch bore and 6-inch stroke). In our Valley soil, three plows will overload the small motor, but the Allwork, with its powerful motor and wealth of reserve power, simply rolls along with three plows in all conditions of soil, without any effort.

Why do you use four horses on your binder, when three could pull it? Because you must have that surplus of power that your four horses give you.

Give your tractor as square a deal as you do your horses, and your tractor troubles will disappear. You can do this by buying plenty of power.

We know of no place where $1575 will buy you as much power as it will in the Allwork tractor.

And the motor burns kerosene successfully. The specially constructed kerosene manifold, designed and perfected by engineers who have spent years in tractor research, delivers a perfect mixture to the cylinders. We advertise the Allwork strictly as a kerosene burner. We do not mean half kerosene and half gasoline, nor any other gasoline mixture. Just common, ordinary kerosene, and we guarantee the results.

Every wearing part is easy to get at. We consider the Allwork the most accessible tractor on the American market. This means much to you, Mr. Buyer. Look into it!

The Allwork is built by manufacturers who have had 12 years' successful experience in building tractors that have given complete satisfaction in all parts of the United States. It has plenty of power for all kinds of field and belt work and will give you good service, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. Stock of repairs carried at Crookston, Minn.

CATHOLIC CALL TO RECONSTRUCT

Church Council Lays Down Lines to Guide in Solving Post-War Problems.

TO INSURE SOCIAL JUSTICE.

Re-employment, Labor Reforms, Social Betterment, Economic Conditions and Relations Between Employer and Worker Subjects of Official Pronouncement.

Drawn up by the four bishops who represent the hierarchy of the Catholic Church in America in the administration of the National Catholic War Council, an official pronouncement on the social and economic reconstruction problems facing this nation has been issued from the headquarters of this church council in Washington, D. C. The document bears the signatures of Bishop Peter J. Muldoon of Rockford, Ill.; Bishop Joseph Schrembs of Toledo, O.; Bishop Patrick J. Hayes of New York City and Bishop William T. Russell of Charleston, S. C., and reads in part as follows:

Foreword.

"The ending of the Great War has brought peace. But the only safeguard of peace is social justice and a contented people. The deep unrest so emphatically and so widely voiced throughout the world is the most serious menace to the future peace of every nation and of the entire world. Great problems face us. They cannot be put aside; they must be met and solved with justice to all.

"In the hope of stating the lines that will best guide us in their right solution the following pronouncement is issued by the Administrative Committee of the National Catholic War Council.

Replacement of Men in Service.

"The first problem in the process of reconstruction is the industrial replacement of the discharged soldiers and sailors. The majority of these will undoubtedly return to their previous occupations. However, a very large number of them will either find their previous places closed to them or will be eager to consider the possibility of more attractive employments. The most important single measure for meeting this situation that has yet been suggested is the placement of such men on farms. Several months ago Secretary Lane recommended to Congress that returning soldiers and sailors should be given the opportunity to work at good wages upon some part of the millions upon millions of acres of arid, swamp and cut-over timber lands in order to prepare them for cultivation. President Wilson, in his annual address to Congress, endorsed the proposal. As fast as this preliminary task has been performed the men should be assisted by government loans to establish themselves as farmers, either as owners or as tenants having long-time leases.

Farm Colonies.

"It is essential that both the work of preparation and the subsequent settlement of the land should be effected by groups or colonies, not by men living independently of one another and in depressing isolation.

"A plan of this sort is already in operation in England. The importance of the project as an item of any social reform program is obvious. It would afford employment to thousands upon thousands, would greatly increase the number of farm owners and independent farmers and would tend to lower the cost of living by increasing the amount of agricultural products. If it is to assume any considerable proportions it must be carried out by the governments of the United States and of the several States. Should it be undertaken by these authorities and operated on a systematic and generous scale it would easily become one of the most beneficial reform measures that has ever been attempted.

Employment Service.

"The reinstatement of the soldiers and sailors in urban industries will no doubt be facilitated by the United States Employment Service. This agency has attained a fair degree of development and efficiency during the war. Unfortunately there is some danger that it will go out of existence or be greatly weakened at the end of the period of demobilization. It is the obvious duty of Congress to continue and strengthen this important institution. The problem of unemployment is with us always. Its solution requires the co-operation of many agencies and the use of many methods, but the primary and indispensable instrument is a national system of labor exchanges acting in harmony with State, municipal and private employment bureaus.

Women War Workers.

"One of the most important problems of readjustment is that created by the presence in industry of immense numbers of women who have taken the places of men during the war. Mere justice, to say nothing of chivalry, dictates that these women should not be compelled to suffer any greater loss or inconvenience than is absolutely necessary, for their services to the nation have been second only to the services of the men whose places

THEIR POWER IS GREAT

Accomplishments of Small Savings Is Remarkable.

"What is the power of small savings?"

Wrestling with the problem of how best to impress upon the people of the Ninth Federal Reserve district the surpassing importance of saving of every degree, great, small and medium, the central committee of the Ninth District War Loan organization has happened on an astounding case of what small savings can do.

This is, according to A. R. Rogers, central committee chairman, that if every one of the 110,000,000 citizens of the United States should buy just one Thrift stamp a day for a little more than two years they would have amassed a saving equal to the entire national debt of the United States on January 1, 1919, or $21,000,000,000.

That means that the American people, saving 25 cents a day for 25 months, or to be exact, 764 days, would have saved a sum equal to that spent for the following great undertakings:

The American army which turned the tide of victory in the world war on the fields of France.

Additions to the navy since April, 1917, and all the costs of maintaining the navy and paying its men for 21 months.

The merchant marine of the United States so far as it had been completed to January 1.

The Panama Canal.

A number of great dams and irrigation projects.

Scores of great army camps throughout the United States.

Payment to Spain for the Philippine Islands, etc.

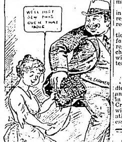
Actually the savings would be a third greater than the sum spent for these undertakings because a third of the money used by the United States government was loaned to her allies. This sum, about $7,000,000,000, will be returned by the allies at maturity of the loan. Meanwhile the United States will receive interest on the whole sum.



WE'LL JUST SEW THIS OVER THAT HOLE
MR. FARMER
MRS. FARMER
Morr.

"And the startling fact remains," said Mr. Rogers, "that 25 cents a day saving by every person in the United States would pile up this amount of money in 25 months.

"This shows the overwhelming importance of saving in even the smallest degree. I do not believe there is anyone who can read these figures and not realize that small savings are important. Too many people feel that when they buy a Thrift Stamp or even a War Savings Stamp they are in child's play, doing the thing on too small a scale, not being really efficient.

"As a matter of fact just the reverse is true. If efficiency means anything it means utilizing all the pieces, saving little odds and ends of time, of material and of money. Redeeming and saving the little bits—this is both efficiency and economy.

"Of course the United States government is never going to call on its people to raise such sums by purchase of Thrift stamps. Part of the money can be raised more rapidly by buying Liberty Bonds. That, however, does not change the facts we are giving, that saving just 25 cents a day, every day, by every American, would pile up in a little over two years, a sum equal to the national debt on January 1."

The total sum each citizen would have to save to equal the national debt is $190.91. If only one cent more were saved the sum would be $1,100,000 greater.

MUSICAL FEAST AT CROOKSTON APR. 17

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO GIVE AFTERNOON PERFORMANCE.

Crookston will have the luck to be given a chance to hear a real symphony orchestra when the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will play at the armory on the afternoon of April 17. This announcement was made on Monday by Capt. Harry Chesterman of Company I, who declared the national guard company had completed arrangements whereby the nationally known orchestra agreed to visit Crookston on its tour of the Northwest. The company, which is composed of 60 pieces, will arrive from Winnipeg and after playing at Crookston will continue to Grand Forks for an evening engagement.

The big orchestra is under the leadership of Emil Oberhoffer and two prominent soloists are also on the program. Corporal Findlay Campbell, baritone, will present an offering, and Miss Emma Noe, soloist of the Chicago Grand Opera company, will be heard. Many people from Thief River Falls and vicinity are already making plans to take advantage of this opportunity to hear this great musical organization.

DISCHARGED MEN KEEP EQUIPMENT

NEW RULING BY WAR DEPARTMENT AFFECTS ALL RETURNED SOLDIERS.

Every enlisted man on discharge, the war department announced this week, will be allowed to retain as his personal property the following articles of uniform equipment:

Overseas caps (for men with overseas service; hats for others), olive drab shirt, woolen coat and ornaments, woolen breeches, one pair of shoes, one pair of leggins, one waist belt, one slicker and overcoat, two suits of underwear, four pairs of stockings, one pair of gloves, one toilet set, one barracks bag, gas mask and helmet (for overseas men.)

Soldiers who have already turned in their equipment are authorized to regain them by applying to the director of storage at Washington.

The department has called attention to the fact that it was unlawful for a discharged soldier to wear a regulation uniform without the red cherrors which show his connection with the military establishment has terminated according to law.

To Photograph Graves.

Identified graves of American soldiers in France will be photographed and the photo forwarded to relatives in this country by the American Red Cross. About 7,000 such photographs will be distributed every month. Relatives are reminded that it is unnecessary to send in requests for such photographs as the matter will be attended to by the Red Cross under authority from the war department. Each photograph is mounted in a card board folder, containing the name, rank and place of burial of the soldier.

NORSE MEETING TO BE HELD IN JUNE

SATESDALS LAGET TO CONVENE FOR THREE DAYS AT CROOKSTON.

Plans were completed at a meeting held recently at Grand Forks whereby Satesdals Laget will hold their annual meeting in that city on June 19, 20 and 21. The directors of the organization who met in the North Dakota city, after considering invitations from towns in both states, finally decided on Crookston and will meet there in conjunction with the Spilemanns Laget, which is scheduled to meet there at that time. President B. Bjornarna of Wanke, Minn., declared after the meeting that between two and three thousand people should attend the meetings, since each of the societies have very large memberships.

Lieutenant Governor Frankson, a member of the Satesdal Laget, will be one of the principal speakers of the occasion, Mr. Bjornarna stated. Probably the greatest feature of the convention, Mr. Bjornarna said, will be the violin contest, which is expected to bring leading Norwegian violinists from all parts of the United States to compete for the two hundred dollars in gold offered by the society and for gold and silver medals. All contestants are to use a Hardanger violin, one which is peculiar to classical Norwegian airs.

Besides Mr. Bjornarna, Arne Gorindson of Fisher, Olay Loyland of Kloten and Gunder Asbjornson of Fisher, were the directors who met. Olay Orndfeck of Ada, represented the Spilemanns Laget.

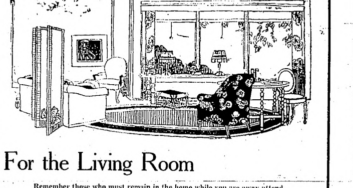
The Interior is Nearly as Important

You are, of course, preparing to follow the government's request that you build something this summer. It is good advice and it is to be hoped that our people will profit by it.

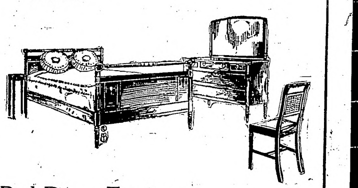
You Need Furniture of Some Kind

It matters not whether your home is an old one or one of the new ones. Furniture you must have, and we are in a position to supply it. Every department of this big store is full of the very best goods that can be procured, and the prices are right.



For the Living Room

Remember those who must remain in the home while you are away attending to your work. Make things pleasant for them. The living room is the heart of the home and should be made attractive. We can supply an entire suite, together with carpets and curtains, or one single piece can be secured for the purpose of filling in. The continuous pleasure to be derived from finishing off a room in this manner is only slightly less than in furnishing an entire home.



Bed Room Furniture

We are not in the least bragging when we say that our stock of bed room furniture is the most complete in this section. We can supply anything in this line and have the different styles to match up with any other furniture you may have. Give this department of our store a thorough inspection and we are certain that you will find just what you want.

Outdoor Furniture

It will soon be time for porch and other outdoor furniture. We have stocked up to the limit on articles of this kind and can now supply anything desired. Is it not about time that you gave attention to the matter of a refrigerator? We have them in all sizes and styles.

FOUGHT WELL AND MET BRAVE DEATH

SO SAYS OFFICER IN LETTER ABOUT OSCAR BAKKEN, LOCAL BOY.

Definite information has at last been received regarding the death in battle last November of Oscar Bakken, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bakken of this city. Mrs. A. B. Isaacson, sister of the dead soldier, has made repeated efforts to obtain more facts than the mere announcement of the war department saying that Oscar had been killed in action, and her efforts have been rewarded by the following letter from Lieut. Frank Buchter, a member of the same army unit to which Oscar belonged:

"Pelm, Germany, March 14, 1919. Mrs. A. B. Isaacson, Middle River, Minn. Dear Madam: Received your letter of inquiry as to the details of the death of your brother. Although not the captain of Co. D, and spending most of my time in the war in the Flanders region, I have inquired among his friends of his company.

"Oscar, in company with Corporal Christensen and Private Woodward, went out on patrol to locate a German machine gun that was holding up the advance from the company's left.

"He was killed by the fire of this gun as was Private Woodward. Corporal Christensen was wounded and evacuated, never being returned to the company. Oscar was killed on the edge of the city of Stenay as the First American army was on the edge of its final allied army objective.

"He lies buried just west of the cemetery of Stenay which is on the south side of the town. Oscar was laid to rest on the 12th of November by fifty of his comrades of Co. D. A little white cross marks his resting place and contains the identification disc of aluminum which during action is worn around the neck of the soldier.

"Stenay is located on the Meuse river about five miles from or rather northeast of Dem-Sur-Meuse and was the Crown Prince of Germany's headquarters during the famous battle of Verdun, in 1916.

"One boy remarked 'Oscar was with us always and fought every day that we were in the line,' while the sergeants of Co. D say, 'He always did his bit,' which is the highest tribute one soldier pays to another.

"His death occurred Nov. 10, 1918.

"If there is any further information I can give you I am at your service Respectfully yours, Frank Buchter, First Lt. Co. D., 358 Inf., A. P. O. 770 A. E. F., Germany."

ARTHUR ELLINGSON LEAVES HOSPITAL

RECOVERS FROM EFFECTS OF THIRTEEN INTESTINAL PERFORATIONS.

Arthur Ellingson left yesterday for his home at Middle River. Arthur is the young man who a few weeks ago was wounded by the accidental discharge of a revolver, with the result that his intestines were perforated in no less than thirteen places. He had been confined in the Physicians hospital in this city recovering from the effects of his wounds.

The story of this youn man's recovery is the most remarkable in the history of the local hospital. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, who had charge of the case, performed the operation which saved the young man's life. The doctor literally was forced to remove the young man's intestines from his body in order to sew up the thirteen holes. Some of these holes were small and round, while several were long and ugly tears in the intestinal wall. A large artery also was severed by the bullet and this had to be patched up to keep the patient from bleeding to death. Ellingson was in perfect health and possessed of an iron constitution, which counted greatly in his favor during the days following the operation. For some time his life was despaired of but the battle was finally won and the young man is now able to be up and around. He walked from the hospital to the depot when he left for home.

An Enjoyable Time.

Lost Loon Lodge was the scene of social activities last Thursday evening when the W. O. W's. indulged in an old fashioned taffy pull. P. X. made an excellent hostess and at 10:30 a delightful lunch was served. According to all reports everybody enjoyed a good time.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. Mary Robertson was surprised by a number of her friends last Thursday evening on her seventy-sixth birthday. The guests brought lunch and several beautiful remembrances, and enjoyed a most pleasant evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Erickson, Mrs. Gran, and daughter, Miss Caspara, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rossman.

Dinner Party.

Mrs. H. O. Loken entertained the employees of Loken's department store at dinner at her home, 315 28th street west, last Friday evening in honor of Mr. Loken's birthday anniversary. The table was decorated with red tulips, candles and placecards, also flowered nut baskets. A delicious three-course dinner was served.

Mrs. Helena Finson.

Mrs. Helena Finson passed away at her home, 115 4th street west, April 2, after an illness of a month. Her death was caused by aericipilis and influenza.

Deceased was born in Norway March 2, 1850, and was married in that country to Ole Finson May 24, 1869. They came to the United States about thirty seven years ago, and have resided in Thief River Falls the past twelve years. Mrs. Finson was 68 years and 1 month old at the time of her death.

Besides her husband she leaves four sons and five daughters: Mrs. Adolph Nelson, Detroit; Mrs. E. Olson, Watson; Mrs. A. Williams, Minneapolis; Mrs. O. Hermanson, Watson; Hans Finson, Watson; F. Finson and Anton Finson of Minneapolis. hTe remais were laid to rest April 7, in the Greenwood cemetery, Rev. I. T. Aastad officiating.

Miss Alice Thorson, and her brother Arthur, and Martin and Ole Geving, of Highlanding, left Wednesday afternoon, for Grand Forks, where they are going to work.

"Character"

Could there be more conclusive evidence of a car's character than the appreciation more than 115,000 owners have of the Overland Model 90? This appreciation grows from the dependable, comfortable and economical service of the car. The fact that it pleases so many people, everywhere, and keeps on doing it, shows how well we have guaged the public need. Why delay your decision when you have this record of Overland satisfaction to guide you?

Only a few of these cars are to be had this spring. If interested, we advise you to place your order at once.

Butterfat Prices for March

Monthly Payments,
Sweet Cream 72c
Common Cream 70c

The outstanding feature of the buttermilk market for the month of March was its unsettled character, the decline and advance was sharp, and the price fluctuated sometimes 3 to 7c in a couple of days. Those quick changes are always signs that the price is a little too high for the season and it takes only a small surplus of shortage to turn the market one way or the other.

The outstanding feature of the butter an important factor in keeping the prices high. The government has assisted and encouraged this export and as long as this continues the price is likely to stay high.

NOW IS TIME TO GET BACK ON JOB

WORK MUST BE SPEEDED

Loyal Citizens of Ninth District Called On to Co-operate With War Savings Organizations to Form Societies and Sell Stamps.

"People of the Ninth Federal Reserve District do not yet fully appreciate the possibilities of good to themselves and the great value to their Government of the organization of War Savings Societies," said A. R. Rogers, Chairman of the District War Loan Organization, in discussing Government financing progress.

"We have set about organizing 25,000 or 30,000 War Savings Societies as the backbone of the American thrift movement in this district," said Mr. Rogers. "After a week of rather intensive effort, we have organized probably 1,000 societies. This is not getting results fast enough, and it is not in keeping with the usual patriotic response made to Government requests by the loyal people of this district. Unless the organization of these societies is speeded up, we will have to resort to some other means of impressing upon the people the need of thrift and the absolute necessity of buying these smaller Government securities."

Results Will Be Obtained.

Mr. Rogers and J. H. Meyering, Director of organization of the War Savings Division, both admit disappointment in the progress being made, but insist that desired results will be obtained even though it takes a little longer to get going at top speed than they at first figured.

"We are not at all discouraged about the success of a district-wide organization of War Savings Societies," said Mr. Meyering. "These societies furnish the ideal method for the carrying on of the thrift educational campaign, and the benefits to be derived from them are so direct and so apparent that the people of these Northwest communities will gradually become more enthusiastic about them.

"We are just beginning to recover from a period of relaxation following the unexpected ending of the war. People everywhere have been celebrating and naturally have been giving more attention to their private business and have had less inclination and time for patriotic work.

Must Have Support.

"The fact remains, however, that the United States Government must have the moral and financial support of all its citizens if it is to finish its war job. Everybody must spend wisely, save and buy Government securities. Reports we get convince us that men, women and children are beginning to realize this fact and to get back on the job.

"It is the business of every loyal American to do everything possible and co-operate in every possible way with the local War Savings Organization in the work of organizing societies and selling stamps. This district will never be satisfied to make a poorer showing than the people in other parts of the country in this department of financing the Government and benefiting themselves by forming habits of thrift. Our good name and our future prosperity depends upon it, and we know that the majority of the people in the Ninth District are neither short-sighted nor unpatriotic. They are not quitters and we know they will do their share in finishing the job. The only thing we are anxious to impress upon them is that they must begin NOW."

IS PRACTICAL PATRIOT

Minnesota German Born American Has Fine Record.

Possesses $25,000 in War Securities and Has Son in Navy—Gave Time Lavishly.

Possessor of $25,000 in Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps and Certificates of Indebtedness; the father of a son in the American navy, and fearless champion of patriotism, is the record of one German-born American who does not believe in biting the hand that feeds him.

He is August Heckert of Marietta, Minn., and has gained fame as Lac Qui Parle county's prize, practical patriot. Chairman J. H. Hayden of Madison says that Mr. and Mrs. Heckert are the largest holders of government securities in his county.

In addition to their heavy cash contributions to the prosecution of the war and the loaning of their son to Uncle Sam, the Heckerts have given lavishly of their time to various war activities.

Mr. Heckert's sterling patriotism recently made him defendant in a $10,000 damage suit brought by Ferdinand Kahlbrenner of Marietta. It followed a stirring article in a Marietta paper, signed by Mr. Heckert, in which he aired his views about certain fellow citizens that he did not believe were doing their part for their country. The jury returned a verdict for Mr. Heckert in a short time.

"This government made it possible for me to get along in the world and whatever I have this country is welcome to," Mr. Heckert told A. R. Rogers, chairman of the Ninth District War Loan Organization, a few days ago. "The fact that I subscribed four or five times my Liberty Loan allotment apparently convinced the jury that I was sincere."

"Workers throughout the Ninth District should find encouragement in the case of Mr. Heckert," said Chairman Hayden of Madison. "It is a case like this that should bring shame to many men who try to avoid doing their part in finishing the job that their country started."

THINK IN INTEREST—SAVE.

TO PATRIOTIC AMERICANS

America went into the war without selfishness and with high purpose. We achieved vastly. Germany, dismayed by our enthusiasm and power, feigned a knockout, took the count, and the United States flag now flies from the strongest Hun fortress.

Nevertheless, the heroic job which we entered so fair-heartedly and carried on so effectively is yet to be finished. So now we whom prosperity will consider worthy the name of patriotic Americans must "carry on" until our debts are paid and the suffering world is rehabilitated.

Everyone should know the main facts in the case. Every one of us who can should tell the others these facts and drive home with written and spoken words the arguments that, based upon these facts, will prove every individual's present duty to his America.

Join the Government Financing Crusaders! Use this ammunition and all the rest that you can secure to overwhelm the forces of the uninformed and the slackers. By pulling together we can finish the job and as 1919 crusaders can gain the Holy Land of Prosperous Peace.

A. R. ROGERS,
Chairman Ninth District War Loan Organization.

NEWS NOTES OF SHOP AND RAIL

MORE TAXES FOR RAIL PROPERTIES

NEW BILL PROVIDES ADDITIONAL REVENUE FOR MUNICIPALITIES.

Railroad companies in Minnesota will be forced to pay a high tax, of which a part will go to municipalities through which the railroad companies operate, if a bill introduced by Representative McGivern of Staples becomes a law.

His measure increases the gross earnings tax now assessed from five to six per cent, providing that the extra one per cent should go direct to the municipalities, in proportion to the valuation of the railroad properties in them.

The fact that the municipalities have not gotten much of the taxes which the railroads pay, although the railroads enjoy the advantages of other taxpayers or villages and cities, has been the source of much complaint against the gross earnings tax policy.

Bad Sleet Storm.

The snow storm which struck here Monday changed into sleet when it reached farter south, and from Erskine to the Twin Cities the coating of ice formed by the sleet raised havoc with 'phone and telegraph lines between Erskine and Richville 250 telephone poles were broken down on account of the weight of ice and the strong gale blowing at the same time. Wire service was as a result completely demoralized on this part of the Soo system and it has since been necessary to send messages by way of Duluth and Superior to the Twin Cities. Trains are also handled with the greatest difficulty owing to the impossibility of transmitting orders by wire. It is expected the trouble will be remedied in a short time as a crew is now at work replacing the broken poles and connecting up strands of wire.

Returns From Army.

Robert E. Lokker, car foreman at Fordville prior to entering the army about a year ago, has returned from the service. He was here last week to visit around among his old friends. Mr. Lokker has been given the post of car foreman at Harvey, N. D., and will enter upon his duties in the near future.

Marcoe Goes to Superior.

Engineer A. J. Marcoe and family are this week moving to Superior, where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Marcoe finds that he can hold a better run at Superior, hence the move. The many friends of the family in this city are sorry to see them go.

Preston Expects to Move.

A. E. Preston, engineer, returned on Saturday from Onamia, where he had been looking for a residence. It is Mr. Preston's intention to make Onamia his home, he having accepted a run on that part of the Soo system.

Accident at Alsen.

A slight accident occurred at Alsen, N. D., on the Soo while switching cars. One of the cars became derailed and plunged into the tool house, fairly demolishing the small building, before rolling into the ditch.

Freight Cars Derailed.

Last Thursday night four cars of freight train No. 70 were derailed on the passing track at Dent. The derailment was not serious and caused no delay to regular trains. It took only a short time for the crew of No. 70 to have their train once more on the rails and under motion.

Safety First Emphasized.

The doctrine of "Safety First" is to be impressed with renewed strength upon the men employed at the Soo round house. A large bulletin board has this week been put in position there, upon which is placed a number of posters and bulletins showing rules to be followed to insure safety for employes in their regular routine work. A similar board has been placed in the train dispatchers' office, both being under the direction of the Safety First association.

Division Jottings.

R. E. Preston, operator at Plummer, spent a few days last week on a leave of absence. His place was taken by B. Bergsten, operator at Alexandria.

P. M. Johnson, regular agent at Orleans, is enjoying a short vacation and is employing the time in visiting at various points in Montana and North Dakota. R. Vance, relief agent, is taking care of the station at Orleans during his absence.

The local organization of track and shop men held a meeting in this city Monday evening. Several from other parts of the division were in attendance.

Clarence Sorenson, helper at Newfolden, spent Sunday with friends at Lancaster.

F. S. Dalton, agent at Fordville, was a visitor at Ardoch on Sunday.

Roy W. Mundt, boiler maker, has been in the Twin Cities since Monday evening on a business trip.

Carl Linde, car man, went to Lancaster on Saturday to visit briefly with friends and also to look after some matters of business.

Carl Solberg, round house foreman at Mahnomen, is back on the job after a long siege of illness. Henry Noss, engine dispatcher, officiated as foreman during the absence of Mr. Solberg, while Noss' place was taken by John Houfek.

Miss Alvina Jonas, clerk in the office of Car Foreman Conklin, was the guest of friends at Erskine over Sunday.

John Jordahl, coal heaver, is back on the job after having been laid up for some time with an attack of the flu. Herman Clauson has been throwing the black diamonds during his absence.

Elmer E. Evenson of Kenmare has taken a position as wiper at the Overly round house, taking the place made vacant by the resignation of Clarence Rude.

Fireman Elven Erickson returned on Saturday from Adams, where he had been employed for some time.

John Kassa, car man, returned to work this week after having been laid up for nearly five months with rheumatism. He replaces Peter Olson, who has taken his former position as coach cleaner. Mr. Olson, in turn, replaces Otis Dokken, who finds himself temporarily out of a pob.

CHARTER MEMBER DENTAL SORORITY

The following news item recently appeared in the Minneapolis Journal:

"Women of the College of Dentistry at the university have organized into the Alpha Beta chapter of the Upsilon Alpha Dental sorority which has as its aim the betterment of the profession of dentistry and the closer union of women in the profession. Esther Holway, Catherine Metcalf, Stephame Shulz, Gudrun Solberg and Irene Woodcock were initiated as charter members."

Miss Woodcock was a graduate of the Thief River Falls high school with the class of 1917. When the Minnesota Dental college affiliated with the National Dental sorority of Upsilon Alpha, she was sent to Chicago as the delegate from Minnesota. Later she was elected to the presidency of Alpha Beta chapter at Minnesota university, which office she now holds.

SAFE, GENTLE REMEDY BRINGS SURE RELIEF

For 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has enabled suffering humanity to withstand attacks of kidney, liver, bladder and stomach troubles and all diseases connected with the urinary organs and to build up and restore to health organs weakened by disease. These most important organs must be watched, because they filter and purify the blood; unless they do their work you are doomed.

Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pains in the loins and lower abdomen, gravel, difficulty when urinating, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago all warn you of trouble with your kidneys. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are the remedy you need. Take three or four every day. The healing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and drives out the poisons. New life and health will surely follow. When your normal vigor has been restored continue treatment for a while to keep yourself in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

Don't wait until you are incapable of fighting. Start taking GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules today. Your druggist will cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied with results. But be sure to get the original imported GOLD MEDAL and accept no substitutes. In three sizes. Sealed packages. At all drug stores.

Choicest Residence Lots in City to Be Offered for Sale

The finest inside residence lots in the city are to be put on sale at once. Sale will continue this spring until every lot is sold.

The big reconstruction idea now is a home for everybody. Not one that someone else owns and you rent, but a home that you own. This is going to be made just as easy for you as it is to pay rent and in the end you will have a deed to your own home instead of paying rent to a flat owner so that he may build more flats to get more rent to build more flats.

It is not necessary to take a bus to look at these lots nor will you need a taxi in bad weather if you buy one and build on it. They are all within three or four blocks of the Post Office, Auditorium, Library, High School, Stores and business [illegible] and more reasonable in price than lots so far out where there are no conveniences. Nearly all of these lots have city water, sewer and sidewalk all established and paid for, so you do not need to wait several years for these conveniences.

You can pay for these lots at the time of sale with cash or Liberty Bonds of any issue which bonds will be taken on [illegible] cents on the dollar, or you can pay one-fifth of the purchase price down and the balance at the rate of one-tenth each month, with six per cent interest on the part remaining unpaid from time to time.

Warranty deed delivered to you immediately upon payment in full. No taxes due until next year. All paid by owner this year. These lots are put on sale by the owner, who will show them at any time and give prices.

Serving Producer and Consumer

The Livestock Producer Wants
—The highest prices his cattle will bring.
—An assured market 12 months in a year.
—Selling outlets that cover the entire world.

The Meat Consumer Wants
—A stabilized supply, winter and summer alike.
—Distribution that brings the meat fresh, sweet and in prime condition.

These things Armour and Company are able to provide, because the Armour organization has kept pace with international needs.

When Armour began turning waste parts into saleable by-products, the farmer profited because it became possible to pay him on a basis for the whole animal, instead of for just the meat, hide and tallow. And as by-products provide for a large part of the production cost, the consumer pays less for his meat.

When Armour and Company started building refrigerator cars on a large scale, fresh beef, pork and mutton became at once available at all seasons and in all consuming centers. And with Armour branch houses to hold enough to make them independent of railroad uncertainties, and to distribute according to retailers' requirements, stock-growers have the encouragement of sure markets and consumers are assured a steady always-dependable supply.

There is nothing to prevent any packing concerns from building and operating their own refrigerator cars. Nor are they barred from conducting their own branch distributing houses.

The big point is that Armour and Company, realizing that a national business could not be conducted except on a national scale, have built these cars and provided necessary marketing facilities. The system is the outgrowth of necessity, and to render the service which is expected of it, must operate as a whole. It cannot be efficient piecemeal, or under scattered management. The very nature of the business is against that.

Time, and the utmost in co-ordination and efficiency, are first essentials in the successful handling of food products. There can be only one way to realize the greatest efficiency under such circumstances, and that is to do it as Armour and Company are doing it—with preparation and shipping facilities under one comprehensive management.

Liberal Terms on New Victory Loan

INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS TO EXTEND OVER PERIOD OF SIX MONTHS.

Installment privileges for the Victory Liberty loan will be the most liberal of any government loan, Secretary Glass recently announced. Payments will be permitted in six installments. In the fourth loan the treasury allowed four installments.

The installment dates and amounts announced by Mr. Glass are: Ten per cent on or before May 10; ten per cent July 10; twenty per cent August 12; twenty per cent September 9; twenty per cent October 7, and the remainder with accrued interest on deferred installments, on November 11.

The fourth loan payments were required to be completed in four months, as against six months in the Victory campaign. The short term of payment provides an extra hardship on people who pay for their bonds through savings and the announcement that six months will be allowed in the Victory loan comes as a decided relief to thousands of Americans who are ready and willing to do their duty in the matter of subscribing to the loan but who are unable to raise the required sum of money within a short time.

Wylie Farmer Dead.

Thomas Landa, age 24, one of the prominent young farmers of the Wylie neighborhood, died at his home last Friday after a week's illness of influenza. His brother, Private Andrew Landa, died of influenza-pneumonia at Camp Upton, N. Y., just three weeks before. The funeral was held from the Euclid Catholic church, Rev. Grimonprez officiating.

U.S. ENVOYS HAVE PLAN

Definite Russian Policy Said to Have Been Evolved.

To Be Submitted to Other Allied Delegations for Ratification—Wilson Remains in Bed.

Paris, April 8.—It is reported that the American peace delegation has evolved a definite Russian policy. It will be submitted to the other Allied delegations for consideration.

Dispatches disclosed a "peace proposal" submitted to the Allies by Premier Nikolai Lenine, promising to discontinue bolshevist propaganda and grant antibolshevik districts the right to self-determination, in return for withdrawal of the Allied armies and shipment of food and raw material.

Wilson Remains in Bed.

The president, whose cold has been broken and whose fever has subsided, wished to attend the "big four" meeting. Grayson, however, realizing that the next two or three weeks will be filled with heavy work of vast importance, insisted that Wilson remain quiet for at least another day.

U. S. Colleagues Visit President.

Colonel E. M. House and a few other Americans visited the "White House" and were permitted to talk briefly with the president. It is understood that several important questions were taken up.

Leading bankers from the Scandinavian countries, Holland and other neutrals, arrived today to confer with the financial experts of the Peace conference regarding German credits in their countries. The Germans recently advanced the plea that they were unable to make immediate gold payments to the Allies, owing to the interest on credits to certain neutrals falling due. The state of these credits will be learned from the neutrals themselves.

RESIGN TO JOIN NEW LEGION

World War Veterans to Be Absorbed Into New Body.

New York, April 8.—Officials of the recently organized World War Veterans of America, with one exception, have resigned in order that the organization may be absorbed into the American Legion, now being formed by Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and other former officers of the American Expeditionary Forces, it is announced here. Organization of the American Legion, which its sponsors hope will become the one powerful body of veterans of the world war, will be effected at a meeting in St. Louis, May 1.

BAVARIAN REVOLT LIKELY

Civil War Is Threatened by Peasant Population.

Berlin, April 8.—The Bavarian government, considering opposition to the communists hopeless, has left Munich, according to dispatches from that city. It plans to make a last stand in Bamberg, 130 miles north of Munich. Armed peasants at a mass meeting decided to march against the soviet government in Munich. The dispatch added that "civil war is imminent."

CHINESE WOMAN PEACE ENVOY

Only 23 Years Old, Arrives in Paris for Conference.

Paris, April 8.—Miss S. Cheng, a Chinese woman only 23 years of age, but with a record of several years' activity as a republican leader in China, has arrived here to attend the peace conference. Miss Cheng was three times condemned to death in 1916 and 1917 in connection with her activities. She was formerly a law student here.

Cheaper Food is Late Prediction

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SAYS PRICES ARE LIKELY TO GO DOWN.

Cheaper food in the near future was predicted on Monday by Chairman Peek of the department of commerce industrial board as the result of a conference with food administration officials in New York. Mr. Peek said there had been a general misunderstanding of the recent statement by Mr. Hoover that wheat might go to $3.00 a bushel by the additional billion dollars for grain appropriated by congress to enable the public to get wheat products at reasonable prices as well as to make good their guarantee to the producer.

With wheat prices reasonable, Mr. Peek said, reasonable prices on other products could be expected because wheat was the barometer of the food trade.

DRAFT DESERTERS TO BE DEALT WITH

ADJUTANT GENERAL PREPARING LIST OF EVADERS FOR PUBLICATION.

The Times is requested by the government to publish the following order from the war department relative to draft deserters. As far as known there are none such in Pennington county, but if there are it would be well for them to heed the advice given by the war department and surrender themselves at once to the proper authorities. The order follows:

"The adjutant general of the army, in collaboration with the provost marshal general, is completing the records with reference to draft deserters, and preparing lists for publication, with the names eliminated of those who were not properly chargeable with desertion, and those whose cases have been disposed of prior to the date of these instructions.

"Until the lists are published the usual efforts toward apprehending and punishing draft deserters will be made.

"When these lists have been published all draft deserters appearing thereon will be considered as any other deserter and action will be taken as prescribed in army regulations.

"The lists of draft deserters will serve two purposes, to inform the department of justice and police officials throughout the country of the men who are charged with desertion; and to inform the deserter himself and his friends and acquaintances that a charge of desertion stands against him.

"Pending further instructions all inquiries for information as to draft deserters will be referred to the adjutant general of the state concerned.

"To avoid the humiliation of arrest by qualified officers, and removal to a camp, post, or station under arrest, men charged with draft desertion should voluntarily surrender at the nearest camp, post or station."

Is This Sarcasm?

Editor Times: As we farmers wish to be in line with the business men of the city we will inform you that to run four days each week, keeping every Monday and Saturday to fish and look after our business matters. We feel sure that no farmer in our section puts in less than twelve hours in each day and in four days he will thus have worked 48 hours, which will be as long a time as the city man puts in during the six days, and four hours more than some wish to work. We believe we have the right stunt and it won't be so hard on shoes and clothes. Yours very truly,

DON'T MISTAKE THE CAUSE.

Many Thief River Falls People Have Kidney Trouble and Do Not Know It.

Do you have backache?
Are you tired and worn out?
Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed?
Are the kidney secretions irregular?
Highly colored; contain sediment?
Likely your kidneys are at fault.
Weak kidneys give warning of distress.
Heed the warning; don't delay—
Use a tested kidney remedy.
Read this Thief River Falls testimony:

Chas. Schuster, 622 St. Paul Ave., says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I can say they are just as advertised. My back had been bothering me for a long time and I couldn't bend over without pain across my loins. Some mornings I couldn't get out of bed, my back was so sore and stiff and I was obliged to get up nights on account of kidney weakness. As soon as I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills, I had relief and I have felt better ever since."

Victory Liberty Loan Drive Starts Monday

Next Monday is the day on which people are asked to buy Victory Liberty loan bonds. And chances are extremely bright that Pennington county will go over the top with colors flying. In fact, there is no doubt about it. They have done so on numerous previous occasions, and never was the load easier nor the incentive stronger than in the present loan. G. Howard Smith, county chairman of the loan organization, has perfected a machine which has been working with telling effect for some time, and every detail is arranged for the big drive which starts Monday.

Pennington county's allotment for the new loan has been placed at $270,000. The total for the country is $4,500,000, of which the Ninth Federal Reserve district is expected to furnish $157,500,000. The Victory bonds carry interest at four and three quarters per cent and are practically tax free. This makes of the bonds an ideal investment added to the patriotic incentive which should prompt a man to buy them.

Has Fine Record.

Pennington county has a war record to be proud of. For the first Liberty loan a total of $56,000 was subscribed, the second went over the top with $104,000. When called upon for the third loan her people responded with $316,000, while the fourth came down the line with $362,000. From this it will be seen that the latest request for $270,000 is relatively small. If the new quota is subscribed, it means that Pennington county people have since the beginning of the war lent to the government the immense sum of $1,108,000 in Liberty bonds, not to mention the thousands of dollars worth of war savings stamps which have been sold here.

In the matter of donations to the various activities connected with the war a good record also has been established. Of these the Red Cross has received $16,000, the War Chest $12,000, Jewish Relief $1,000, W. Y. C. A. $300, K. C. $675, Salvation Army $300, Armenian Relief $2,000, Lutherans $1,200, and the Y. M. C. A. $800, making a total of $34,275.

Men For Army and Navy.

It is estimated that 800 men from this county served in either the army or navy during the war. When the population of the county is taken into consideration, this is a fine record. Many of these men have returned to their homes since the armistice was signed but the majority are still in the service. Seventeen young men of the county have given their lives in the great cause.

In answer to the government's request for more food, Pennington county farmers have since the war started increased their wheat acreage about 50 per cent, showing that when it came to winning the war they were heart and soul in the game. All food regulations have been consistently observed and nothing but the purest brand of American patriotism has at any time been manifest in the community.

Helmets as Prizes.

Just to add a little interest to the bond sale next week several helmets captured from Germans by American soldiers will be given as prizes. Each of the four townships in the county showing the largest percentage over its alloted quota will receive one of the helmets as a prize. The same will hold true of wards in the city and departments among the railroad men. These helmets are the real thing and will naturally be highly prized by those fortunate enough to win one.

Allotments Announced.

Following are the allotments for the precincts of the county as announced by Chairman G. Howard Smith: First ward, city, $25,000; second ward, city, $25,000; third ward, city, $20,000; fourth ward, city, $30,000; Silverton, $9,000; North, $21,000; Norden, $10,000; Smiley, $7,000; Rocksbury, $20,000; Sanders, $13,000; Numedal, $4,000; St. Hilaire village, $9,000; Bray, $7,000; Polk Centre, $8,000; Black River, $4,000; River Falls, $12,000; Wyandotte, $6,000; Mayfield, $4,500; Deer Park, $5,000; Hickory, $2,500; Cloverleaf, $4,000; Kratka, $6,000; Goodridge village, $3,000; Goodridge township, $1,000; Reiner, $3,000; Star, $6,000; Highlanding, $6,800. Total, $270,000.

No Personal Soliciting.

In previous loan drives it has been the custom to have committees call upon people for the purpose of selling bonds. In the present campaign an entirely different plan will be tried out. Instead of a person being solicited he is asked to call at his usual voting place on Monday to make his purchase from the precinct committee, which will be there all day to conduct a sale of the securities. Everyone will be notified beforehand of the amount he is expected to subscribe, and any person who has been overlooked should not use this as an excuse to relieve him from taking his share of bonds. Through clerical and other errors it is likely that several in the county may not receive their notification. Any man has the right to be heard in case he thinks his allotment too large. He of course also is privileged to take more than his allotment if he so desires.

Meetings Being Arranged.

Many meetings have been planned throughout the county from now until the campaign has been gotten under way. Among these is a meeting to be held in the Aug. Swenson school house, River Falls township, next Saturday evening. Dr. G. A. Penney, chairman of the speakers bureau, is furnishing speakers for these meetings, and in each case an overseas service man will be present to recount in brief some of his experiences as a soldier. A similar meeting will be held in the Svendslie school house, Norden township, on the same date.

Railroaders Are Separate.

The railroads are handling the loan under the supervision of their own organization, and all men employed in any branch of the railroad service will not be required to subscribe for bonds through their precinct committees. This ruling is especially important in Thief River Falls, where such a large percentage of bond buyers are engaged in railroading.

A blue button will be given each volutary bond purchaser and it is urged that he wear this in the lapel of his coat to show that he has already done his duty. This is especially important on the first day of the drive. In the city bonds may be purchased at the auditorium, where the four wards will be divided as at an ordinary election.

TERMS OF LATEST LOAN ANNOUNCED

QUOTA FOR COUNTRY IS ONLY FOUR AND A HALF BILLIONS.

Minnesota has been allotted ninety-two million dollars of the Victory Liberty loan. The Ninth district's quota is $157,500,000 out of a total for the nation of $4,500,000,000. The rate of interest is four and three quarters per cent. The unexpected small amount of the loan and the high rate of interest have brought great joy to the Liberty loan workers of the Ninth Federal Reserve district, who will begin their campaign on Monday, April 21.

As announced by the treasury department, the Victory Liberty loan will take the form of gold notes maturing in four years. These notes will be exempt from state local taxes except estate and inheritance taxes and from normal federal taxes. The notes of both series will be dated and bear interest from May 20, 1919, and will mature on May 20, 1923.

If the loan is oversubscribed, as is probable, only subscriptions of $10,000 and less will be allotted in full. The terms of this issue have been based upon the desire to devise a security which will not only prove attractive to the people but the terms of which will insure a good market for the existing government securities.

Theo. Wold, governor of the Federal Reserve bank, commented as follows: "The terms of the Victory Liberty loan are so extremely favorable and the amount to be raised in this district is so comparatively small, that to my mind there is absolutely no doubt but that the loan will be promptly oversubscribed in the Ninth Federal Reserve district."

A. R. Rogers, chairman of the Central Liberty loan committee, expressed eager satisfaction over the terms of the loan. "The Victory notes are the finest security ever issued by the United States," said Mr. Rogers. "People in this district and all over the United States will take them, because they appreciate their value as an investment and because they believe in their government. The treasury department's announcement of terms should dispel the last trace of pessimism and this has been the cause of our only fear about the overwhelming success of the loan."

GIRLS' CLUB FAST COMING TO FRONT

LOCAL ORGANIZATION MAKING PLANS FOR VERY ACTIVE SEASON.

The regular weekly meeting of the Girls' Community club was held Monday evening in the auditorium of the public library. After the business session had been concluded, the gymnasium class went to the high school gym, where the remainder of the time was spent.

At the meeting Monday evening an aggressive membership campaign was started by the club. Every girl is invited to join and should consider it her duty to do so. Through a large membership it is possible for the club to accomplish a great deal more for its members as well as for the community at large. The organization has been placed on a firm basis. Articles of incorporation, by-laws, etc., have been drawn, and steps are now under way to join the State Federation of Women's clubs.

A valuable feature of the club work is the expression class, which is making excellent progress under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Pitkin. This class will meet next Saturday evening for its regular rehearsal and instruction. Another adjunct of the club which promises to become very popular is the "hiking" club, of which Miss Florence Prichard has charge.

FRED ROTH SUFFERS PARALYTIC STROKE

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AS A RESULT.

Fred Roth, proprietor of the Vienna bakery and one of the best known business men in the city, suffered a paralytic stroke while attending to his duties at the bakery on Monday night, and Dr. F. H. Gambell reports that his condition is most serious. The entire body is paralyzed and the situation is made doubly grave by reason of a hemorrhage of the brain.

The stroke came without warning. Mr. Roth had been attending to business as usual on Monday and toward evening started out for a short walk. He had just returned to the store when he fell to the floor in a helpless heap, the paralysis evidently extending to every part of the body. He has been in a state of total collapse practically ever since, regaining consciousness for only a few seconds at rare intervals.

NEXT TUESDAY IS CLASS PLAY NIGHT

SENIORS EXPECTED TO PUT ON SOMETHING EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD.

An event of much importance to the senior class and one toward which people of the city and surrounding country look with interest is the annual play put on by the class members. This year the play "Green Stockings" is to be presented at the auditorium next Tuesday evening, April 22. After several weeks of rehearsing those taking part in the play are said to have their parts down almost perfect and something unusually good may be looked forward to. The players have been under the tutelage of Mrs. C. A. Pitkin, which is sufficient assurance that the piece will be rendered in a first-class manner.

Seats for the performance are now on sale at Lambert's drug store and indications point to a crowded house. In order to be assured of a desirable seat it is advisable to purchase tickets early.

BACK HOME AFTER 14 MONTHS OF WAR

CRAVEN CALLOWAY GASSED AND WOUNDED BUT STICKS TO THE END.

The boys are coming back from France so fast that it is a hard matter to keep track of them. Among the late arrivals is Craven Calloway, who served 14 months with the army, starting as a private and coming back a sergeant with two wound stripes. He was gassed in one of the earlier engagements and wounded while pressing forward with his comrades in the Argonne forest. Sergt. Calloway was a member of 139th infantry, 35th division, one of the outfits that distinguished itself in the heavy fighting preceding the signing of the armistice. When the end came this unit was in the vicinity of Sedan. Sergt. Calloway was one of the speakers at the Victory Loan rally at the Auditorium last evening and his talk made a decidedly favorable impression.

NEW DRAINAGE DITCH ORDERED TO BE STARTED

JUDGE GRINDELAND GIVES DECISION ON PROPOSED DITCH 30.

WILL DRAIN LARGE AREA

ORIGINAL PLANS ARE CONSIDERABLY CHANGED BY COURT ORDER.

According to an order issued this week by Judge Andrew Grindeland, the proposed new judicial ditch, to be known as No. 30, is to be constructed in the near future. However, the routing was considerably changed from that desired by the petitioners, and the court states as reason for the change that the new route is more economical and feasible. As amended, the proposed new ditch is routed as follows:

Commencing at the intersection of Ditch No. 13 at the point where this turns north at the southwest corner of section 12, township 154, range 42; thence running west on the north side of the section line between sections 11 and 14, and continuing straight west until connecting with the north branch of a coulee, which it follows until reaching Thief River after passing through sections 9 and 16.

Reasons For Change.

It is contended that the proposed improvement as modified in this order is practical and will prove to be of public benefit and utility; that the outlet is of sufficient capacity and that public necessity for the establishment thereof exists. The ditch also will promote the public health, will reclaim wet and overflowed land and relieve the overburdened outlets of other ditches in that locality. Engineer Irving E. Quist is ordered to make a complete survey of the modified ditch, and to report thereon to the court as soon as possible. Just when work on the new project can be started is not known at this time.

Number of Hearings Held.

The first hearing in the matter of the new ditch was held at Warren on Feb. 20. As is usual in cases of this kind, there were a number of objectors to the proposition. More than one hundred of these were present at the first hearing and were represented by Attorney E. M. Stanton of this city, and Manahan & Sullivan of St. Paul. Julius J. Olson of Warren appeared as attorney for the petitioners. Another hearing on the same ditch was held in this city on March 28, and this also was attended by a great many interested in the matter. The court has had the case under advisement since the latter hearing and rendered the decision on Monday of this week.

DR. HUENEKEN TO HOLD BABY CLINIC

SECOND MEETING IN THIS CITY SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY, MAY 12.

Dr. J. F. Hueneken, a representative of the State Board of Health, will be in Thief River Falls for the purpose of conducting a children's clinic on May 12. Dr. Hueneken was in charge of a similar demonstration here in February and stated at that time that he would return to carry the work further at a later date. He was scheduled to appear in March but the influenza situation was such as to make it advisable to postpone the trip at that time.

Those who attended the former clinic are unanimous in their praise of its value. Dr. Hueneken is a specialist in children's ailments and has given much study to their general care. Parents are invited to bring their children to the clinic for the purpose of having them examined, no charge being made for his service.

The state health authorities have repeatedly stated that the clinic at Thief River Falls was the best held in the entire state at the time of Dr. Hueneken's last visit, and it is hoped that the same interest will again be displayed.

MENFOLKS' PARTY A GREAT SUCCESS

LADIES HAD TO HELP THEM OUT WITH PROGRAM, HOWEVER.

The Brumund hotel was the scene of one of the most enjoyable stag parties ever given in this city last Saturday evening. The occasion did not signify anything in particular, it being simply the purpose of a few good fellows to show their friends a good time. The feed was served in the Brumund's best and most approved style and received full justice from about 80 assembled guests.

During the serving of the meal there were musical numbers by Miss Evelyn Grindeland, who sang two or three selections in her usual pleasing manner; Miss Ausilga Sorenson, violinist, and Miss Laura Forde, pianist. These ladies were easily the hit of a party replete with pleasing features. A quartet composed of Miss Grindeland, Dr. Paulson, F. C. Niclai and E. M. Bennes performed most acceptably. Short addresses were made by Mayor G. A. Penney, Supt. J. H. Hay and Attorney E. M. Stanton.

The hosts of the evening were: H. A. Brumund, W. H. BonDurant, Andy Anderson, Elmer Swenson, Dr. G. W. Booren, L. R. Johnson, F. H. Herrick and W. H. Frederick. The large number who attended are loud in their praise of the manner every detail connected with the party was carried off and are planning some way in which to get even.

YOUNG LADY SEEKS NEWS OF BROTHER

TRIES TO DISCOVER THIEF RIVER MAN WHO WAS HIS BUDDY.

Did any of our returned soldiers know a man named Edward J. Hughes while serving with the army in France? If so he can perform a soldierly service for a relative of the young man by notifying Miss Edith Hughes, presumably a sister, residing at 1109 East 11th street, Kansas City, Mo.

Miss Hughes has written Postmaster John Morgan asking that he have an advertisement inserted in The Times requesting such soldier to make himself known to Miss Hughes. In her letter the lady states that in the last letter she received from the soldier in whom she is interested he referred to a man from Thief River Falls as having been his particular friend. It is probably in the hope of discovering something concerning his subsequent movements that the inquiry is now set on foot. Hughes, according to the letter, was a radio electrician.

In case any of the returned Pennington county boys believes himself to be the person addressed he should at once get into communication with the Missouri lady.

ASK NEW MEMBERS FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

DRIVE TO BE CONDUCTED NEXT WEEK FOR THIS PURPOSE.

Judging from the success of the drive for members recently conducted by the Commercial club, the Woman's club of this city has come to the conclusion that a similar drive will add strength to that organization. Accordingly it was decided to conduct a campaign for new members for one week, beginning Monday, April 21.

A contest has been arranged between two captains in order to add zest to the campaign. Mrs. G. Howard Smith will head the "blue" army, while Mrs. H. W. Protzeller is to lead the "reds." The losers are pledged to furnish a "feed" to the winners at the close of the campaign. As an additional inducement, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, president of the club, offers two pounds of candy to the individual securing the greatest number of new members.

By increasing its membership the club naturally can do more effective work in the city and community. The additional membership fees also will make it possible for the club to secure more outside talent to appear at its meetings. As a special inducement for new members to join at the present time, it is announced that upon the payment of $1 all dues will be paid until Oct. 1, 1920. The regular fee is $1 per year.

INCUBATOR LAMP CAUSE OF BLAZE

SMALL BARN AND CONTENTS DESTROYED BY FIRE ON TUESDAY NIGHT.

Fire Tuesday night completely destroyed the barn at the A. Knauf home on West Fourth street, near the Great Northern tracks. The blaze was discovered about midnight by a neighbor, who immediately turned in the alarm. Before the fire department could arriver, however, the flames had gotten beyond control and the building was a mass of flames. A bucket brigade, formed by neighbors who reached the scene, succeeded in keeping the residence and other surrounding buildings from catching fire. Due to the distance from a hydrant, the firemen used the chemical engine in fighting the blaze.

No stock was kept in the barn at the time of the fire, the building being used principally as a store room. Some household goods, including a large hard coal heater, were destroyed by the flames. It is presumed the blaze started from the explosion of a kerosene lamp, which was used in heating an incubator.

Thousands See Tank and Monster Parade

Patriotic Gathering Wednesday Greatest Ever Held in City---Gospel of Victory Loan Preached Far and Near.

Anyone who thinks patriotism is on the wane in Pennington county has another guess coming, if the Victory Loan parade and meetings held in this city are to be taken as a criterion. These events show beyond a shadow of doubt that people here are still deeply interested in the world war and the part they, as citizens of the United States, are called upon to play in it.

Long before noon yesterday the city was crowded with people from all parts of the county and by the time set for the parade the streets were simply thronged with people. The large number of farmers present was particularly noticeable, many of them coming from long distances to take part in this patriotic demonstration.

Greatest Object of Interest.

Naturally, the greatest interest centered in the war tank which arrived in the morning. Very few people in this part of the country ever before had the opportunity to view one of these grotesque brutes at close range and all were anxious to inspect the lumbering vehicle which waddled about the streets of the city yesterday. The tank was of the "whippet" type and performed in a highly satisfactory manner. Demonstrations were given in the afternoon on the Elder property near the river, which is about the roughest piece of ground in the neighborhood, and the tank got itself in some mighty bad positions at times but always managed to get safely out of the mess. In the evening after supper another demonstration was given in the deep basement excavation at the corner of Second and LaBree. Large crowds witnessed both demonstrations.

The tank was in charge of Sergt. Ray, who has been in the tank service for two years. He saw service in France for a year and took part in every engagement with which American tanks were identified. Mayor G. A. Penney, Lieut. G. Howard Smith and Lieut. L. H. Lawrence were each given a ride in the tank during the demonstrations and declared it mighty enjoyable sport.

A Great Parade

Shortly after one o'clock the parade formed near the Evelyn hotel. In the lead was the city band, followed by about one hundred returned soldiers and sailors in uniform. Then came the tank lumbering noisily along. Next in order came the Red Cross, the Elks and the Salvation Army. A procession of school children formed an imposing part of the parade, and the members of the fire department concluded the line of marchers.

After marching up Third to Main, on Main to First, and then up LaBree to the Central school grounds, the parade disbanded. Here the open-air program of the afternoon was carried out, at which Lieut. G. Howard Smith presided. Rev. J. A. Orrock was the principal speaker of the afternoon and delivered a stirring patriotic address. Next came Sergt. Ray, in charge of the tank, who gave a brief recital of his experiences in France. Chairman Smith was the last speaker and brot out forceful arguments for the Victory loan. He said there were 17 good reasons why Pennington county should go over the top this time and gave as his reasons the 17 young men from this county who have given their lives in the war. The large crowd remained in close attention during the entire speaking program in spite of the chilly and unpleasant weather.

The Evening Meeting

The evening meeting opened at the auditorium about 8:30. The place was crowded to capacity and many were unable to secure seats although the building has a seating capacity of over 1,200.

Community singing, with Miss Evelyn Grindeland as leader and Miss Blanche Johnson at the piano, opened the program. The meeting opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. No one was on the stage save about 60 men in uniform, who stood at attentoin during the rendition of the song. It was a very impressive scene and one that will not soon be forgotten.

Patriotism is Shown

Lieut. G. Howard Smith acted as chairman and gave a short talk along patriotic lines. Mr. Smith praised the soldiers and sailors generally for their noble work, and mentioned particularly Fed Scanlun, Martin Langseth, Hardy Bothun and Harold Provencher, who are the original quartet from Thief River Falls to enlist after America entered the war. Upon mention of these boys the crowd simply became wild. Cheer after cheer went up and the demonstration lasted for several minutes.

Mr. Smith then introduced Corporal Fred Scanlun, who gave an interesting talk concerning his experiences as a soldier in France. The chairman next brought forward Craven (Red) Calloway, who recently returned from overseas duty. Mr. Smith stated the soldier had been promised faithfully he would not be asked to speak, but if the audience requested it he might consent to do so. The people in no uncertain terms made it known that a speech was wanted and Mr. Calloway favored them with few reminiscences of his military career.

Supt. Hay Speaks

Supt. J. H. Hay delivered the principal address of the evening. In his usual able manner and speaking upon a subject close to the hearts of his audience, Mr. Hay pleaded for Americanism and liberal support of the Victory loan. He also paid glowing tribute to the soldier boys from Pennington county, living and dead.

The meeting closed with a tribute by Rev. R. K. Calloway to the boys who won't come back, the audience standing with bowed heads during the time he spoke.

Soldiers Entertained

The local Home Guard entertained visiting soldiers yesterday and kept open house for them at the Commercial club rooms. About 75 of the boys were treated to lunch at noon. It had been planned to give a social dance at the auditorium in honor of the boys after the meeting, but it was impossible to secure music and this part of the program had to be abandoned. Capt. Fuller, of the Home guards promises, however, that something of that nature will soon be given by the guards in honor of the soldiers and sailors who have returned from service.

Affair Well Managed

Much of the success of yesterday's loan rally was due to the painstaking work done by the committees who had things in charge. On the program committee were Mayor G. A. Penney, Rev. J. A. Orrock and Mrs. H. W. Froehlich. The committee on decorations was composed of H. W. Protzeller, F. H. Herrick and John Morgan, while the parade was in the hands of Julien Provencher, W. B. Fuller, Supt. J. H. Hay and W. W. Prichard, Jr. Mr. Provencher wishes, on behalf of the committee, to thank the people from city and surrounding community who helped so much in making this part of the program a success. Without this assistance the whole thing was doomed to failure.

GOVERNMENT IN MOVE TO START BUILDING BOOM

FARM IMPROVEMENT AND RURAL CONSTRUCTION WORK NEEDED.

IMMENSE ROAD PROGRAM

PEOPLE ADVISED THAT LOWER PRICES OF MATERIALS NOT LIKELY.

Farm products have a greater purchasing power today than ever before in the country's history. This may explain why rural districts of the country rapidly are getting under way with building and construction work. It is obvious, since building and construction work have such an important bearing at this time on stimulating general business, the farmer may serve both his own and the national interest by at once making needed improvements on his property. He can further the general welfare while assuring himself of immediate and permanent benefits, in urging road contruction and improvements in his locality.

No Reduction Expected.

It is generally understood no material reduction may be expected in building and construction costs in the near future. To be sure, prices on some materials may be slightly reduced in the readjustment, but the best authorities on the subject assert no pronounced reductions are probable. This is explained by money conditions, the foreign demand, and the marked curtailment of production of building materials during the war. Prof. Fisher of Yale University has issued a statement in which he says the country is on a new price level from which there will be no general recession.

Many farmers have been unable to get materials and labor for barns, silos, houses and other improvements during the war. The farmer who at once utilizes the labor supply and gets his improvement work under way, in the long run, may prove to be the prudent business man, for there is reason to believe that farmers who delay in the hope of materially reduced construction costs will have been deprived of the use of these improvements and in the end be forced to pay approximately the building prices now prevailing.

Silo Building Encouraged.

In several states, among them Missouri, Oregon and Colorado, silo building campaigns are being carried on by the agriculture colleges. In Wisconsin there is a milk house campaign being vigorously prosecuted in the dairy districts, while in Illinois farmers are being urged to build feeding floors. Other campaigns for farm improvements are on in Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, South Dakota, Kentucky, Ohio and in localities in Texas and Iowa. While many of these are being conducted by building interests, the Division of Public Works and Construction Development of the U. S. Department of Labor is interested in seeing them successfully carried out because the Division realizes such activities on the farms are bound to have a beneficial effect on general business conditions.

The farmers of the country should have an unusual interest in road building at this time. If farming is to continue on its present profitable level, there must be no business stagnation in the country and the vast road building projects in the various states are destined to exert a profound influence in keeping "business as usual," or "better than usual." Road building creates a demand for materials and absorbs labor, and the labor problem is a serious one at present and will continue serious until American industries have readjusted themselves to peace production on a scale to meet the augmented demand of America and Europe.

To Avoid Disorder.

The Trans-Mississippi Readjustment Congress, held in Omaha, Nebr. late in Ferbuary, summarized the present situation in the following language: "We do not favor a pause in the industrial process to await some future readjustment of wages and prices of staples. So far as public improvements are concerned, they should be resumed at once. It is better that the public should absorb the increased cost, if any should hereafter appear, than that general unemployment and consequent disaster and social disorder should follow.

"We believe also that the promoters of private construction and business enlargement should take heart of courage and should believe in the immediate resumption of business prosperity in the United States. There is no place in the American scheme of things for the pessimist or the doubter. Our country leads the world in prosperity. It can lose its leadership only by its own faintheartedness. We especially deprecate any concerted holding back of construction and business resumption, for the purpose of forcing a reduction in wages or cost of material.

To Develop Commerce.

"Both as a means of stimulating the resumption of industry and removing the shadow of unemployment from the working people and also serve the broader and more permanent purpose of supplementing the railroad lines and to develop the inland and farm commerce of the country, the work of constructing good roads should be promptly carried on by cooperation of the Federal and State Governors and local communities."

In the recent Conference of Governors and Mayors in Washington, it was apparent that these executives were disposed to go in for extensive road and public improvements campaigns in their respective districts. These can be made a success only when they are supported by the citizens. For the reason, the farmer, as well as the city dweller, who understands how importantly building and construction work now is affecting general business conditions, will back up his local officials in every reasonable campaign for road building and public works of a necessary sort.

FAMOUS MEN HAVE ARMY NAMESAKES

AN INTERESTING REVIEW OF NAMES IN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES.

The first name on the alphabetical list of the American Expeditionary Force is Private Aaae and the last is Corporal Zzeppenfelt. Between the two names are more than 2,00,-000 others.

George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, General Ulysses S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, Woodrow Wilson, several Caesars and a few Bismarcks adorn the ranks with intermittent frequency.

Excluding the commander-in-chief of the army and navy, there is but one Woodrow Wilson. He is a private, and according to Stars and Stripes, has just been placed in the working personnel of Base Hospital No. 27, which was organized at Pittsburgh.

There is an abundance of the names of great men including 74 George Washingtons. The name of the first president is surpassed by 79 Robert E. Lees, who holds the record for bearers of the name of great men. There are but two Abraham Lincolns and seven Grants; twelve Ceasars and four Bismarcks.

Among the 'common people,' there are about 51,000 Smiths. True to their traditional predominance of the directories of most cities, they dominate the American Expeditionary Force in numbers. There are 39,000 Johnsons, 22,500 Joneses and a like number of Greens. Sullivans aggregate 10,500, Browns 9,000 and Cohens 4,600.

FUTURE TO SEE POWER PLANTS ON HUGE SCALE

RED LAKE RIVER HAS GREAT POSSIBILITIES IF PROPERLY UTILIZED.

GOVERNMENT BACKS PLAN

WORK AT RED LAKE TO INSURE STEADY FLOW OF WATER.

That great opportunities exist for developing water power along the Red River between this city and Grand Forks has been obvious for some time to those who have given the matter serious study. One obstacle has been the great variance in the water level of the river during different seasons of the year. The high water during the spring floods and the low water during the fall and winter months have made it difficult to utilize this water power to good advantage. With the passage of the open country came drainage ditches, and these ditches now throw all the water from the winter snows into the lakes and rivers as soon as a thaw comes. None remains on the land to give a steady flow during the summer.

Government to Aid.

The war department, which has cahrge of navigable streams, has now taken up that problem and is planning to put in a dam at the outlet of the Red Lakes by which the flow can be regulated. It is planned to dredge the channel of the river for about twenty miles from the lake, and by this a variation of four feet could be used and a constant flow in the river maintained.

The Red Lakes form one of the greatest natural reservoirs in this country. They have an area of 441 square miles, and a rise of four feet above their low water mark will do no harm to adjoining property. A few inches would supply water all year to the river, and keep the flow up high enough that all plants along it could run at full capacity.

Ten Thousand Horse Power.

For the past 17 years, which is the extent of the government records, the Red Lake river has had an average flow of 1,300 cubic feet a second. With a little regulation, this flow can be kept constant, and we will have at our doors a source of all the power we can use.

There are now power dams at various points along the river, including the dam in this city, which furnishes power for the municipal light plant and the Hanson & Barzen Milling company. The dam at Crookston has a capacity of 2,000 horse power, but at low water in the river cannot run at full capacity. A prospective dam site near Red Lake Falls would develop over 4,000 horse power, at other points on the river are very good sites for dams where like amounts could be obtained. From Red Lake to Crookston the banks of the river are rather high and near together, so that a short dam can be built at comparatively small expense, and the water in the ponds will not overflow a large amount of land. Ten thousand horse power is a conservative estimate of the power that could be taken from the river.

On that stretch of the river there is a fall of 330 feet, of which 200 can be used for power purposes. Only 47 feet is now being used, and part of that is by inefficient and old dams.

End Floods and Save Power.

When the dredging of the channel of the river is completed, the full four feet range in stage of the lakes will be available to supply the power plants, and only a long series of dry years would have any effect on the amount of water in the channel. This same chance is taken on every power project ever built.

That the government will undertake the project is a certainty. Something must be done, and done soon, to keep down the floods which nearly every year devastate the valley. The survey has been made and work can be started in a short time. More drainage ditches are being dug every year, and each one added makes the condition down the river worse.

WONDERS OF PARIS APTLY DESCRIBED

GEORGE LOKEN TOURS FRENCH CAPITAL FOR FOUR WHOLE DAYS.

Another Thief River Falls soldier who recently has spent a few days in Paris seeing the sights is George Loken, a member of the 352nd infantry band. George has concluded that Paris is some burg, and writes an interesting letter to his brother, H. O. Loken, telling about the sights he saw there. The letter follows:

"Well, I'm back from the gay city of Paris after a four-day visit, seeing most of the sights open for tourists. It was about time I was granted that leave after spending six of the hardest months of my life deprived of all liberties. If I can't go home I want to see all I can while here.

"A fellow from Fosston and I made the trip together. The 'Y' sent out sight-seeing cars twice a day to visit all the historical points of interest, and we took them all in. It was very interesting. All I've read in Ancinent History—all this king's palaces stuff, and their arts. It would require six months to see all of one king's palace we visited, it was so large. I also saw the Eiffel Tower. It is 900 feet high and covers four square acres of ground, being the highest structure in the world. It was used as a wireless station during the war, and was the most powerful in the world.

"I saw where that long range German 'Big Bertha' had made a hit. It sure tore a hole in one church, killing 27 people. I was in the famous Notre Dame cathedral. Some big massive structure. You have heard about the stained glass, which is now a lost art. It is too wonderful for description. I saw Napoleon's tomb, the High Court and the other government buildings, including the place where the peace conference meets. I also saw the home occupied by President Wilson while here.

"There sure is a lot to be seen on one of those trips. One just gets nicely started in four days. The stores are nice but no such windows as Donaldson's in Minneapolis. Paris has no skyscrapers, eight or nine story buildings being the limit. The Grand Boulevard is the main avenue of Paris, and it's interesting to watch the people enjoy themselves and to see their costumes. When we were there they held the 'Mardi Gras' celebration. Everybody wore masks and sure went wild. There is no other city in the world like Paris. We took in the grand opera, 'Sampson and Delilah.' Remember the story? How strong Sampson was with his long hair. It sure was wonderful. The 100-piece orchestra was the best musical organization I have ever heard. The theatre is the most beautiful in the world and the scenery is massive. The interior is all in big gold pillars, with beautiful statuary and paintings. It cost us 25 francs for an orchestra seat, but it was worth five times that. They have a promenade hall which is as beautiful as the theatre itself. Here the patrons promenade for ten or fifteen minutes between acts. This hall is all in gold and is filled with statuary and pictures.

"I met a Captain Bicknell, a lawyer from Webster. He sure was surprised to see me. Do you remember him? We went through the big department stores and priced stuff. It's nearly as high as in the states and some things are much more. We went through Chateau Thierry, where the U. S. boys fought. It is entirely in ruins—every building battered to dust, airplanes scattered over the fields, smashed to bits.

"Well, it's dinner time. We are staying in Bonnett and don't expect to be home until July or August. Some stay. It's h——l, but we'll have to await our turn. Your brother, George."

Examination For Postmaster.

An examination has been announced to be held in this city May 8, 1919, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Wauke. The compensation of the postmaster at that place last year was only $199, which makes it unlikely that a rush of candidates will appear to seek the position.

The ever increasing popularity of DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS is due largely to the fact that people who have used them are glad to recommend them to their friends. The following letter tells how a friend's recommendation of DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS resulted in much good.

"I have suffered long from constipation and have used all sorts of medicines without relief. A friend of mine sent me a box of DR MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS. After taking them I find they are the finest laxative I have ever used. Pleasant to the taste and mild and effective. They are in my judgment the best in existence."
J. J. HUSSEY, Chief of Fire Dept., Texarkana, Texas.

If you are troubled with constipation or any of its ill effects, don't risk ruining your health by neglect. Get a box of DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS at your druggist and notice how quickly and without any ill or unpleasant effects they will restore your bowels to healthful regularity—they cost only a few cents. Money back if first box fails to satisfy.

"Sergeant Burr Speaking, Sir"

STRAIGHT FROM GERMANY

THE war's over, but—

"Sergeant Burr speaking, sir."

It happened on the drive from the Ourcq to the Vesle. The kid had just been made a Sergeant and hadn't time to sew his new chevrons on before he was sprawling on the ground out in No Man's Land just before dawn with a squad of signal corps men. His job was to set up and maintain communications, under the German machine-gun fire, until his unit advanced. It had been an anxious half-hour at regimental headquarters before the buzzer rang.

Everybody safe? None of them safe, but they were all right. How far had they gone? As far as their wire would reach. Where was Fritz? About a hundred yards away. What was he doing? Throwing over shrapnel and gas, and taking pot shots with machine-guns. A big bunch of machine-guns, according to Sergeant Burr. As it turned out later, there were 18 nests of them in one little patch of woods.

At the end of his report, Sergeant Burr was directed to station one man at the telephone, with instructions to call up every five minutes, then to take the other six and make for the nearest shelter.

An anxious five minutes passed. The telephone buzzed.

"Sergeant Burr speaking, sir."

"I thought I told you to take cover; what are you doing there?"

"I'll be hanged," said Sergeant Burr, "if I'll ask any man to stay in such a place as this. No other change, sir."

So it was Sergeant Burr who made the reports every five minutes in order that regimental headquarters might know that the wire was still open.

Sergeant Burr is still in the Army—and he wears the red, white and blue ribbon of the Distinguished Service Cross now. He is with the A. E. F. guarding a bridge-head along the German border and he's going to stick until the finish.

The war's over, but—

"Sergeant Burr speaking, sir."

He's speaking to you, sir—he's speaking now—he's saying that a regular American STICKS.

A LESSON IN SAVING.

Had a person two years ago made the statement that Pennington county could withdraw more than a million and a quarter dollars from the ordinary channels of trade and invest the sum in enterprises in no way connected with the industrial life of its own people, he would have been looked upon as a trifle off. Almost anyone would have been able to point out to him the fact that under the most favorable circumstances our people only managed to acquire money enough to take care of their own necessary expansion, and that to take this sum out of the county would mean the shutting down of every development project for a long time to come. Had it been asserted that the people not only could, but that they also would, provide this sum by practicing saving and thrift the statement would have been laughed at.

That is just what we will have done, however, when we subscribe the $270,000 required as our quota of the Victory Loan. The total for the four loans will then foot up $1,113,000, or practically an even hundred dollars for every man, woman and child in the county. This does not at first glance look particularly imposing, but figuring the average household as composed of five persons it means that every home is represented by a five hundred dollar bond.

And this is not all. While Pennington county is not among the top-notchers when it comes to Savings Certificates and Stamps, yet this class of securities have absorbed about $88,000 of the people's money. The different war auxiliary organizations have been supported to the extent of about $35,000 more, making the total cash investment or outlay for the county not far from $1,240,000.

There is nthing to be ashamed of in this record. On the contrary, it is one of which any community might well be proud. We have no men of great wealth who might as well have their money tied up in government securities as in anything else, and these sums have been raised among people who for the most part have places to put every dollar they can scrape together. Our citizens are therefore entitled to greater credit than are those with whom the purchasing of bonds simply represents the investment of their surplus.

Pennington county's quota fo rthe Victory Loan is $270,000. This is a considerable reduction from the requirements of the Fourth loan, and there is no question but what we will make the grade. As in the past, however, it will require that every citizen do his full duty. Past experience has proven their entire willingness to do this—and then some.

Help finish the job. The boys from Pennington county did their full share wherever placed and we are all proud of their record. Let us see to it that they shall have no cause for being ashamed of the part we play. This will be the last loan of this kind our people will have to meet. Let us go over the top as early in the campaign as possible and get the matter off our minds. We have other things to attend to just now, but this is the most important.

THE FOURTEEN POINTS.

There is not the slightest question but that the people residing in this section of the country are strongly in favor of a League of Nations and a peace protocol based on the fourteen points laid down by President Wilson. The points have been generally regarded as acceptable to this country, although a great many citizens have only the most hazy idea of what they really are. It is the duty of every American to familiarize himself with their intent as soon as possible and for this reason they are here given:

1—Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understandings of any kind.

2—Absolute freedom of navigation upon the seas outside territorial waters, alike in peace and in war, except as the seas may be closed in whole or in part by international action for the enforcement of international covenants.

3—The removal so far as possible of all economic barriers, and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions.

4—Adequate guarantees given and taken that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.

5—A free, open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims based upon the principle of self-determination of the populations concerned.

6—The evacuation of all Russian territory, and a settlement of all questions affecting Russia in such a way as to secure to the Russian people the opportunity to determine their own political development and national policy.

8—All French territory to be freed, and the invaded portions restored, and the wrong done in 1870 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine righted.

9—Free opportunity for autonomous development to the people of Austria-Hungary.

11—Evacuation of Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro, restoration of occupied territories, free access to the sea secured to Serbia; the relations of the several Balkan states to one another to be determined by friendly counsel along historically established lines of allegiance and nationality, and international guarantees of political and economic independence and territorial integrity to be entered into.

12—Secure sovereignty for the Turkish portions of the Ottoman Empire; autonomous development for nationalities now under Turkish rule, and the Dardanelles to be internationalized.

13—An independent Polish state to be erected with free and secure access to the sea, whose political and economic independence and territorial integrity should be guaranteed by international covennat.

14—A general association of nations to be formed under specific covenants for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike.

At the time of the armistice negotiations, Germany accepted these fourteen points, and the Allies also, with reservations however, as to the matter of freedom of the seas, and as to indemnities and reparations.

A poll of the daily papers of the country conducted by the Literary Digest reveals a decided majority in favor of the proposed League. In some instances the support of the program is provisional, but in very few is there outright opposition. The papers include every shade of political opinion and the poll is perhaps as representative as it is possible to get a thing of that kind.

Why Not?

Why shouldn't the Victory Liberty Loan, the Loan of Thanksgiving, be subscribed and over-subscribed, just like its predecessors?

HAVE WE LESS PATRIOTISM THAN WE HAD IN 1917? The response to the Fifth will answer.

HAVE WE LESS MONEY? Our bank resources and our savings bank statements show that we have millions more.

HAVE WE LESS INCENTIVE? Our Government's request was the only spur we needed then. It is as urgent now. We loaned for war then. Now we are asked to loan to pay for lives saved, for danger averted, for peace and for prosperity.

HAVE WE LESS PROSPEROUS PROSPECTS? Then we faced a protracted war and many loans. Now we have only the Victorious Fifth—the last.

The cost of living is bound to go down, but our government, keeping its promise, has guaranteed the high price of our greatest staple—wheat. Do you realize that because of the war and the government's guarantee, our 1919 wheat crop alone will bring into this district about $300,000,000 more than it would bring normally? We won't be asked to loan much more than two-thirds of this excess profit.

Surely, there are knockers and honest pessimists and disloyal propagandists and "I've done my share" egotists and a lot of other tough customers. There are some of them even in this community.

If there weren't any, it would be too easy and all you boosting, building optimists wouldn't be on the job. There wouldn't be any fun in it if it were easy. It's up to us to apply the acid test of peace-time patriotism. Those who don't stand it should be branded and remembered.

Never mind the grouches, the fault-finders, the slackers. You haven't time to worry about them. Just "sell" the good fellows in the community. Get them going strong. Start them radiating optimism and patriotism. Most everyone will become enthused and the job will be done with joy and credit to all.

And to those who should but won't, just send around one of the lads who risked his life for us "over there" to ask the hesitating one: "Why not?" Maybe one of the mothers who gave her son to her country might ask—"Why not?"

Let our answer to all the indifferent and to the antagonists of government of the people, for the people and by the people be a splendid oversubscription to the Loan of Thankfulness on April 21st.

Do you see any other way out of it? Our government's honor is at stake. This means our honor, yours and mine. When you owe money to doctors and nurses who have saved your baby's life, you don't haggle about paying, do you? When you owe for food that has fed you or clothes and fuel that have warmed you, do you pay the bills? If you have given your word to meet certain obligations, do you meet them? Of course you do because you are honest. How long can any person keep the respect and good will of his fellows if he doesn't pay his bills, keep his promises?

So it is with your government. Uncle Sam must pay his bills, must keep his promises. You, as a part of your government, contracted the bills, made the promises. Now you as a part of your government must do your part of the paying. Surely you don't want to find any other way out than that of lending to the limit in the Victory Liberty Loan.

The Function of The Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

THE Standard Oil Company of Indiana is a great service organization whose chief function is to serve the public well by buying crude oil wherever it may be obtained; by refining it into numberless products, useful, helpful, and necessary to the well-being of the world, and by distributing these products widely, so that they shall be instantly available to the consumer wherever he may live.

Refineries and bulk storage, occupying thousands of acres and representing a cash investment of tens of millions of dollars, are required, to keep the flow of products steady.

Distributing centers from which Standard Oil products are delivered to individual customers are maintained at more than four thousand points in eleven states.

Thousands of motor trucks, which deliver the products to our customers, round out the most complete distribution system in the world.

In addition to these necessities, the Standard Oil Company maintains at all times sufficient additional equipment to meet any emergency. This was proved by the efficient work of the Company during the trying days of the great world war.

Twenty Years Ago.

The suit brought by H. W. Lee in an effort to annul the city charter of Thief River Falls and have the place revert to its former status as a village, reached the supreme court. Judge Start of this court decided against Mr. Lee in every particular.

Bicycle riding was the chief method of locomotion, and the Press published nearly a column of rules governing the rights of cyclists and pedestrians on roads, streets and crossings.

Mrs. C. E. Boughton and daughter of Red Lake Falls were visiting in the city.

C. J. Knox and C. A. Robbecke of this city, and W. O. Sorsoliel of St. Hilaire were appointed by Judge Watts as appraisers to fix the value of the land upon which the Great Northern depot grounds are located.

The fire department held its annual meeting and elected the following officers: Chief, Jas. Farr; first assistant, C. E. Traverse; second assistant, Anton Pederson; secretary, Lars Backe; treasurer, C. A. Robbecke; foreman engine company, H. Fuller; hose company, Andy Smith; hook and ladder, Phil Zeh.

Ten Years Ago.

Ole and Hans Johnson of Numedal returned after spending a year at their former home in Norway.

D. N. Winton came up from the cities and spent a few days here on business.

Alice Brude passed away as the result of an attack of typhoid fever.

C. M. Wilson sold his residence on the East Side to John Cronkhite.

Frank Posten, who was a student at Hamline university, captured the state record for the mile run, making it in 4:40 4-5. Frank made good both in athletics and in his school work.

Mrs. M. V. Evenson left for Hector to spend two or three weeks visiting with relatives and friends.

H. F. Peterson, who had been employed by the Soo for some time, relinquished his position and expected to go to work in the Citizens bank.

Lars Mattson and family were moving from their home on the East Side to again take up farming in Silverton township.

R. A. Kromer was up from Erskine over Sunday visiting friends and looking after business matters.

E. L. Gilbert, the Crookston land man, was here and stated that land in this country would be selling like hot cakes before the summer was over.

First Annual Report

Oakland Park Sanatorium at Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Mr. President and members of the Marshall, Roseau and Pennington County Sanatorium Commission.

Gentlemen: A view of our activities during the year brings conspicuously before you the opening of this Sanatorium on December 28, 1917 which was indeed an event of great importance in so far as the usefulness of the institution is concerned. The one regrettable feature connected herewith is that the Sanatorium is not large enough to meet the ever increasing demand being made upon it.

Admissions to January 1st, 1919.

Treatment.

Various methods of treatment are employed in the cure of tuberculosis, among them are "Tuberculintreatment", "Heliotherapy," and "Artificial Pneumothorax," but the most common treatment used is known as "Usual Treatment" which consists of rest in bed and graduated exercise. Occasionally a combination of several forms of treatment may be employed as indicated in the various cases.

Rest Hours.

Four and one half hours of each day are observed as rest hours. Of these, two hours, from 1 to 3 P. M. are known as "Silent Hours," during which time patients are not permitted to read or talk, and no visitors are admitted.

Visiting hours are from 9 to 11 A. M.; 3 to 4 and 7 to 8:30 P. M.

Recreation and Amusements.

Five hours of each day are devoted to recreations of various forms, such as reading, playing games, painting, drawing and playing the Victrola. During the summer months the patients who are able to take exercise find considerable enjoyment in walking, playing croquet, and taking pictures.

The male patients are permitted to use the work shop and spend a good share of their time in making various articles for which they furnish their own material.

Occasionally an entertainment is given for the patients in the reception room of the Sanatorium, after which refreshments are served.

Clinics.

As a result of the Red Cross Seals sale in December, 1917, the services of a visiting nurse was secured for a period of three months for Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties. Marshall county later subscribed the necessary funds to retain the visiting nurse for a period of six weeks in that county. Miss E. M. Hanson of the Minnesota Public Health Association was appointed for this work.

During her residence here Miss Hanson canvassed the territory of each county making a report of all cases examined to the Minnesota Public Health Association.

Clinics were conducted at Holt, Middle River, Newfolden, Strandquist, Greenbush and Thief River Falls. At these Clinics 70 patients were examined by the resident physician of the Sanatorium. On Friday of each week from 9 to 11 A. M. and 3 to 5 P. M. clinics are conducted by Dr. Chas H. Cole at the Sanatorium. At the clinics held at the Sanatorium since May 1st, 1918, 57 patients have been examined. The total number of clinic cases examined during the year was 127. Of these a large percentage were found to be tuberculosis, of which about 25 percent were admitted to the Sanatorium for treatment.

Through the efforts of the visiting nurse the Sanatorium was filled to its capacity early in the year and has remained so since that time. During the past eight months there has been a waiting list of from two to seven patients.

Religious Services.

Employees.

At the present time there are eight employees in the institution, viz: Nurses, 2; Cook, 1; Domestics, 3; Laundress, 1; Engineer, 1.

Recommendations.

For the welfare of the institution I submit to you the following: That a full time visiting nurse be appointed for Oakland Park Sanatorium District; That the Sanatorium provide, if possible, a number of moving pictures during the year for the amusement of the patients. That suitable books and magazines be provided. That a piano or chapel organ be provided.

Acknowledgements.

I take this opportunity to thank the members of the Advisory Commission and the members of the Sanatorium Commission for their hearty cooperation during my residence here as Superintendent of Oakland Park Sanatorium.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Proceedings of Board of County Commissioners.

Thief River Falls, Minnesota, April 9th, 1919.

On the call of the County Auditor the County Board for Pennington County, Minnesota, met in Special Session in the office of the County Auditor, in the City of Thief River Falls, at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Meeting called to order by the Chairman.

On roll call the following members reported present: Hanson, McGinn, Naplin, Roy and Peterson. Members absent, none.

Application for aid in repairing the road leading from State Road No. 2, and into Mavie was presented and was on motion duly carried, laid over until some future meeting when the matter will be given due consideration.

Petition for the formation of a new School District in the Town of Mayfield was presented to the Board, but was by unanimous vote of the members present rejected.

The bond of Doctor C. Swanson as Deputy Coroner, was on motion duly approved.

The bond of Gladys G. Anderson as clerk in Probate Judge's office was on motion duly approved by the Board.

Motion made and duly seconded that the contract of J. C. Parker for the repairing of County Ditch No. 21 be duly cancelled and that the County Auditor be instructed to so notify J. C. Parker and also the Bonding company. Motion carried.

Motion made and seconded that the contract of William W. Pittman for the construction of County Ditch No. 65 be cancelled and that the County Auditor be instructed to notify Mr. Pittman and also the Bonding company. Motion carried.

On motion duly carried the following application for refundment of money paid on real estate and personal property were approved by the County Board subject to the approval of the Minnesota Tax Commission:

G. I. Fellman, personal property in the Village of St. Hilaire; Doctor C. Swanson, real estate in the Village of St. Hilaire; A. H. Mandt, personal property in the Village of Goodridge; Thief River Falls Iron Works, City of Thief River Falls; O. A. Naplin, personal property in Mavie; Jacobus Aga, personal property, Town of Smiley.

The County Supt. of Schools met before the Board and presented bills for traveling expenses incurred by him for visiting schools, during the three months of January, February and March and setting forth that the amount allowed was not sufficient to warrant him to visit schools when called to do so. This matter was taken under general discussion by the board and they agreed that the Superintendent knew the salary that went with the office at the time that he sought the office and that this was not a matter for the County Board to adjust at this time, and the request was on motion duly carried denied.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner McGinn, who moved its adoption duly seconded by Commissioner Roy:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the County Board of Pennington County, in session this 9th day of April, 1919, do hereby make application for an allotment of $25,000.00 from the Federal Aid funds of the State to aid in the construction and improvement of State Road No. 1 and No. 3.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That upon Federal Aid being granted in the above amount by the State Highway Commission, subject to approval of the Secretary of Agriculture, the County Board does hereby agree to complete said project as a gravel surfaced road, according to the requirements of the State Highway Commissioner and the Secretary of Agriculture, the estimated cost of said improvement being $50,000.00, and to that end do hereby agree to make a special levy under the provisions of Chapter 75, Laws 1917, for the maximum amount which the County Board may lawfully levy under the provisions of said act; it being understood by the County Board that any excess in the cost of improving said road over the amount received as Federal Aid and the amount raised by such special law, will have to be paid from the County Road and Bridge Fund, irrespective of whether such cost is more or less than the estimated cost above set forth.

On roll call the following Commissioners voted for the resolution: Commissioners Hanson, McGinn, Naplin, Roy and Peterson. Those voting against, none. Resolution was so declared approved.

On motion duly carried the following bills were audited and ordered paid:

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammations and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

Washed Eggs Will Not Stand Up in Storage

The United States Department of Agriculture issued the following communication for farmers and country handlers of eggs:

Approximately 5,016,000 dozen eggs spoil needlessly every year in cold storage simply because some one has let clean eggs get wet or has washed dirty eggs before sending them to market, according to specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Careful investigations of large quantities of stored eggs show that from 17 to 22 per cent of washed eggs become worthless in storage, whereas only 4 to 8 per cent of dirty eggs stored unwashed spoil. The explanation is simple. Water removes from the shell of the egg a gelatinous covering which helps to keep air and germs out of the middle of the egg. Once this covering is removed by washing or rain which gets to eggs in the nest, germs and molds find ready access to the contents and spoil the eggs.

This enormous loss in storage eggs largely can be prevented if producers and egg handlers, especially during March, April and May, will refrain from washing eggs destined for the storage markets and take pains to reduce the number of dirty eggs by providing plenty of clean, sheltered nests for their hens.

Millions of eggs spoil in storage because they have been exposed to dew, rain, dirt and sun in stolen nests in the grass or fence corners.

In view of this great loss of valuable food, the Department urges country storekeepers and hucksters not to accept washed eggs for shipment in case lots. Shiny eggs, especially in the early spring, probably have been washed. All washed eggs purchased should be sold locally for immediate consumption.

PAVING COSTS FAIL TO DAUNT NEARBY CITIES

GRAND FORKS AND WAPHETON GOING AHEAD WITH NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS.

REDUCTION NOT PROBABLE

RECOGNIZE THAT PRESENT IS ACCEPTED TIME FOR DOING WORK.

It will cost more to pave the streets of Thief River Falls next year than would have been the case had the work been done some time ago, but the probabilities are that the price will increase still more if the matter is left to a later date.

This at least is the view taken by the authorities in many American municipalities this spring and they are therefore going ahead with their contemplated program of street improvement. The general impression is that material and labor will not be any cheaper for a long time to come and that the work had better be done now when there is such general demand that undertakings of this kind be entered into. The government is insistent in its request that all cities, counties and states do everything possible to provide work during the coming summer, realizing no doubt that by next spring things will again have assumed more nearly their normal course.

Prices Have Increased.

There is no denying the fact that prices are somewhat high. This is shown by the experience of Grand Forks and Wapheton, both of which cities last week entered upon a rather extensive paving campaign. As the matter of price is one which particularly interests the people of Thief River Falls it may be well to give an account of the experience of the neighboring municipalities in this regard.

Grand Forks will pave Cottonwood, Walnut and Chestnut avenues this coming summer, as well as Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets, for which the contracts have already been let. It is estimated that the cost will be about 20 per cent higher than when the last paving was done, but this is not deemed prohibitive. When the former jobs were undertaken the most was $1.59 per square yard, with 17 cents per yard additional for reinforcement. This did not include the curbing, manholes and other necessary adjuncts, which brought the total up considerably higher. The present price is not given.

What Wapheton Learned.

The city of Wapheton is going to put down 43,100 square feet of paving this year, the contracts having already been let. The figures are as follows: Bituminous concrete with oil asphalt, $161,595; reinforced concrete with separate curb, $164,134; same with integral curb, $163,612; plain concrete, not reinforced, 12 cents per yard less than the reinforced; brick, $247,157. These prices are understood to include the excavating, manholes, curbs, etc., being for the completed job. Figured down this means that the cost of reinforced concrete is about $3.80 per yard, while the bituminous costs about $4.08.

Still Live Topic.

The paving matter is still a very much live topic in Thief River Falls and enterprising citizens are steadily working on a plan which will justify the council in going ahead and ordering the improvement begun.

Mogensen Is Delayed.

E. O. Mogensen, the clothier, is having more than his share of trouble in moving his stock to the new location of Third street. The new fixtures and front are practically complete now and he had planned to be in the store by the end of the week, but one delay after another has made this impossible. Mr. Mogensen therefore is compelled to wait until next week before moving. He will have one of the finest clothing stores in this section of the state after getting settled in his new home.

Boys Coming Back.

The 12th of May will be a great day in Minneapolis. The Minnesota boys who have been in France with the Rainbow division are expected back and the top will be lifted off the twin cities in bidding them welcome. Thief River Falls has two boys in this outfit—Hardy Bothun and Harold Provencher. The former states in a letter to his parents that cannon, horses and other equipment has been turned in and everything stripped for the return voyage. About the last thing they did was to ride horseback for 40 miles through a snowstorm, but they liked it because it was practically their last trip.

Bothun and Provencher are two of a quartet joining the same battery and did not receive a scratch. Fred Scanlan and Martin Langseth returned a short time ago, both being on the wounded list.

Potato Expert Coming.

A. G. Tolaas of the department of plant pathology of University farm, St. Paul, will work on potato improvement May 2 and 3 in Pennington county. The purpose of this campaign is to work towards certified seed and the improvement and standardization of varieties in the county. Any farmer or others wishing to have potato plots under state supervision should send word to the Farm Bureau office. No charges are connected with this work.

Revenue Agent Here.

John C. Douglass of Minneapolis, deputy collector of internal revenue, arrived in the city this morning and will be found at the Hotel Evelyn until the first of the month. Mr. Douglass states that he will be pleased to assist anyone in making out their tax returns and asks that full advantage be taken of his presence here by those who do not quite understand the requirements. "No person can be blamed for being somewhat in doubt as to what is wanted," said Mr. Douglass, "as the filling out of the blanks is something of a contract. It is for this reason that the government is sending a lot of us deputy collectors around."

SUPT. HAY GETS FINE RECEPTION

WARROAD CONSIDERS ITSELF FORTUNATE IN SECURING EDUCATOR.

Warroad Pioneer:—Prof J. H. Hay, one of the foremost educators of the state, has accepted the position of superintendent of the Warroad high school, recently offered him by the school board.

He has been at the head of the school system of Thief River Falls for ten or twelve years, and has built up the excellent school system of that city. He recently resigned there and the local school board, on the chance of a possibility of securing his services, opened negotiations with him.

It was not the pursuasiveness of the school board or the salary offered, however, that brought him here. He has for some time had a desire to move into the timber country of northern Minnesota, especially for the benefit of the health of his son, and he felt Warroad would be the ideal place to find these conditions.

The new superintendent is to be given absolute control over the school including the selection of his assistants, and a full high school course, equal to that of the very best schools in the state, will be maintained.

The school board and the people of Warroad have a right to feel highly pleased with securing a man of the ability and standing of Prof Hay for the community.

BIG INCREASE IN ELK MEMBERSHIP

THIS IS EXPECTED AS RESULT OF DRIVE NOW BEING ARRANGED.

The Benevolent and Progressive Order of Elks of the United States expects to increase its membership to over one million during the present year and there is a general membership campaign being waged all over the country in order to attain this object. Lodge No. 1308 of Thief River Falls has set the work in motion and the first report will be submitted at a special meeting on Friday evening.

A systematic program of procedure has been formulated and will be followed during the drive. The entire lodge membership has been divided into teams of three, headed by a captain. Each of these teams has been given a list of desirable candidates whom it will be their duty to see and convince that they are missing something by not being members of this great American organization. The names have been carefully selected, great care being exercised that no one shall be asked to join who is not in every respect worthy of becoming an Elk. For this reason any person approached with the request that he send in his application should feel highly honored, as it proves that he has been carefully considered and found worthy.

The Elks have a great program under contemplation for the coming year and it will be worth any man's while to be in on it.

Exalted Ruler L. R. Johnson, (T. N. T.) has announced his committee appointments for the ensuing year, as follows, the first-named being the chairman:

Sick committee: P. J. Keating, T. J. Austad, F. F. Protz, J. W. Wasgren, E. F. Dolan.

Committee on by-laws: P. W. Mabey, G. H. Smith, E. E. Zeh.

Social session committee: L. G. Larson, H. W. Protzeller, G. W. Connell, L. A. Lampert, H. T. Swenson.

Dance committee: G. W. Booren, George Werstlein, R. H. Ross.

Committee on membership campaign: H. W. Protzeller, C. Storholm, J. W. Hendry, R. McGinn, John Morgan.

Committee on proposed building: C. L. Hansen, T. L. Melgaard, R. McGinn, John Morgan.

Committee on applications during membership campaign: C. Storholm, L. A. Lampert, E. O. Mogensen, C. L. Hansen, T. L. Melgaard, E. M. Bennes, Roy Lambert, C. R. Crandall, A. Anderson, Math Barzen, W. A. Barnard, P. J. Keating, John Morgan.

Flag day exercise: A. Anderson, E. O. Mogensen, H. D. Keene.

Elks Memorial Sunday: F. C. Niclai, G. H. Smith, J. W. Hendry.

A Bad Accident.

Harry Rux, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rux, of Sanders township, had the misfortune of breaking his left leg Tuesday afternoon. The young man was working with a stump puller, and the wire cable sudendly slipped off the stump and the hood attached to the end of the cable struck him about three inches above the ankle, breaking both bones. A doctor was summoned at once and the wound is coming along very nicely.

Supt. Ziegler in the City.

W. A. Ziegler, recently appointed to the position of superintendent of schools, was in the city for a short time last week. Making a round of the schools he became acquainted with most of the teachers. He stated that he was much pleased at being appointed to the post here and believed that the city has better than the ordinary equipment for conducting its schools in the most efficient manner. On Friday evening he met with the school board for a short conference, leaving in the evening to resume his duties at the university. He will return with his family some time in August with the intention of remaining permanently.

Mr. Ziegler is a young man of the most pleasing personality and those of our citizens who met him feel satisfied that the board made a wise choice in his selection.

Provencher Gets War Relics.

Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel is in receipt of a box of war relics sent him from France by his son, Harold, who is a member of the famous 151st field artillery and now on his way home. The box contains a number of things captured in battle by Harold, which includes German officers' helmets, belts, medals, cigar lighter, note books, etc. It is a very interesting collection and has been the object of much curosity since its arrival.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SANATORIUM SHOWS UP WELL

OAKLAND PARK DOING WONDERFUL WORK FOR UNFORTUNATES.

FILLED TO OVERFLOWING

FINANCIAL REPORT SHOWS SATISFACTORY CONDITION FOR YEAR.

The first annual report of the Oakland Park Sanatorium is published elsewhere in this issue of The Times. Many interesting things are brought out concerning the work of the institution, chief among which is the fact that the sanatorium already is filled to overflowing with patients and unable to care for all who desire admittance. It has been found necessary to establish a waiting list with regard to patients desiring treatment at the institution, and these are taken in as rapidly as room can be found for them.

A Successful Year.

The sanatorium was opened to the public on December 28, 1917, and from the very beginning it became evident that it filled a long-felt want in this section. During the first year a total of 55 patients were admitted for treatment. Of theses Marshall county had the larger number, being credited with 23. Next came Roseau with 18, Pennington with 11, and Red Lake county with two. One patient with no legal residence also was given a term of treatment during the year. Due to the large number of patients who had reached an advanced stage of the disease, the number of those discharged as improved in health was not as large as should have been the case. Sixteen were discharged without improvement, while 17 who were discharged showed in a marked degree the benefit derived from treatment at the sanatorium.

Cost is Considerable.

The net cost of maintaining the sanatorium during the year was $16,431.02. Added to this was $1,521.58, which is considered an asset for the reason that it was invested in furniture, fixtures and other lasting improvements. The statement shows the net daily cost per capita of operating the institution to be $2.37. The state pays to the county $5 per week for each "free" patient, and a total for the year of $3,613.18 was received by the three counties involved. These counties also received $1,585.15 from "pay" patients cared for at the sanatorium. This made it necessary for Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties to furnish approximately $12,000 to maintain the institution during its first year.

Various methods of treatment are employed in the cure of tuberculosis. Occasionally a combination of various forms of treatment may be employed as indicated in the various cases. Five hours of each day are devoted to recreations, such as reading, playing games, etc. The male patients are permitted to use the work shops and spend a good share of their time in making various articles, for which they furnish their own material. Occasionally an entertainment is given for the patients in the reception room, after which refreshments are served.

Other Activities.

As a result of the Red Cross seals sale in December, 1917, the services of a visiting nurse were secured for a period of three months for Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties. Miss E. M. Hanson of the Minnesota Public Health association was appointed for this work. During her residence here Miss Hanson canvassed the territory of each county, making a report to the Health association of all cases examined. Through the efforts of the visiting nurse, the sanatorium was filled to capacity early in the year. During the past eight months there has been a waiting list of from two to seven patients.

Your Lumber Needs

Whatever they may be, we are in a position to take care of them. There is going to be a tremendous revival in building all over the United States this spring and there is no guarantee that prices of materials will not be higher rather than lower. F. T. Miller, a government investigator, says that while the general increase in the price of commodities has been about 109 per cent by reason of the war, building materials have increased only 60 per cent.

Lumber and allied lines will not come down until wheat, meat and other products take a drop. When that time comes the farmer will be in much poorer shape to do his building than at present.

You will save money by building now. Besides you will be helping get the country back onto a sound business footing by providing labor for those needing it.

The best and safest investment at the present time is a new building.

We can supply the material at the lowest prices and will help you in deciding upon your plans. DO IT NOW.

NINTH DISTRICT WILL NOT FAIL

People Must Do Their Full Share Putting Victory Loan "Over the Top."

PATRIOTISM WILL DO IT

Officials of War Loan Organization Prepare for Campaign and Are Confident of Successful Outcome— To Uphold Past Record.

"The people of the Ninth Federal Reserve District will do their full share in finishing the job."

A. R. Rogers, Chairman of the War Loan Organization, unhesitatingly made this promise to Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, when he visited District Headquarters recently.

"We know the temper, the patriotism and the record of the people of the Northwest too well to have any fear of their response to the loan of thanksgiving," was the secretary's response.

"Therefore, it is up to us to continue to lead the United States 'over the top,'" said Theodore Wold, Governor of the Ninth District Federal Reserve Bank. "Because of past performances the whole country is expecting great things of us in the test of peace time patriotism; and, judging from the ambition, enthusiasm and optimism already in evidence among our workers, we will not fail."

Speakers Get Busy.

"We're off to a flying start," said Joseph Chapman, district director of speakers. "Our campaign of platform education and instruction opened March 24. Every county is or will shortly be organized with a speakers' chairman. From now until the big buying day, April 21, there shouldn't be a meeting, large or small, in the whole district without a Victory Loan speaker on the program. Anyone who finds his county unorganized should take it up at once with his county chairman or with us. It is up to every man, woman and child to get busy and keep busy until the job is finished."

The Opening Gun.

America's duty to her soldiers who suffered and bled and died for liberty on the fields of France was emphasized in a stirring speech by Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, in the Minneapolis Auditorium the night of March 20.

In his talk he pointed out the need of raising money the government must have "to finish the job" that the wearers of the khaki started so well on the other side of the Atlantic.

The speech was the opening gun in the Victory Loan campaign that opens April 21 and was followed closely by a capacity house, made up of county chairmen from the Ninth District and delegates to the Better Business convention. He spoke in part as follows:

"When I am told of the difficulties which will beset the Victory Loan I refuse to lose faith in the enduring patriotism of the American people; I decline to believe that the fathers and mothers who gave four million sons to die, if need be, that liberty might survive, will now haggle over the material cost of saving the very soul of civilization from the perdition of Prussian tyranny.

"But I am told that we must approach the problem of future loans in a distinctly cold-blooded mood. Some men tell me it will be impossible again to appeal to the patriotism of the American people. Frankly, gentlemen, I should despair of my country if these things were exactly true. I should doubt our ability to cope with the problems of peace if so quickly we should forget the obligations of war. I wonder if those who talk in this fashion speak considerately? They tell about the "sacrifices" the American people have made, and in their voices there is a metallic tone and in their mien unconscious austerity.

"What is meant by the sacrifices of war for America? Where are our devastated fields and ruined cities? Where our cathedrals destroyed and homes profaned? Where our defiled women and starved children and wrecked men? Where on this wide continent does hunger stalk abroad or pestilential disease claim its thousands of victims? Is it, then, a serious sacrifice to invest one's money in the interest-bearing obligations of one's government in order to make everlastingly secure the nation's freedom as well as the nation's property?

"Our allies fought for us nearly three years before we began to fight with them. For nearly that period of time the United States profited tremendously, in a commercial and industrial sense, by the European war. Immense fortunes were made; prosperity pervaded our land. France and Britain lost millions of men killed and millions of others wounded. Less than sixty thousand American heroes sleep beneath the sod of France. Those men made the supreme sacrifice. Should we dishonor their memories or diminish the glory of their service by pausing in the cheerful performance of an imperative duty?

"When men undertake to compute the sacrifices of a war for freedom in terms of commerce I would like them to get a vision of some things I saw not long ago on the far-flung battle fronts of Ypres, which will live in song and story, through time and eternity, as the most memorable of which history will ever give account. There they might perceive the real meaning of sacrifice. There they could see what human heroism endured for the liberty of the race here and the wide world over. Here by night and day, in fair weather and foul, fighting their way step by step, waist deep in mud and mire, chilled to the bone, these incomparable heroes, these crusaders in the cause of liberty, fought their way through inconceivable obstacles and drove the enemy off the heights from which the Hun had literally viewed the Promised Land. Great God! what a moment was that for civilization. And how beyond the imagination of man to picture human endurance and courage so everlastingly sublime.

"Is there no obligation upon us to recompense vicarious suffering like that? Do we quite fully appreciate the sacrifices made by these boys for us when we talk about discharging our debt on a commercial basis, in a cold-blooded way? I want to be sensible in dealing with the Victory Loan; my own life has been too hard and too real to even suggest an excess of emotion. But, as the question looks to me, we should not approach it in cold blood. We have a right to invoke the patriotism of the people, and today it takes a higher type of patriotism to serve the nation than was required in the delirium of war. Upon this I shall confidently rely; and I here predict that the response will in no measure disappoint the expectation of those who set a high estimate upon the spirit of the American nation.

"We call this last the Victory Loan. It is that and more; it is a Thanksgiving Loan.

"There are yet 1,600,000 American boys in France and Germany who must be maintained in comfort and brought home in safety and provided with employment on their return. While Congress is writing off the books $15,000,000,000 of authorizations, for which public funds would have been expended had not the war suddenly terminated, the Government is still expending two billion dollars per month to meet the honorable commitments of the country. The honor of the Government is involved. Being your government, it is your honor that American people will make a response of which the nation will be proud."

REAL MEANING OF "DOING YOUR BIT"

IF YOU THINK YOU HAVE DONE YOUR SHARE, READ THIS.

Those of us who think we have done our bit and are placidly resting on our laurels now that the war is over, might learn a wholesome lesson from the example of Col. William A. Bishop of the Canadian Air forces.

Col. Bishop is the world's most renowned aviator. He is officially credited with shooting 72 German planes out of the sky and has been dubbed by the British War Office, "The Ace of the World's Aces." British army regulations regarding credit given airmen for shooting down opponents are so rigid that Bishop is credited only with foemen who were actually seen to have crashed to the ground. No attention is paid to the planes that crashed unless an eyewitness reported the fact. For this reason, Canadian soldiers say that Bishop in reality shot down about 110 Boche.

But just because the war is over, Bishop is not going to stop. He has taken off his coat to help "finish the job" and in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign will work just as hard as he did over the lines in France. He will be in Minneapolis the night of April 25, when he will tell just why it is as necessary to "carry on" now as it was a year ago.

The colonel wears more decorations for valor than any other living man. His medals include the Victoria Cross and the French Legion of Honor, the two most prized decorations. In addition to these he has ten others from various Allied nations.

When you get to feeling that you have done all you can in a war way, just think of Col. Bishop and his 72 Hun victims. He is still "carrying on." Are You?

Mrs. Sarah Porteous.

Mrs. Sarah Cathern Porteous died last Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. D. Ralston, after a lingering illness of cancer. She had made her home with Mrs. Ralston for the past nine months. Deceased was born in Indiana on Nov. 26, 1952. She first moved to Illinois and later to Minnesota, which remained her home until death.

On June 1, 1898, deceased was married to Robert Porteous, who still survives. She was the mother of eight children, four of whom are living. They are Alva J. Webster of Pasweglan, Sask., Eugene Webster, Sheho, Sask., Mrs. W. Junkin of Fargo, N. D., and Mrs. A. D. Ralston of this city.

Mrs. Porteous was always friendly and considerate, and was known by all as "grandma." She was a member of the Methodist church at Warren, where the funeral was conducted on Monday by Rev. J. A. Orrock, pastor of the local Methodist church. Both sons visited their mother in January but were unable to be in attendance at the funeral.

Is the Cost of Construction High?

Michael A. Michaelson, one of the foremost authorities on building conditions in this country, has written a treatise in which he calls attention to the fact that the cost of building material is not high. He made an investigation for the United States Department of Labor and comes to the following conclusions:

> "The fact is that the cost of construction is not high today. It is low compared with food, clothing, and commodities in general; for example, in January of this year a given quantity of farm products would exchange for 37 per cent more of common building materials than the same quantity could be exchanged for in 1913. It is high only in comparison with its own prewar level. Commodity prices will undoubtedly recede, because food and clothing and many other things were affected by special war conditions: for example, scarcity of transportation, which prevented shipments from distant countries to the Allies. But they can not fall to the prewar level."

Do not work against your own interest by delaying any building program yon may have in contemplation. W. B, Wilson, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, says: "Build it Now." Every man who has the future welfare of the country at heart says the same thing. Remember that when prices go down, they will drop all along the line. The product you have to sell may feel the slump before it is noted in what you have to buy.

Build Now---You cannot go wrong in so doing.

FARMERS MUST TREAT SEED TO PREVENT SMUT

EXPERIENCE OF PAST YEARS HAS PROVEN VALUE OF METHOD.

FORMALDEHYDE THE BEST

LARGE LOSS FROM SMUT IN RED RIVER VALLEY LAST YEAR.

Every bushel of grain, whether wheat, oats or barley, that is seeded in the Red River Valley should be treated to prevent the enormous losses due to the smuts in cereals each year. A large number of the farmers have been treating their seed wheat at least every other year and know the value of this farming practice. With the cost of raising grain soaring higher each year every possible safeguard must be used and every leak stopped. One of the big leaks on practically every farm is that due to the smuts in our cereal grains.

Smut Loss Increasing.

When seed wheat could be purchased for 75 cents or $1.00 per bushel and wheat sold for about 80 cents the loss was startling to the average farmer. However, with seed wheat costing up around $2.50 and $2.75 per bushel and farmers guaranteed a price of $2.17 at the Northwest terminals for their 1919 crop, failure to treat every bushel of seed is not only unpatriotic, but it is a wastage of necessary foodstuffs and a direct money loss to the grain grower himself. Millions of dollars are lost to the Minnesota farmers annually because of smut. This is a preventable loss, which can be prevented by a little labor and a small outlay of money. Numerous fields of wheat are known to have had as much as half the crop lost due to stinking smut of wheat. Oat fields have been observed with losses ranging from none to as high as 50 per cent. Covered smut and loose smut of barley have reduced the yields of hundreds of fields.

Several Kinds of Smut.

There are several kinds of smut but the worst ones, namely, stinking smut of wheat, covered smut of barley and the loose and covered smut of oats can be treated with formaldehyde, using a solution of a pound or one pint to 40 gallons of water. Practically all drug stores and merchants carry the standard strength of formaldehyde on their shelves or can procure it on short notice. One gallon of solution will treat about one bushel of grain. For wheat and barley any of the standard smut machines found on the market will do the work most satisfactorily and farmers having large amounts of grain to treat should procure these. A machine or device which permits the smut balls to float to the top while treating and then having them skimmed off is superior to any other methods.

Should Clean Grains.

Needless to say all grain should be thoroughly cleaned, graded and fanned before treating, which eliminates the small weak seeds and also blows out a large percentage of the smut balls. For oats it is advisable to spread the grain on the floor. One man can then sprinkle the grain while another stirs it around by shoveling. In all grain treatment the grain must be thoroughly wetted, then piled up to dry for several hours, keeping the pile covered with blankets, canvas or sacks. After standing in a pile for several hours or over night it should be spread out to prevent molding. Grain may then be seeded or left to stand for some time. Precaution must be taken to keep the grain from coming in contact with smutty bins, sacks or machinery after treating as this is apt to reinfest the grain, resulting in smutty grain even though treated. To prevent this, soak sacks, canvas, swab tanks or bins with formaldehyde solution. For any further information or help on smut treatment see your county agent or write to the Northwest Experiment station at Crookston.

EXTRA SESSION OF LEGISLATURE SEEN

MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS YET REMAIN TO BE CARED FOR.

With the necessity of an extra session to dispose of important bills assuming threatening proportions, the state legislature on Monday began its last full week's session seemingly determined to dispose of dozens of bills of state-wide effectiveness.

The senate advanced a number of bills from general order to the calendar under suspension of rules. At the head of the calendar list is the state university bill with an appropriation of $5,600,000. Senator Larson's bill to investigate, experiment and determine the most effective methods of land clearing in the timber districts, was advanced.

Senator Vibert introduced a bill to permit the village of Moose Lake to issue $40,000 in bonds to replace the water works and other public property destroyed by the forest fires last fall. The bill was referred to the financial committee.

NAVY ENLISTMENTS ARE AGAIN OPENED

Before the war the strength of the navy was a little above fifty thousand men. At the signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918, it was over a half million strong—a half million American lads equipped and ready. Since the armistice was signed thousands of our young lads have been discharged or released from active duty, and the recruiting service is again open for enlistment to young men of good moral character between the ages of 17 and 35.

The navy offers you the opportunity to serve in the finest manliest body of men ever recruited for sea service, in the most powerful fighting ships afloat. It means that if you have been accepted by the recruiting officer, you have passed the high test of manhood established by the navy and that you are physically fit, dependable, and a man of honor.

After being enlisted you will be sent to a training station situated on high ground in health-giving surroundings. There you will begin the life of the Spartan and you will be inculcated with the navy spirit, which will lay an unshakable foundation of character to a useful, interesting and profitable career as one of your country's able defenders. No life is cleaner than that of a Man-o'-Warsman, and in no walk of life is a young man's morals and character better looked after than on board the gray ships.

Your pay will start when you enlist. It is up to you to make good and if you do, you are advanced and your pay is increased. Landsmen and apprentice seamen receive $32.60 per month. Skilled men draw from $42 to $146 and allowances. In addition navy men receive the benefit of the war risk insurance which is convertible into any kind of a policy at the lowest possible rates.

The chances for advancement and promotion have never been better than they are today. Anyone enlisting has a chance to attain the highest rank in the navy. There are thousands of commissioned and warrant officers in the navy today who enlisted as apprentice seamen only a year or two ago. In addition there are many trade schools at the training stations that are equipped for training men of the navy in the various trades.

If you are between the ages of 17 and 35 and desire enlistment in the naval service, see your local postmaster or write to this office for transportation. Your postmaster can have you examined by the local doctor and will arrange for your transportation to this station. Should you fail after arriving at this station, transportation will be furnished you back to your home at the expense of the government. Write today for particulars. CAMPAIGN STARTED TO HANDICAP LOAN

INSIDIOUS METHODS USED BY GERMAN SYMPATHIZERS IN DISTRICT.

Prussian poison that was administered liberally by friends of the Plunderland during the first four Liberty Loans is again being invoked with the Victory Liberty Loan less than one week away, according to letters received every day at War Loan headquarters.

While the corpses of their victims are still rotting throughout France and Belgium, friends of "the old Germany of the Christmas tree and of Bach and Beethoven and Schiller" are beginning their campaign to secure leniency for the bandit nation on the Rhine. And in the same breath they are seeking to hinder the floating of the last war loan this country will ask.

Stories are floating around the Ninth district regarding shocking waste and extravagance by government officials. One report says the government is selling $3,000 automobiles for $500. Another, that typewriters worth $100 are being sold for a song. Then there is the yarn about horses being disposed of for $75 even though they cost the nation $250 or $300.

None of these friends of the Plunderland are attacking the Victory Loan. Past experience has told them that is a poor and unprofitable form of sport. Instead, they content themselves with raising doubt in the minds of the people; trying to show that thousands of our soldiers were slaughtered needlessly in France; attempting to raise a question as to whether we really had any business in the war and telling how the French and the English have turned against America and how our troops are insulted and attacked in Paris and London.

It is by innuendo and veiled hints that the work of Postdam is being carried on, but Chairman A. R. Rogers of the Ninth District War Loan organization has issued a warning that this is often more dangerous and insidious than the direct statement.

Don't Knit For Soldiers.

In spite of the many authoritative statements that have been published in reference to the supply of knitted goods for soldiers and sailors, misunderstanding now and then develops, frequently taking the form of appeals to keep on knitting for the men in the army and navy. The production department of the Red Cross announces that knitted refugee garments are greatly needed, but there is an abundance of knitted articles to meet the needs of soldiers and sailors, who have only to apply through the regular channels to obtain what they require.

PAN MOTOR AGAIN BEFORE THE COURT

U. S. GRAND JURY RETURNS CHARGES AGAINST 13 STOCKHOLDERS.

The Pennington county stockholders of the Pan Motor company must be getting used to hearing that officials or promoters of the concern are haled before the courts for one reason or another. The company has been having rather hard sledding to get by the state and federal laws and many shareholders are rather dubious over the outcome.

On Saturday the United States district court sitting at Chicago returned indictemnts against 13 men interested in the concern. The defendants previously had been indicted. Their reindictment came, it is said, at the request of the federal court.

The principal charges are against Samuel S. Pandolfo, John Barritt, Norman A. Street, George Heidman, Charles D. Schwab, Charles F. Ladner, Frederick Schilpin, Charles S. Bunnell, Peter R. Thielman, George E. Hanscom, Hugh Evans, H. C. Ervin, Jr., and H. S. Wigle. The indictments charge misrepresentation in advertising stock for sale and also allege that the company advertised it would sell tank tread tractors to stockholders at a 15 per cent discount, while only one tractor was built.

Indictments on a similar charge against the same 13 men were returned by the February grand jury.

The 13 men were reindicted by the March federal grand jury on additional evidence. Barritt and Street reside in Chicago. The others, with the exception of Wigle, whose home is in Spokane, Wash., are residents of St. Cloud.

NEWS NOTES OF SHOP AND RAIL

RAIL MEN GRANTED INCREASE IN WAGE

Wage advances aggregating $65,000,000 were ordered Friday by Director General Hines for 400,000 railroad engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors in both passenger and freight service, members of the big four railroad brotherhoods retroactive since January 1, 1919. The brotherhood demands for time and a half for over time was granted only for men engaged in yard service and for the others this question will be referred to the railroad administration's board of adjustment.

The increases were arranged according to a contemplated schedule, one of the aims of which was to restore the wage relationship existing before the railroads increased wages last year. The average advance in pay per man will be about $160. Including Friday's order the aggregate pay increases allowed by the railroad administration to the two million railroad employes is at the rate of $822,311,000 a year or more than $400 as the average per man. Thus the total payroll of America's railroads is raised to nearly three billion dollars a year from a basis of approximately two billion on January 1, 1918, when the roads passed into the government's hands.

Back pay for work since January first will be given the Brotherhood men as soon as the railroad paymasters can work out the amount.

Railroad accountants calculate about a billion dollars a year will be forthcoming from the rate increase last year. Railroad administration figures on the wage additions indicate more than 80 per cent of this will be eaten up in wages.

Makes Trade For Home.

A deal of considerable importance was closed Tuesday, when Boilermaker Foreman Emil Norquist and Engineer Joe Brennan traded homes. The former Norquist home is located at the corner of Knight and Ninth while the property formerly owned by Mr. Brennan is located just east of the Soo round house. The latter place consists of a fine set of buildings, six acres of ground and a promising young orchard. Emil will no doubt commune with nature on his farm every evening during the summer months.

Exchange of Emigrants.

As usual at this time of year, there is considerable movement of emigrant cars over railroads leading through this city. Some of the movers are bound east, some west, some north, and many of them are making their homes in various parts of Pennington county. The number of cars going to Canada is not as great this year as formerly. It is noticeable that for every farmer who leaves Pennington county to try his luck elsewhere at least two come here to take his place.

Getting Ready For Spring.

The crew at the Soo round house is busy these days taking snow plows and flangers from the locomotives located there. It is figured that the season is sufficiently advanced so that danger from further snow blockades is practically over. A large number of engines are in the round house undergoing a general overhauling and minor repairs in anticipation of an increase in business within a short time.

Machinist Breaks Leg.

While engaged in cutting the limbs from a tree at his home Monday evening, Machinist John M. Skog in some manner fell to the ground and broke his leg below the knee. The fracture has been reduced and John is doing as well as can be expected, but some time must necessarily elapse before he will be able to return to work.

Turnbaugh Goes Farming.

Engineer J. G. Turnbaugh of the Soo has taken a leave of absence from his duties at the Soo and is this week moving onto his farm near Goodridge. Mr. Turnbaugh expects to operate the farm the coming season and hopes to be able to show his fellow rail men what a real agriculturist can do.

Rail On Turn Table.

A railing has this week been placed in position on the turn table at the Soo round house to protect employes handling locomotives there. The distance from the top to the bottom of the pit is only about eight feet but it is considered too high a fall for comfort.

Dan Parenteau, car man, who had been absent for a week on account of illness, returned to work on Monday.

Glenn Richardson, operator at this place for the Soo, went to Duluth Monday evening on a short business trip.

Fireman O. F. Larson and family are moving this week to Glenwood, where they expect to reside in the future.

E. H. Taylor, traveling claim agent of the Soo, was here Monday evening looking after business in his official capacity.

Miss Nettie Ove, stenographer in the chief clerk's office at the Soo, was the guest of friends in the Twin Cities over Sunday.

W. F. Lawrence has been sent to Waubun as station helper, relieving H. L. Otto, who has been assigned to Alexandria as warehouseman.

A. E. Peterson, helper at Karlstad, has been transferred to Gardena, N. D., to act as relief agent for H. Pavez, the regular agent, who is down with the flu.

Engineer A. E. Preston is figuring strong on changing his place of residence from Thief River Falls to Onamia. It is rumored that he already has rented a home at the latter place.

Rexford Ehlers relieved B. Bergsten, warehouseman at Alexandria last week while the latter was at Plummer taking the place of R. A. Preston, operator, who was on a leave of absence.

Engineer A. J. Marcoe has gone to Superior, where he will be employed by the Soo during the coming season. He has it doped out that he can hold a better run out of Superior than Thief River Falls, hence the move.

O. P. Johnson is for the present holding down the trick as relief agent at Bronson, taking the place of J. F. Allison. The latter has been put in charge as regular agent at Waubun, vice D. M. Hemmesch, resigned.

FRANK PETERSON TOURS IN FRANCE

PENNINGTON COUNTY BOY TAKES IN MANY WONDERFUL SIGHTS.

The Times has been favored with a letter written from France by Frank Peterson, a son of P. W. Peterson of this county. Frank left with the Pennington county boys who entrained for Camp Dodge, Iowa, Feb. 23, 1918. Upon his transfer from Camp Dodge to Camp Custer, Frank was assigned to the 55th engineers, headquarters company, with which he is yet associated. The letter was written to Miss Belle Peterson, the young man's sister, and is as follows:

"Gievres, Loir et cher, France, March 11, 1919. Dear Sister Belle: About a couple of weeks ago I sent you a card saying that I was leaving on a seven day leave, and I did go. The time was most enjoyably spent; just wish you could have been along. You would have seen some sights.

"Was in Paris one day and believe me, I would not have missed that for anything. I have been wanting to see Paris ever since I landed on French soil, and now I have. Can't you imagine the bliss? It is, indeed, a gret city. Did not see the whole city, of course, but saw quite a bit of it. The Y. M. C. A. took us around, but they explained things to us wherever we went, so it made it interesting for us.

"From Paris we went to Southern France to a town named Cauterets, up in the mountains. There we stayed for seven days. Uncle Sam donated this trip to us. Our railroad fare, board and room were free, and then think of all the beautiful country we saw! I know what mountains are like now. Were up in them, and climbed them every day while I was at Cauterets.

"Went to Spain too, so can say that I have seen that country. I wouldn't have missed that trip for an untold fortune. It was the best trip I have ever had in all my life.

"Your box of candy was waiting for me when I came back, and also a letter. The box was in first-class shape, and, oh! the candy was good.

"Got back from my trip night before last. Was gone for fourteen days—seven days on the road and seven days at Cauterets. We made good use of our time too, while we were gone, Belle. Saw some beautiful country, and cities on my trip. When I get back on the right side of the Atlantic, I shall relate to you all my experience which I have met with during my army life.

"Will not write you a very long letter as 'O. F.' is sending you a 'hummer.' Wish I could write letters as interesting as he does.

"As I have a few more letters to write tonight, I shall withdraw for this time. Thanks a thousand times for the candy. Will remember you with something when I get back.

"Here is hoping that these few lines will find you in good health and humor as it leaves me. All the love this can carry. Your devoted brother, Frank."

TRAINS STALLED IN NEBRASKA STORM

NORTHERN MINNESOTA WEATHER VERY MILD IN COMPARISON.

While the weather in this section of the country has not been ideal during the past two weeks, the snow which fell here was not much compared to that which visited other sections of the country farther south and west. In Nebraska train service was badly hampered by the snow and sleet storm, while wires were out of commission for nearly a week.

Two passenger trains of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway were reported stalled in snow drifts for several hours and snow plows had to be sent to their relief. In Colorado railroad and telegraph companies have been busy recovering from the effects of snow and sleet storms which visited that section Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Trains which had been tied up by snow in west Texas and New Mexico were reported to be moving, but their movements were still far from normal. At Roswell, N. M., serious damage to the peach crop was reported. The snow fall in New Mexico varied from six to ten inches.

BIRTH AND DEATH REPORT FOR YEAR

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN COUNTY INDICATE POPULATION INCREASE.

The state board of health last week sent to Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund its report of vital statistics for Pennington county for the year 1918. This report is compiled from returns made to the board of health by local officials during the past year, and the figures show the county to be steadily gaining in population. There were fewer births and more deaths than in the preceding year, however, the births being four less and deaths more numerous by twenty.

There are four townships in which not a single death was reported during the year, those being Black River, Clover Leaf, Goodridge and Mayfield. Numedal has the smallest number of births to its credit, only two having been reported from that township. Outside of the city, Silverton township reported the greatest number of births, fifteen being claimed by the precinct. The city of Thief River Falls reported twelve fewer births than during the year preceding, while 22 more deaths occurred last year than during 1917.

Dairy Products and Prohibition

The prohibition amendment which was ratified last summer will bring about a big change in the dairy businest, for dairy products will have an increased demand. It has been found that whenever a city or state goes dry the consumption of dairy products at once increases. This will mean that the whole country will soon be using from 25 to 35 percent more dairy products and with this steady demand a fair price can always be expected. Dairy cows will be a profitable investment for many years to come.

MINNESOTA MEN IN HONOR MEDAL LIST

CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL GIVEN TO ONLY 63 SOLDIERS IN WAR.

The United States government's most prized decoration for bravery on the field of battle was awarded to only 63 of the 4,000,000 men in the Yankees fighting forces during the European war, according to the first announcement of the list made in a telegram from Adjutant General P. C. Harris to A. R. Rogers, chairman of the Ninth District War Loan organization. Two Minnesota men and one from Wisconsin won the congressional medal of honor—the most coveted honor—the list from Washington shows. Louis Cukela of Minneapolis and Nels Wold of Kelly Lake, are the men from the North Star state and Clayton K. Slack is the Wisconsin hero. Wold met his death winning the little piece of ribbon.

The difficulty of being voted the congressional medal was shown in General Harris' telegram, who explained that although there were only 63 awarded, that 3,800 distinguished service crosses were given. None of the traditional decorations of the armies of Europe can compare in scarcity with the badge that the United States confers on her braves.

Receiving the congressional medal places Lieut. Cukela among the most decorated soldiers in Europe. He now wears the croix de guerre, the medaille militaire, the distinguished service cross and the medal from congress. An effort will be made to secure his early return to the twin cities during the Victory liberty loan campaign. He is with the 5th regiment of marines.

Food Sale Saturday.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will hold a food sale at Cronstrom's grocery next Saturday. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

U. S. Boys in 1918.

When Uncle Sammie called his lads,
From business, land and lake;
He says you've heard those Prussian dads,
Our liberty's at stake.

Our fathers fought for liberty
And free we shall remain,
Our breasts are full of equity;
We'll not permit a stain.

The Hun with certain death doth flirt,
Autocracy shan't reign;
But Liberty shall have new birth
With freedom in its vein.

So Yankee boys, five million strong,
They start across the ponds,
And want to know just what is wrong—
Why all these broken bonds.

Why sinking of the neutral ship
And Belgium in dispair;
Armenians to death you whip,
Destruction everywhere.

But Fritz has gone his limit now
With cruelty and rape.
The Sammies make a holy vow,
To partake in this scrape.

Rout out the enemy from here,
Chase him to No Man's Land;
He's destroying what we call dear—
He and his outlaw band.

And on the run they Heinie keep,
Through both woods and river;
Through entanglements he must leap;
He begins to shiver.

He's soon a begging for a truce.
None of that play for me.
Old folks, women, children abuse,
Was their hobby, you see.

But many brave men lay dying,
With hearts both open and true,
While heroes still are flying
The Red, the White, the Blue.

COUGH REMEDY

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

Why Armour Cannot Fix Meat Prices

IT is generally known that the livestock supply varies from day to day, and that prices fluctuate in consequence. It is not so generally understood that the retail demand for fresh meat varies tremendously also, and that, in consequence, the price obtained by Armour and Company fluctuates, too.

When fresh meat is finished at the plants it is shipped to Armour branch houses located in more than 400 centers of consumption. And, this meat is shipped unsold. The branch house manager receives with it a memorandum of what it cost to produce the meat. It is a simple matter then for him to determine what he must seek to get for it if he is to show a profit. And, he must sell it in the open market, in direct competition with other packers' branch houses, local abattoirs, and so forth. Also, he must face the uncertainties of weather, heavy receipts of fish and fowl and, often, unexpected and unusual circumstances.

Under the heading of "unusual circumstances" for instance, would come the recent epidemic of Spanish Influenza. Statistics gathered by Armour and Company show that while the epidemic was at its height fresh meat purchases the country over fell off no less than 25 per cent.

A sudden wave of intense heat; a severe blizzard which blocks roads and makes transportation difficult; heavy receipts of fish or game; local-killed meats coming on the markets in small communities—all or any of these factors have a marked effect on the demand for fresh meats.

Branch house managers must—because storage facilities demand it—dispose of their stock each week so far as possible. This often necessitates selling below cost.

Thus, if statistics be consulted, it will be found that the selling price of Armour and Company's fresh meats parallels the price of livestock and is constantly further affected by the conditions mentioned.

With these facts in view, fair-minded readers must comprehend that it is not possible for Armour and Company to fix the price of meats.

MODERN BUILDING FOR LOWLY SWINE

Clean, Comfortable Quarters for Hogs Worth While.

FARMER'S CHANCE NOW HERE

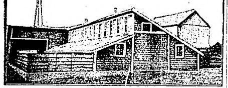
Removal of Government Restrictions Enables Him to Construct Buildings That Are Badly Needed.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose three-cent stamp for reply.

The farmer, who has been denied during the last two years the new buildings the expansion of his business has required, will hail with satisfaction his chance to put up that new barn, silo, horse barn, or cattle or hog house that he has needed for many months.

But during the time of his inactivity there have been rapid strides made in designing commodious and sanitary farm buildings. One of the things that the modern idea of farm efficiency demands is that the hogs be housed in a building that can be kept clean and is so arranged that the swine can be cared for with the least amount of effort.



It may be trite to say it, but hogs are valuable property these days. A little more money spent on the hog house means fatter and healthier animals, and each additional pound is worth real money about the time snow flies and the hogs are marketed.

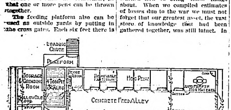
Herewith is shown a modern swine establishment, in which are embodied a corncrib, granary, feeding platform and scale house. The building is what is known as the saw-tooth hog house. While the floor plan shows the arrangement of these features, it might be explained a little more fully by a description of it.

Room for Eighteen Sows.

The hog house proper was laid out to accommodate eighteen sows; two stalls in one end were used to provide plenty of room around the water place and another stall in the other end for the scale box and small store room; so, as it is arranged now it contains fifteen usable stalls.

The ventilation is taken care of by two combination smoke stacks and ventilators in the roof and a slat ventilator built in the end above the door. This ventilator is fitted with a door on the inside, so that it can be closed tight when necessary. All the gates between the stalls are removable, so that one or more pens can be thrown together.

The feeding platform also can be used as outside yards by putting in the cross gates. Each six feet there is an angle iron bolted to the side of the house, which holds one end of a 2 by 4, the other end being fastened to the fence on the outside of the platform. The 2 by 4 acts as a brace to hold the fence rigid and also serves as a means of fastening the top of the gates. The lower part of the gate is held in place by 2 by 4 braces on the gates dropping into holes made to fit them in the concrete platform. In order to remove the gates it is only necessary to loosen two bolts and lift them out.



FLOOR PLAN OF COMPLETE HOG HOUSE

Scales Under Cover.

The scales are under cover in the passageway between the hog house and the granary and are fitted with a swinging gate at each end, one of them swinging inside so as not to interfere with the sliding door which closes the passageway up tight. This passageway is all under cover and makes a one place in bad weather for grinding feed, etc. The gate at the outer end of the scales swings out and joins a small gate at the loading chute, making it handy to do the loading.

The sleeping pens, granary and corn crib are all floored with hollow tile with two inches of concrete over them. The corn crib and granary have studding sockets set in the concrete on top of the wall. The sills in the hog house are bolted down to the top of the foundation wall. There is a slat door between the corn crib and granary, so as to make it tight when the granary is full of small grain.

The roof is shingled with composition shingles and the siding is fir drop siding. Everything is of the best materials and is built in the best possible way. All the foundation walls are reinforced.

The floor of the hog house slopes to the center, so as to drain into the sewer which runs out under the feeding platform. The feeding platform slopes to the outside and also at one end. The feed trough also slopes and is fitted with a drain at one end.

All Fittings Are Modern.

The fittings of the house are modern in every respect. One of these is a waterer that will not freeze. Concrete floors and feeding troughs make it easy to keep the building clean, and cleanliness has been found to be a prime factor in the successful production of hogs.

This hog house is only one of the buildings that will be erected on the farms this year that contains many up-to-date features in construction and equipment.

There is a growing demand among the farmers for these modern buildings, because those who are producing food for this country and for a considerable portion of the rest of the world now realize that their time is worth money and everything that saves even a few steps a day is worth while. At the end of the year this worth-whileness is shown by the balance on the right side of the ledger after the season's crops have been marketed and the livestock sold.

GREATEST OF ALL ASSETS

World's Vast Store of Gathered Knowledge Has Not Been Destroyed by the War.

At the one hundred and sixty-fifth session of the Royal Society of Arts the chairman of the council, Mr. Alan A. Campbell Swinton, F. R. S., in an address on "Science and the Future," said that undoubtedly the war had been responsible for an enormous amount of destruction of capital, but when those losses were estimated it was not usually borne in mind that capital did not merely consist of gold and silver, bricks and mortar, furniture and fitments, or even of railways, steamships and machinery, but that the main capital of the modern world consisted of scientific knowledge. The reconstruction of the material things now temporarily destroyed would take only a very small fraction of the labor and time expended when men learned how to bring those things about. When we compiled estimates of losses due to the war we must not forget that our greatest asset, the vast store of knowledge that had been gathered together, was still intact. In the future, if the industries of this country were to flourish in the face of the world's competition, it was above all things necessary that research should play a greater part in them than it had in the past. The modern world had no room for antiquated and unscientific methods.

Peculiar Violin.

Abram Moses, a violinist of Baltimore, is the possessor of what might be called a barometric violin. Some time after Mr. Moses bought it, he noticed that at certain times it exhaled a strange and subtle fragrance, like an aroma of Oriental incense. Later, he observed that this fragrance was noticeable only when the weather was about to become damp. He obtained the violin in Paris some years ago when he was studying there.

RENOWNED MAN MAY VISIT THIS LOCALITY

L. T. COOPER, NOTED PHILANTHROPIST GIVES LARGE PART TO CHARITY.

Not in recent years, perhaps, has the coming of any public character aroused such widespread interest as has the proposed visit to Minneapolis and other western cities, of L. T. Cooper, the Millionaire Philanthropist.

Mr. Cooper is described as one of America's foremost leaders of advanced thought, and sprang into fame and fortune through his new health theories based on what is known as the Tanlac treatment. He never ceases to surprise you with the infinite variety of his knowledge, and its absolute correctness and thoroughness. In several of the larger cities, he has done a great deal of relief work among the poor.

Mr. Cooper is a firm believer in practical philanthropy and his relief work is familiar to charity workers over the entire country. This Southern representative while in Houston, Texas, recently distributed, under the personal direction of leading charity workers, one thousand dresses of excellent quality to poor women and children. In San Antonio, the following week he donated another thousand dresses to the poor of that city, and a few days later four hundred of the garments were provided by him for the poor women and children of Galveston. Ladies prominent in social life and many prominent citizens of these places assisted and cooperated with Mr. Cooper's representative in this worthy cause.

Gives 50,000 Loaves of Bread.

Similar service was also performed by Mr. Cooper in Memphis, Birmingham, Atlanta, Little Rock, Shreveport, Vicksburg, Jackson, Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Macon, Savannah, Montgomery, Mobile and Augusta, and his establishment of the famous free bread line at Louisville, where he distributed 50,000 loaves of bread absolutely free and without question to those in want, proved a revelation to charity workers there. In fact, in practically every city Mr. Hooper has visited he has always shown his great sympathy for the poor and unfortunate by performing some unique act of charity.

Mr. Cooper contends that nine-tenths of the diseases and ill health of the present day American is due to faulty digestion and improper assimilation of the food, which finally produces a stuffed up condition of the vital organs.

It has been said that Tanlac, his celebrated medicine, which is now accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the country, not only quickly overcomes all catarrhal inflamations of the mucus membrane, but acts directly in the correction of stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal disorders.

Tanlac as has been so convincingly proven by the thousands upon thousands who have endorsed it, is also a reconstuctive tonic of great tirely relieve the most obstinate power, and has been known to en- cases of rheumatism and blood disorders in a very short time.

Tanlac Sales Phenomenal.

It is, indeed doubtful if anything ever placed on the market in the way of a medicine has sprung into such popular favor in so short a time. People everywhere have been quick to recognize its wonderful merit. The demand for it has been nothing short of phenomenal.

In Seattle, Washington over 50,000 bottles were sold and distributed by jobber and retailer in eight weeks' time, which established a new record there, and is unpresedented in the history of the drug business. In Denver over 65,000 bottles were sold in six months, in Ft. Worth, Texas, 122,204 bottles were sold in twelve months time, in Atlanta, Georgia, over 166,000 bottles were sold in twelve months time, in Dallas, Texas 120,000 bottles were sold in 12 months time, in Knoxville, Tenn., the distributed 48,326 bottles in nine months, in Louisville, Ky., the Taylor-Isaacs Company, who operate eight retail stores in that city sold 32,000 bottles in less than ninety days. In fact everywhere Tanlac has been introduced its sale has likewise been phenomenal and the demand for it is continually increasing. A total of more than two and a half million bottles of the medicine has been sold through the Atlantic Office alone during the past eighteen months, and it is without doubt the most widely talked of medicine today.

When asked to explain this record breaking demand, Mr. G. F. Willis, International Distributor of Tanlac said: "There can be only one possible explanation, and it can be told in one word, 'merit.' That tells the whole story. No preparation no matter how extensively advertised, can possibly meet with such phenomenal success unless it possesses extraordinary curative power."

Thousands upon thousands are testifying daily that they have been relieved of disease after years of suffering by its use.

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls by Lambert's Drug Store.

Tribute to Nellie Nelson.

The following is part of a letter written to the family of the deceased by a girlhood chum of Nellie:

"I wish to extend to you my heartfelt sympathy in your recent bereavement, and ask the privilege to pay a simple tribute to the memory of Nellie.

"Those who were near and dear to her, either relative or friend, can have no regret, except that she is dead. Nellie lived a clean life. She was blessed with the sunniest, happiest nature that I have ever known. Dear Nellie! I look back over the years that we spent together in the hallowed relationship of pals, and it is hard to realize that the white rider has come for you. Never have I felt a keener grief or a deeper sorrow than your untimely death has brought me. The memory of your splendid self, clean and good, and wholesome, and true, will remain with me always. Very sincerely your friend."

Nellie Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Nelson of New Solum, was born April 29th, 1899 at the family home, and spent her childhood days there. She graduated from Thief River Falls high school, where she took the normal training, in 1917, and was at the time of her illness teaching her second term of school near Radium, besides the time spent in teaching parochial school last summer. Of a sunny and cheerful disposition, she was a fine help in the community. Organist and member of the choir of the Bethlehem church, her friends will miss her deeply.

On March 11th, she was taken ill with influenza, which developed into pneumonia, and on Saturday, March 15th, she died. Her spirit, no longer bound to its house of clay, winged its way to its maker, and only the memory of her life remains with her friends. Besides father and mother she leaves the following sisters and brothers to mourn her: Sisters, Mrs. Andrew Brainerd of Portland, N. D., Mrs. Gust Peterson of Viking, and Gina and Sophie at home. Brothers, Martin, Alfred and Myer. Funeral, which was private, was held on Thursday, March 20th, conducted by Rev. Skogerboe of Thief River Falls. The sorrowing ones have the sympathy of a large host of friends.

PLENTY OF PROOF.

From People You Know—From Thief River Falls Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Thief River Falls, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

E. L. Krogstad, 523 State Ave. N., says: "Four years ago I was living up in the Rainey River district and the water there was so hard it put my kidneys out of order. Every morning I woke with terrible pains in my kidneys and my back was weak and lame. It hurt me to stoop in any direction. My kidneys didn't act regularly, either. Sometimes the secretions were too free and then again scanty. I was often dizzy, too. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I tried them and three boxes fixed me up in good shape. I have never had any kidney trouble since."

Our reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.
WITH a single tool—the combination wrench and screw driver shown below, which is included with every De Laval—you can take it apart and set it up again in a few minutes.
Could anything be easier or simpler?
There are no complicated parts—no chain drives, no cog wheel puzzles, no ball bearings to get flattened or broken. Every adjustment can be made quickly by the man on the farm without special tools of any kind.
Such simple construction makes the De Laval not only the longest lasting but also the easiest separator to clean and care for.

FOE'S WAR DEBT RAISED

Now Said to Have Been Placed at Fifty Billions.

Election in England Causes Lloyd George to Urge Change in Plans, Which is Made.

Paris, April 15.—According to the Echo de Paris, Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, alarmed by the result of the bye-election at Hull last week, has persuaded the council of four to revamp completely the financial plan to be incorporated in the peace treaty.

Instead of a payment of $5,000,000,000 on account and annual payments to be fixed by a commission, it has been decided to fix at once the amount which Germany will have to pay within 50 years. This amount is kept secret, but it is indicated by the newspapers that a figure of $50,000,000,000 has been agreed on, which includes all war damages as well as the cost of pensions. The first installment of $5,000,000,000 must be paid within 18 months, the newspaper declares.

Indications are that a combination of the peace treaty and league of nations documents will be written into a preliminary peace treaty within the coming two weeks. The Germans then will be called in and the present "Peace conference" will be merged into the "Peace congress."

The Council of Four is understood to have fixed for the Peace congress tentative dates between April 26 and May 5, but no announcement has been made as to details, so that Premier Lloyd George may have something to disclose when he addresses the British Parliment.

Premier Lloyd George's trip to England will be a brief one, according to the Petit Journal. He will be back in Paris in two or three days the newspaper says.

VICTORY FLEET ARRIVES

Atlantic Battle Squadron Reaches Port of New York.

New York, April 15.—Led by the superdreadnought Pennsylvania, the bulk of America's "Victory fleet," consisting of 102 ships of the Atlantic battle squadron, came sailing into this port. The Pennsylvania, with Admiral Henry T. Mayo on board, reported by wireless that it was nearing Ambrose channel.

Following the Pennsylvania are seven other superdreadnoughts, and behind them more than 80 destroyers which were to steam up the harbor four abreast and anchor in the Hudson river. "Mother ships," repair ships and tenders are following in the rear of the fighting ships.

The destroyers were escorted by a great fleet of airplanes.

Choicest Residence Lots in City to Be Offered for Sale

The finest inside residence lots in the city are to be put on sale at once. Sale will continue this spring until every lot is sold.

The big reconstruction idea now is a home for everybody. Not one that someone else owns and you rent, but a home that you own. This is going to be made just as easy for you as it is to pay rent and in the end you will have a deed to your own home instead of paying rent to a flat owner so that he may build more flats to get more rent to build more flats.

It is not necessary to take a bus to look at these lots nor will you need a taxi in bad weather if you buy one and build upon it. They are all within three or four blocks of the Post Office, Auditorium, Library, High School, Stores and business places, and more reasonable in price than lots so far out where there are no conveniences. Nearly all of these lots have city water, sewer and sidewalk all established and paid for, so you do not need to wait several years for these conveniences.

You can pay for these lots at the time of sale with cash or Liberty Bonds of any issue which bonds will be taken one hundred cents on the dollar, or you can pay one-fifth of the purchase price down and the balance at the rate of one-tenth each month, with six per cent interest on the part remaining unpaid from time to time.

Warranty deed delivered to you immediately upon payment in full. No taxes due until next year. All paid by owner this year. These lots are put on sale by the owner, who will show them at any time and give prices.

Greater Telephone Revenues Are Required
High Costs Have Increased Operating Expenses
Since the European war began there has been a steady increase in the price of nearly everything we use. There has not been a corresponding increase in telephone rates.
In order to meet the high cost of telephone operation, a revenue in just proportion to the expense must be obtained.
The necessity for more telephone revenue is easily understood.
The cost of telephone operation has steadily advanced both because of the increased cost of material to the telephone company and the increased living expenses of employees.
The consumer has realized the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing and for transportation. The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all of the necessities of life.
If this Company is to continue to furnish telephone service to the public it must obtain such rates as will produce a revenue sufficient to cover the cost of providing the service.

WOUNDED HERO ARRIVES HOME TO SEE FOLKS

RAYMOND STAGEBERG IS NOW STATIONED AT THE FORT SNELLING HOSPITAL.

IN FRANCE ALMOST YEAR

SHRAPNEL WOUND IN KNEE JULY 24 TOOK HIM OUT OF THE FIGHT.

Raymond Stageberg, after about a year and a half of service in the army, nearly a year of which was spent in France, reached this city on Monday and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Stageberg. The young man has not yet received his discharge from the army, being stationed at Fort Snelling hospital. He will remain there for some time in order to receive treatment for a badly wounded knee, which has caused continual confinement at hospitals in France and this country since last July.

Accompanied By Wife.

Corporal Stageberg is accompanied by his wife, who formerly was Miss Mattie Langton of Crookston and who nhe recently married in Minneapolis. This was the happy culmination of a pre-war romance and the young man's friends will extend hearty congratulations and best wishes to the young couple. Upon the expiration of an eight-day leave, the young soldier and his wife will return to Fort Snelling. Here Corporal Stageberg is scheduled for another serious operation upon his knee in the near future, in the hope that his complete recovery may be hastened. The wound was a very ugly one, produced by shrapnel, and it is a difficult matter to make it heal properly. Raymond is able to walk with the aid of a cane, although the knee joint is still absolutely stiff. He has in his possession a piece of shrapnel about the size of a large pea which was removed from the wound by doctors.

Answers Call to Arms.

Raymond Stageberg answered the call to arms on Dec. 10, 1917, and enlisted in the 38th infantry, third division. He spent a short while at Jefferson Barracks, after which his regiment was sent to Camp Hancock, Ga. After a period of training here the unit was detailed for overseas duty and sailed from Hoboken in March, 1918. The boys landed at Brest and continued their training near Chaumont, headquarters of Gen. Pershing. On May 23 the regiment was rushed to the front in trains and auto trucks to help stem the German tide at Chateau Thierry. Here the French, assisted by the second and third divisions of the American army, held the Huns in check for over a week during their first serious effort to reach Paris.

Gets Dose of Gas.

About June 1 the boys were ordered to Belleau Woods, where they took part in heavy fighting from the 6th to the 9th. Here Raymond got in the way of some German gas and inhaled enough of it to put him in the hospital for five days. Following this encounter, the third division was ordered back to Chateau Thierry to relieve the French. They held a sector here until the memorable night of July 14, when the Germans started their second great drive for Paris. Both flanks of the line were driven back and the 38th regiment was almost completely surrounded by Germans for three days. They were subjected to a gruelling machine gun fire and suffered many casualties. Three days after the Huns started this terrific drive they were forced back by repeated counter attacks from American divisions. This soon straightened out the line and released the 38th regiment from its perilous position.

Kept Right On Going.

The Americans were not yet ready to quit, however, and kept steadily forging ahead. They crossed the river Marne, and for several days Raymond was in the thick of battle. On the night of July 24 he was badly wounded in the knee by shrapnel, and lay on the battlefield for 22 hours before being picked up. He was at last found and taken in a truck to the field hospital, where he received surgical attention. He remained at various hospitals in France for the next four months, all of which time he was confined to his bed. At last he was listed as a casual and started for home Dec. 21, sailing from Bordeaux. Landing at Newport News, Raymond was sent to the old soldiers' home at Hampton, which had been converted into a hospital. From there he was sent to Camp Grant, and since March 17 has been stationed at the Fort Snelling hospital. How long he will be required to remain at this place is difficult to tell at this time. Chances are that he will remain there for a considerable period.

To Complete Education.

Corporal Stageberg has concluded to take advantage of the government's offer to educate wounded soldiers, and expects to take a course in mechanical drawing as soon as he is able to leave the hospital. He does not know as yet whether he will attend the school conducted at Detroit, Mich., or the one located at Minneapolis. In either event he will acquire a highly useful education and one which will enable him to earn a comfortable living even though he does not completely recover from the effects of his wound.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE SOLDIERS' SOCIETY

AMERICAN VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR START MOVE IN PARIS.

With the organization of an association of American veterans of the great war well under way as result of a recent convention in Paris of delegates from all A. E. F. units in France, plans are now being framed for the extension of the organization to enroll every soldier in the United States who served during the war. In pursuance of this purpose Major Eric Fisher Wood, temporary secretary of the American Legion, which is the title adopted by the new body, is in America to attend a convention of representatives of the soldiers who have returned home from France and those who served in the United States during the war. The meeting has been called for April 12.

Major Wood has with him a draft of the constitution adopted by the Paris caucus and an outline of the program for the furtherance of the organization's objects. In the Paris convention the committees selected were composed half of officers and half of enlisted men, and it is expected the same policy will be observed in the appointment of committees to organize the American section.

Permanent organization of the society is expected to be perfected next fall, when most or all of the men now serving in Europe will have returned to America. A convention will be held, probably at Chicago about Nov. 11, at which soldiers from every state and possession of the United States will be represented. The society, it is expected, will consist of a national organization with subsidiary branches for each state.

The purpose of the league, as outlined in the constitution at Paris, is "to perpetuate the principles of justice, freedom and democracy for which we have fought and to cement the ties of comradeship formed in service."

CLERGYMEN ENLIST IN LOAN CAMPAIGN

TO DO GOOD WORK FOR PROJECT IN EASTER SUNDAY SERMONS.

Clergymen to the number of about 20,000 and of every creed in existence will forget about denominational differences on Easter Sunday morning, when all will join hands in the common cause of endorsing the Victory Liberty loan.

Conscious of the splendid work they did in past Liberty loan campaigns, Chairman A. R. Rogers was extremely anxious to enlist their support again. With that end in view, he designated Easter as "Victory Liberty Loan Sunday" and in a letter sent broadcast to the clergymen of the district prayed their support. From the volume of answers that Mr. Rogers has received it might be said that his prayer has been answered.

"Nothing could be more appropriate than naming Easter as 'Victory Liberty Loan' Sunday," said Mr. Rogers. "Inasmuch as the loan campaign opens the next morning the clergymen's words should still be fresh in everyone's ears when the solicitors come around.

"The noble work the ministers did in the first four loan campaigns won the attention of official Washington and if they are with us again as the letters indicate, I haven't the slightest worry over the outcome of the campaign to put over the 'Loan of Thankfulness.'"

CLEAN-UP TO BE FOLLOWED BY TREE-PLANTING

CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS HEAD MOVEMENT FOR MORE BEAUTIFUL CITY.

STREETS IN COMPETITION

RESIDENTS MAKING THE BEST SHOWING WILL RECEIVE SILVER LOVING CUP.

As will be seen by the proclamation of Mayor G. A. Penney published elsewhere, every citizen of Thief River Falls is expected to do something to help beautify his home town. The week of May 5 to 12 has been designated as the proper time for getting rid of all unsightly and unhealthy nuisances which make their appearance every spring as soon as the snow covering is removed.

A Beautifying Campaign.

The Woman's club has taken the initiative in an effort to get more trees and shrubs planted about town. The ladies call their movement "A Follow-up Campaign for the Purpose of Beautifying and Improving the Streets and Avenues of the City." The idea is to not permit the good work to stop when the city is clean but to still further improve matters by planting trees, shrubs and flowers in places heretofore given over to weeds and employed as dumping grounds for refuse of all sorts.

Will Present Cup.

The Woman's club has also decided to offer a silver cup valued at $25 to the citizens of the street making the best showing in this campaign. The trophy will probably be displayed at the commercial club rooms and will have the name of the winning locality on it so that all who visit the rooms may be made aware of the enterprise of that particular neighborhood.

Will Consult Experts.

Those at the head of the campaign realize fully that much valuable time and energy is lost in undertakings of this kind because of the misdirected efforts of those who take part. For this reason it is proposed to follow a well defined plan. Florists and others who have had experience with the planting and growing of trees and flowers will be consulted and their advice generally followed. The city council will be asked to stipulate by resolution or ordinance just where trees shall be placed along thoroughfares in order that the proper alignment be maintained. In this manner whatever is done will be of some value, whereas if it were gone at haphazard the entire program might easily become more of a nuisance than a help.

For Waste Receptacles.

The council has also been requested to place refuse boxes at all downtown corners as receptacles for waste paper, fruit pealings, etc., and it is understood that the matter has already been given favorable consideration by the members.

Some Will Begin at Once.

Martin Bothun, the florist, will set a good example. He intends to turn the vacant space between his downtown store and the Soo depot into a flower garden which will greatly improve that part of Third street. Others have signified a willingness to do likewise with lots owned by them and there will be an interesting contest on between dwellers on different streets.

Committee in Charge.

County Agent J. J. McCann has been made chairman of the general committee and is assisted by the following: Mrs. L. G. Larsen, Mrs. H. O. Loken, Mrs. E. J. Richards, Rev. J. A. Orrock and G. W. Connell. The Commercial club will undoubtedly appoint a committee to assist in the work at the next regular meeting.

APPROPRIATES SUM FOR FLOWER BEDS

CITY COUNCIL SETS ASIDE $150 FOR USE ON AUDITORIUM GROUNDS.

The campaign launched by the Woman's club having for its purpose the beautifying of the city by the planting of flowers, shrubs and trees is endorsed by the city council. At the regular meeting on Tuesday evening the sum of $150 was appropriated for flower beds on the vacant lots on the south side of the Auditorium and Street Commissioner O. L. Bakken was ordered to have the lot plowed and put in shape for beds. Supt. Leonard Peterson of the light and water department, who was complimented on the appearance of the grounds surrounding the power house and water tower, was told to go ahead with the improvement of the premises and the cost would be attended to.

Mrs. L. G. Larson attended the meeting as a delegate from the Woman's club and explained the purpose of the campaign inaugurated by the club. The council members evidently liked the idea and there was every disposition to back the ladies up in any undertaking of the kind upon which they might wish to engage.

The council rushed all business through at the meeting, most of them evidently wishing to get away in time to see the senior class play. Pool and billiard licenses were granted to J. E. Cosgrove, W. F. Edgar, C. B. Bradley and John Legler. An application was received for a sewer along Third street from Arnold to Kinney avenues and the city engineer was ordered to make the survey.

Refuse receptacles were ordered placed at all downtown crossings, this having also been requested by the Woman's club.

Emil Zeh was reappointed a member of the park board and Bernt Wold is again special policeman, his duties to include that of dog catcher. City Clerk Akre was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of the necessary sidewalks during the season.

BUSINESS MAN IS APOPLEXY VICTIM

FRED ROTH DIES AFTER BEING UNCONSCIOUS FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

Fred Roth, prominent business man of this city and proprietor of the Vienna bakery, died early Friday morning. On the Monday evening previous he suffered a stroke of apoplexy and from that time until his death was unconscious almost continually. Deceased was born in Kentucky and at the time of his death was nearly 49 years of age.

Mr. Roth left Kentucky in his early years, spending some time at Cincinnati and Superior before coming west. He also spent some years at Wahpeton, N. D., and came to this city 14 years ago. While residing at Superior he was united in marriage to Miss Emma Krueger. Three children were born of this union: Wilbur, age 18; Louise, age 10, and Wesley, eight years of age. These children, together with the mother, are left to mourn the death of a devoted husband and father.

Deceased also is survived by two brothers and four sisters. They are William Roth, Madison, Ind.; Charles Roth, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Gus Zoeller, Indianapolis; Mrs. Grant Zoeller, Madison, Ind.; Mrs. Oscar Mehrkens, Cincinnati, and Miss Anna Roth, Madison, Ind. William Roth was the only one of these who could be present at the funeral, which was held Monday afternoon from the Presbyterian church with interment in Greenwood.

It is understood that the Vienna bakery will be closed and an effort made to dispose of the property. The family will, however, continue to make Thief River Falls their home.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS PUTS ON FINE PLAY

LARGE CROWD GREETS SENIORS AT TUESDAY NIGHT PERFORMANCE.

A packed house greeted the performance of "Green Stockings" by the Senior class at the auditorium Tuesday evening. The people came expecting something good and they were not disappointed. All are loud in their praise of the performance and agree that it was the best thing of its kind ever put on here. While all of the players performed their parts in an admirable manner, Miss Dorothy Miller, leading lady, deserves special mention. Her portrayal of a difficult role would put the finished professional actress in the shade. She played the part in a way which showed much natural talent in addition to careful preparation.

The high school orchestra furnished music during the evening. This organization showed up very well and the audience was highly gratified by the fine quality of music rendered. The young folks played the most difficult compositions with a smoothness and finish which was surprising.

Celia Faraday	Dorothy Mae Miller
Aunt Ida	Grace McCrum
Phyllis	Alice Hanson
Madgie (Mrs. Rockingham)	Phyllis Curtis
Evelyn (Lady Tranchard)	Evelyn Tessum
Colonel Smith	William Moravec
Mr. Wm. Faraday	Sverre Steen
Admiral Grice	George Mostue
Robert Tarver	Arthur Tvedt
Jimmy Raleigh	Bernard Barzen
Henry Steele	Andy Williamson
Martin (Servant)	Conrad Sundt

Mrs. C. A. Pitkin directed the play and its great success was in large measure due to her painstaking work.

GOOD SHOWING FOR FIRST DAY OF BOND SALE

PENNINGTON COUNTY PEOPLE BUY $200,000 WORTH OF THE SECURITIES.

TWO CITY WARDS GO OVER

GOODRIDGE IS ONLY TOWNSHIP TO SUBSCRIBE MORE THAN QUOTA.

Pennington county did not reach its Victory Loan quota on the first day of the campaign, but nevertheless made a most remarkable showing. It was the first time that bonds had been sold without personal solicitation and it was not always possible for the people, especially the farmers, to leave their work and go to headquarters for the purpose of signing up. They are right in the midst of a delayed seeding season and are not permitting anything to divert their attention from what is to them the main issue.

Two Wards Go Over.

The city of Thief River Falls, which was alloted an even hundred thousand dollars, was $12,250 short of this figure at the close of the first day in spite of the fact that two of the four wards went over the top. The First is the banner baliwick, subscribing $2,800 more than the requirements. The Third also did well, kicking in with $150 over its $20,000 allotment.

The Second and Fourth wards fell down, but the shortage will be made up without doubt as there is still quite a sum coming to these subdivisions out of the amount subscribed by the railroaders. Up to the present time the Second is short $9,300 while the Fourth will have to raise an additional $6,200 in order to keep its record spotless.

Began Buying Early.

In the city there was quite a rush during the early hours of Monday and the clerks were kept busy handing out cards. The First ward had pretty well covered its quota by noon and the others had secured the bulk of their subscriptions by that time.

Goodridge Township Wins.

Only one township in the county has so far reported itself over the top. This is Goodridge with an over-

Ditch Law is Ditched.

It is greatly feared by local people interested that the special ditch legislation proposed for northwestern Minnesota counties will not be passed at the present session of the legislature. The proposed law is intended to make provision for the large ditch deficits which exist in some of these counties, and which can not be satisfactorily handled under the present law. The bill had passed the committee and was placed on general orders some time ago but was recalled so as to incorporate into it remedial legislation affecting other counties. In the confusion of the last days of the legislature it is more than likely that it will be forgotten entirely, although there is still a remote hope that it may be resurrected from the debris and passed.

Rain and Colder.

Tuesday afternoon this section of the country was visited by a heavy rain, which was followed by cooler weather. Yesterday morning the ground was quite solidly frozen and overcoats were very much in evidence. Farm work has suffered somewhat of a setback on account of the unseasonable weather, although the moisture helped put the ground in better condition for growing crops.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

A committee has been appointed to promote a general cleanup of all streets, alleys, vacant lots and private places in our city.

This movement should receive the endorsement and support of all our citizens who are interested in the general appearance, health and public welfare of our community.

The week of May 5th to 12th has been set aside for this work, and I hereby request all our people to observe "Cleanup Week," and to direct their efforts and energy towards making our city as it should be—a clean and healthful place to live in.

G. A. PENNEY, Mayor.

BASEBALL SEASON FORMALLY OPENED

FIRST GAME PULLED OFF AT FAIR GROUNDS SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

The baseball season for 1919 was officially opened last Sunday afternoon when an interesting game was pulled off at the fair grounds. A team composed of young men employed in the mechanical department of the Soo met and defeated a similar aggregation from the city, which had been organized by Henry Holt of the Holt & George Plumbing and Heating company. The score at the end of the game stood 15 to 5 in favor of the Soo lads.

Considering the fact that the boys have had very little chance to practice, the game was a very good exhibition of the national pastime. Four home runs featured the performance, while two and three baggers were quite numerous. This showed that it will be necessary for the pitchers to do some practicing in order to make the ball more elusive. The game was comparatively free from errors and the large score was due entirely to heavy slugging by the Soo team.

Another game will be staged next Sunday afternoon between the same teams, while the boys will gather Saturday for practice. Some changes in the line-up may be decided upon at this time in order to strengthen the teams. Chas. Bartlett and Carl Norquist made up the battery for the Soo team, while the city boys tried out three pitchers, Holt, Granum and Johnson, with Nelson as catcher. The four home runs were pounded out by Froseth, Holt, Erickson and Polman.

FIRST AUTO THIEF IS DISAPPOINTED

MAKES HIS ESCAPE ALL RIGHT BUT SOON BREAKS DOWN.

The first attempt to steal an automobile reported in Thief River Falls this season was made about 10 o'clock last Saturday evening. A Ford car belonging to the Jonas family, residing on the East Side, was left standing in front of the Farmers and Merchants bank while the driver was attending to some business affairs. When he returned the car was gone.

The thief or thieves left no trace and would perhaps have gotten away with their booty had it not been that a breakdown occurred before they were safely outside the city limits. The steering gear went out of commission near Greenwood and the thieves did not care to be overtaken and asked for explanations. They consequently pushed the car into the bushes on the cemetery plot, where it was discovered the next morning.

Chief of Police E. O. Erickson stated that this should prove a warning to those who go away and leave their cars without taking every precaution to prevent strangers from starting them. While the city has been fortunate in this respect thus far this class of theft has given the police of other localities no end of trouble. It is far safer to employ some sort of locking devise on a car when it is left standing.

BIG BAND DANCE FRIDAY EVENING

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR SOCIAL AFFAIR OF SEASON.

The first big dance following the close of the Lenten season will be the grand ball given by the band boys at the auditorium on Friday evening of this week. Everything is in readiness for the greatest social event of the year and the large hall will undoubtedly be packed to capacity.

For some time the band boys have been in need of new uniforms and they have taken this means of raising money with which to purchase the needed equipment. The advance sale of tickets has been very good and prospects are that a nice sum will be realized from the dance. Uniforms are absolutely necessary at this time in order to make the band appear to the best advtantage and as the boys are anticipating a very busy summer season they are in a hurry to secure the new suits.

Music for the dance Friday evening will be furnished by the Cordes orchestra, which is sufficient guarantee of its excellence. The affair will be under capable management and all those who attend are promised a good time.

Restaurant Undergoes Changes.

A number of changes have been made in the interior of Stanton Brothers' restaurant on Third street during the past week. Among other things the lunch counter has been placed in the form of a square in the northwest corner of the room instead of running full length of the building as formerly. This makes more room in the front part, where three additional dining tables have been placed. The general appearance of the interior has been enhanced by new paper and paint, making it one of the neatest places in the city.

Arbor and Bird Day.

Gov. Burnquist by proclamation has designated Friday, April 25, as Arbor and Bird Day. The department of education recommends the due observance of this important occasion. The observance may consist of suitable literary and musical programs, constructing bird houses, planting trees and shrubs and otherwise beautifying the school grounds. James M. McConnell, Superintendent.

NEW CLOTHING STORE OPEN TO PUBLIC SOON

SATURDAY IS VISITOR'S DAY AT MOGENSEN'S MODERN EMPORIUM.

FINEST IN THIS SECTION

OWNER GIVES EVIDENCE OF FAITH IN FUTURE OF THIEF RIVER FALLS.

The general public is formally invited through the columns of The Times this week to be present at the opening of the new clothing store of E. O. Mogensen in the First National bank building. The new store will be open for business all day Saturday and the reception proper will be held between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock in the evening. Souvenirs have been provided for both ladies and gentlemen and Mr. Mogensen will make everyone welcome.

The invitation is extended to farmers particularly. The new store will carry a complete line of the goods generally needed by the man who tills the soil, there being no change in this respect from the policy followed by Mr. Mogensen since he first engaged in business here.

E. O. MOGENSEN

Is Beautifully Finished.

The store itself is without doubt the finest devoted exclusively to clothing and men's wear in this section of the state. The interior is finished throughout in quarter-sawed oak, mirrors and show cases being of plate glass. The show case posts are set in solid bronze cups and help set off the rich coloring of the wood. The mirrors are so arranged as to enable a person to look at himself from all angles and there are dressing rooms where he may fit himself out from head to foot.

Front is a Model.

While the interior of the store is an example of exceptional good taste and convenience, the exterior is perhaps even more noticeable. It is of solid plate glass put in with Zouri safety containers. The base is of Verdi marble with antique copper trimmings. Prism glass is employed in all transoms and the window backing is of plate glass set in bronze with quarter-sawed oak trimmings. The lightning system is the X-Ray reflecting type with nitro lamps. This is so arranged that there is no glare fro mthe windows, at the same time showing the goods these contain to the best advantage.

Shows Commendable Enterprise.

The expense entailed in making an improvement of this kind is large and Mr. Mogensen's willingness to incur it shows he has a firm faith in the future of the city he has chosen as his home. It will be his aim to carry a stock that will meet the requirements of all classes of people, farmer and town-dweller alike, and all will be made equally welcome.

The work of remodeling the store has been carried on under the personal supervision of Contractor L. D. McAdams, who has seen to it that not a single detail has been overoverlooked.

MANY SOLDIERS ON THEIR WAY HOME

BOYS WITH RAINBOW DIVISION WILL BE IN NEW YORK APRIL 28.

Before the next issue of The Times reaches the readers it is probable that the Pennington county boys with the 151st artillery of the Rainbow division will have arrived in New York. They are scheduled to be in New York on the 28th, which is nearly two weeks sooner than previously announced. Two Thief River Falls boys are with this famous unit—Hardy Bothun and Harold Provencher. The twin cities are preparing to give the outfit a great welcome and there will be people present from all over the Northwest.

Among the recent arrivals in New York from France are noted H. J. Blomberg of this county, a member of the 346th machine gun battalion, and Corp. F. J. Hardesty, 409th telegraph battalion, both of whom landed on the 18th. They are expected home within a few days now.

The St. Hilaire Spectator announces that Gust Akerlund returned this week after being mustered out of the service. Gust has had some exciting experiences since leaving his home. At first he was ill at camp, later he was on a torpedoed boat in the English Channel, and after landing in France was in a town raided by German airplanes. He was gassed while in the trenches and also received a bullet wound in one hip.

G. S. Wilson of headquarters company, 312th infantry, landed in New York on the 17th, being among those who came over on the Saxonia.

MORE MONEY FOR FAIR STRUCTURE

TOTAL OF $2,130 HAS BEEN RAISED IN THIEF RIVER FALLS.

The committee recently named by the Commercial club to solicit funds to aid in the construction of a new live stock pavilion at the fair grounds, this week completed its work. The committee was composed of the following gentlemen: John Bratrud, chairman; W. W. Prichard, Jr., and John Morgan.

While the sum raised was not as large as that secured by a committee representing the Merchants association which recently canvassed the city, the showing is very gratifying. The city now has pledged $2,130 toward the project, divided as follows: The four banks, $550; Merchants association, $910, and the Commercial club, $670.

Below is given a list of the donors in the latest drive: Winton-Nichols Lumber company, $75; Chas. E. Kiewel, Crookston, $50; Aga's Garage, $25; Nortz Lumber company, $25; T. P. Anderson, $25; Adolf Eklund, $25; John Gullingsrud, $5; Leonard Peterson, $10; H. W. Froehlich, $25; Theo. Quale, $25; F. J. Stebbins, $25; A. J. Lawrence, $25; Lawrence Mortgage company, $25; Jung Brothers, $25; A. J. Berry, $25; G. A. Penney, $10; E. M. Stanton, $5; N. J. Anderson, $25; American Drainage company, $25; Mellby & Paulson, $25; Thief River Grocery company, $50; John Bratrud, $25; G. W. Booren, $5; Hotel Evelyn, $10; M. N. W. Electric Ry., company, $25; T. P. Hamre, $5; H. E. Holt, $5; Wilhelm Michelet, $5; Jas. Cosgrove, $10; J. P. Curtis, $5; The Brumund Hotel, $10. Total, $670.

NEW DEPARTMENT FOR CITY SCHOOLS

KINDERGARTEN WILL BE ADDED WHEN FALL TERM OPENS.

The school board of District No. 18 has decided to add a kindergarten to the school facilities of Thief River Falls with the opening of the fall term next September. There has been a general demand that such action be taken and the movement will be generally approved.

At the present time there are no facilities for a department of this kind, but it is the intention of the board to see that this defect is remedied as soon as possible. There is one room in the Central building that may be made available with very little trouble and the same is true of the Knox building. At the outset it will be the intention to hold half day sessions for the little folks in each of these two schools, thus making it possible for one teacher to care for both. By the time the spring term opens it is hoped that kindergarten may be established for both the East and West Side of the city. Miss A. Viola Nepper, a kindergarten teacher of experience, at present in charge of one of the rooms at the Central, has been selected to look after the new department.

W. A. Ziegler, the newly appointed superintendent, was in the city on Friday for the purpose of conferring with the board. He stated that in his opinion there would be no difficulty in securing teachers to fill all vacancies. His connection with the university during the past year has placed him in a position to know where capable instructors are to be found and this matter has ceased to be a problem.

Mr. Ziegler met all the present teachers on this trip and was assured by a large number that they would be pleased to return for another season.

Start Work on Bridge.

Much of the preliminary work in building the new bridge over Red Lake river at Kratka has already been completed. Most of the material is on the ground and considerable piling has been driven so that in a short time everything will be in readiness for erecting the superstructure. The Minneapolis Bridge company, for whom Isak Holseth is the local manager, has the contract for the construction of the bridge, and the promise is made that it will be ready for use on schedule time.

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD FOR FINE CROP THIS YEAR

SEEDING STARTED IN EARNEST THE LATTER PART OF LAST WEEK.

WHEAT ACREAGE GREATER.

SPELL OF BAD WEATHER TEMPORARILY RETARDS FARMERS' WORK.

Pennington county is going to do her share in the matter of crop production this year if present indications can be taken as a criterion. Prospects are good for a bumper crop in spite of the late spring and unfavorable weather of the past few days. Last week saw the beginning of spring seeding and on Saturday farmers in all parts of the county were busy in the fields planting spring rye and wheat. Many of them worked all day Sunday in order to take advantage of the beautiful weather then prevailing, with the result that a large part of these crops were in the ground before the rain struck this section Tuesday afternoon.

Temporarily Retarded.

Since Tuesday the weather has been cold and damp, keeping the farmer from doing further seeding. According to County Agent J. J. McCann, this weather will not harm the seed already in the ground but will of course retard farm work while it lasts. Rye and wheat will lie unharmed for a considerable length of time under present conditions, and cool weather also is beneficial for these grains later on, tending to make them stool out and producing a better stand. Oats in the ground now would fare badly but as far as known none of this has yet been seeded.

Increased Acreage Seen.

A larger acreage of wheat will be sown in Pennington county this year than ever before and conditions appear to be favorable for a good crop. More flax also will be planted than last year, it being the intention of many farmers to break up new land for this purpose. Tractors by the dozen have been acquired by Pennington county farmers for the season and much of the heavy farm work will be done by this means.

Corn and oats will not be planted more extensively than last year, while the barley acreage will be decidedly smaller. Potatoes, on the other hand, appear to get a big boost in the county this year and many farmers are figuring on doubling and tripling their acreage over former years.

Clover and Alfalfa.

According to County Agent McCann, who has investigated the crops on many farms, clover and alfalfa never stood a better chance than now of producing bumper crops. These, together with rye planted last fall, are considered nearly 100 per cent perfect at the present time. More fields of these crops are now in evidence than ever before, due to the demands of farmers who are engaging heavily in the dairy business. Clover and alfalfa have ceased to be an experiment in this country and farmers have come to consider them staple crops which rarely fail to yield the limit.

Quite a number of farmers are working toward certified potato seed this year. This is done through three inspections of the tubers—one before planting, one at blossoming and the third after digging in the fall. A. T. Tolaas of the state experiment farm will be here May 2 and 3 for the purpose of giving tubers their first inspection.

Plant More to Acre.

County Agent McCann wishes to impress upon farmers the importance of planting more wheat to the acre when it is sown late in the season, due to the fact that it does not stool out so well when it comes up during quite warm weather. Under those conditions each seed produces only one slender stalk, while in cooler weather the plant stools out and produces a number of stalks.

Boys Have Reunion.

Ray Pope of the postoffice force, this week received a letter from his former colaborator in Uncle Sam's service, Walter Smith, who is at present stationed at Romorontin, France. He is with an engineering division.

According to Private Smith there was a regular reunion of Thief River Falls boys at Romorontin about the time the letter was written. Four of them came together at one time, which is something rather unusual. The first one to appear was Jordan Penney, who had been sent there to deliver a truck, being a mechanic in the transportation division. After a good visit the two young fellows started to look up Tom Lonson, who they understood was in the vicinity. They found him all right and also stumbled onto Ed Dahl of St. Hilaire. The latter attended high school in Thief River Falls and was well known to the others. It is safe to say that there was quite considerable visiting going on in that neighborhood for awhile.

NEW COMPANY BUYS ELEVATOR AT GOODRIDGE

TAKES OVER COMPLETE PLANT FORMERLY OPERATED BY A. B. MANDT.

CAPITALIZED AT $25,000

STOCK HELD MOSTLY BY FARMERS OF EASTERN PENNINGTON COUNTY.

Articles of incorporation of the Goodridge Farmers Elevator and Milling company have been filed with the secretary of state and the new concern will be ready to begin business as soon as the necessary legal preliminaries have been attended to.

The company is capitalized at $25,000 with a liability limit of $200,000. The principal offices will be at Goodridge and the following have been elected by the stockholders as the first board of directors: A. B. Mandt, O. N. Urdahl, Stuart McLeod, Emil Grams, O. E. Parnow. The stock is divided into 250 shares of a par value of $100 each.

Buy Complete Plant.

There has for some time been rumors of another elevator at Goodridge, the general opinion being that the farmers of the neighborhood would put in a cooperative plant. It has been decided, however, to purchase the elevator heretofore conducted by A. B. Mandt in the village, Mr. Mandt remaining with the company as one of the heaviest stockholders. The price paid for the property by the new corporation is $9,600.

Fuel and Products.

According to the articles of incorporation the company is not limited to the handling of grain, but may also deal in fuel and farm products. As the name indicates, the milling of flour and grinding of grain may at a later date be added as a part of the company's business.

Farmers Are Interested.

Every stockholder in the new company is a resident of eastern Pennington county, the business men of Goodridge being particularly in evidence. Outside of these and Mr. Mandt the stock is owned by farmers of the neighborhood, practically all of the incorporators being engaged in agricultural pursuits. Their names and places of residence are as follows:

Goodridge—A. B. Mandt, O. N. Urdahl, John M. Johnson, P. P. Palmer, John J. Stenvik, L. P. Poppenhagen, Stuart McLeod, Nicoly Urdahl, Oliver Rezan, Rufus R. Johnson, Theo. Gilbertson, G. Gunderson, Carl Lindstrom, N. K. Dahl, Palmer O. Tvedt, R. H. McDonald, Sever Anderson, Julius Stephenson, Anton Knudson, Henry Lien.

Erie—C. O. Elg, O. E. Parnow, Enid Grams, S. O. Presteguard, Olof O. Kompolien, H. K. Bjorneraa, Ole O. Sundsdahl, J. K. Enebo, Peder M. Olson, Oluf O. Omlid, James Ramsey, Elev Aakre, Hans Fjeld, Tom Belland, Gilbert O. Vraa, A. W. Hanson.

Highlanding—A. T. Olson, John T. Nelson, H. Eliason, J. T. Homme.

Hazel—O. O. Hafdal.

Kratka—Torjus Hemmestvedt, Jr.

Prospects Are Good.

There is no doubt but that the new elevator company will be a success from the beginning. Investing their money in this manner shows that the business men and farmers have faith in the future of the section and are willing to back their judgment. The number of actual farmers interested in the enterprise will insure its securing a large share of business at the outset.

The people in the eastern end of the county are displaying commendable enterprise in thus providing themselves with the necessary facilities for caring for the products of their farms. The cooperative creamery opened for business last year has proven a great success and they look forward to their elevator venture being as fortunate.

A GRIPPING STORY OF THE GREAT WAR

THE TIMES SUPPLYING ITS READERS WITH ONLY AUTENTIC ACCOUNT.

There is one feature of the late war concerning which but little is known although it forms one of the most interesting chapters of the entire four years' conflict. This is the Galipola campaign which turned out so unsatisfactory for the allies.

An absorbing story of the campaign is given in the History of the Great War now being offered by The Thief River Falls Times with a year's subscription and one dollar extra. This offer places this invaluable history within the reach of all.

Chapter 16 of the book is almost entirely given over to an account of the sinking of the Lusitania. It shows how the submarine murderers were lying in wait for this particular boat and how the charge that munitions of war were being carried was an absolute falsehood. The historian maintains that medals for the men on the submarine had been struck even before the Lusitania was sunk, proving that the crime was premeditated.

A most interesting account is given of the great Verdun battle where von Falkenheyn and the crown prince left forever their reputations as soldiers. The true story of Edith Cavell and Capt. Fryatt is here given together with account of the Zeppelin raids against England and France.

The authentic record of the work of the American soldiers is given. The tale of how a few of these men jumped into the breach below Amiens when the British commander ordered his men to retreat is one of the most inspiring in American military annals. The St. Mihiel and Chateau-Thierry campaigns are described with a wealth of detail which shows how every unit acquitted itself in the face of the most desperate opposition.

The 736 pages of the book are full of the most interesting reading matter and the work is regarded so highly that it is being used as a text book in the schools.

Anyone who does not take advantage of The Times' exceptional offer will have much cause to regret it. The history alone is selling everywhere for $2.75, in the cheapest kind of binding while The Times offers the book and the paper for one year for $3.00.

Anyone who has not yet placed their order for one of these books should do so before they are all gone.

Enjoyable Band Concert.

The city band gave a very enjoyable concert Sunday afternoon on the vacant lots north of the First National bank. The music attracted a large number of people, who showed their appreciation by frequent applause. These open air concerts are to be a regular thing during the spring and summer months and some very good programs are in preparation by Bandmaster Cordes and his lads. With the new uniforms which it is the intention to purchase in the near future, and with the diligent practice which the boys have been put through during the past few months, Thief River Falls will have a band second to none in this section of the state.

COOPER TO PROVE FAMOUS THEORIES

HIS REMARKABLE MEDICINE ACCOMPLISHING WONDERS IN LEADING CITIES.

Referring to the visit to Minneapolis and other Western cities of Mr. L. T. Cooper, the millionaire philanthropist and lecturer, who has commanded such wide-spread interest in the East with his health theories and celebrated medicine, Tanlac, E. C. Harris, his representative recently said in Minneapolis:

"Thousands of the most prominent people in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, San Francisco, Portland, Salt Lake City, Detroit, Louisville, Dallas, Atlanta, Memphis and other cities, where his celebrated medicine has been accomplishing such remarkable results, are even more enthusiastic over Tanlac than Mr. Cooper himself.

"As previously stated Mr. Cooper contends that nine-tenths of the disease and ill-health of the average person is due to a catarrhal condition which produces faulty digestion and improper assimilation of the food."

In a recent interview Mr. Cooper was asked if Tanlac would relieve kidney trouble, liver complaint, rheumatism and a dozen other ailments, and in this connection said:

"As I have repeatedly said, my medicine acts directly on the mucous membrane, stomach and blood, expelling from them the impurities and toxic poisons, and rendering to them a strong, healthy condition. I am convinced that the stomach regulates the condition of the blood and is the fountain head of health or disease, as the case may be. My medicine is intended primarily for the regulation of the stomach and correction of catarrhal inflamation, but it is no uncommon thing for persons who have used it to come to me and explain that it has relieved them of rheumatism, and many other ailments, not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach trouble.

"The ingredients or medicinal elements which make Tanlac, come from many remote sections of the earth—the Alps, the Pyrenees, Russian Asia, West Indies, mountain states near the Rocky Mountains, Mexico, and Peru are among the points from which the principal parts of the preparations are obtained. In the principal laboratory of the Tanlac Company, under the efficient direction of a chemist of note these medicinal herbs, roots and barks are assembled in the rough and painstakingly developed so as to attain that high standard of efficiency shown by the uniform preparation—Tanlac."

Oscar Cerny Returns.

Oscar Cerny returned to this city last Friday morning from Camp Dodge, where he had been in the army for 16 months. Oscar received his discharge and is through with war for the present at least. Due to the fact that he is an experienced mechanic, Oscar was not assigned to the regular service but was kept at Camp Dodge from the time of his induction until his release, most of the time being engaged as plumber and pipe fitter. After visiting at his home for a while, Oscar plans on going to the Twin Cities to obtain employment.

Accidentally Kills Saister.

Hazel M. Kropp, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Kropp of Louisville township, Red Lake county, was instantly killed last week by the accidental discharge of a .22 caliber rifle in the hands of her brother, 15 years old. The boy had recently received a cheap rifle from a publishing house in return for his efforts in securing subscribers, and he was playing with his new possession when the gun went off, sending a bullet through the brain of the little girl. Death was instantaneous, according to Coroner W. O. Tessier, who was called to view the case.

THEY ALL WANT BETTER STREETS.

Greenbush Tribune: Thief River Falls, Warren and other county seat towns throughout the northern part of the state are urging street paving strongly. Why does not Roseau let out a little peep on the same question. When autos can mire on their main street this time of year, and at other times of the year as well, it is time to talk about good streets. Roseau's streets are a disgrace to the county. Greenbush has natural paved streets so we are spared that expense.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: Warren and Thief River Falls are agitating street paving in the business sections. This spring has been an exceptionally bad one as regards muddy roads and streets and the poor thoroughfares have emphasized the need for paving. While paving is an expensive proposition, it is the cheapest form of street maintenance in the long run. Here in Red Lake Falls where our main business street has a fine drainage, there has been some 300 cubic yards of gravel placed this spring, and it surely is a great improvement. Next to a paved street, a graveled one is the best thing going. The day is coming when all our principal streets will be graveled and in first rate condition every day in the year.

Why Putter With Corns? Use "Gets-It"

Common-Sense, Simple, Never Fails.

You can tear out your corns and suffer, or you can peel off your corns and smile. The joy-peeling way is the "Gets-It" way. It is the only happy, painless way in the world. Two drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus dries at once. The corn finally loosens off from the toe, so that you can peel it off with your fingers in one piece, painlessly, like peeling a banana. "Great stuff, wish I'd done that before." There's only one corn-peeler—"Gets-It." Toes wrapped up big with tape and bandages, toes squirming from irritating salves, it's all a barbarity. Toes wounded by razors and knives, that's butchery, ridiculous, unnecessary, dangerous. Use "Gets-It," the liberty way—simple, painless, always sure. Take no chances. Get "Gets-It." Don't be insulted by imitations. See that you get "Gets-It."

"Get the Drop" on That Corn—Use "Gets-It" and the Corn is a "Goner"!

The Policy of The Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)

It is the policy of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to conduct its business in fairness to all: to the consumer, to the employe, to the stockholder and to the competitor.

To deal fairly with the consumer by manufacturing the best petroleum products, distributing them widely and selling them at lowest prices.

To deal fairly with the employe by giving him steady work, compensating him liberally, and as far as possible, insuring him against unemployment.

To deal fairly with the competitor by standing squarely on the broad, general principle of live and let live—by maintaining open prices and never deviating from them.

The Standard Oil Company knows that, by reason of its refining and distribution facilities, and the service it renders to customers, it has no need to disorganize the market to get its fair share of the business. That is all it expects and wants.

It is because of adherence to these general policies that the Company has prospered, and the Directors have been able to give a creditable accounting of their trusteeship to the 4623 stockholders who have their money invested in the Company.

The finest and most up-to-date establishment of its kind in Northwestern Minnesota

Saturday, April 26, 1919

This Store, the most complete in every detail of any in this section, will be open for business on the above date. A public reception will be held from 8 until 10 o'clock in the evening. We hereby extend a cordial invitation to everyone to assist in this housewarming, asssuring the public that we will do everything in our power to make their visit worth while.

There Will Be Souvenirs of the Occasion for Both Ladies and Gentlemen

The opening of a store of this kind in Thief River Falls means the outlay of a large sum of money and could only have been warranted by a firm faith in the future of the city and section. We believe our people are entitled to and will appreciate the best there is to be had and that even a venture so unusual for a city the size of Thief River Falls will prove a great success.

Out-of-Town Visitors. A particular invitation is extended to residents of the farming sections to be present at this opening. No one will be expected to make any purchases at this time, but we shall be pleased to meet them and show them what we have provided for their benefit.

The Most Complete Store. Our ambition is to carry a line which will meet the requirements of all classes of citizens. The city dweller will here find the class of goods best adapted to his needs, while the farmer may be certain of finding what is required for his use. Whatever the article wanted it will be the best to be had at the price paid.

The Fixtures are the finest to be found in this entire section and are so arranged as to give the best opportunity for displaying the goods offered. The aim has been to provide a setting that will in every way be expressive of the quality of merchandise handled.

The New Stock. The goods have been arriving during the past week and will be in place when the hour for the opening arrives. It is absolutely certain that nothing better can be shown any place in the country. The goods are all of standard manufacture---the kind into which the reputation of the manufacturer is woven as well as that of the store.

This is your invitation to be present at the opening of the finest men's store in the Northwest

THE COST OF PAVING.

Nearly every city of any size in the Northwest is undertaking more or less street paving this year. For this reason it is an easy matter to ascertain approximately what the cost of this kind of work is under present circumstances. Grand Forks has been doing a lot of paving and as the laws of North Dakota with regard to meeting the cost of work of this kind differ but little from those of Minnesota, a very good idea of what the expense would be is gained by a study of the situation in the neighboring town. The following is taken from the Grand Forks Herald and will answer many of the questions asked by citizens of Thief River Falls:

"The movement which has been inaugurated for the pavement of several of the residence streets of Grand Forks has naturally prompted much discussion of the subject of street paving, and everything in relation thereto. The questions most frequently asked relate to the probable cost and the manner of payment. That there may be as little misunderstanding as possible the main facts may be repeated here. The most recent work of this kind in the city was done on Belmont and Vernon avenues. The material used there was concrete, and that seems to be the practially unanimous choice of the property owners in the proposed new districts. The work was done in war times, when the general scale of prices had reached a high point. The cost per lot included the cost of laying sidewalk, with which most of the property was unprovided. Practicaly all of the property included in the proposed new districts is supplied with sidewalk, hence it seems probable that the cost of the work proposed now will not exceed that of the work done two years ago. The total cost of that improvement was $175.50 per 25-foot inside lot. The property owner could pay this at one time if he wished. Or he could permit the cost to run in the form of 20-year bonds bearing 6 per cent, one twentieth of the principal being retired each year, with interest paid yearly on the remainder. The property owner may pay the remaining principal at any time, and thus stop all future interest payments."

Taking it for granted that the expense of paving in Thief River Falls will be no greater than at Grand Forks, these figures mean that there would be an annual payment of $8.77 for each 25 foot inside lot, providing concrete is the material employed. This seems to be the kind of pavement most generally favored as it has been proven to be best adapted to this latitude.

But the owner of the property would not have to shoulder all of this expense. In fact renters of business blocks have signified their willingness in many cases to stand for an increase in rents sufficient to cover the extra yearly outlay. The money would mean but little to them while the benefits to be derived by reason of improved streets would be inestimable. Take for instance a man occupying a store with a fifty foot front. The cost of paving in front of his place would be $17.74 each year for 20 years. In case this were added to the rent it would mean less than $1.50 per month. Ask any merchant if he would be willing to pay this much more in rent providing the streets were paved. The owner would not be out one cent while his property would be increased very materially in value.

Paving is not such a serious matter under present conditions.

DO IT NOW.

(Reprinted from Manufacturers Record.)

Have you been planning to build a church, a factory, a school, a home or even a garage?

Has your community felt the need of improving its streets, its roads, its municipal buildings, its water or light sewerage systems?

Have you planned to improve or modernize your plant?

Then, DO IT NOW!

Don't wait on somebody else, don't wait to see if you can get the last bottom notch in prices. Don't wait to see if labor, struggling to find a job, can be squeezed down to accept a few cents or a few dollars less per day.

Don't wait, in order to help break down prices of materials as well as of labor, but whatever needs to be done, if the money is available, "DO IT NOW!"

Do it is a part of your work of patriotism, content to write off a little extra cost if that should become necessary. Perchance this may never be necessary.

You owe it to civilization against Bolshevism, you owe it to the soldiers who have offered their lives for you, to do all in your power to create employment, if that employment is in productive things which mean permanency.

Economically it would be unsound to create employment in building a house in order to tear it down later on, but if the house is needed, if the plant will be benefited by new equipment, if the church or the school or the municipal improvement has been delayed by the war, take up the work at once and push it through.

Employment is a deadly foe to Bolshevism. Profitable wages make for sobriety, integrity and patriotism.

Upon the active, aggressive work of men of broad vision, men who dare to do things for world welfare while working for personal advancement, men who are not narrow and niggardly in their vision, will depend the future of our country and of civilization.

Then, if financially able, let your policy be "on with your work!" You owe a responsibility to the world.

DO IT NOW and you will be wise in your day and generation.

HELP BEAUTIFY THE CITY.

With the Woman's club, Commercial club, city council and citizens generally working together in an effort to make Thief River Falls a more pleasant and healthful place in which to dwell, the results will be little short of astounding. This movement has gotten away to a wonderfully good start and it should be the business of everyone to see that the interest is kept up.

The members of the city council showed that they fully appreciate the importance of this campaign at the meeting Tuesday night. An appropriation was voted to be expended on improving the grounds in the vicinity of the auditorium, while refuse boxes were ordered in on all downtown crossings. That is a fine start.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The Crookston Times stated that every time cycle paths were agitated, it rained, and every time paving was brought up for consideration, it dried up. It seems the weather man was slightly ornery twenty years ago, and many are of the opinion that he hasn't changed much since then.

Einer, son of D. B. Bakke, died at Newfolden, aged 17 years. He was an unsually bright and active young man and was highly respected by the entire community.

Capt. Buhse purchased the tract of land north of the old North Spring mill, with the intention of converting it into a dock for boating purposes.

S. L. Lawson, an architect from Grand Forks, was engaged to draw plans for the Odd Fellows block to be built on LaBree avenue and Second street.

The river was entirely open to Red Lake and steamboats were already running in full blast.

Lightning struck the residence of O. P. Johnson and caused damage to the extent of about $100.

A champion wrestler struck the city and a match was arranged. He was to throw any five men in a given length of time, and everything went well until he reached the third man, which happened to be Gilbert Haavi, who flopped the professional on his back in the twinkling of an eye. It was the opinion of many that Gilbert was the coming wrestling champion of the Northwest.

Ten Years Ago.

Bonds for the erection of a new armory were voted by a majority of 75 at the election held for the purpose. About 500 votes were cast on the proposition.

According to John H. Ley, who had completed the first directory for the city, Thief River Falls had a population of about 5,000. This estimate was based in the usual manner on the number of names appearing in the directory.

People of the city favored public ownership of the telephone system, as indicated by a straw vote which carried about three to one in favor of the proposition. Nothing further ever came of the matter.

K. A. Sundahl expressed his intention of building a new garage and auto repair shop. He and his brother had been engaged in the auto livery business here for a year or more.

Surveyors were at work on the projected new Soo road between this city and Duluth and it was expected construction work would begin in a short time.

James Bulman handed in his resignation as deputy sheriff. He intended to go to Prince Albert, Canada, for the purpose of engaging in the lumber business.

Waste Places Can Be Made Beauty Spots

(By Mrs. L. G. Larsen.)

With the end of the year the gloom of a war-weary world has passed. The hearts of all humanity thrill in unison with nature as she breaks forth to a glorious new season, the nation will go over the top in this last loan, not for victory, but the fruits of victory. The world has become a brighter and a happier place in which to live.

In order to reflect this feeling by brightening and beautifying our city, the Woman's club has offered a silver loving cup and several other prizes for this work. No man is too high or too low to garden, so why not each and every one of us aim to make our city a hundred-fold more beautiful than it has ever been.

A few cents invested in seeds will do wonders. Cover up the unsightly places with such rapid climbers as the wild cucumber, the Morning Glory or the Scarlet Runner, or hide them behind tall Sunflowers, Hollyhocks or English Delphiniums. There are certain flowers which will thrive almost anywhere with proper care, such as Gladiolus bulbs, Nasturtiums, Asters, Poppies, Verbenas, Snapdragons, Portulacca, Feverfew and Sweet Peas. By starting many seeds in boxes early in April and transplanting as soon as weather permits a variety of early flowers can be had.

A great deal of satisfaction can be had from year to year by the expenditure of a few dollars in herbaceous perennials such as Peonies both double and single, Sweet William, Coreopsis, Anchusa, Irises and Columbine, all of which by good mulching in the fall, will withstand our severest winters. These with the Spirea, Snowball and a few such hardy shrubs will give us an endless amount of pleasure.

Flowers will not thrive and grow without care and attention any more than will a child. Results cannot be attained by merely putting in the seeds or roots and then forgetting their existence. Weeding, hoeing and thoro watering are as essential for them as for the vegetable garden.

Let us then all work together to make our grounds a revelation of beauty, which is the outward expression of nature whose charm lies in the fact that its secrets are never quite revealed. The glory of spring is one of promise—the awakening of life followed by the fuller foliage of June, which draws its curtain of green over the entire landscape, changing, as summer enfolds it, into deep masses of color—glorious splashes of paint from the brush of the master painter, so lavish in the production of beauty which is free to all who wish to see.

Miss Lillian Brabender, who has been attending business college at Grand Forks for some time, arrived in this city Saturday morning to visit at her home over Easter.

Mulry Improving.

W. H. Mulry, who has been confined to his bed for some time following an operation for appendicitis, is now able to be up and around. He expects to be able to come down town within a few days.

Only One Delinquent.

County Superintendent of Schools George M. Gunderson this week made a report to County Attorney Theo. Quale of pupils in the county who have been delinquent in school attendance during the past term. Only one such case has come to the notice of the superintendent, this being a boy 14 years of age residing east of the city. This is a very good record considering the large number of children of school age in the county and the distance some of them live from school.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for the beautiful floral gifts and the many acts of kindness, also the sympathy shown us during the recent illness and death of our beloved husband, father and brother.—Mrs. Fred Roth and Children, Mr. Wm. C. Roth. a24p

Which Road?

There are two roads in life. One leads to a quagmire of nothingness. The other leads to success. Both are lined with signposts to show the wary travler in which direction he is moving. But many people go along, their eyes on the sky, on the ground, or unseeing in dreamland, never noticing that they are advancing on the wrong highway. Do you know which road you are traveling? The end of one will find you empty-handed. The end of the other will find you with funds for a sunny opportunity—with War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds working for you at good interest. Here are the signposts on the two roads:

Spendthrift Road	Thrift Road.
"This is on me."	"What is the price of this?"
"One more of the same."	"One will do."
"Lend me five."	"The walk will do me good."
"Charge this."	"No, thank you."
"Here, boy."	"I can't afford it."
"Where do we go from here?"	"Give me your best price."
"Let's have another round."	"I'll carry this."
"You can go home any time."	"I promised my wife."
"Your money's no good."	"I need the money."
"The sky's the limit."	"Let me pay my share."
"I'm paying for six."	"I can get along without this."
"Don't be a piker."	"I'll get it as I need it."
"It's all in a lifetime."	"Is it worth seeing?"
"More where this came from."	"A penny is as good in my pocket."

This Is

Mina Taylor Dress Week

AT LOKEN'S

Mina Taylor

The new Mina Taylor styles for Spring are here!

To you who have made the acquaintance of Mina Taylor Dresses, we don't need to say another word. Because you know from experience all their good qualities and you'll be eager to come early to make your selection from the new models.

And for the woman to whom "Mina Taylor" is making her bow for the first time, there is a delightful experience in store. You'll enjoy looking through the selection of frocks on display—and you'll enjoy even more wearing one of these smart cleverly designed dresses.

Mina Taylor Dresses

"Full of Infinite Variety"

There is a Mina Taylor Dress for every activity. There are darker, strictly "service" frocks that are just the garb for mornings when you have a lot to do about the house. Trim, comfortable, attractive, they're proof positive that workaday clothes can be goodlooking.

And there are Mina Taylors for all kinds of dainty uses, too. For afternoons on the porch with your sewing, a visit to a friend, an auto ride or a picnic, every occasion is a good reason for one of these fascinating frocks.

Mina Taylor Dresses express your own taste and personality—they're "individual" dresses. They're a pleasure to wear, they're so comfortable and dainty and they "do up" perfectly—that great requisite of ideal summer wear. After you've once worn them, you'll understand why Mina Taylors are such "likeable" dresses.

Prepare for Warm Weather

A refrigerator in summer is almost as necessary as heat in winter. The housewife knows how easy it is for food products to become unfit for use unless properly kept and will welcome a refrigerator in the home more than anything else.

We have a particularly fine assortment this spring and the prices are not high. We invite you to look them over.

At the same time ask to see our kitchen cabinets. These are the two pieces of furniture made especially to lighten the work of the housewife and their purchase is the truest kind of economy.

FARM BUREAU NOW HAS OVER 200 MEMBERS

VALUE OF SERVICE SHOWN IN MANY WAYS DURING PAST YEAR.

Permanency is Assured.

FARMERS NOW REALIZE IMPORTANCE OF KEEPING INSTITUTION GOING.

The Pennington County Farm Bureau association has been in operation only a little over a year, but has already demonstrated its value so completely that any suggestion that it be discontinued would be voted down almost unanimously. And some of the men who would shout the loudest for its continuance were among those who did not take particularly kindly to the innovation in the first place. They were inclined to question the contention that a young man from another section of the country could come up here and tell them how to farm.

Started Out Well.

At the outset it was evidently the intention of everyone to give the bureau a fair show and then, if it did not produce the desired or promised results, to permit it to die for lack of support. No sooner had the organization been placed on a business footing, however, than it was demonstrated that a vast amount of help might be expected by those who needed its assistance. The directors were fortunate in securing the services of an exceptional young man as executive agent and this good luck has continued. When death removed Ross P. White from the head of affairs the effect was a temporary setback in the work of the bureau. The vacancy was filled by the selection of another live wire in the person of Lieut. J. J. McCann and business is now progressing as if there had been no interruption.

Every Section Represented.

The Farm Bureau association is the most representative body in the county, the membership including the best and most progressive men in every community. Every member takes a lively interest in the success of the organization and is convinced that it is one of the really valuable institutions of the community. Such being the case, the second year of operation should show even more satisfactory results.

Over 200 Members.

The bureau has at present a membership of 206 and this is steadily being added to. The city of Thief River Falls has the largest number of members, being credited with 76, but as many of these are farmers who simply gave the city as their postoffice address, the number of urbanites belonging is actually much smaller. St. Hilaire comes next in the membership list with 38, quite a number of whom are dwellers in the village itself. For this reason it is probable that the Wylie neighborhood has the best representation. There are 38 members credited to that settlement, which goes to show that the people there take a decided interest in better farming methods.

The list of members, according to the books of Agent McCann, together with their postoffice address, is as follows:

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

"Granny" Chamberlain

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

Yours for Health — Granny Chamberlain

The Effect of By-Products on Food and Livestock Prices

If a thousand-pound steer could be used for nothing but its food parts, its meat, sold at regular prices, would not bring what the steer cost. If its three hundred and fifty pounds of inedible parts were thrown away, either producers would have to take lower prices for animals or consumers would have to pay more for food.

Hence, Armour and Company must find a way to use and sell every ounce of all livestock.

One of the fundamental benefits of big business is that it has the resources to make scientific investigations in developing new products and the organization to sell them when they have been developed.

There is more imposed upon us than merely the marketing of meat. The beef animal referred to above affords an instance—35% of our efforts in manufacturing and selling have to do with parts that are not food at all. Multiply this one steer by millions. Think of the problem of finding markets for glue, curled hair, hides and pelts, wool, lubricating oils, soaps, banjo strings, pharmaceutical preparations, sandpaper and many other by-products in almost unending quantities. This would be difficult for a concern with lesser facilities; no large organization, even, could accomplish the task without years of endeavor in upbuilding many kinds of markets.

To produce foods economically, we not only have to be in many lines of business, but we must also be large factors in each of these many lines. For upon our ability to profitably market the by-products depends our ability to buy and sell foods at our present small margin of profit.

But packer by-products relate to more than food. They affect the everyday life of all. They give employment and wages to many additional thousands of workers, and they are used in every business and craft, and relate to every industry in the world.

Thus it is that when you purchase Armour Products you are doing two important things:

You are helping assure producers of fair prices which encourage them to raise the food supply of the future.

And you are definitely securing for yourself utmost value in the food you eat.

GOOD START IN ELKS' CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

SEVENTEEN APPLICANTS REPORTED AS RESULT OF FIRST EFFORTS.

MAY 29 IS THE BIG NIGHT

CLASS WILL BE INITIATED AT AUDITORIUM WITH POMP AND CEREMONY.

The Benevolent and Progressive Order of Elks wants one million members by the close of the year 1919 and a general campaign for recruits is being conducted all over the country. Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308 expects to double its membership, coming out 400 strong when the drive is over.

At a meeting held last Friday evening 17 applications were handed in, this being the result of only a couple of days' work on the part of the committees. But few of these had at that time fairly gotten into the harness and it is expected that when Exalted Ruler L. F. Johnson calls for the next report there will be three times as many to consider.

Has Large Territory.

The territory from which Thief River Falls lodge may secure members extends to the Canadian boundary and quite a distance both to the east and west of the city. St. Hilaire and Plummer are also included and it is expected that there will be quite a number of applications from the neighborhood of these villages.

Are Carefully Selected.

It must not be understood that the Elks intend to throw the bars down and permit any man to become a member. The strictest care will be employed in the soliciting of applications and only those will be approached who have previously passed muster when considered by the general committee. For this reason any man asked to join the order is justified in considering the request an honor. It proves that he has been weighed and found worthy.

Initiation May 29.

The campaign will be continued for about a month, the initiation of the new members taking place on Thursday, May 29, at the Auditorium. The lodge quarters are too small to accommodate the large number of Elks who will wish to be present, it being also probable that many will attend from nearby lodges.

Thirty-six Teams.

The lodge membership has been divided into 36 teams and each team given the names of a number of men who, it is believed by the steering committee, will be glad to join and of whose acceptability there can be no doubt. Another committee of 13 will pass upon the applications before these are put to a vote of the lodge, thus providing another check upon the fitness of the applicant. The teams are made up as follows:

Team No. 1—N. J. Anderson, T. J. Austad, R. H. Ross, city.

Clean-up Order.

All residents of the city of Thief River Falls are hereby notified to have all refuse of whatsoever nature removed from their premises by the first day of May. Any person failing to comply will be dealt with in accordance with the city ordinance covering such cases.

This order is issued in the interest of the public health and all citizens should be anxious to cooperate with the authorities in cleaning up the winter's accumulations.

RED CROSS NEEDS ARE STILL GREAT

Garments, both knitted and sewed, are needed at the rate of one million a month for destitute regions of Northern France, Belgium, Italy, Roumania, Serbia, Greece, Montenegro, Palestine, Albania and other countries, according to a request received by American Red Cross headquarters from Harvey D. Gibson American Red Cross commissioner to Europe. As a result the Red Cross has requested its division organizations to have their chapters continue production on as large a scale as practicable under present conditions.

"The distress through the world presents a picture of great despair," declares Mr. Gibson. "The American Red Cross cannot hope to cope with it adequately with the resources now at our command. The most we can possibly hope to contribute is supplementary aid to the governmental programs that are being formulated. One of the most effective forms this emergency aid can take is the furnishing of garments for refugees, which are needed in unlimited quantities.

"Refugees all over the world who have been driven from their homes by the varying forces of war have been for years in rags, with practically no clothes. In many countries, even if the articles such as are needed could be manufactured and paid for, the material to make them is lacking. In all of these countries, the American Red Cross has commissions and is prepared to make distributions. The need is great to such a degree that few at home can possibly realize its vastness. Every garment furnished will cover a body which otherwise would lack proper clothing. Each garment will actually prevent suffering.

"We should be assured that we can count on the United States for one million garments monthly. When the cloth now in stock is exhausted, second-hand clothing should be utilized for remaking into refugee garments, the cloth first being washed and pressed. All refugee clothing received is promptly distributed. This work, handled by chapters, should go on unabated for some months to come."

Delayed instructions covering the production of knitted and sewed garments have been sent to all division managers of the American Red Cross by headquarters, Washington, D. C. These instructions reverse the order sent broadcast late in December to "cease knitting."

While women of the country need knit no more for American soldiers, sailors and marines, the new need is fully as pressing as the old. Unless chapters of the American Red Cross throughout the country—and knitters and garment makers themselves—are made to see this real need, it is feared at national headquarters that the urgent appeal for a million garments each month will not even approximately be filled.

Knitted articles will be confined to children's stockings, sweaters and mufflers and women's shawls. The Red Cross has stocks of materials so large that it will be able to supply chapters without cost.

Refugee clothing is not only being regularly received in Europe from the American Red Cross but is being promptly distributed where it is needed most. French models for these garments are used by the Red Cross in this country, refuting a report that garments made in America have to be remade in Europe.

Misses Alice Aldridge, Ruth Engdahl, Alma and Adelaide Christianson, who visited and shopped in this city for a day, returned Saturday morning to their homes at Greenbush.

STUFFED UP WITH "A BAD COLD?"

Get busy with a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery at once

Coughs, colds and bronchial attacks—they are all likely to result in dangerous aftermaths unless checked in time. And how effectively and quickly Dr. King's New Discovery helps to do the checking work! Inflamed, irritated membranes are soothed, the mucous phlegm loosened freely, and quiet, restful sleep follows.

All druggists have it. Sold since 1869

Build Something Plant Something Clean Everything

Spring is here. Seeding will soon be at an end. Then comes a lull. Improve this spare time by building something. The country asks you to do this in order that work may be provided for our returning soldiers.

There will never be a better time for building. Material is still reasonable in price, but there is no guarantee that it will remain at its present level. Everything indicates that it will go much higher. Be wise and do your building now.

Help the Woman's Club and Commercial Club in beautifying the city. Plant a tree or some shrubbery. Follow the general plan advocated and do your share.

The annual cleanup season is here. Let us all improve the appearance of our premises in one way or another. Get rid of the winter's accumulations.

During this campaign you will need many things furnished by this concern. No order is too large for us to fill and none too small to merit our careful attention.

Choicest Residence Lots in City to Be Offered for Sale

The finest inside residence lots in the city are to be put on sale at once. Sale will continue this spring until every lot is sold.

The big reconstruction idea now is a home for everybody. Not one that someone else owns and you rent, but a home that you own. This is going to be made just as easy for you as it is to pay rent and in the end you will have a deed to your own home instead of paying rent to a flat owner so that he may build more flats to get more rent to build more flats.

It is not necessary to take a bus to look at these lots nor will you need a taxi in bad weather if you buy one and build upon it. They are all within three or four blocks of the Post Office, Auditorium, Library, High School, Stores and business places, and more reasonable in price than lots so far out where there are no conveniences. Nearly all of these lots have city water, sewer and sidewalk all established and paid for, so you do not need to wait several years for these conveniences.

You can pay for these lots at the time of sale with cash or Liberty Bonds of any issue which bonds will be taken one hundred cents on the dollar, or you can pay one-fifth of the purchase price down and the balance at the rate of one-tenth each month, with six per cent interest on the part remaining unpaid from time to time.

Warranty deed delivered to you immediately upon payment in full. No taxes due until next year. All paid by owner this year. These lots are put on sale by the owner, who will show them at any time and give prices.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

Telephone Expenses Have Advanced Greatly

This Necessitates Increased Telephone Rates

Nearly everything we use in furnishing telephone service has increased in price the last few years.

High labor expense in manufacturing plants has raised the cost of telephone equipment.

Freight rates have gone up, too, and this has added to the price of the equipment we must buy.

The cost of telephone operation has steadily advanced, both because of the increased cost of material to the telephone company and the increased living expenses of employees.

The consumer has realized the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing and for transportation. The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all the necessities of life.

In order to meet the high cost of telephone operation a revenue in just proportion to expense must be obtained.

If this Company is to continue to furnish telephone service to the public it must obtain such rates as will produce a revenue sufficient to cover the cost of providing the service.

"Mamma, Give me another — They Taste Like Candy"

When your child is feverish and peevish — when the tongue is coated because of billiousness or disordered stomach, give it one of DR. MILES' candy-like LAXATIVE TABLETS and in a short time the child will be naturally relieved of the cause of its illness.

No coaxing or urging is required to get children to take these mild, but effective laxatives. When children once use them they never refuse them. So much better than nauseating oils or strong, griping cathartics that so often do more harm than good.

Not only are DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS an effective medicine for children but for grown-ups as well. Any one suffering from constipation and its many ill effects will find in these pleasant and agreeable tablets an effective medicine. Get a box from your druggist — they cost only a few cents. Money back if first box fails to satisfy.

Dividends From Home Building

Why pay rent? The war taught us thrift. We put money away in Liberty Bonds. Now we need homes and there's no better collateral than your Bonds.

Who own homes? Are they not the most progressive, substantial men in the community?

You Can Own Your Home

The dividends are worth while. There is a comfortable feeling about living under your own roof—about having a house built as you want it.

War savings can be put to peace uses and there's no better use than in Home Building.

Drop in and talk it over with us. We can give you suggestions about financing, show you books of plans and help you select just what you want. We can recommend a reliable contractor to do the work.

subscription of $300. The village al- did very well, coming within $50 of making the grade.

North township on the face of the returns has made the poorest showing, the allotment being $21,000 with a subscription of only $9,400. There is a reason for this, however. The residents of that subdivision had to come to Thief River Falls in order to make arrangements for their share of the bonds, and many did not like to lose the time. Monday was an ideal day for working in the fields and a farmer could hardly be blamed for wanting to get his seed in the ground while the conditions were so favorable.

Must Make Cleanup.

The county committee does not wish to call in the aid of the Safety Commission in order to bring pressure to bear on the delinquents and every opportunity will therefore be accorded them to do their duty. The state commission is still doing business at the old stand and will send men here to assist in this matter if desired, but it is not believed this will be necessary. Subscription cards have been left in charge of all the banks in the county and the citizen can make arrangements to take his allotment through the one most conveniently located. The fact that a precinct has oversubscribed its quota does not excuse anyone living there from doing his full share. A margin is absolutely necessary as it is probable that certain of the townships will find it impossible to meet their quota. In such case the oversubscription of another precinct will be employed in maintaining the average. There is no desire on the part of the committee that there shall be an oversubscription to this loan, while on the other hand every effort will be put forth for sufficient to meet the requirements.

Railroad Report Not In.

Chairman Smith has not yet received full reports from the different railroad departments, but it is known that in every instance these will show that the quota has been more than met. This sum will go partly to the credit of Thief River Falls, while St. Hilaire and Hazel will come in for a share. This will reduce the shortage considerable, but it will still be necessary for the delinquent townships to do their share as the railroad allotment was taken into consideration when the apportionment was made.

Must Make Quota.

There seems to be a mistaken impression in some quarters to the effect that there is no compulsion about securing the quota in this drive. This is a mistake. The amount asked by the government is as necessary now as any time during the past two years. The money is needed for the purpose of bringing the boys back, for paying the farmers for their products and to meet obligations already incurred.

The advertisement adjoining this article shows just where the different precincts stand. In two instances no report has as yet been received but it is not likely that the general result will be changed greatly when these are at hand. Chairman Smith calls on all patriotic citizens to aid him in getting the matter before the people in the right light. He very much dislikes the idea of sending out cleanup committees and will not do so unless it is absolutely necessary.

BROTHER AWARDED FRENCH WAR CROSS

H. O. SIMONSON OF ADA, WHO WAS KILLED, IS HONORED.

C. S. Simonson, the Thief River Falls merchant, this week received a letter from his mother at Ada announcing the receipt by her of the French war cross awarded Hjalmar O. Simonson, another son. Accompanying the decoration was a letter from Gen. Charles E. Long of the Marine corps, which read as follows:

"My Dear Mrs. Simonson: I take [illegible] pleasure in sending you herewith a French Croix de Guerre and certificate of citation, which have [illegible] awarded by the French government to your son, the late Corporal [illegible] O. Simonson, Marine corps. In the absence of the major general commandant, I desire to express to him his personal appreciation of the splendid service rendered by your son in France where his conspicuous gallantry in the face of the enemy won the admiration of the French commanders and caused to be conferred upon him this cross and citation."

The citation signed by Gen. Petain of the French army sets forth that Corp. Simonson "maintained the morale of his comrades by his skill in a difficult position. Displayed absolute disregard of danger under violent machine gun fire."

Not Much Fishing.

For some reason or other, presumably the low stage of water, fishing has not been of the best in Red Lake river this year. Very few catches have been made so far and the usual line of fishermen stationed on the banks of the river near the dam at this time of year is not in evidence this spring.

Ice Causes No Trouble.

The spring breakup of ice in Red Lake river was so gradual this year that it was hardly noticed. No ice jam took place at the dam and no trouble occurred at any point along the river from a congestion of ice floes. Water in the river is now just a trifle above normal.

Statement by Chairman

As the representative of the Government in conducting the Victory Loan Campaign in Pennington County, I desire to thank the people for their hearty and patriotic response to the call recently made upon them and for their voluntary subscription for their allotments, and to especially commend those of the farming districts who during their most valuable seeding period dropped their work and, sacrificing their time, voluntarily called at their designated meeting places and subscribed their allotment, thereby measuring up to a standard of one hundred per cent American citizenship.

It is hoped that those who failed to appear and those who failed to carry their share of the burden have not expressed their true attitude towards their duty to those kahki-clad men who protected their property during the recent conflict, and that upon re-solicitation by selected committees those who failed will do their full duty towards their Government.

G. HOWARD SMITH,
Chairman.

THE LAST APPEAL

Realizing fully that it was a difficult matter for many of our farmers to appear at Loan Headquarters in their respective townships last Monday, the committee makes this last appeal.

We know that the people do not want the figures in the table printed herewith to stand as their record in the Victory Liberty Loan. We are absolutely certain that each and every precinct will subscribe its full quota when the necessity for so doing is explained.

Pennington county was not a slacker county at any time during the war. We do not want that reputation now that the war is over.

Take Up Your Allotment

The opportunity is still open. There will be application cards left at all banks in the county, or they may be had by applying to the chairman, G. Howard Smith, Citizens State Bank Building, Thief River Falls.

Remember

This loan must be met the same as the others. Failure to take your allotment will have to be explained to government officials, and you want nothing of this kind to happen.

Make Arrangements to Take Your Share Today

Note how far your precinct or township is behind and make up your mind to do your share toward meeting the shortage. If you know of a neighbor who failed in his duty, go and see him. He may not understand the situation as well as you do.

Cleanup committees will be sent out to interview those who do not respond voluntarily.

J. H. HAY DELIVERS FAREWELL ADDRESS

MEETING HELD AT AUDITORIUM LAST THURSDAY EVENING.

Several hundred people of the city were present last Thursday evening at the auditorium to listen to an address by J. H. Hay, retiring superintendent of the city schools. The meeting had been arranged by friends of the superintendent in order to give him an opportunity to make a public address on matters of local interest before leaving the city.

Mr. Hay spoke at length, taking as his subject schools and school work in Thief River Falls. He made a splendid talk, explaining in detail how the educational system of the city had grown during the years since he took charge of educational matters here. The speaker stated that he appreciated more than anything else the fact that he had so many friends who had always stood nobly by him in his efforts to improve the schools. The possession of these friends he considered of more value, he said, than great riches counted in dollars and cents.

At the close of his speech, Mr. Hay paid tribute to his successor, W. A. Ziegler, and asked that this gentleman be given the undivided support of the community in conducting the schools. The speaker was repeatedly applauded by the audience throughout his speech.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HOLD BIG MEETING

EXCELLENT PROGRAM PREPARED FOR NEXT MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The Woman's club is planning a big time for the meeting next Monday afternoon. This is the culmination of the membership campaign which has been waged for two weeks and it is anticipated that the organization will receive a large number of new members as a result. The membership campaign has been conducted by the "reds" and "blues" under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Protzeller and Mrs. G. Howard Smith, respectively. Both ladies have been working hard and have met with splendid success.

Primarily, the object of securing a large number of new members is to strenghten the club as a force for community betterment, and secondarily, the membership fees thus brought in will make it possible for the club to secure additional outside talent to appear at the meetings during the next few months. Lastly, being a member of the club and identified with its activities should be considered a privilege by every woman in the community who desires to do her part in civic and club work.

The program Monday afternoon will be largely musical, under the direction of the musical section of the club. Following are the numbers to be rendered:

1. Community Singing, led by Mrs. G. Halvorson, with Miss Blanche Johnson at the piano.
2. Piano Solo, "Hungarian," Edw. McDowell, by Miss Carine Landahl.
3. Vocal Solo, "Oh, Lonely Rose," Edw. McDowell, by Miss Evelyn Grindeland.
4. Reading, "Revenge," "My Last Bushes," Robert Browning, by Miss Una Nelson.
5. Vocal Trio, "Moonlight Song," Fearis, by Misses Ione Thorson, Amelia Hoorn and Edna Larson, with Miss Mortenson as accompanist.

Mrs. Mabey Entertains.

Mrs. P. W. Mabey entertained twelve ladies at a 1:30 o'clock luncheon at her home 411 Main avenue north, Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. F. E. Weiland who will leave this city the latter part of this month. The afternoon was pleasantly spent playing cards.

A Delightful Time.

Miss Alice Kinsela entertained a number of her friends last Sunday afternoon, the occasion being her 11th birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which a lunch was served. Those present were Mildred and LeRoy Bidler, Randall Noper, Gladys and Agnes Sandstrom, Edna and Clarence Hovie.

Judge of Probate Ill.

Judge of Probate Ira C. Richardson has been confined to his home for several days on account of illness. The judge's health has not been of the best for some time and the worry and work incident to his office have been unusually heavy of late, making too much of a load for Mr. Richardson to carry. With complete rest and good care it is thought the judge will soon be able to resume charge of the office. For the present most of the work is taken care of by Probate Judge Joseph Perrault of Red Lake county, who comes up occasionally to look after it.

No Winnipeg Kiddies.

Manager A. J. Lawrence of the Princess and Lyceum theatres, has been compelled to cancel the date set for the re-appearance of the Winnipeg Kiddies because their employment runs foul of Minnesota child labor statutes. The Kiddies were advertised to appear at the Lyceum next Monday and Tuesday but Mr. Lawrence has been notified that they will not be allowed to show any place in the state. This will prove a decided disappointment to the large number of citizens who enjoyed the entertainment when it was given here before.

PROVIDES FOR RE-ASSESSMENT OF ALL DITCHES

NEW LAW EMPOWERS COMMISSIONERS TO TAX BACK BENEFITS IN FULL.

RELIEF FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

NOW PERMITTED TO CHARGE NON-RESIDENT PUPILS FOR TUITION

Three bills of particular interest to the people of Pennington county and the Sixty-fifth district were passed by the legislature which adjourned last week. Many others of general benefit were enacted into law, while fully as many seemingly meritorious measures fell by the wayside.

Senator O. A. Naplin, who returned to the city on Friday, secured the passage of a measure which will make it possible for the county commissioners to order a re-assessment of ditch benefits with a view to making the improved property pay the full cost. This bill was introduced by him at the request of the Pennington county commissioners, who find that the benefits assessed at the time the ditches were constructed fall far short of covering the expense. In this county this shortage amounts to $75,000 or more and this sum would have to be raised by general taxation unless a law permitting a re-assessment were passed. This may now be ordered by the county board and the property adjoining the ditches be assessed up to the full amount of the benefits.

For High School Relief.

The passage of another important bill was secured by Senator Naplin, when a law was enacted providing that high schools receive from the state $2 per month as a tuition fee for pupils living outside the district. This will bring considerable relief to high schools situated similarly to that in Thief River Falls as heretofore it has been compulsory upon all such schools to enroll pupils from any part of the state and provide tuition for them under penalty of being deprived of the regular school aid if they did not comply. There was a considerable fight on this bill and for a time it looked as if ut of the law pertaining to allowance managed to get it through near the close of the session. The sum allowed does not by any means cover the cost of providing such pupils with high school privileges, but it is an improvement over the old way of doing things.

Another Wise Provision.

A bill providing for the revision of the law pertaining to allowance of funds in cases of children whose work is needed to help the family was also introduced by Mr. Naplin and passed. This provides that before any aid is paid out by the county the application must be signed by the county attorney as well as the judge of probate instead of only by the latter as has heretofore been the case.

$50,000 For Dredging River.

A bill was passed appropriating $50,000 for dredging the Red Lake river—with a number of strings attached. One of the provisions is that the water power interests shall build a dam at the headwaters of the stream and another is that the federal government shall provide the funds necessary for carrying on the work where the river flows through the Indian reservation. This makes certain a long period of delay but even at that a step in the right direction has been made and there will be results some day.

Have No Complaint.

Neither Senator Naplin nor the house members—M. O. Sortedahl and W. A. Day—have any complaint on the way their propositions were handled. The former secured the passage of every bill he proposed so far as the upper house was concerned, but some of them met their death in the other chamber. The delegation was on the job all the time and made a very creditable record.

ST. HILAIRE WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

BONDS VOTED FOR PURPOSE AT ELECTION HELD LAST WEEK.

School District No. 120, which includes the village of St. Hilaire, last week voted bonds for the purpose of building a new school house. The sum of $50,000 was made available. Very little opposition developed to the bonding proposition and out of the total of 170 votes cast, only 18 were opposed to the issuing of bonds. Women cast 79 votes, of which five were opposed, while of the 91 votes cast by men only 13 were in the negative.

The new school will be of brick construction and will have every convenience needed. It will be equipped with heating plant, sewerage system, ventilating system and with the most modern furniture throughout. The new school is planned with a view to eventually become consolidated with surrounding districts, and plans are being made for a complete high school department. An agricultural course may also be added later.

Work on the new building will be started as soon as possible and it is probable that it will be completed when school starts next fall. The matter of location for the proposed structure is yet somewhat in doubt and a special election has been called for May 5th to settle this question. People of St. Hilaire are to be congratulated on this progressive step.

In Business at Mavie.

J. J. Speiler, formerly of Church, Iowa has located at Mavie, where he will engage in the farm implement business. Mr. Speiler is also a blacksmith and woodworker and will do repairing and general blacksmithing of all kinds. The family is temporarily quartered in the Anderson building, but it is Mr. Speiler's intention to build as soon as possible. This addition to the business enterprises of Mavie will prove a great convenience to the people residing in that neighborhood.

CHILD CLINIC HERE MONDAY, MAY 12

DR. J. F. HUENEKEN TO EXAMINE CHILDREN FREE OF CHARGE

Dr. J. F. Hueneken, the baby specialist, will visit Thief River Falls May 12 for the purpose of conducting a free clinic on child ailments. Those interested in the matter have been assured that nearly two hundred babies will be on hand for inspection during the day. Mothers are requested to bring children up to 12 years of age for examination, but younger children are especially desired. Anyone wanting an appointment for a certain hour should arrange for this at once with Miss Haggart, school nurse.

The doctor will be accompanied by a nurse, who will assist in the examination and care of the children. People residing in the country are urged to take advantage of Dr. Hueneken's presence and have their children examined at this time. The meeting will be held at the Commercial club rooms during the afternoon, the Woman's club meeting scheduled for that time being postponed until evening. Dr. Hueneken has been secured to deliver a talk at the club meeting and this will no doubt prove very interesting to the members.

MORE LOCAL BOYS SLATED FOR HOME

TWO CAMP DODGE DIVISIONS ORDERED TO PREPARE FOR RETURN.

Recent advices from the war department indicate that the 88th division, in which a large number of soldiers from this section of the state are serving, will soon return to the United States. The report states that the 88th, composed of Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa and Western Illinois men, was released on April 25 for "preparation for return to the United States." The 89th division, composed of Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota, Minnesota, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona troops, also was slated for return at the same time.

General Pershing notified the war department that the 88th was released for the purpose of clearing the forward area, dispatches said, but this will not change the order of departure from France. Preparation for return is not equivalent to assignment to early convoy, it was explained at the war department, but it was indicated such assignment may be expected within a few weeks.

A large part of the 88th division is made up of units which received their training at Camp Dodge, and quite a number of boys from Pennington county are members of the division. Much interest in the early return of the organization therefore is felt in this community.

Successful Store Opening.

E. O. Mogensen, the clothier, kept open house in his new store on Third street last Saturday and the place was thronged with visitors all day. Cigars were given to the gentlemen, while the lady visitors were presented with carnations as souvenirs of the occasion. Mr. Mogensen now has one of the finest clothing stores in this section of the state and expressions of surprise at its beautiful appointments were heard on all sides from visitors.

Gardeners Getting Busy.

With the advent of spring weather people in the city are beginning to think of getting their gardens in shape. While last season was a banner year for gardens, this summer gives every indication of surpassing it both in number of plots planted and the variety of stuff grown. People have learned that a garden in the back yard is a mighty big help in combatting the high cost of living, besides furnishing an excellent way of getting much needed exercise in the fresh air.

CLUB PROVIDES BIG SUPPER TO START MEETING

REGULAR MEETING OF COMMERCIAL CLUB SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT

PEAT UP FOR DISCUSSION

RAILROAD MEMBER OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS WILL BE SELECTED

A regular meeting of the Commercial club will be held this evening at the club rooms. The meeting will be preceded by a supper, to be served by Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel. A charge of 50 cents per plate will be made for the supper, which everyone knows is a small price for a meal prepared according to the formula used by Mr. Provencher.

After supper a speaking and singing program will be given under the auspices of the public affairs committee, which is composed of the following members of the club: H. W. Froehlich, chairman; A. S. Lieberman, A. M. Langseth, John Morgan, F. F. Haynes and Emil Zelz. While the individual numbers on this program have not been announced, The Times feels safe in stating that every part of it will be first class.

To Elect Director.

An important matter coming before the club at this time is the selection of a railroad man to represent that part of the membership on the board of directors. Many rail men are now members of the club and are entitled to representation on the board. All other officers for the ensuing year were elected at the last meeting of the club.

To Discuss Peat.

At the meeting this evening problems in connection with the Goodridge peat experiment field will be taken up for discussion. All residents of the community who are interested in the development of peat land are requested to be present and thus help make the discussion have more effect on this important subject. The development of peat land in Pennington county is receiving much attention just now and the Commercial club proposes to get squarely behind the movement and do what it can to help matters along.

Ran Out of Notices.

Secretary Smith of the club had a supply of notices printed to be sent to members notifying them to be present at the meeting. He made a slight miscalculation in the number required, however, and found that he hadn't enough to go around. For this reason any member who failed to receive a notice should not let this keep him from being in attendance at the meeting this evening, but should be there anyhow, ready to do his share in carrying on the work of the club. The Commercial club of Thief River Falls is on the threshold of the busiest year in its history and is in better shape than ever before to tackle real work.

OLD RESIDENTS TO SEEK NEW FIELDS

H. R. PRICHARD AND A. J. MARCOE FAMILIES LEAVE THIS WEEK.

H. R. Prichard and family, and A. J. Marcoe and family, will leave this week to cast their lot in other sections of the country. Mr. Prichard who has been associated with his father and brothers in the lumber business here for many years, goes to Storm Lake, Iowa, where he will become connected with one of the largest lumber concerns in that section of the state of which an uncle is the head.

Mr. Prichard has grown up in Thief River Falls, having come here with the family in 1901. He is a graduate of the Thief River Falls high school and has always been considered as among the most energetic and wideawake of the younger business men of the city. He enjoys a wide acquaintance and his host of friends will be sorry to see him leave. It is understood here that he is offered an exceptional opportunity in his new home.

A. J. Marcoe and family will also seek new fields. Mr. Marcoe is an engineer on the Soo and will hereafter make Dresser Lake, Wis., his home. This family will be greatly missed, they having made many staunch friends during their long residence here.

Both Mr. Prichard and Mr. Marcoe are members of the Masonic fraternity and a farewell smoker was given in their honor on Monday evening, the affair being largely attended.

Will Engage in Farming.

O. N. Olson, for many years engaged in the general hardware business at 315 Atlantic avenue, and who recently sold out to J. H. Hermanson, formerly of Kelliher, will engage in farming hereafter. He has a fine farm about two and a half miles southeast of the city which he has put to crop this spring.

Mr. Hermanson, the new owner of the hardware store, has made a number of changes in the interior and the place presents a most attractive appearance. The store has been repainted throughout and the stock on hand increased. Mr. Hermanson has had many years experience in the hardware business and as he is a man thoroughly conversant with modern merchandising methods, will no doubt secure his share of the trade of the neighborhood from the outset.

Very Successful Dance.

The dance given at the auditorium last Friday evening by the band boys proved more of a success than the most sanguine had dared to hope. The large dancing floor was filled to capacity and all enjoyed themselves dancing to the excellent music furnished by Band Leader Cordes and his associates. As a result of this dance the treasury of the local band was considerably enriched and the boys are now assured of new uniforms in the near future.

COUNTY WITHIN FEW THOUSAND OF LOAN GOAL

SEVEN PRECINCTS REACH REQUIRED SUM—OTHERS ARE NEAR.

$245,000 IS SUBSCRIBED

SOME TOWNSHIPS LAG WHILE OTHERS GO OVER IN GREAT SHAPE.

Latest indications are that Pennington county will go over the top in the Victory loan drive, the report showing the goal to be only $25,000 away. There are several good reasons for the apparent dragging of the loan, chief among which is the fact that farmers just now are extremely busy putting in their crops and many of them for this reason have put off buying bonds until a more opportune time. Pennington county is no different from other sections of the country in this respect, however, as reports from everywhere seem to indicate tardiness in signing up.

Seven Precincts Over.

Seven precincts in the county already have subscribed more than their allotments, these being the first and third wards in the city, Black River township, Cloverleaf township, Highlanding township, Goodridge township and Goodridge village. The railroad boys residing in Thief River Falls also have made a splendid showing, their subscriptions up to date amounting to $25,500. When the city is credited with its share of this subscription it will easily have reached its quota of $100,000.

Subscriptions are still coming in from the railroad boys and from others residing within the city and these together with the odds and ends to be gathered up by a soliciting committee before the close of the campaign will put the city over its allotment by several thousand dollars.

Highlanding Good Example.

Highlanding township furnished a good example for other rural communities in the county to follow. At the close of the first day the precinct was $500 short of making its allotment. Andrew Ellingson, merchant at Highlanding, undertook to put the township over, going out personally to solicit the sale of bonds. In the course of a few days he sold securities for a total of $1,600, thus putting the township over the top by $1,100. Mr. Ellingson states that almost every bond sold by him was of the $50 denomination. Highlanding thus wins a German helmet as a prize, while Mr. Ellingson, in recog-

STATE AIDS VALLEY LIVE STOCK SHOW

The Red River Valley Live Stock association was recognized by the legislative conference committee from the Senate and the House on the last day of the session when the Senate committee acceded to the House item by including an appropriation of $2,000 annually for the above association. This association is composed of about 500 shareholders of the winter live stock pavilion used to promote live stock exhibitions and sales. Three of the conference committee members were in Crookston during the show in February. They commended at that time the initiative and progressiveness of the Red River Valley farmers and citizens who made the building possible. This and the support given the association by all of the legislators from the ninth congressional district and the personal interest of the representatives and senator from Polk county who introduced the bill for this aid brought the matter to the attention of the legislative committee.

O'NEILL, HAY LAND IN GOOD STATE BERTHS

FORMER STATE SENATOR APPOINTED MEMBER OF GRAIN APPEALS BOARD.

SCHOOL MAN WELL PLACED

NAMED ON NEW BOARD OF AGRICULTURE—C. G. SELVIG ALSO MEMBER.

Shortly before the adjournment of the legislature Governor Burnquist announced a number of appointments. Among those understood to be slated for excellent positions are two Thief River Falls men—Former Senator D. P. O'Neill and J. H. Hay, the latter until a couple of weeks ago superintendent of the city schools.

Mr. O'Neill secures the appointment as a member of the state board of grain appeals, succeeding N. J. Holmberg of Renville county, who was named commissioner of agriculture, heading the new board created by the legislature at the session.

Salary is $3,500.

It is understood that Mr. O'Neill's new position carries with it a salary of $3,500 a year and that his headquarters will be at St. Paul. The job requires a man thoroughly posted on grain grades and the laws appertaining to this department. The appointee's long service both in the house and senate and the active part he has taken in all matters in any way touching on farm problems made him the logical man for the place. The subject of grades is one in which the producers of the state are vitally interested and in the selection of Mr. O'Neill to this post they have secured a man in whom they all have confidence. The appointment is naturally most pleasing to his many friends in this section.

D. P. O'NEILL.

Report Includes Hay.

According to the Crookston Times two other Northwestern Minnesota men landed in particularly good berths when the governor made his appointments. J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls, and C. G. Selvig of Crookston, are made members of the newly created State Board of Agriculture at a salary of $3,000 per year. According to the Crookston paper Mr. Selvig was seen upon his return from St. Paul, but declined to either deny or confirm the statement of his probable appointment. He said his mission to St. Paul had no connection with this appointment but admitted that some of the other men mentioned above as members of the new board would probably be selected.

J. H. HAY.

Attitude Not Known.

The announcement of Mr. Hay's appointment came as a surprise even to his closest friends in Thief River Falls. It was generally understood here that he had accepted the position of superintendent of the Warroad schools and that he would assume charge with the opening of the fall term. The new post offers Mr. Hay employment of the most congenial nature and opens a field of activity directly in line with his wishes. The general impression is therefore that he will accept the offer, particularly as the salary is considerably larger than that generally paid to school heads.

Present Class Play.

The senior class of the local high school presented their play "Green Stockings," at Red Lake Falls last Friday evening and at Plummer on Saturday evening. Good audiences greeted the players at both places and everything passed off without a hitch. Quite a number from here accompanied the seniors on the trips.

Red Cross Delegates.

Chairman Thos. A. Way of the Pennington County Red Cross Chapter, has appointed Mrs. J. J. Richter and T. L. Melgaard as delegates to attend the regional Red Cross conference to be held at Duluth on May 8. It is expected that they will bring back a report dealing with the future plans of the organization and such other information as will prove of interest to the members in this neighborhood.

ELEVATOR AT HOLT DESTROYED BY FIRE

A SMALL AMOUNT OF GRAIN STORED—LOSS ABOUT $17,000.

Fire starting from an unknown cause about three o'clock this morning destroyed the elevator of the Red Lake Falls Milling company at Holt. The loss is placed at about $17,000, fully covered by insurance.

Practically the entire loss is represented by the building and machinery, there being only two or there carloads of grain stored at the time. A strong wind was blowing directly toward the Hanson & Barzen elevator, located nearby, but hard work on the part of the citizens prevented this structure from catching fire.

MUSIC AND TALKS AT CLUB MEETING

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS VERY INTERESTING SESSION ON MONDAY AFTERNOON.

One of the most successful meetings in the history of the Woman's club was held Monday afternoon at the Commercial club rooms. As a result of the membership campaign which had been in progress for two weeks, a large number of new members were present. This drive has been continued for two weeks longer and will come to a close at the next regular meeting. Two teams have been canvassing the city and country for new members, Mrs. G. Howard Smith being leader of the "Blues," while Mrs. H. W. Protzeller is captain of the "Reds." Up to Monday the Blues had secured 60 new members and the Reds 40, making a total gain of 100 for the club in membership. This is a record which speaks well for those in charge of the teams.

After a splendid musical program under the direction of Mrs. G. Halvorson, the club was on Monday afternoon treated to two very good talks, one being by Hon. D. P. O'Neill and the other by County Agent J. J. McCann. Mr. O'Neill's talk was along the lines of Americanism and patriotism, subjects which he handled in an able manner. Mr. McCann gave a short talk on trees and shrubbery, telling how these should be planted and cared for.

Mrs. J. H. Hardesty brought up the matter of a woman's building for the fair and urged that this be given attention at once. The matter was referred to a committee, which will investigate the proposition thoroughly and report to the club at its next regular meeting.

METHODIST LADIES ARE SUPPER HOSTS

About 100 invited guests attended a banquet given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church last evening. The party, which was given in the church parlors, was one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind ever given in the city. As concerns the supper itself, there was certainly nothing left out that could in any manner have added to the enthusiasm with which it was attacked.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Craig, superintendent of the Fergus Falls district, was the principal speaker of the evening. His remarks were inspiring throughout and he laid particular stress upon the importance of devoting more attention to the social side of church work.

Short addresses were made by Mrs. Andrew Bottelson, president of the society; Mrs. G. L. Biddick, Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, Rev. J. A. Orrock and others. H. C. Durrin, Lieut. George Hardesty and Corp. Fred Scanlan, who have just returned from service in France, recounted some of their experiences in an interesting manner, answering numerous questions put to them by those present.

BUYS BUILDING AT MAIN AND THIRD FROM THE EVENSON-THORSON INTERESTS

MAY BUY ROTH PROPERTY

DEAL PENDING WHEREBY CARL FROSETH WILL SECURE BAKERY BUILDING.

Two deals in city property of more than ordinary interest were consummated during the past week. Carl B. Larson of the Larson Furniture company purchased outright what is known as the Evenson block at the corner of Main avenue and Third street from C. M. Evenson and G. Thorson, while the Vienna Bakery property on LaBree avenue between Second and Third was sold to Carl Froseth by heirs of the late Fred Roth.

Is Important Transfer.

The transfer of the Evenson block is one of the most important recorded in the city for some time. The building is of brick construction, two stories high and covering a ground space 50x100 feet. The corner store is at present occupied by E. O. Mogensen, the clothier, who will make arrangements for disposing of what is left of his stock in order to permit Mr. Larson to begin making desired changes. The south store has been used by the Larson Furniture company as a general salesroom and undertaking parlor but did not afford sufficient space for their rapidly growing business and they have for some time been negotiating for the purchase of the entire block. Mr. Mogensen held a lease on the room, but as he was desirous of getting moved into his new quarters in the First National bank building the arrangement has worked around to the entire satisfaction of everyone concerned.

Will Remodel at Once.

As soon as the Mogensen stock is out of the Mr. Larson will begin remodeling the place. It is his intention to remove the partition between the stores, thus throwing the two into one large room. The front half of the two stores will then be used for the display of furniture, while the rear will be given over to the undertaking department. It is the intention to reserve sufficient space in the northeast corner of the store for a fully appointed chapel where funerals may be held when it is so desired. The entire establishment will be strictly modern in every detail and one of the best to be found in this section.

Mr. Larson has been in business here for about two years and is regarded as one of the city's most enterprising merchants. His store even at present would be a credit to a city much larger than Thief River Falls and it is his intention that there shall be none better anywhere.

Roth Property Sold.

Carl Froseth has practically closed a deal whereby he becomes the owner of the Roth property adjoining his store on the south. As soon as all the details are attended to he will occupy the premises with a full line of shoes, the present quarters being given over entirely to the harness department of the business. Previous to Mr. Roth's death negotiations were on foot looking to the construction of a brick building on the two lots, one-half to be used by Mr. Froseth and the other by Mr. Roth. The heirs of the dead baker do not wish to continue in business and Mr. Froseth will thus be enabled to carry out the contemplated improvement. He has not yet definitely decided whether to undertake the work this season or wait until next spring. His son, Henry, recently returned from service in France, will in all likelihood become associated with him in the enlarged business.

This concern is one of the oldest and most substantial in this section and with the increased facilities under the new arrangement will branch out into one of the largest.

Judge's Health Improving.

Judge of Probate Ira C. Richardson has so far recovered from his recent siege of illness as to be able to come down town. If the present rate of improvement continues he expects to be able to care for the work at the office in the course of a few days.

Splendid Chorus Coming.

The Oak Grove Seminary Chorus of Fargo, under the leadership of M. Bjornson, is now making a tour of the Northwest and will give a concert at the Zion Lutheran church in this city on Monday evening, May 12, at eight o'clock. The chorus is composed of 16 young ladies and they are said to be artists. An admission fee of 35 and 25 cents will be charged.

Another Returns.

Mrs. Iver Hoium received a telegram yesterday from her son, Berlin, stating that he had safely reached New York after a year's service with the U. S. infantry in France. He is stationed at Camp Hill, Virginia.

GOES FOR WHISKEY; FORGETS TO RETURN

Faith in human nature is a commendable quality, but occasionally such faith may sadly be misplaced. Officers of the law, who usually are presumed to be minus the belief that men are inherently possessed of a streak of honor, have been known to give a suspected crook certain privileges on the strength of promises made by him on his word of honor. In many instances this works out all right, but not always. Sometimes the officers who had too much faith in human nature are left to hold the sack, while the alleged criminal develops a marked degree of forgetfulness regarding his promises.

A striking instance of too much confidence in human nature occurred in the local municipal court last Thursday evening. Peter Hoium, a well known character about town, was haled into court, charged with selling liquor. The man who is alleged to have bought the booze was at hand, and a quantity of the contraband liquid also was in evidence. When questioned by County Attorney Quale, Hoium stoutly maintained that he had not sold the liquor but admitted that he had often procured the stuff for his friends from bootleggers operating in the city. He claimed he could procure any quantity of booze desired whenever he wanted it.

Mr. Quale, thinking it might be possible to secure evidence upon which to prosecute certain illicit liquor sellers, offered to furnish the money if Hoium would go out and get a pint of whiskey for him. Hoium readily agreed to this, asserting that three dollars would be necessary to swing the deal. Having only a single dollar in his pocket at the time, Mr. Quale borrowed the other two from Judge Tarrant and Hoium was started out to get the bottle. Whether he succeeded in securing the booze is not known, for he is still among the missing. He just simply kept on going and the date of his return is somewhat uncertain.

It is understood that Mr. Quale has since returned to Mr. Tarrant the two dollars he borrowed Thursday evening. He has concluded, however, that if three dollars will serve to keep Hoium from acting as agent for local blindpiggers, it is money well invested and he does not begrudge the loss.

PROVISION PRICES ARE COMING DOWN

CORN AND PORK TAKE SHARP TUMBLE IN CHICAGO THIS WEEK.

Tremendous price smashing took place Tuesday on the Chicago board of trade. Holders of grain and provisions competed on a big scale in efforts to unload and stood losses on the declining market. The long threatened free movement of corn and hogs from rural sources was largely responsible for the general rush to sell. The breaks as shown after midnight amounted to 8¼c a bushel on corn and $1.40 a barrel on pork. May delivery on corn showed the greatest weakness, dropping to $1.57 3-4 as against $1.66 7-8 to $1.56 on Monday.

July delivery at $1.57½ differed more than 18c from the previous day's top level and forming a powerful aid to sentiment to a greatly cheaper level of values was the notice of the federal wheat director that the government would discontinue until further announcement any further purchase of wheat flour for exportation excepting first clears and victory mixed flours.

The purpose of this notice was stated to be to stop speculative fever. It was decided by the federal food director that if necessary fall importation restrictions on foreign wheat and flour would be taken off. He said, however, there would be plenty of wheat and flour if the speculative tendency was stopped. The announcement of the federal wheat director was followed immediately by further drops in the corn market. The close found the corn prices virtually at the lowest of the day, 9 7-8c to 11½c under Monday's close. Provisions continued to tumble until the gong cleared the trading pit, the maximum loss being in the January delivery of pork which had at the finish been slashed $1.80 a barrel.

Old-Timer Leaves.

A. C. Hurt, who has been farming near Mavie since the reservation was opened 16 years ago, left last week for Waseca, in the neighborhood of which city he has purchased a farm. He has disposed of all his holdings in this county the purchasers being Arne Drawham, formerly of Waseca, who bought 310 acres, and Mr. Walter of Mankato, who secured the other 145 acres. Both have moved onto their purchases and are already busy in the fields.

Mr. Hurt stated that he was well satisfied with this country but that he preferred a smaller farm closer to the larger markets. Anyway, he said, the country was better off by reason of his leaving because two families are now living where only one lived before.

RAINBOW DIVISION ON AMERICAN SOIL

THIEF RIVER BOYS WILL BE IN MINNEAPOLIS EARLY NEXT WEEK.

The soldiers are fairly flocking back from France these days. Every boat landing at New York carries some unit back from the battle front and indications are that the government will speed up their return still more.

When the cruiser Huntington landed last Saturday afternoon it had on board the famous 151st Artillery. In this famous outfit are two Thief River Falls boys—Privates Harold Provencher and Hardy Bothun, both of Battery F. These two are the last of a quartet enlisted early in the war, the others being Fred Scanlan and Martin Langseth. Scanlan was put out of the running by the gas route early in the fighting, while Langseth continued almost to the end before getting the same dose. Provencher and Bothun have been serving the big guns but come back without a scratch, according to their own reports. They are expected in Minneapolis about Wednesday of next week.

Among the others credited to this city and arriving during the past week are: L. E. McMahon, wagoner, second battalion trench artillery. Arrived on the Santa Laula Thursday.

Private J. M. Neworth, casual detachment No. 3, 91st division, on Virginian.

Among the other arrivals who are known here is noted Corp. O. W. Sjoberg, Middle River.

A telegram received by his parents from Edwin Stebbins states that he is due to land in New York on Friday. He has been with the 494th areo squadron.

Another Baseball Game.

The Soo team and a team organized by Henry Holt met Sunday afternoon at the fair grounds and engaged in a spirited contest. The rail boys proved too fast for their opponents, however, and walked off with the long end of the score. Next Sunday the St. Hilaire team will take on the railroaders at the same place and interesting things are promised. The boys from down the line have a strong team and aim to make the Soo boys get right out and scratch gravel.

nition of his efforts as a Victory loan worker, will be awarded a medal made out of the metal secured from a German cannon.

Winners of the helmets thus far are Highlanding, Goodridge township, Goodridge village, first ward, city, Black River and Cloverleaf, the last two having subscribed an equal amount and therefore being tied for the honor. These positions undoubtedly will be changed upon the face of later returns, while the winner of the helmet among the railroad departments cannot yet be determined and will be announced later.

Railroad Boys Did Well.

The railroad men making Thief River Falls their home are to be commended for the wholehearted manner in which they subscribed for the Victory bonds. They came to the front without hesitation and more than made up their share during the first day of the drive. Many of the railmen who had been allotted $100 took three, four, and some five times that amount.

The helmets to be given as prizes are now on exhibition at the clothing store of E. O. Mogensen and are the real article. They are war relics well worth having and should be worth a little extra effort on the part of people who desire to win one for their precinct.

More Autos Needed.

Chairman G. Howard Smith states that numerous cars will be necessary in order to make the final clean-up canvass of the county. He therefore requests those having cars which may be used for that purpose to communicate with him at once. Mr. Smith also urges those who have not yet subscribed to do so now rather than wait for the committee to call on them. They may call at any bank in the county, at the office of Mr. Smith or may secure their bonds through ward chairmen in the city. These chairmen are as follows: First ward E. O. Mogensen; second ward, L. H. Lawrence; third ward, P. O. Myhrum; fourth ward, H. W. Protzeller.

A subscription card enclosed in a return envelope has been mailed this week to every delinquent in the county. This card may be filled in, with the name of the bank desired, and forwarded to Mr. Smith if this method is the more convenient.

One More Good Boost.

One more good boost is required to put the county where it belongs. People of Pennington county cannot afford to fail in this matter. They have gone over the top in every previous loan drive and to fail this time would be little short of a downright shame. Only $25,000 remains to be raised and this can easily be accomplished if everyone does his share. The drive closes May 10 and all subscriptions must be in by that time.

Below is a table which shows the standing of the different precincts of the county up to Wednesday morning of this week. Some precincts have done nobly while others are lagging behind considerably. It is to be hoped that the showing one week hence will be entirely different. Following is the standing at present:

Sends Iron Cross.

Mayor and Mrs. G. A. Penney this week received word from their son, Sergt. Jordan Penney, who is with the transportation service of the army in France. He encloses a German iron cross which was picked up on the Chateau-Thierry battle field. The soldier who lost it must have been a veteran as it bears the dates 1913, 1914 and 1915. Sergt. Penney is now at a place called LaPallise and does not know when he will be sent home. A short time ago while on a trip which took him through Tours, he ran across A. M. Paulson and Francis Burns. Both were in good health and only anxious to get back to the United States.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. will be entertained by Mrs. Anna Craik at her home, 622 Horace avenue north, on Tuesday afternoon, May 6. Subject for discussion, "The Social Evil." Leaders, Mrs. Ellen Evenson and Mrs. Tillie Evenson.

Who Can Hesitate?

Have you forgotten November 11th, the day the armistice was signed.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Before that day there was hardly a home in America which did not fear for the safety of some loved one or dear friend. Most any of us would have given our savings and given them gladly to end the war and be sure of the safety of our loved ones in France.

For most of us they have been saved—and saved because the war ended when it did instead of lasting another year.

Why did it end so soon?

Were the Germans entirely exhausted? Were they driven back into their own country? Were they unable to fight any more? No, Germany was still powerful, altho they were slowly being beaten. They were still fighting on the soil of France and Belgium and could have carried on the war for many more months, and every month meant the loss of thousands of American lives.

The war ended when it did because the United States Government was preparing for a long war!

Next Spring we would have had 4,000,000 American boys in France. American cannon would have stood wheel to wheel behind the whole American front. American aeroplanes would have flocked the sky in thousands. American bombs would have blown to pieces the German defenses.

German spies in this country saw this and reported these preparations to their Government. And Germany saw the end. They could have fought longer but they saw that they would have been beaten and they quit—a year ahead of schedule.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

American preparations for a long war, made a short one. Our great preparations ended the war on November 11th and saved the lives of a father, brother, son, or dear friend of practically every one of us.

These great preparations cost money—billions of dollars. But shall we hesitate to pay it? Not if we are Americans. Not if we have any sense of justice and feeling of thankfulness that the war is over.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Let us thank God that while the cost of all this is big, it can now be paid in dollars instead of dollars and blood both.

Before November 11th you would have GIVEN your dollars to end the war. The war is now over because the Government spent its dollars freely. We would have GIVEN but now we are only asked to LEND. Shall we hesitate a minute to meet this final call?

NEWS NOTES OF SHOP AND RAIL

Baseball Season Opens.

A never-failing sign of spring is the opening of the baseball season. The boys in the mechanical department of the Soo have organized a team and expect to take on all comers during the summer. The past two Sundays the boys have met and defeated a team composed of town players organized by Henry Holt. Chuck Bartlett is the star pitcher for the railroad boys, while Carl Norquist picks 'em up behind the bat like an old veteran. Next Sunday if the weather is favorable an aggregation from St. Hilaire is expected to try conclusions with the Soo lads on the local grounds. The St. Hilaire lads have the reputation of being some sluggers and an interesting contest is looked forward to.

The Victory Loan.

Those who had charge of the Victory loan for the railroad division in this city have their work practically completed and are elated over the showing made by the railroad boys. Up to Tuesday bonds to the amount of $25,500 had been sold and this is far more than was expected or required in order for them to do their share. When it comes to a matter of being loyal and having the money to back up their patriotism the railroad boys need take off their hats to none. They are there with the goods every time.

Veterans Organizing.

A society has recently been formed among Soo employes embracing men who have been in the service for 25 years or more. Not very many of the boys here are eligible, Assistant Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry and Engineer Joe Brennan being the only two members so far secured from the mechanical department at this point.

Spring Cleanup.

The regular spring cleanup of the railroad yards and lawns has taken place the past week, and when the work is completed the apearance of the Soo property will be very much improved. With the beautiful lawn and numerous flower beds, the ground west of the Soo depot is a very pretty place during the summer months.

Division Jottings.

Chas. A. Stewart, train dispatcher, spent Sunday with friends at Winnipeg.

O. P. Johnson is conducting affairs at the Bronson station, vice R. Vance, who recently was transferred to Winger.

C. Barth, second trick operator at Thief River Falls, has been relieved by D. M. Hemmesch.

C. F. Erickson, coach cleaner, made a business and pleasure trip to Bronson the first of the week.

Louis Qualey, who has been laying off for some time, has returned to work as coach cleaner on the Soo.

Arthur Johnson went to Mahnomen on Monday to help out the round house force there for a few days.

Machinist Frank E. Smith of International Falls has recently taken a position in the Soo round house.

R. Vance has taken the position as station agent at Winger in place of O. R. Crowser, who is on leave of absence.

Miss Nettie Ove, stenographer in the office of the chief clerk of the Soo, visited over Sunday with friends at Winnipeg.

W. A. Rhode, car man, has gone to Adams to work for three months. At the end of that time he expects to return to his former position here.

Machinist W. E. Miller went to Wadena the last of the week to look after a farm he owns near that place. He remained there for only a few days.

Icing refrigerator cars has been going on at a rapid rate during the past few days and the large supply of ice put up last winter is dwindling away.

Chief Clerk L. M. Rayson and Mrs. Rayson left Monday evening for the Twin Cities to spend a few days visiting friends and attending to business matters.

Phil Lundberg and C. F. Erickson, coach cleaners, have resigned and left the service. Their places are being taken by Louis Qualey and Andrew Tveten.

Oscar Eggerud and Roy Elofson have returned from Adams and Overly, respectively, where they relieved the car foremen for a few days while the latter were absent on a business trip.

Victor Norquist is laying off for a few days this week and is putting in the time on his father's farm just east of the round house. The Norquist ranch will produce 100 per cent perfect this year according to the present plans.

Traveling Auditor L. E. Gilhausen of the Soo was married at Brainerd on Tuesday, but the reporter was unable to learn the young lady's name. The railroad boys all along the line will extend congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds.

John Horak, lineman, was the victim of an accident at Detroit this week and came out of the scrape with two broken ribs besides other bruises and blemishes. Ten days or two weeks will likely elapse before he is in shape to go back to work.

Among the Soo firemen who recently have gone to the Superior division to work may be mentioned Martin Stenberg, Alvin Erickson and R. E. Marcoe. The boys figure they can get in more mileage there during the summer season than they can here.

Engine Dispatcher Thos. Houfek is mourning the death of his year-old daughter, which occurred on Monday. The boys at the round house sent a beautiful floral tribute to the funeral as a token of their friendship and sympathy for the Houfek family.

Fred T. Scanlan, who recently returned from military service, has resumed his former position on the Soo rip track and started to work Monday morning. Life on the rip track will likely seem a little tame to Fred after the experiences he has gone through on the battle front of France.

Phil Bryant, train dispatcher, leaves this evening for the Twin Cities to spend his regular two-day vacation. Upon his return he will work for a few days, after which he expects to secure a more extended leave of absence. He will utilize this period in visiting friends at Livingstone and other points in Montana.

Mrs. A. E. Preston and children left this week for Minneapolis, where they will visit relatives for a short time. Mr. Preston in the meantime is driving his car through to Onamia, where the family will reside in the future, and will have everything ready in the new home upon the arrival of his wife and children. The Prestons have resided here for a number of years and have made a host of friends who are sorry to see them leave the city.

Same Applies Right Here.

LeSueur Center Democrat: The town of Sleepy Eye is going to pave the streets, which causes the St. Peter Free Press to remark that if a town of that size can do it, there is no reason why St. Peter cannot. Any town can if it just thinks so.

"Jake" Returns to City.

Olaus Jacobson, familiarly known as "Jake," returned last week from International Falls, where he had been employed for a year or more as lumber scaler and grader. Mr. Jacobson, who formerly conducted a grocery and confectionery store here, is thinking strongly of starting up again in the same business, and has several locations under consideration.

The Good of Advertising.
(Minneapolis Journal.)

In advertising, business attempts to educate the Nation in its consumption and expenditures. Through advertising, industy takes on a highly social function. Advertising is the business man's way of teaching us—of directing our social energy and product.

Charles Frederick Higham, a London advertising man, in an interesting volume, "Scientific Distribution," says that the public does not sufficiently appreciate what a service advertising does for it. The public, he says, is accustomed to ask "Who pays for all of this advertising?" and the answer almost always is, "The public pays for it, of course; the cost of advertising comes out of the consumer." But broadly speaking, says Mr. Higham, modern scientific advertising produces such a growth in the volume of business that it saves much in the cost of production. It is unscientific, if it does not do this.

The influence of advertising upon the public welfare, says Mr. Higham, "lies in its power to raise the standard of living all around." Thru it we learn the secret of true economy—which is always to buy the best that one can afford. Advertising, he says, has helped "to standardize goods; to socialize manners; to individualize taste. It has beautified dress, democratized manners. It fosters a healthful dissatisfaction with anything less than the best."

Advertising greatly increases the sale of an article, widens the area of its use, guarantees its quality. It is the lengthened arm of business and it awakens the consumer to the possibilities of choice that are before him. To advertise properly is to reduce the cost of production by increasing the sales; to educate the public and to socialize business. It brings the business man, almost as a personal friend, not only into the market place but into the office, the factory, the school and the home as a guide and counselor.

86,000 ACRES CARRIED CROP LAST SEASON

INCREASE FOR PENNINGTON COUNTY OVER PREVIOUS YEAR WAS 11,469.

WHEAT PRINCIPAL GAINER

STOCK CENSUS ALSO SHOWS SATISFACTORY GAIN IN MOST DEPARTMENTS.

That the farmers of Pennington county heeded the request of the government that production be increased during the year 1918 is proven by the report of the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety just made public.

The document, which contains comparative figures for the last two years, shows that 11,469 acres more were devoted to the raising of crops in 1918 than in 1917. Wheat naturally shows the largest increase, this being the cereal particularly demand*ed by the government in* order to meet the demand caused by the war. According to the report the total acreage devoted to wheat in 1917 was 14,947 acres, while the following year showed 23,477 acres in this class of crop, an increase of 8,530 acres. It would be interesting to have a comparison of the number of bushels raised during the two years, but the commission has not gone into this part of the subject.

Increase Was General.

The increase extended to practically every kind of crop, the one exception being corn. It was expected that the report would show a decided falling off in this cereal, but the decrease only totalled 213 acres, having been 2,662 in 1917 as compared with 2,349 last year. Barley showed a very satisfactory gain, 7,118 acres having been devoted to this crop last year as compared with 5,637 in 1917—an increase of 1,481 acres. Oats follows wheat in the percentage of increase, there having been 23,400 acres planted last year as compared to 18,873 the year previous.

Wheat	14,947	23,477
Oats	18,837	23,400
Barley	5,637	7,118
Rye	4,819	7,203
Corn	2,662	2,349
Potatoes	721	735
Spelts	100	94
Beans	56	19
Beets	2	2
Buckwheat	90	127
Fruit	250	279
Sorghum	14	11
Sugar beets	134	229
Rutabagas	6	51

The Stock Census.

The report also shows that there were 18 silos erected in the county last year as compared with only three during 1917. The number of milch cows increased from 4,602 to 4,833 during the year, while for cattle of all kinds, outside of milch cows, the figures are 6,032 and 7,177 respectively. It will be noted by the table below that hogs fell off to a surprising degree, sheep seemingly increasing in almost exact ratio. The livestock figures for the two years in the county are here given:

	1917	1918
Milch cows	4,602	4,833
Other cattle	6,033	7,177
Hogs	2,201	1,747
Horses	3,479	3,774
Sheep	1,571	2,074
Poultry	27,769	28,949

The State's Record.

The number of acres devoted to different kinds of crops for the entire state during the two years are as follows:

	1917	1918
Wheat	2,029,465	3,156,459
Barley	1,131,672	1,446,232
Corn	2,913,982	2,723,691
Oats	3,280,972	3,540,883
Rye	373,115	487,441
Hay	2,906,718	2,960,759
Potatoes	240,312	267,042
Beans	21,324	16,947
Beets	1,182	2,714
Buckwheat	17,866	19,272
Fruit	11,855	12,720
Rutabagas	4,680	5,816
Spelts	10,308	18,627
Sorghum	1,427	2,292
Sugar beets	5,242	8,196

Ford Kicked Back.

E. L. Rolland of the City Meat market, is carrying his arm in a sling as the result of an argument with his Ford car. Mr. Rolland and family attended the funeral of Miss Evenson on Sunday and in starting the car for the return trip the brute backfired and caught the merchant across the arm, breaking it a short distance above the wrist. He manages to get around but is not much help in the shop.

The Facilities for Distribution of the The Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

THE service which, at all times, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is prepared to render its patrons, rests securely upon a solid foundation of complete distribution.

To perfect a system which shall make every product manufactured by the Company instantly available to anyone, anywhere, any time, has been the goal toward which this Company has been working since the day of its organization.

As yet this ideal has not been achieved; but the system as it stands is conceded to be the most perfect of its kind in the world.

The present equipment for distribution, including grounds, buildings, storage tanks, motor trucks, wagons, etc., represents an investment of more than $30,000,000.

There are 27 main stations where complete stocks of all products are kept on hand. Supporting these are the bulk stations located at 2881 carefully selected points in 11 states. These stations are equipped with storage tanks having a combined capacity of 86,113,650 gallons of gasoline, 66,115,300 gallons of kerosene, and 4,300,000 gallons of lubricating oils.

It is necessary to carry this tremendous stock—total 156,528,950 gallons—at all times to insure quick, convenient service to the patrons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) wherever they may be, regardless of transportation difficulties or weather conditions.

To enable the Company to fulfill its obligations to patrons, and deliver to them the products they require, it is necessary to maintain a fleet of 3700 motor trucks and a caravan of 3500 horse-drawn wagons, either active or in reserve. These tank wagons are so organized that they, at regular intervals, can reach 75% of the homes in the territory at present served by this Company.

Supplementing the wagons, an equipment of 530,000 iron barrels, representing an investment of more than $7,000,000, is kept in service to insure the safe delivery of oils and gasoline, even to those remote places where the dark-green tank wagon never has penetrated.

For the convenience of the motoring public, a chain of 1300 service stations has been organized and many others are in the course of construction. These stations are prepared at all times to supply the motorist with his requirements of gasoline and lubricating oils in any quantity and at the lowest prices.

This, in outline, is the distribution system upon which the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) rests.

It is the hope of the Company that the time is not far distant when no person in the territory served will be more than five or six miles from a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service station if he lives in the country, or more than one mile away if he lives in a town or city.

The general impression is that the late Minnesota legislature did not cover itself with glory by reason of the many important bills passed during the session, but it is likely that when the work is compared with that of other sessions it will average up pretty well at that.

There does not seem to have been any lack of good intentions, the trouble being that political, sectional and factional differences were permitted to have too much influence with the lawmakers.

Perhaps the most important piece of legislation passed so far as the state as a whole is concerned, was the Babcock law providing for a constitutional amendment which will make it possible for the state to build a complete system of paved highways. The people were given an opportunity to register their opinion of this proposition before it was brought up in the legislature and the demand was so general that it had comparatively easy sailing when it was finally presented for action. The State Highway commission conducted a telling publicity campaign and the purpose of the bill is much better understood than is generally the case with proposed constitutional amendments.

The Sixty-fifth district members acquitted themselves creditably. Although the state senator and one of the representatives had the support of the Nonpartisan league at the election, they seem to have been very highly regarded by their colleagues and much of the legislation fathered by them was enacted into law. Particularly is this true of the measures introduced by Senator Naplin. His bill for the relief of high schools where large numbers of non-resident pupils are in attendance will prove of much benefit to districts so situated.

The following are among the more important measures which became law:

Constitutional amendment to establish Babcock system of arterial highways and bill allowing counties to start work at once.

Establishing state department of agriculture.

Providing state soldier and sailor scholarships at Univeristy and other colleges.

To check auto thefts by requiring registration of title and making auto "borrowing" crime.

Constitutional amendment to allow exemption of household goods and levying of income tax by state.

Establishing state board of education.

Increasing workmen's compensation in case of injury to 66 2-3 per cent of wages, with maximum of $15 per week.

To enforce prohibition under Federal constitutional amendment and war prohibition law.

Making English basic language in schools where attendance is compulsory.

Giving state power to punish disloyalty in war times.

Prohibiting public display of red flag.

Revising and adding to laws governing organization of co-operative associations.

Comprehensive drainage and flood control bill.

Among the propositions killed by one branch or the other were these:

Imposing tonnage tax on iron ore.

Putting state in casualty insurance business.

Giving state and municipalities dual control of street railway companies.

Creating motor corps.

Providing state political conventions for nomination of candidates for state office.

Compelling state banks to create fund for protection of depositors.

Abolishing commission of public safety.

Increasing bushel tax on grain in elevators.

Lowering taxation valuation on urban homes and farm improvements to 20 per cent of true value.

Curbing political expenditures of Nonpartisan league, Anti-Saloon league and similar organizations.

Imposing 5 per cent tax on royalties from mining properties.

Establishing eight-hour day for all employes.

Providing state bonus or loan fund for soldiers and sailors.

Providing for development of Northern Minnesota through organization of colonization companies.

Classifying telephone companies for taxation purposes and increasing taxes.

TWO GOOD APPOINTMENTS.

Gov. Burnquist's selection of Former Senator D. P. O'Neill as a member of the State Board of Grain Appeals is a good one. The appointee has a vast deal of actual farming experience and his long service in the legislature has made him well acquainted with the shortcomings of state's grading laws. He will make a conscientious official and the state will be well served.

In case the report of the appointment of J. H. Hay as a member of the new State Board of Agriculture proves correct, it will cause much satisfaction among the many friends of that gentleman. Mr. Hay has been interested in agricultural improvement ever since coming to the state and few men have given the subject closer study. The appointment is directly in line with his own preferences, according to friends, and the governor could not make a better selection.

THEY ALL TALK PAVING.

Unless Thief River Falls gets going on this paving matter pretty soon a number of smaller and less important cities in this section will have beaten us to it. Never in the history of the country has the matter of permanently improving city streets received so much attention as at present, and it might be added that there is nothing to which the people could devote themselves that would be of greater or more lasting benefit.

The objection voiced on the score of high cost is not well taken. There is no question but what it will be more expensive to pave the streets now than five years ago, but it is likely to be still more expensive five years hence. There is no indication that the price of material is coming down to any great extent and no thinking person wants the price of labor reduced under present conditions. The aim should be to provide all the work possible at the very best wages. Only in this manner can the country meet the problems sure to confront it during the readjustment period.

If places like Grand Forks and Wapheton can pave now there is no reason why Thief River Falls cannot do likewise. When towns the size of Warren and Roseau are seriously considering the matter it is about time that the county seat of Pennington county was doing something to keep abreast of the procession. We certainly do not want to fall behind our neighbors in this respect. Our people are inclined to consider their city the metropolis of the section, but unuless something is done to the streets it will be impossible even for the most loyal resident to maintain this assetiorn with any degree of success. Thief River Falls should be the leader in this matter. Instead it begins to look as if the city will not even be a poor second.

Let's remedy this one great drawback to our progress.

WE'LL MAKE IT YET.

Pennington county has not quite reached its quota in the Victory Loan campaign, but we will be there when the time is up. For some reason the drive failed to get away to the start which characterized the two previous attempts, but everything is coming out all right.

It was the first time that an attempt was made to secure the required sum without personal solicitation and the response was therefore slower. For another thing, the campaign came on just at the busiest time of the year and the farmer figured that he could buy bonds when there was no chance of seeding grain. In this regard he was no different from others in his line of business throughout the country.

The city of Thief River Falls made its quota early in the season and some of the townships have gone over the top in good shape. It was not the intention at this time to urge a big oversubscription, everyone realizing that considerable cash will be needed right here at home before the summer is over. But the required amount will have to be secured and it looks as if this should be an easy matter. We are only a few thousand dollars short of the $270,000 wanted and we will make up the deficit before Saturday night. In order to do so it will be necessary for every citizen to take his or her quota, however.

It would be much more pleasant if it should prove unnecessary to send out cleanup committees. The machinery for making everyone do their full share is in working order, but no one wants to employ it.

There is still time for those who have not yet subscribed to do so. The township chairmen will be glad to take the subsciption or it may be handed in to Chairman Smith. You are urged to attend to this matter if you have not already done so.

ARE EASILY FRIGHTENED.

That wheat price guarantee of $2.26 per bushel for the 1919 crop is still giving Easterners a nightmare. They figure that the government will be let in for a big deficit and generally condemn the entire proceeding as a poor piece of business.

Herbert Hoover and Julius Barnes, two men who are suspected of knowing a little something about the wheat situation, do not agree with the calamity shouters. Mr. Hoover says that the world will demand every pound of wheat the United States can spare, while Mr. Barnes, head of the United States Grain Corporation, assures the country that there is every indication that the sale price of wheat in the open market would be above $2.26 if it were not for the governmental stipulation.

It is rather strange how alarmed certain people become over a contract whereby there is a possibility that the farmer will benefit. Agreements made with persons in other lines of business should naturally be lived up to, no matter how much the government may lose, but when it comes to the farmer it is evidently a different matter.

No one has lost anything as yet, however, and the chances are that no one will. There are about nine dozen "ifs" to be taken into consideration when figuring on a probable wheat crop, any one of which may be responsible for a shortage resulting instead of a bumper crop.

BE THERE TONIGHT.

The first get-together meeting of the season will be held at the Commercial club rooms tonight. There will be a lunch served as usual and also a musical program of exceptional merit.

This meeting will open the club's activities for the coming season and every member should be there for the purpose of expressing a preference as to what form these should take.

The club is right now in better shape to enter upon a campaign of sound constructive work than ever before. Get into the game early and reap the benefits.

TIME TO GET STARTED.

Let's get busy on that soldier memorial proposition. Other communities have already arrived at a point where they are fighting over the location of the memorial while here in Pennington county we are by no means certain as yet that there will be one. With the boys coming home in droves it is time we were disclosing our intentions. The committee in charge is a good one and has been working for some time. There should soon be something to report.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

E. M. Warren came from Brainerd to accept the position of chief engineer in the saw mill. E. M. Rogers of the same city was made general superintendent of the plant.

Minneapolis markets were quoted as follows: Wheat, 69c; oats, 28c; corn, 28c; steers, $3.25; cows, $2.70; hogs, $3.30; sheep, $3.10; butter, 15c; spring chickens, 9c.

The new mill company purchased a large tract of land south of the city to be used as a piling ground for lumber.

According to the Press, a large number of new settlers were arriving in this section of the country to take up their homes on farms. Many were coming by train while others drove overland with teams and wagons.

A crew of 130 men worked night and day to get the new saw mill ready for the season's run. Four immense boilers, each weighing seven tons, were moved from the depot on skids and rollers to the new location.

The baseball season opened with a game in which St. Hilaire's aggregation was taken on. C. C. Jackson, L. P. Stranahan and Sam Bardleson were officers of the local baseball association.

Ten Years Ago.

D. P. O'Neill, Peter Wold, P. O. Sorlum, E. Skaare and H. H. Horme of this vicinity attended a meeting of assessors held at Red Lake Falls.

The court house at Red Lake Falls burned to the ground. All furniture and records were saved and the destruction of the old shack seemed to cause a sigh of relief throughout the county, meaning as it did the erection of a new and adequate building as the county capitol.

Band Leader Maxwell was busy organizing a junior band. Mr. Maxwell, who had been in the city but a short time, was proving himself a very efficient man for the position.

Joe DuChamp's steamboat was stuck in an ice jam three miles up the river but the boat was apparently not injured.

The saw mill started its season's run, having on the payroll more than 200 men. Enough logs were in sight to keep the mill running most of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton O. Langseth celebrated their silver wedding anniversary.

W. A. Boreen and A. J. Marcoe left on an extended trip through western Canada.

C. L. Hansen and Oscar Sponheim went to Crookston to attend the bankers' convention.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Vorachek went to Spillville, Iowa, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Vorachek's brother.

The farmers in town of North organized a telephone company and had already received a load of poles to be used in constructing the new lines.

Mrs. E. Karwand was making preparations to take an extended trip to Norway for the purpose of visiting relatives and seeing the sights in the land of the midnight sun.

Mrs. D. Knutson left Monday morning for Holt to visit friends a day.

The Farmer Is No Profiteer

WHAT business man would be satisfied with a return of 3 per cent on his investment if he had to work from 14 to 16 hours a day to earn it?

YET, according to government statistics, 3 per cent is all the farmers of this country have made for the past generation.

SOME people are complaining about the prosperity of the farmer, but these complaints are not coming from those who know anything about the farmers' problems.

IF the farmers make 10 per cent or even 20 per cent on their investment this year they are entitled to it. They have certainly waited a long time for even a fair profit.

THEATRE NOTES

Another great week at the Princess starts out this evening with Alice Brady in "Her Great Chance." A wonderful story of how the "Million Dollar Kid of Broadway" is reformed by a clever girl, and it gives this popular actress an excellent chance to show her skill.

Dorothy Gish, whom everyone likes, will be here Friday evening in "Boots." The story deals with the Bolshevik menace which now threatens the peace of Europe and is intensely interesting from start to finish.

Who makes the best bargain—a man or a woman? See the play, "Our Mrs. McChesney" at the Princess Saturday evening for an answer to this perplexing question. Ethel Barrymore is the star in this picture and performs her part in her usual faultless manner. Pearl White also appears in another installment of "The Lightning Raider."

Would you trust your name and identity to your pal in order to save your sister's fortune and prevent an unhappy marriage. Bill Burnham did. For further enlightenment see "Johnny Get Your Gun" at the Princess Sunday. Fred Stone is the star in this play and he sure does the cowboy stuff to a turn.

On Monday a Vitagraph feature will be shown. This picture is entitled "By the World Forgot" and the famous beauty, Heddy Nova, takes the stellar pat. It is said to be an unusual picture.

Madge Kennedy, one of the cleverest actresses in the movies today, will be here Tuesday evening in "The Kingdom of Youth." This is a splendid picture and comes highly recommended.

Ethel Clayton, always popular with theatre-goers, appears Wednesday in "Maggie Pepper". In addition to the picture program an exceptional attraction is offered both Wednesday and Thursday evening in the Royal Hawaiian Singers and Players, a company composed of six natives of Hawaii. These people came to the country two years ago for the purpose of making records for the Edison company and are now touring the country. They are said to be exceptionally fine.

Anniversary Celebration.

Lone Pine lodge, I. O. O. F., on Tuesday evening fittingly observed the centennial celebration of the order at their hall. Besides a large attendance of local Odd Fellows there were present good delegations from St. Hilaire and Hazel. A very enjoyable evening was closed with an exceptionally fine lunch.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW WEDNESDAY NIGHT

GIRLS' COMMUNITY CLUB TO PUT ON PROGRAM AT AUDITORIUM.

A high class vaudeville performance will be presented at the auditorium in this city next Wednesday evening, May 7, under the auspices of the Girls' Community club. The numbers have been in rehearsal for several weeks and some of the very best local talent will take part in them. Mrs. C. A. Pitkin has charge of the program, which is ample guarantee of its excellence.

Eight big numbers will be offered Wednesday evening. Music and folk dances feature the entertainment, while some clever black face comedians also are offered. Two delightful skits form part of the program, which is one of pleasing variety and range. Special numbers between acts will be given by Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher and Miss Dora Holmes, vocalists, Miss Ausliga Sorenson, violinist, and Miss Una Nelson, reader.

An admission fee of 25 cents and 50 cents will be charged, and the money derived from the sale of tickets will be used in the work of the Girls' Community club. This club, although but recently organized, has grown to be one of the most important in the city and its membership is steadily increasing. All who attend the vaudeville performance next Wednesday evening are assured an enjoyable time.

THEATRE COMPANY COMES NEXT WEEK

"TURN TO THE RIGHT" TO BE OFFERED SOON AT AUDITORIUM.

In packing theatres wherever it has been shown, "Turn to the Right", to be presented at the auditorium, Thief River Falls, on Friday evening of next week, has demonstrated that the public is incurably religious and that it is only necessary to get down to where individual religion resides and "mix laughter with the sterner stuff" to evoke its expression. That the stage with all its sins of commission is capable of reviving the merest lingering spark of religion has been demonstrated by many plays in the past. They have illustrated what the actor's part can do with the saving message of the church, plus stage accessories.

"Turn to the Right" is the New Testament with the brilliant comedy and worthily directed rascality thrown in. But the mother-love that never fails permeates the play in a way that persuades one that the theatre is not an unfit place wherein to erect a family altar. The central figure of the story, Mother Bascom, is the sort of an old-fashioned, praying mother that is enshrined in the hearts of millions of men and women whose environment has dimmed their recollections of Sunday school teachings.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sadie Collins.

Mrs. Sadie Collins passed away in this city Thursday afternoon after an illness of two months. Tuberculosis of the lungs was the cause of her death. Deceased was born August 19, 1872 and was 46 years old at the time of her death. Mrs. Collins' home was at Warroad and she was in this city only seven weeks before her death. Besides her husband, D. Collins, she leaves to mourn her death four children, Edward, Marie, Cathleen and John. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery Saturday morning, Rev. M. J. Noesen officiated.

Mrs. Louis J. Cerney, Jr.

Mrs. Lewis J. Cerney, Jr., died at the Warren hospital last Thursday morning. Her death was due to complications following the birth of a baby daughter the previous day. Deceased, whose maiden name was Mayme Goulet, was married two years ago to Mr. Cerney, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Cerney of this city, and since her marriage had resided at Argyle, where the husband is engaged in the dray and transfer business. The sudden death of this young woman comes as a severe shock to the husband and other members of the family. Deceased was quite well known here, having visited local relatives on several occasions. The funeral was held on Saturday at Argyle and was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Cerney and son, Oscar, of this city were present.

Miss Gudren Evenson.

Miss Gudren Evenson passed away Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock after an illness of four months, her death being caused by tuberculosis. Miss Evenson was born February 15, 1897, and had lived in this city practically all her life. She had been employed in the dry goods department of Loken Bros. store for the past five years. Deceased was 22 years, 2 months and 9 days old.

She was loved by her many friends and relatives for her sweet and cheerful disposition and she will be sadly missed. Besides her mother, Mrs. Dena Evenson, she leaves to mourn her loss two brothers, Nels and Ole Nelson. Nels has been in this city this winter and Ole resides at Expanse, Canada.

The remains were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery, Sunday afternoon, Rev. George Larson, of the Zion church officiating.

Other relatives who attended the funeral are her cousin, Miss Christine Helene of Woodrow, Wis.; Mrs. John G. Peterson and her son, Croff of Battle Lake.

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to thank the many kind friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindness during the illness and at the funeral of our late daughter. Also for the many beautiful floral offerings.—Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Houfek. m-p

Clean-up Order.

All residents of the city of Thief River Falls are hereby notified to have all refuse of whatsoever nature removed from their premises by the first day of May. Any person failing to comply will be dealt with in accordance with the city ordinance covering such cases.

This order is issued in the interest of the public health and all citizens should be anxious to cooperate with the authorities in cleaning up the winter's accumulations.

"Quality" Fully Describes Times Work

Standing, sitting and walking correctly are the first essentials to good health and that elusive charm we call style

ALL women wish to be well; but all women do not appreciate the vital importance of correct corsetry as an essential to good health. The well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M.D., warns us: "As a physician who knows that if it were not for ill-fitting and the wrong kind of corsets we would have very few female invalids, I am naturally determined to do everything in my power to educate the American woman in the proper fitting of corsets. Most learned physicians now recognize the modern corset as a hygienically healthful garment and one that is often the best means of providing corrective support for many bodily ailments."

GOSSARD CORSETS

have attained their unquestioned superiority by assisting nature to perfect expression.

Every Gossard is hygienically correct. Properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed it will give scientific support to abdominal and back muscles, with no chance of undue pressure at the waistline; the organs of nutrition will be free from pressure; the erect posture which is induced will encourage deep breathing and the diaphragmatic muscles become strong with use. A woman so corseted will have the undeniable beauty of health and that grace of body, standing, sitting, or walking, which is best expressed in the one word, style.

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Our highly specialized corset service is maintained with a full appreciation of the exacting needs of the modern, active woman.

Gossards are priced at $2.50 $2.75 $3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $5.00 $5.50 and more

CH INTEREST IN NEW GIRLS' CLUB

LARGE NUMBER OF NEW MEMBERS JOIN DURING RECENT DRIVE.

A very successful meeting was held Monday evening at the Commercial club rooms by the Girls' Community club. The membership drive which had been in progress for some time came to a close that evening and it was found that 75 new names had been added to the rolls during the campaign. This makes the new club very strong numerically and places it in a position to do much good work. The club has been tendered the use of the Commercial club rooms in which to hold its meetings, and the members are very thankful for this privilege as the club rooms are ideal for the purpose.

The new club has already started several different lines of work, including a gymnasium class, expression class and a hiking club. Monday evening a class in basket weaving was organized under the leadership of Mrs. Emil Zeh, and this will no doubt prove a very interesting innovation to many of the members. The expression class, under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Pitkin, will put on a vaudeville entertainment at the auditorium next week, more extended notice of which appears in another column.

Chas. Alexander Returns.

Chas. Alexander, formerly night patrolman but during the past year or so employed by a lumber company at International Falls, returned to the city last week and will remain here permanently. He has secured a position as night expressman at the Soo depot and enters upon his duties tonight. The new job will prove more congenial to Mr. Alexander as it gives him an opportunity to live at home, his family having remained here during the time he was employed at International Falls.

ROSEWOOD PEOPLE WANT NEW SCHOOL

CONSOLIDATION OF SEVERAL DISTRICTS PROPOSED BY ADVOCATES.

A meeting will be held at the Congregational church, Rosewood, on Friday evening, May 9, at which the proposition of forming a consolidated school district in that village will come up for consideration. County Superintendent David Johnson of Warren and C. C. Swain, director of the Minnesota consolidated school system, are scheduled to be present at the meeting and will explain all problems connected with consolidated schools. There is considerable sentiment in that neighborhood in favor of consolidation and it is likely that the change can be brought about in the near future.

It is proposed to include in the new consolidated school the following districts: 41, 134 and 137 in Marshall county and districts No. 2 in Pennington. Rosewood is the logical center for such a school and the new institution will likely be located in or near that village. All people residing within the districts above named are vitally interested in the matter to be brought up for discussion at the meeting and are urged to be present.

WILL SHOW MOVIES AT LYCEUM MAY 13

POPULAR PLAY HOUSE TO BE OPERATED DURING SUMMER MONTHS.

Manager A. J. Lawrence of the Princess and Lyceum theatres will close the Princess during the summer season and will conduct his business at the Lyceum. Workmen are now engaged in making extensive changes in the interior of that building and it is planned to present the first show there on the evening of May 13. The interior of the Lyceum has been freshly painted and decorated, additional means of ventilation have been added, and the lighting system has been improved materially. A new screen at the entrance has also been provided, and some changes have been made in the orchestra pit. Another improvement which will be noticed by patrons of the place is a new advertising curtain.

The Lyceum has a greater seating capacity than the Princess and also has a higher ceiling, which makes better ventilation possible during the warm months of the year. Shows will be conducted here until the first of the year, when the Princess building again will be utilized. Next year even greater improvements are planned for the Lyceum, making of it one of the finest motion picture houses in this section of the state.

Music Section to Meet.

The music section of the Woman's club will meet next Monday evening, May 5, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Nason, at which time the following program will be rendered:

Paper, "Life of Frimel"—Miss Taylor.

Quartette, "A May Night," Abt.—Miss Miller, Miss Larson, Miss Hoorn and Mrs. Fisher.

Piano Solo, Selected, Frimel—Miss Forde.

Vocal Solos, (a) "Boat Song," Harriet Ware, (b) "Will o' the Wisp" Charles Gilbert Spross—Miss Carine Landahl.

Violin Solo, Selected—Miss Sorenson.

The members will respond to roll call with short talks on current musical events.

Help Beautify the Old Town

(Contributed)

The board of health says "clean up." The mayor says, "clean up." All nature says "clean up." There is an instinct in every person that says "clean up." Rake the yards, burn the rubbish, cart off the old tin cans, spade up the garden, and make things generally tidy about the place.

Clean up campaigns are the order of the day in almost every village and city in the whole country. Why not all hands turn in and give this city the best cleaning it has ever had? Why not make it a matter of pride to make Thief River Falls the cleanest and most beautiful city in Northern Minnesota. We can do it if we will. All it needs is for all to get hold and get busy and pull together for a city beautiful. It will take a little time, but we will never get anywhere if we don't start. Well-kept lawns, wide boulevards, good trees planted in some sort of system and regulation, a few flowers and hardy shrubs and the thing is done—at small expense and with much joy and satisfaction to the doer thereof.

Business men wish to advertise the town. The commercial club and other organizations are seeing ways and means to put this city on the map. Well we are on the map alright. However, we can do nothing that will give us more prestige and good advertising than to make this city look well.

Most of us have been in older places where they have got into the habit of doing these things and we will not soon forget the impression that the fine appearance of the town has made upon us. Mentally we have said we would like to live there and the chances are if we could arrange our affairs we would like to go to some of these places to live. Why not make this city one of that kind? It can be done, and nothing we can do will pay us as well as this very thing.

We are located on the Jefferson Highway. With the close of the war and the coming of peace there will come ever-increasing traffic along this scenic route. People from every part of the United States and from other countries will travel through and stop in our city. If we make it attractive they will carry the good impression this will make upon them and wherever they go they will advertise our town.

With little trouble everyone can have a good lawn, a few good trees, a bed of pansies, some golden glow, a few peonies, a flowering shrub or two. The Woman's club has arranged to offer good prizes for the greatest improvement in appearance. They also have a committee which has given thought and time to this matter, and which can and will help all who desire to select plants and shrubs that are hardy and will do well in this climate. Why not make every effort, and all pull together to make this the prettiest city on the map of the Northwest?

Former Resident Returns.

W. J. Brown, formerly connected with the Thief River Valley Land company in this city but who has been spending the past few years in Texas, returned yesterday and is looking over the field with a view to establishing himself here again. Mr. Brown is a hustler and his many friends hope he will find what he is looking for in this neighborhood. He has had enough of the South and now knows that no section of the country holds out opportunities equal to those to be found here.

Certificate of Incorporation of the Times Printing and Manufacturing Company.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we, Richard H. Ross, G. W. Connell and Thomas J. Austad, for the purpose of forming a manufacturing company under and pursuant to Chapter Fifty-eight of the General Statute of Minnesota for 1913 and all the laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto do hereby agree upon and adopt the following articles, to-wit:

ARTICLE I. The name of this corporation shall be the Times Printing and Manufacturing Company; the general nature of the business for which this corporation is formed shall be that of manufacturing coin and other boxes out of raw materials, to manufacture stationery and office supplies, book binding, and the manufacture of paper and wooden novelties, to manufacture and sell printer's supplies, blank books, legal blanks, etc., and the transaction of such other business as is incidental to and connected with such manufacturing business and to acquire, hold and dispose of such real estate and personal property which is necessary to the conducting of such manufacturing business, and to purchase, own, hold and use letters of patent, to manufacture any of the articles hereinbefore mentioned. The place of the principal office of this corporation shall be in the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II. The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be June 1st, 1919, and the period of its continuation shall be thirty years.

ARTICLE III. The names and places of the residence of the persons forming this association of incorporation shall be as follows:

Richard H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

G. W. Connell, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Thomas J. Austad, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

And said persons shall constitute and serve as the first Board of Directors until the first annual meeting of the stockholders and until their successors shall be elected.

ARTICLE IV. The government and management of said corporation and of all its affairs shall be vested in a Board of three Directors as above specified and until their successors shall be elected. On the 10th day of June, 1919, at two o'clock in the afternoon, a stockholders meeting shall be held, at which meeting or adjourned meeting thereof a board of five directors shall be elected from the stockholders, who shall thereafter constitute and serve in the place and stead of the first board, as a board consisting of five directors, and shall serve for a period of one year from the said 10th day of June, 1919, and until their successors are elected and qualified. A new board of directors shall be elected annually by the stockholders from among their number at their annual meeting which shall be held at the principal office of the corporation on the 2nd Tuesday of June of each year provided that in case said day is a legal holiday that said meeting be held on the day following. The board of directors so chosen shall immediately after the final adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders, as hereinbefore specified, hold a regular meeting at which meeting said directors shall elect from their number four officers, to-wit: A President, a Vice President, a Secretary and a Treasurer. The office of the Secretary and Treasurer may be held by the same person. By-laws shall be adopted by the stockholders of said corporation at said meeting on the 10th day of June, 1919, or thereafter if deemed advisable and thereafter none of the By-laws shall be changed, altered or modified nor shall any new ones be added thereto unless by a majority vote in number and amount of the shares of the capital stock of the company at any annual meeting of the Company.

ARTICLE V. The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Seventy-five Thousand ($75,000.00) Dollars to be divided into Seven Hundred and Fifty (750) shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, to be paid in as required by the board of directors either in cash or in property as the directors may determine. Each share of stock shall be entitled to one vote at all stockholders meetings.

ARTICLE VI. The indebtedness of said corporation shall not at any time exceed the sum of Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this 24th day of April, 1919.

Practical Planting Guide For the Amateur Florist

Nearly everybody would be willing to do something to help beautify their home town if they knew just what to do. Since the Woman's club of Thief River Falls undertook to lead a movement for a cleaner and more beautiful city the members have been assured of the most generous support, providing some way were provided for learning what is wanted. In order to reply to all these inquiries at once The Times has been requested by the committee to publish the following practical planting guide. It is taken from the columns of the Woman's Home Companion and was written by Adeline T. Thompson. The list has been cut down so as to include only such plants and shrubs as will thrive in this latitude.

In the following will be found the name of the flower or shrub, the color, height and whether annual, biennial or perennial. This is indicated by the letters (A), (B) or (P).

KARWAND EXPECTS TO STAY TILL FALL

WILL NEVER TURN BACK ON STATUE OF LIBERTY AGAIN.

The boys in France are anxious to get back home. While the war was on they were satisfied to remain on the job, but now they figure that they should be permitted to get back to their usual vocations. A letter received by The Times this week from E. C. Karwand, formerly cashier of the Citizens bank at Hazel, voices this feeling, although Ed is too good a soldier to raise much of a kick. He writes:

"It's a nice sunny day over here in France. Finally it seems to have ceased raining for a week or so and with the sun's warm rays over this land everything is more than green. Walked along the canal yesterday, up thru some gardens where the flowers are in bloom. But now with the approach of summer I think all the more of beautiful Minnesota and my home town. There's no place like it anywhere to me, and here's one boy that will be content to stay if he ever gets back.

"About half of the Air Service boys have gone home. The squadrons that got over here after the armistice mostly and they did not see any action. I have been expecting the good word, 'homeward bound,' for a long time but it looks rather dubious and most likely we will go up on the Rhine for a few months from here.

"I feel like all the other boys. They all want to go home, and if I ever see the old Statue of Liberty once more I'll try and never turn my back on her. As it is, perhaps I will be back when the golden harvest moon is shining and the pumpkins on the vine.

"Am glad to see that many of my good friends are returning right along but am afraid I shall miss out on the big blow out you are going to have. I am sure that many of us are coming back with a greater sense of appreciation for all the good things that we enjoyed before entering upon our military career as we have profited in some measure during our stay in the A. E. F. We are going to try and do our tasks a little better and with greater concern for the welfare of our fellow men as we have all learned that the other fellow is not so bad after all because here we are put on a somewhat equal footing at least and the rich are no better than the poor. We are all in the same boat, and while it's hard to wait now that the big show is over, we all have our part to do.

"Want to wish every one of my friends there at home the best of luck and prosperity in all their various undertakings. Have read your paper with great interest and hope the city council and school board will not let our dear old Prof. J. H. Hay leave us. There are many of the alumni of the high school over here in France and I am sure that we are all strong for Prof. Hay as we recall the dear school days under his able guidance.

"Here's a little poem for your approval:

Darling, I am coming back,
Silver threads among the black.
Now that peace in Europe nears
I'll be home in SEVEN YEARS.

I'll drop in on you some night
With my whiskers long and white.
Yes, the war is over, dear,
And we're going home I hear.
Home again with you once more
Say—by nineteen twenty-four.

Once I thought by now I'd be
Sailing back across the sea;
Back to where you sit and pine—
But I'm heading for the Rhine.
You can hear the M. P's curse
War is HELL, but Peace is worse.

When the next war comes around
In the front rank I'll be found.
I'll rush in again, Pell Mell
Yes I will like, well, like Hell.

MORE BOOKS ASKED FOR ARMY ABROAD

PUBLIC LIBRARY WILL RECEIVE DONATIONS AND LOOK AFTER SHIPMENT

Miss Gena Granum, city librarian, has been requested to call the attention of the people of Thief River Falls to the need for more reading matter for our soldiers. In order to impress upon the people just how badly these books are needed the following facts are set forth by the national commission:

To care for the American forces in France and the Army of Occupation in Germany, the American Library association is planning to deliver an additional 750,000 books in France before July first.

To meet the need, the A. L. A. has found it necessary to call upon the American people for half a million books. The balance of 250,000 books is expected to come from the libraries in American camps which are closing.

Just why the Association has found it necessary to call for fresh reading matter in addition to the two and one quarter million books which have already been shipped overseas is disclosed by the fact that books in military service undergo extraordinarily hard usage. It is estimated that a book in war service wears out seven times as fast as a book issued by a public library. A popular book of fiction in camp or in the field is practically fit for the discard when it has been issued to four men, whereas the same book in a public library would not show the same degree of wear until it had been issued 30 times.

A good book is passed from hand to hand. An exciting western novel is read by a score of men in an incredibly short time, and is ready to fall to pieces when the man who borrowed it returns it to the library.

May Return in July.

John Havel of The Times force this week received a postal card from Ben Bothun, formerly a reporter on the paper, who has been in France for a long time as a member of the 20th engineers. Ben says that he spent New Years day in Strassburg and stood at the foot of the world famous clock. He was there when the twelve apostles came out, as they do every day at noon. He says that the cathedral is simply wonderful.

Ben expects to be home in July. He is now at a place called Panteaux, France, still a member of the same old company to which he was assigned upon his arrival overseas.

IN-BETWEEN the SEASONS

The Northwestern Minnesota farmer will soon be through with his seeding for this spring. After this important job has been attended to he will have a little time on his hands for the consideration of other matters.

This is the Time to Build

Prepare for the housing of the big crop that is promised. You are certain of a good price for whatever you raise. It would not require much of a waste to cost more than the buildings necessary to save it. Building now is the truest economy. The cost of material is lower in comparison with other products than is liable to be the case in years.

Build This Year

The man who delays any construction job in hope that prices will go down is making a mistake. When this happens he will be receiving only about half as much for his products as at present. He will make money by building now. Every economic authority in the country agrees with this statement.

OMES TO VISIT GIRL WHO SENT WORD OF CHEER

ANADIAN SOLDIER IS HONOR GUEST AT KOTLAN HOME NEAR MAVIE.

CQUAINTED BY LETTERS

MES J. STARK RETURNS AFTER NEARLY FOUR YEARS OF WAR.

ames J. Stark returned recently m France, where he had served three years and a half with the adian army. He arrived in ef River Falls Monday and has e been visiting at the A. Kotlan ne near Mavie. He had not known Kotlans before the war but came know them through letters red from the daughter while with army in France. Seeing Mr. rk's name in the casualty list as unded, Miss Kotlan wrote him a ter to help cheer him during his onvalescent period. This letter was answered by the soldier and others followed, with the result that the wo became quite well acquainted although neither had seen the other. The visit of the soldier at the Kotlan home is therefore a very happy pleasant sequel to a romance which has been going on for some time. Mr. Stark will remain here for two or three weeks and possibly longer.

Great Army Record.

Mr. Stark has a fighting record to e proud of. He was a student at West Point when war broke out and previously had attended school at Des Moines, Iowa. His father was a native of Scotland and his mother a Spaniard, born and raised in Cuba, while the young man and his only brother were born in New York. Later the family returned to Cuba, where the boys attended school for five years. After the death of the parents, both of whom died within a year when James was about twelve years old, the lad went to Ontario to live with his grandmother. He continued his schooling as above stated until war broke out. He then forgot all else and decided to get into action. The lad deserted from West Point, went to Ontario and enlisted in the 24th battalion, 2nd division, in the spring of 1915. to the great shortage of men at that time, the 2nd division was given practically no training on this side of the ocean but was hurried across and reached Le Havre, France, in May. Then after a short period of training at Etaples, the boys were sent into the front line trenches.

Pardoned For Desertion.

Young Stark wrote the war department at Washington about his desertion at West Point and explained why he had gone. Department officials granted him a complete pardon for this serious violation of military rules, feeling no doubt that anything criminal connected with the case was more than overshadowed by the young man's desire to get into the fight on the side of right and freedom.

Mr. Stark took part in the second battle of Ypres and the first battle of the Somme in the summer of 1916. He also took part in the terrible engagement at Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917. Here he was badly wounded, receiving three shrapnel and machine gun wounds which left him unconscious for 36 hours. One of the bullets cut a deep gash in his chest just an inch below the heart. Then followed a period of six months in army hospitals and he was returned to his regiment in September. At the battle of Passchendaele in November, Stark was again wounded. A Hun bullet struck him in the face and cut away part of his upper lip, necessitating another six weeks' stay in the hospital to get patched up.

Back in Fighting Line.

Upon being discharged from the hospital, Stark was sent to the Arras sector, where he remained for three months. During this period no heavy battles took place but the boys pulled off nearly a hundred small raids across No Man's Land. The enemy made eight heavy counter attacks but never gained an inch. Stark remained in the front line until July, last year, when he was given a leave of absence of two weeks and spent the time in London. He returned to his company just in time to take part in the famous Amiens and Somme drives last summer, where the Canadians fought by the side of American soldiers for the first time. Mr. Stark has nothing but words of praise for the Americans and says they are wonderful soldiers.

Wounded Again.

Mr. Stark's company was shortly after this sent to the Arras sector and took a leading part in the memorable battle of Aug. 26, 27 and 28. In the first half hour of this battle Mr. Stark's company was reduced from 150 men to 35 by the vicious machine gun fire of the Germans. Through the death of other officers, Mr. Stark was placed in command of the men remaining in his company and on the third day was leading his company when he received the wound which finally put him out of commission. A bullet from a German revolver, fired at close range, struck him in the hand and a charge of shrapnel splintered the bone in the upper part of his right arm.

This ended the actual battle experience of the valiant soldier. He was sent to a hospital in England, where he remained until after the signing of the armistice. Mr. Stark states that one of the memorable events of his life is the celebration held in London at that time, which he was privileged to attend. He remained in England until Christmas and was then invalided back to Canada, where he received his discharge Feb. 10. Since then he has spent most of the time with his grandmother in Ontario.

Only Brother Killed.

Mr. Stark's only brother, Ernest J., enlisted with the 1st American engineers when this country entered the war, and soon gained the rank of captain. He met his death in the fighting at Cambrai just about a year ago. Ernest was a married man and leaves a wife and two small children, who have recently gone to Cuba to reside.

James Stark is a writer of no mean ability and has written several short stories and poems concerning the world war, which he plans to have published.

HIS TREATMENT IS REMARKABLE

Nearly everybody in Knoxville, Tenn., especially railroad people, know Captain F. S. Patty, for twelve years district passenger agent for the Northern Pacific railroad, with local offices in Chattanooga and general offices in St. Paul, Minn.

On account of generally failing health Capt. Patty was forced to discontinue active work and for the past few years has been making his home in Knoxville, where he numbers his friends by his acquaintances. He is a kind, genial gentleman of the old school, and is beloved by all who know him. The following interesting statement was made by him in person to the Tanlac representative:

"I am 69 years old and always enjoyed good health up to about six years ago, when I suffered a nervous breakdown and my general health gradually failed me. My principal trouble was indigestion and catarrh, but my whole system seemed to be out of shape. My condition finally got so bad I couldn't sleep at night and always after eating I would suffer so from indigestion and heartburn that I felt just like there was a coal of fire in my stomach. My hearing and vision were also affected. I consulted several doctors here in Knoxville and other cities and they helped me considerably and I finally got so I could go around, but somehow I just couldn't feel right and could not sleep at night, which made me awfully nervous and nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me.

"I began reading about this Tanlac when you first came here, but did not decide to try the medicine until I talked with a friend of mine who had actually used it. He said it was the best thing he had ever taken, and that was sufficient proof for me.

"I have just finished the first bottle and came here this morning, not only to buy the second bottle, but to tell you what it has done for me. I began enjoying my meals from the first few drops. My nervousness is gone and I can sleep like a child and always wake up in the morning ready for breakfast and feeling refreshed. I am very fond of onions, but was almost afraid to eat them, because they always disagreed with me so; I could taste them for hours afterwards. I ate one for dinner the other day and it agreed with me perfectly and I felt no bad after effects whatsoever. I tell you I am beginning to feel like a different man and am always going to keep this Tanlac on hand. It has done me more good than anything else in the medicine line I have ever taken. I certainly do recommend it to my friends. It is really remarkable."

John M. Anderson.

John M. Anderson of Reiner township passed away at his home last Friday, April 25, at the age of 50 years, 11 months and 25 days. The cause of death was tuberculosis of the lungs. He was laid to rest in the Rosendahl cemetery, Reiner, on Sunday, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. Tungseth of this city, who is pastor of the congregation. Deceased was an honest, upright and highly respected citizen who had numerous friends in the community, all of whom extend sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

CANADIAN SOLDIER PAYS CITY A VISIT

VETERAN OF MANY HARD BATTLES WEARS BRITISH HERO MEDAL.

T. O. Hughes, a soldier recently discharged from the Canadian army, was in the city last Thursday, arriving from Winnipeg. He was on his way to Rewey, Wis., where his parents reside. Mr. Hughes gave a short lecture at the Princess theatre Thursday evening, reciting some of his experiences while taking part in the war. The young man enlisted in the Canadian army Aug. 5, 1914, the day after war was declared, and claims to have seen more real warfare than falls to the lot of the average soldier.

Mr. Hughes was a member of the 33d infantry, which took part in the early battles of Ypres and Vimy Ridge. He relates a thrilling story of these great battles, telling how he was wounded in the head and gassed at the battle of St. Quentin, which put him in the hospital for two months. In April, 1915, he was sent back into the service, and for some time acted as instructor for Canadian recruits. He was finally placed in his old regiment, however, and took part in the famous battle of St. Juliens on Dec. 17, 1917. Here he claims to have rescued two comrades from No Man's Land under heavy machine gun fire, for which he was awarded the distinguished conduct medal. This is the second highest decoration given by the British government.

At the battle of Vimy Ridge, April 9, 1917, Mr. Hughes received a bayonet wound through his left lung and was taken prisoner by the Germans. He was then taken to a prison camp at Berlin and remained there until March 2, 1918, when he was exchanged and returned to France. Mr. Hughes told many stories of conditions in the German prison camp and related incidents of cruelty on the part of the Huns which are almost unbelievable. He related how two of his comrades were shot and another crucified for trivial infractions of the rules laid down by their captors.

Mr. Hughes arrived in Canada last July and received his discharge on Oct. 18, 1918. Since then he has put in most of his time lecturing throughout the eastern states, and after visiting for a time with his folks in Wisconsin he expects to continue his lecture tour.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all our friends and neighbors, for the kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and following the death of my daughter, Gudren, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs. Dena Evenson. m1

Back From France.

Julius Hoff and his sister, Miss Mathilda Hoff, arrived on Monday from their home at Perley for a short visit at the Edward Boe home. The young man recently returned from France, where he served for ten months in much of the heavy fighting with the 118th infantry of the 30th division. On Sept. 27 he was gassed and spent six weeks in an English hospital. Miss Hoff spent eight months in France as a Red Cross nurse and returned to the states about a month ago. She also spent nine months nursing in an army hospital in New York before going to France. Miss Hoff left yesterday morning for Edinburg, N. D., where she was called to attend a patient, while her brother returned to his home at Perley.

Telephone Rates Must Be Higher

Increased Operating Expenses Require More Money

Telephone expenses have gone up rapidly the last few years. Telephone rates have not advanced in proportion to the cost of furnishing the service.

The cost of furnishing telephone service has advanced because of the increased cost of material to the telephone company and the increased living expenses of employees.

Everyone realizes the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing, for wages and for transportation.

The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all the necessities of life.

If this Company is to continue to furnish dependable telephone service to the public it must obtain such rates as will produce a revenue sufficient to cover the cost of providing the service.

KARWAND EXPECTS TO STAY TILL FALL

WILL NEVER TURN BACK ON STATUE OF LIBERTY AGAIN.

The boys in France are anxious to get back home. While the war was on they were satisfied to remain on the job, but now they figure that they should be permitted to get back to their usual vocations. A letter received by The Times this week from E. C. Karwand, formerly cashier of the Citizens bank at Hazel, voices this feeling, although Ed is too good a soldier to raise much of a kick. He writes:

"It's a nice sunny day over here in France. Finally it seems to have ceased raining for a week or so and with the sun's warm rays over this land everything is more than green. Walked along the canal yesterday, up thru some gardens where the flowers are in bloom. But now with the approach of summer I think all the more of beautiful Minnesota and my home town. There's no place like it anywhere to me, and here's one boy that will be content to stay if he ever gets back.

"About half of the Air Service boys have gone home. The squadrons [illegible] got over here after the [illegible] mostly and they did not see [illegible] tion. I have been expecting [illegible] word, 'homeward bound,' for [illegible] time but it looks rather dub most likely we will go up on the Rhine for a few months from here.

"I feel like all the other boys. They all want to go home, and if I ever see the old Statue of Liberty once more I'll try and never turn my back on her. As it is, perhaps I will be back when the golden harvest moon is shining and the pumpkins on the vine.

"Am glad to see that many of my good friends are returning right along but am afraid I shall miss out on the big blow out you are going to have. I am sure that many of us are comnig back with a greater sense of appreciation for all the good things that we enjoyed before entering upon our military career as we have profited in some measure during our stay in the A. E. F. We are going to try and do our tasks a little better and with greater concern for the welfare of our fellow men as we have all learned that the other fellow is not so bad after all because here we are put on a somewhat equal footing at least and the rich are no better than the poor. We are all in the same boat, and while it's hard to wait now that the big show is over, we all have our part to do.

"Want to wish every one of my friends there at home the best of luck and prosperity in all their various undertakings. Have read your paper with great interest and hope the city council and school board will not let our dear old Prof. J. H. Hay

"Here's a little poem for your approval;

Darling, I am coming back,
Silver threads among the black.
Now that peace in Europe nears
I'll be home in SEVEN YEARS.

I'll drop in on you some night
With my whiskers long and white.
Yes, the war is over, dear,
And we're going home I hear.
Home again with you once more
Say—by nineteen twenty-four.

Once I thought by now I'd be
Sailing back across the sea;
Back to where you sit and pine—
But I'm heading for the Rhine.
You can hear the M. P's curse
War is HELL, but Peace is worse.

When the next war comes around
In the front rank I'll be found.
I'll rush in again, Pell Mell
Yes I will like, well, like Hell.

MORE BOOKS ASKED FOR ARMY ABROAD

PUBLIC LIBRARY WILL RECEIVE DONATIONS AND LOOK AFTER SHIPMENT

Miss Genn Granum, city librarian, has been requested to call the attention of the people of Thief River Falls to the need for more reading matter for our soldiers. In order to impress upon the people just how badly these books are needed the following facts are set forth by the national commission:

To care for the American forces in France and the Army of Occupation in Germany, the American Library association is planning to deliver an additional 760,000 books in France before July first.

To meet the need, the A. L. A. has found it necessary to call upon the American people for half a million books. The balance of 250,000 books is expected to come from the libraries in American camps which are closing.

Just why the Association has found it necessary to call for fresh reading matter in addition to the two and one quarter million books which have already been shipped overseas is disclosed by the fact that books in military service undergo extraordinarily hard usage. It is estimated that a book in war service wears out seven times as fast as a book issued by a public library. A popular book of fiction in camp or in the field is practically fit for the discard when it has been issued to four men, whereas the same book in a public library would not show the same degree of wear until it had been issued 30 times.

A good book is passed from hand to hand. An exciting western novel is read by a score of men in an incredibly short time, and is ready to fall to pieces when the man who borrowed it returns it to the library.

May Return in July.

John Havel of The Times force this week received a postal card from Ben Bothun, formerly a reporter on the paper, who has been in France for a long time as a member of the 20th engineers. Ben says that he spent New Years day in Strassburg and stood at the foot of the world famous clock. He was there when the twelve apostles came out, as they do every day at noon. He says that the cathedral is simply wonderful.

Ben expects to be home in July. He is now at a place called Panteaux, France, still a member of the same old company to which he was assigned upon his arrival overseas.

OMES TO VISIT GIRL WHO SENT WORD OF CHEER

ANADIAN SOLDIER IS HONOR GUEST AT KOTLAN HOME NEAR MAVIE.

CQUAINTED BY LETTERS

ES J. STARK RETURNS AFTER NEARLY FOUR YEARS OF WAR.

ames J. Stark returned recently m France, where he had served three years and a half with the adian army. He arrived in ef River Falls Monday and has e been visiting at the A. Kotlan e near Mavie. He had not known Kotlans before the war but came know them through letters re ed from the daughter while with army in France. Seeing Mr. rk's name in the casualty list as unded, Miss Kotlan wrote him a ter to help cheer him during his nvalescent period. This letter was answered by the soldier and others followed, with the result that the two became quite well acquainted although neither had seen the other. The visit of the soldier at the Kotlan home is therefore a very happy pleasant sequel to a romance which has been going on for some time. Mr. Stark will remain here for two or three weeks and possibly longer.

Great Army Record.

Mr. Stark has a fighting record to be proud of. He was a student at West Point when war broke out and previously had attended school at Des Moines, Iowa. His father was a native of Scotland and his mother a Spaniard, born and raised in Cuba, while the young man and his only brother were born in New York. Later the family returned to Cuba, where the boys attended school for five years. After the death of the parents, both of whom died within a year when James was about twelve years old, the lad went to Ontario to live with his grandmother. He continued his schooling as above stated until war broke out. He then forgot all else and decided to get into action. The lad deserted from West Point, went to Ontario and enlisted in the 24th battalion, 2nd division, ly in the spring of 1915.

to the great shortage of men at that time, the 2nd division was given practically no training on this side of the ocean but was hurried across and reached Le Havre, France, in May. Then after a short period of training at Etaples, the boys were sent into the front line trenches.

Pardoned For Desertion.

Young Stark wrote the war department at Washington about his desertion at West Point and explained why he had gone. Department officials granted him a complete pardon for this serious violation of military rules, feeling no doubt that anything criminal connected with the case was more than overshadowed by the young man's desire to get into the fight on the side of right and freedom.

Mr. Stark took part in the second battle of Ypres and the first battle of the Somme in the summer of 1916. He also took part in the terrible engagement at Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917. Here he was badly wounded, receiving three shrapnel and machine gun wounds which left him unconscious for 36 hours. One of the bullets cut a deep gash in his chest just an inch below the heart. Then followed a period of six months in army hospitals and he was returned to his regiment in September. At the battle of Passchendaele in November, Stark was again wounded. A Hun bullet struck him in the face and cut away part of his upper lip, necessitating another six weeks' stay in the hospital to get patched up.

Back in Fighting Line.

Upon being discharged from the hospital, Stark was sent to the Arras sector, where he remained for three months. During this period no heavy battles took place but the boys pulled off nearly a hundred small raids across No Man's Land. The enemy made eight heavy counter attacks but never gained an inch. Stark remained in the front line until July, last year, when he was given a leave of absence of two weeks and spent the time in London. He returned to his company just in time to take part in the famous Amiens and Somme drives last summer, where the Canadians fought by the side of American soldiers for the first time. Mr. Stark has nothing but words of praise for the Americans and says they are wonderful soldiers.

Wounded Again.

Mr. Stark's company was shortly after this sent to the Arras sector and took a leading part in the memorable battle of Aug. 26, 27 and 28. In the first half hour of this battle Mr. Stark's company was reduced from 150 men to 35 by the vicious machine gun fire of the Germans. Through the death of other officers, Mr. Stark was placed in command of the men remaining in his company and on the third day was leading his company when he received the wound which finally put him out of commission. A bullet from a German revolver, fired at close range, struck him in the hand and a charge of shrapnel splintered the bone in the upper part of his right arm.

This ended the actual battle experience of the valiant soldier. He was sent to a hospital in England, where he remained until after the signing of the armistice. Mr. Stark states that one of the memorable events of his life is the celebration held in London at that time, which he was privileged to attend. He remained in England until Christmas and was then invalided back to Canada, where he received his discharge Feb. 10. Since then he has spent most of the time with his grandmother in Ontario.

Only Brother Killed.

Mr. Stark's only brother, Ernest J., enlisted with the 1st American engineers when this country entered the war, and soon gained the rank of captain. He met his death in the fighting at Cambrai just about a year ago. Ernest was a married man and leaves a wife and two small children, who have recently gone to Cuba to reside.

James Stark is a writer of no mean ability and has written several short stories and poems concerning the world war, which he plans to have published.

It" anyhow, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic. HIS TREATMENT IS REMARKABLE

Nearly everybody in Knoxville, Tenn., especially railroad people, know Captain F. S. Patty, for twelve years district passenger agent for the Northern Pacific railroad, with local offices in Chattanooga and general offices in St. Paul, Minn.

On account of generally failing health Capt. Patty was forced to discontinue active work and for the past few years has been making his home in Knoxville, where he numbers his friends by his acquaintances. He is a kind, genial gentleman of the old school, and is beloved by all who know him. The following interesting statement was made by him in person to the Tanlac representative:

"I am 69 years old and always enjoyed good health up to about six years ago, when I suffered a nervous breakdown and my general health gradually failed me. My principal trouble was indigestion and catarrh, but my whole system seemed to be out of shape. My condition finally got so bad I couldn't sleep at night and always after eating I would suffer so from indigestion and heartburn that I felt just like there was a coal of fire in my stomach. My hearing and vision were also affected. I consulted several doctors here in Knoxville and other cities and they helped me considerably and I finally got so I could go around, but somehow I just couldn't feel right and could not sleep at night, which made me awfully nervous and nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me.

"I began reading about this Tanlac when you first came here, but did not decide to try the medicine until I talked with a friend of mine who had actually used it. He said it was the best thing he had ever taken, and that was sufficient proof for me.

"I have just finished the first bottle and came here this morning, not only to buy the second bottle, but to tell you what it has done for me. I began enjoying my meals from the first few drops. My nervousness is gone and I can sleep like a child and always wake up in the morning ready for breakfast and feeling refreshed. I am very fond of onions, but was almost afraid to eat them, because they always disagreed with me so; I could taste them for hours afterwards. I ate one for dinner the other day and it agreed with me perfectly and I felt no bad after effects whatsoever. I tell you I am beginning to feel like a different man and am always going to keep this Tanlac on hand. It has done me more good than anything else in the medicine line I have ever taken. I certainly do recommend it to my friends. It is really remarkable."

John M. Anderson.

John M. Anderson of Reiner township passed away at his home last Friday, April 25, at the age of 50 years, 11 months and 25 days. The cause of death was tuberculosis of the lungs. He was laid to rest in the Rosendahl cemetery, Reiner, on Sunday, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. Tungseth of this city, who is pastor of the congregation. Deceased was an honest, upright and highly respected citizen who had numerous friends in the community, all of whom extend sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

CANADIAN SOLDIER PAYS CITY A VISIT

VETERAN OF MANY HARD BATTLES WEARS BRITISH HERO MEDAL.

T. O. Hughes, a soldier recently discharged from the Canadian army, was in the city last Thursday, arriving from Winnipeg. He was on his way to Rewey, Wis., where his parents reside. Mr. Hughes gave a short lecture at the Princess theatre Thursday evening, reciting some of his experiences while taking part in the war. The young man enlisted in the Canadian army Aug. 5, 1914, the day after war was declared, and claims to have seen more real warfare than falls to the lot of the average soldier.

Mr. Hughes was a member of the 33d infantry, which took part in the early battles of Ypres and Vimy Ridge. He relates a thrilling story of these great battles, telling how he was wounded in the head and gassed at the battle of St. Quentin, which put him in the hospital for two months. In April, 1915, he was sent back into the service, and for some time acted as instructor for Canadian recruits. He was finally placed in his old regiment, however, and took part in the famous battle of St. Juliens on Dec. 17, 1917. Here he claims to have rescued two comrades from No Man's Land under heavy machine gun fire, for which he was awarded the distinguished conduct medal. This is the second highest decoration given by the British government.

At the battle of Vimy Ridge, April 9, 1917, Mr. Hughes received a bayonet wound through his left lung and was taken prisoner by the Germans. He was then taken to a prison camp at Berlin and remained there until March 2, 1918, when he was exchanged and returned to France. Mr. Hughes told many stories of conditions in the German prison camp and related incidents of cruelty on the part of the Huns which are almost unbelievable. He related how two of his comrades were shot and another crucified for trivial infractions of the rules laid down by their captors.

Mr. Hughes arrived in Canada last July and received his discharge on Oct. 18, 1918. Since then he has put in most of his time lecturing throughout the eastern states, and after visiting for a time with his folks in Wisconsin he expects to continue his lecture tour.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all our friends and neighbors, for the kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and following the death of my daughter, Gudren, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs. Dena Evenson. ml

Back From France.

Julius Hoff and his sister, Miss Mathilda Hoff, arrived on Monday from their home at Perley for a short visit at the Edward Boe home. The young man recently returned from France, where he served for ten months in much of the heavy fighting with the 118th Infantry of the 30th division. On Sept. 27 he was gassed and spent six weeks in an English hospital. Miss Hoff spent eight months in France as a Red Cross nurse and returned to the states about a month ago. She also spent nine months nursing in an army hospital in New York before going to France. Miss Hoff left yesterday morning for Edinburg, N. D., where she was called to attend a patient, while her brother returned to his home at Perley.

Telephone Rates Must Be Higher

Increased Operating Expenses Require More Money

Telephone expenses have gone up rapidly the last few years. Telephone rates have not advanced in proportion to the cost of furnishing the service.

The cost of furnishing telephone service has advanced because of the increased cost of material to the telephone company and the increased living expenses of employees.

Everyone realizes the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing, for wages and for transportation.

The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all the necessities of life.

If this Company is to continue to furnish dependable telephone service to the public it must obtain such rates as will produce a revenue sufficient to cover the cost of providing the service.

Our reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

COST—That's what you put into a cream separator.

VALUE—That's what you take out of your cream separator.

Value in a cream separator depends upon the amount and the quality of service you get out of it.

Because it lasts fifteen to twenty years the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy. If you consider its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is exorbitant in comparison.

With present high butter-fat prices and the scarcity of labor this is truer than ever.

We'll sell you a De Laval on such easy terms that it will pay for itself out of its own savings. We want to see you the next time you're in town.

SOONER OR LATER YOU WILL BUY A

Seed Grain

We have secured the following high-grade seed grain and are prepared to supply it in any quantity wanted while it lasts:

One car Improved Saskatchewan Marquis Wheat.

One car of Oats, sold us as Swedish Select.

One car Southern Minnesota grown Yellow Dent Corn.

We offer the above for sale for seed purposes at a very reasonable price while the supply lasts.

DON'T LET A COLD KEEP YOU AT HOME

Dr. King's New Discovery almost never fails to bring quick relief

Small doses once in awhile and that throat-tearing, lung-splitting cough soon quiets down. Another dose and a hot bath before jumping into bed, a good sleep, and back to normal in the morning.

Dr. King's New Discovery is well known. For fifty years it's been relieving coughs, colds and bronchial attacks. For fifty years it has been sold by druggists everywhere. A reliable remedy that you yourself or any member of your family can take safely.

Train Those Stubborn Bowels

Help nature take its course, not with a violent, habit-forming purgative, but with gentle but certain and natural-laxative, Dr. King's New Life Pills. Tonic in action, it stimulates the lax bowels. Sold by druggists everywhere.

HIGHEST QUALITY AWARDS

Cream Prices

In North Dakota and Minnesota Dairy Commissioner J. J. Osterhaus of North Dakota says the farmers of North Dakota received 50c per pound for butterfat for 1918 while the farmers of Minnesota got a price of 60c average for butterfat for the same year.

This difference in price, Mr. Osterhaus says, is caused by the maintenance of about 1,000 creameries all over North Dakota and the wasteful and expensive manner the centralizing system is handling the cream.

Mr. Osterhaus states:

"While the progress thus far made is phenomenal, dairying still has much to overcome in North Dakota. Too much of our butterfat is handled by local cream stations, in the most expensive and wasteful manner. It is expensive because the cream stations must take their commissions out of the price paid to the farmer and it is wasteful because there is a loss in quality of the product passing thru these stations. The solution is the local cooperative dairy, such as Minnesota communities have established. The average price paid for butterfat in Minnesota, where most of the cream is sold direct to local cooperative creameries, was 60 cents last year while in North Dakota the average was but 50 cents—There is one community in this state producing 250,000 pounds of butterfat which is supporting seven competitive cream stations.

"We are fast working around to better conditions: New laws give us a better control of the creamery business and enable us to prevent ruinous competition, conspiracy and combination."

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

Finding a Market for the Producer

WITHOUT a market, agriculture could not be the basis of our national prosperity that it is. Marketing turns production into wealth and those agencies that help farmers find profitable outlets are important aids to the country's welfare. Stripped of all discussion, the function of the packers is to find markets. Because of their success in doing this, Armour and Company are today "The American Farmer's Biggest Customer."

Outlets must be maintained for normal supply. Foreign sales must be developed for excess yield. In a shortage of any product, acceptable alternatives must be distributed to relieve the need and to keep markets ready when the yield is again heavy. Fresh commodities which will not bear transportation, and would thus be unprofitable to produce, must be packaged for reserve use elsewhere. There must be manufacture and sale of all by-products. And these are among the services which Armour and Company render—one of the economic reasons why we handle food in so many different forms.

To perform efficiently, our entire system has to operate as a whole. It will not function piece-meal. Our preparation plants, at points where foods are grown, would become choked without our four hundred Branch Houses absorbing production. Our Branches, carrying the several days' reserve supply that makes users well nigh independent of railroad uncertainties, must continually wage a competitive fight for sales. We must finance producers for the thirty, sixty or ninety days necessary—pay cash for raw products, and then prepare, transport and sell on customary credits. Our refrigerator cars have to be steadily carrying the supply forward to the tables of the nation. As the Interstate Commerce Commission in its report of August last says:

"The carriers (railroads) of the country could not so effectively handle the entire refrigerator car equipment as is now done by the intervention of private owners. The meat packer could no more do business on an economical and efficient basis without his private cars than he could without his modern equipped refining or packing plant."

Marketing, however, does not consist merely in taking what producers offer and selling it. Scientific selling must begin with the best growing of those foods the country most needs. To this end our Farm Bureau was inaugurated—as a point of contact with growers and to help bring about a better understanding of mutual problems.

And it is largely because Armour and Company are thus continuously working to market the products of the American farm that you are sure of steady food supply. Understanding this, you must appreciate that in asking your dealer for Armour Products you are lending your support to a system that works to the country's economic good and to your own best interest.

NO WEDDINGS FOR AN ENTIRE MONTH

FOUR WEEKS PASS BY WITHOUT ONE MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED.

Never before in the history of Pennington county has a whole month passed by without an application for a marriage license being made to the clerk of court. But this is just what has happened during the past four weeks, according to Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund. For more than a month he has not issued a permit to wed and is beginning to wonder what the reason can be for such an unusual condition.

Cupid seems to have quit the job in Pennington county. Just why this should be so is a little hard to understand. The war is over and many of the soldier boys have returned. There is plenty of money in the country and prospects are excellent for another good crop. There are just as many young ladies of marriagable age in the county as ever before. Why, then, is it that no one takes a notion to get married? Can it be that the high cost of living has scared them all out? There must be a reason, but what is it? Clerk of Court Eklund is in hopes that with the advent of spring, balmy breezes, flowers, beautiful moonlight evenings, etc., business may pick up.

DEER PARK

Carl G. Olson transacted business at Oklee last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kveste of Highlanding and Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Anderson of Rhoda, were pleasant callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Swanson Easter Sunday.

Henry Pederson of Rhoda was a business caller in this vicinity last Saturday. Henry now resides on the old Carlson place.

Spring work was started by many here on the 17th in this locality.

Ben Kveste of Highlanding came over in his little "Tin Lizzie" the other evening and made us a pleasant call.

Mrs. S. B. Swanson was at Rhoda on a shopping trip the other evening.

Your humble servant has been absent from this part of the country for the past two years and to tell about the many changes that has taken place during our absence, in the line of road work and general county improvements in Pennington county, would fill a little book, and above all it is simply grand to hear how nobly the farmers and all have helped along the good cause of our government in the matter of Liberty Bonds and Red Cross donations, etc., without resorting to the so-called "yellow paint" stunts to any extreme and other unlawful doings in accomplishing the good work. This alone is indeed a credit to the good people of Pennington county and it will stand as an example for the rest of the counties within the state. When the day of reckoning comes, when one good deeds as well as the bad deeds will become a part of history in this great world war conflict. We congratulate the people of Pennington county for their loyalty towards their country, and for their spirit of progressiveness in politics.

Choicest Residence Lots in City to Be Offered for Sale

The finest inside residence lots in the city are to be put on sale at once. Sale will continue this spring until every lot is sold.

The big reconstruction idea now is a home for everybody. Not one that someone else owns and you rent, but a home that you own. This is going to be made just as easy for you as it is to pay rent and in the end you will have a deed to your own home instead of paying rent to a flat owner so that he may build more flats to get more rent to build more flats.

It is not necessary to take a bus to look at these lots nor will you need a taxi in bad weather if you buy one and build upon it. They are all within three or four blocks of the Post Office, Auditorium, Library, High School, Stores and business places, and more reasonable in price than lots so far out where there are no conveniences. Nearly all of these lots have city water, sewer and sidewalk all established and paid for, so you do not need to wait several years for these conveniences.

You can pay for these lots at the time of sale with cash or Liberty Bonds of any issue which bonds will be taken one hundred cents on the dollar, or you can pay one-fifth of the purchase price down and the balance at the rate of one-tenth each month, with six per cent interest on the part remaining unpaid from time to time.

Warranty deed delivered to you immediately upon payment in full. No taxes due until next year. All paid by owner this year. These lots are put on sale by the owner, who will show them at any time and give prices.

INVESTORS ARE ATTRACTED BY WATER POWER

OSHKOSH CAPITALISTS MAY MAKE OFFER TO BUY DAM HERE.

WOULD ENLARGE CAPACITY

READY TO ENTER INTO LIBERAL LONG-TIME CONTRACT WITH CITY.

There is a possibility that one of the most vexing questions confronting Thief River Falls as a municipality may be solved early as a direct result of the general resumption of business activity now experienced throughout the country. Capital, released from the restrictions imposed to a greater or less degree during the war, is seeking investment, and certain advantages offered by this municipality have already attracted the attention of parties looking for opportunities to back enterprises awaiting further development and holding out promises of a fair return on the money invested.

Would Buy Water Power.

F. H. Jocelyn, a capitalist of Oshkosh, Wis., was in the city last week, having been attracted here by reports he had heard concerning the possibilities held out by the water power in the Red Lake river. Mr. Jocelyn is interested in enterprises of this kind in a number of places in Wisconsin and there is no doubt as to his ability to carry out any agreement he may make.

The particular business of Mr. Jocelyn's company is to improve partly developed water powers to their full capacity and disposing of the power to industrial enterprises. The plan followed at Green Bay and other places where the concern has become interested, is to deliver electric current on the switch board of the municipality, the latter maintaining its own distribution system and continuing in every other particular to exercise full control over the plant.

Offer Will be Made.

Mr. Jocelyn was surprised at the possibilities held out for a large water power plant in this city. He stated that in most places the dams are situated quite a distance from where the current is used, the cost of transmission being in such cases one of the heavy items of expense. Here all this would be done away with, the power plant being located right at the point of greatest current consumption. With all the possibilities of the dam utilized there would be vastly more power developed than the city could possibly consume, in which case it could be sold at a distance at a very good profit. Farmers, for instance, would be very glad of the opportunity to run their stationary machinery and light their homes and barns with electricity, and this business could easily be worked up to a large item.

Survey Needed First.

While Mr. Jocelyn was greatly impressed with the outlook, he stated that any further interest in the matter on his part would depend entirely upon the report of engineers he would employ for the purpose of making a survey of the river as far toward the source as the effect of the backwater is felt. From what he was able to learn he was of the opinion that the dam could be raised at least two feet without causing lands of any value to be overflowed. Where it was clearly evident that such proceeding would ruin valuable property this would have to be secured by purchase. From casual observation and the information he was able to secure he did not think this would prove a serious consideration.

City's Lease Obstructs.

In case the report of the engineers employed by Mr. Jocelyn is favorable, the next step will be to make some arrangement with the city. The lease entered into with the Kretzschmar-Schreiter company, owners of the water power, still has five years to run. The municipality is now securing power for its dynamos at a very low price—so low, in fact, that everyone realizes that the holding company is furnishing it at a considerable loss. The city will naturally hold this advantage until the term of the lease expires, after which time there will be a different story to tell.

Would Make New Deal.

Although Mr. Jocelyn did not go into detail concerning the proposition he would present to the city, the impression he conveyed would indicate that his plan is as follows: He will ask the municipality to release the Kretzschmar-Schreiter people from their contract, it being the general understanding that the latter will gladly agree to this. A new lease could then be entered into between the new owners of the dam and the city whereby the former would agree to furnish power for electric current during a term of years at a stipulated rate per kilowat, delivered on the city's switchboard. The city would be protected by guarantees of sufficient power to meet the requirements at all times, and Mr. Jocelyn states that the length of the period for which the contract would be made would be optional with the city. He prefers that it be for 25 or 50 years.

Depends on Report.

Nothing further will be done in the matter until engineers have gone over the situation carefully. Before making an investment such as he believes necessary in order to get all that is possible out of the water power here, Mr. Jocelyn naturally wishes to acquaint himself with the habits of the Red Lake river, the dependability of its flow, etc. This he proposes to do without delay and the probabilities are that there will be something of a definite nature develop before many weeks. He intimated while here that in case everything worked out as favorably as indications led him to believe the work of enlarging and improving the power equipment here would be undertaken this summer.

Everybody Seeding.

Reports from the western portion of the county are to the effect that the grain is pretty well in. On the heavier soils in the eastern section the conditions are not quite so favorable, but the delay has not yet been sufficient to cause any alarm.

WILL QUALIFY FOR GOVERNMENT AID

BOARD TAKES FIRST STEPS TO COMPLY WITH SMITH-HUGHES LAW.

The school board of district No. 18 has taken the first steps to comply with the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act, perhaps the most important piece of legislation effecting the school of the country ever passed by congress. The law provides that states meeting the requirements will receive from the government a sum of money each year to be employed for vocational training, agriculture being particularly favored. Under the provisions of the statute Minnesota was entitled to $50,000 in 1918, this sum being gradually increased until it reaches $125,000 in 1923.

In order to benefit under this provision school districts must employ instructors meeting the standard set by the government and spend the money in the furtherance of vocational training. The Thief River Falls high school will be placed in a position to comply without difficulty with every requirement.

W. A. Ziegler, who will take charge as superintendent with the opening of the fall term, has given this subject considerable study and is well acquainted with the intent and workings of the law. This week he notified the local board that there were at present four men at the university who would qualify as vocational teachers under the Smith-Hughes law and urged that one of them be secured. He was at once instructed to make his own choice and it has since been learned that he has engaged a most competent man. There were 13 districts in the race for the four available candidates.

Further particulars concerning the workings of the government's plan will be forthcoming at an early date.

BASE BALL TEAM NOW A CERTAINTY

PROBABLE LEAGUE WILL BE FORMED BY CITIES IN THIS SECTION.

Anyone hoping to become a member of the Thief River Falls baseball team during the coming season had better make it a point to be present at the practice meeting at the fair grounds tonight. It will be the first tryout of applicants for place and it is more than likely that the lineup will be definitely decided.

The committee apointed by President E. M. Stanton of the Commercial club to look into the baseball question has been hard at work. Following are the members and it will be noted that every one is an enthusiast: L. H. Lawrence, Dr. G. A. Penney, Roy Lambert, Jens Erickson and G. W. Connell. Their investigations have disclosed the fact that there is a strong sentiment in the city in favor of maintaining a team and they have gone far enough to be certain that one will be put in the field.

The matter of a league to include the larger cities in this section of the state is being considered. The matter has been taken up with Warren, Argyle, Red Lake Falls and other towns and replies from these places are awaited. But even though the league proposition falls through there will be a team in Thief River Falls and it will be made up entirely of home talent.

State Road Overseers.

The board of county commissioners has appointed the overseers for state highways in the county for the coming season. The appointments date from the first of April and terminate on the last of November. The names turned in to County Auditor T. P. Anderson thus far are as follows: State Road No. 1, Albert Sivverson, St. Hilaire, reappointed; Road No. 2, east end, William Herron, Thief River Falls, reappointed; Road No. 3, first division, Nels Siverson, Thief River Falls; Second division, Halvor Olson, Thief River Falls.

GRAIN ACREAGE GREATER THAN IN RECORD YEAR

INCREASE IN WHEAT PLACED AT PRACTICALLY FIFTEEN PER CENT

LESS BARLEY, MORE FLAX

INDICATIONS ARE THE POTATO ACREAGE WILL FALL OFF IN COUNTY

According to the reports received at the office of the farm bureau, there will be in the neighborhood of fifteen per cent more wheat planted this year than in 1918. This would bring the total in the county up to approximately 30,000 acres, which is more than twice as much land as was devoted to this cereal in 1917, when the total was 13,626 acres. The amount harvested in the last-named year was 156,116 bushels, or an average of 11½ bushels per acre. Last year the yield in the county was 528,571 from 25,354 acres, the average being 22½, or practically twice that of the year previous. Should this yield be equaled in 1919 it will mean an increase over last year of about 88,000 bushels, or a total for the county of 616,000 bushels.

Barley Is Decreased.

Whether or not the prospective closing of the breweries is to blame is not known, but there is an indicated decrease in the barley acreage of about 20 per cent. This is the only grain of which less will be planted this year than last. Rye will be increased about five per cent and the same is indicated for flax. Potatoes will take a slight slump, the farm bureau estimating it at four per cent. The seeding of other grain is not yet far enough advanced to warrant an estimate being made.

Last year some of the yields, other than wheat, were as follows: Oats, 788,068 bushels; barley, 221,548 bushels; rye, 140,754 bushels; buckwheat, 19,517 bushels; flax, 82,934 bushels.

Rain Retards Seeding.

Farmers state that the last rains will cause a setback to seeding operations of from two to three days, depending on the drying conditions of the weather. Practically all wheat is planted and in localities where the soil is sandy many farmers have completed the seeding of all grains.

Helps Pasture Outlook.

While the rains were not welcomed by farmers who were busy seeding, the dairy and stock men do not regard the moisture as an unmixed evil. It will give pastures and meadows a much-needed start and this is perhaps of as great importance as that grain should be favored at this time. The delay is not likely to in any manner injure the chances for a good crop and will make the outlook for a good year for all crops more promising.

Holt Elevator Sold.

The Hanson & Barzen Milling company of Thief River Falls, has sold its elevator at Holt to a co-operative concern composed mostly of farmers of the neighborhood. This is now the only elevator at the neighboring town, the plant of the Red Lake Milling company having been destroyed by fire last week.

A. R. Jones, for five years manager for the Hanson & Barzen people at Holt, has closed up his affairs there and returned to Crookston, where his family resides, for the present.

It is understood that the Red Lake company will rebuild at once.

DADS TO WELCOME THEIR BOYS HOME

CITY WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED AT RECEPTION OF 151st ARTILLERY.

The greatest reception in the history of the state is today being held in St. Paul. The 151st Artillery was scheduled to arrive there at 8:30 o'clock and the preparations made for the homecoming of the heroes of St. Mihiel and the Argonne far surpasses anything of the kind ever before attempted. Thief River Falls will be well represented, every available drawing room and sleeper space on last night's Soo train having been engaged.

For two men going from here the occasion is one of unusual importance. Julien Provencher and Martin Bothun will meet their sons for the first time in almost two years, said sons having gone through the war with the famous Rainbow division.

Harold Provencher and Hardy Bothun are two members of the original quartet of which Martin Langseth and Fred Scanlan were the other two. They left Thief River Falls on June 24, 1917, their first stop being at Fort Snelling. From there they went successively to Camp Riley and Camp Mills, but their stay there was short as they were hurried to France where they arrived on Oct. 31, 1917.

Bothun is the youngest man returning with the regiment. He spent his 18th birthday on the battlefield and crossed the Rhine into Germany on the day he was 19 years old. In spite of his youth he served the heavy guns with his companions up until the very close of the war.

Harold Provencher was made a company cook as soon as it was discovered that he knew something of this trade. He continued in this capacity until after the battery arrived in France, when he asked to be transferred to the guns. This was granted and he was with Bothun when the order came to "cease firing" on the 11th of November. In spite of the fact that they were repeatedly in the thick of it neither of these boys received a scratch.

Two young men from this city will view the proceedings with particular interest. They are the original partners of those who are returning. Fred Scanlan who had been made a corporal was gassed in the first engagement in which he took part and was assigned to serve as a clerk at army headquarters in Paris. He continued in this post until after the signing of the armistice. Martin Langseth has been home for about two months. He was a victim of gas also, having received his dose in one of the big drives which preceded the windup.

It will be some reunion when these boys meet again.

EXPERT FINDS NO COMMON BARBERRY

COUNTY GIVEN CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH IN THIS RESPECT.

W. C. Pfaender, of the University Farm, St. Paul, made a tour of Pennington county last week searching for the Common Barberry which is a spreader of black stem rust on grains. No plants were found in the county at this time as a very effective campaign of eradication had been carried on last year. The state law now requires the immediate distruction of all Common Barberry and the government is conducting a campaign against this plant in the thirteen wheat states. Over 300,000 bushels were destroyed in Minnesota during 1918. The Japanese Barberry, which is harmless, should not be confused with the Common Barberry as it is not the spreader of the black stem rust.

DR. HUENEKIN HERE FOR CHILD CLINIC

CHILDREN UP TO FIVE YEARS MAY BE BROUGHT FOR EXAMINATION.

Dr. J. F. Huenekin, child specialist of the State Board of Health, will be in Thief River Falls for the purpose of conducting a children's clinic next Monday. Examinations will begin at 9 o'clock and will be held at the Auditorium.

While Dr. Huneken requests particularly that children under two years of age be brought, he will make examinations of those up to five years. The clinics are conducted particularly with the object of assisting parents in discovering any defect in infants, however, and it will be necessary for the visiting specialist to devote the greater part of his time to them.

Everyone is welcome to bring their children to this clinic and they will be given the best advice obtainable free of charge. Dr. Huenecken has traveled all over the state in the interest of the child welfare movement and has been instrumental in assisting hundreds of parents in arriving at a better understanding of the needs of their children. The state and local health authorities urge the people to take advantage of this opportunity offered them.

The first clinic of the kind, held here last winter, was one of the most successful in the state and Dr. Huenecken has held the city up in his travels as an example for others to follow.

Miss Laura Haggert, local school nurse, has received many inquiries from persons living in other sections of the county as to the date of Dr. Huenecken's visit and the probabilities are that parents from the outside in considerable numbers will bring their children for examination.

Will Address Woman's Club.

The regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held next Monday evening at the Commercial club rooms, the afternoon session being postponed for the purpose of permitting Dr. J. F. Huenecken to be present. He will address the meeting on the general subject of child welfare and it is expected that there will be a large attendance. Mrs. Gay Halvorson will lead in the community singing, and there will be solos by Mrs. C. A. Nason and Mrs. Albert Johnson.

Owing to the fact that Dr. Huenecken must leave on the night train the meeting will begin at 7:30 sharp.

BEGIN WORK ON STORE BUILDING WITHOUT DELAY

MODERN STRUCTURE TO BE ERECTED ON LABREE AVE. BY CARL FROSETH.

ORIGINAL PLAN IS REVISED

ROTH PROPERTY IN PROBATE AND CANNOT AT PRESENT BE TRANSFERRED.

*Carl Froseth will on Monday morn*ing begin moving the building in which his shoe and harness business is at present carried on to a location temporarily acquired for its accommodation and commence the excavation work for a new structure at 218 LaBree avenue north.

The new building will be of brick, 25x120 feet, with full basement. Mr. Froseth's intention for the present is to put up a one-story structure, making foundation provisions for the addition of another floor later on.

First Plan Dropped.

As announced in The Times last week the original plan was to acquire the Roth property adjoining for the shoe department of Mr. Froseth's business, but title to the property cannot be cleared until the estate of the late Fred Roth is finally settled by the probate court, and this will take longer than Mr. Froseth is willing to wait.

Idea Not Abandoned.

Original plans for a 50-foot building of two stories may yet be carried out. The new store will be arranged so that in case it is later desired to add the other 25 feet it may be done without trouble. Mr. Froseth has not abandoned the plan for a larger building with the second story arranged particularly with a view to accommodating lodges. It is understood that he has already received attractive offers for the renting of these quarters.

Work Begins Monday.

Contractor O. L. Ihle will begin the work of removing the present store building on Monday morning. Mr. Froseth is in communication with the owners of the lot directly across the street, between the City Meat Market and Lieberman Brothers store, and expects that arrangements will be made whereby he will be enabled to move his stock there until the new quarters are ready for occupancy.

No Luck With Dogs.

Roy Lambert is never going to own another bird dog as long as he lives. If he ever gets time to go hunting—always supposing that the state allows him to hunt anything—he will borrow or steal a purp for the occasion.

Last Saturday an automobile "got" Roy's third dog. The druggist was on the East Side delivering a package and the fool dog followed him. Before anyone was aware of what had happened an automobile came around a corner, ran smack over the really fine pointer and he was wafted to the "happy land of canine." Roy is disgusted.

In New Quarters.

Bakken & Crown's barber shop has been moved from the Citizens bank basement to the quarters formerly occupied by the Majestic Shoe Shine parlors at 205 LaBree avenue north. This is just one door north of the former location of the barber shop, which was destroyed by fire a couple of years ago.

CHILDREN PRESENT DAINTY OPERETTA

"CINDERELLA IN FLOWERLAND," UNDER WOMAN'S CLUB AUSPICES, MAY 23.

It is a number of years since the children of the city have presented a public entertainment, but a treat is in store for all when the operetta "Cinderella In Flowerland" is presented by about thirty children and young people on the evening of May 23. The play is under the auspices of the Woman's club and is directed by Mrs. C. A. Pitkin, which alone is assurance of its success.

The flower characters of this old but beautiful fairy story are Cinderella, represented by the modest Daisy despised by her proud sisters, the Hollyhock and Tiger Lily. The latter, as usual, are quarreling with her when Robin Red, the Prince's Herald, approaches with an invitation from Prince Sunshine for all the Blossoms to attend a ball at Sunshine Castle. The Blossoms, Poppy, Buttercup, Pansy, Violet, Sweet Pea and many others, appear at the appointed time resplendent in beautiful gowns befitting the occasion.

After they have gone the Daisy is found sadly leaning against a stone awaiting the children's return from school, when Nature, the fairy godmother, appears and presents her with a most marvelous gown, also two butterflies which carry her on the fairy breezes to the ball.

The Mayday ball is described in the third scene in which six little Sunbeams shed rays of brightness and joy over all until chased away by the naughty Raindrops, who show their repentance by arching a rainbow in the sky. The fourth scene represents the Daisy's fright at remaining until the Four O'Clock has gone asleep, the loss of her Lady's Slipper, the Prince finding it, and the final crowning of the Daisy as Princess of Sunbeam Castle.

Will Remove Landmark.

Fire Warden Paul Midderigh yesterday sold what remained of the old Linde building on LaBree avenue under orders from the state fire marshal. Chief of Police E. O. Erickson was the purchaser and the price paid was $6. The structure was partially destroyed by fire about a year and a half ago and has been an eyesore ever since.

MAYOR'S POSITION UPHELD BY COURT

SAME PERSON CANNOT HOLD OFFICE OF CITY AND COUNTY ATTORNEY.

The question as to whether or not the office of county attorney and city attorney can be held by the same party has been decided in the negative by Judge Andrew Grindeland. Theodore Quale's contention that he is entitled to pay for services in the latter capacity in spite of having assumed the post of county attorney on Jan. 4 is therefore denied.

This matter was brought before the court when Mayor G. A. Penney refused to sign the salary warrant of Mr. Quale for the months of January and February, March and April. The attorney brought mandamus proceedings to compel the mayor to sign the warrants, setting forth that he was the de facto officer and as such entitled to his pay. In his answer to the assertions of E. M. Stanton, attorney for the mayor, Mr. Quale further maintained that he had been appointed for the full term of two years and that his tenure did not expire until 1920.

The contention of Mr. Stanton was that when Mr. Quale qualified as county attorney the office of city attorney became vacant without any further action on his part and that he was not entitled to pay for any service in the latter capacity he may have rendered. This view is now upheld by the court.

BRINGING SOLDIERS IN LARGE NUMBERS

NEWS OF THEIR LANDING REACHES RELATIVES IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD.

Nearly every ship arriving from Europe these days carries one or more Thief River Falls boys who are returning to their homes after having served in the army. Among the arrivals during the past week are Corp. O. Johnson of the 58th coast artillery, who came over on the Santa Barbara, and Private Casper Weiner, Company A, 11th Engineers, who was on the Chicago.

Two from this neighborhood arrived on the Minnesotan—Private A. C. Larson of Thief River Falls, and Private A. Swenson of Viking.

Among those on the Texan are noted Privates W. Holter and M. P. Dargan, Company B, 11th Railway Engineers.

Private Matt LaCoe, Company B, 139th infantry, returned to his home in this city on Tuesday and The Times will next week attempt to give an account of his experiences.

Among those reported as having landed in New York during the last day or two are the following:

Edwin Stebbins, aviation service; Ambrose Zeh, tank service; Corp. Peter Borrud, 55th Pioneer infantry; Geo. Phillipson, employed at construction work in England; N. G. Charboneau, 309th field signal corps; Sergt. L. C. Nielson, evacuation hospital No. 25; Corp. E. S. Johnson, base hospital No. 56; Private William A. Swanson and Corp. Claude E. Poston, First army artillery park.

Unusual Industrial Display.

A display of articles of more than ordinary interest will be found during all of next week in the show windows of the Oen Mercantile company. The collection is the work of the pupils of M. A. Schmitt, instructor in the mechanical department of the Lincoln school and is said to be the best ever turned out by a class in Thief River Falls. Those who have watched the work of the boys say that the articles are both beautiful and useful. It is probable that this part of the school work is not observed as closely as that of some other departments and the results obtained are liable to prove somewhat surprising.

COUNTY IS STILL $13,050 SHORT OF LOAN QUOTA

ONLY FIVE PRECINCTS OUTSIDE CITY THUS FAR EXCEED ALLOTMENTS

CLEANUP TOUR NECESSARY

THIEF RIVER FALLS MAKES FINE SHOWING—FIRST WARD IN LEAD

While the record made by Pennington county in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign is better than that of most of its neighbors, there is still $13,050 to be raised before the requirements are met. According to the figures submitted by Chairman G. Howard Smith last evening, the total subscriptions reported foot up $256,050 against an allotment of $270,000. The sum needed to make up the shortage is so small that it would be a disgrace for our people to fail in raising it.

City Shows Up Well.

With the distribution of the subscriptions of the railroad employes, the city of Thief River Falls is credited with having purchased $126,100 worth of bonds, this being an oversubscription of $26,100. The First ward is the banner precinct in the county, registering up $8,750 more than was required as its share of the loan. There is no question but that one of the helmets will be awarded to the residents of this subdivision.

Goodridge is Leader.

The township of Goodridge is the leader so far as the percentage of oversubscription goes. The allotment was very small, being only $1,000, but it was made on the same basis as the others and the $300 above the requirements is a testimonial to the patriotism of the people residing there.

Other townships doing well are Highlanding, with a 20 per cent oversubscription; Black River and Cloverleaf each with 7.5 per cent, and the village of Goodridge with nearly 7 per cent. Helmets will undoubtedly be awarded the first-named two, with Black River and Cloverleaf contending for the other. The railroad department entitled to the fourth trophy cannot be decided until all the figures are in.

Are Ready to Start.

Fifteen teams of two men each have for nearly a week been ready to start out for the purpose of visiting those who failed to subscribe the amount set down by the committee as their share. Rain and consequent bad roads have made it impossible for these teams to get going—and they have only two days left. Chairman Smith is certain that the people of Pennington county do not wish to be reported as failing to meet the government's requirements in this loan, particularly when such a small sum is needed to put them over the top.

How They Stand Now.

Precinct	Allot.	Sub.
1st Ward, city	$ 25,000	$ 33,756
2nd Ward	25,000	30,209

FATE OF RIVER IMPROVEMENT UP TO PEOPLE

CONGRESSMAN STEENERSON SAYS DECISION IS NOW LEFT TO THEM.

CONGRESS READY TO HELP

BILL PROVIDES INDIAN LANDS SHALL PAY ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF COST.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson was a visitor in the city for a short time yesterday. It was his first visit since last fall and he did not have time to get around to see all his old friends.

Mr. Steenerson states that he has been notified that there will be a special session of congress called for May 26, and he is of the opinion that there will be no farther recess until the convening of the new congress in December.

Talks River Improvement.

When asked what the outlook was for the government taking some action looking toward the improvement of the Red Lake river, Mr. Steenerson stated that the matter was now largely up to the people residing in the municipalities along the stream. The War Department has devised a plan whereby the work can be undertaken, but the cost would be in the neighborhood of $800,000. Of this amount the Indian lands would be assessed about $250,000 and the water power interests about $240,000. This would leave something like a quarter of a million dollars to be footed by the municipalities and private owners of lands along the stream. He believes that if these conditions are met there will be no difficulty in getting the War Department's recommendations enacted into law.

CONG. HALVOR STEENERSON

Legislature Might Help.

In order to bring the cost to the private individuals down to a lower figure, Mr. Steenerson said that it might be possible to secure an appropriation through the legislature. The state is vitally interested in the reclamation of the exceptional farming lands in the valley of the Red Lake river and would be amply reimbursed for any outlay it might make.

Return Telephone Lines.

Mr. Steenerson believed that one of the first steps of the special session would be to provide for the return of the telephone and telegraph lines to the owners. He has a bill to this end ready to be introduced at the earliest opportunity. The railroad situation is not so clear, he said, but he believes that the demand for the return of the roads is general. This would not necessarily mean the reduction of wages, he said, as there are numerous other ways in which the companies can economize. He agrees that it will prove a vexing problem.

Mr. Steenerson is looking fine in spite of the hard work of the past three or four years and says he feels as fully fit as ever in his life. When congress convenes he will assume his new post as chairman of the committee on postoffices and postroads, one of the most important in the House.

CHILD WELFARE IS AIM OF RED CROSS

PROGRAM OF PEACE ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN HAS BEEN MAPPED OUT.

"We've got to look after the children. They're the biggest crop we have," said a commissioner when the question of contributing, with the Red Cross, to hire a visiting nurse for a neighboring county, was under discussion. The "ayes had it," after that argument.

The Red Cross Home Service workers have been learning all thru their war service for soldiers' families, how big and how valuable the crop of the children is. And how much it needs looking after.

The children have borne a terrible share of the hardships of war, even here in America, and in many cases they will continue to suffer its evil effects throughout their future.

The Red Cross Home Service has worked out a program of peace activities for children, designed to help every community to look after its "biggest crop" in the wisest and most effectual manner. This program covers the training of backward children and for children who work, cooperation with boards of education, looking after play and recreational needs, income and expenditures of families and farm problems of women, dealing with delinquent fathers, neglected children, treatment for those suffering with tuberculosis, and Americanization.

Health, sanitation, food and all the problems of the care and education —in short, the welfare of children, is now among the greatest of Home Service activities.

Will Direct Pageant.

Mrs. C. A. Pitkin this week received rather flattering recognition of her ability as a director of theatricals when she was appointed to assist in the work of arranging the monster pageant to be put on at the time the Northern Minnesota Development association meets at Cass Lake. The pageant will represent the progress made by this section of the state since the days when the Red Man was master of all he surveyed and Mrs. Pitkin expects to spend at least a week in helping the cast together. This will be composed largely of Indians from the nearby reservation and it is certain that the work will be about as interesting as any that could be assigned.

ELKS PREPARE FOR HUGE CELEBRATION

EXPECT TO INITIATE 75 NEW MEMBERS ON NIGHT OF MAY 29.

The night of Thursday, May 29, is liable to be memorable in the annals of Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. As a result of the membership campaign now being conducted it is expected that there will be 75 fawns ready to join the herd at that time and there are elaborate preparations being made for their reception. At the meeting held last Friday evening there were 53 applications for membership presented, this being the largest batch ever read at one sitting in the history of the lodge.

The different teams are still hard at work and there will be no letup until the first of June, at which time the national campaign is scheduled to close.

The lodge quarters are hardly large enough to properly care for so large a number for the initiation ceremony, and the Auditorium has been secured for the occasion. The affair will be staged on Thursday night instead of Friday which is the regular meeting date of the lodge. This falls on Memorial day this year and nothing will be permitted to interfere with the proper observance of that anniversary.

Invitations have been sent to the lodges at Crookston, Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Duluth, Superior, Bemidji, and other points, and it is expected that there will be large delegations present from these towns. It is predicted that a larger number of candidates will be initiated at this time than ever before in the history of any lodge in this section of the state.

Bjornaraa is Associate Editor.

Bjorgulf Bjornaraa, a prominent farmer of Hickory township and president of "Satesdalslaget," has been named as one of the associate editors of the Nord Dakota Tidende, a Norwegian language paper just started at Grand Forks. J. L. Rindahl, formerly editor of "Fram," published at Fargo, is the editor-in-chief of the new publication, which will be issued from the office of the American.

Mr. Bjornaraa is described in the announcements as "a gradute of one of the best seminaries in Norway and a distinguished feature writer, famous through the Northwest for his humorous and eloquent speeches."

Miss Halvorson in Recital.

Miss Doris M. Halvorson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Halvorson, 515 La Bue avenue north, who is studying in the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, played last Wednesday evening at the weekly students' recital of that institution. Miss Halvorson's number was "Caprice (Alceste)" by Gluck-Saint-Saens, and was splendidly performed. Miss Halvorson is studying harmony, ear training, voice and piano. She graduated from Lincoln high school in 1917, receiving sufficient credit to enable her to enter the Oberlin Conservatory which now demands the same entrance requirements as the College of arts and sciences.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

GRAIN BUYER AND SELLER ON BETTER TERMS

STATE SUPERVISION OVER LOCAL ELEVATORS WILL ACCOMPLISH THIS.

ALSO PREVENT FRICTION

"TRACK BUYERS" MUST DEAL IN CONFORMITY WITH OFFICIAL GRADES.

Among the 533 bills enacted into laws by the Minnesota Legislature of 1919, is one intended to clarify the relations between the grain growers, the local elevators and the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission. It is expected that when this act is understood by all concerned and put into effective operation that a great deal of the friction between farmers and local warehousemen and grain buyers will be eliminated. It has been well known to all ain interests that the position of tain of the elevators, whether conted as line houses by farmers' corative societies or independent cerns, has not been satisfactory, d that the situation has given rise endless controversy.

Becomes Public Warehouse.

With a view of removing some of the causes of friction, Representative Theodore Christianson, of Dawson, and Senator Olaf Gjerset, of Montevideo, introduced a bill extending the supervision of the State Railroad and Warehouse commission over local grain warehouses, and it was passed by both houses. By this measure every elevator, flour mill or warehouse, located on any line of railway, which receives, stores, ships handles grain, becomes a public local warehouse and is required to obtain a license from the Railroad and Warehouse commission before transacting warehouse business. So-called "track buyers" also are required to obtain a license. Both the elevators and the buyers are subject to supervision of the state commission and must purchase grain in conformity with the official grades.

Either May Appeal.

One important feature of the new law is a provision that in event of a dispute relative to grade or dockage, either party may forward a sample to the chief grain inspector at St. Paul and obtain a ruling that will be binding upon both parties and dispose of their contention. In the opinion of experienced grain men, such a provision long has been needed, and they are convinced that much of the jangling between farmers and rural elevator men will disappear under the new order of things.

CARE NECESSARY IN BUYING TIRES

MANY FAKERS MAKE GREAT PROFIT BY ALL KINDS OF SCHEMES.

The following article, by Richard H. Lee, special counsel for the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, may be of interest to motor car owners of this community:

The so-called guarantee on automobile tires or other accessories may mean much or little depending on the person who makes it, and the nature of the document itself. A good many motorists have discovered this to be true through bitter experience, yet there seems to be a new crop of "suckers" each year to maintain a constant field of fakers.

The advertisement which names an unknown tire usually announces a great reduction in price and a distinct raise in mileage guaranteed. The reduction in price, of course, involves only the use of a pencil—they can make the "usual price" or "regular price" anything they desire, and the reduction is merely a matter of judgment as to how much the public will believe.

A fake "guarantee" is just as elastic—it means nothing. The faker would be just as safe in placing it at 100,000 miles. It is all a matter of fixing it at an astounding mileage without making it quite unbelievable.

The Hercules Tire Company, which formerly did business at 1789 Broadway, New York City; now under indictment, had a guarantee of 4,000 miles which provided that in the event the motorist did not get the promised 4,000 miles, he could purchase another tire for half the price of the first. The Hercules developed to be a tire made of worn out standard casings, camouflaged. Some of these tires blew out on inflation, some went seven, some ten and a few ran more than ten miles.

Needless to say, Hercules buyers did not want a second tire at any price, but using the actual mileage obtained by H. F. Bee, a New Jersey motorist, as the basis of computation, we find that had he fully equipped his car with Hercules tires and availed himself of their guarantee and continued to do so, each tire giving him the same mileage as the first, it would have cost him $18,858 for casings alone to obtain his guaranteed 4,000 miles.

The advertisement which promises great reductions on a known tire is loaded with many traps. Occasionally a few standard tires are actually carried and sold at a loss as "leaders." Usually, they are "out sizes" and therefore useless to most of the prospective customers who call, and even the customer who could use such a size has trouble in buying them, for the faker wants to keep them to help bring others into his place of business so that he can induce them to take inferior, unknown goods. A fisherman saves his bait as long as he can. So with these fakers.

Again, such dealers sometimes dispose of bankrupt stocks of tires which have been in storage for so long that they have deteriorated and could not be sold as first class by any legitimate dealer.

In all such cases, it is well to remember that the comparative value of a product is not based on what you pay for it, but what you get for your money.

And so, for the sake of emphasis let me repeat what was said in a recent address to automobile owners:

Beware of the advertisement which fails to name the tire.

Beware of the so-called "League" or "Club" which promises to sell you something if you join and pay a fee which it will not sell you if you do not join and pay a fee.

Beware of the man who wants you to buy stock in a manufacturing company upon the representation that you, as a holder of a small amount of stock, are to be supplied with tires or other accessories at a reduced price.

Appreciate Kindness.

We wish hereby to express our sincere thanks to the citizens of Thief River Falls who so liberally contributed toward paying our expenses at the home-coming celebration tendered the 151st Artillery this week in the Twin Cities.

Whooping Cough

"Granny" Chamberlain

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

NATIVE OF CITY IS RISING MUSICIAN

WYMAN HORR SURPRISES DULUTH AUDIENCE BY MASTERFUL PERFORMANCE.

Thief River Falls is likely to be known as the birthplace of a famous musician one of these days. The work of Wyman Horr, now a resident of Duluth but whose place of origin in this city, is creating considerable interest by his remarkable performances. The young man is a nephew of Mrs. W. J. LaBree and the family will be remembered by many of our people.

In referring to one of the recent recitals by the young man the Duluth News Tribune says:

"Playing with the interpretation of a mature artist rather than of a pupil, Wyman Horr charmed his hearers yesterday at the MacDowell program of the Matinee Musicale. Mr. Horr, who is a Duluth product, the pupil of Ernest Lachmund, is only 18 years old, but his work yesterday gave promise of a career. 'The Third Sonata' of MacDowell is a tremendous thing, but Mr. Horr played with wonderful relaxation, working up from the exquisite soft passages to beautiful climaxes. He was called back several times by the enthusiastic audience."

The young artist and his mother are expected to visit Thief River Falls during the summer and it is probable that our people will have an opportunity to hear him.

To Erect New Flat.

M. V. Evenson, who purchased the large building on the corner of Second street and Main avenue, has moved it to a point on Fourth street just west of the Telemarken hotel. Excavation for the basement is now under way and the building will be converted into a modern flat.

TWO YEARS IN BED AND ROLLING CHAIR

MRS. WILSON GAVE UP HOPE. GAINS 25 POUNDS ON TANLAC—IS NOW WELL.

"For two years I spent all my time either in the hospital, in bed, or in a rolling chair, and during that time I was given up to die, and I don't guess I would be here now if it hadn't been for Tanlac," said Mrs. E. O. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is well-known in Atlanta Ga., her husband having been employed by The Constitution for a number of years.

"I was a great sufferer from chronic indigestion," continued Mrs. Wilson, "and don't guess anybody ever had to go through with what I did. I was very weak and nervous, and at times had those dreadful smothering sensations to the point of fainting. I had dreadful headaches, severe pains in my back and over my kidneys and my joints ached all the time. For two years I had to live entirely on boiled milk, toast and soft boiled eggs and even that didn't digest well, and would sour on my stomach. I didn't know what it was to get a good nights sleep. I took one kind of medicine after another until our house was almost filled with empty bottles, but instead of improving I was getting worse all the time. Finally they took me to the hospital for treatment, and I lay there for five long months, but even that didn't make me well. It was taking nearly every cent of my husband's wages to pay my doctor and drug bills—our drug bill alone amounted to $14 or $15 a month, and one doctor bill amounted to $100.

"It looked like everything had failed to help me, and I had about given up all hope when one day my husband brought a bottle of Tanlac home with him and asked me to take it. He said he had been reading and hearing a lot of good things about it, and didn't see any reason why it shouldn't help me. I was confined to my rolling chair when I began taking it.

"Do I look like an invalid now? I certainly don't feel like one, and I have actually gained twenty-five (25) pounds on eleven bottles of Tanlac, and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I can eat anything I want—such things as meat, turnips, hard-boiled eggs don't hurt me a particle, and I sleep as good as I did when I was a girl in my teens. I can get about as well as anybody and just the other day I walked down town; and I am running around the neighborhood calling on my friends nearly all the time now. I haven't a pain about me. I believe I am the happiest woman in Atlanta, and I think I have a right to be. I think my recovery is almost a miracle, and everybody in our neighborhood thinks the same."

THE DAM QUESTION AGAIN.

The power dam in the Red Lake river at this point is at once the city's greatest asset and its most dependable source of annoyance. Just at present it is enabling the city to secure a certain amounut of power at a very low cost, but this is unreliable to a degree and everyone realizes that only a very small part of the potential value of the equipment is being returned.

The entire situation is unsatisfactory. The dam owners are not receiving anything like a fair return for the money they have invested and the city is getting only a fraction of the power it is possible to develop.

For this reason the news that another concern is looking over the property with a view to acquiring and developing it to its full capacity is interesting. At least it opens the dam question to discussion once more, and this of itself may be of some value.

The parties who have become interested in the water power here are men who have large sums of money already invested in similar enterprises. It is their business to buy and improve plants of this kind. There is no doubt of their ability to carry out any contract they may enter into and the only question is, would it be advisable for the city to make such arrangement?

There are two sides to this, of course. The city is at present getting the power generated by the dam at a cost of $175 a month. This is not much of an outlay, but on the other hand the service has hardly been such as to warrant a much greater expenditure. The city's contract with the owners of the dam still has five years to run and during that time whatever power the dam is able to generate will be paid for at the rate above mentioned. No one attempts to maintain that the city is getting all the service the river is capable of developing, while on the other hand it must be admitted that the dam owners are not receiving enough returns to pay the interest on the money invested, leave alone anything in the way of profit. The city can hold the company to its agreement for five years and receive more than it is paying for. That is one side of the subject.

In five years a new agreement will have to be entered into. That the same terms will again govern is impossible. The company will naturally demand that enough be paid to ensure a reasonable return and there is nothing to prevent its becoming even a little unreasonable. After a service has been delivered for years at a loss because a cast iron agreement prevented any adjustment, it would not be surprising if the people furnishing it were to try and make up when the other party is helpless. At any rate it would mean a raise in the price of power, this is admitted.

At the same time the property might deteriorate. There is not much of an inducement to keep it at top efficiency when there are no returns worth mentioning. Even now there are months at a stretch when the city derives practically no benefit from the dam, and this condition is not likely to improve.

Should a survey of the river show that sufficient power can be developed here in case the dam is put in first-class condition, a concern with ample capital and long experience in matters of this kind stands ready to buy it from the present owners. That is, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made with the city. The old contract would have to be nullified and a new one entered into. It is probable that an increased rate would be asked but there would be assurance of ample power.

Now the question is simply this: Will it be best for the city to insist upon the carrying out of the old agreement, thus receiving a part of the power necessary to run the plant for five years more, or is it safer to make a new contract entirely, this to guarantee a certain amount of power for a term of 25 or 50 years?

The city has had opportunities to purchase the dam at figures which at the time seemed very attractive. The people have refused. It is not at all likely that the sentiment in this respect has changed, particularly as it is now evident that both the river and dam will have to be improved greatly before there will be sufficient power developed to meet the city's needs. The old company will not make these improvements. The present contract will be lived up to—so far as it is possible for the dam owners to do so—and matters will drift from bad to worse for five years more. At the end of that time there will have to be a new deal entirely.

There is no telling just what the people might wish to do about this, but as the matter is clearly one with which the council will have to deal it is likely that body will be permitted to use its collective judgment without interference. The fact is generally recognized that something will have to be done and it may be that this new development offers the solution.

MAYBE HIS WAY IS BEST.

There are undoutedly a number of people who believe that President Wilson is assuming rather more authority at the peace conference than it was intended he should have, yet the general opinion is that if it were not for Wilson the situation over in Europe would be vastly worse than it is. Right or wrong, he seems to have the matter pretty well in hand and is evidently able to make the majority of the delegates see things his way.

Were it not for the fact that the president of the United States is recognized as representing a country that is seeking nothing for itself in this peace parley there would now be a row of but slightly smaller proportions than was cause by the war itself. Europeans have not yet arrived at a point from which they can view the war as being in any manner different from previous conflicts, and they are for the most part insistent that the old theory whereby the victors shared the spoils shall apply. It is hard for them to understand that territory is not to be parcelled out regardless of what the people residing therein may desire in the premises, and some of them are acting peevish because all adjustments are to be made in a spirit of absolute fairness.

Certain Republican senators are coming in for a considerable share of criticism for their attutde on this matter. This criticism is by no means confined to newspapers and public men opposed to them politically. Even among these there is a tendency to wait until more concerning the actual terms are known before either approving unreservedly or condemning generally. Papers of such recognized Republican proclivities as the St. Paul Dispatch warns these senators against attempting to make a political issue of the peace treaty, asserting that by so doing they will blast any hope the party may have of carrying the election in 1920. Ex-president Taft has voiced sentiments of a similar nature, as have many other men prominent in the councils of the party.

Whether Fiume goes to the Italians or the Jugo-Slavs is a matter of but slight general importance to Americans. What the latter demand is that some settlement shall be reached which will make future wars impossible, and thus far they show a tendency to prefer President Wilson's plan for accomplishing this to that of his critics.

NO SUCH DANGER HERE.

In certain farming districts there is some alarm felt lest too much pasture and meadow land has been turned over and planted to grain. The exceptional price assured for wheat this year would naturally have such tendency and the situation might be far from satisfactory were it not for one thing. In spite of the good profit promised for wheat, that indicated for butter and meat is even better. There are about nine hundred different things can happen to wheat between now and harvest, while there is practically only one danger as concerns the cattle and dairy industry. This is a short hay crop, and is not of a nature to cause much concern.

Wheat at $2.16 is reasonably profitable, but butterfat at 73 cents a pound is more so. There is of course the possibility that the price of the latter will fluctuate more than that on wheat, but even so the margin is sufficiently large to make the dairymen a great deal more secure than the wheat-raiser. Besides, the man who pins his faith to cows and does not permit the present wheat flury to stampede him is building for the future far more certainly than he who devotes every available acre to the staple grain.

The advice of farming authoritizes everywhere is: Stick to the cow. Taking one year with another, this policy will win. Grain may reach an unusual figure for a short time or through artificial price stimulation, but the cream can will keep right on doing business at a satisfactory profit all through the excitement and will be right on the job when the support is taken from everything else.

It would be foolish to discourage the planting of wheat under present circumstances, but The Times cannot help advising the farmer who is fortunate enough to secure a good crop of the cereal to put the profit he makes this year into more cattle.

Keep right on filling the silo. There is less speculation connected with it than anything else you can do on the farm.

OUR OWN PARTICULAR "OUTFIT."

Minnesota soldiers distinguished themselves in every branch of the army, there having been men from the old state in a dozen of units which return with the most glorious records. But the one outfit particularly our own is the One Hundred and Fifty-first Field Artillery. As an integral part of the famous Rainbow division, this Minnesota contingent went through some of the most severe fighting of the entire war.

The people of the state are to welcome these boys home soon. That the reception will be as fitting as it is possible to make it goes without saying. Very few are the cities or towns of the state that has not at least one representative in its ranks and from each of these there will go forth relatives and friends to welcome the fighters back to their native soil.

Thief River Falls is represented by two young men, these being what remains of a quartet furnished when the command was first organized early in the war. The others have already returned, being among those who were wounded in the fierce fighting in which the regiment took part. The city will also be represented among those present to welcome them home and it is only to be regretted that the delegation can not include all who would like to be there. In that case the town would be practically depopulated for a few days.

They are going to make quite a fuss over these lads when they return, and no one will deny that the heroic young fellows have earned anything in this line the state is able to deliver. They belong to all of us and have rendered a service which entitles them to our gratitude, not only at the present moment, but for all time to come. Nothing we can do is too much.

The American farmer ought surely to raise no objection to a limited amount of wheat being shipped in from Canada. The price for his own product has already been fixed and the importation can make no difference to him. If the plan proposed serves to reduce the cost of flour to the laboring man in the city without lowering the price of the farmer's wheat it would seem as if everyone should be satisfied.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

County Attorney Brown was up from Red Lake Falls. He reported deep.
the roads full length and a yard

Robt. McGinn was reported among the Thief Riverites slipping in the Crookston mud.

Andy Smith sold his lots near the saw mill and purchased others on Markley avenue.

Ten Years Ago.

The Press editor returned from a trip to the reservation and was loud in his praise of improvements made in that section since it was opened for settlement.

Gilbert Granum and family left for Flathead, Mont., to make their future home.

J. Adam Bede was secured to deliver the address at the graduation exercises of the local high school.

Chas. Alexander was chosen alderman from the third ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Prichard.

Willis Akre, clerk in the light and water department, received a raise in salary from $35 to $45 per month.

Prof. J. H. Hay left for the Twin Cities on a short business trip.

Mrs. G. W. Booren and little daughter, were visiting relatives at Stillwater for six weeks.

W. G. Hunt, editor of the Sunbeam, was in the city making final proof on his claim.

Advance But Slight.

A great deal has been said and written concerning the difference made in the pay of railroad men by the last wage adjustment. As a matter of fact the difference in the amount received in most cases is very small, the change being ordered more to arrive at an equitable adjustment than to bring the receipts of the branches affected to a higher level. The rate of pay to be received under the new order is as follows, the only railroaders to whom it applies being the trainmen: Conductors, 4 cents per mile, $6 per day or $180 per month. Assistant conductors, or ticket conductors will receive 3.20 cents per mile, $4.80 per day, or $144 per month. The pay of a baggageman operating dynamo is placed at 3 cents per mile, $4.50 per day, or $135 per month. Flagmen and brakemen are scheduled at 2.66 cents per mile, $4.00 per day or $124.80 per month. Thief River Falls railroaders say that the change makes little or no difference in their pay check.

Building Now Serves Many Purposes

EDITORIAL IN DULUTH EVENING HERALD

THE TIME TO BUILD IS NOW.

Mr. Kelley, president of the National Contractors' association, told Duluth audiences yesterday his profound conviction that—

(1) Those who are waiting for lower prices before starting their building and other improvements will have to wait about ten years; and

(2) That the cost of building and other improvements is likely to be higher six months hence rather than lower.

We believe—and have stated repeatedly—that Mr. Kelley is right. And the opinion he expressed to Duluth people yesterday is the one that is fast gaining ground everywhere.

Prices can't come down much because labor can't be brought down and shouldn't be brought down.

Prices can't come down much because after more than four years of war the storerooms of the world are bare of the products needed for building.

Prices can't come down much because presently, when the urgent demand for new buildings makes a start necessary, competition for labor and supplies will tend rather to force prices up than to put them down.

Prices can't come down much because prices are regulated to a large extent by the volume of money and negotiable credits, and America is full of both, almost to the point of inflation.

Prices NEVER will get back to their 1914 level. Prices cannot go down from present levels materially if at all, except through a calamitous paralysis of business and industry that would leave everybody too poor to build anything.

The time to start building and other improvements is NOW. The man who starts now will have the edge on the man who waits vainly for lower prices that are fated not to come.

In the first place it will provide the needed building, whatever it may be. Next, any kind of construction work is welcome at this time because it will put men to work and assist in getting the country back onto a normal basis. Building now creates a demand for manufactured goods, and this is desirable. Unless factories are running, there will be no prosperity.

Do Not Wait for Lower Prices

Prices may be lower some day but when that day comes the ordinary citizen will be less able to build than right now. If he is a farmer he will be receiving less for his products; if he is a laboring man he will be receiving less for his labor.

Read the above editorial. It tells the truth. When you decide to build you can save money and get better service if you allow us to figure on the bill of goods you will need.

The Tessum Company Offers:

Alfalfa

From its original home in Asia, Alfalfa has been carried to all parts of the world. The name "Alfalfa" is Arabic for "the best fodder." It has been grown in the eastern States for two hundred years and is now the staple leguminous forage crop throughout the Western half of our country. Alfalfa has been grown successfully in Minnesota for over fifty years. Here are a few facts about

ALFALFA

1. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture says: "In addition to the Hay crop, Alfalfa at two years adds $100 to the value of every acre on which it grows."
2. There is no State in the Union in which Alfalfa cannot be successfully grown.
3. Alfalfa produces from three to seven tons of Hay to the acre.
4. It has as much Protien as Wheat Bran.
5. It will grow from three to five crops per year.
6. It enriches the soil.
7. Sheep fed on Alfalfa will gain from eight to fifteen pounds in 75 days and will double with small grain ration added.
8. Fed to Dairy cows Alfalfa maintains the flow of milk equal to June Grass. It can be chopped fine with corn meal. Such a mixture is worth more a pound than the original corn meal.

Its long, branching roots penetrate far down, push and crowd the earth this way and that, and thus constitute a gigantic subsoiler. As soon as cut, they begin to decay and liberate the vast reservoir of fertilizing matter below the plow, to be drawn upon by other crops for years to come.

Have a lot of 50 lb. bags Montana Alfalfa.

Bulk Garden Seeds

In all up-to-date localities, a properly equipped seed store is now considered indispensable. The old custom of sending away for your seeds is growing less each year and for this reason the TESSUM SEED STORE is better able each year to meet the increasing demand for reliable seeds. We make a specialty of seeds for the town garden and for the farm garden. Good seeds are necessary if good crops are expected. Our success depends on selling you GOOD seeds.

It is surprising how small a piece of ground is needed to supply a family of average size with fresh vegetables through the whole season. A piece of ground thirty feet by forty feet is all that is necessary. In comparison with the ridiculously small cost, the return surely does warrant the investment.

Why not plant a garden this way: Half a pint of Wax Beans planted in two rows, followed by half a pint of green podded kinds. One row of Early Cabbage, one or two quarts of peas, early and late, in two rows. One row of Early Beets. Follow Peas and Beets with a Planting of Cabbage. Half a row of radish, Early Round. Half a row of Long White or Red. One half row of Lettuce, curled leaf, half row of Head Lettuce. One row of Onion Sets. Follow Onion, Radish and Lettuce with Egg Plant, Pepper, Turnip and Rutabaga. One row of Cucumber, Early and Late. One row of Tomato. Four rows of Sweet Corn, early and late, Squash, Pumpkins, etc.

Many other seeds may be added to this list which are well worth the time and effort of producing.

Sweet Clover

The White Blossom Sweet Clover is the best known variety. It is an erect stemming, branching, biennial plant, with uniform ascending stems. In its second season it makes a growth of from five to twelve feet.

Many excellent advantages are possessed by

SWEET CLOVER

1. It is not a weed.
2. Like Alfalfa, it is rich in protien.
3. Will not bloat cattle or sheep.
4. It is a great milk producer.
5. Fits well in corn rotation.
6. Is a great soil enriching crop.
7. Never damages cultivated crops.
8. Its roots decay rapidly, adding much nitrogen and humus to the soil.
9. Seeds freely in both humid and dry sections.
10. Sweet Clover prevents erosions.
11. Will grow under conditions where other Clover and Alfalfa fail.
12. It will grow in any State in the Union and Thrive on any type of soil and under almost any climate condition.

In general, Sweet Clover may be seeded the same as other Clover or Alfalfa. It must have a firm seed bed, just enough loose soil on top to enable the seed to be covered. Sow as early as possible in the spring. Fall sowing is also recommended when weather conditions are favorable. Sow 12 to 18 lbs. of good hulled seed per acre.

It is usually possible to get one cutting the first year and two good hay crops the second.

SPRING RYE

Spring Rye makes an excellent crop where winter grain has been killed out or for sowing where fall crops have not been planted. Does not grow as large straw as Winter Rye, but usually yields well and grain is of fine quality. We wish to emphasize the fact that we sell the genuine Spring Rye. Only 100 bu. left.

TIMOTHY

Just received a supply of tested Timothy Seed. Free from quack grass and thistle.

FODDER CORN

This excellent forage crop has been grown largely because it produces more tons of feed per acre than any other grain. Twenty-five tons an acre of green feed are often reported and occasionally 35 to 40 tons are produced on a single acre.

RAPE

It is best adapted to moist, rich soil, in which there is plenty of humus. Slough lands are especially good. It has been usually grown to furnish pasture for Hogs, Sheep and Lambs, but is now being found equally good in providing pasture for all kinds of Stock.

MILLET

The stems are single or few in number from each root. The leaves grow large and stout. They are rather short, the heads are often one inch in diameter and 6 to 8 inches long. This will give a very heavy tonnage of first class feed and is especially valuable because of the shortage of hay. ½ bu. of seed required per acre.

CANADIAN FIELD PEAS

Heighth of vine, 3½ to 4 feet. This is a standard variety of Field Peas and is extensively grown in Canada, Wisconsin and other pea growing sections and has a large sale. It is also fine for pigeons and poultry.

SPELTZ

It resists drough, thrives on poor lands, in stoney ground, in forest regions, on prairies. It makes a crop with almost any condition of soil and climate. Endures a great deal of Frost, is not readily damaged by Harvest rains, is not susceptible to rust and smuts. Yields more than Oats, Wheat or Barley. Ripens Early. It makes a good feed for all kinds of stock. Why not put that extra piece of land into Speltz?

NO PEAT WORK UNTIL DITCHES ARE IMPROVED

DR. ALWAY SAYS DRAINAGE IS PREVENTED BY OBSTRUCTIONS AT PRESENT.

IS UP TO COMMISSIONERS

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL LEND EVERY ASSISTANCE WITHIN ITS POWER.

The Commercial club members who attended the first meeting of the spring season last Thursday evening found plenty of interesting matters to consider. Subjects of the utmost importance to the city and section were brought up and a good start was made toward again making the organization an effective factor in the life of the community.

Perhaps the most pressing subject brought up for discussion was a letter from Dr. N. J. Alway, soil expert of the university of Minnesota, dealing with the peat situation so far as this pertains to the proposed experimental station at Goodridge. Dr. Alway stated that his department was ready to go ahead with the soil preparation and seeding on the plots, but that nothing could be done until the drainage of the land has been improved. The ditches in the neighborhood are of ample size to prevent any drawback in this direction, but they are made practically worthless by the accumulation of brush and other impediments to the flow of water. The writer suggested that the club take the matter up with the county board with a view to having it attended to as quickly as possible. Dr. Alway himself has written Commissioner A. C. Hanson of the first district with reference to the matter and it will probably receive attention at the earliest possible moment.

Advice Not Needed.

The club will take no action except to assure the county board that it is willing and anxious to assist in the work in any manner that may be suggested. The impression at the meeting seemed to be that the commissioners were both willing and able to look after the work without outside interference and that it might very properly be left to them to do so.

Spoke of Session's Work.

Senator O. A. Naplin was asked to tell something of what the legislature had accomplished and he went over the bills passed and which were of particular interest to the people of the district. He explained that while the delegation was unable to get through both houses all the measures introduced, yet there were quite a number of laws enacted which had special reference to the needs of this particular section. Senator Naplin explained these in detail and also pointed out why some of the others had fallen by the wayside.

Blamed to the Irish.

D. P. O'Neill, former senator and during the past session a member of the third house, where he was particularly charged to look after any bill that might have as its purpose the improvement of the Red Lake river, explained why a drainage appropriation failed of passage. He had been doing yeomanry service for this bill and believed that it would pass all right. "And it would have gone through," said Mr. O'Neill, "had it not been for the sporting proclivities of three Irishmen who, when it came to where their votes were needed, went out to view an airplane sailing over the city." But even at that, there is every indication that something definite will be done with this proposition before long, the water power people and the Indians being ready to do their share, according to Mr. O'Neill.

Reported on Loan.

G. Howard Smith, secretary of the club and chairman of the Victory Loan committee, reported that Pennington county was still about $17,000 short of its quota, but as this was a better showing than that made by many of the neighboring communities, he had every hope that the full allotment would be raised without any trouble. Cleanup squads were sent into every delinquent township the following day and later reports will show what success they had.

How About Base Ball?

As is customary in all well regulated American communities at this time of year, the subject of base ball was brought up. No action was taken other than to appoint a committee to look into the matter of supporting a team for the city during the coming season. President E. M. Stanton named the following citizens to make this their special duty:

L. H. Lawrence, Dr. G. A. Penney, Roy Lambert, Jens Erickson and G. W. Connell.

For Memorial Day.

The public affairs committee of the club, composed of the following members, Dr. H. W. Froehlich, Albert Lieberman, A. M. Langseth, John Morgan, F. F. Haynes and E. E. Zeh, was instructed to take up the matter of a proper observance of Memorial Day with Mayor G. A. Penney and other city officers with a view to having the club represented in anything that may be contemplated along that line. In case no arrangements have as yet been begun the committee was authorized to go ahead with the preliminaries.

All Enjoyed Supper.

While the attendance was not as large as on some previous occasions, everyone was glad they came. The supper was served by Julien Provencher of the Evelyn, and was up to his usual standard of excellence. Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher favored the company with a song, executed in her usual brilliant manner, Miss Blanche Johnson being the accompanist. A piano selection by Elnor Overland was greatly enjoyed.

As the representative of the railroad men on the board of directors of the club H. D. Keene was elected. This fills the only vacancy on the steering committee.

Mileage Cost of Autoing.

A committee appointed at the recent farm bureau conference at University Farm has decided that 8¼ cents a mile shall be the standard rate for the reimbursement of county agents for official automobile mileage in 1919. This figure is based on reports of costs of operation submitted by 66 county agents. The average for 48 cars of a small popular type was 7.6 cents a mile; the average for the other 18 was 10.5 cents. County agents may secure a modification of the allowance when justified, by appealing to the executive committee of the county farm bureau and to the assistant county agent leader.

Bread-Making Contest.

The Bread Making club held its annual baking contest at the high school last Saturday afternoon, the members spending the day at their task. Miss Theresa Giefer, teacher of domestic science in the Goodridge school, judged the results and awarded the first prize to Miss Lutrella Paulson. The members who did not enter the contest provided a most appetizing lunch at noon. A program had been arranged but owing to the lateness of the hour this part of the proceedings was omitted.

Donates the Coffee.

C. S. Simonson has stocked a new brand of coffee and he is introducing it in a novel manner. He is offering to give free of cost enough of the coffee to serve at one lunch given by any ladies' aid society in the city. All that is necessary is for the secretary of the society to notify him of the date of the meeting. He will do the rest.

Class Play Pleases.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: The performance of "Green Stockings" presented by the senior class of the Thief River Falls high school played to a full house at the Jewel theatre here Friday evening and those who were present declared it to be one of the best amateur plays ever presented here.

ROAD SHOW HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

"TURN TO THE RIGHT" IS BOOKED TO PLAY AT AUDITORIUM FRIDAY.

"Turn To The Right," the delightful comedy drama which comes to the Thief River Falls Auditorium on Friday night, May 9th, with the entire New York production and company, proves for the millionth time that the heart of the great republic is in exactly the right place, for, ancient as it is, the device of saving the old homestead wins as much sympathy now as in days gone by. Tears wet many eyes in the scene of the prodigal's return, while a minute later the atmosphere is cleared by a burst of laughter. So it is throughout the play—comedy and pathos cleverly intermingled and presented in an especially attractive manner. Every audience is charmed with the production and lovers of the good things in legitimate stage attractions will indeed miss a genuine treat if they do not embrace the opportunity to see this sterling offering and the splendid company who present it.

A particularly pleasing feature of the production is the perfectly natural manner in which it is presented, while the scenic effects obtained are very attractive, especially in the final act presenting the Bascom peach orchard in full bloom. If the genuine enjoyment derived by an audience be any indication of its popularity, the theatre should be filled to capacity at the final presentation of this quaint mixture of fun and mother-love.

Bloomquist-Lee.

John Elmer Bloomquist and Miss Clara Theorina Lee were united in marriage May 3, at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of the United Lutheran church at Crookston, Rev. Roseland officiating. Miss Anna Aspelund of this city acted as bridesmaid while Mr. Lundberg of Warren acted as best man. The four left here Saturday evening for Crookston, returning to this city Sunday morning just in time to catch the 2:30 flyer for Winnipeg, where they will visit a few days. Mr. Bloomquist is foreman on the switch train for the Soo line in this city and Miss Lee has for the past three years been teaching school near Thief River Falls. The young couple will make their home in the Holstein bungalow, Red Lake boulevard.

High Operating Expenses Increase Telephone Rates

Telephone Revenue Must Cover Operating Expenses

Your business will fail unless you take in enough money to pay your expenses.

So will any other business.

The necessity for enough revenue in any business to pay operating expenses needs no explanation.

For several years the cost of providing telephone service has been advancing with the increasing cost of material to the telephone company and the higher living expenses of employees.

Everyone realizes the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing, for wages and for transportation.

The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all of the necessities of life.

If this Company is to continue to furnish dependable telephone service to the public it must obtain such rates as will produce a revenue sufficient to cover the cost of providing the service.

ATTRACTIVE HOME FOR SMALL FAMILY

White Bungalow Is Very Artistic in Design.

HAS UNIQUE ARRANGEMENT

Placing of Rooms Is Convenient and Building Presents Fine Appearance —Plans Can Easily Be Altered to Suit Ideas of Builder.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

Since hostilities in Europe ceased and the restrictions that were imposed on building during the war have been removed there have been planned many thousands of homes that will be erected this year. Designs for these homes are as varied as are the individual tastes of the owners. However, there is one type of house that is exceptionally popular. That is the bungalow.

The advantages of a bungalow—that is the house that has all of its rooms on one floor—are so numerous that they explain the popularity of this architectural design. These houses, planned to contain four, five or six rooms usually, are ideal for small families. Architects, too, have designed them so that they present an attractive exterior appearance and give a great deal of satisfaction to the owner.

Illustrated herewith is a fine sample of bungalow designing. This white bungalow of wood construction has a convenient room arrangement and presents a fine appearance. Ranged across the front are living, dining and bedroom, while at the rear is another bedroom, separated from the kitchen by the bathroom.

The porch set into the house is unusual, while the pergola at the side is an artistic addition to the house. The dimensions of this bungalow are 39 by 32 feet. The entrance at the end of the porch leads into the living room, which is 13 by 15 feet 6 inches. In the exterior wall is a fireplace, on either side of which are windows. Four windows are provided in the front of the room. The dining room is 13 by 11 feet and has a colonnade between it and the living room, which makes it a light and attractive room. Adjoining the dining room at the corner is a bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 6 inches. Back of it, also on a corner, is a second bedroom. Between this room and the kitchen, which is also a corner room, is the bathroom.

The kitchen is a fine, large room, its dimensions being 14 by 10 feet. A good-sized pantry with an icebox that can be filled from the rear porch is at one end of the kitchen, while in it are the sink and wall case. It also will be noted that numerous closets have been provided, one of them being in the side entry.

The basement is planned to be the full size of the house. This is an important feature of a bungalow, as it provides the storage room for the family. By dividing the basement into rooms with partitions extending to the ceiling, places for the heating plant, vegetable and fruit storage and for such miscellaneous articles as trunks, garden tools, etc., are provided.

In selecting the design for a home, great care should be exercised, as few families build more than once. Every need of the family should be carefully considered before the contract is let, and then the material specified should be of the best quality. While this entails a little more expense, it pays in the long run, as the upkeep cost will be lower.

Just now home building is uppermost in the minds of all people who have been considering building during the last two years. The government, through the United States department of labor, is urging home building, not only because there is an unusual shortage of places for people to live, but because the work is needed to keep labor fully employed while the industrial activities of the country are being restored to a peace time basis.

While it costs more to build now than it did five years ago, the prices of building materials have not risen in proportion to the costs of other necessities of life. Careful analysis of the situation shows that this increase is about 37 per cent, while the costs of other necessities have risen 100 or more per cent. And this same investigation has disclosed that prices are not liable to come down for several years.

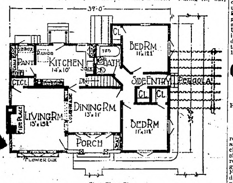
There is a pardonable pride in owning the home in which you live. It makes a better citizen out of every man and woman. It is this fact that will make this country impervious to the social unrest that is sweeping through some of the countries of Europe, students of political economy assert.

It requires thrift for most persons to secure a home. During the war, many learned for the first time the satisfaction that comes from saving. And there is nothing more worth saving for than a home.

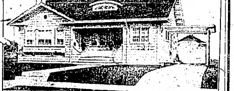
Now that the building season is open it is time to consider what sort of a house to build. The design illustrated here is a good one for those who want bungalows. However, it can be changed to suit the ideas of the builder. By consulting with the local contractor or architect, these changes can easily be made. Also it can be learned what such a bungalow will cost by interviewing the lumber dealer and builder.

Securing the money to build a house is a comparatively easy matter, as banks and individual lenders consider improved real estate the best of security. By paying a small proportion of the cost down, the balance can be paid as rent.

Owning a house is the finest investment in the world, and with all the reasons why building should be done now, home building should be popular this year.



First Floor Plan.



Be Gentle in Speech.

We should use great care in selecting our thoughts, and especially our words. For every word stamps itself for good or evil on our bodies and becomes manifest in our lives. The reason why we are not happier or more successful is because we have sown so many obnoxious weeds in the ether about us. They are producing a harvest exactly like themselves. Remember that gentle words are, after all, the most powerful words. They are more convincing, more compelling; and when they are projected into the future they bring health, happiness and success.—Fern Howard in Milwaukee Sentinel.

Adding Insult to Injury.

"What have we here, suspended from a telegraph pole?"

"Just an effigy of the former kaiser."

"Ahem! William used to be proud of his smart uniforms. If he could see the nondescript attire of this figure it would certainly get on his nerves."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"DOUGHNUT" GIRLS NOW NEED "DOUGH"

SALVATION ARMY WILL TRY TO RAISE $13,000,000 IN ONE WEEK.

The Salvation Army spent all its available funds during the war and now finds itself without money enough to carry on its regular work. During the week of May 19 to 26 there will be a campaign to secure the $13,000,000 needed by the organization at home, and there should be no trouble in getting it. Everybody knows what the Salvationists did for the boys in France and most people are now willing to admit that it is accomplishing much good work wherever it is located.

The following editorial from the New Britian, Conn., Herald, puts the proposition squarely up to the people of the country, and The Times cannot do better than quote and endorse the sentiment expressed:

"For years the tambourine has been familiar. Its metal discs tinkled their appeal from the street corner where the singing soldiers of the Lord assembled for services. And into the roughest of male company The Army lasses went, seeking alms for the helpless—the tambourine was their protection.

"Not since The Salvation Army was incorporated in this country in 1899 has there been such general interest in the organization. From being an object of ridicule by the thoughtless, it has won the sincere admiration of the world. Ask any returned doughboy what he thinks of The Salvation Army, and then ask his mother and his sisters for their opinions. Any society that has the unanimous endorsement of the United States Army must be right. Any girls who faced death in order to serve hot coffee and doughnuts to Uncle Sam's fighting men are deserving of support. Don't forget the doughboys and the doughnuts—and the 'dough' during the week of May 19th to 26th."

GENERAL STORE ON CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

FARMERS AND RAILROADERS HEAD $25,000 CORPORATION. IS LOCAL VENTURE.

F. D. O'Brien and A. D. Whipple, representing the Co-operative Wholesale society of America, were in the city this week for the purpose of assisting a number of farmers and railroad men in getting a co-operative general store started in Thief River Falls. A meeting was held on Sunday afternoon at which $25,000 was pledged as the capital stock of the new concern and articles of incorporation will appear at an early date.

The name of the new concern is the Peoples Co-operative Store company of Thief River Falls, and the following have been elected officers: A. P. Fox, president; Henry Kinghorn, vice president; Paul Harris, secretary-treasurer. Besides these the first board of directors will include C. E. Hellquist, J. W. Anderson, T. C. Orme and Albert W. Thoreson.

The purpose of the new concern is to handle all farm produce, outside of grain and livestock, and to deal in general merchandise. Groceries only will be attempted at the outset, but it is the intention later to add dry goods, clothing and hardware.

"Price cutting is no part of this corporation's policy," said Mr. Whipple in explaining the workings of the plan. "The returns to the stockholders will depend entirely upon the amount of their purchase during the year, a certain percentage of the sum thus spent being returned in the shape of dividends."

FARMERS INVEST IN FINE YOUNG HORSE

RESIDENTS OF NORTH AND SILVERTON TOWNSHIPS PAY $2,000 FOR PERCHERON.

That the automobile and tractor have not entirely superceded the horse is evidenced by the high prices the better grade of stock is still bringing. This week the North-Silverton Percheron Horse company, composed of farmers living in the two townships, purchased a three-year-old stallion from R. P. Waite of the Patriot Stock Farms, Reynolds, Ill., paying $2,000 for the animal. There are ten prominent farmers interested in the deal, Halvor Fodstad being president of the organization.

The horse promises to be one of the finest ever brought to this section. While only a colt, being not yet three years old, he weighs 1800 pounds and comes from a royal producing family of Percheron horses. The new owners believe that there are enough farmers in the neighborhood who wish to work toward a better grade of horses to warrant them in making this rather unusual investment.

Anna Sather.

Miss Anna Sather passed away May 4, in this city, after an illness of a week's duration. Her death was caused by peretonitis following influenza. Deceased was born Feb. 24, 1892 and was 27 years, 2 months and 10 days of age at the time of her death. The remains were shipped to her home at Mentor for burial.

Axel F. Berg.

Axel F. Berg passed away at his home in Rocksbury township May 4, death being cause by carcinoma. Mr. Berg was born in Sweden Auril 9, 1854, and was 65 years and 25 days of age at the time of his death. Deceased had been a farmer in this part of the country for 26 years and is well known in the vicinity. The remains were interred in the Terma cemetery May 7th at 10 o'clock. The funeral was held from the home.

Olaf Langseth.

Olaf Langseth passed away at his home two miles south of this city on May 6, after an illness of three months. His death was caused by tuberculosis. Deceased was born at St. Paul March 3. 1885, and he was 34 years 2 months and 3 days of age at the time of his death. Mr. Langseth had lived on a farm in Rocksbury township nearly all his life. Deceased leaves to mourn his demise his wife, Mrs. Ida Langseth, and a son, Harold, aged 5 years. The remains were laid to rest this afternoon in the Greenwood cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our many thanks to friends and relatives for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and at the death of our beloved little daughter, April 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rasmusson. m8p

City News

Mrs. Francis Smith of Loken's department store, left the middle of last week for Minneapolis where she was called by the death of her niece. She will return to this city in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Rundtum and children, Lois, Evelyn, Dorothy and Thelma, who have resided in this city for a year, left Wednesday morning for Middle River where they will make their future home.

Miss Mildred Mousley, who has been recuperating at her home in this city for a month after an attack of influenza, left Monday evening for Minneapolis where she will resume her work at the telephone office.

George Phillipson, who has been doing construction work in England for the past eight months, landed in this country April 16 and arrived in this city Sunday morning. He visited with his sister for a day, motoring to his home at Middle River.

H. J. Villesvik of Spokane, Wash., visited in this city Friday with Rev. George Larson. Mr. Villesvik had charge of the Zion Lutheran church in this city 27 years ago before it was turned over to Rev. A. Bredeson.

L. B. Lorimore, who has been employed at Superior, Wis., for some time arrived in this city Saturday evening to help his family pack their household goods. They expect to leave for Superior the latter part of this week.

Gilbert Sater and sister, Mrs. Ida Carlson of Blackduck, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Brating for the past week, accompanied the remains of their sister, Miss Annie Sater, who passed away last Sunday, to Mentor for burial. burial.

Mrs. F. J. Stebbins left Wednesday evening for Minneapolis to attend the parade and visit friends. Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins received a telegram Saturday stating that their son, Edwin landed safely at Garden City, N. Y. Mrs. Stebbins expects to remain in Minneapolis until her son arrives.

The Cleanup Program.

This is cleanup week in Thief River Falls but the weather is far from ideal for the purpose. In spite of this there has been a general attempt on the part of householders to comply with the orders of the health department.

There are some conspicuous exceptions and it will be necessary to order the work done by the city unless the property owners act at once. Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, says the order must be complied with and there will be no evading the law on this subject.

The Woman's club campaign for the planting of flowers and shrubs is generally approved, although not much has yet been attempted in this direction. According to Mrs. L. G. Larson, who is at the head of the committee having the matter in charge, it will be advisable to get vines started this year as it is getting late in the season for many of the other plants suggested. She particularly recommends the planting of annuals for this reason.

That the campaign has had a decidedly helpful effect is noted in many localities. People who have never before been known to make any attempt at beautifying their surroundings have made flower beds in their front yards and cleaned up the rear of their lots. Even this much has been worth while, according to the club members.

The Farmer Is No Profiteer

WHAT business man would be satisfied with a return of 3 per cent on his investment if he had to work from 14 to 16 hours a day to earn it?

YET, according to government statistics, 3 per cent is all the farmers of this country have made for the past generation.

SOME people are complaining about the prosperity of the farmer, but these complaints are not coming from those who know anything about the farmers' problems.

IF the farmers make 10 per cent or even 20 per cent on their investment this year they are entitled to it. They have certainly waited a long time for even a fair profit.

Velvet
THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

THERE may be some things that can be done well in a hurry, but pickin' a wife an' agein' a tobacco ain't amongst 'em.

Velvet Joe

We put away millions of pounds of fine Kentucky Burley tobacco every year, stored in wooden hogsheads. It ripens two years. When we take it out it's different—Nature has improved it, good as it was—made it friendlier, more fragrant, cool-smoking, long-burning.

Nature has given it a delicious quality of mildness and fragrance that no artificial means can ever equal.

It's just that extra touch of friendly goodness that is building up VELVET Tobacco into the favor and good will of thousands of pipe smokers who prefer to smoke tobacco cured in Nature's way.

You would notice the difference.

Don't Put Your Automobile in the Barn

It's not good practice, for generally some farm implement must stay out in the weather to make room and it costs no more to build a garage than a new machine shed.

It's risky too, because gasoline leaks are fire breeders, and should fire come, you don't want barn and stable to go. Your garage can easily be located where no other building will catch fire.

You will want a concrete floor and foundation. The walls, too, can be of concrete for absolute permanence and fire safety. You will want cement of course.

We can help you with the plans and practical suggestions. Don't put it off.

FARMERS LEARNING VALUE OF BUREAU

EXCHANGE BULLETIN IS NEW FEATURE THAT IS PROVING ITS WORTH.

County Agent J. J. McCann has inaugurated a general service bureau in connection with the farm bureau, and the idea is proving very popular. A short time ago he sent out the first Exchange Bulletin and the results have more than warranted the expense incurred. This bulletin contains a general sales and exchange list, giving a description of the animal or article for sale and the name of the owner. The second Bulletin contains offers of thoroughbred and grade Shorthorn cattle, a number of hogs, sheep, one horse and a variety of chickens, besides incubators, eggs, seed grain, seed potatoes, etc.

Speaking of the result of the first Bulletin sent out, Agent McCann says:

"The first publication of this exchange was well received in the county. Eight citizens voluntarily sent in their subscriptions and others have manifested their intentions to join. If you do not find what you want in this exchange, call at the Farm Bureau office and you will find copies of exchange bulletins from every county in the state. If you have a neighbor who is not a member of the Farm Bureau, hand him this exchange sheet; it may be of some assistance to him in supplying his needs."

ACCEPTS PEACE TERMS

Belgian Council Decides to Sign Treaty With Foe.

Brussels Crown Council Requests Allied Support Regarding Holland Boundary.

Brussels, May 6.—It is announced that the Belgian government has decided to sign the treaty of peace, which was discussed by the crown council here.

Paul Hymans, minister of foreign affairs and head of the Belgian delegation at the peace conference, speaking for himself and for his colleagues, Emile Vandervelde and M. Vandenheuvel, who remained in Paris, gave a review of the peace terms. He expressed the opinion that the treaty as it now stands gave honorable and favorable terms to Belgium and recommended that it should be signed.

Economic Situation Emphasized.

The council unanimously indorsed Hymans' view, but was equally unanimous in expressing the opinion that the attention of the powers should be drawn to the financial and economic situation in Belgium and to the necessity that the Allies assure Belgium complete support looking to her economic restoration.

The council was further of the opinion that the Allies should be asked to support the initiation of negotiations with Holland regarding the freedom of the Scheldt and the waterways of East Belgium.

3,000,000 IN GARDEN ARMY

May Day Enrollment Swells Total for Entire Country.

Washington, May 6.—May day enlistments in the United School Garden army brought the total number of children enrolled to nearly 3,000,000. In announcing the total membership, the bureau of education said it indicated that the 1919 goal of $100,000,000 of foodstuffs produced on 100,000 acres of otherwise unproductive land would be reached. Fifty thousand teachers, it was said, are directing the army of children gardeners.

Illinois leads in membership, it was said, with a total of 171,300 in 137 cities. State enrollments include: Ohio 149,000, Michigan 56,000, Wisconsin 20,750, and Kansas 40,000. The membership in the Philippines has reached 7,500.

CRISIS ON DVINA HAS PASSED

Anarchists Delayed Attack Too Long After River Opened.

Archangel, May 6.—After their recent repulse the Bolsheviki made two futile attempts to approach the position held by the American, British and Russian troops. A report to headquarters here said that the situation along the Dvina was quiet.

The feeling in Archangel is that the crisis on the Dvina river has passed. The Bolsheviki, it is believed delayed too long in grasping the advantage offered when the Dvina became open for navigation.

MAVIE

Several Victory girls gave a dance at the Mavie hall last Saturday and despite the threatening weather a large crowd was present. Miss Igna Hanfro and Alex Strom furnished the music for the occasion. The dance was voted a real success by all who were present.

Alex Svendsgaard made a fast trip to Thief River Falls Sunday night. He took several high school girls back to town where they are attending school. They were Gladys Wiener, Rose Oski and Olga Svendsgaard.

Florence Gavin was home over Saturday and Sunday. She also attended the "hop" at Mavie.

Adelaide Svendsgaard returned from Thief River Falls, where she has been employed the past few months. She expects to stay home this summer. We hope more of the girls will follow her example.

Corporal Ed Schie and Private Alex Svendsgaard are home from the army and John Oski from the navy. Charlie Ptacek is still among the missing. He is with the 88th division now in Germany. We hope to see him here soon.

Seeding is about finished in this locality and some new land is being broken up for flax.

AUTOMOBILES

Are you planning to buy this season? If so, we want you to see the new Buick and Chevrolet cars.

Every one knows what Buick means in the Automobile world and this year's car has many new features.

The Chevrolet is also a dependable car for this country, light and powerful, and easily handled. Our contention is that any woman can drive it, a good self starter, electric lights and demountable rims being a part of the up-to-date equipment.

WOMEN'S QUARTERS WILL BE IMPROVED

NEW BUILDINGS AND BETTER FACILITIES PROMISED BY FAIR BOARD.

Four new buildings, all devoted particularly to the requirements of women, will be erected at the Pennington county fair grounds in the near future. Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, in charge of this important section of fair activities, accompanied by other members of her committee, met with the board of directors on Monday evening and explained the necessity for the improvements. As a result of the conference a committee of ladies will work with the fair board in bringing about improved conditions at the grounds. This committee is composed of the following: Mrs. J. J. Richter, Mrs. Thomas A. Way, Mrs. M. H. Connelly, Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mrs. A. S. Sapero, Mrs. Albert Johnson and Mrs. S. E. Hunt.

A rest room or cottage where women visiting the fair may secure a degree of privacy and where children can be cared for by competent persons is one of the first requisites of the new program. Another is an auditorium, where women may gather for the discussion of things particularly pertaining to their own affairs. The necessity for these conveniences is not denied, the only question is the means for carrying them out. If the rest room could be provided this year it would be a great help as something of the kind is badly needed.

Girl Minstrels a Surprise.

The entertainment given last evening at the auditorium by the Girls' Community club was without question the best thing of its kind ever seen in the city. Every number on the program was encored by the audience, which filled every available seat of the large building. To attempt to enumerate the many excellent features would be impossible at this time and it would be a rather useless task to try and single out any particular feature as being of surpassing excellence. Those who witnessed the performance are unanimous in their verdict that it was "the best ever."

Parcel Shower.

Miss Ruth Evenson gave a parcel shower for Miss Clara Lee at her home, 424 LaBree avenue north, last Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in singing and sewing, after which a delicious lunch was served. Those present were: Misses Clara Lee, Myrtle Blair, Anna Aspelund, Stella Charboneau, Selma Simonson and Amy Krohn.

Scene from "Turn to the Right." Coming to the Auditorium Friday evening, May 9.

SAPEROS WILL ADD SHOE DEPARTMENT

WILL OPEN WITH COMPLETE LINE FOR WOMEN ABOUT AUGUST FIRST.

A. S. Sapero, manager of the Sapero Company's Thief River Falls store, announces that a new feature will be added about Aug. 1. It is the intention to put in a ladies' shoe department, specializing in the famous Queen Quality line. This move has been contemplated for some time but general conditions made it inadvisable to make the change during the war.

Appropriate fixtures for the new department have been ordered and the necessary alterations in the store will be begun as soon as they arrive. At the same time a special department will be fitted out for furs and waists, the company's business in this class of goods having grown to such an extent that it requires particular attention. A French room will also be added for the better handling of fine dresses. Other improvements which will add to the convenience and efficiency of the store will be installed until everything that modern merchandising suggests is a part of the equipment.

The addition of shoe departments will be carried out in the other Sapero stores at the same time. These are located at Chisholm and Buhl. A fourth store will be located at Hibbing, the opening being announced for early in the fall.

BANKERS PREFER D. B. C. GRADUATES

The Girl I Left Behind.

Darling, when I'm far away
From you "somewhere in France,"
I ask you always to think of me
And pray that I have a chance.

To leave you, dear, was hard,
The hardest thing of all.
But I'm no slacker
When I hear my country's call.

To be at home with you, little girl
Is happiness that is true;
But I can't see the enemy
Down the Red, White and Blue.

I used to be with you often,
Those beautiful, happy days;
But it makes me blue to think
That we are so far away.

It is the duty of every girl
Who is left beind,
To always remember, the boy
Is on the firing line.

He didn't want to leave you,
For he is gone to risk his life.
He is a true American, and Upholds the Stars and Stripes.

The girls here are most beautiful,
Most everywhere you roam;
But are nothing to compare
With the girls at home.

When the boys go marching by,
Singing some National hymn,
It thrills my heart to know,
That I'm one of them.

I told you when I kissed you,
Those lips of yours so sweet;
That I was going to leave you
And again we may never meet.

Don't give up, my darling,
If you love me, you will wait.
If we do not meet on earth again,
We will at the Golden Gate.

Some girls are not patient,
Who will not wait so long;
Will go and love a slacker,
When the soldier boy has gone.

When he goes to fight the battle,
For his country and for you.
His thoughts are always resting
On the one he thinks is true.

When he returns in years to come,
And finds you false;
His whole life will be ruined
And his happiness lost.

Don't bear this stain, little girl,
Make your love be true,
Greet the boy in khaki,
When he comes marching back to you

Throw your arms around him,
Let him kiss your sweet lips.
Then he will joyfully tell you
Of his wonderful trip.

Do not respect a slacker,
They deserve not even a chance.
The boys that you should honor,
Are the boys who go to France.

I will close this letter, hoping,
You will be mine some day.
As I bid you goodbye for this hour,
And goodbye for the day.

If it is goodbye for a month,
He loves you true as ever;
Goodbye for a year,
And perhaps goodbye forever.
—JULIUS HOFF.

"Quality" Fully Describes Times Work

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Ford cars are important servants everywhere. They help the family enjoy life, bring the pleasures and advantages of the town within reach of the farmer and give practical service every day in country and town. They require a minimum of attention; any one can run the Ford and care for it, but it is better to have repairs and replacements taken care of by those who are familiar with the work and have the tools, the genuine materials, and skilled men to do the work promptly. We pledge Ford owners the reliable Ford service with real Ford parts and standard Ford prices.

Briscoe Gasoline-Saving Will Buy Many a Touring Dinner

Briscoe fuel economy has won world-wide commendation. Many Briscoe owners have come to us with proven records of well over thirty miles to the gallon.

Even the average driver—nearly always a little careless in handling his motor—tells us of twenty-five miles and more.

Drive a Briscoe and you'll feel able to spend a lot more on the side enjoyments of touring. For you'll know that the car won't be "eating its head off" every time you take it out.

PEACE TERMS MADE KNOWN TO GERMANY

SPELL DOWNFALL OF TEUTON EMPIRE AS MILITARY WORLD-POWER.

MUST PAY BIG INDEMNITY

ITALIAN REPRESENTATIVES JOIN WITH ALLIES IN SIGNING DEMANDS.

The terms of the treaty submitted by the allied peace commission on Wednesday spell the end of Germany as a military power. She is deprived of virtually all her fleet, her army is cut down to nominal dimensions and she is apparently restricted along lines through which she might seek, militarily, to rehabilitate herself. Economically also, the future course of Germany is hedged with stipulations intended to insure her ability to pay the indemnity demanded by the allies, but which will prevent her from exploiting her old-time resources as a strangling competitor of the nations about her which she over-ran and devastated during the war.

Sarre Basin to France.

Thus, for instance, Germany for a period of years at least, will be deprived of the coal output of the rich Sarre basin which goes to France in repayment of the damage caused by the destruction of the French coal mines. She likewise is compelled to make restitution for damage in other ways done to France, Belgium and various other countries which suffered from the Teutonic depradations in various forms. In numerous other ways she will be made to realize her more than four years' career of destruction must be made good. The Germans will be allowed only a definitely fixed time in which to sign the treaty.

Italy Joins Allies.

The allied representation was made complete by the arrival in Paris of Vittorio Orlanda, the Italian premier, and Baron Sonnino, the foreign minister. The Italians indicated that they thought it necessary that a solid allied front be presented to the Germans, therefore their delegates returned from Rome despite the incomplete status of the Adriatic negotiations. The day likewise found the representatives of Japan aligned squarely with the other powers.

The ceremony of handing the treaty to the Germans took place in the hall of the Trianon Palace Hotel, a spacious well-lighted chamber, with tables for the delegates arranged nearly in the form of a chair. It was presided over by Georges Clemenceau, the French premier, president of the peace congress, who sat at the center of the table with President Wilson and the other American representatives on his right hand and David Lloyd-George, the British premier, and his colleagues, on the left. Mrs. Wilson was an interested spectator at the function.

A Paris dispatch announces that the German delegates to the peace congress declare they will sign the peace treaty, but that Germany will not pay an indemnity.

THE BEST PROOF.

Given by a Thief River Falls Citizen.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Thief River Falls residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting.

The testimony is home testimony.

The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Thief River Falls residents.

Mrs. P. Eberhardt, 211 Atlantic Ave., says: "I had distressing pains in my back. My kidneys showed signs of weakness and caused me much annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills regulated my kidneys, relieved the aches and pains, strengthened my back and did me good in every way. I am well pleased with what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me."

Mrs. Eberhardt gave the above statement on March 16, 1912, and on November 30, 1917 she added: "I think even more highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today than when I recommended them some time ago. The cure they gave me has remained permanent and I shall always be glad to tell my friends about them when an opportunity occurs."

Certificate of Incorporation of the Times Printing and Manufacturing Company.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we, Richard H. Ross, G. W. Connell and Thomas J. Austad, for the purpose of forming a manufacturing company under and pursuant to Chapter Fifty-eight of the General Statute of Minnesota for 1913 and all the laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto do hereby agree upon and adopt the following articles, to-wit:

ARTICLE I. The name of this corporation shall be the Times Printing and Manufacturing Company; the general nature of the business for which this corporation is formed shall be that of manufacturing coin and other boxes out of raw materials, to manufacture stationery and office supplies, book binding, and the manufacture of paper and wooden novelties, to manufacture and sell printer's supplies, blank books, legal blanks, etc., and the transaction of such other business as is incidental to and connected with such manufacturing business and to acquire, hold and dispose of such real estate and personal property which is necessary to the conducting of such manufacturing business, and to purchase, own, hold and use letters of patent, to manufacture any of the articles hereinbefore mentioned. The place of the principal office of this corporation shall be in the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II. The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be June 1st, 1919, and the period of its continuation shall be thirty years.

ARTICLE III. The names and places of the residence of the persons forming this association of incorporation shall be as follows:

Richard H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

G. W. Connell, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Thomas J. Austad, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

And said persons shall constitute and serve as the first Board of Directors until the first annual meeting of the stockholders and until their successors shall be elected.

ARTICLE IV. The government and management of said corporation and of all its affairs shall be vested in a Board of three Directors as above specified and until their successors shall be elected. On the 10th day of June, 1919, at two o'clock in the afternoon, a stockholders meeting shall be held, at which meeting or adjourned meeting thereof, a board of five directors shall be elected from the stockholders, who shall thereafter constitute and serve in the place and stead of the first board, as a board consisting of five directors, and shall serve for a period of one year from the said 10th day of June, 1919, and until their successors are elected and qualified. A new board of directors shall be elected annually by the stockholders from among their number at their annual meeting which shall be held at the principal office of the corporation on the 2nd Tuesday of June of each year provided that in case said day is a legal holiday that said meeting be held on the day following. The board of directors so chosen shall immediately after the final adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders, as hereinbefore specified, hold a regular meeting at which meeting said directors shall elect from their number four officers, to-wit: A President, a Vice President, a Secretary and a Treasurer. The offices of the Secretary and Treasurer may be held by the same person. By-laws shall be adopted by the stockholders of said corporation at said meeting on the 10th day of June, 1919, or thereafter if deemed advisable and thereafter none of the By-laws shall be changed, altered or modified nor shall any new ones be added thereto unless by a majority vote in number and amount of the shares of the capital stock of the company at any special meeting of the Company.

ARTICLE V. The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Seventy-five Thousand ($75,000.00) Dollars to be divided into Seven Hundred and Fifty (750) shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, to be paid in as required by the board of directors either in cash or in property as the directors may determine. Each share of stock shall be entitled to one vote at all stockholders meetings.

ARTICLE VI. The indebtedness of said corporation shall not at any time exceed the sum of Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this 24th day of April, 1919.

MUST TREAT SEED FOR POTATO PLOTS

TEN FARMERS IN COUNTY WILL STRIVE FOR CERTIFIED SEED.

A. G. Tolaas, field plant pathologist, spent Friday and Saturday in Pennington county, inspecting the seed to be used for potato plots this summer. He found that the advice issued had been generally heeded and for the guidance of potato raisers generally submitted the following directions:

Potatoes showing scab or scurf should be treated with corrosive sublimate. Make the corrosive sublimate solution by mixing four ounces of the corrosive sublimate with 30 gallons of water. Dissolve first into a small quantity of hot water, then add the remainder of the thirty gallons. Soak the seed for 1½ hours in this solution. Use the solution three or four times. Allow to soak a half hour longer the last time the solution is used as it weakens with use. Four ounces of the sublimate mixed with 30 gallons of water will treat fifteen bushels of potatoes. Dry the potatoes after treating for they may be injured. Seed may be cut at once and then allowed to dry, or the seed may be cut first and treated, then allowed to dry, or planted at once.

Treated potatoes should be kept away from livestock as corrosive sublimate is a deadly poison. It should be mixed in a wooden barrel or container and not allowed to come in contact with metals.

The following will have potato seed this summer. The plots will be inspected by the state field pathologist for the purpose of getting certified seed for next year: A. E. Anderson, Harry Woolson, Lloyd E. Crown, Ben Rosendahl, J. B. Reller, T. P. Hamre, Henry Oen, O. B. Gunderson, Hans Anton and Emil Larson.

LUMBERING GIVES WAY TO DAIRYING

TIMBER REGION BEING RAPIDLY SETTLED BY BEST CLASS OF FARMERS.

Rev. F. J. Seltz returned Thursday from a tour of inspection of the mission work of his church body at Bemidji, Farley, Blace, Tenstrike and Blackduck. He reports that this section hitherto known for its vast areas of timber, is developing rapidly as a dairy and farming country, where the ax and saw are giving place to the plow and hoe.

Rev. Seltz also attended a conference at Crookston and while there received the information that the recent campaign in the Missouri Synod to raise $3,000,000 as an endowment fund for the support of aged pastors and their families bids fair to be accomplished. According to the latest reports, 800 congregations have raised over $1,000,000, and since there are over 2,000 congregations which belong to this body, there can be no doubt as to the final result. The local St. Johns congregation has up to date raised $975 for this fund, and the campaign is not quite completed.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will. "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, easee pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. THE TIMES

The Consumer and The Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) always has recognized the men and women who use its products as the ultimate judges of the success of the Company's earnest effort to render a superior service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) conducts its business with but one goal as an objective—that every individual purchaser of Standard Oil products shall experience complete satisfaction with every purchase.

When the Company reaches this goal, then, and only then, will the Board of Directors, acting as Trustees for the 4623 stockholders, feel that their ideals have been realized.

Neither the Company, nor the patrons, can be satisfied unless the product is uniformly up to the highest standard of excellence—unless it can be bought without inconvenience—unless the price charged represents true value.

To bring about this degree of satisfaction, unerring accuracy in manufacture, complete distribution, and efficiency in keeping down operating costs are essential.

Working without precedent, but with high ideals, integrity of purpose, and a keen sense of its obligation as a public servant, the Company believes it has succeeded.

The judgment of the consuming public has been for the most part favorable to the Company, as is shown by the ever increasing volume of business which the Standard Oil Company of Indiana is enjoying.

The best friends of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana are those customers who have used its goods, and its service, for the longest time.

EFFICIENCY IN SERVICE AIM OF CHAIRMAN

STEENERSON WILL STOP WASTE AND IMPROVE WORKERS IN POSTOFFICES.

TO READJUST SALARIES

WASHINGTON PUBLICATION PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO NINTH DIST. MEMBER.

Upon the reassembling of congress the Republicans will be in the majority and the heads of practically all committees will be members of that party. Halvor Steenerson, member from the Ninth district of Minnesota, has been the ranking minority member of the committee on postoffices and postroads during the time the Democrats have been in the saddle and he now assumes the chairmanship of this important committee.

The Postmaster's Advocate, published in Washington and devoted to the interests of postmasters and postoffice employes, recently contained a writeup of the new committee chairman together with his own version of what he considered among the most important matters to be adjusted by his committee. According to the Washington publication Mr. Steenerson said:

"It will be our policy to make careful inquiry into the conduct of the postal service, with a view to eliminating wasteful expenditures and faulty administration. We shall favor readjustment of the compensation of the postmasters and employees upon an equitable basis and otherwise encourage them and improve their working conditions to the end that efficiency of the service, of which there is now universal complaint, may be raised to the highest possible standard."

Popular in Washington.

The Advocate then goes on with the following history of the activities of the Ninth district congressman, as follows:

"An old saying is that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. Like most old saws, this does not always hold good, and a case in point is the subject of this sketch. As a matter of fact Congressman Steenerson's popularity may be said to be as great in Minnesota as in the city of Washington, D. C., which it may be remarked is going some.

Born in Wisconsin.

"Although it is not generally known, Mr. Steenerson was born in Wisconsin, but scarcely remembers his early life there, as his parents moved to Minnesota when he was only a year old, which State he has found good enough for anyone. He received his education in the common schools and high school; studied law in an office and in Union College of Law, Chicago; was admitted to the bar in 1878; began the practice of his profession in Crookston in April, 1880.

"Our young attorney lost no time in establishing himself in the confidence of the people, for in the fall of 1880 he was elected county attorney, a position he filled so acceptably for his two-year term that in 1882 he was elected State Senator, which position he held for four years. While State Senator he helped to frame the first laws regulating railroads and warehouses in the state. He acted as the people's lawyer without charge in bringing before the Railroad and Warehouse Commission the first case which established the right of the State to prescribe railroad charges, and under which grain rates from Red River Valley points to the terminals were greatly reduced, to the saving of several millions per year to the farmers.

To Congress in 1902.

"Steadily the young statesman's popularity grew, and he was selected as delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884 and again in 1888.

"His career in Congress began in 1902, when the electorate of the Ninth District selected him to represent them at the nation's capital. How ably and conscientiously he has discharged this trust is evidenced by the fact that he has been relected every two years since that time.

"Upon entering the House he was appointed a member of the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads and has served on that important committee ever since. During his long service he has been active and influential in securing the installation of rural free delivery, parcel post on the zone system and many other postal reforms.

"During the war Mr. Steenerson loyally and patriotically supported President Wilson in all measures necessary to win the war, and in adjusting war taxes he favors placing the burden upon those best able to bear it. Profiteering is anathema to him and any of that ilk, great or small, can curry no favor with him.

Supported the President.

"Personally Congressman Steenerson is affable and approachable, though he has no time for triflers. His Congressional duties are taken seriously, and he applies himself assiduously to the public business. One would search a long time in Washington to find a national legislator who is more diligent in looking after the interests of the people of his district and State—the little fellow receiving the same consideration as the big one.

"Physically the new chairman of the Post Office Committee is a 'whale of a man,' a two-fisted, broad-beamed, broad-minded giant, worthy descendant of that race of virile and energetic pioneers who wrested an empire from the great northwest wilderness.

"As indicating how he stands on postal matters, Mr. Steenerson, in an interview with the Editor of the Advocate, made the statement which accompanies this sketch.

"Which would appear to be fair enough for postmasters.

"What do you think?

"Agreed to."

FLOUR PRICE SOON WILL BE REDUCED

MAY IMPORT MODERATE QUANTITY OF WHEAT FROM CANADA.

Julius H. Barnes, head of the United States grain corporation who has held conferences with millers at Minneapolis, announced the corporation had arranged for a "moderate importation of wheat from Canada." Barnes stated the details would be announced shortly and added the corporation "does not want to bring an amount of wheat that would endanger the balance of the United States."

Conferences were held with twin city and southern Minnesota millers at one gathering and with grain men from the Red River valley at a separate gathering. Barnes stated between the conferences a moderate downward revision in prices of foodstuffs is anticipated and added sufficient wheat is available to keep the price of flour from soaring above $12 a barrel. He added that no radical price revision is to be expected until the American export demands are greatly reduced.

ATTRACTIVE OFFER IN THE AIR SERVICE

GOVERNMENT WANTS 15,000 MEN FOR THIS BRANCH AT ONCE.

Postmaster John Morgan has received from the air service division of the army a circular which he believes should prove of great interest to young men generally and which should have a particular appeal to those who have just been discharged, or are about to be discharged, from the army. It presents an opportunity for such to join the air service of Uncle Sam, with the privilege of enlisting for one year or three.

The circular urges young men to become pilots or expert mechanicians and to prepare themselves for this most fascinating of all games, which, it is asserted, will be on a paying commercial basis within three years.

The government furnishes everything the same as in the army and the pay is consequently all velvet. Beginning at $30 per month for a private, the rate of compensation gradually increases until $121.50 per month is reached, this being the sum received by a master signal electrician or an aviation mechanician.

Among the inducements offered men about to be discharged are the following: Sixty dollar bonus and five cents per mile traveling expenses to their homes besides one month's furlough, to start within 30 days of reenlistment with privilege of furlough fare. This offer, the department says, will carry a man over the period of unemployment and equip him for taking a preferred position by the time his term of service has expired.

Anyone interested in this matter should consult Mr. Morgan, who will advise where to send their applications.

Physical Valuation.

The young lady across the way says she saw in the paper that the railroads are giving a great deal of attention to physical valuation, and she doesn't suppose there's any business where it's more important to have the employees in good health.—Cartoons Magazine.

Art Aphorism for the Day.

Painting is not done for exhibitions; refined work is smothered and "shouters" come off better. . . . One is only a great painter on condition of being a master workman. . . . A fine picture, of which one admires the effect at a distance, ought equally to bear analysis when one looks at it near to. . . . The execution of a fine painting is agreeable to the touch. —Alfred Stevens.

Derivation of "Spruce."

It is interesting to observe the derivation of the word "spruce." From a number of early quotations it is clear that "spruce," a variant of "pruce," simply stood for Prussian, the form "spruce" rather than "pruce" being established partly by the German "sprossen," meaning sprouts, or young shoots, and sprossen-bier, or spruce beer, is made of the sprouts of this fir.

GOTHIC BARN ADDS TO FARM GROUP

Provides Attractive as Well as Useful Building.

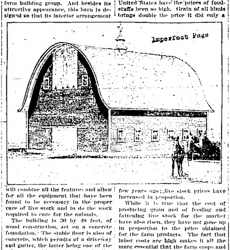
SUITED TO AVERAGE FARM

Interior Arrangement Combines All Features and Allows for All Equipment Necessary in Proper Care of Stock.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose three-cent stamp for reply.

The barn on a modern farm is something more than a house for the live stock and their feed. By choosing a style of architecture for the barn design that conforms to that of the other buildings or that adds to the general appearance of the farm group, the owner derives a great deal of satisfaction from such a new structure. Beautiful, graceful lines of the building, combined with its utilitarian value, have brought the gothic barn in great favor during the last 20 years.

Herewith is illustrated a gothic barn that will be a notable addition to any farm building group. And besides its attractive appearance, this barn is designed so that its interior arrangement will combine all the features and allow for all the equipment that have been found to be necessary in the proper care of live stock and to do the work required to care for the animals.



The building is 30 by 40 feet, of wood construction, set on a concrete foundation. The stable floor is also of concrete, which permits of a driveway and gutter, the latter being one of the prime necessities in keeping the live stock housed in a clean building.

The floor plan given shows one use of the space in the barn. This arrangement, however, may be changed to suit the needs of the owner, whatever they may be. It is equally possible, of course, to increase the length of the barn, the width being ample for all practical purposes, and to make over the interior arrangement to provide for either horses or cattle.

It also should be understood that in getting the artistic roof lines there is no waste of materials, the architect having worked out this plan with the idea of economy in materials foremost in mind. The heavy arches necessary to support the roof have been provided with little more material than is used in the ordinary barn.

The floor plan given is for eight cows and a like number of horses. However, it is an easy matter to make this a model dairy barn by facing the animals in and putting litter alleys and gutters on either side. The driveway through the center of the building is of exceptional value, as it allows the owner to drive into the barn with feed, eliminating the necessity of carrying it in by hand.

By the ventilator shown on the roof of this structure it will be seen that the architect has provided a system of ventilation, without which no modern barn is complete. Fresh air and fresh water—plenty of both—are as necessary to health and productivity of cows as food. A water system carrying water to each stall also saves much labor.

Along either side of the barn are windows spaced so that the interior of the stable floor is well lighted and will get plenty of sunshine. The latter is a great germ killer and goes far toward making the building sanitary. For this reason many dairymen prefer to face the animals in, so that the sunshine hits the gutter. It also has been noticed that cows in a field invariably graze with the sun at their backs.

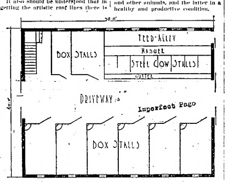
This is an exceptionally good barn design. It is so large that it costs a great amount of money, but is large enough to supply the needs of the average farm.

Every individual who needs buildings, whether they be a home, a barn, a granary, a business or manufacturing building, is urged by the government, and all others who have the welfare of the country at heart, to build now. Recent investigations of the cost of building materials have shown that the increase in prices of lumber, cement and all the other things that go into a building have increased far less than any other commodity. And furthermore, it has been determined by the United States department of labor, after a careful survey of conditions, that there is no probability that these costs will be decreased within the next few years. Reconstruction demands in Europe, coupled with a shortage of supply, make it seem certain that building materials will remain at the present price level.

There is a profit-making side of owning good farm buildings that the government officials also are bringing to the attention of the farmers of the country. Never in the history of the United States have the prices of foodstuffs been so high. Grain of all kinds brings double the price it did only a few years ago; live stock prices have increased in proportion.

While it is true that the cost of producing grain and of feeding and fattening live stock for the market have also risen, they have not gone up in proportion to the price obtained for the farm products. The fact that labor costs are high makes it all the more essential that the farm crops and farm stock should be housed in buildings where the work can be performed with the least amount of effort. Saving a couple of hours a day in caring for the live stock is a worth-while saving.

Building a modern barn at this time is not only a patriotic thing to do, but it is good business. Grain and cows are too valuable to be housed in any building that does not keep the former from the weather and the raids of rats and other animals, and the latter in a healthy and productive condition.



Arrangement of Gothic Barn.

There are more arguments for building now than against it, and a careful consideration of both will convince the progressive business farmer that better farm buildings mean better crops and better live stock.

There is an added advantage in building such a barn as the one shown here. There is the satisfaction that comes to every farm owner in having his buildings of such a type that they will command the admiration of his neighbors.

Charity Begins at Home.

Katherine had gone with her mother to take some rolls and soup to one of mother's friends who was moving into the neighborhood. The friend was voicing her gratitude for the gifts when Katherine said: "Mother," she asked, anxiously, "are you sure you left some of these rolls and soup at home for ourselves?"

PAVING NOW AN ASSURED FACT; WORK TO START

COUNCIL TAKES ACTION ON PETITION ASKING STREET IMPROVEMENT

PRELIMINARY WORK NOW

TO ENGAGE COMPETENT ENGINEER TO LAY OUT WORK SYSTEMATICALLY.

The first real step in the paving program for Thief River Falls was taken at the council meeting Tuesday evening and before summer is over it is planned to have all preliminary work done so as to start paving operations next spring. Olaf Neset appeared before the council with a petition bearing the name of practically every business man and property owner in the area affected, asking that preliminary work in the paving matter be started at once.

Council Acts Quickly.

To show that the council is in entire accord with the paving idea, that body took immediate action on the petition and instructed that a competent engineer be secured without delay to make the necessary preliminary surveys and also to determine whether or not the present sewer system is adequate and in such condition that paving may be started without making improvements to it. The engineer will make all surveys and do all other work necessary to give the council an opportunity to know exactly what need be done before actual paving may be started.

Downtown Section First.

The first paving in Thief River Falls will be done in the heart of the city. According to plans, Main avenue will be paved from First to Third, LaBree from First to Third, Horace from First to Third, Second from Horace to Main, and Third street from Main avenue to the Soo tracks.

This will cover the main business section of the city and will form a splendid nucleus from which to branch out at any future time. In a few years all the main traveled thoroughfares in the city will have undergone the change from gumbo to concrete once people have come to realize what a blessing paved streets really are.

Some Prices Go Down.

In spite of the fact that prices of nearly everything entering into construction work have been soaring skywards during the past few years, there is one item which is actually cheaper now than was the case in 1912. This item is lead pipe and large quantities of this will be used in case it is found necessary to make extensive repairs to the city's sewer system.

The city council appointed the following committee to act in conjunction with the engineer who is to do the preliminary work: Olaf Ramstad, T. P. Hamre, Carl B. Larson, Robert McGinn and Rasmus Oen.

PEOPLES AUTO CO. OPENS SALESROOM

SAMSON TRACTOR TO BE FEATURED BY NEW CONCERN. IN PRICHARD BUILDING.

George C. Streeter, vice president of The Peoples Auto company of Red Lake Falls, was in the city the first of the week completing arrangements for locating a branch house for his concern here.

The company will begin doing business in the Prichard building on Horace avenue, but are figuring on moving into quarters especially equipped for garage purposes later in the summer.

The Samson tractor will be one of the new concern's principal offerings. In the automobile line they will handle the Oldsmobile, Oakland and Franklin. Being besides the district agents for the Chevrolet, their offerings will comprise a line of wide range.

BIG CLASS READY; ELKS' GOAT DITTO

FIFTY-EIGHT CANDIDATES WILL BE INITIATED ON EVENING OF MARCH 29.

Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308 has in its possession one of the finest specimens of haedus, genus Capra, family Bovidea, now in capivity. It is a frisky animal, but one of great endurance, otherwise it could not possibly hold up under the tasks set for it.

The hardest test to which this animal has ever been put, is awaiting it on the evening of Thursday, May 29, when 58 fawns are to be taken into the herd. This is perhaps the largest class ever initiated at one time by a lodge in northern Minnesota and the preparations are fully in accord with the importance of the occasion.

Placards bearing the date "May 29" and an enormous interrogation point have been distributed in all cities, villages and hamlets wherein Elks have their habitat and it is expected that the answers to the questions implied will be many and enthusiastic.

The festivities will take place at the Auditorium, this being the only room in the city large enough to accommodate all the lodge brethren who will wish to witness the solemn rites. It is probable that a part of the work will be put on in the afternoon in order that the proceedings be not stretched too far into the night.

Lodge officers have received assurances that there will be visitors present from every town having direct train, automobile or cart connection with Thief River Falls, and the gathering will be one of which future bards will warble.

All the business houses in the city will decorate their places with the Royal Purple of the Elks and the entire community will turn out to welcome the hosts.

LOCAL GUN CLUB PLANS BIG SHOOT

JUNE 14 AND 15 TO BE GALA DAYS FOR NORTHWEST TRAP DEVOTEES

The trap shooting tournament to be held in this city June 14 and 15 under the auspices of the Thief River Falls Gun club gives promise of being a very successful affair. It is one of the two largest shoots to be held in the state this year, the other being the state shoot at Minneapolis. No other event of importance is scheduled for the northern part of the state and for this reason it is expected the attendance here will be very large.

The program will consist of 15 regular events besides many novelties and specialties. Added money to the extent of $250 is offered as an inducement to devotees of trap shooting to be present. Both days will be full of interest and excitement for trap shooters and many men of national prominence have signified their intention of being present.

This shoot is registered by the American Trapshooters association, the rules of which will govern. All events will be shot under the Squire money-back system, except special events and novelties. A complete program of the shoot is now in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution in the course of a few days.

MUCH INTEREST IN BABY CLINIC HERE

ONE HUNDRED CHILDREN EXAMINED ON MONDAY BY DR. HUENEKEN

From the point of view of attendance and interest shown, the baby clinic held in Thief River Falls Monday by Dr. J. F. Hueneken was a pronounced success. The doctor was obliged to turn away 30 children thru lack of time to give them attention. Altogether, about 100 were examined, and among them many interesting cases were found. Two nurses were here to assist the doctor in his work, which was done in the most thorough and painstaking manner.

Many children were brought here from distant points, several coming from St. Hilaire, Grygla, Goodridge and Middle River. Nearly all children given attention were under two years of age, it being the intention of the clinic to inform mothers regarding defects particularly in infants. These examinations will no doubt result in much good as it is a means of discovering at an early age any defect in a child which may lead to serious consequences later on.

Dr. Hueneken promises to return to the city in about three months for the purpose of holding another clinic, feeling greatly encouraged by the local interest shown in the work. At no place in the state have his services been more eagerly sought than in Thief River Falls and the state board of health, under whose supervision the doctor is working, has signified its intention of making the child clinics a permanent institution here.

Protzeller Improving.

H. W. Protzeller, manager of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway, who has been suffering from a severe attack of influenza, is reported very much improved. His condition for a time was such as to give some concern to his family and friends but it is believed that the danger is now past.

May Secure Trucks.

The federal government has turned over to the state of Minnesota 567 auto trucks, recently used by the army, for distribution among the counties making application for them. These trucks are loaned out by the government for the purpose of assisting in road building and other public work. There is no rental to be paid, the only requirements being that transportation charges be met by the counties.

GRANT 10 DAY EXTENSION OF VICTORY LOAN

PENNINGTON COUNTY IS $3,000 SHORT AT CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

NEEDED SUM IS PLEDGED

SIMPLY A MATTER OF GETTING ALLOTMENT CARDS TAKEN UP.

This rainy weather of the past week may be just what was needed to make the grass grow, but it has been poor stuff for Victory Bond campaigns. When the closing hour of the drive arrived last Saturday night Pennington county was still something over $5,000 short of its $270,000 allotment, but there is every assurance that the quota will be made up in a hurry. Not counted in the above sum is $1600 pledged but not signed up for, which will leave something like $3,000 yet to be collected.

Time is Extended

Because of the rainy weather which has prevailed throughout the state the time for closing the campaign has been extended ten days. According to the report of Chairman A. T. Rogers 78 counties have gone over the top and committees in the backward districts have sent in assurances that their quota will be forthcoming.

Apportioned the Balance

A number of patriotic citizens of Thief River Falls have taken it upon themselves to see that the precincts from which the returns were not satisfactory shall have an opportunity to redeem their reputation. Every facility for meeting the allotment will be extended by those in a position to offer assistance of this kind.

One thing Chairman G. Howard Smith wishes to impress upon those who have held back because they considered their allotment unfair. They should sign up for whatever sum they deem proper, depending on a later adjustment to set them right. In making the allotments the committee tried by every means at its command to strike a fair average, but mistakes were naturally made. No citizen has a right to withhold his subscription on this account, however, and should send in his card for whatever sum he considers proper.

What Two Men Did

Just to show what can be accomplished when energetic men set out to clean up their precinct, the case of Kratka and Highlanding townships are called attention to. The first-named precinct had been alloted $6,000 and the report showed that only $4,000 had been secured. Stephen Singer appointed himself a committee of one to see what the trouble was and started out among his neighbors. When he was through the township had gone over the top by $100, Singer having secured $2,100 mostly in $50 pledges.

Andrew Ellingson in Highlanding township did the same thing. His precinct was short on the first report made and he started out to correct the oversight. So successful was he that Highlanding is now over the top by 20 per cent and in line for one of the helmets to be awarded to the two townships making the best showing.

Standings to Date

Chairman Smith's report last evening gives the following as the standing of the different precincts:

Precinct	Allot.	Sub.
1st Ward	$ 25,000	$35,650
2nd Ward	25,000	31,150
3rd aWrd	20,000	26,300

The total number of subscribers to date is 1711 and the average amount of each subscription about $152.

GOVERNMENT GIVES MEDAL TO WORKERS

THOSE TAKING PART IN VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN ARE RECOGNIZED

As an expression of appreciation for the efforts of those who assisted in putting the Victory loan over the top, the government has struck from captured German cannon a number of medals to be awarded to workers who were instrumental in making the loan a success. Several of these have this week been sent by Chairman G. Howard Smith to those who assisted him in the recent campaign.

Chairman Smith, in sending the medals to the workers, expresses his appreciation of their services in the following words: As chairman of Pennington county I especially desire to express my appreciation of your efforts in making the loan a success, and your efforts should afford you a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that in selling government securities you have assisted in making better citizens of each and every one with whom you have come in contact."

The medal is about the size of a half dollar and both sides are suitably inscribed to show why the souvenir was awarded. A small hole near one side makes it possible to wear the medal as a watch charm.

$1,000 PER DAY IS INCREASE IN BANK DEPOSITS

SOUND FINANCIAL CONDITION OF SECTION SHOWN BY CASHIERS' REPORTS.

LOANS GREATLY REDUCED

STATEMENT PROVES FARMERS ARE PAYING OFF DEBTS VERY RAPIDLY.

Since the last statement was called for by the banking department on the first of January, the people of this neighborhood have increased their deposits in the three state banks of Thief River Falls by just about $1,000 per day. The amount on deposit according to the report issued under date of Dec. 31, was $1,311,195.10 as compared with $1,416,293.06 on May 1. There is no national Bank call at this time so no comparison can be made of the business of the First National, but it is certain that these would swell the percentage of increase to an even larger sum.

Paying Up Loans.

During the same period the loans and discounts have been reduced from $1,103,25.89 to $689,769.02, a difference of $413,486.81. This indicates that the people are paying their debts at the rate of $100,000 per month and proves that the farmers particularly are liquidating. This showing is all the more remarkable when the fact is taken into consideration that spring is generally the borrowing season with the farmer. Ordinarily he needs money for seed, for stock and for any number of other things. This year he is evidently not only able to get along without borrowing, but can also reduce the size of his previous loans.

Holds Good in County.

This highly significent condition seems to hold good throughout the county. The banks at St. Hilaire, Goodridge, Hazel and Mavie were never so heavy on deposits in their history. This will prove an excellent thing in view of the great amount of reconstruction work and general improvement that is almost certain to follow upon the signing of the peace treaty and a reestablishment of our foreign trade. Every community in the United States is looking forward to a wonderful business revival and nothing is more necessary to such a condition than an ample supply of money in the banks.

THREE IN FAMILY VICTIMS OF PLAGUE

LENA LANGSETH IS THIRD TO BE TAKEN OVER TUBERCULOSIS ROUTE.

Death has been most unusually busy during the past year in the Anton Langseth home, located about a mile and a half south of town. Three children of the couple have fallen victims of the white plague while the mother has also passed away.

The last to be called was Lena Christina Langseth, born Nov. 10, 1890. Her death occurred on May 12, tuberculosis being the cause. Just before her graduation from high school last year she was taken sick and spent the greater part of the time since at the Walker sanitorium. She was brought back to Pennington county a short time ago and died at the family home.

A sister, Olga Agnes, died of the same malady about four years ago and a brother, Olaf, followed on May 6 of this year. The mother died in January, she being the only one of the lot whose death was not due to tuberculosis.

The last victim was buried from the family home on the 14th, Rev. I. T. Anstad officiating. She was a bright and highly gifted young woman whose death has caused deep sorrow throughout a large circle of friends.

HAY NAMED BY HOLMBERG FOR IMPORTANT JOB

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT AS AGRICULTURAL COMMISSIONER.

TAKES EFFECT ON JUNE 1

FAMILY WILL MOVE TO MINNEAPOLIS—MR. HAY ABSENT FROM CITY.

Announcement of the confirmation by Chairman U. J. Holmberg of the appointment of J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls as assistant state commisioner of agriculture was received yesterday. It has been known for some time that his election had been practically decided upon and news of the chairman's action consequently caused but little surprise.

Move to Minneapolis.

Mr. Hay was absent from the city when news of his confirmation arrived, being engaged in community extension work in North Dakota. According to Mrs. Hay, however, it will be necessary for the family to move to Minneapolis, which city will be the headquarters of the new board. Mr. Hay has been notified that he will be expected to enter upon his duties on June 1.

Is Important Post.

The state board of agriculture is the outgrowth of the realization that in order to keep abreast of its neighbors Minnesota must take a greater interest in the development of its agricultural possibilities. The members of the new board were selected with great care and with particular regard for their qualifications. Mr. Hay's appointment is a recognition of the excellent work he has for years been doing for the development of this northwestern section and will be heartily approved by every person who hopes that the new state board will inaugurate and carry out a consistent development policy. The salary of the assistant commissioner is $3,000 per year.

WILL CARRY CASE THROUGH COURTS

COUNTY ATTORNEY QUALE BELIEVES QUESTIONS SHOULD BE DEFINITELY SETTLED.

When The Times last week announced that Judge Grindeland had overruled the demurrer of County Attorney Theo. Quale in the suit brought by him to compel payment of his salary as city attorney, it was under the impression that the matter was closed. That such was not the case is now evident. Mr. Quale states that the case will now have to go before the courts for final settlement and that he will take it to the highest tribunal in the state if necessary. He believes there is a question involved which should be settled definitely.

Mr. Quale will now file his answer to the complaint of Mayor G. A. Penney, who refuses to sign his salary warrant as city attorney. After that the district court will render a decision.

The city attorney's contention is that while the office of county attorney and city attorney may be incompatible, there is nothing to prevent the city council from hiring the county attorney to do its legal work. He maintains that even though he automatically ceased to be city attorney upon his assumption of the county attorney's post, yet he is entitled to his pay for the time he has served in the latter capacity the same as would any other attorney hired by the council. No one has ever been appointed in his place and the city has availed itself of his services. Under the circumstances he claims to have been a de facto official and as such is entitled to his pay.

Mr. Quale believes the case is of enough importance to warrant him in proceeding to the limit. In so doing he is not attempting to force payment of something to which he is not entitled, but simply in order to clean the matter up once for all.

LADY FORESTERS INITIATE TWENTY

MOST ENJOYABLE MEETING OF YEAR HELD LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

One of the most enjoyable events in the history of the Foresters lodge in this city took place last Sunday afternoon when 20 candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order and in the second degree. According to reports a number of the novices distinguished themselves by the expert manner in which they rode the goat.

After the initiation a delicious four-course banquet was served, the speakers being Rev. M. J. Noesen and Mrs. J. J. Richter. Chief Ranger Mrs. Robert McGinn, in a few well-chosen words, welcomed the new members and thanked the speakers. She especially commended the zeal of Miss Christine Giefer, whose untiring efforts made the memorable event possible and who received a standing vote of thanks from the court.

All members, both old and new, expressed their appreciation for the efforts put forth in their behalf and are looking forward to the next meeting, which will be held at Odd Fellows hall on Monday evening, May 19. There will be music and dancing and a special invitation has been extended to all Catholic young people. There will be a business meeting at 7:15 sharp, the program beginning at 8:30.

Returns From St. Paul.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich returned Tuesday from St. Paul where he had been in attendance at a state clinic of physicians. He reports one of the best meetings in the history of the state, the attendance being large and subjects varied and interesting.

REGULAR CLINICS WILL BE RESUMED

DR. MILAN TAKES CHARGE AT TRI-COUNTY SANITARIUM.

Dr. G. W. Milan, for some time connected with the state advisory board at St. Paul, has been assigned as the regular physician at the Oakland Park sanitorium, Thief River Falls, and the Lake Park sanitorium, Crookston. He is a man of wide experience in this class of work and the commissions governing these institutions are fortunate in securing his services.

Dr. Milan will at once resume the weekly clinics at the sanitorium here but cannot at this time announce the exact date. He will be at the Oakland Park on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, the remainder of the week being spent at the Lake Park.

It has been a difficult matter to keep these hospitals up to their best work during the war. The demand for doctors was so great that many institutions were deprived of the best services. While the work at the Oakland Park has not suffered, the directors are very glad that they have been able to secure a competent man to permanently look after affairs there.

Engineers Coming Back.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson has received word from his nephew Omer Anderson, who has been serving with the 20th engineers in France, stating that the regiment has been ordered to return to the United States on the 22nd of this month. With this same outfit are Ben. E. Bothun, Francis Burns, Henry J. Rogers, George E. Borden and A. M. Paulson. These boys have been in the service a long time although they were kept in this country for many months after enlisting, and they are no doubt glad to get back. Jobs are awaiting nearly all of them.

Among the arrivals in New York during the past week were Peter Peterson of the McFarland Auto Co., and Selmer J. Aga.

WILL CLOSE STORES ON MEMORIAL DAY

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION HAS BUSY MEETING MONDAY EVENING

The Merchants association at its meeting Monday evening transacted considerable business of importance. A committee was appointed to take up the matter of Thief River Falls celebrating the Fourth of July. This committee consists of E. O. Mogensen, chairman; A. S. Sapero, C. S. Simonson, Dr. G. A. Penney and Gynther Tessum. These men will take it upon themselves to formulate some definite program for properly observing the nation's birthday.

H. O. Loken was chosen to act as the representative of the association on the live stock pavilion committee, to work with men from the breeders associations, fair association and Commercial club.

It was decided that stores in the city shall remain closed all day on May 30, Memorial day. Store decorations on the 29th will be carried out in purple in honor of the great Elk celebration to be held that day, while the national colors will predominate on the following day.

Again Killing Birds.

A lot of youngsters in this city are going to find themselves in a peck of trouble unless they stop the practice of molesting song birds. Every spring this warning has been necessary and this year the boys seem more than ever bent upon the destruction of their feathered friends. A robin was shot by some boy within a few feet of the residence of Mayor G. A. Penney the other day and this is only one of many on the East Side. Game Warden Munch will be asked to make a visit to the city if this practice is not stopped, in which case there will be a number of very sorry youngsters in the neighborhood.

CHURCH FOLKS START WAR ON SUNDAY SHOWS

DELEGATION APPEARS AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING TUESDAY EVENING

ALDERMEN TO ACT SOON

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED AND GIVEN FIRST OF THREE READINGS

A delegation of ministers and others appeared at the council meeting Tuesday evening, and as a result an ordinance prohibiting moving picture shows and other theatrical performances was introduced and given its first reading. The ordinance will be given its second reading at the meeting two weeks hence and will come up for final action at the meeting to be held Tuesday evening, June 11.

Rev. Orrock Spokesman.

Rev. J. A. Orrock acted as spokesman Tuesday evening for the delegation appearing in behalf of the ordinance. Mr. Orrock gave a brief speech to the members of the council, outlining reasons why such an ordinance is considered necessary at this time. He stated the churches had done a great work in helping win the war and were now needed to give all the help possible during the reconstruction period. In order to do effective work and to occupy the place to which it is entitled, the speaker maintained, that for the welfare of the church it is necessary to devote Sunday entirely to religious teaching. With the motion picture houses offering their best attractions for the day and running Sunday afternoon and evening shows, the church is subjected to unfair competition, the speaker asserted.

Theatres Not Represented.

The other side of the question was not represented at the meeting and the ordinance was introduced and given its first reading without further argument.

The state gives to municipal governments authority to regulate such matters and it is entirely within the jurisdiction of the city council to prohibit all theatrical performances within the city if it so desires.

Much Interest in Issue.

Much local interest is naturally attached to the question, a great many people having formed the habit of attending the picture shows on Sunday. Some people admit that picture shows six days in the week is sufficient, while others stoutly declare they can see no harm in Sunday shows and do not believe the movie houses interfere with the work of the churches in any particular.

What action the council will take in the matter is entirely problematical as no expression of sentiment one way or the other was given Tuesday evening. The aldermen simply introduced the ordinance, gave it the usual first reading and placed it on file until the next meeting.

Confirmation Exercises.

Confirmation of a large class of boys and girls will take place at the Zion Lutheran church next Sunday morning. The class is made up of the following: Henry Melum, Norman Melum, Guy Oftelie, Walter Oftelie, Leslie Tweten, Reuben Larson, Alf. Bakke, Elric Berg, Floyd Johnson, Oscar Fjeld, Marcus Olson, Borghild Wollen, Annie Froseth, Adlenn Bakke, Hilga Quindlog, Olga Efteland, Anna Grindeland, Anna Antonson, Lauretta Dryer, Corine Skramtsad, Clara Henrickson.

Mr. Josselyn to Return.

F. H. Josselyn of Oshkosh, Wis., head of the company which is interested in securing the power dam in the river at this point, will return for the purpose of making further investigations in the near future. In a letter he expresses himself as being unable to understand the fluctuations in the water stage of the river as gathered from the government reports, and believes that there must be both a reason and a cure for the condition.

Law Supplements Here.

Copies of the laws passed by the 1919 session of the Minnesota legislature are now at hand and may be had by anyone asking for it at the office of The Times. It is a bulky document and attempting to get one to every Times subscriber by sending it through the mails would entail a lot of extra and unnecessary work on the postoffice force.

If any citizen wishes a copy of these laws all he or she has to do is drop into the Times office.

Alfred Moberg Wanted.

Postmaster John Morgan has been requested to forward certain letters to a man by the name of Alfred Moberg, son of John Moberg, who is supposed to have been among those killed in the forest fires last fall. Mr. Morgan has been unable to locate any such party here.

APPOINTED TO SIBERIAN POST BY RED CROSS

DR. F. H. GAMBELL EXPECTS TO LEAVE ON BOAT SAILING JUNE 15.

LIEUT. HIATT ALSO GOES

FELLOW-CITIZENS WILL BE FELLOW-SHIPMATES ON TRIP ACROSS PACIFIC.

Unless something unforeseen transpires to upset the program, Thief River Falls will have two professional men among those selected to assist in reestablishing order and promoting prosperity in Russia. This is perhaps a larger percentage than any other city the size of Thief River Falls can boast.

In Service of Red Cross.

Dr. F. H. Gambell, pioneer physician and former mayor, has been notified of his acceptance as a member of an expedition starting from Seattle for Vladivostock on June 15. He does not yet know the particular nature of the service expected of him or where he will be located. All that he has thus far been able to learn is that he will come under the head of a physician.

Rejected For Army.

While it was not generally known at the time, it has since been learned that Dr. Gambell offered his services to the Red Cross in the war but was not accepted because he could not pass the severe physical test. He was at that time asked if he would accept service in Siberia and the appointment reaching him now indicates that his answer must have been in the affirmative.

Few Details Given.

The communication bringing notification of his appointment simply contained a query as to whether or not he would be ready to sail for Siberia on short notice and he replied that he would, stating the length of time it would take him to get ready. If this is satisfactory at headquarters he will leave Seattle on June 15, on which date the last boat carrying Red Cross men leaves this country.

Has Wide Range.

The application for a passport for Dr. Gambell calls for permission to visit Japan, China, Corea, Manchuria, Russia and Siberia. This makes him most uncertain of his headquarters when reaching the field of operations. He had to give a strict account of himself before being accepted, among the questions he had to satisfactorily answer being whether or not any of his ancestors were German. He had to furnish satisfactory evidence of his patriotism, loyalty, professional qualifications, and several other things.

Is Second Northern Trip.

Dr. Gambell is not a stranger to the climatic conditions of Siberia, at least. He spent three years in Alaska in the government service and it is likely that the record made on that expedition had something to do with his selection at the present time.

Hiatt Travels With Him.

Lieut. L. R. Hiatt, agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school will in all likelihood be the traveling companion of Dr. Gambell across the Pacific. He also goes to Siberia with the Red Cross, having been chosen as a demonstrator to travel with an agricultural exhibit train for two years. He has been notified to get himself in readiness to board ship at Seattle on the same date as Dr. Gambell.

CITY COUNCIL HAS VERY BUSY SESSION

MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS DISPOSED OF AT TUESDAY MEETING.

The city council held a lengthy session Tuesday evening and a large number of matters came up for consideration. All members were present with the exception of Alderman Myhrum.

New street lights were ordered at the intersection of Fifth and Davis, Tindolph and Johnson, Crocker and Johnson, an improvement which will necessitate the construction of considerable new line. A new sidewalk was ordered built from the east end of the Red Lake river bridge to a point indicated about a block distant. This piece of walk has been in poor repair for some time and the improvement will be welcomed by all residents of the east side.

Bids for the construction of city sidewalks for the year were to be considered at this meeting but as only one bid was presented the council decided to lay the matter over until the next meeting. This bid was made by Carl Vicker, who offered to build sidewalks for fourteen cents per square foot and crossings for eighteen.

Building permits were granted the Manhattan Oil company for a filling station to be erected on Soo property and facing Atlantic avenue, and Halvor Loken for the construction of a cement addition to his garage. Carl Froseth also was given permission to erect a brick building on LaBree avenue at an estimated cost of $8,000.

M. L. Swanson was granted permission to operate a popcorn machine in front of his place of business, and was required to furnish $1,000 bonds to protect the city against any possible damage suit resulting from accident caused by having the machine so placed.

Plumbers' licenses were granted to Holt & George and Ed. Lee for the ensuing year. An application for a transfer of cigarette license from Orren Ostby to C. S. Simonson was laid on the table in order to get further information on the new cigarette license law passed by the legislature. These licenses are now issued by the state through the dairy and food commission.

John Cronkhite was named to take the place on the cemetery board made vacant by the death of Fred Roth. Miss Gena Granum was reappointed librarian for another year at a salary of $60 per month. The fire department was granted an increase in salary for the month of June in order to allow the sending of delegates to the state convention.

W. A. Bishop was granted permission to move a house from Tindolph to Kendall avenue. J. L. Durbin presented a claim for damages alleged to have resulted from removing his boat house by the street commissioner some time ago. The matter was laid on the table for further investigation. Mrs. Bang was granted a five-year lease on the city poor farm and will continue to operate the institution as before.

After allowing the usual batch of bills the council adjourned until the next regular meeting.

DAIRY OUTLOOK IS BETTER THAN EVER

A. J. McQUIRE BELIEVES PRESENT YEAR WILL BE EXCEPTIONAL.

The year 1918 was one of the best in the history of Minnesota dairying. The present year promises to be still better, says A. J. McQuire, agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota.

The co-operative creameries of the state paid an average price of 57 cents a pound for butterfat in January, 1918, and 58 cents in January, 1919. For February, 1918, the average price paid was 53 cents; for February, 1919, the average price paid the farmer by the co-operative creameries was 61 cents.

The world demand for butter is such that dairy farmers should do everything possible to supply this demand. Cream separators should be operated so that no butterfat is lost in the skim-milk. The amount of whole milk feed to calves should be reduced to a minimum.

With the high price for butter should go high quality. Every dairy farmer should use a cream-cooling tank and see that his cream is delivered to the creamery in first-class condition.

BIG CLUB MEETING CLOSES CAMPAIGN

WOMAN'S CLUB NEARLY DOUBLES MEMBERSHIP IN RECENT DRIVE.

The regular meeting of the Woman's club on Monday was held in the evening instead of at the regular afternoon hour on account of the baby clinic held at the auditorium by Dr. Hueneken. Never in the history of the club has the attendance been as large, the Commercial club rooms being literally filled to capacity.

Dr. Hueneken gave a very instructive talk to the club members along the lines of child welfare, and grew so interested in the subject that it was necessary to remind him of the fact that the train upon which he was to leave the city was almost due. The lecture formed the principal part of the evening program and was the best thing the club members have been privileged to listen to for a long time.

Other interesting things on the program were the community singing under the direction of Mrs. Gay Halvorson and the vocal solo by Mrs. C. A. Nason.

The cleanup committee of the club is hard at work placing large cans at the principal street corners, etc., which to gather waste paper, etc., which otherwise would be thrown into the street. This arrangement should make a decided improvement in the appearance of the streets of Thief River Falls during the summer months and the ladies are to be commended for their enterprise along this line.

Another result of the club's efforts for beautifying the city is the flower garden to be planted on the ground south of the auditorium. The council recently appropriated $150 for this purpose and the ladies propose to make it one of the beauty spots of the city.

The membership drive which has been in progress for several weeks closed Monday evening. Mrs. G. Howard Smith was captain of one side, while Mrs. H. W. Protzeller led the other. When the results were all in it was found that Mrs. Smith's forces had 71 new members to their credit, while the army under Mrs. Protzeller came in a close second with 60. The drive almost doubled the membership of the club and now makes it a far stronger organization than ever before. Mrs. A. Bottelson was winner of the individual prize for securing new members, bringing in a total of twelve.

CITY'S ORIGINAL 4 CANNONEERS RETURN HOME

ARRIVAL OF THE 151ST BRINGS LAST OF QUARTET BACK FROM FRANCE

YEAR OF HARD FIGHTING

HAROLD PROVENCHER TELLS OF EXPERIENCES WHILE SERVING BIG GUNS

On July 1, 1917, four young men left Thief River Falls for the purpose of joining the army. They were among the first to volunteer and have been nicknamed the city's original "Four Cannoneers." They are all back home, the last two members of the quartet having followed the fortunes of their division until the end of the war. These remaining two are Harold Provencher and Hardy Bothun, their partners Fred T. Scanlan and Martin Langseth, having preceded them but a short time.

Provencher arrived on Saturday and Bothun, who stayed over to visit with relatives in the Twin Cities for a coupel of days, came yesterday. The latter has not yet had time to shake hands with all his friends so it was left to Provencher to give Times readers some idea of what the boys had been doing since they left the home circle.

Hard to Tell Story

The young artillery man is not particularly adverse to talking about the war—the only difficulty is in knowing what to tell. He says there was so tremendously much of it that giving any connected account of even the share his particular outfit had in wining it is absolutely impossible. Realizing that some kind of a narrative was expected of him, however, he gave the reporter the following outline of his experiences:

Neither Sick Nor Wounded

"I was not wounded, even slightly, and escaped the gas that the Germans so plentifully sent over," he said. "Neither did I have a single day of sickness after reaching France. We arrived there on Oct. 29, 1917, having spent the time between that date and our enlistment in camps in this country. Landing at St. Lazaire, we went into camp at Coetquidan joining the division in February. I was started in as a cook, it having been discovered that I had some slight experience in this line of work. Later after I had asked to be transferred to the guns, this fact was, I fully believe, responsible for saving my life.

Saved by Pancakes

"It was on one of the fiercest days of the Argonne drive that one of the guns in our battery exploded. It was my gun and I had only left it a short time before the explosion because the boys insisted that I quit for a spell and make some pancakes for them. We had to eat when we could just about that time and I went to work. There is hardly a question but that I would have been either killed or wounded had it not been for my reputation as a flapjack-maker.

All in Same Battery

"The four of us Thief River Falls boys were placed in the same battery. In our first actual fight Scanlan was gassed and had to quit the game. He was never allowed to return and we missed him a great deal. This was in the big Champagne drive of July 14 to 18. I was only a short distance away when Fred received his dose, but none of the men in my immediate neighborhood were hit.

"In this big fight the Germans ripped the Americans up terribly. So desperate was the fighting that when it became necessary to draw back to one point, ours was the only outfit able to save its horses. It was, however, the last big drive of the Germans and it seemed as if every soldier in the American army knew it. The backbone of the German offensive was broken here, this being freely admitted by the prisoners taken. They were glad to fall into the hands of the Americans. Thousands of them deserted, but an even larger number voluntarily gave themselves up.

Some Rapid Firing

"In the Champagne offensive each one of the French 75s we were using fired 1400 rounds before the Germans were stopped. Our battery was sending over five shots every six seconds, which is perhaps as good a record as any battery can boast."

Chateau-Thierry Worst

Provencher says that there was not much choice so far as the battles were concerned, but he believes that Chateau-Thierry was the meanest engagement in which he was engaged. The Argonne was perhaps as bad, but they were more hardened to battle conditions by that time. It was in the last-named fight that Langseth was gassed and was thus prevented from being in the harness when the end came. "He stayed with us," says Provencher, "as the poison did not break out on him until after the outfit reached Luxumburg, when he was sent home. This left only the two of us—Bothun and myself—to represent Thief River Falls in that battery when the order came to cease firing."

"From Baccarat to Sedan."

This young man and the companion who returned with him took some part in every engagement in which this famous Minnesota fighting force was engaged. These are thus enumerated in the war annals of the United States: Baccarat, Peronne, Badonvillier, Migneville, Champagne, Suippes, Souain, Chateau Thierry, Beuvardes, Grange Marie Fine, Foret de Ferre, Chateau de la Foret, Viller Sur Fere, Seringes et Nesle, Ourcq River, Foret de Nesle, Cherry Chartreuve, Besle River, Bazoches, St. Mihiel, Saint Baussant, Mazerais, Essey, Pannes, Beney, Saint Benoit, Verdun, Montfaucon, Cierge, Romagne, Argonne Forest, Exermont, Hill 288, Hill 242, Cote de Chatillon, Landres et St. Georges, Meuse, Sedan, Army of Occupation, Germany.

Is Hale and Hearty.

In spite of his almost two years of army service—or perhaps because of it—Provencher looks fit as a fiddle. He is brown from exposure to the elements, but is sure that his experience has not in any manner affected him adversely. This same may be said for Bothun, while the two who were not allowed to be in at the finish are both so nearly recovered that they resent having it intimated that there is anything the matter with them.

HANDLING WOUNDED NEAR FRONT LINES

MEN IN AMBULANCE COMPANIES TOOK THEIR SHARE OF WAR'S RISKS.

H. W. Cousins of Kratka township, returned Tuesday morning after having finished his term of service with the army. He was a member of 91st division, 362d ambulance company, and while he only saw a few months of actual service in France, had his share of experiences during his stay. His work was with the sanitary train in the advanced dressing stations, where they have charge of the slightly wounded until such time as these can be sent farther to the rear.

"Our outfit followed the infantry," he says, "being in reserve during the St. Mihiel battle. From there we went into the Argonne drive and remained there until the 7th of October. The division was roughly handled by the crack German regiments and had to be sent back for reorganization.

"One great trouble was that the men could not be held back. Continually they kept running into their own barrage which increased the casualty list considerably. It was a very difficult matter to get the wounded to the rear here, as the few roads that had not been mined were continually shelled. This prevented the supply wagons from making regular trips and grub became very scarce. On one occasion we went for three days without anything to eat. I went out and managed to rustle three cans of bully beef and a loaf or two of hard tack.

"On the first day of the Argonne drive we went nine miles toward the Hindenberg line. When we arrived there later we found that the Germans had fixed the stronghold up with electric lights and many other conveniences, the dugouts often containing pianos. At one point we walked for half a mile through dugouts, all being connected by paths in excellent condition. It was evident that the Germans never expected to be driven out of their comfortable quarters.

"Our outfit was cited for having gotten nearer to the enemy positions than any other sanitary train in the army.

"While it was the intention that wounded men should only remain in our charge long enough to receive the first necessary aid, I have seen 200 such lined up on the beds. We simply could not get them out fast enough to make room for the arrivals. At one point we pressed a number of captured Germans into service and made them carry the wounded Americans back to the field hospitals.

"The bombing raids were among the worst things we had to contend with. One time a bomb was dropped into the kitchen of the 316th engineers, killing three sergeants and a cook. Another killed nine men and 20 horses. In all this raid was responsible for the death of 16 men and the wounding of 65. One hour after the German airplanes disappeared the hospital corps had everything cleaned up again.

"We worked under direct fire on more than one occasion and the company was cited by both French and American commanders.

"On more than one occasion I was an eye witness to incidents that proved conslusively the Germans paid no attention whatever to Red Cross insignias. Persons wearing these were no more immune than the common soldier, it seemed."

ARTHUR STREHLOW BACK FROM FRANCE

MAVIE YOUNG MAN HAS ENVIABLE REPUTATION AS FIGHTER.

Arthur was drafted in February, 1918 and was sent to Camp Dodge for training. After a short period of intensive training at that camp he was tranferred to Camp Mills, on April 25, 1918. His outfit, Company M, 139 35th division, boarded the United States transport Adirondac and sailed for France. After a voyage without incident they arrived at Brest and were sent to the firing line immediately.

During Germany's great spring drive Strehlow's company was on the Alsace front. Twice the ranks of his company were so depleted that they had to go back of the lines to reorganize. After the drive he was sent to the St. Mihiel front where he remained until they were needed at the Argonne to reinforce the lines there.

Shortly before the armistice was signed his company participated in heavy fighting along the Verdun front. Although going through many battles in his six months on the firing line, Strehlow came through without a scratch. He says its pure luck that he didn't get "his," as men were shot down on all sides of him. Altogether he has a war record to be proud of, but says one war is enough for anybody, and when the next one comes along he'll stay home and wave a little flag and buy bonds. He says those guys get the credit anyway. He brought with him an interesting collection of war relics, also his gas mask and tin derby, all of which are on display in the show display window of Swandt's store at Mavie.

COUNTY RECEIVES WOLF BOUNTY CASH

NEARLY $3,000 OWED BY STATE WILL BE RETURNED THIS MONTH.

The sum of $2,170, paid out as wolf bounties by Pennington county on the state's account, will soon be returned. The recent legislature appropriated $150,000 with which to make up a deficit in the wolf bounty fund as well as take care of future payments which may be due before 1921.

Out of the sum received only $435 will have to be paid out, according to County Auditor T. P. Anderson. This is due to the fact that the county paid the state's share as well as its own whenever a wolf was killed and the hide brought in. This squared things with the wolf hunters but let the county in for quite a sum, which will now be returned.

The state pays $7.50 for each adult and $3 for each cub killed. This is in addition to similar amounts paid by the county to the hunter.

The Manufacturing Facilities of The Standard Oil Company

(Indiana)

UNDERLYING the manufacturing activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), are the same high ideals of service; the same thoughtful consideration of detail; the same earnest desire to do a big job thoroughly and well, which animates the Company in every other branch of its business.

Every facility which wide experience, ample resources, and the utmost skill of scientifically trained technicians can devise, or suggest, is provided to insure absolute uniformity and the highest standard of quality in each of the many products manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The manufacturing facilities of the Company are concentrated in three great refineries, one located at Whiting, Ind., covering 700 acres; one at Wood River, Ill., covering 600 acres; and one at Sugar Creek, Mo., covering 200 acres of ground.

The Whiting works is conceded to be the most complete, the most perfectly organized oil refinery in the world. Here practically every product of petroleum is manufactured, and here are located the great research laboratories where the problems of manufacture are worked out and solved.

The plants at Wood River and Sugar Creek are modern in every particular and so organized as to use every part of the crude oil. This enables the Company to keep manufacturing costs at a minimum and to supply its patrons with products of the highest standard at prices which otherwise would be impossible.

The 7,000 earnest, industrious, well-paid men and women who make up the personnel of these three refineries, constitute, we believe, the most loyal, the most enthusiastic, most efficient, industrial army to be found anywhere.

The facilities alone for manufacture maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) represent an investment of approximately $60,000,000. This investment is growing constantly to enable the Company to maintain the high standard of service it has set for itself and which it believes the public is entitled to receive.

DRAGGING WILL HELP SOME.

There is positively no sense in permitting our streets to become any worse than is necessary. At their best they are certainly bad enough while at their worst they are unfit for open discussion.

Complaint over the manner in which the dragging has been attended to of late has been general. Or rather the complaint is over the manner in which the streets have not been dragged. Time and time again the rain has softened up the surface to such an extent that dragging would have been most effective but for some reason it has not been done. There is not much value in doing this work after the lumps have become so hard that it takes a rock crusher to break them up, nor can ruts be filled so as to do any good with this kind of material.

The Times does not know who is to blame for the condition, but we do know that someone is being blamed very much.

PUSH BUSINESS HARD.

Secretary W. B. Wilson of the United States Department of Labor, is perhaps doing as much as any man in the country to help get things started in the right direction as soon as possible. His advice comes under two heads—"Build Something" and "Advertise." In terse, crisp terms, he addresses himself to the business men of the country, asking that every effort be put forth to get things back to a normal working basis. His request for an extensive building program has been most effective and there is no doubt but what his recommendations with regard to advertising will likewise be followed. His latest message is headed: "Push Business Hard," and is as follows:

"Advertising will develop the dormant demand for the goods on the shelves of merchants and in the warehouses of manufacturers.

"Mr. Merchant and Mr. Manufacturer, the public wants and needs the things you have to sell and is willing to pay for them.

"Tell your story through the medium of well prepared advertising. Talk to thousands through your local press instead of standing idly by waiting for something to turn up.

"Now, more than ever before, advertising offers greater assurance of profitable returns to live, wide-awake, progressive merchants and manufacturers who employ it.

"The message of the Department of Labor is: Advertise—increase your advertising—so that selling costs may be reduced and ultimately prices will follow in reduction."

MUST SUFFER THE PENALTY.

Germany does not like the peace terms, but nobody expected she would or intended she should. No criminal ever yet considered his sentence just.

The verdict of history will be that the terms offered Germany are fair and no more severe than the circumstances warrant. She loses considerable territory, but nothing is taken from her that she had not at some previous time taken from someone else. Heavy indemnities must be paid, but the Germans will only rebuild what they themselves wantonly destroyed.

While reading of the howl that goes up all over Germany over the severity of the terms, one cannot help but wonder just what conditions that country would have offered had she been successful in the war. No attempt was made to hide the intention of making Belgium practically a German province. The fate of Finland and the Alland islands indicate what might have been expected had the Hun program been carried out. The avowed intention of crippling England and making America pay the cost of the war; the partially successful attempt to remove France as a commercial rival, and the reduction of Polland and Russia to absolute dependence upon the Berlin government—these circumstances disclose just what was in store had German arms been victorious.

Of course Germany squeels. Any terms to which she did not object would be unsatisfactory and impossible. She is getting off much lighter than would the allies had they lost the war.

THEIR GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Not for many years has a congress had any such opportunity to distinguish itself as is now presented. The Republicans have a working majority and matters requiring the highest degree of statesmanship will be on the program for their consideration. The people will watch this congress closer than any that has functioned for at least a quarter of a century. Upon the record made will to a very great degree depend the outcome of the presidential election in 1920.

If the results of the session are disappointing it will certainly not be for lack of advice. Every newspaper in the country has been pointing out the pitfalls ever since election, the unanimous opinion being that they are many and various. Good Republican journals are warning against playing politics, particularly when it comes to dealing with matters pertaining to the war. The Republican senators and congressmen are notified that if they get in the way of progressive reconstruction measures they will find themselves in the minority again after the elections of 1920. The country is in no mood to stand any foolishness and will demand that business be transacted promptly, sensibly and with no other purpose in view than the general welfare of the people. Any attempt on the part of the Republican majority to block measures proposed by the President simply because the latter happens to be a Democrat, is going to be quickly and properly rebuked. Politics, purely as such, do not interest Americans at this particular juncture nearly as much as some other things and it will be well for congress to realize the fact.

HAVE THE WRONG IDEA.

There are a number of young boys and girls in this town who need to be brought up short. They are permitting themselves to do things that really nice young men and women would not be guilty of.

The Times realizes that this is none of its business, perhaps, but so flagrant have violations of good judgment, good taste, and even good sense become, that a word of warning may be of some help. It may have the effect of calling the attention of parents to one or two things that are seriously in need of correction.

The young hoodlums who occupied the balcony of the Auditorium during the entertainment given by the Girls' Community club last week should be taken in hand and mauled. During practically the entire performance they kept throwing paper onto the heads of those occupying the main floor and so annoying did they become that the complaint against them is general.

This is a case where moral suation will be of little avail. For a speedy and complete cure it requires a direct laying-on of hands or the vigorous application of a trunk strap. The offenders are not very large, it is true, but they are old enough to know better and it is decidedly to their interest as well as that of the public that their mistaken notion of what constitutes fun be corrected.

Then there are a number of young girls in the city who need their silly heads fixed. They are not bad girls but simply seem to lack judgment. The other day a few of theses misguided chumps went woozy over the members of a troup of strolling musicians and proceeded to make spectacles of themselves. The way they carried on at the Great Northern depot upon the departure of their "friends" was little short of disgraceful.

This kind of thing is liable to become responsible for much regret at some future day. Parents are to a great extent responsible, it being their duty to know just what kind of compapny their girls are keeping. There may be nothing whatever to say against the particular men referred to, but they were strangers to the young women and the latter should have had more respect for themselves than to be even found in their company without the proper chapperonage. They have made themselves subjects of a great deal of comment, most of it of a decidedly uncomplimentary nature.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

The committee in charge of the woman's departments at the Pennington county fair grounds are engaged upon a commendable enterprise. They propose to build four buildings—every one of which is badly needed and two of which are absolutely necessary. In case the entire program cannot be carried out this year the ladies will be satisfied with half a loaf, but they will continue to agitate the matter until they have secured everything they want.

At present there is no place on the grounds to which women can go with any assurance of privacy. No lavatory or toilet facilities are provided and nothing in the shape of a rest room is to be found. This is a serious omission. Women are not even provided with a place where they can wash up after a ride of many miles from their farms and there are no facilities for the care of children. Such a building is certainly needed and the ladies are determined that it shall be built this year.

An exclusive woman's rest room is also to be provided. Here a nurse will be in charge and will preside over an equipment sufficient for immergencies. Children may be left here with every assurance that they will be well looked after while the mothers are otherwise engaged. This improvement is also on the program for the present year.

Later on it is the intention to put up a building to be used as a cafeteria. At present all food on the grounds is sold from booths with no protection against dust and flies. The danger of this can be readily realized and it is the intention to do away with it as quickly as possible. The room would be equipped with tables and chairs and concessions to food purveyors might be rented. In cases where the lunch is carried from home the building will provide a place in which to eat it in comfort and safety.

An auditorium building is also wanted. During the fair there are always entertainments of one kind or another and now these must be given in the open air or a tent. Should the ladies succeed in having a chautauqua meeting substituted for the usual fair attractions such a structure would be almost a necessity. This improvement is not insisted on for this year.

There will be a fine new building for the live stock. This is a very praiseworthy enterprise and one that will pay large dividends in the improved quality of the exhibits. The ladies say that this is all very well but that the human beings who, when all is said, pay for the fair and are responsible for its success or failure, are also entitled to some slight amount of consideration. They propose that this shall be granted them and The Times believes they will be backed by the entire community.

ARE COMING OUR WAY.

Wouldn't it be a fine thing if our electric power problem was solved to the entire satisfaction of everybody? There is of course but the remotest possibility that anything so fortunate could happen, but even if it were solved to the satisfaction of a considerable majority it would help some.

Then if we had our streets paved we could go right ahead and build for the future with every assurance of things coming out all right.

The paving question is sufficiently perplexing, but it has not yet caused as much annoyance as the dam proposition. Perhaps if we get one of them out of the way the other will come without a great deal of trouble.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The St. Hilaire Selects and Thief River Falls Champions played a game of ball on Sunday, the result being a victory for the Champions by a score of 21 to 18. The Press reporter estimated the attendance at 2,000.

The city counil passed a resolution dedicating the greater part of Block 29 in Red Lake Rapids addition as a public park and ordered that the city proceed to acquire the property for this purpose.

Velvet THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

Horse Sense About Tobacco

Good tobacco ought to be like a well-bred hoss—all th' kick taken out but all th' sperit left in.

You see, half the secret of makin' a good hoss is in the breedin' an' half in the breakin'. Selectin' tobacco that's grown right is only half of makin' Velvet. The agein' is the other half.

Thar's only one kind of agein' that gets th' right results — Nature's own. Nature's no clock watcher. She does a job right whether it takes two years or two thousand.

So when she gets through with the fine Kentucky Burley that we put awav in wooden hogsheads for two years, it's just right.

It ain't been hurried none, or short-cutted. It's a Nature-done job.

All kinds of things are packed in tobacco tins, but your good neighbor will tell you "Velvet is the real pipe tobacco." Prove it for yourself.

Why Paint?

No man succeeds in any business, whether he be merchant, manufacturer, or farmer, unless he buys right, sells right and keeps his expenses down. Now, saving expenses does not mean spending no money on the upkeep of the plant—the buildings and machinery. It means spending a little so wisely that a great sum will be saved.

It is easy to see, when one stops to think about, why keeping one's house, barn and other buildings well painted is a profitable practice. It costs considerably more now to put up buildings, especially wooden ones, than it did a few years ago. A building means the investment of several thousand dollars and the destruction of that building means that to replace it will require more thousands than it originally cost.

You can insure against its destruction by fire, flood or storm but no insurance company will issue a policy against the gradual rotting of wood.

Paint will give that insurance.

Good Paint will give that insurance at a low cost per year. We are selling this kind of insurance and are now giving you a chance to secure this insurance at an extraordinary cheap rate.

Closing out our present stock of Bloods Paint at $3.00 per gallon.

ATTACK ON PETROGRAD

Being Prepared by Allies Is Report From Sweden.

Fifty Thousand Troops Expected to Take Part in Operation, According to Dispatch.

Stockholm, May 14.—According to a Helsingfors dispatch to the Aftou Tidningen, Allied forces are preparing military operations, with Helsingfors as a base, for an attack upon Petrograd.

Fifty thousand troops are expected to take part in the operation, acording to the dispatch, which says that French cruisers are now lying in the Gulf of Finland off Helsingfors.

DEFY DRY LAW IN CHICAGO

Brewers to Make Beer—Clyne Predicts Prosecution.

Chicago, May 13.—Chicago brewers will continue to make beer containing 2¾ per cent alcohol, despite governmental prohibition legislation, Attorney Levy Mayer announced after a conference with District Attorney Clyne.

Mayer conferred with the district attorney with a view to instituting a test case.

Mr. Clyne said he would take up the matter with the revenue department and Attorney General Palmer. He said such procedure by the brewers would be deemed a criminal action.

TAKE WHAT BELONGS TO YOU

Urged by Radicals at I. W. W. Mass Meeting in Chicago.

Chicago, May 13.—"Organize, march on and take what belongs to you," was the advice given at a radical mass meeting staged by the national convention of the I. W. W. here. Roberta Bruner pleaded for an organization to help the unemployed and gain the freedom of imprisoned radicals. Police of Gary and Hammond, Ind., put a quietus on demonstrations planned in those places. A mass meeting in Hammond was broken up by a force of armed officers, while three radicals were arrested in Gary and the others dispersed.

EXPLAINS AMERICAN SPIRIT

President Says People Are Ever Ready to Fight for Liberty.

Paris, May 13.—President Wilson, speaking before the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences, of which he was elected a foreign associate last year, said that the United States came into the war in the cause of liberty.

"Whenever we see the cause of liberty imperilled," the President added, "we are ready to cast our lot in common with the lot of those whose liberty is threatened. That is the spirit of the people of the United States."

W. C. T. U. SOON TO SOUND JUBILEE

WILL INAUGURATE GREATEST MISSIONARY MOVEMENT OF THE AGE.

Greatest in its program for a better and happier America—greatest in its program for a safer and happier world—great in bringing together the trained womanhood, the organized motherhood of all America with financial resources to protect child life, to safeguard Women in Industry, to put the spirit of America into the heart of the Foreign Speaking Home, and to create a loyalty and faithfulness to Prohibition and Christian laws—great in its work for the World. When Frances E. Willard and her co-workers in 1884 founded the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, they placed upon the United States organization a responsibility and privilege that cannot be shaken off. Other organizations may need to hew new paths in the work for World Prohibition but that of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is already made. Already the organization formed by her temperance missionaries in forty-three countries have been doing the pioneer work and are ready for the big and advanced plans. Already schools, missions, and homes are pleading for more helpers, and more literature with which to defy the incoming brewer. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union—organized Christian women, organized Mother Love in a Christian land—will bear the responsibility for mothers and children the world over. World Prohibition must be won! On with the Drive for America and the World!

A Jubilee Dare!

Generous Georgia first to subscribe
Her quota of funds in the Jubilee Drive
Is challenged to hustle the cash on its way,
If she heads the great Honor Roll, "First State to pay."
North Dakota is out to win this proud place,
North Dakota declares she will win in the race,
A thrill of high purpose each state now may share;
Our Jubilee Drive has developed a "Dare."

"A. A. G.

Sound the Jubilee.

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings; that bringeth good tidings of good!"

Stirred with the loftiest spirit of patriotism to National plans—eager to meet the great work just at hand for the World, one State already has said, "We will double our quota," and Union after Union has more than reached its goal. There may be a few states unable to fully meet the call, but with courage and spirit born of years of sacrifice and love, other States will pour in their added gifts, that the million dollars may be gained in full. Blessed are the women of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union!

Sound the Jubilee!

Perkins.

More Clothing Wanted.

The Woman's Welfare committee, of which Mrs. J. J. Richter is chairman, has issued a call for more clothing for distribution among the needy. The ladies point out that at housecleaning time there are always more or less discarded garments unearthed and that these can very often be made to serve a most useful purpose. Anyone having anything of this kind is requested to bring it to the schools, where it will receive the proper attention at the hands of the committee.

Commissioners Meeting.

The board of county commissioners is in session today. There is a large amount of routine work awaiting the attention of the members and quite a lot of important new business.

Greatness of Small Things.

Perform the small things that are unseen, and they will bring other and greater things for you to perform.

We Are Optomistic

OUR statement of condition, appearing elsewhere in this issue of the Times, not only shows the healthy condition of this bank, but reflects as well the general prosperity of Pennington County.

IN spite of the demands of the Victory Loan, deposits are large, due mainly to the excellent crops with which this territory was favored last year.

AND in spite of the lateness of the present planting season, we are optomistic over this year's prospects. If the farmers are blest with another generous harvest, they will be put firmly on their feet, and we will all enjoy boom times; for the well-being of this, as of all farming communities, is bound up in the well-being of the men who produce wealth from the soil.

Surprise Party.

A large number of the members of the Daughters or Norway lodge called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Knudsen last Friday evening without having previously announced their coming. The party was in honor of Mrs. Knudsen, president of the lodge, who has devoted much time and labor in the building up of the organization. She was presented with an electric coffee percolater, a cut glass vase, a silver soup ladle and a massive boquet of flowers. There were in the neighborhood of 60 ladies present and the evening was most enjoyably spent.

Mrs Carl Jenson.

Mrs. Carl Jenson, who left this city a week ago Monday evening for Minneapolis, passed away at the St. Barnards hospital in that city Monday morning. Mrs. Jenson had operations for appendicitis and tumors on Wednesday and seemed to be doing nicely until she got a set-back. Mr. and Mrs. Jenson have resided on a farm northeast of this city for several years and are well known here. The remains were shipped to her home at St. Thomas, N. D., where the funeral was to take place Wednesday afternoon.

MODERN STUCCO STYLE OF HOME

Attractive Exterior With Unique Interior Arrangement.

SUITABLE FOR SMALL FAMILY

Design Calls for Six Rooms, but They Are What Might Be Termed "Regular" Rooms—Good Time to Build.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

Some one had advanced the argument that if every family in the country willed it, there would be few that did not live in their own homes. With few exceptions, tenants pay more in rent than it would cost them to buy the places in which they live. The owner of rented property must get as large a return on his investment as the same money would earn in interest, plus a profit to pay him for his labor and the cost of caring for the property. This expense is borne by the person who rents the property.

This line of reasoning is logical, but the one thing that deters most people from buying or building a home is a lack of desire to assume the responsibility of paying for it. When it is considered that a house may be purchased by paying down a small portion of the cost and the balance as rent, there is not so much responsibility as most people believe.

Everywhere in the country now there is a shortage of available homes. In almost every community this condition prevails and those who are paying rent are finding that the demand is causing the property owners to charge more and more for the houses they own. Thus, whether they will it or not, many people have been driven by necessity into building homes for themselves, while others are considering doing so.

Selecting a design for a house is undoubtedly the most important step in securing a home. Care should be exercised in picking the room arrangement, the materials of which the house is constructed and the design for the exterior. The number and arrangement of the rooms is influenced by the needs of the family and individual ideas of what a home should be. Selecting materials, however, is a matter that should be carefully weighed. Cheap materials for a home are more costly than good materials, for the simple reason that there will be a constant outlay for repairs if poor stuff is used. The exterior appearance, like the room arrangement, is a matter of taste.

For the person who likes stucco, or plaster exteriors, the house shown in the accompanying illustration will be favored. Here is a modern city style house that is unusually attractive. While the house itself is rectangular in shape, the dimensions being 24 by 30 feet 6 inches, the broad porch gives it a fine appearance. The porch is 15 by 6 feet, but the overhanging roof makes it appear much larger.

The design for this house calls for only six rooms, but they are what might be termed "regular" rooms. The living room extends the full breadth of the house, being 23 by 13 feet. The entrance is in the center, while at one end are the stairs leading to the second floor. The fireplace is built into the interior wall and has a right angle seat on one side. The dining room is reached through glazed doors at the right of the fire place. This is 12 by 16 feet, the buffet and two wall cases being built into one end. The kitchen, occupying the other corner of the building is also large, 10 feet 6 inches, by 12 feet 6 inches. The work table is underneath the double windows on the side, while there are cases on either side of it. The rear porch is of the same width as the kitchen and a place is provided for icing the ice box without entering the kitchen.

The second floor plan is similar to the first. The front bedroom is of the same size as the living room, extending the width of the house. Adjoining it, at the end of a central hall, is the bath room, while there are two other bedrooms, one on each of the two rear corners. Closets are placed in each of these rooms.

The basement extends under the whole of the house. Here rooms may be built to keep the heating plant separate from the other parts of the basement, which always is a good plan as it keeps the heat from the family food storage room.

This is an exceptionally fine design for a house of this kind and size and those who build according to it will have homes to be proud of.

There is every reason why those who have been considering building a home should do so now. The government is urging that all building be started at once so as to give the returning soldiers employment. Converting the industries that were transformed into munitions factories during the war into their peace time state also has thrown many persons temporarily out of employment and building is looked to to keep these workers busy.

When it is considered that more than 80 per cent of the cost of a home is labor, it can readily be understood why building cannot be done now so cheaply as a few years ago. Nature furnishes the materials that go into a building, while labor fashions them into the required shape and condition. Just so long as the present wage level is maintained, so will the cost of building materials stay up. At that they are only 37 per cent more now than in 1913, when they reached a low level.

There is one thing that every person who intends building should do if possible. That is to consult an architect. These men are trained by education and experience to get the most for the money spent in building. The small fee the architect charges is saved many times over in practically every building, because the architect knows how it should be erected. Regarding materials, the lumber dealer is a good man to consult.

OUT OF THE GLOOM.

Many a Gloomy Countenance in Thief River Falls Now Lightens With Happiness.

A bad back makes you gloomy.

Can't be happy with continual backache.

The aches and pains of a bad back are frequently due to weak kidneys.

So Thief River Falls citizens testify.

Mrs. Joe Becker, 309 St. Paul Ave., Thief River Falls, says: "I had a real bad spell with my kidneys about four years ago and nothing did me any good. I had awful headaches in the back of my head and at times suffered from shortness of breath. My kidneys acted irreguarly and I was nervous and discouraged. After everything else had failed, I got Doan's Kidney Pills and it wasn't long before I got better. I have relied on this remedy ever since and it has warded off all symptoms of kidney complaint."

Ostvolden Returns.

Bert Ostvolden, an employe of the Soo prior to entering military service more than a year ago, returned Tuesday morning from Camp Dodge, where he had been mustered out. Bert spent several months in France and returned from that country only recently. He had more than his share of sickness while in the service, being confined in hospitals for nearly eleven months out of fifteen. His health is now fair, however, and he expects to resume his former position in the yard office within a short time.

Husby is Back.

G. H. Husby, a former employe of the Soo at this point, returned Tuesday morning from Camp Dodge, where he had been mustered out of military service. Gilmore had been a soldier for fifteen months and during all of that time had been doing duty in the base hospital at Camp Dodge. He will resume work for the Soo in a few days and upon the arrival of Mrs. Husby from Minneapolis, where she has resided during his stay in camp, will make his home here. Gilmore looks hale and hearty but says he is sick and tired of army life, especially the uneventful career of a soldier who is forced to remain in this country on hospital duty.

More Baseball.

Last Sunday the ball team from the mechanical department of the Soo went to St. Hilaire andtook on the aggregation representing that village. Owing to lack of practice and other things the Soo lads were defeated, being unable to overcome the lead secured by St. Hilaire in the first two innings. After the locals got their bearing, however, they held their opponents down and put up a good article of ball. Next Sunday the St. Hilaire boys are scheduled to come here for a return game and an entirely different result may be looked for. Besides a number of changes in the lineup, new men will be added to the local team, and this together with a little practice in the meantime should make it easy for them to give the St. Hilaire lads a good trouncing.

I Am "Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Livestock Men to Meet.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Red River Valley Livestock association will be held at Crookston on May 21.

According to W. V. Gouseff, secretary of the association, important matters will come up for consideration, including the report of the 1919 livestock show and sales, the report of the building committee which had charge of raising funds for the livestock pavilion and plans for the 1920 show and sales.

The Red River valley livestock pavilion has attracted considerable favorable mention throughout the entire United States. All the members are enthusiastic over what has been accomplished and are anxious to have the undertaking grow and expand.

The Man Who Builds Now Serves the Country Doubly

BUILD NOW!

Homes, Schools, Churches, and Roads. Make a Better Place in Which to Live.

U. S. Dept. of Labor,
W. B. Wilson, Secretary.

We went into the war to aid in making the world a better place in which to live. Behind the victory of arms, if the United States is to appropriate her share of the fruits of victory, must be the determination to do those things which make for prosperity and for happier and more contended people.

Homes, the very foundation of the social structure; schools, the mold in which our citizenship is cast; roads, the article of commerce; churches, springs of spiritual inspiration! These we need in increasing numbers throughout the land if America is to be made a better place in which to live.

War interrupted our construction work in these lines. The country needs almost a million homes right NOW. It needs hundreds of schools. There are not enough good roads or churches.

To resume work in these lines immediately means convincing evidence of your faith in the country's future; it means stimulation for all lines of business; and, of profund importance right at this time, it means a demand for labor—employment for the returning soldier—BUILD NOW.

HE is providing something that makes for permanent wealth and is showing his willingness to co-operate with his government in getting the country back to a normal working basis. Nothing else he could do would at this time be of such great value. On this subject everyone is agreed.

The Man Who Waits For Lower Prices is Making A Serious Mistake

There is no prospect that prices will be lower for years to come. It is even a most serious question whether or not a reduction is advisable. At any rate it is certain that you will pay more for building material next year than at present. Conditions are such that this is unavoidable. It is also probable that labor will be scarce and consequently higher. There will be a great demand for men in the cities later on.

Residents on Farms and in Small Towns Should Build Now

Remember in making your plans that we stand ready to help you in every way possible. We have been at it for nearly a quarter of a century right here in northwestern Minnesota.

Winton-Nichols Lumber Co.

High War Prices Are With Us Yet

With fighting ended, the troubles war brought us did not stop.

During the war the telephone companies, like most other industries, were hit hard by prices for equipment and by the loss of trained employees.

Now our former employees are gradually being released from military service and resuming their old positions.

Although the price of telephone equipment is still very high, we are able to obtain it more promptly than a few months ago.

Our plant facilities, which during the war were extended only for urgent needs, are gradually being restored to a normal condition.

And telephone service, too, is steadily improving and getting back to our pre-war standard.

But the cost of furnishing telephone service is much more than it was when the war began.

And high prices for equipment and generally high operating expenses are problems we shall no doubt have to meet for several years.

GERMANS GIVEN PEACE TREATY

Provisions of Compact As Framed By Allies and Presented To Enemy Envoys.

MUST PAY ALL DAMAGE

Doom of Teuton Warlike Power Decreed to Foe in Document Containing 80,000 Words—Longest Treaty Ever Drawn.

Versailles, May 9.—Following is the official summary of the peace treaty, as issued by the Allied governments:

It is the longest treaty ever drawn. It totals about 80,000 words, divided into 15 main sections and represents the combined product of more than 1,000 experts working continually through a series of commissions for 3½ months since Jan. 18. The treaty is printed in parallel pages of English and French, which are recognized as having equal validity. It does not deal with questions affecting Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, except insofar as binding Germany to accept any agreement reached with those former allies.

Following the preamble and deposition of powers comes the covenant of the League of Nations as the first section of the treaty. The frontiers of Germany in Europe are defined in the second section; European political clauses given in the third; European political clauses in the fourth. Next are the military, naval and air terms in the fifth section, followed by a section on prisoners of war and military graves, and a seventh on responsibilities. Reparations, financial terms and economic terms are covered in Sections 8 to 10. Then comes the aeronautic section, ports, waterways and railway erection, the labor covenant, the section on guaranties and the final clauses.

Alsace-Lorraine Restored.

Germany by the terms of the treaty, restores Alsace-Lorraine to France, accepts the internationalization of the Saar basin temporarily and of Danzig permanently, agrees to territorial changes toward Belgium and Denmark and in east Prussia; cedes most of upper Silesia to Poland and renounces all territorial and political rights outside Europe, as to her own or her allies' territories, and especially to Morocco, Egypt, Siam, Liberia, and Shantung. She also recognizes the total independence of German-Austria, Czech-Slovakia and Poland.

Her army is reduced to 100,000 men, including officers. Conscription within her territories is abolished; all forts 30 miles east of the Rhine razed; and all importation, exportation and nearly all production of war material stopped. Allied occupation of parts of Germany will continue till reparation is made, but will be reduced at the end of each of three five-year periods if Germany is fulfilling her obligations.

Any violation by Germany of the conditions as to the zone 30 miles east of the Rhine will be regarded as an act of war.

German Navy Limited.

The German navy is reduced to six battleships, six light cruisers and 12 torpedoboats, without submarines, and a personnel of not over 15,000. All other vessels must be surrendered or destroyed. Germany is forbidden to build forts controlling the Baltic, must demolish Heligoland, open the Kiel canal to all nations, and surrender her 14 submarine cables. She may have no military or naval air forces except 100 unarmed seaplanes until Oct. 1 to detect mines, and may manufacture aviation material for six months.

Germany accepts full responsibility for all damages caused allied and associated governments and nationals, agrees specifically to reimburse all civilian damages beginning with an initial payment of $5,000,000,000, subsequent payments to be secured by bonds to be issued at the discretion of the reparation commission. Germany is to pay shipping damage on a ton for ton basis by cession of a large part of her merchant, coasting and river fleets and by new construction, and to devote her economic resources to the rebuilding of the devastated regions.

Economic Terms to Foe.

She agrees to return to the 1914 most favored nation tariffs, without discrimination of any sort, to allow Allied and associated nationals freedom of transit through her territories, and to accept highly detailed provisions as to prewar debts, unfair competition, internationalization of roads and rivers, and other economic and financial clauses.

She also agrees to the trial of the former kaiser by an international high court for a supreme offense against international morality and, of other nationals for violation of the laws and customs of war, Holland to be asked to extradite the former, and Germany being responsible for delivering the latter.

The League of Nations is accepted by the Allied and Associated Powers as operative and by Germany in principle, but without membership, similarly, an international labor body is brought into being with a permanent office and an annual convention.

A great number of international bodies of different kinds and for different purposes are created, some under the League of Nations, some to execute the peace treaty. Among the former is the commission to govern the Saar Basin till a plebiscite is held 15 years hence; the high commissioner of Danzig, which is created into a free city under the league, and various commissions for plebiscites in Malmedy, Slesvig and East Prussia. Among these to carry out the peace treaty are the reparations, military, naval, air financial and economic commission; the international high court and military tribunals to fix responsibilities, and a series of bodies for the control of international rivers.

Problems Left Undecided.

Certain problems are left for solution between the Allied and Associated Powers, notably details of the disposition of the German fleet and cables, the former German colonies, and the values paid in reparation. Certain other problems such as the laws of the air and the opium, arms and liquor traffic are either agreed to in detail or set for early international action.

The preamble names as parties of the one part the United States, the British empire, France, Italy and Japan, described as the five Allied and Associated Powers; and Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, the Hedjaz, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Szecho-Slovakia, and Uruguay, who with the five above are described as the Allied and Associated Powers, and on the other part, Germany.

Treaty Ends War at Once.

It states that, "bearing in mind that on the request of the then Imperial German government, an armistice was granted on Nov. 11, 1918, by the five Allied and Associated Powers in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded with her, and whereas the Allied and Associated Powers, being equally desirous that the war, in which they were successfully involved, directly or indirectly, and which originated in the declaration of war by Austria-Hungary on July 28, 1914, against Serbia, the declaration of war by Germany against Russia on Aug. 1, 1914, and against France on Aug. 3, 1914, and in the invasion of Belgium, should be replaced by a firm, just and durable peace, the plenipotentiaries, having communicated their full powers found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

"From the coming into force of the present treaty the state of war will terminate. From the moment and subject to the provisions of this treaty official relations with Germany, and with each of the German states will be resumed by the Allied and Associated Powers.

League in Section 1.

Section 1—League of Nations.—The covenant of the League of Nations constitutes Section 1 of the peace treaty, which places upon the league many specific duties in addition to its general duties.

It may question Germany at any time for a violation of the neutralized zone east of the Rhine as a threat against the world's peace. It will appoint three of the five members of the Saar commission, oversee its regime and carry out the plebiscite. It will appoint the high commissioner of Danzig, guarantee the independence of the free city and arrange for treaties between Danzig and Germany and Poland. It will work out the mandatory system to be applied to the former German colonies and act as a final court in part of the plebiscites of the Belgian-German frontier and in disputes as to the Kiel canal and decide certain of the economic and financial problems. An international conference on labor is to be held in October under its direction and another on the international control of ports, waterways and railways is foreshadowed.

Membership—The members of the league will be the signatories of the covenant and other states invited to accede, who must lodge a declaration of accession without reservation within two months. A new state, dominion or colony may be admitted provided its admission is agreed by two-thirds of the assembly. A state may withdraw upon giving two years' notice, if it has fulfilled all its international obligations.

A permanent secretariat will be established at the seat of the league which will be at Geneva.

Organization of League.

The assembly will consist of representatives of the members of the league, and will meet at stated intervals. Voting will be by states. Each member will have one vote and not more than three representatives.

The council will consist of representatives of the five great Allied powers, together with representatives of four members selected by the assembly from time to time; it may co-operate with additional states and will meet at least once a year. Members will be invited to send a representative when questions affecting their interests are discussed. Voting will be by the states. Each state will have one vote and not more than one representative. Decision taken by the assembly and council must be unanimous except in regard to procedure, and in certain cases specified in the covenant and in the treaty, where decisions will be by a majority.

Armaments to Be Reduced.

Armaments—The council will formulate plans for a reduction of armaments for consideration and adoption. These plans will be revised every 10 years.

The council will formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice to determine international disputes or to give advisory opinions. Members who do not submit their case to arbitration must accept the jurisdiction of the assembly. If the council, less the parties to the dispute, is unanimously agreed upon the rights of it, the members agree that they will not go to war with any party to the dispute which complies with its recommendations. In this case, a recommendation by the assembly adopted, no member must exceed the armaments fixed without the concurrence of the council. All members will exchange full information as to armaments and programs and a permanent commission will advise the council on military and naval questions.

Upon any war, or threat of war, the council will meet to consider what common action shall be taken. Members are pledged to submit matters of dispute to arbitration or inquiry and not to resort to war until three months after the award.

Restrictions Placed on War.

Members agree to carry out an arbitral award, and not to go to war unless concurred in by all its members represented on the council and a simple majority of the rest, less the parties to the dispute, will have the force of a unanimous recommendation by the council. In either case, if the necessary agreement cannot be secured, the members reserve the right to take such action as may be necessary for the maintenance of right and justice.

Members resorting to war in disregard of the covenant will immediately be debarred from all intercourse with other members. The council will in such cases consider that military or naval action can be taken by the league collectively for the protection of the covenants and will afford facilities to members co-operating in this enterprise.

Monroe Doctrine Mentioned.

All treaties or international engagements concluded after the institution of the league will be registered with the secretariat and published. The assembly may from time to time advise members to reconsider treaties which have become inapplicable or involve danger of peace. The covenant abrogates all obligations between members inconsistent with its terms, but nothing in it shall effect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration of regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace.

The tutelage of nations not yet able to stand by themselves will be entrusted to advanced nations who are best fitted to undertake it. The covenant recognizes three different stages of development, requiring different kinds of mandatories—communities like those belonging to the Turkish empire, which can be provisionally recognized as independent, subject to advice and assistance for a mandatory in whose selection they would be allowed a voice; communities like those of central Africa, to be administered by the mandatory under conditions generally approved by the members of the league, where equal opportunities for trade will be allowed to all members, certain abuses, such as trade in slaves, arms and liquor, will be prohibited and the construction of military and naval bases and the introduction of compulsory military training will be disallowed. Other communities, such as southwest Africa and the South Pacific islands, to be administered under the laws of the mandatory as integral portions of its territory. In every case the mandatory will render an annual report, and the degree of its authority will be defined.

Fair Labor Conditions.

Subject to and in accordance with the provisions of international conventions existing or hereafter to be agreed upon, the members of the league will in general endeavor through the international organization established by the labor convention to secure and maintain fair conditions of labor for men, women and children in their own countries and other countries, and undertake to secure just treatment of the native inhabitants of territories under their control.

They will entrust the league with the general supervision over the execution of agreements for the suppression of traffic in women and children, etc., and the control of the trade in arms and ammunition with countries in which control is necessary. They will make provision for freedom of communications and transit and equitable treatment for commerce of all members of the league, with special reference to the necessities of regions devastated during the war, and they will endeavor to take steps for international prevention and control of disease. International bureaus and commissions already established will be placed under the league, as well as those to be established in the future.

Amendments to the covenant will take effect when ratified by the council and by a majority of the assembly.

Territory Ceded to Belgium.

Germany is to consent to the abrogation of the treaties of 1839 by which Belgium was established as a neutral state, and to agree in advance to any convention with which the Allied and Associated Powers may determine to replace them. She is to recognize the full sovereignty of Belgium over the contested territory of Moresnet and over part of Prussian Moresnet, and to renounce in favor of Belgium all rights of the circles of Eupen and Malmedy, the inhabitants of which are to be entitled within six months to protest against this change of sovereignty either in whole or in part, the final decision to be reserved to the League of Nations.

A commission is to settle the details of the frontier, and various regulations for change of nationality are laid down.

Luxembourge and Rhine Bank.

Germany renounces her various treaties and conventions with the grand duchy of Luxembourg, recognizes that it ceased to be a part of the German zollverein from Jan. 1 last, renounces all right of exploitation of the railroads, adheres to the abrogation of its neutrality and accepts in advance any international agreement as to it, reached by the Allied and Associated Powers.

As provided in the military clauses, Germany will not maintain any fortifications or armed forces less than 30 miles to the east of the Rhine, hold any maneuvers, nor maintain any works to facilitate mobilization. In case of violation, "she shall be regarded as committing a hostile act against the powers who sign the present treaty and is intending to disturb the peace of the world."

"By virtue of the present treaty Germany shall be bound to respond to any request for an explanation which the council of the League of Nations may think it necessary to address to her."

France Regains Lost Province.

After recognition of the moral obligation to repair the wrong done in 1871 by Germany to France and the people of Alsace-Lorraine, the territories ceded to Germany by the treaty of Frankfort are restored to France, with their frontiers as before 1871, to date from the signing of the armistice, and to be free of all public debts.

Citizenship is regulated by detailed provisions distinguishing those who are immediately restored to full French citizenship, those who have to make formal application therefor and those for whom naturalization is open after three years.

The last named class includes German residents in Alsace-Lorraine, as distinguished from those who acquire the position of Alsace-Lorrainers as defined in the treaty. All public property and all private property of German foreign sovereigns passes to French without payment or credit. France is substituted for Germany as regards ownership of the railroads and rights over concessions of tramways.

The Rhine bridges pass to France with the obligation for their upkeep.

Commercial Privileges Given.

For five years manufactured products of Alsace-Lorraine will be admitted to Germany free of duty to a total amount not exceeding in any year the average of the three years preceding the war, and textile materials may be imported from Germany to Alsace-Lorraine and re-exported free of duty. Contracts for electric power from the right bank must be continued for 10 years.

For seven years with possible extension to 10, the ports of Kehl and Strasbourg shall be administered as a single unit by a French administrator appointed and supervised by the Central Rhine commission. Property rights will be safeguarded in both ports and equality of treatment as respects traffic assured the nationals, vessels and goods of every country.

Contracts between Alsace-Lorrainers and Germans are maintained, save for France's right to annul on grounds of public interest. Judgments of courts held in certain classes of cases, while in others a judicial exequatur is first required. Political condemnations during the war are null and void and the obligation to repay war fines is established as in other parts of Allied territory.

Various clauses adjust the general provisions of the treaty to the special conditions of Alsace-Lorraine, certain matters of execution being left to conventions to be made between France and Germany.

Coal Mines Given to France.

In compensation for the destruction of coal mines for northern France and as payment on account of reparation, Germany cedes to France full ownership of the coal mines of the Saar basin with their subsidiaries, accessories and facilities. Their value will be estimated by the reparation commission and credited against that account. The French rights will be governed by German law in force at the armistice, excepting war legislation, France replacing the present owners whom Germany undertakes to indemnify. France will continue to furnish the present proportion of coal for local needs and contribute in just proportion to local taxes.

The basin extends from the frontier of Lorraine as reannexed to France north as far as St. Wendel, including on the west the valley of the Saar as far as Saarholzbach and on the east the town of Homburg.

In order to secure the rights and welfare of the population and to guarantee to France entire freedom in working the mines, the territory will be governed by a commission appointed by the League of Nations and consisting of five members, one French, one native inhabitant of the Saar and three representing three different countries other than France and Germany. The league will appoint a member of the commission as chairman to act as executive of the commission.

Saar Valley Regime Formed.

The commission will have all powers of government formerly belonging to the German empire, Prussia and Bavaria, will administer the railroads and other public services and have full power to interpret the treaty clauses.

The local courts will continue, but subject to the commission. Existing German legislation will remain the basis of the law, but the commission may make modifications after consulting a local representative assembly which it will organize. It will have the taxing power, but for local purposes only. New taxes must be approved by this assembly.

Labor legislation will consider the wishes of the local labor organizations and the labor program of the league. French and other labor may be freely utilized, the former being free to belong to French unions. All rights acquired as to pensions and social insurance will be maintained by Germany and the Saar commission. There will be no military service, but only a local gendarmerie to preserve order.

Local Rights Preserved

The people will preserve their local assemblies, religious liberties, schools and language, but may vote only for local assemblies. They will keep their present nationality except so far as individuals may change it. Those wishing to leave will have every facility with respect to their property. The territory will form a part of the French customs system with no export tax on coal and metallurgical products going to Germany nor on German products entering the basin and for five years no import duties on products of the basin going to Germany or German products coming into the basin for local consumption. French money may circulate without restriction.

After 15 years a plebiscite will be held by communes to ascertain the desires of the population as to continuance of the existing regime under the League of Nations, union with France or union with Germany. The right to vote will belong to all inhabitants over 20 resident therein at the signature. Taking into account the opinions thus expressed, the league will decide the ultimate sovereignty. In any portion restored to Germany, the German government must buy out the French mines at an appraised valuation. If the price is not paid within six months thereafter this portion passes finally to France. If Germany buys back the mines, the league will determine how much of the coal shall be annually sold to France.

Cedes Alsace-Lorraine.

Boundaries of Germany: Germany cedes to France Alsace-Lorraine, 5,600 square miles and to Belgium two small districts between Luxemburg and Holland totaling 989 square miles. She also cedes to Poland the southeastern tip of Silesia beyond and including Appeln, most of Posen and West Prussia, 27,686 square miles, East Prussia being isolated from the main body by a part of Poland. She loses sovereignty over the northeasternmost tip of East Prussia, 40 square miles north of the river Memel and the internationalized areas about Danzig, 729 square miles, and the basin of the Saar, 738 square miles between the western border of the Rhenish Palatinate of Bavaria and the southeast corner of Luxemburg.

The Danzig area consists of the V between the Nogat and Vistula rivers made by a W, by the addition of a similar V on the west, including the third of East Prussia and the area between East Prussia and the Vistula north of latitude 53 degrees 3 minutes is to have its nationality determined by popular vote, 5,785 square miles, as is to be the case in part of Sleswig, 2,787 square miles.

Must Recognize Boundaries.

German-Austria — Germany recognizes the total independence of German-Austria in the boundaries traced.

Czech-Slovakia—Germany recognizes the entire independence of the Czech-Slovak state, including the autonomous territory of the Ruthenians, south of the Carpathians, and accepts the frontiers of this state as to be determined, which in the case of the German frontier shall follow the frontier of Bohemia in 1914. The usual stipulations as to acquisition and change of nationality follow.

Poland—Germany cedes to Poland the greater part of Upper Silesia, Posen and the province of West Prussia on the left bank of the Vistula. A field boundary commission of seven—five representing the Allied and Associated Powers and one each representing Poland and Germany—shall be constituted within 15 days of the peace to delimit this boundary. Such special provisions as are necessary to protect racial, linguistic or religious minorities and to protect freedom of transit and equitable treatment of commerce of other nations shall be laid down in a subsequent treaty between the five Allied and Associated Powers and Poland.

East Prussian Line Drawn.

East Prussia, the southern and eastern frontier of East Prussia as facing (Word obscure) Poland is to be fixed by plebiscites the first in the regency of Allenstein, between southern frontiers of East Prussia and the northern frontier of Regierungsbesirk Allenstein, from where it meets the boundary between East and West Prussia, to its junction with the boundary between the circles of Oletsko and Angerburg, thence the northern boundary of Aletsko to its junction with the present frontier, and the second in the area comprising the circles of Stuhm and Rosenburg and the parts of the circles of Marienburg and Marienwerder east of the Vistula.

In each case German troops and authorities will move out within 15 days of the peace and the territories be placed under an international commission of five members appointed by the five Allied and Associated Powers, with the particular duty of arranging for a free, fair and secret vote. The commission will report the results of the plebiscites to the five powers with a recommendation for the boundary and will terminate its work as soon as the boundary has been laid down and the new authorities set up.

Given Access to Vistula.

The five Allied and Associated Powers will draw up regulations assuring East Prussia full and equitable access to and use of the Vistula. A subsequent convention of which the terms will be fixed by the five Allied and Associated Powers, will be entered into between Poland, Germany and Danzig, to assure suitable railroad communication across German territory on the right bank of the Vistula between Poland and Danzig, while Poland shall grant free passage from East Prussia to Germany.

The northeastern corner of East Prussia about Memel is to be ceded by Germany to the Associated Powers, the former agreeing to accept the settlement made, especially as regards the nationality of the inhabitants.

Danzig—Danzig and the district immediately about is to be constituted into the "free city of Danzig" under the guarantee of the League of Nations. A high commissioner appointed by the league and president at Danzig shall draw up a constitution in agreement with the duly appointed representatives of the city and shall deal in the first instance with all differences arising between the city and Poland. The actual boundaries of the city shall be delimited by a commission appointed within six months from the peace and to include three representatives chosen by the Allied and Associated Powers and one each by Germany and Poland.

Poland Given Facilities.

A convention, the terms of which shall be fixed by the five Allied and Associated Powers, shall be concluded between Poland and Danzig which shall include Danzig within the Polish customs frontiers, though a free area in the port, insures to Poland the free use of all the city's waterways, docks and other port facilities, the control and administration of the Vistula and the whole through railway systems within the city, and postal telegraph and telephonic communication between Poland and Danzig provide against discrimination against Poles within the city and place its foreign relations and the diplomatic protection of its citizens abroad in charge of Poland.

Denmark—The frontier between Germany and Denmark will be fixed by the selfdetermination of the population. Ten days from the peace German troops and authorities shall evacuate the region north of the line running from the mouth of the Schlei south of Kappel Schleswig and Friedrichstadt, along the Eider to the North sea south of Tonning; the workmens' and soldiers' councils shall be dissolved, and the territory administered by an international commission of five, of whom Norway and Sweden shall be invited to name two.

Free Secret Vote Insured.

The commission shall insure a free and secret vote in three zones. That between the German-Danish frontier and a line running south of the island of Alsen, north of Flensburg and south of Todern to the North Sea north of the island of Sylt will vote as a unit within three weeks after the evacuation. Within five weeks after this vote the second zone, whose southern boundary runs from the North Sea to south of the island of Fher to the Baltic south of Sygum, will vote by communes. Two weeks after that vote the third zone running to the limit of evacuation also will vote by communes. The international commission will then draw a new frontier on the basis of these plebiscites and with due regard for geographical and economic conditions. Germany will renounce all sovereignty over territories north of this line in favor of the associated governments, who will hand them over to Denmark.

Heligoland—The fortification, military establishments and harbors of the islands of Heligoland and Dune are to be destroyed under the supervision of the Allies by German labor and at Germany's expense. They may not be reconstructed nor any similar fortification built in the future.

"Hands Off in Russia."

Russia—Germany agrees to respect as permanent and inalienable the independency of all territories which were part of the former Russian empire, to accept the abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk and other treaties entered into with the Maximalist government of Russia, to recognize the full force of all treaties entered into by the Allied and Associated Powers with states which were a part of the former Russian empire, and to recognize the frontiers as determined thereon. The Allied and Associated Powers formally reserve the right of Russia to obtain restitution and reparation of the principles of the present treaty.

Germany Renounces Colonies.

Outside Europe, Germany renounces all rights, titles and privileges as to her own or her allies' territories to all the Allied and Associated Powers, and undertakes to accept whatever measures are taken by the Allied Powers in relation thereto.

Germany renounces in favor of the Allied and Associated Powers her overseas possessions with all rights and titles therein. All movable and immovable property belonging to the German empire or to any German state shall pass to the government exercising authority therein. These governments may make whatever provisions seem suitable for the reparation of German nationals and as to the conditions on which German subjects of European origin shall reside, hold property, or carry on business. Germany undertakes to pay reparation for damage suffered by French nationals in the Cameroons or its frontier through the acts of German civil and military authorities and of individual Germans from Jan. 1, 1900, to Aug. 1, 1914. Germany renounces all rights under the convention of Nov. 4, 1911, and Sept. 29, 1912, and undertakes to pay to France, in accordance with an estimate presented and approved by the repatriation commission, all deposits, credits, advances, etc., thereby secured. Germany undertakes to accept and observe any provisions by the Allied and Associated Powers as to the trade in arms and spirits in Africa, as well as to the general act of Berlin of 1885 and the general act of Brussels of 1890. Diplomatic protection to inhabitants of former German colonies is to be given by the governments exercising authority.

Relinquish Boxer Indemnity.

Germany renounces in favor of China all privileges and indemnities resulting from the Boxer protocol of 1901, and all buildings, wharves, barracks, forts, munitions of warships, wireless plants and other public property except diplomatic or consular establishments in the German concessions of Tientsin and Hankow and in other Chinese territory, except Kiachow, and agrees to return to China at her own expense all the astronomical instruments seized in 1900 and 1901. China will, however, take no measures for disposal of German property in the legation quarter at Peking without the consent of the powers signatory to the Boxer protocol.

Germany accepts the abrogation of the concession at Hankow and Tientsin, China agreeing to open them to international use. Germany renounces all claims against China or any Allied and Associated government for the internment or repatriation of her citizens in China and for the seizure or liquidation of German interests there since Aug. 14, 1917. She renounces in favor of Great Britain her state property in the British concession at Canton and of France and China jointly of the property of the German school in the French concession at Shanghai.

Concession to Small States.

Germany recognizes that all agreements between herself and Siam, including the right of extraterritoriality, ceased July 2, 1917. All German public property except consular and diplomatic premises, passes without compensation to Siam, German private property to be dealt with in accordance with the economic clauses. Germany waives all claims against Siam for the seizure and condemnation of her ships, liquidation of her property, or internment of her nationals.

Germany renounces all rights under the international arrangements of 1911 and 1912 regarding Liberia, more particularly the right to nominate a receiver of the customs, and disinterests herself in any further negotiations for the rehabilitation of Liberia.

She regards as abrogated all commercial treaties and agreements between herself and Liberia and recognizes Liberia's right to determine the status and condition of the re-establishment of Germans in Liberia.

Germany Loses Morocco Rights.

Germany renounces all her rights, titles and privileges under the act of Algeciras and the Franco-German agreements of 1909 and 1911, and under all treaties and arrangements with the Sherifian empire. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations as to Morocco between France and other powers, accepts all the consequences of the French protectorate and renounces the capitulations. The Sherifian government shall have complete liberty of action in regard to German nationals and all German protected persons shall be subjected to the common law. All movable and immovable German property, including rights, may be sold at public auction, the proceeds to be paid to the Sherifian government and deducted from the reparation account. Germany is also required to relinquish her interests in the State bank of Morocco. All Moroccan goods entering Germany shall have the same privilege as French goods.

Egypt Recognized as British.

Germany recognizes the British protectorate over Egypt declared Dec. 18, 1914, and renounces as from Aug. 4, 1914, the capitulation and all the treaties, agreements, etc., concluded by her with Egypt. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations about Egypt between Great Britain and other powers. There are provisions for jurisdiction over German nationals and property, and for German consent to any changes which may be made in relation to the commission of public debt. Germany consents to the transfer to Great Britain of the powers given to the late sultan of Turkey for securing the free navigation of the Suez canal. Arrangements for property belonging to German nationals in Egypt are made similar to those in the case of Morocco and other countries. Anglo-Egyptian goods entering Germany shall enjoy the same treatment as British goods.

Germany accepts all arrangements which the Allied and Associated Powers make with Turkey and Bulgaria with reference to any right, privileges, or interests claimed in those countries by Germany or her nationals and not dealt with elsewhere.

Shantung Ceded to Japan.

Germany cedes to Japan all rights, titles and privileges, notably as to Kiachow, and the railroads, mines and cables acquired by her treaty with China of March 6, 1897, and other agreements as to Shantung. All German rights to the railroad from Tsingtao to Tsinanfu, including all facilities and mining rights and rights of exploitation, pass equally to Japan, and the cables from Tsingtao to Shanghai and Chefoo, the cables free of all charges. All German state property, movable and immovable, in Kiachow is acquired by Japan free of all charges.

Foe Army to Demobilize.

The demobilization of the German army must take place within two months of the peace. Its strength may not exceed 100,000, including 4,000 officers, with not more than seven divisions of infantry, and three of cavalry, and to be devoted exclusively to maintenance of internal order and control of frontiers. Divisions may not be grouped under more than two army corps headquarters staff. The great German general staff is abolished. The army administrative service, consisting of civilian personnel not included in the number of effectives, is reduced to one-tenth the total in the 1913 budget. Employees of the German states, such as customs officers, first guards and coast guards may not exceed the number in 1913. Gendarmes and local police may be decreased only in accordance with the growth of population. None of these may be assembled for military training.

Munitions Plants to Close.

All establishments for the manufacturing, preparation, storage or design of arms and munitions of war, except those specifically excepted, must be closed within three months of the peace and their personnel dismissed. The exact amount of armament and munitions allowed Germany is laid down in detail tables, all in excess to be surrendered, or rendered useless. The manufacture or importation of asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and all analogous liquids is forbidden as well as the importation of arms, munitions and war materials. Germany may not manufacture such materials for foreign governments.

Conscription is abolished in Germany. The enlisted personnel must be maintained by voluntary enlistments for terms of 12 consecutive years, the number of discharges before the expiration of that term not in any year to exceed 5 per cent of the total effectives. Officers remaining in the service must agree to serve to the age of 45 years and newly appointed officers must agree to serve actively for 25 years.

Military Schools Limited.

No military schools except those absolutely indispensable for the units allowed shall exist in Germany two months after the peace. No associations, such as societies of discharged soldiers, shooting or touring clubs, educational establishments or universities may occupy themselves with military matters, all measures of mobilization are forbidden.

All fortified works, fortresses and field works situated in German territory within a zone 30 miles east of the Rhine will be dismantled within three months. The construction of any new fortifications there is forbidden. The fortified works on the southern and eastern frontiers, however, may remain.

Inter-Allied commissions of control will see to the execution of the provisions for which a time limit is set, the maximum named being three months. They may establish headquarters at the German seat of government and go to any part of Germany desired. Germany must give them complete facilities, pay their expenses and also the expenses of execution of the treaty, including the labor and material necessary for demolition, destruction or surrender of war equipment.

Six Small Battleships Allowed.

The German navy must be demobilized within a period of two months after the peace. She will be allowed six small battleships, six light cruisers, 12 destroyers, 12 torpedoboats and no submarines, either military or commercial, with a personnel of 15,000 men, including officers, and no reserve force of any character. Conscription is abolished, only voluntary service being permitted with a minimum period of 25 years service for officers and 12 for men. No member of the German mercantile marine will be permitted any naval training.

All German vessels of war in foreign ports, and the German high sea fleet interned at Scapa Flow, will be surrendered, the final disposition of these ships to be decided upon by the Allied and Associated Powers. Germany must surrender 42 modern destroyers, 50 modern torpedoboats, and all submarines, with their salvage vessels. All war vessels under construction, including submarines, must be broken up. War vessels not otherwise provided for, are to be placed in reserve or used for commercial purposes. Replacement of ships, except those lost, can take place only at the end of 20 years for battleships and 15 years for destroyers. The largest armored ship Germany will be permitted will be 10,000 tons.

Permit Only Coast Defenses.

Germany is required to sweep up the mines in the North Sea, and the Baltic Sea, as decided upon by the Allies. All German fortifications in the Baltic defending the passages through the belts must be demolished. Other coast defences are permitted by the number and calibre of the guns must not be increased.

During a period of three months after peace German high power wireless stations at Nauen, Hanover and Berlin will not be permitted to send any messages except for commercial purposes and under supervision of the Allied and Associated governments, nor may any more be constructed.

All Zeppelins Abolished.

The armed forces of Germany must not include any military or naval air forces except for not more than 100 unarmed seaplanes to be retained till Oct. 1 to search for submarine mines. No dirigible shall be kept. The entire air personnel is to be demobilized within two months, except for 1,000 officers and men retained till October. No aviation grounds or dirigible sheds are to be allowed within 90 miles of the Rhine or the eastern or southern frontiers, existing installations within the limits to be destroyed.

The manufacture of aircraft and parts of aircraft is forbidden for six months. All military and naval aeronautical material under a most exhaustive definition must be surrendered within three months, except for the 100 seaplanes already specified.

German Prisoners Returned.

The repatriation of German prisoners and interned civilians is to be carried out without delay and at Germany's expense by a commission composed of representatives of the Allies and Germany.

Full Responsibility Fixed.

"The Allied and Associated Governments affirm, and Germany accepts on behalf of herself and her allies, the responsibility for causing all the loss and damage to which the Allied and Associated Governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by the aggression of the enemy states," says the treaty.

The total obligation of Germany to pay, as defined in the category of damages, is to be determined and notified to her after a fair hearing and not later than May 1, 1921, by an inter-Allied reparation commission. At the same time a schedule of payments to discharge the obligation within 30 years shall be presented. These payments are subject to postponement in certain contingencies. Germany irrevocably recognizes the full authority of this commission, agrees to supply it with all the necessary information and to pass legislation to effectuate its findings. She further agrees to restore to the Allies cash and certain articles which can be identified.

As an immediate step toward restoration, Germany shall pay within two years $5,000,000,000 in either gold, goods, ships, or other specific forms of payment, with the understanding that certain expenses, such as those of the armies of occupation and payments for food and raw materials may be deducted at the discretion of the Allies.

While the grand total of damages assessed against Germany may exceed her ability to pay, she undertakes to make compensation for all damages to civilians under seven main categories:

A—Damages by personal injury to civilians caused by acts of war, directly or indirectly; B—Damage caused to civilians by acts of cruelty by the enemy, and to civilians in the occupied territory; C—Damages caused by maltreatment of prisoners; D—Damages to the Allied peoples presented by pensions and separation allowances, capitalized at the signature of this treaty; E—Damages to property other than naval or military materials; F—Damages to civilians by being forced to labor; G—Damages in the form of levies or fines imposed by the enemy.

Taxation to Be Enforced.

In periodically estimating Germany's capacity to pay, the reparation commission shall examine the German system of taxation, first to the end that the sums for reparation which Germany is required to pay shall become a charge upon all her revenues, prior to that for the service or discharge of any domestic loan and, secondly, so as to satisfy itself that in general, the German scheme of taxation is fully as heavy proportionately as that of any of the powers represented on the commission.

The measures, which the Allied and Associated Powers shall have the right to take, in case of voluntary default by Germany and which Germany agrees not to regard as acts of war, may include economic and financial prohibitions and reprisals, and in general such other measures as the respective governments may determine to be necessary in the circumstances.

Bond Issues Required.

The commission may require Germany to give from time to time, by way of guaranty, issues of bonds or other obligations to cover such claims as are not otherwise satisfied. In this connection and on account of the total amount of claims, bond issues are presently to be required of Germany in acknowledgment of its debt as follows:

Five billion dollars gold, payable not later than May 1, 1921, without interest; $10,000,000,000 gold bearing 2½ per cent interest between 1921 and 1926 and thereafter 5 per cent, with a 1 per cent sinking fund payment, beginning in 1926, and an undertaking to deliver $10,000,000,000 gold bonds bearing interest at 5 per cent, under terms to be fixed by the commissions.

Interest on Germany's debt will be 5 per cent, unless otherwise determined by the commission in the future, and payments that are not made in gold may "be accepted by the commission in the form of properties, commodities, business, rights, concessions, etc." Certificates of beneficial interest, representing either bonds or goods delivered by Germany may be issued by the commission to the interest power, no power being entitled, however, to have its certificates divided into more than five pieces. As bonds are distributed and pass from the control of the commission, an amount of Germany's debt equivalent to their par value is to be considered as liquidated.

Must Replace Sunken Ships.

Shipping—The German government recognizes the right of the Allies to the replacement, ton for ton and class for class, of all merchant ships and fishing boats lost or damaged owing to the war, and agrees to cede to the Allies all German merchant ships of 1,600 tons gross and upwards; one-half of her ships between 1,600 and 1,000 tons gross and one-quarter of her steam trawlers and other fishing boats. These ships are to be delivered within two months to the reparation committee, together with documents of title evidencing the transfer of the ships free from encumbrance.

As an additional part of reparation, the German government further agrees to build merchant ships for the account of the Allies to the amount of not exceeding two hundred thousand tons gross annually during the next five years. All ships used for inland navigation taken by Germany from the Allies are to be restored within two months, the amount of loss not covered by such restitution to be made up by the cession of the German river fleet, up to twenty per cent thereof.

The Public Forum

A recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, by Alfred Noyes, was written under the startling title of "Civilization Imperilled." After portraying the perils that beset us in these days, the false standards in morals, and business, as well as among nations, the rapid rise of Bolshevism in the nations east of the Rhine, he finally concludes that the Gospel of Jesus Christ as expounded by the Christian church was the only thing that would save civilization.

That we are confronted with conditions very similar to those that obtained just previous to the fall of the Roman Empire any student of history can readily see. More and more in these days of reconstruction leaders thought and statesmanship are laying emphasis on the fact that the hope of the future of our civilization can be found only in the ideals of life taught by the Christian church.

That these ideals are fundamental, and basic, in American life is beyond dispute. Not only has it been written into the Constitution of our country but also into the literature and the business practices of this new world. During the recent days when our country was at war, our government turned more than once to the churches when they wished to put over their program whether it was the raising of money or the saving of food. More than one official high in the councils of state have given their testimony that but for the churches they must have failed.

And now in these days of reconstruction we are confronted with a program that is well nigh appalling. Great national leaders are saying to the churches that they must step in and save the day. Morale in the army was even more essential than munitions and there can be morale without morals. Nations must be moral in order to live. Morals cannot be maintained among any people without there are spiritual forces at work underneath. There is only one institution in the world today, or ever has been, that is seeking to lay these moral and spiritual foundations, and that institution is the Christian church.

For nineteen centuries Sunday has been the churches' day, and the laws of every civilized nation has recognized the scriptural law, "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy," and legislators have always sought to safeguard this day for the purpose of religious instruction and worship. The church and Sunday have ever been inseparable. If we were to take out of our lives all that this day and institution mean, we would have little left that would be worth while.

In all well regulated communities most business places close on this day, and by so doing acknowledge the church's right to preference on this day. No reasonable man would wish to live or rear a family where the church has not been established. And even in this day every community is anxious to have a church established in their midst. Many years ago Oliver Wendell Holmes write these words:

"When the microscopic search of skepticism, which has hunted the heavens and sounded the seas to disprove the existence of a Creator, has turned its attention to human society and has found a place on this planet ten miles square where a decent man can live in comfort and security, supporting and educating his children, unspoiled and unpolluted, a place where age is reveranced, infancy loved, manhood respected, womanhood honored, and human life held in due regard—when skeptics can find such a place ten miles square on this earth where the gospel of Christ has not gone and cleared the way, and laid the foundation, and made decency and security possible, it will then be in order for the skeptical to remove thither and there ventilate their views.

"But so long as these men are dependent upon the religion they discard for every privilege they enjoy, they may hesitate before they seek to rob the Christian of his hope and humanity of its faith in that Savior who alone has given to man that hope of life eternal which makes life tolerable and society possible, robs death of its terrors and the grave of its gloom."

If the church is to function properly in the days immediately before us, and is to perform its great part in reconstructing and saving the world, it must have a fair chance and a free hand.

Real patriotism demands that anything that interefres with the work of the church and incroaches on its long established rights should be suppressed. In this city the moving picture theatre puts on its biggest attraction on Sunday afternoon and night. That this interferes with the work of the churches no one will deny. Six nights in the week ought to be enough for this popular pastime. The churches, which mean so much to the welfare and uplift of the community, should have a square deal and be given a free chance to do their work without being hindered. Every right minded person who has the welfare of their community and country at heart should demand that the city council enact an ordinance to prohibit such things on the Lord's Day.

Believing that such action by the city council of this city will be for the best interest of the community as a whole, and that it will be in keeping with the reconstruction program now being worked out by every agency working in the interest of the uplift of human society, we the undersigned citizens of this city ask the co-operation of our fellow-citizens in securing such action as will remedy this wrong.

FORMER SHERIFF A. R. ANDERSON PRAISES TANLAC

PROMINENT HOUSTON MAN SAYS, "MONEY COULD NOT BUY GOOD DONE ME."

"Money could not buy the good Tanlac has done me, and I gladly recommend it for what it has done in my case," said Hon. Archie R. Anderson, of Houston, Ex-Sheriff of Harris county, Texas, recently.

Mr. Anderson is unquestionably, not only one of the best konwn, but one of the most popular men that ever held public office in "The Lone Star" state. After serving as Deputy Sheriff of Harris county for twelve years, Mr. Anderson was elected Chief of Police of the city of Houston. He had occupied this office only a short time when the Sheriff of Harris county died. Mr. Anderson's friends persuaded him to make the race for the unexpired term of sheriff to which he was easily elected. He was honored with re-election seven different times and served the people in this important office for fifteen consecutive years. Four years ago Mr. Anderson declined re-election and retired to private life. He cast his lot among the people of Houston and is a large property owner and foremost citizen of this interesting and prosperous city.

"I was in a run-down condition," continued Mr. Anderson, "and had no appetite at all. I could hardly sleep at night and never felt like getting up in the mornings, I was so tired. I had the worst form of indigestion, suffered all the time from gas on my

"When I read the testimonials of some who had been relieved of troubles like mine I just felt like I couldn't make a mistake by taking Tanlac and it has done even more stomach and was continually belching up undigested food. I had to take my coffee without sugar, as when I drank it with sugar, I would just belch for hours. I would bloat and swell up like I was poisoned and suffered with neuralgic pains of the worst sort, and nothing seemed to help me only in a temporary way. I just can't tell you how I did suffer for the past four years and up to the time I began taking Tanlac, a few weeks ago.

for me than I had expected. I began to feel better after taking my first bottle and have just now started on my third, and I'm a different man already. I sleep like a log now and eat just any and everything I want without the slightest discomfort afterwards. I am glad to endorse Tanlac because it does the work and I'm telling all my friends just what I'm telling you. I never felt better in my life than I do since taking Tanlac. I am willing for you to publish my statement and let every suffering person who may wish, benefit by my experience with this great medicine."

To Build is Plain Good Sense

"The value of 1918 farm production, exceeds 1917's high record by over three billion dollars," according to the estimate of the Department of Agriculture. There is a ready market.

Now, while this demand at high prices continues, it is plain good sense to increase your output. You You can do it without increased acreage and with less farm labor by modernizing your buildings---by constructing a silo, a better hog house, a concrete feeding floor, a sanitary poultry house, an up-to-date barn. To lose and waste less is to morket more.

Take advantage of our years of our years of experience with building materials. Call or write for suggestions. See our plans and get a cost estimate.

State of Minnesota, Department of Insurance, Office of State Fire Marshal, State Capitol, St. Paul.

In the matter of the condemnation by the State Fire Marshal of a building owned by Lewis Bencke and located upon Lots Nineteen (19) and Twenty (20), Block Twenty-five (25) Red Lake Rapids Addition to Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county and state.

Order.

WHEREAS, the state fire marshal upon inspection of the building known and described as a vacant frame dwelling otherwise known as being 111 St. Paul Avenue, and situated upon the above described property, has found and determined that the building is a one and half story frame structure, size about Fourteen by Sixteen (14x16) feet; that the sills are decayed, in places, that the siding is broken in places; that the windows and sash are broken; that the plaster is off the walls; that the floor is broken; that the doors are left open and that the building contains several torn mattresses containing excelsior and cotton, which is very inflamable; that the building stands among and next to a very costly frame dwelling house occupied by human beings, and that by reason of the above facts, said building is especially liable to fire, and, in his judgment, is dangerous to other buildings or property in the vicinity and to human life and limb.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority conferred upon the state fire marshal and pursuant to the laws of the State of Minnesota, said building is hereby condemned and it is ordered that it be demolished and the materials therefrom removed from the premises within Thirty days from the date of the service of this order and notice upon the owner thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the foregoing order is made and signed in duplicate by the state fire marshal at St. Paul, Minnesota, this twenty-first day of April, 1919, with the direction that the same be filed forthwith in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for the county of Pennington, State of Minnesota as by law required.

GEORGE H. NETTLETON,
State Fire Marshal.

Notice.

To Lewis Bencke, 1114 E. Franklin Ave., Owner of the building described in the foregoing order:

You will please take notice of the foregoing order, a duplicate original of which was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for the county of Pennington in the State of Minnesota on the 29th day of April, 1919, and you are hereby directed to comply therewith as required by law, and in the event that you fail so to do and do not file an answer and objections with the clerk of court and serve the same upon the State Fire Marshal within twenty days from the date of the service of this order and notice upon you, the state fire marshal, under the direction of said court, will proceed to enforce said order and your said property will be charged with the expense thereof and the penalties prescribed by law.

GEORGE H. NETTLETON,
m15-22-29. State Fire Marshal.

Notice For Bids.

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls will receive sealed bids for the construction of all sidewalks and crossings to be constructed by the City or under its order during the year 1919, at the office of the City Clerk in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, up to eight o'clock P. M., on May 13th, 1919, at which time the bids will be opened and considered.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish bond guaranteeing the work and indemnifying the City, in such amount as the Council shall determine.

The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated April 23rd, 1919.
A. H. AKRE,
City Clerk.

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Notice is hereby given that default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage made and executed by Hans P. Dahl and Minnie Dahl, his wife, mortgagors, to the Trail State Bank, a corporation, mortgagee, dated the 24th day of April, 1916, and which mortgage with the power of sale therein contained was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota, on the 25th day of April, 1916, at Eight o'clock A. M., in Book 4 of Mortgages on page 198 thereof; that the amount claimed to be due and is actually due and unpaid on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred Dollars ($600.00) with interest thereon at the rate of Ten per cent per annum from the 24th day of April, 1917, and whereas, no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof.

THEREFORE, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, to-wit: Southeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (SE¼ of SW¼) of Section Thirteen (13), and the Northeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (NE¼ of the NW¼), and South half of the Northwest Quarter (S½ of NW¼) of Section Twenty-four (24), Township One Hundred Fifty-two (152) North of Range Thirty-nine (39), West 5th P. M., with its appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on Tuesday, the 1st day of July, 1919, at Ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at Public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash to pay said debt and interest, and taxes, if any, together with disbursements allowed by law and Twenty-five Dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of said sale as provided by law.

FAIRYLAND COMING WEEK FROM FRIDAY

BEAUTIFUL AND IMPOSING OPERETTA TO BE STAGED AT AUDITORIUM

An affair looked forward to with much interest by young folks and grownups alike is "Cinderella in Flowerland," the operetta to be presented at the auditorium on the evening of May 23. Thirty children and young folks of the city will take part in the entertainment and it is safe to assume that most of the others will be there to witness the performance.

The play is presented under the auspices of the Woman's club and is under the immediate direction of Mrs. C. A. Pitkin. Rehearsals are now taking place in earnest and everything will be in readiness by the time May 23 arrives. Those taking part are doing themselves proud and the affair promises to be one of the prettiest and most interesting ever staged in Thief River Falls.

Following is the cast and the fairyland character assumed by each one:

Cinderella (Daisy)	Dorothy Miller
Proud Sister (Hollyhock)	Camille Warner
Proud Sister (Tiger Lily)	Thelma Christianson
Godmother (Nature)	Grace McCrum
Bonnie Bee (Little Page)	Gordon Overland
Butterfly (Charioteer)	Marion Reynolds
Butterfly (Charioteer)	Lorraine Egler
Robin Red (Prince's Herald)	Buel Will
Prince Sunshine (of Sunbeam Castle)	Theodore Prichard

Scenes: 1. Prince Sunshine's invitation to the May Day ball. II. Godmother Nature sends Daisy off to the ball. III. The May Day ball and the shower. IV. The Princess of Sunbeam Sastle.

A matinee will be given Thursday afternoon, May 22, while the regular performance will take place Friday evening, May 23. Tickets for both performances are now on sale at Lambert's drug store.

AT THE THEATRES

Manager Lawrence now has the Lyceum in first class condition and is presenting his picture programs there. The week starts out this evening with charming Alice Brady in "The World to Live In," which is of the usual high order of her pictures.

Tomorrow evening the always popular Dorothy Gish appears in "Peppy Polly," a play which is said to show this popular actress up to the very best advantage. Saturday comes Viola Dana in "False Evidence" another splendid picture. Another installment of "The Lightning Raider" also will be shown Saturday.

Marguerite Clark is one of the favorites with Thief River Falls audiences. On Sunday she comes in that excellent production, "Three Men and a Girl." Lovers of good pictures should not fail to see this.

On Tuesday Harry Morey appears in "The Green God," while on Tuesday Geraldine Farrar will be here in "The Turn of the Wheel," one of her very latest pictures. John Barrymore comes on Wednesday in "The Test of Honor," said to be one of the strongest plays of the season.

Manager Lawrence announces that he has secured the great feature "Hearts of Humanity," and will show it for three days, commencing Monday May 26. This is considered by many a greater picture than "Intolerance."

Song Service Has Big Crowd.

The Oak Grove Seminary concert held at the Zion church Monday evening met with success. The church was filled with appreciative listeners and the program was well given. There were twelve numbers on the program and each was given with such accuracy that it would be hard to judge between them. The girls were entertained in the church basement after the concert, where a delicious lunch was served.

HAVE PLEDGES TO MEET FULL COUNTY QUOTA

SHORTAGE MET BY PATRIOTIC CITIZENS WHO REVISE SUBSCRIPTIONS UPWARD.

TOWNSHIPS STILL BEHIND

IN ONLY SIX PRECINCTS OUTSIDE CITY ARE FULL ALLOTMENTS SECURED.

Pennington county has been reported to Victory Liberty Loan headquarters in Washington as having subscribed the $270,000 alloted as its share. Chairman G. Howard Smith was able to report 100 per cent secured yesterday after a committee of citizens had met and pledged the sum required to make up the shortage.

Country Fell Down.

Only six precints in the county, outside the city of Thief River Falls, went over their allotments, while one, the town of Bray, just made the grade. The heavy oversubscription in the city saved the day to a great extent but even this would not have continued the county on the honor roll had not patriotic citizens at the last minute pledged themselves to take enough additional bonds to cover the shortage. To this committee Chairman Smith wishes publicly to extend his personal thanks as well as those of the state organization. The institutions and individuals who thus offered to come to the rescue are: First National bank, First and Peoples State bank, Math Barzen, P. W. Mabey, John Morgan, Dr. G. A. Penney and L. H. Lawrence, all of Thief River Falls; Citizens State bank, Hazel; Merchants State bank and Farmers State bank, St. Hilaire; Farmers State bank, Mavie; Goodridge State bank and Farmers State bank, Goodridge; Elks lodge of Thief River Falls, and Joe Johnson of Star township.

These Win Helmets.

The six captured German helmets offered as an award to the precincts having the greatest percentage of oversubscription will be distributed as follows: First ward, city, E. O. Mogensen, chairman; transportation department of Soo line; township of Goodridge, M. Vaughan, chairman; village of Goodridge, M. G. Thoreson, chairman; township of Highlanding, J. O. Swanson, chairman; township of Cloverleaf, T. J. Skaar, chairman.

Honor Flag Winners.

Honor flags will also be awarded all of the above, together with the following: L. H. Lawrence, Second ward, city; P. O. Myhrum, Third ward, city; H. W. Protzeller, Fourth ward, city; A. J. Hed, village of St. Hilaire; John Scholin, town of Bray; Lorentson, town of Black River; C. O. Brorby, town of Kratka.

The Final Standings.

Chairman Smith's report as now made up is as follows. Included in the figures and distributed to the proper precincts is the $29,000 subscribed by the Soo railway employes and the $1,200 secured from those connected with the Great Northern in this city:

Precinct.	Allot.	Sub.
First ward	$ 25,000	$ 35,900

TOURISTS TO MAKE NIGHT STOP HERE

JEFFERSON HIGHWAY BOOSTERS PLANNING NEW ORLEANS-WINNIPEG RUN

The citizens of Thief River Falls will have the honor of entertaining some of the most prominent men in the South on the night of July 19. The city has been made a night control in the sociability run over the Jefferson Highway from New Orleans to Winnipeg.

Plans for the run, which it is declared will be the greatest event of its kind in the history of highway promotion, have been announced by J. D. Clarkson, general manager of the Jefferson Highway association.

The official party will be composed of state officials and men of prominence in Louisiana. Owing to the personnel of the party, governors of states through which the Jefferson Highway passes and mayors of cities along the route, are planning to extend special courtesies to the visitors.

Governor R. G. Pleasant of Louisiana: Duncan Bule; highway commissioner: Mayor Martin Behrman of New Orleans: Mayor John McW. Ford of Shreveport, form the nucleus of the official delegation, which will also be made up of well known personages of the state.

No plans for the entertainment of the visitors have as yet been made by the commercial club, but something in the nature of a reception will doubtless be tendered. This is the first general sociable run over the highway since the Winnipeg-to-New Orleans trip in 1917 and much interest in the event is being evinced all along the line.

APPLY PHOSPHATE ON PEAT SECTIONS

STATE SPECIALIST AND COUNTY AGENT TREAT PLOT IN THIS COUNTY.

The eastern part of Pennington county contains a great deal of peat, ranging all the way from a few inches to several feet in depth. The farm bureau, in co-operation with the Soils Department of the Univeristy of Minnesota, has arranged for a number of demonstration plots located on the farms of this section. In the Golden Valley district last year, plots receiving an application of acid phosphate showed a wonderful increase in yield per acre over the plots where nothing was applied. Spring rye showed an increase of 25 bushels, oats, 48.5 bushels and barley, 11.9 bushels per acre. Although the acid phosphate is a little high in price at the present time it more than pays for itself the first year.

George H. Nesom, assistant soil specialist, assisted the county agent in staking out and applying the phosphate to these demonstration plots during the past week. These plots will be marked with appropriate signs so that anyone interested in the reclamation of peat land may observe the progress and results. Trial crops of spring rye, oats, barley and mixtures of alsike clover and timothy have been sown. The phosphate was applied broad-cast at the rate of 150 to 400 pounds per acre.

The farmers who are co-operating with the farm bureau in this work are: Carl Klemmetson, Kratka; H. T. Hanson, Wanke; Nels Risen, Wanke; Olaf Sundrud, Rudell; James McEnelly, Erie; Anton Knutson, Goodridge.

MRS. RINKER FAILS IN SUPREME COURT

DECISION IN FAVOR OF HANSON & BARZEN MILLING CO. IS SUSTAINED.

The case tried before Judge Grindeland in this city at the last term of court wherein Mrs. Elizabeth A. Rinker was plaintiff and the Hanson & Barzen Milling company defendant, was carried to the supreme court by the former when a jury decided against her. She maintained that her husband, Frank A. Rinker, had been injured while in the company's employe and that this fact was a contributing cause of his death later. In sustaining the lower court Judge Holt says:

"The finding that the evidence fails to prove that relator's husband came to his death as the result of an accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, must be regarded in effect a finding that he did not die from such cause. The evidence is such that the finding cannot be set aside under the rule announced in State ex rel, Niessen vs. District Court (N. W.)

"The statement made in relator by her deceased husband as to the cause of his sudden illness was rightly excluded.

"The testimony as to the condition a doctor, called to attend the deceased, found him in a few months prior to his last illness, seems to bear so little upon the vital issue in the case, that the error in its reception should not reverse the judgment."

E. M. Stanton of Thief River Falls, was attorney for the milling company.

Soldiers Coming Back.

Every boat reaching America from France these days has one or more soldier boys from this vicinity on board. Among those whose arrival has been announced the past week are the following: M. Anderson, Gully; R. Emard, Red Lake Falls; Harry O. Hackett, city; Arthur H. Helgeson, Kratka; Olaf Jelland, Wanke; Edward O. Johnson, St. Hilaire; Frank LaFlex, city; Ollie Mattison, Plummer; Melvin Mortrud, Newfolden; Jos. Vassar, Red Lake Falls; Wm. Provencher, city.

Zeh Boys Coming Home.

Phil Zeh has received word from his sons, Elmer and Ambrose, who have been with the army in France, stating that both are on their way home and are likely to get here at any time. Elmer, who has been serving with the 417th telegraph battalion, left Coblenz April 30, while Ambrose arrived at Camp Meade from overseas on May 5.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY IS ANNOUNCED

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR FITTING OBSERVANCE OF ANNIVERSARY IN CITY

VETERANS OF THREE WARS

ALL WILL JOIN IN PAYING RESPECTS TO FALLEN COMRADES

Friday, May 30, is Memorial Day and the citizens of Thief River Falls are making arrangements for its proper observance.

The anniversary this year means more than ever before. A few years ago the day was given over to honoring the heroes of the civil war, living and dead. Later the veterans of the Spanish-American war were included. To these must now be added those who took part in the late conflict with the Central Powers.

Pay Tribute to All

The boys who have already returned from the world war will take a prominent part in the proceedings, while to those who will never return every manifestation of honor and respect will be extended. Speakers will tell of the debt owed to each in turn at a general meeting of citizens at the auditorium in the morning, after which the customary decoration of graves will take place. Mayor G. A. Penney has issued a proclamation calling upon every business house in the city to close in order that all our people may have an opportunity to show their respect toward those who have done so much for them in the three wars which the country has been compelled to fight during the past half century.

Program is Announced

The commercial club has taken the lead in the formulation of an appropriate program for this occasion. A parade in which the veterans will occupy the positions of honor will be a feature and a general memorial program will precede the march to the cemetery. At a meeting of the executive committee of the club held on Tuesday, the following committees were appointed to take charge of the different features of the day's activities:

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, chairman; hall and arrangements, John Morgan and F. F. Haynes; music, Anton Langseth; program, Dr. Froehlich; flowers, Community Girls; decoration of graves, Albert Lieberman and Emil Zeh; automobiles for civil war veterans, W. B. Fuller; parade, Lieut. G. Howard Smith Lieut. L. H. Lawrence, Lieut. Dr. L. F. Fisher, Lieut. A. J. Swedenberg; firing squad commander, Corp. Fred T. Scanlan; flag escort, Pvt. Harold Provencher; bugler, Charles C. Swartz.

The exercises at the auditorium will be in charge of Daniel Shaw. Following is the program: Invocation, Rev. E. J. Seltz; music by school chorus in charge of Miss Evelyn Grindeland; tribute to the civil war veterans, E. M. Stanton, tribute to the Spanish war veterans, W. B. Fuller; Tribute to the war veterans, G. A. Penney. Singing of America by the audience.

March to Cemetery

The parade will form immediately after the closing of the exercises and is expected to arrive at the cemetery at 11:15. The first division will be in charge of Lieut. G. Howard Smith, and will form at the corner of First and Main and will be made up as follows: Band, firing squad, Community Girls, civil war veterans in automobiles, speakers and singers, Spanish war veterans.

Lieut. L. H. Lawrence will be in charge of the second division, which will assemble at Second and Main and be made up as follows: Gold Star Service Flag and escort; sailors, soldiers and marines; veterans of the world war.

The third division, Lieut. A. W. Swedenberg in charge, will assemble at Third and Main and be made up of the following units: Red Cross Ladies, Salvation Army, Societies and Lodges.

The fourth division will be in charge of Lieut. L. F. Fisher, will assemble on Main between Third and Fourth streets and will be made up of school children and the public generally.

The procession will march direct to the cemetery where the Community Girls will decorate the graves while the parade halts and appropriate exercises are held on the plot dedicated by the cemetery association to be used as soldiers' graves.

General Notes

For the general information of the public the committee has issued the following suggestions: School children should carry flags. All flags in the city should be placed at half mast from sunrise until noon. Stores will close all day and business places of whatever nature during the parade and exercises.

MEMORIAL PROCLAMATION

With the return of many soldiers and war workers, the custom instituted years ago by our Nation, of dedicating the 30th day of May as a special day of honor and tribute to our departed soldiers, should appeal to the American people as never before.

To day we realize more keenly than ever what our glorious history means. The freedom of reason and right has again been handed down on the point of the Hero's sword.

Let us dedicate this day with reverence to the spirit of service and sacrifice of those who died that we might remain a united people, who gave their lives that human liberty should not perish.

In order that our city may officially recognize this day, I hereby ask our faithful citizens to close their various places of business on May 30th and urge every one to join in observing the day, that we may show our unqualified loyalty and gratitude, and that by our every act and effort the memories of our fallen soldiers may be honored and perpetuated.

G. A. PENNEY, Mayor.

RED LETTER DAY FOR LOCAL ELKS

ONE HUNDRED FAWNS TO BE TAKEN INTO HERD ON THURSDAY

The national drive of the Benevolent and Progressive Order of Elks comes to a close on May 31. During the month preceding this date there has been an attempt made to gather in all those who should and would become members of the order in every section of the country. There is no question but that it has been the most successful enterprise of its kind ever engaged upon.

Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308 will initiate over 100 new members next Thursday evening. This is perhaps the largest number ever taken into a lodge of Elks at one time in a city the size of Thief River Falls. At least there are no records of any better showing and the members are naturally proud of their achievement. The greater number among those who will take the obligation on Thursday night are residents of Thief River Falls but a goodly bunch comes from the smaller towns in the neighborhood. No village or hamlet so small but that some worthy candidate was to be found therein, and when such was the case there was always an enthusiastic representative present to point out the advantages of coming into the herd.

The program for Thursday is somewhat elaborate. Many business places will close during the parade in the afternoon and the entire city will be decorated in honor of the occasion. Visitors will be here from all over the Northwest, Elks from Grafton, Grand Forks, Devils Lake, Bemidji, Crookston, Fergus Falls, Duluth and Superior having signified their intention of being present.

Will Be Some Parade.

The proceedings will begin to proceed immediately after the noon hour. There will be a big parade in which all resident and visiting Elks as well as the candidates will take part. The initiation will take place at the auditorium and the work will begin at 4 o'clock as it would be impossible to finish up if it were left until the regular lodge meeting hour.

A little something in the way of entertainment and lunch is promised those fortunate enough to be affiliated with the organization and it is the intention to make the event the most elaborate affair of its kind ever pulled off in this part of the country.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO CHOOSE OFFICERS

ANNUAL MEETING OF ORGANIZATION SLATED FOR MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The annual meeting of the Woman's club will take place next Monday afternoon and the session will open promptly at 3:30 o'clock. Election of officers is scheduled for this meeting and other important matters also will come up for consideration. For this reason all members of the club are urged to be present.

Reports of officers, chairmen of standing committees, and chairmen of the different sections of the club will be given at this meeting. These reports will be full of interest, showing as they do the activities of the organization during the past year. As a part of the afternoon's work, the plans of the club for next year will be outlined. All members should come prepared to discuss these matters as they are of vital interest to the welfare of the organization.

The Woman's club has shown by its work in the past that it is of much benefit to the community as a whole as well as to the individual members. Its scope of work was materially enlarged during the recent membership drive, when a large number of new names were added to the roster. The Woman's club of Thief River Falls is a thoroughly live organization and prospects are excellent for an extremely active season.

UP TO FARMERS TO CONTRIBUTE THEIR PORTION

CITY LEADS THEM THREE TO ONE FOR LIVE STOCK BUILDINGS

WOMEN NEED QUARTERS

FAIR BOARD WILL CONTRIBUTE ONE-HALF OF NECESSARY AMOUNT

In spite of the fact that farmers and stockmen are the parties most vitally interested in the securing of proper display quarters for live stock at the Pennington county fair grounds, they are far behind their city neighbors in contributing towards the construction of such quarters. At the meeting of the fair board held on Monday night it developed that whereas the residents of Thief River Falls had raised $1500 for this purpose in a few hours there was still a total of $500 to report from the country districts. It was fully realized that a failure to present the matter properly was principally to blame for this showing and the board took steps to remedy the oversight.

Three Buildings Wanted.

The plans originally called for the erection of three buildings this year, one each for the Guenrsey, Holstein and Shorthorn divisions. The estimated cost of each one is $1000 and the city was expected to raise one-half of this sum. This part of the requirements was early complied with and there is but little doubt that the rest will follow. In order to get things properly presented a committee was appointed to visit different sections of the county for the purpose of boosting the project, the following being named: Herbert Fuller, A. J. Anderson, J. J. McCann, John Bratrud, F. F. Haynes, W. H. Frederick, H. L. Hadrath, O. A. Westin, L. E. Gesell, L. H. Lawrence, T. P. Hamre, C. W. McDaniel, Daniel Shaw and Waldie Christenson. This committee will assist the local solicitors in the different precincts.

For Woman's Building.

A committee composed of Mrs. J. J. Richter, Mrs. Albert Johnson and Mrs. S. E. Hunt, appointed by Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, in charge of the woman's department, waited on the board with a request for certain buildings to be devoted to the use of women exclusively. They stated that the estimated cost of the improvement suggested would be in the neighborhood of $600. The board intimated that the matter should be handled through the Woman's club and that in consideration of this organization putting on a pageant, "A History of Northern Minnesota," during the fair an appropriation of one-half the amount needed would be made. This was with the understanding that the building would after its erection be absolutely controlled by the women.

The Building Committee.

A general committee to have charge of all building operations at the fair grounds and which was to be representative of the different associations interested was appointed as follows: Fair association, Herbert Fuller; Guernsey breeders, H. C. Woolson; Holstein breeders, Hans Anton; Shorthorn breeders, R. J. McKercher; Red Polled breeders, A. J. Anderson; Merchants' association, H. O. Loken; Commercial club, C. L. Hansen.

Fair Attractions.

The matter of providing attractions for the annual fair was considered and a tentative program agreed upon. This includes an airplane flight and five high class platform vaudeville acts, besides the pageant.

Congressman Van Dyke Dead

Representative Carl C. Van Dyke of St. Paul, commander in chief of the United Spanish War Veterans, died of a hemorrhage of the stomach early Tuesday morning at a Washington hotel where he had been under treatment since Sunday. The illness was the outgrowth of an affliction from which he had been suffering many months but he had been seriously ill only a few hours.

Mr. Van Dyke was a democrat and was serving his third term in congress. He was a native of Alexandria, Minn., and was 38 years of age.

WILL INVESTIGATE KILLING OF BIRDS

WARDEN MUNCH MAY BE CALLED TO ASSIST IN STOPPING PRACTICE.

Warnings seem to be of no avail and citizens of Thief River Falls who are striving to protect bird life are about ready to call Game Warden William Munch to their assistance.

In certain sections of the city it is almost impossible to meet a boy who has not a slingshot on his hip, or a Flobert rifle in his hands evidently bent on destroying some harmless specimen of our feathered songsters. The situation has reached a point where it is felt that something besides lecturing should be resorted to.

Mrs. L. G. Larsen and Mrs. Emil E. Zeh, the bird committee of the Woman's club, have been making some investigations and find things even worse than supposed. One of their first discoveries was a dead tree swallow, among the rarest and most beautiful of our native birds. A robin with a broken wing was next reported as having been found by another lady. Others have testified a similar state of affairs in different neighborhoods. The club members are determined that an end shall be put to the slaughter.

Two years ago Mr. Munch was called upon to help quell a similar outbreak of vandalism and his treatment was most effective. His method will be tried again.

STEENERSON ASKS RETURN OF WIRES

INTRODUCES BILL FIRST DAY NEW CONGRESS IS IN SESSION.

A joint resolution to return the telephone and telegraph systems to private management was introduced on Tuesday by Representative Steenerson by the republicans calling on the president for itemized reports of all expenditures and receipts since the properties were taken over, and a report showing the financial results of the government operation. Relinquishment of government control would depend on the time of the passage of the resolution.

OPERETTA IS TO BE FINE ATTRACTION

PRESENTED THIS AFTERNOON AND TOMORROW EVENING AT AUDITORIUM.

The operetta "Cinderella," under the able coaching of Mrs. C. A. Pitkin, will be presented at a matinee this afternoon, and again Friday evening. Both performances will take place at the auditorium.

Misses Grindeland and Mortenson, who have had charge of the music, have given the play a finish which is rare in amateur productions. No one can afford to miss this graceful little play as it is a continuation of happy song, bright dialogues and tripping footsteps from the prologue, sung by Miss Dora Holmes, and the entrance of the little fairy, to the final drop of the curtain, when the princess is carried off by the prince to Sunbeam castle.

The costumes, designed by a committee of which Mrs. T. L. Melgaard is chairman, alone are worth the price of admission. Tickets may be obtained from any of the ladies on the ticket committee and seats reserved at Lambert's drug store.

CREAMERY AT HAZEL DOES BIG BUSINESS

GETS LIBERAL SUPPORT FROM FARMERS OF SURROUNDING TERRITORY.

The creamery at Hazel has been forging rapidly to the front during the past year and now makes a very good showing. Farmers in that neighborhood have learned to appreciate the value of the institution and are united in supporting it.

Just to show what the creamery is doing for its patrons and the amount of money received by farmers in the vicinity of Hazel from the creamery, The Times is privileged to print a list of patrons for the past month who received checks in excess of $40 for cream. The list follows:

Julius Nelson, $253.16; P. W. Peterson, $104.81; Carl Benson, $94.11; Martin Matson, $89.37; Willis Roese, $79.70; Peter Kolseth, $77.11; John E. Peterson, $75.06; G. O. Gustafson, $72.16; Olof Breiland, $71.50; Elling Klemetson, $71.00; J. R. Larson, $69.66; Oscar J. Peterson, $65.53; Anton E. Anderson, $62.86; H. O. Wiken, $62.85; H. R. Kolseth, $62.58; Joe Kiel, $51.15; C. F. Carlson, $45.90; Martin J. Peterson, $45.06; Ole Hoidahl, $41.26; Peter Paulson, $40.56.

State Leader Visits County.

State Club Leader T. A. Erickson spent Friday and Saturday in the interest of the boys' and girls' club work in Pennington county. The schools of St. Hilaire, Goodridge and Thief River Falls were visited and club members given assistance with their projects. Mr. Erickson was well pleased with the progress of the club work and stated that this was one of the most important projects to be undertaken at any place. Our boys and girls will be the future farmers and if given the right start will carry the good work on successfully the rest of their lives.

Mr. Erickson also acted as judge in the bread baking contest at Goodridge on Saturday. This was to select the winner entitled to a free trip to the Minnesota State Fair next fall.

100 CREAMERY PATRONS SPLIT $9000 IN APRIL

THIS SUM WENT OUT IN CHECKS AMOUNTING TO OVER $50 EACH.

TOTAL FOR MONTH $21000

DOUBLE WHAT THE DAIRYMEN RECEIVED FOR SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR.

April is not regarded as one of the banner months in the creamery business, but in spite of the fact that pastures could hardly be said to be in shape for the grazing of cattle during the period, the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery experienced the most prosperous time of its history. If the receipts can be maintained at this figure for the balance of the year it will mean a $300,000 business during 1919, according to Secretary Peter Engelstad, whose report for the past month has just come to hand.

Doubled Within Year.

The total paid for milk and cream received during the month was $21,349.19 as compared with $11,109.40 for the corresponding period a year ago. This is an increase of 91 per cent and represents the best showing yet made by the institution. The butterfat prices average 72 cents for sweet cream and 70 cents for A grade.

Receive Big Checks.

An even 100 patrons received checks for more than $50, the total paid out for this class being $9,363.40, showing that the owners of small herds came in for $11,985.70. Two producers are in the $400 class—Dahl Brothers, who received $434.84 for their product, and Hans Anton, whose check was for $420. There are two patrons in the $200 class—Waldie Christenson and Fred Copp—while 23 received more than $100.

Should Not Fall Off.

According to Secretary Engelstad there is no reason for believing that either the supply nor the price will fall off. The former is almost certain to increase with the advance of summer to much greater extent than can be overcome by a drop in the price, even though there should be something of a decline. He is of the opinion that the most prosperous year in the history of the dairy industry is at hand.

Very few, if any, creameries in the state are paying more for butterfat than the local institution. It is the policy of the directors to uniformly offer the best prices possible in order that a large and permanent list of patrons may be assured.

Following are the names of those receiving more than $50 for their products from their herds during the month:

Dahl Bros., $434.84; Hans Anton, $420.33; Waldie Christenson, $240.91; Fred Copp, $208.14; R. M. Johnson, $193.32; J. Kirk, $193.29; Mrs. J. J. Berg, $191.23; P. Engelstad, $171.72; Oluf O. Omlid, $168.77; A. C. Simenson, $152.11; C. Christenson, $145.08; Ludvig Larson, $136.09; S. E. Hunt, $132.69; Russell Conner, $130.50; Henry Hanson, $129.37; C. Beiswinger, $128.19; Sterns & McCready, $120.77; Frank Kainz, $119.14; Ed. Edman, $118.09; A. J. Funnesdahl, $112.82; C. A. Strand, $110.60; M. Stenvold, $109.43; I. W. Lautbach, $107.07; Swan Wiberg, $103.44; Syvert Hanson, $103.21; L. O. Stenseth, $102.90; Paul Engelstad, $107.86; Rasmus Oen, $97.90; Henry Koop, $97.67; John Johnson, $97.45; Aug. Carlson, $95.40; E. Odegaard, $94.50; Henry Pope, $93.65; Julius Hanson, $90.36; C. Liden, $87.12; Emil Krause, $85.96; Christ Nelson, $83.49; H. Eliason, $82.46; Louis Hamre, $80.64; John J. A MOST PROMISING OUTLOOK.

Never did the farmers of Pennington county face a more promising outlook. The cold spring, so far from being a drawback, may prove a blessing, particularly if a hot spell of any considerable duration follows. The young plants were beneficially repressed, as it were, getting the strong, firm root system which is to be preferred to a rank growth of stalk.

It is possible that not quite all who intended sowing wheat managed to get as much of the grain into the ground as desired, but this does not necessarily mean a loss. There is lots of time yet for corn and potatoes, both very necessary and quite possibly as profitable as the more popular crop. No flax has yet been sown but the ground will be in far better shape for its reception than if the spring had been hot and dry.

Meadows are the great gainers by the kind of weather we have been having, and this is a matter of great importance. It is probable that a failure in the hay crop would in the long run prove more costly than a reduced grain yield. The effects of a poor grain crop may be retreived the next year, but if the fodder supply is short it may necessitate a reduction in the size of herds, and this is the worst thing that could happen. Grass has been declared the world's most important crop, and from the looks of things Pennington county is going to have lots of it.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.

Pennington county should be represented at the Northern Minnesota Development Association meeting to be held at Cass Lake on June 20 and 21. The eastern counties of the northern tier have been rather more enthusiastic in their support of the association than have those farther to the west, but this is not to the credit of the latter. There is yet time to become an energetic unit in the big section the association was formed to benefit, and the counties in this neighborhood should not overlook the opportunity.

The association aims to aid in the development of all northern Minnesota, not alone the timbered sections of the northeast corner. The birthplace of the organization was Bemidji, which city lies almost as near to the prairies as to the timber. While in the general nature of things more actual work and thought has been expended on furthering the settlement of cut-over lands, this was because such lands need the advertisement more than do the prairies.

The settlement of idle lands is only one feature of the work undertaken. Assisting those who have already settled is quite as important a part of the general program. In this department the association has been invaluable. Legislation beneficial to those who are developing the section has been enacted, largely through its influence. The good roads movement has been helped immeasurably because of the untiring work of association officials and members. Protecting the settler against flood and fire has become a state duty and numerous other beneficial movements either had their inception in the councils of the organization or have been helped to a successful issue through its efforts.

The meeting at Cass Lake next month will in many respects be the most important in the history of the N. M. D. A. It would never do to have it said that Pennington county was so little interested in this work that none were present as its accredited representatives.

THIS IS OUR RECORD.

Pennington county will subscribe the $270,000 required of her people for the Victory Liberty Loan. She couldn't do much better than that at this time, but it was not expected.

The people of the county have purchased $1,108,000 worth of bonds of the five issues, to say nothing of saving certificates and thrift stamps. This is equal to one-fifth the total taxable valuation of the county and represents an investment of $100 for every man, woman and child within its borders.

Chairman G. Howard Smith has a right to feel proud of the success of the campaign. The people came in and voluntarily subscribed this large amount at a time when they were very busy and when they needed all the money in sight more than at any other time of year. Mr. Smith wishes to extend his heartiest congratulations to the people and his thanks to those who assisted him in maintaining the reputation of our people for patriotic response to every appeal.

AN UNUSUAL HONOR.

This week has been designated by the Minnesota Editorial association as a fitting time to unite in a public memorial in honor of the late Frank J. Meyst, for a quarter of a century a leading member of the organization and one of its founders. This is an expression of regard never before tendered a departed member and shows the very high esteem in which the dead newspaper man was held by his fellow-craftsmen.

Frank Meyst was one of the finest fellows in the world and no meeting of editors was considered complete without him. Placed in a position where he could be of the greatest assistance, his entire time and unusual capabilities were given over to providing means whereby the newspaper men could improve their product. It is doubtful if another man in any manner connected with the business was so well known and so universally liked.

CIVILIAN RELIEF BODY OFFERS HELP

SOLDIERS INVITED TO BRING IN THEIR TROUBLES FOR ADJUSTMENT.

The Pennington County Civilian Relief committee, of which E. M. Stanton is chairman, is ready to help the boys who come back from "over across" or who have been serving the government in this country. Interest in their welfare did not cease as soon as they laid down their arms, as will be seen by the following general order sent out from the district headquarters of the Red Cross. The assistance offered will prove very welcome to many who are unable to get the proper start after their long absence:

"A thousand times welcome, boys! The Red Cross extends the hand of a friendly neighbor. The home service is interested in you and your problems. It is the interpreter of the government and its provisions to the returned soldier and sailor. It has its personal element, and it is in a sympathetic understanding of the individual circumstances and needs that it can be of the greatest assistance to each one.

"Nobody knows better what the boys are bringing back in broadened minds and solidified characters, a keener knowledge of men and a juster basis for their own ambitions. The Home Service wants to meet those ambitions and needs with advice and help in all ways. Whatever your problem is—how to secure your bonus, delayed allotments and allowances, how to convert your insurance, secure compensation and vocational training, medical treatment or employment, the home service section of your county is prepared to assist you. In short, they want to help make your home-coming a real coming home."

Had Kick Coming.

Bemidji Pioneer: There is no one factor that plays a more important part in the development of a community, spends more time and money in giving aid and publicity to its progress or is so constantly ready to promote activities of benefit to it, than its newspapers, and yet the Commercial club of Grand Rapids has given a local advertising booklet to a St. Paul firm to print, and at a higher price than was asked by either home paper. This is just one example of the many discouraging items with which newspaper men have to contend. They boost for local industry, encourage home patronage, and yet in many instances just the men they are aiding to business success forget that they have institutions right in their home town which can do printing just as cheaply, just as well and certainly with a lot more pride, than the shops of some far-away city.

A Picnic.

A number of young ladies took their eats and spent a very restful and joyous afternoon at Squaw Point Sunday. They had their dinner at about 3:30 and lunch later in the afternoon. Those present were: Misses Josephine Phillipson, Christine Clausen, Selma Rustebakken, Pearl Olson, Ruth Sandstrom, Thora Hanson, Mable Rustad and Agnes Miliander.

Rates Are Reduced.

The United States Railroad Administration has authorized all railroads under federal control to apply reduced rates on material for road making purposes, consisting of carload shipments of broken, crushed or ground stone, slag, shells, chatts, chert, sand and gravel, shipped during the period from May 1 to Dec. 31, 1919.

This arrangement only holds good when consigned to and the freight thereon is paid by federal, state, county, township or municipal governments.

Teachers Entertained.

Mesdames G. Lonson and B. Erickson entertained their childrens' instructors at the home of the latter, 502 Conley avenue south, Friday evening to a 6 o'clock course dinner. There were about twenty present.

Card of Thanks.

We hereby express our heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends who so showed their sympathy and kindness in our hour of sorrow. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs John Gran, Mr. Casper Falk. 22p

Hooray for Banana Peel "Gets-It"

Only Real Way to Get Rid of Corns.

Which do you prefer—a corn that pulls or a corn that peels? Butchery or blessedness? Only "Gets-It" can get rid of your corn the peel-off way, the blessed way. You don't need a pull.

"Corns Never Trouble Me, I Use 'Gets-It'"!

Why bump yourself up on the floor and with your jaws set and eyes popping from pain, jerk and gouge and cut your corns? Why irritate your toes with some salve or wrap your toe into a big painful bundle with some sticky tape or plaster? Life is too short. Use "Gets-It"—it takes a few seconds to apply and there's no fussing. Corn-pains go. Wear new shoes if you want. Peel off the corn with your fingers—the whole thing, root and all, clear and clean, and it's gone! Only "Gets-It" can do this. Take no chances.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls by J. P. Curtis and Lambert's drug stores.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

The Prowler staff this year is made up of the following: Dorothy Mae Miller, editor-in-chief; George Mostue, managing editor; Phyllis Curtis, assistant editor; Miss Lillian Oldaker, class adviser; Sverre Steen, business manager; Arthur Tvedt, assistant manager; Elnor Overland, advertising; Christine Lundberg, assistant.

Two Less Than Year Ago.

There are 323 students who will graduate in the four high school classes this year, which is a falling off of two as compared with 1918. Following is a comparison of the number of graduates for the two years in the four classes:

	1918	1919
Seniors	75	72
Juniors	62	72
Sophomores	80	64
Freshmen	108	115
Total	325	323

The Complete Roster.

The class roll this year contains the names of two young men who joined the army during the war, but who were given the necessary credits to enable them to graduate. One of these is Jordan A. SOLDIER KICKS ON BEING KEPT LONGER ON JOB

HENRY ROGERS ADMITS HAVING GROUCH OVER OUTLOOK.

PROBABLY SAILING TODAY

IS DATE SET FOR DEPARTURE FROM BREST OF TWENTIETH ENGINEERS.

No matter with how great an amount of enthusiasm the soldiers enlisted for the great war and notwithstanding the fact that they have faithfully performed every duty set for them, they are now getting tired of France and want to come home. Every letter arriving from overseas tells of a longing for a sight of the good old U. S. A., some of the boys being rather bitter in their references to those whom they believe responsible for keeping them on a job of which they have grown weary.

Henry Rogers, 16th company, 20th engineers, believes he should be sent back—at least he says so in a letter written to The Times on April 15. He is probably even now crossing the broad Atlantic, his outfit having been scheduled to leave Brest today. In case this is the right dope he is probably accompanied by George Borden, Omar Anderson, Ben Bothun, Frances Burns, A. C. Paulson and a number of others from this neighborhood, all of whom are members of the famous engineer outfit.

Still Sawing Logs.

In the letter above referred to Henry expresses himself quite freely, as will be seen by the following:

"You were good enough to print my letter last winter so I'm going to impose on your good nature once more. At the time I wrote last we had just arrived at this camp and only expected to stay a month or two. Since then our company has closed out one operation and is now well along on another tract of timber. I suppose you folks have read of the big burned area in this, the southwestern part of France?

Doesn't Want to Kick.

"Now I don't want to be considered unreasonable or radical, but the principal purpose of this letter is to make a kick against our having to stay over here. Our officers have told us a number of times that we would be going home soon. Last month our captain said we were practically sure to leave by this date. Today the major announced that we would probably quit this camp by May 13th, unless orders are changed.

Costs Much Money.

"As near as I have been able to learn this timber was contracted for at about thirty dollars per thousand on the stump. It is costing at least a couple hundred per thousand to log and mill it. The finished lumber is an inferior grade and would not bring over twenty-five dollars on the market back home. The Canadians near here were only offered four dollars per thousand by French lumber dealers.

"That shows that we are not held to save money. The last regimental men stated we would finish the job we are now on (ours will take at least 'til July 15), then be put on reconstruction work till the general staff sees fit to let us out.

Were Among the First.

"We were in the first million and a quarter. If we were in the army of occupation or even in supply service necessary to its maintenance, we would have no holler coming. We are cutting all lumber now in meter sizes so it is certainly not for use by our army. The 17, 18 and 48 companies of the 20th are right in Captieux and have about eight or ten miles of narrow gauge railroad running out to their timber. We are five kilometers from town, right on the main road. Our camp was a regular mud hole but we have it fairly well drained now. After a shower the ground is covered with water, as it is saturated all the time. We have rubber boots and oilskins, and sure need them. The winter here is much like that of western Washington or Oregon, only wetter if possible. We have had several hailstorms lately but no snow all winter.

"The Y. M. C. A., built a good auditorium at Captieux and has now turned it over to the army. We have quite a few baseball and basketball games besides some boxing and wrestling matches. We are supposed to have a chance to attend universities and educational conferences, but have been unable to enter a single one in these lines. You fellows who have put in time in the army probably learned such things are usually reserved for officers and non-coms! In looking at American magazines one would suppose the army consisted only of officers and top sergeants. The buck privates are so busy delivering the goods that they hardly have time to have pictures taken or be interviewed.

"We fellows from Thief River Falls are glad to hear there is talk of paving in the little old town. It sure needs it. This country is all provided with fine roads, mostly macadam. If we had such highways at home we could afford to run real cars instead of flivvers.

"There has been some talk of having us do road repairing after we finish this burned timber. Of course that sort of stuff makes us a little huffy. Why not let the Jerrys work off some of their surplus energy on these ruined roads? A few years on the rock pile might make them think twice before they start another war.

"I haven't seen any of the home boys since I came over. One of the Zeh boys was down here a couple of weeks since with a basket ball team, but I didn't see him. Omer Anderson is still skinning mules and George Borden is working in the shop. We have 65 head of stock to keep shod—40 mules and the rest big French horses. The latter are O. K., to handle, but I can't describe the mules without using words that would wreck your printing machinery.

"I guess this is enough for this time. Hope to be home before I get so grouchy that I have to write another letter like this."

Lincoln Goes to Bemidji.

Fred T. Lincoln, formerly secretary of the Thief River Falls commercial club and now serving in the same capacity for the Brainerd club, has been offered the position of secretary of the Bemidji Civic and Commerce association. The salary is $2,500 per year and it is understood that Mr. Lincoln wil accept. He is now secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association, president of the State Association of Commercial Club Secretaries, chairman of the committee to organize the secretaries of the Ninth Federal Reserve district and secretary of the northern division of the Mississippi Valley Scenic Highway. It is expected that he will start work on his new job by July 1st.

Soldier Returning.

John Olson, half-brother of Carl Johnson of this city, passed through last Saturday on his way to Prince Albert, Sask., from which city he went out about eight months ago. Private Olson has been at Camp Hancock.

Higher Prices Send Telephone Expenses Up

About everything you buy costs more than before the war.

High freight rates and unusually high wages have caused the prices of nearly all raw materials to rise far above normal.

The increased cost of labor and of raw materials have advanced the price of manufactured products.

Prices generally are at a higher level than before the war.

We do not look for the price of labor and equipment to come down materially for several years.

Higher prices for equipment and generally higher operating expenses have increased the cost of furnishing telephone service.

Gifts for Graduation

Many of our young men and women are about to finish their school work and take their places in the world of business.

Some of us have relatives and dear friends who are now reaching this interesting milestone of life and it is fitting and proper that we remember the occasion by some little gift that will always serve as a memento of this important event.

We have hundreds of gift suggestions in high class jewelry for both the boy and girl graduate—dainty and precious things for the girl—practical and attractive tokens for the boy.

It will be worth your while to see them. May we show them to you?

Booren Smashes Fingers.

Dr. G. W. Booren, who recently recovered from an attack of influenza but who had not yet reached a stage where he could leave the house, a few days ago tried to lend a hand with the family washing. The result was that he got his fingers into the gear of the electric washing machine and two of the members were badly lacerated. This added misfortune will keep the doctor from looking after his dental practice for some time to come.

The Public Forum

The Public Forum.

(A communication on the subject of theatre closing was received by The Times this week which cannot be printed for the reason that no name appears attached thereto. There is nothing objectionable in the communication but for their own protection the publishers must know by whom it was submitted. Unsigned articles of this nature are never printed in The Times, this being a rule followed by reputable publications in the country. The name of the sender need not appear in the printed article and will be withheld if so desired.)

Have the Legal Right.

On account of a rumor started that there may be some doubt as to the legality of the city council in passing the proposed theatre ordinance, the following opinion was given on request by the city attorney: "The city of Thief River Falls is organized under chapter eight of the laws of 1895 which becomes the charter of the city. The powers and duties of the city council are enumerated in section 135 of this law. Subdivision 27 of section 135 reads as follows:

> "To license and regulate the exhibitions of common show men and shows of all kinds, and the exhibition of caravans, menageries, circuses, concerts, theatrical performances, skating rinks and all places of amusements, and museums, for enterance into which money is charged."

Under this charter and under the decision of our supreme court, I am very clearly of the opinion that the city council of this city has the right to prohibit theatrical performances on Sunday if the council sees fit.

Gregory Werstlein Entertains.

One of the pleasing social events of last week was a party given by Gregory Werstlein at his home on Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing games and listening to music. At a late hour lunch was served. Those present were: Sybil McGinn, Doris Richter, Louise Ericson, Grace McCrum, Ruby Bennes, Mildred Hauglid, Marguerite DeCremer Charles Gambel, Lee Ihle, Bob Whitiens, Harold Westin, Harold Smithers, Lloyd Peterson and Milton Lund.

Senior-Junior Picnic.

The Senior class of 1919 gave the juniors their return banquet in the form of a picnic at Squaw Point, Wednesday evening. The W. O. W. society is said to have furnished the amusement after which lunch was served at 6:30 consisting of cake, sandwiches, ice cream and coffee.

The guests not only reached the place by walking and riding, but Joseph Weirus caused quite a sensation by coming on horseback. The juniors enjoyed and appreciated the senior's returned hospitality.

Surprise Party.

A large number of the friends of Richard Lund of Kratka township gathered at the school house of District No. 11 last Sunday afternoon for the purpose of extending to that young man their congratulations on his return from France after having been wounded severely. The party was a surprise to Private Lund, who has been back from the battle front for some time but was retained at the hospital in Camp Dodge pending an investigation of his injuries. He was one of the first to enlist in the army from Kratka township and his career has been watched with a good deal of interest by his neighbors.

Music Section Closes Season.

The members of the musical section of the Woman's club held their last meeting of the season Monday evening at the home of Mrs. G. Halvorson. The occasion was in the nature of a shower for Miss Evelyn Grindeland, a valued member of the club, whose marriage will take place in the near future. The guest of honor was presented with a beautiful silver sandwich plate as a token of the high esteem in which she is held by her co-workers. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Halvorson, and Miss Grindeland responded in a few well chosen words. A dainty two-course luncheon was served under the supervision of Mrs. L. R. Hiatt and Miss Taylor. The remainder of the evening was spent in sewing and music.

Big Price For Horses.

P. W. Roark this week purchased a span of Percheron mares from R. P. Waite of the Patriot Stock Farms, Reynolds, Ill., paying an even thousand dollars for the team. They are three years old and a beautiful steel gray in color. Mr. Roark will use the mares for breeding purposes and feels that he got a bargain considering the quality of the animals.

Ohm Goes to Bemidji.

Grant Ohm, for several years head clerk in the clothing store of Lieberman Brothers in this city, has resigned his position in order to accept a position as assistant manager and buyer with the Schavitch Clothing company at Bemidji. The new job is a decided promotion and naturally carries with it a substantial increase in salary. Mr. Ohm is a native of Thief River Falls and has a large number of friends here who will wish him well in his new position.

Olga Isabella Sabo.

Miss Olga I. Sabo passed away at her home in Cloverleaf township May 21, after an illness of three month's duration. Her death was caused from endocarditis. Miss Sabo was born Nov. 28, 1910, and was 8 years, 5 months and 23 days of age at the time of her death. She was a daughter of Peter Sabo. The remains will be interred in the Telemarken cemetery May 23.

Thea Oline Nomland.

Thea Oline Nomland passed away May 10 after an illness of about a month, brain fever following influenza being the cause of her death. Deceased was born May 13, 1900 in the town of Rocksbury and was 18 years, 11 months and 28 days old at the time of her death. She had been attending high school in this city for a couple of years and was a bright and highly gifted young woman. Her cheerful disposition and sweet smile will be very sadly missed by her friends and relatives.

Card of Thanks.

Pride!

A motor car is like a dress or a suit of clothes: it's got to look good as well as be good, or half your enjoyment is spoiled.

The Briscoe is a striking proof of the fact that a car at a popular price can not only be made right, but look right.

A couple of thousand dollars added to the price would not give you any more beautiful lines or a car in whose appearance you would take more pride

New Course at N. W. Aggie.

A new course will be offered at the Northwest School of Agriculture during the week of June 23 when the first annual Home Makers' meeting will be held. This is open to both farm and town women and presents an opportunity for recreation and instruction. The week will not be so crowded that it will leave the women all tired out. On the other hand it will aim to furnish a week of restful occupation and helpful instruction. Prominent leaders will address the women on current topics of interest to all. Demonstrations of practical value will be given. Moving pictures will while away an hour of leisure. Music and readings will make one forget there is so much to do and so little time to do it. The week is planned to give women an equal opportunity to meet together for mutual interchange of ideas, interesting activities and a good time. For full information send to the Northwest School, Crookston, for special circular.

Notice to Taxpayers

On June 1st a penalty of 10 per cent is added to all unpaid Real Estate Tax, but in case one-half shall be paid before June 1st of each year then no penalty is added providing that the remaining half of said tax shall be paid before the 1st day of November of each year. If said remaining one-half of said tax is not paid before November 1st of each year, then a penalty of 10 per cent is added to the one-half of said tax remaining unpaid. Taxes become delinquent on the first day of January next, when an additional penalty of 5 per cent is added. Tax sales take place on the 2nd Monday of May following and the amount of sales draws interest at the rate of one per cent a month until redeemed. If not redeemed within three years from the date of sale, all lands become the absolute property of the state or purchaser.

Respectfully,
John Gullingsrud,
County Treasurer.

FUN AND FACT BOOSTER PLAN AT CASS LAKE

SUMMER CONVENTION OF N. M. D. A. HELD THERE JUNE 20-21.

BIG MEETING IS PROMISED

GOOD ROADS AND SHEEP RAISING WILL BE PROMINENT TOPICS.

The summer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association which will be held at Cass Lake on June 20 and 21, promises to be the best in the history of the organization. Every county in the vast district is expected to send delegates and nearly every section is represented on the program.

The Thief River Falls Commercial club will doubtless take up the matter of appointing official representatives at the next meeting, but whether this is done or not, Pennington county should not be missing when the roll is called.

The program provides for both instruction and amusement. The speakers are perhaps the best posted men in the state in their respective lines while the entertainment features will far outclass those of any previous meeting.

Friday, A. M., June 20.

Jinx Still Working.

The baseball team recently organized by the mechanical department of the Soo seems to be under the spell of a jinx. Two weeks ago they were defeated at St. Hilaire and last Sunday the bunch from that village came here and repeated the performance by a score of 6 to 5. The game last Sunday started out in regular style, the score at the end of the sixth standing 2 and 3. Then the playing became more ragged and the score increased correspondingly. Next Sunday the boys are planning on a game with Goodridge at the local grounds and hope to be able to put the kibosh on the jinx for good. Herron and Eggerud acted as battery for the locals last Sunday and performed their parts well.

Dispatchers on Vacation.

A. J. Odin, chief dispatcher, enjoyed his monthly vacation of two days on May 16 and 17. Phil Bryant and A. L. Chapman took only one day, the 18th, reserving the other holiday for some future time. E. F. Dolan took the 19th and 20th, while C. W. Stewart gets the 21st and 22nd. R. F. Fillmore, the remaining dispatcher at this station, is planning on a four weeks vacation and will leave the 23rd for a trip through the West. He plans to visit California, Washington, Oregon and Colorado on the trip. His family has been visiting in the West for several weeks and will return with him.

Improvements Started.

The steam shovel and crew starts this week on the wheat line and will likely remain there during the greater part of the summer. It is planned to replace a number of bridges with large concrete culverts and this work necessitates a large amount of filling in most instances. This was done last year on the bridge between the local round house and freight depot, making a very decided improvement. Near Fordville three large concrete arches were put in last year to replace a long wooden bridge, and much of the dirt filling still remains to be done.

Division Jottings.

Joseph Peterson, fireman, spent the last of the week in Minneapolis on business.

Machinist H. G. Goethe has this week moved his family into his new home on Red Lake boulevard.

Fireman Gust Freitag attended to business matters and visited with friends in the Twin Cities several days last week.

Eugene Hance and Carl Norquist of the round house force spent Sunday taking in the sights at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Car Man W. A. Rhode, who is now employed at Adams, came over Saturday evening and visited until Monday with his family.

J. O. Herrick and family came over from Warren and spent Sunday at the Robert McGinn home. Mr. Herrick is agent at Warren for the Soo.

Louis Jensen resigned as mail carrier for the Soo at Ottertail the 16th and his place was immediately filled by the addition of Sam Barnett to the force.

Hans Peterson, machinist helper at the Soo round house, is laying off in order to nurse a particularly large carbuncle which has found lodgement on his neck.

Mrs. M. Helen Montgomery, operator at the Great Northern depot, left Friday afternoon for a visit to relatives and friends at Crookston. She returned Tuesday.

Machinist Helper Chas. Bartlett has been laying off for a few days on account of a sore eye. He expects to have his vision cleared sufficiently to return to work soon.

Machinist John M. Skog, who some time ago suffered a broken leg while cutting the limbs from a tree in his yard, is now able to be up and around. It will be some time, however, before he is able to resume his work at the round house.

Gilmore Husby, who returned last week from army service at Camp Dodge, this week began work as car man at the Soo. Mr. Husby before entering the army was a clerk in the same department, and the boys are all glad to have him among them once more.

Hospital Notes.

Those who have entered the Physicians hospital for medical attention since last Thursday morning up to this morning are: Melvin Joringdal, city; Earling Anderson, Orleans; Miss Anna Barstad, city; Andrew Hovland, city; Elwood Nekrud, Middle River; Jeanette Peterson, city; Mrs. May Johnson, city; Marie Oien, St. Hilaire; Mrs. Gladys Evenson, city; Elizabeth Nicom, Germantown; Victor Berg, Middle River; Una Nelson, city and Agnes Skomedal, Thief River Falls.

SINGLE INSERTION SOLD ALL THE PIGS

QUICK ACTION SECURED THRU LITTLE WANT AD IN THE TIMES.

FOR SALE—Small pigs, born April 1. Seven miles east and 1½ miles north.—Frank Svobodny. 19p

That was all, but it was enough to cause an inquiry for little porkers that kept Mr. Svobodny answering phone calls and meeting purchasers until he was tired. He paid for having the advertisement run three weeks, but forfeited the price of two insertions rather than have it appear more than once.

Mr. Svobodny writes: "Do not run my ad for the next two weeks. I ordered it inserted three times but sold out all my pigs after the first issue."

That is the way these little want ads work. Another man down near the south end of the county telephoned the office about as follows: "For heaven's sake take out my advertisement offering a Ford for sale. I am pestered to death with people who want to buy it. The car was sold the day after the paper was out."

A chicken fancier who offered eggs for hatching said his hens would have to be repeaters in order to keep up with the demand. A business firm in town wanted a stenographer and announced the fact through a little ad in The Times. During the following few days answers were received from people residing all the way from the Canadian border to Crookston. One man lost a sum of money and advertised for it, never expecting to see it again. It was brought to The Times office by the person who had picked it up and had seen the ad.

These little advertisements are the most effective things yet devised. They form the medium of communication between those having things to sell and those wishing to buy. It is the cheapest and most convenient method of making a trade or a sale.

Nearly everyone reads the want columns in a newspaper even when they can find little else to interest them. The service is the one sure way of reaching exactly the ones whose attention is sought. These ads cost but little and they do the business.

Railroad Clerks Dance.

The railroad clerks of the Soo, had a get-to-gether dance at the I. O. O. F. hall last Thursday evening. Every one enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Miss Booren Entertains.

Miss Olive Booren entertained ten ladies at 605 Main avenue north, Saturday in honor of her mother, Mrs. A. Booren of Stillwater, who is visiting in the city. A delicious lunch was served at 4:30.

Wash Machines

We have both the Vacuum and the Rotary and a full line of the very best there is. Save your women folks the hard, back-breaking job of washing clothes by buying one of these machines. Easy to operate, and do the very best work in about half the time required by the old hand method.

We Also Have the Maytag Electric Wash Machine

COMING—A large shipment of Refrigerators. They will be here next week and we urge that you see them before making your selection. They are the latest and best.

A Full Line of Builders and General Hardware

Look over our stock and get our prices before placing your orders. Everything for the farm.

Prepare Now to Take Care of Your Crop

The loss caused by neglect to properly care for crops after they are harvested is causing a loss running into the millions of dollars every year in the United States. This waste is not only costly but almost criminal in view of the present world shortage of food stuffs.

Do Your Part to Stop it

The proper buildings for crops and stock will cost less than any improvement that can be made at this time and will be of greater value both from an actual cash standpoint and in the satisfaction afforded, than any other improvement you can make.

This Is the Time to Plan

The spring work is almost at an end and the farmer will have time to look about and plan for the future. Decide now upon building and allow us to help you with the plans. We will do so gladly and tell you just what the contemplated improvement may be expected to cost. This service is free.

State of Minnesota, Department of Insurance, Office of State Fire Marshal, State Capitol, St. Paul.

In the matter of the condemnation by the State Fire Marshal of a building owned by Lewis Benecke and located upon Lots Nineteen (19) and Twenty (20), Block Twenty-five (25), Red Lake Rapids Addition to Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county and state.

Order.

WHEREAS, the state fire marshal upon inspection of the building known and described as a vacant frame dwelling otherwise known as being 111 St. Paul Avenue, and situated upon the above described property, has found and determined that the building is a one and half story frame structure, size about Fourteen by Sixteen (14x16) feet; that the sills are decayed in places, that the siding is broken in places; that the windows and sash are broken; that the plaster is off the walls; that the floor is broken; that the doors are left open and that the building contains several torn mattresses containing excelsior and cotton, which is very inflamable; that the building stands among and next to a very costly frame dwelling house occupied by human beings, and that by reason of the above facts, said building is especially liable to fire, and, in his judgment, is dangerous to other buildings or property in the vicinity and to human life and limb.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority conferred upon the state fire marshal and pursuant to the laws of the State of Minnesota, said building is hereby condemned and it is ordered that it be demolished and the materials therefrom removed from the premises within Thirty days from the date of the service of this order and notice upon the owner thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the foregoing order is made and signed in duplicate by the state fire marshal at St. Paul, Minnesota, this twenty-first day of April, 1919, with the direction that the same be filed forthwith in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for the county of Pennington, State of Minnesota as by law required.

GEORGE H. NETTLETON,
State Fire Marshal.

Notice.

To Lewis Benecke, 1114 E. Franklin Ave., Owner of the building described in the foregoing order:

You will please take notice of the foregoing order, a duplicate original of which was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for the county of Pennington in the State of Minnesota on the 29th day of April, 1919, and you are hereby directed to comply therewith as required by law, and in the event that you fail so to do and do not file an answer and objections with the clerk of court and serve the same upon the State Fire Marshal within twenty days from the date of the service of this order and notice upon you, the state fire marshal, under the direction of said court, will proceed to enforce said order and your said property will be charged with the expense thereof and the penalties prescribed by law.

GEORGE H. NETTLETON,
State Fire Marshal.

The Standard Oil Company and Its Competitors

(Indiana)

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in conducting its business, is animated by the homely philosophy of the golden rule.

By dealing in fairness to all, competitor and consumer alike, the company is confident that the superior service it renders, and the merit of the products it manufactures, will secure for the company its fair share of the business.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is in active competition with 264 other companies, large and small, who are selling oil, gasoline, and other petroleum products, in the territory it serves. Most of them are prosperous.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is essentially a service organization in a highly specialized branch of industry, doing a big job as efficiently as it knows how—and it is not owned by one or two rich men, but by 4623 stockholders, no one holding as much as 10 percent of the total stock.

It is the ambition of the Board of Directors that when their trusteeship has expired, that they may report to the stockholders a creditable result that shall have been achieved solely by quality of products, by superior service to the public, and by dealing in fairness to all, competitor, consumer and employe.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammations and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first used GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

"Friendly" is a very good word to describe the positively pleasing quality that sets VELVET tobacco apart.

There is that indescribable something about VELVET that is associated in men's minds with the thought of a friend.

It is a satisfying smoke—never harsh; without a bite. Like a friend it "agrees" with you no matter how much you use it.

Long, patient ageing—in wooden hogsheads—does it. Friendship must ripen slowly. Good tobacco the same way. An army of men have learned this through VELVET.

Today is a good time to get a lot of comfort out of a pipeful of friendly VELVET.

Proceedings of Board of County Commissioners

Thief River Falls, Minnesota, May 15th, 1919.

The County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota met in special session in the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, at one o'clock P. M., for the purpose of receiving bids and letting contract for the construction of the west two miles of State Road No. 3, and for any such further business that may legally come before said meeting.

Meeting was called to order by the Chairman Commissioner Peterson. Members present were: Commissioners Hanson, Naplin, Roy and Peterson. Member absent: McGinn.

The matter of receiving bids for the construction of the west 2 miles of State Road No. 3, being Job No. 1901, the following bids were received:

Bid of C. L. Sieff as follows: Excavation 11076.0 cubic yards at 24 cents per cubic yard. Installing concrete culvert, 148 lineal feet at 50 cents per lineal foot. Certified check for $200.00 accompanied said bid.

Bid of P. W. Roark as follows: Excavation 11076.0 cubic yards at 21.8 cents per cubic yard, $2,414.56. Installing concrete and metal culverts, 40 cents per cubic foot. Certified check in the sum of $350.00 accompanied said bid.

Moved and seconded that the bid of P. W. Roark be accepted and that the County Auditor be instructed to enter into a contract with P. W. Roark in behalf of Pennington County for the construction of said work. Motion carried.

A petition signed by M. O'Leary and others asking for the formation of a new School District in the town of Mayfield came duly before the Board the same being recommended by the County Superintendent of Schools and found to be in proper form, the following order was made:

Order of Hearing on Petition to Form New School District.

WHEREAS, A petition has been filed with the County Board of Pennington County, signed and acknowledged by a majority of the freeholders who reside in the proposed new district herein described, and who are entitled to vote at school meetings in their respective districts, with the approval of the County Superintendent of Schools endorsed thereon, praying for the organization of a new school district out of the following described territory:

Beginning at the Southwest corner of Section 19, then East on the South line of Sections 19, 20 and 21 to the center of Section 22; thence North on the quarter line of Sections 22, 15 and 10, to the center of Section 3; thence West on the quarter line of Section 3 to center of Section 4; thence 80 rods West through Section 4; thence North to north line of Section 4; thence west to north center of Section 5; thence South through Sections 5 and 8 to south line of Section 8; thence West to Northwest corner of Section 17; thence South on Section line to Southeast corner of Section 18; thence West on Section line to Northwest corner of Section 19; thence South to Southwest corner of Section 19, in the Township of Mayfield, County of Pennington, State of Minnesota.

NOW, THEREFORE, It is hereby ordered, that a hearing upon the said petition will be had at a meeting of said County Board, commencing upon the 10th day of June, A. D., 1919, at one o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, in said County, at which time and place the said County Board will hear arguments of all persons interested for and against the proposed organization of said new school district.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That a notice of said hearing be posted in three public places in each of the districts affected thereby, and a copy thereof served on the Clerk of each of said districts so affected at least ten days prior to said time herein set for hearing said petition; and that said notice be forthwith published two weeks in the newspaper known as the Thief River Falls Times, which is printed and published in said County, and is hereby designated as the legal newspaper for publishing the same.

Dated this 15th day of May, A. D. 1919.

By order of the County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota.

By OSCAR J. PETERSON,
Chairman of said Board.

COUNTY BOARD TAKES STEPS IN ROAD BUILDING

TO BE BIGGEST YEAR OF IMPROVEMENT IN HISTORY OF COUNTY

LARGE SUM IS REQUIRED

ABOUT $50,000 TO BE SPENT IN ROAD WORK DURING THE SEASON

Road building in Pennington county was given a substantial boost at the meeting of the county commissioners held last week. Approximately $50,000 will be expended in road work this year and as a result the entire stretch of the Jefferson highway passing through the county as well as many other thoroughfares will be placed in first-class condition before the summer is over.

Roark Gets Big Contract.

P. W. Roark was awarded the contract to construct the piece of road fro mthe Pembina trail west two miles to the Polk county line. Mr. Roark's bid for the job was $2,219.56, while culverts are to be placed at 40 cents per lineal foot. The work will be started within a short time and will be rushed to completion in the shortest possible period.

Other Work Designated.

Other sections of road to be improved under federal aid were designated. The stretch south of St. Hilaire to the county line will come in for improvement to the extent of $18,000, which will place that part of the Jefferson highway in fine condition. The road west from section 36 to the ridge will also be graded and it is expected that $5,000 will be necessary in this instance.

An important change in the routing of the Jefferson highway from the south into Thief River Falls was decided upon. Instead of running east at Connelly's corner as at present, the road will go straight north until it reaches a point opposite First street before turning into the city. This will make one less railroad crossing and get away from a stretch of road which is always in bad shape and which is so located that neither state, county nor city has been in position to do effective work upon it.

This change was made upon recommendation of the state engineer, who figured the new route to be better. It permits of federal aid being used practically to the center of the city.

Commissioners Inspect Work.

The commissioners also went over the road work done north of the city by Mr. Roark, and found it satisfactory in every detail.

A number of other matters came before the board at this meeting, among them being a petition for a new school district to be formed in Mayfield township. The hearing in this matter will be held at the next meeting of the board. Reports of the county board of audit were received and accepted, and the usual batch of bills were audited and allowed. The next meeting of the board will be held June 10.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

When you want your Ford car repaired, insist always upon getting the genuine Ford Parts, made by the Ford Motor Company, in order to insure reliable quality. There are "spurious," "counterfeit," "imitation" parts made by outside concerns who have no regard for quality in material, so insist on your Garage or Repair Man furnishing you the genuine Ford Parts. All reliable garages may now buy the genuine Ford Parts from us—so there's no excuse for any one using the "Bogus" parts. To be sure, bring your car to us for repairs or replacements.

ELKS INITIATE LARGEST CLASS HERE TONIGHT

VISITORS FROM EVERYWHERE WILL SEE HORNS ATTACHED TO 122 FAWNS.

MOST WONDERFUL PARADE

"Hello, Bill."

That is the greeting heard everywhere today. It makes no difference if your name is Reginald or Athelbert, you're just plain "Bill" for the present. The Elks are in possession of the town—and it could not be in better hands.

The occasion for so much good feeling is the initiation of 122 new members into Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308, B. P. O. E., and the event is of enough moment to warrant a little something extra in the way of a celebration. It is stated that this is the largest class ever taken into a lodge of the order at one time in the entire state of Minnesota, which fact it must be admitted is quite a distinction. The majority of these candidates are from Thief River Falls but there is a goodly sprinkling from the nearby towns. They are all good fellows and good citizens and the city does well to appreciate their presence.

Kangaroo Court in Session.

No local Elk will be permitted to do any work after 10 o'clock this morning. Exalted Ruler L. R. Johnston has so ordered and the edict will be enforced. Secret service men and special police will be on hand to forthwith hale before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant any Elk who disregards the injunction. A small fine—say about $300—will be assessed for the first offense. For the second a $1,000 Liberty Bond will have to be deposited before the culprit is liberated. Should anyone be so depraved as to continue working after this he will be taken out behind Packy McFarland's garage and shot.

A Marvelous Parade.

There will be a parade at 3 o'clock. This is a simple statement and does not convey much to the lay mind. But the Elks know that there is an exhibition in store for those who are fortunate enough to witness it which will put to shame the famous efforts in this direction of Barnum and the Ringlings. There will be pageants and floats of diverse and varied descriptions. Goats, geese, mules and other ferocious denizens of the forest and jungle will be on exhibition, a platoon in charge of Harry Protzeller being delegated to see that the public does not get too close to the cages. The members of the local lodge, dressed in white and wearing helmets, will march next the band. Then will come the candidates for initiation with their keepers, followed by the visiting brethren. The line of march will depend somewhat upon circumstances, the only stipulation being that the parade shall be over by 5 o'clock so that the candidates may formally register at the lodge room. A light lunch will be served at this time.

Then the Initiation.

At six o'clock will begin the initiation of the candidates. The first part of the ceremony will be completed in time to serve the banquet at ten o'clock, after which will come the second installment of the initiation. The committee in charge does not set the hour for closing the meeting, but it will probably not be earlier than 11 o'clock.

CURRENT PROWLER EASILY BEST EVER

HIGH SCHOOL HISTORY A CREDIT TO BRIGHT, ENERGETIC STAFF.

The 1919 Prowler, annual publication of the senior class of the Thief River Falls high school, is one of the finest works of its kind ever turned out in the state. The matter is interesting and well gotten up, the editors and contributors for the different departments evidently having given a vast amount of thought and labor to the task of producing the book.

The work is exceptionally well printed, being a product of the job department of the Times Printing and Manufacturing company. It is filled with halftone photographic reproductions of scenes and personages, together with descriptive matter and a wealth of fun and philosophy. The cover page decoration is an American eagle in gold on a gray background. The imprint of the Times Company appearing on the flyleaf states that the work was designed and printed by that concern, but this is slightly misleading. All the designing was done by the Prowler staff and the company claims no credit except for the typographical appearance of the book.

The Prowler staff this year is indebted to Miss Lillian Oldaker for ity, Sincerity, Success," the class flower the Ophelia rose and the colher assistance in getting the work ready for the printer. As class advisor she has been of great help in solving all the vexing problems confronting the budding authors. The staff is made up as follows: Editor-in-chief, Dorothy Mae Miller; managing editor, George Mostue; assistant editor, Phyllis Curtis; class advisor, Miss Lillian Oldaker; business manager, Sverre Steen; assistant manager, Arthur Tvedt; advertising, Elnor Overland; assistant, Christine Lundberg. Editing staff: Social—Evelyn Tessum, Angela Schmitt, Helga Quindlog, Grace McCrum, Elizabeth Sanfacon. Alumni—Louise Erickson, Norbert Holzknecht, Helen Norquist. Athletics—Elvin Johnson, Bernard Barzen. Art—Adelia Maland, Alice Carlson, George Mostue. Literary—Elinor Dahlen, Ruby Jensen, Ida Franzman. Jokes—John Melgaard, Ted Prichard, Margaret Jorgenson, Alice Yager, Frances Culver, Kodaks—Alice Hanson, Lillian Provencher. Printing—William Moravec Clyde Nason.

CITY DADS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

THEATRE ORDINANCE GIVEN SECOND READING—MANY MATTERS CONSIDERED.

Considerable routine work came before the council Tuesday evening in addition to the paving matter. The first thing to be taken up was the second reading of the ordinance providing for the closing of moving picture houses on Sunday. A delegation of ministers and others interested in the ordinance was present at the meeting.

Ordinance No. 161, creating an additional sewer district on the East Side, was given its final reading and passed by unanimous vote of the aldermen. The cigarette license of Orren Ostby was tranferred to C. S. Simonson.

With a view to encouraging the building of more curbs in the residence districts of the city, the council passed a resolution providing for a rebate of ten cents per lineal foot on work of this kind. A new sidewalk one block north from the Great Northern tracks on Arnold avenue was ordered built. The sidewalk bid presented at the meeting two weeks ago was rejected and the city clerk was instructed to re-advertise for bids. Ed. Hanson was granted permission to move a house from Knox's addition to Conley's addition.

After instructing the city clerk to advertise for bids on a carload of poles for the electric light department and allowing the usual batch of bills, the council adjourned to meet in special session next Tuesday evening.

BUILDS HOUSE OF SOLID OAK LUMBER

H. K. HORTON CUT LOGS 30 YEARS AGO IN OLD VIRGINIA.

To find that a house in northern Minnesota is being constructed of solid oak lumber cut in the state of Virginia is something out of the ordinary, yet that is what is happening on the H. K. Horton place, formerly the Dyrdahl farm, two miles southeast of Mavie. When the house is completed it is safe to say it will bear the unique distinction of being the only one constructed of material similarly secured in the state.

Mr. Horton himself cut the timber for the planks and boards on his old place in Virginia 30 years ago. He had the logs sawed into lumber and piled where they would not deteriorate with age, intending some day to use it. The time never seemed ripe until he moved to northwestern Minnesota when he concluded that the unusually fine material should go into a dwelling. Persons who have seen the stock say it is of a quality seldom seen these days. It is absolutely clear stuff, much of it three feet in width and up to 24 feet in length. There is not the slightest doubt but that Mr. Horton could sell the supply to lumbermen in this section for enough money to defray the cost of his entire building job and have a surplus left, but he prefers to use it in the manner intended at the time it was taken off the stump, many hundreds of miles from where it will now go to provide one of the finest farm residences in the county.

Assumes New Duties.

D. P. O'Neill will leave for St. Paul the last of the week in order to enter upon his duties as a member of the state board of grain appeals on Monday morning. He has been busy closing up personal matters in this neighborhood for the past few days as he expects to be kept too busy for frequent visits after he gets to going properly on the new job. Mrs. O'Neill will accompany him.

J. H. Hay is expected in the city tomorrow for a shorter stay. He will leave again in time to be on hand at Minneapolis Tuesday morning when the newly organized state board of agriculture, of which he is a member, begins functioning as a factor in the commonwealth's development.

It is to be hoped that both these valuable citizens will continue to regard Thief River Falls as their home, and so far as known, such is their intention.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT CITY'S SCHOOLS

BACCALAUREATE SERMON BY REV. J. A. ORROCK ON SUNDAY EVENING.

WEEK FULL OF ACTIVITY

TO CLOSE ON THURSDAY NIGHT WITH COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS BY DR. A. A. BESS

Beginning next Sunday evening and continuing until Friday evening will be a rather strenuous period for teachers and pupils at the Thief River Falls high school. Practically every day will see carried out some function connected with the closing of the schools for the term and each and every proceeding will be of the greatest importance to those directly interested, and in a lesser degree to large circles of relatives and friends.

Sermon by Rev. Orrock.

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class will be delivered at the Auditorium on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. James A. Orrock of the Methodist church in this city. The remainder of the program for the evening is as follows:

Address by Dr. Bess.

The commencement address will be delivered by Dr. Albert Allen Bess, president of Macalester college, one of the foremost educators in the West. To these exercises the relatives of graduates are particularly invited, but the general public is also welcome and there is no question but that the big hall will hold a capacity crowd as on similar occasions in the past. Following is the program:

Prayer .... Rev. I. T. Aastad
Salutatorian .... Evelyn Tessum
Song .... Mixed Chorus
Address .... Dr. Albert Allen Bess
Valedictorian .... Phyllis Curtis
Song .... Senior Octette
Class Presentation .... Mr. J. H. Hay
Diplomas .... Dr. O. F. Mellby
Alma Mater .... Senior Class
Benediction .... Rev. Albin A. Larson

Closes Successful Year.

There has been unusual activity in school circles during the past term, the war entailing a vast amount of extra work on both teachers and pupils. The action of the school board in granting the request of Supt. J. H. Hay that he be permitted to leave before the end of the term in order to take advantage of certain opportunities then open to him, left the schools without an official head during the past six weeks. The work at the high school was carried on under the able leadership of Miss Alma Peterson, the principal, with results highly satisfactory to all concerned.

The Honor Roll.

The valedictorian of the class is Phyllis Curtis and the salutatorian Evelyn Tessum. Others on the honor roll are Sverre Steen, Elinor Dahlen, Ruby Jensen, Ruby Anderson, Dorothy Miller, Ruth Lonson, Louise Erickson, Elnor Overland, John Melgaard. The class motto is "Simplicors maroon and gold. Following are the officers: President, Evelyn Tessum; vice president, Grace McCrum; secretary, Ruby Jensen; treasurer, Christina Lundberg; sergeant-at-arms, Francis Culver and Norbert Holzknecht; class advisor, Miss Lillian Oldaker.

Warroad Store Opened.

H. O. Loken has been putting in the greater part of the week at Warroad where a new Loken Brothers store which opened Tuesday. The new addition to the business houses of the Roseau county town will handle dry goods and a general line of women's and children's wear the same as the parent house in Thief River Falls.

In thus branching out the Lokens become interested in one of the best towns in this section and one that has every indication of a bright future. The people there will acquire a business concern of which they will have every reason to be proud and one that will keep pace with the progress of their town, no matter how rapid this may be.

RETURNED MEN WILL JOIN IN HONORING DEAD

MEMORIAL DAY COMMITTEE ESPECIALLY INVITES THEIR PRESENCE.

WILL FORM FIRING SQUAD

PROGRAM FOR DAY'S OBSERVANCE IS COMPLETED. STORES ALL CLOSE.

Not a business house of any kind in Thief River Falls will be open tomorrow as a mark of respect for the veterans of three wars. Following the proclamation of Mayor G. A. Penney requesting that this course be pursued the merchants unanimously decided not to open their doors.

Chairman H. W. Froehlich of the Memorial Day committee, announces that all preparations for a fitting observance of the anniversary have been completed and that indications point to a much more general participation in the program than has been the case for years past. This is doubtless due to the fact that the soldiers of the late war are to be included among those to whom honors are paid.

Are Asked to Join.

Those last mentioned are particularly asked to be present to join in the parade and take part in the proceedings generally. A firing squad, made up entirely of returned men and commanded by Corp. Fred T. Scanlan, will fire the salutes over the graves of departed soldiers in Greenwood cemetery, and Pte. Harold Provencher will be the flag escort. The different divisions of the parade will be in charge of the following officers: Lieuts. L. H. Lawrence, L. F. Fisher, A. J. Swedenberg, G. Howard Smith. Daniel Shaw will be chairman of the meeting at the auditorium, which will take place just before the parade starts for the cemetery. Addresses will be delivered by E. M. Stanton, who will pay tribute to the civil war veterans; W. B. Fuller, who will speak for those of the Spanish-American war, and G. A. Penney, whose duty it will be to represent the world war veterans. The music for the occasion will be in charge of Miss Evelyn Grindeland.

The events are so arranged as to permit of the parade reaching the cemetery at 11:15 o'clock, which will insure the participants to get back before the noon hour.

FARMERS BREAKING MUCH PRAIRIE SOD

MORE PLOWING BEING DONE THAN ANY YEAR IN COUNTRY'S HISTORY.

If the farmers keep on breaking up raw prairie land at the pace they have followed during the past two years there will bet but few pieces that are not under cultivation within five years. Reports from every section are to the effect that the tractor was never so strongly in evidence while horse-drawn plows are doing their share of the good work.

Crops never looked better at this time of year. The top of the soil is getting dry but there is plenty of moisture underneath and no danger need be anticipated from drought for some time to come. The heavy rains and cold weather earlier in the season retarded the growth of plants somewhat perhaps, but at the same time provided a strong reserve of moisture upon which to draw.

Winter rye is heading out in many places and is looking fine. It is a rather unusual sight to find a farmer sowing his spring seeding of this grain in one place while in the field adjoining the winter crop is fast approaching the harvest stage.

Bridge Nearing Completion.

The new bridge across the Red Lake river is rapidly nearing completion and the contractors say they will have it ready for traffic in three weeks at the outside.

WOMAN'S CLUB CLOSES MOST ACTIVE YEAR

MRS. H. W. FROEHLICH AGAIN CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY UNANIMOUS VOTE.

EXTENSION COURSE IS PLAN

LECTURES MAY HEREAFTER TAKE PLACE OF HOME TALENT ENTERTAINMENTS.

The last meeting of the Woman's club for the year 1918-19 was held Monday at the Commercial Club rooms and from every point of view was one of the most successful in the history of the club. Much of the credit for this is due the president, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich and her capable corps of assistants, consisting of Mrs. Daniel Shaw, vice president; Mrs. Geo. Nicholson, secretary; Mrs. Scott Laird, treasurer, and Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, Mrs. H. A. Brumund, Mrs. Andrew Bottleson, Mrs. E. F. Dolan, Mrs. R. L. Barackman as well as the chairmen of the various committees.

No program was given at this meeting as the entire time was devoted to announcements, reports of various committees and election of officers.

Provide University Course.

Among the important steps taken was the setting aside of $200 for a university extension course to be given as part of the regular programs. Heretofore the programs have been given by the club members in the form of papers on topics of interest, interspersed with readings and music by home talent, and the club felt that it could profit greatly by a good lecture course.

The club also decided that each member should be assessed fifty cents which would amount to about $150, the sum to be turned over to the fair board to assist in the erection of another building for women at the fair grounds.

Call For Game Warden.

Several members reported that the birds and birds' nests were still being destroyed in spite of the warnings which have been issued and the secretary was instructed to ask Game Warden Munch to pay a visit to the city at once as drastic measures seem necessary.

The secretary's report revealed the wide scope of work which had been carried on in spite of the war and influenza epidemic, the following being a summary:

During the club year Dr. H. F. Hueneken and assistant nurses were here and conducted two very successful clinics under the auspices of the club, there being nearly 100 children examined at each clinic.

BURY THE HATCHET; ALL AGAIN SERENE

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HOLD RECONCILIATION PICNIC NEXT SATURDAY.

All the old members of the Woman's club have decided to bury the hatchet. The plan announced during the membership campaign was that the losing team was to banquet their successful opponents and the feast has been looked forward to with intense satisfaction by the latter. This feeling has now changed. The Blue team, after winning the laurels, has magnanimously come forward and offered to assist their sisters in distress and will furnish equally with them all the good things necessary for a royal picnic as an entertainment for the new members.

The event will be held on the lawn at the Emil Zeh residence on Saturday, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Members will meet in front of the Hotel Brumund fifteen minutes before that time and arrangements will be made to transport all by autos to the picnic grounds.

Each member is expected to provide herself with a spoon, fork, cup and dish.

Committees are working to make this affair a big success and to insure each member enjoying herself to the limit.

Helseth-Gendron.

Friends of the contracting parties in this city were surprised this week when they received cards announcing the wedding of Miss Eva Gendron to Isak Helseth, the ceremony being performed at the family home of the bride in Little Falls. Mr. Helseth is the local manager for the Minneapolis Bridge company, and his bride has been employed as bookkeeper by that concern for some time. Both are well known and most popular. They will make their home in Thief River Falls about June 5.

Boy Slightly Injured.

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Strupp was struck by an automobile at the corner of LaBree avenue and Second street Tuesday morning. The driver was going slow at the time and the little fellow simply blundered out where he had no business. He was taken to the home of the family in the Meehan block and Dr. Froehlich called. He found that outside of a few bruises the youngster was practically unhurt.

Hiatt Leaves June 5.

Lieut. L. R. Hiatt, agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school during a part of the past term, will leave on June 5 for Seattle from which point he will sail on the 10th for Siberia. He goes with a party of Red Cross workers and will be in charge of an agricultural demonstration train for the two years of his contract. Mrs. Hiatt will return to her former home, Topeka, Kansas, for the present but expects to join her husband in Siberia eventually.

Dr. F. H. Gambell, who also expected to sail on the last boat leaving for Vladivostock in company with Lieut. Hiatt, is not certain of his position just yet. He has received notice of his acceptance by the board but to date has not been notified to prepare for sailing.

ANNUAL OUTING IS SET FOR JUNE 14

COMMUNITY PICNIC WILL BE HELD AT SQUAW POINT THIS YEAR.

At a meeting of the picnic committee of the Farm Bureau association held last evening at the office of County Agent J. J. McCann it was decided to hold the community picnic this year at Squaw Point and the date was set for June 14. The following committees were appointed to have charge of the affair:

Sports—Ben Rosenthal, A. J. Anderson, S. A. McLeod. Refreshments—L. A. Lampert, Hans Anton, M. Vaughan. Finances—Paul Englestad, I. A. Rolstad, R. J. McKercher. Program—Harry Woolson, G. Howard Smith, Elev Aakre. Reception—W. J. LaBree, Mike McAndress, J. W. Denhart, H. B. Rockney, Fred Beerbower, T. H. Smith. Advertising—R. Morin, R. Madsen, N. A. Nelson, G. A. Swants. Grounds—Charles Shirley, V. C. Noper, F. B. Conklin.

TEACHERS SCATTER WHEN TERM ENDS

LESS THAN ONE-FOURTH OF PRESENT CORPS RETURNING NEXT YEAR.

When school closes next week the teachers whose homes are out of town will depart for a well-earned vacation. They are all naturally glad that the grind is over for a spell and a larger number than usual expect the past term to be the last they will serve in a pedagogical capacity. It is reported that ten out of the 48 employed in District No. 18 will be married during the summer, which fact will remove them from the ranks. Only about a dozen of those now employed are expected to be back at their present post when the new term opens, this being a smaller number than for some years past. There is a great demand for competent instructors all over the country and teachers are not entirely immune from the wanderlust.

Among those who have already contracts to take positions elsewhere when the fall term opens are the following, together with the names of the places to which they will go:

Leola L. Markus, Virginia, Minn.; Lillian A. Oldaker, Fremont, Neb.; Cora Russell, Rochester, Minn.; Olive Booren, Fon du Lac, Wis.; L. R. Hiatt, Siberia; Ella Miller, Astoria, Ore.; Marion Murray, Eveleth; Josie Weeks, Watertown, S. D.; Mary Jackson, Ely; Valborg Sandum, Waseca; Maude Henman, Williston, N. D.; Katherine Hinderman, Laramie, Wyo.; Nora Ekern, Livingston, Mont.; Sophia Eide, Crookston.

Returns From War.

Walter Olson of St. Hilaire, returned yesterday morning from service with the army in France. He was a member of 33rd division, 132d infantry, an Illinois national guard regiment which contained a considerable number of men from other sections. He left Thief River Falls on Feb. 22, 1918, and arrived in France on May 24. He was at first billeted with the British but later transferred to the Illinois outfit. He took part in all the late fights in which the Americans were engaged, being at Verdun, the Meuse and Troyon. He will return to St. Hilaire for the present and is well satisfied that he is able to do so, even tho he went through much severe fighting without being wounded.

REPORT IN FAVOR OF DREDGING RIVER

CONTROL OF WATER FLOW AT OUTLET WOULD COST APPROXIMATELY $799,000.

Army engineers Wednesday sent to congress a favorable report on the deepening of the upper 45 miles of the Red Lake river in Minnesota, and the construction of the work to control the water flow at the outlet of Red Lake. The cost would be $799,000 in which cities and other local interests would share.

COUNCIL GETS REPORTS FROM TWO ENGINEERS

SITUATION WITH REGARD TO PAVING IS THORUGHLY GONE OVER.

SEWERS ARE ADEQUATE

ENGINEERS ADVISE THAT ALL PRELIMINARY WORK BE DONE THIS YEAR.

At the meeting of the city council held Tuesday evening, that body received two reports regarding the preliminary work necessary before the work of actual paving may be taken up in Thief River Falls. One report was made by H. E. Lykken, representing the Chas. L. Pillsbury company of St. Paul, while the other was made by G. M. Shepherd, who was here in the interests of the L. P. Wolff company of the same city. Both men had thoroughly gone over the situation with regard to paving and therefore were able to give the council a definite outline of the work necessary.

Sewer System O. K.

Both engineers are of the opinion that the present sewer system in Thief River Falls is entirely adequate and with the exception of a few connections at street intersections no major changes will be necessary before paving can be commenced. Of course connection will have to be made with vacant lots in the paved area so that whenever these lots become occupied, sewer privileges may be secured without tearing up the pavement.

Mr. Lykken gave it as his opinion that storm sewers should be placed in the alleys in order to properly take care of surface water during heavy rains. These sewers, according to Mr. Lykken, need not be more than four or five feet in depth and therefore would not be very expensive.

Advised to Hurry.

The importance of getting started at an early date with the preliminary work was emphasized by both engineers. Much better results are obtained where the fillings of sewer trenches and other excavations are given ample time to settle before paving operations are begun. The best way is to have the work done this summer and allow the fillings until next spring to become thoroughly settled. Another advantage of having all this work attended to during the present season is that it prevents annoying delays when paving operations finally are started. One of the speakers cited the instance of a small city in South Dakota where the paving contractors were badly handicapped because the preliminary work had not properly been carried out.

Submit Bids For Work.

Mr. Lykken and Mr. Shepherd each presented a bid for his company to do the engineering work in connection with paving in this city. Mr. Shepherd offered to do all the engineering necessary in the preliminary work for the sum of $200, while the charge for all services until paving is completed would be $800.

The Pillsbury company, through Mr. Lykken, made a flat bid of five per cent of the contract price for the whole job, and offered to take complete charge of the work from beginning to end. Neither proposal was accepted by the council Tuesday evening, the aldermen deeming it advisable to look into the matter more thoroughly. A special meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, at which time it is likely the engineering contract will be let.

PEOPLE PEEVED AT PETITION PEDDLERS

There is considerable criticism directed against persons who have taken up this theatre-closing controversy and practically demanding that our citizens go on record as favoring or opposing the proposed ordinance. Both sides have been flooding the city with petitions and they are a nuisance.

Instances are reported where tactics most objectionable have been resorted to. Those favoring the ordinance are reported as going to extremes and thus injuring their cause. Housewives who have refused to commit themselves one way or another have been deeply vexed, to say the least, by the annoying persistency of these agents. For example, it is reported that where a refusal to sign is met with the name of the lady and the number of the house is carefully jotted down evidently with the intention of later visiting upon her some sort of punishment. This kind of thing should not be permitted.

It would probably surprise those so greatly interested in this matter if they knew just how the ordinary citizen cares about it. The general opinion seems to be that the city council is quite competent to deal with the subject without outside interference and should be permitted to do so.

COSTS NOTHING TO FIND OUT.

It is poor business to condemn a proposition before finding out what it is. There may be elements in it not fully comprehended at first glance. The same thing holds good the other way about, of course. A person would be just as foolish to accept a proposition without knowing at least something about it.

This rule should be borne in mind when the power dam in the river at this point is under discussion. Some people have come to regard this utility as available only in case present conditions continue to apply, while others are just as certain that unless things are changed this immensely valuable property will be worthless. Maybe both are wrong to some extent.

It was not to be expected that a proposition to abandon a valuable lease in order that the property might be sold would meet with unanimous approval. In fact, it is certain that there will be the most strenuous kind of opposition—and this is as it should be, at least until such time as all the details of the proposed deal are made public.

There are one or two things that may well be considered even at this early stage of the negotiations, however. All are agreed that the water power at present is not being utilized to its full capacity, or anywhere near it. It is also certain that the present owners of the dam and site neither will nor can make the improvements necessary to bring it up to full efficiency. What, then, is to be done?

The city will not buy the dam. There was a time when such action on the part of the municipality would have been an easy matter, but the citizens themselves emphatically vetoed the proposition. With the improvements lately made the cost would be so high that it is doubtful if even a respectable vote could be secured in favor of any such movement.

That the present owners can undertake much in the way of improvement at the price they are now getting for the power furnished is also out of the question. The contract price does not give them a decent rate of interest on their investment as matters stand and it is hardly to be expected that they will care to involve any additional capital.

The present agreement has five years to run. What about its renewal? No one supposes that a new arrangement can be made at the old figure. In such case, will the city be ready and willing to buy at the price set upon the property by appraisers? It is not likely, yet it will prove the only way out of paying the higher rental.

Does it not look like good business to give any proposition offering a solution at least a fair hearing? It may be that the offer should be turned down; that the city should continue to hold the dam owners to their present contract as long as possible, taking chances on the future, but there are those who doubt the wisdom of this.

No one knows yet what kind of an offer the interested concern is going to make. Perhaps it will be one that the city cannot even consider. Or it may be one that will provide light and power at a very reasonable rate, covering a long period of years and highly desirable from every point of view. But whatever its nature, the city should know all about it before condemning it entirely. To climb up on our high horse and declare that no offer looking to the permanent improvement of the water power by an outside party will be considered is just a little silly at this time. Let's find out what these projectors have to offer before getting mad at them.

THE START IS MADE.

It was not such a difficult matter to get a start made toward having the streets of Thief River Falls paved once the thing was properly understood. There is no longer any serious objection voiced and the work of preparation will be engaged upon at once.

No paving can be done this summer. It has been evident right along that it would be impossible to undertake the work at this time for a number of reasons. Chief among these is the lack of any definite knowledge as to what will need to be done with the sewer system of the city. It is of the utmost importance that no trouble shall arise from this source after the paving is once put in as any repairs or alterations would in that case necessitate the tearing up of the surface, which is an expensive and annoying undertaking.

The first thing to look out for is the engaging of a competent engineer and this detail the council is already attending to. After that things will move along in their proper rotation and a year from this summer will undoubtedly see the work of actual paving carried out.

Everybody is to be congratulated on the outcome of this campaign. There has been none of the accusations and recriminations usually attending an attempt to start anything involving such an outlay of money. Every person who has in any manner interested himself in the matter has given the other fellow credit for being honest in his attitude, which made getting together a comparatively easy matter.

The Times has all the time maintained that the city council was willing to go ahead with this improvement as soon as public opinion became sufficiently crystalized to indicate what was wanted. There can no longer be any doubt as to what the wishes of the people are, and the first steps are taken. The outcome shows how wisely things can be accomplished providing they are gone about sensibly.

WELCOME, VISITING ELKS.

To the members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks the citizens of Thief River Falls today bid welcome. The brethren from nearby cities and towns have come here for the purpose of seeing one of the largest classes ever initiated in this section put through its paces and their stay should be made pleasant. It will be.

The local lodge has made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visitors and candidates. The largest hall in this section has been secured for the purpose of more effectively exemplifying the secret work of the order and all appointments are on a scale never before attempted even by this liberal and energetic body.

As an exclusively American organization, the Elks are in a class by themselves. Patriotism is placed on a strict equality with benevolence and charity and no one who is not first a good American citizen can become a good Elk.

When the hundred or more candidates who will ride the goat on Friday evening have been properly assimilated into the fold, Thief River Falls lodge will be among the largest in northern Minnesota. Included in its membership are to be found the best, squarest, most liberal and most progressive men in the community. They are proud of the record made by the organization, and especially by their home lodge, and have decided to set aside their usual tasks for a day in order to celebrate a little.

The city is proud of being host to such a representative body of choice spirits and hopes that their visit will be one of pleasure and profit.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Tomorrow is Memorial Day and never has the anniversary come with a greater significance. That this fact is recognized is evidenced by the manner in which the American people are preparing for its observance. Not since the years immediately following the civil war has the recurrence of this date been a subject for such general consideration.

Instituted originally for the purpose of commemorating the deeds of the heroes of '61 and decorating the graves of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic who since the close of that struggle completed their alloted span, the day has come to be regarded as set aside for the purpose of honoring all American soldiers and veterans of any war. This was the case with the Spanish-American war veterans and it seems to be taken for granted that the rule will apply to those of the World war. This is assuredly as it should be.

There will not be many veterans of the great internecine strife of 1861-64 to march with the younger men on Friday, particularly in this section. Their numbers have steadily dwindled until but few remain of the mighty host which fought for the preservation of the Union. As concerns the soldiers of the Spanish-American war, these are not numerous and have never quite taken Decoration Day as belonging to them.

The soldiers of the World War are returning and will share in the honors bestowed upon the white-haired fighters of half a century ago. The memory of their deeds is still so fresh that no special occasion for calling attention to them is necessary, but it is most appropriate that they should be included. They will form the new Grand Army of the Republic when the last of those who originally belonged to that organization shall have passed away and it is practically certain that the 30th of May will continue to be the date upon which all soldiers of the United States will be especially honored by their countrymen.

THE GREAT HIGHWAY RUN.

One of the surest indications that things are assuming their normal course in this country is presented by the fact that highway boosters are back on the job. During the war many projects with a good start had to be abandoned and these are now being resumed.

The Jefferson Highway, the great arterial road which traverses the country from south to north, has been a grave sufferer from war conditions. Not only has travel been practically at a standstill, except locally, but in many cases the road itself has been permitted to fall into a condition far from satisfactory. All this will now be remedied.

One of the greatest "Get Acquainted" runs ever planned will start from New Orleans on the first of July with Winnipeg as the objective of the excursionists. This trip is in the nature of a return visit by good roads boosters in the South, a run from Winnipeg to New Orleans having been made in the summer of 1917.

That first trip was a wonderful event. Those who participated will never tire of telling of the wonders of the great trail and have been boosters for Major Clarkson's enterprise ever since. Now the Southerners are going to see something in the way of territory they never dreamt of.

The party will arrive in Thief River Falls on the evening of July 19 and will stay over night. The city should make a special effort to create a good impression on the visitors, and there is no doubt but that this will be properly taken care of. The Commercial club has not had an opportunity to turn its membership loose on good roads boosting for some time and this chance will not be neglected.

The visit itself will be a good thing for everyone concerned, but its greatest value lies in the proof it furnishes of a reawakened interest in highway building.

PUT IT OFF NO LONGER.

The man who puts off making improvements in the hope that the work will cost less later on is making a serious mistake. Even though it were desirable that wages should go down—and it is not—there is no probability that such will be the case. Among men whose business it is to keep in touch with the labor situation it is freely predicted that there will be a shortage of help before fall. Should this prove the case, wages are very liable to go up instead of down.

Renewed activity in every line is indicated for the future. Under such conditions there is not much chance of prices coming down. The only safe thing to do is to furnish plenty of employment at good wages so that at least a reasonable balance may be maintained.

The one sure way to help things along is to build something.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Elias Steenerson of Crookston, was in the city on business during the week.

Charles Hoar and Miss Adele Cary of this city, were married at Crookston by Justice Holt.

Ed Evenson received the new boilers for the steamer Viking and started on his first trip to the Red Lake agency.

Robert McGinn was in Crookston on business and reported that the mud was as deep in that city as here at home.

Manager John O'Day of the Thief River Falls Lumber company, purchased the fine O. P. Johnson residence and moved there with his family.

H. Levin, clothier, secured a lease of the Goodboy building on LaBree avenue from the Kiewel Brewing company and prepared to occupy same with his stock.

The city council adopted a resolution calling upon the city attorney to give a reason for his neglect to file the proper notices and prepare his brief in a case brought by H. W. Lee against the city.

The board appointed to appraise the value of the property on which the Great Northern depot is located rendered a decision, awarding the owner, R. E. Winslow, $250 for the lots. The board was composed of C. J. Knox and C. J. Robbecke of this city, and W. A. Sorsoliel of St. Hilaire.

Ten Years Ago.

T. L. Melgaard left on an extended business trip to Argyle and the Twin Cities.

The contract for the building of the line between Duluth and Thief River Falls was let by the Soo railroad.

Captain Davenport, government inspector of navigable rivers, made a trip to the headwaters of the stream. He was expected to recommend that the river be dredged from the lake to Highlanding.

County Auditor John B. O'Brien died at his home in Red Lake Falls. He had been ailing all through the winter but had attended to the affairs of his office. A. A. Lattendresse, deputy auditor, was appointed by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term.

There were 14 graduates in the senior class of the Thief River Falls high school, as follows: Blanche Chittick, Volga Evenson, Inga Hallan, Leslie Brady, Henry Chittick, Ralph Douglas, Stafford Curran, Avis Akre, Marie Gilbertson, Charles Erickson, Odin Brudie, James Curran, Harry Prichard, Frank Kratka.

Likes Our New Press.

Middle River Pioneer: While in Thief River Falls Friday and Saturday we took a look at the big new Goss press just installed in the Times office. It prints ten pages of seven columns at one time, besides which, if necessary, two additional pages in colors can be run. The floor space required for it is about a long as our whole office and half as wide. It prints from a roll of paper weighing 750 pounds. The press weighs several tons and necessarily has to rest on a solid foundation. The Times management have it in the basement. It would have cost $600 to make a foundation sufficient to sustain it on the ground floor.

Medals For Loan Salesmen.

The men and women who took active part as salesmen in the Victory loan compaign will receive medals from the government. The supply for this district has been received by G. Howard Smith, chairman of the Pennington county district. The medals are round, about the size of a dollar and are made from captured German cannon metal. The medals have been distributed by Chairman Smith and make very acceptable pocket pieces.

won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of-a-corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, eases pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Here's One Opinion.

Middle River Pioneer: The ministers of Thief River Falls have petitioned the city council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the giving of moving picture shows on Sunday. We do not believe their point is well taken. While there doubtless are some pictures shown that are not of an elevating character, the pictures are not of this class as a rule, and we have often witnessed pictures in the Thief River Falls theatres that forcibly portrayed good moral lessons. It is doubtful, too, if the suppression of the exhibits would make any material difference in the attendance at church services. You cannot force the church going habit on people by legal enactment, and the adoption of this measure would tend rather to the lessening than the increase of church attendance, for it would be resented by many liberal, open-minded people who would show their resentment by absenting themselves from church to a much greater extent than they had done before its adoption.

J.-H. BOOSTERS FROM SOUTH HERE JULY 19

THIEF RIVER FALLS IS LAST NIGHT CONTROL ON NORTHWARD RUN.

COMPLETE SCHEDULE OUT

FIVE DAYS IS TIME ALLOWANCE FOR TRAVERSING MINNESOTA.

When Governor R. G. Pleasant and party of Louisiana leave New Orleans over the Jefferson Highway on the morning of July 1, there will commence the greatest sociability run in the history of American Highwaydom. The big feature of the run will be a twenty day program composed of one celebration after another along the entire 2,400 miles of Jefferon Highway. Entertainments with luncheons and banquets galore will be provided at each noon and night control.

From the standpoint of organization the run will be a marvel. The detailed schedule shows the progress that will be made by the travelers. The exact hour and minute of each day is shown, so that there will be no delay in the ceremonies at each place. Proceeding under this schedule will be a matter of pride, inasmuch as previous runs under the auspices of the Jefferson Highway association have been successfully carried thru under the same general plan.

On Time to the Minute.

"It is like a game," said General Manager J. D. Clarkson. "The rules of the run show that we shall be at certain towns and cities at certain times, and we will be there. No local programs are expected except at night controls, as we shall have all the facilities to put on whatever program may be desired. Wherever there are points of special interest, provision has been made to stop the run for a time sufficiently long to allow limited sightseeing expeditions."

For example, a stop of thirty minutes will be made at Hope Villa, La., for ceremonies incident to the completion of the Highway in Ascension Parish and of installing the new steel Jefferson Highway drawbridges across the river Bayou Manchac, which replaces an old and historic rope ferry. It is also expected that a great celebration will mark the crossing of the Canadian river at Eufaula, Oklahoma, which is another noteworthy construction project. Parts of days will be spent in Kansas City, Des Moines, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Itasca State Park, besides the time at noon and night controls of the twenty days over which the trip extends.

Start Made on July 1.

SCHOOL HOURS MAY BE SET BY BOARDS

LAW SPECIFIES NO PARTICULAR TIME FOR OPENING OR CLOSING.

Since the time was changed so that everything begins one hour earlier than usual there has been some question in a number of school districts in the county as to whether or not the local boards could, if it was so desired, conduct the regular sessions in accordance with the old schedule. O. O. Hafdal of Hazel, a local school director, put the matter before Attorney General C. L. Hilton and has received the following reply. County Superintendent G. M. Gunderson has requested its publication as it meets with his approval and will settle the question for good. The attorney general says:

"There are no laws in this state specifying at what time of day schools in rural districts shall be opened and closed and specifying the number of hours which shall constitute a school day. The practice is and has been for school in such districts to open at nine o'clock A. M. and close at four o'clock P. M., but there is no law so requiring. The board thereof, under Section 2746, General Statutes 1913, is given:

> General charge of the business of the district, and of the schoolhouses and the interest of the schools thereof, and shall * * * 10. Superintend and manage the schools of the district, adopt, modify or repeal rules for their organization, government and instruction, and for the keeping of registers, prescribe text books and courses of study and visit each school at least once in three months.

"Under the authority so conferred such board may, by resolution, rule, or otherwise, determine how many hours each day school shall run, fix the time of day school shall open and close and prescribe recess periods. Such action as might be taken by any such board would be final and binding on the residents, pupils and teachers of the district."

SEVERE FIGHTING FOR SEVEN MONTHS

WOUNDED ONCE AND GASSED TWICE IS RECORD OF PRIVATE PERKINS.

Lawrence W. Perkins, formerly a brakeman on the Soo with headquarters in this city, returned last week from service with the army in France. He enlisted from Duluth on May 2, 1917, served over 14 months in the army, seven months of which was put in at the front. He had his share of experience and more than his allotment of punishment.

Perkins, who was a member of Company E, Seventh infantry, Third division, had his baptism of fire in the Belleau Wood fighting on June 9. He was in the desperate scrap at Chateau Thierry on July 14, receiving a wound in the left arm. After rejoining his command he took part in the St. Mihiel drive on Sept. 12, continuing on through the Meuse-Argonne offensive on the 26th of that month. Here he was again wounded and gassed but was back in the line at Montfaulcon on Oct. 26. From there he went to the Rhine with the army of occupation, leaving Coblenz for the hospital at LeCourneau, being in bad shape from the effects of the gas. He sailed from Brest on April 23 and landed in New York May 2—exactly two years from the date of his enlistment.

Mr. Perkins will again engage in railroading, going back to his old position with the Soo. His war experience has been rather strenuous and he wants no more of it. At that he is glad that he had a hand in the proceedings.

Resume Open Air Concerts.

Bandmaster D. J. Cordes, who this week returned from an extended visit to points in Oklahoma and Kansas, has again taken charge of the band, which during his absence has been looked after by Charles C. Swartz. He asks all members to be present at practice on Monday evening as the summer concerts will be resumed next Thursday.

The band is in excellent shape with a practically full membership and Mr. Cordes promises the people of the city some exceptionally good music during the summer months.

Post Office Hours Friday.

General delivery and register windows open from 11 to 12 m. No money order business will be conducted. City carriers will make morning delivery. No service on R. F. D. routes, but rural carriers' window will be open from 11 to 12 m., and rural route patrons can call for their mail if they so desire. Star routes will be served as usual. Mails will be secured, distributed and dispatched as usual.

MAKE BIG SUCCESS OF ALFALFA RAISING

FARMERS FIND THAT CATTLE AND HOGS THRIVE ON THIS FODDER.

That alfalfa can be successfuly grown in Pennington county is clearly demonstrated by an inspection of the fields of G. B. Peterson and K. T. Dalagher.

Mr. Peterson has a three-acre field of alfalfa hog pasture which has been thriving for seven years. The first year six loads of hay were cut from this field and forty-seven hogs were pastured on it during the summer. These hogs received no food except the alfalfa and water. As alfalfa is very rich in protein it is a very valuable food for growing animals and dairy cattle.

Mr. Dalagher, owner of the Edgewood Dairy and Poultry farm, also has a six acre field which was sown last year. This has come through the winter in fine shape and is thoroughly inoculated with bacteria. He states that anyone wishing inoculation can get soil from him free of charge to inoculate new alfalfa fields.

He also has a fine flock of Leghorn chickens on which he plans on collecting a few sweepstakes next fall at the Pennington County Poultry show and judging from the blue ribbons on display at his residence it seems more than likely he will succeed.

WOMAN'S CLUB CLOSES MOST ACTIVE SEASON

The club assisted the Council of National Defense in conservation work and a committee from the club also assisted the local draft board at various times. Another committee also assisted the Third and Fourth Liberty Loan drives, while many members gave an hour or more each week to Red Cross work.

Out-of-town speakers during the club year include Mrs. George Allen of Rochester, president of the state federated clubs on which occasion a lunch was served to approximately one hundred guests in the Evelyn hotel. Mrs. Peter Oleson of Cloquet, well known in federated club work was also here and spoke on Y. W. C. A. work. At this time a lunch in the Commercial club rooms was served to about a hundred members. Mrs. C. G. Selvig, district president, addressed the club members quite recently on practical community problems.

Returned soldiers also have addressed the club, giving reminiscences of the World war. Mrs. C. A. Pitkin and former Senator D. P. O'Neill have given the club members instructive talks on Americanization. G. Howard Smith, secretary of the fair board, also had talked to the club regarding fair matters.

One of the regular club meetings was devoted to the Victory loan, at which time Miss Pollock of Minneapolis spoke regarding the loan.

At Christmas time the club had contributed in the neighborhood of $15 toward the relief of needy families in the city.

Disapproval of the inferior class of amusements that have previously been provided at the fairs was sent to the fair board. The board has agreed to co-operate in the matter.

During the year a committee was appointed for local relief work and through them much good was accomplished.

Musical and History sections have been formed within the club and they have been very active along their respective lines.

Other lines of work of the club have been the clean-up campaign, staging the community sings, securing co-operation of the school board in getting a school nurse, and the staging of Cinderella.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Scott Laird, also proved that the club had not been idle during the year, having almost 300 members, $500 in the treasury and assets which total practically $500 more.

Following is tabulated report:

Saturday the club will close its general activities with its annual picnic on the Zeh lawn after which its busy members will take a vacation until next October.

Following these reports the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The first vote cast showed that Mrs. H. W. Froehlich was the favorite candidate for president, and she was declared unanimously re-elected. The other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. P. W. Mabey; secretary, Mrs. E. M. Stanton; treasurer, Mrs. G. Howard Smith.

CHILDREN'S PLAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Undoubtedly the most charming and delightful production of its kind ever seen by a Thief River Falls audience was presented on Friday evening when "Cinderella in Flowerland" was staged under Woman's club auspices and directed by Mrs. C. A. Pitkin.

The children were well drilled and gave a performance that thoroughly pleased in every respect. To single out any one among the large number taking part as excelling would be both difficult and unfair. Each and every one of the small participants performed with a grace that was fairly captivating, their work adding to the already high repute of Mrs. Pitkin as a manager of affairs of this kind.

The Woman's club members are much pleased over the success of the affair and wish to express their appreciation to all those who helped in making it the pleasurable occasion it undoubtedly was.

After Effects of the Flu

Chiropractic achieved wonderful results in the recent "Flu" epidemic. It will achieve just as wonderful results in dealing with the "after effects" of this disease. If you have been a victim of the "Flu" lose no time but at once see your Chiropractor. Let him give you a thorough analysis and make sure that you are completely normal and that no after effects are lurking in your system. In any event it would be very wise to take a course of Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments to anticipate the development of any after effects or trouble or to eradicate its after effects if they are still in an incipient stage.

Some common after effects are Chronic Bronchitis, Tuberculosis, Heart Trouble, Angina Pectoris, Chronic Gastritis, Chronic Nephritis, and Cystitis. Any of these will yield readily to Chiropractic Adjustments.

Oh Boy!

The owner of an Overland owns all out of doors. In his Model 90 he goes in comfort and with an enjoyment possible only because of the high quality, fine appearance and unfailing performance of his car.

Last month at Oklahoma City, when a stock Model 90 Overland car broke the world's non-stop high gear record, Overland owners were not surprised.

4,370 miles in 7 days and night in high gear, over bad roads, through wind and rain, without one pause, was a performance that thrilled the crowd. Onto this wonderful mileage record was piled the gas record of 20.6 miles per gallon.

But Overland owners knew from experience how well Model 90 could perform. They were serenely confident and at the finish they were serenely proud.

This Model 90 record is of value only in explaining the appreciation Overland owners have of the economy and faithful performance of their cars. It explains the great demand for Model 90 cars right now.

NEWS NOTES OF SHOP AND RAIL

Returns From France.

Palmer O. Peterson, formerly an engine dispatcher for the Soo at this point, has recently returned from overseas service with the army. Mr. Peterson plans on returning to his former position after visiting around among relatives and friends for a while.

Beautifying Grounds.

Car Foreman G. J. Conklin and Assistant Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry have done their share in adding to the appearance of the grounds in the vicinity of the Soo round house. Each has prepared several flower beds and in a short time this particular part of the Soo property is expected to take on the appearance of a well regulated flower garden. Mr. Conklin and Mr. Hendry are to be commended for their enterprise.

Railroad Men Did Well.

Director of Railroads Hines has sent a message of congratulation to railroad employes, complimenting them on their patriotism in subscribing to the recent Victory loan. Mr. Hines states that in a total of 1,841,267 railway employes in the United States, 1,417,042 purchased Victory bonds, making the percentage for the entire country 77 per cent. Sixteen roads reported one hundred per cent subscription among their employes.

Fishing Is Good.

Fishing at Federal Dam has been unusually good this spring and the temptation to try their luck has been too much for many of the local railroad boys. Among those who recently have visited Federal Dam on a piscatorial pilgrimage may be mentioned Otis Dokken, Andrew Hagen, Emil Adolphs, Helmer Bugge, Anders Tveten, Louis Qualey, Luke Bourque, Gust Freitag and Ira Peterson. The boys all had a good time and returned with nice strings of fish.

Base Ball Notes.

The ball sluggers of the Soo mechanical department were unable to arrange for a game last Sunday, but promise is made for an interesting contest next Sunday afternoon when the boys expect to take on the Goodridge team. The lads from the eastern Pennington county metropolis have been practicing diligently and are said to be in good form for the pending contest. The Soo boys also have been putting in some good licks and the team is stronger than ever and for these reasons a game of more than ordinary interest is anticipated.

Division Jottings.

O. P. Johnson, agent at Bronson, spent Sunday at Henning with his family.

A. E. Peterson, agent at Newfolden, spent Sunday with friends at Alexandria.

Hans Peterson, boiler maker helper, has returned to work after a siege of illness.

C. Wittensten, warehouseman at Mahnomen, spent Sunday at Warren, his former home.

Chas. Votava, boiler washer, spent the latter part of the week at Conway, N. D., on business.

Engineer V. F. Robarge has gone to Kenmare, N. D., and is now running an engine out of that place.

Stationary Fireman Anton Carlson is laying off for a few days and his place is filled by Arthur M. Johnson.

John Stangle, boiler washer, is laying off for a few days and is improving the time by visiting friends at Waubun.

C. F. Franson, agent at Karlstad, went to Mylo, N. D., Saturday morning and returned overland the following day with his car.

E. J. Langevin has resumed work as third trick operator at Plummer, relieving B. Bergsten, who has resigned from the service.

E. H. Taylor, traveling claim agent for the Soo, has been in Thief River Falls since the first of the week attending to business matters.

All the steam pipes in the Soo round house have been covered this week with a heavy layer of asbestos packing to prevent unnecessary waste of steam through condensation.

H. T. Mathes, who recently went to work as a machinist at the Soo round house, has moved his family here from International Falls and plans on making this his permanent home.

Boiler Maker Peter Ellingson has returned to his work at the Soo round house after laying off for three weeks on account of the serious illness of his wife. Mrs. Ellingson is now improving.

Otto C. Parbst, brakeman on the Soo, left Tuesday morning for Enderlin, N. D., and plans on working out of that place during the summer months. Mr. Parbst has it doped out that he can hold a better run at Enderlin than here, hence the change.

C. O. Kaufman, agent at Devils Lake, resumed work on Tuesday after a short vacation. R. Vance, who had been holding down the Devils Lake job during the absence of the regular incumbent, is now relieving F. F. Michaelson, agent at Lankin, for a few days.

C. A. Barth is now working as night operator at the local telegraph office of the Soo. Mr. Barth, in addition to his regular duties, is handling all press matter from Winnipeg to the outside world and vice versa, due to the strike which has put the Associated Press wires to that city out of commission.

Trainmaster H. D. Keene of the Soo is sporting a new Dodge automobile which he recently purchased. According to reports among the railroad boys, Mr. Keene is ready to demonstrate that he can travel as far as the next one on a gallon of gasoline. Engineer Joe Brennan claims the championship at the present time.

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

TWICE EXAMINED AND EACH TIME TOLD OPERATION WAS ONLY HOPE.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Chas. Peden, residing at 550 Mill street, Huntsville, Ala. Mrs. Peden is one of the best known and highly respected women of that thriving little city, where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight pounds, now I weigh 125 pounds and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around.

"I had no appetite at all scarcely, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach, which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When the spells came on I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little.

"I had fallen off until I was almost skin and bones and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and the knife. I had a perfect horror of an operation, but I had made up my mind that it was either life or death and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her good-bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and plead with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for a while. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said and as I had heard so much about Tanlac I decided to try it as a last resort and stopped at Gilbert's Drug store and bought a bottle. Of course I had lost heart and had no faith in the medicine, but to please my sister I made up my mind to take it and oh, what a happy day that was for me!

"I never returned for the operation but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect and in a few days I felt no pain at all. I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac, and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel like I have been made all over again into a new woman.

"As I have said before, I now weigh 125 pounds, and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes are big enough for me. I will have to make them all over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even gone back to my coffee which I was told not to touch. Those terrible pains in my back and head have all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous and when I get up mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my household duties and I feel as if I had started life all over again. My husband is highly delighted, and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody.

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may, if you will, tell other women suffering as I was, to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them all about my case."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls by Lambert's Drug Store.—Adv.

STRIKE SITUATION IN WINNIPEG BAD

REPORTER FORCED TO SEND NEWS TO HIS PAPER FROM THIS CITY.

Mayne Johnson, a correspondent for the Toronto Globe with headquarters at Winnipeg, found his facilities for sending news to his paper cut off by a strike of the telegraphers and almost everybody else at the Manitoba capital and had to devise some plan for keeping the world advised of what was going on. He accordingly boarded a train, determined to find some place farther south from which his messages could be andsent. He hit upon Thief River Falls and was accommodated. Miss Evelyn Cornforth, Western Union operator, put in three solid hours getting his "stuff" over the wire in order that the people of Eastern Canada might know just what was going on in the West. The following night the representative of another paper followed the same plan, using the wires of the Postal Telegraph company from this point.

The strike in Winnipeg is assuming alarming proportions. Not a wheel is turning and even the firemen and mail carriers have gone out.

FARM NOTES

WEATHER CONDITIONS GIVE OPPORTUNITY FOR FLAX

The delay in seeding wheat, oats and barley in Minnesota on account of weather conditions this spring calls for the seeding of crops which may be planted later—corn, potatoes, flax, millet and buckwheat, says C. P. Bull, of the University Farm staff. Flax, adds Mr. Bull, is a profitable crop and may be sown as late as June 10. Last year, in Minnesota, the average yield per acre was 10.4 bushels, and the average farm price on Dec. 1, 1918, was $3.41 a bushel, making the value per acre $35.45. Prices will, of course, depend upon supply and demand, but indications point to a large demand and continued good prices. Information as to seeding of flax will be furnished on application to C. P. Bull, University Farm.

MITES HELP TO KEEP COST OF EGGS HIGH.

Chicken mites are one of the causes of the high cost of eggs. They curtail egg production by hindering the growth and reducing the vitality of hens, and sometimes by causing their death. Mites multiply more rapidly in warm weather, so that war should be made on them now, says N. C. Chapman, poultry specialist of the agricultural extension division at University Farm, St. Paul. Crude petroleum thinned with one part of kerosene to four parts of crude oil is cheap and maintains its killing power for several weeks. With this or other mixtures hen houses should be carefully sprayed, says Mr. Chapman.

TOWNS WIN HONORS FOR HOME POULTRY FLOCKS.

Barnum in Carlton county and Henderson in Sibley county divide first honors for the number of home poultry flocks kept by their families, according to the poultry census taken last January and reported by N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist at University Farm. Brewster in Nobles county wins second place, Sleepy Eye in Brown county third place, and Melrose in Stearns county fourth place. The census shows that 18 families in every 100 are keeping a home flock. A similar census taken in 1912 showed that 40 families in every 100 kept a home flock of 20 chickens or more. The poultry specialists at University Farm believe conditions are such that a larger number of flocks should be maintained.

FARM WOMEN TO HAVE SHORT COURSE VACATION

The West Central school of agriculture at Morris announces that its fifth annual short course and vacation for farm women will open at the school June 17 and continue until June 20. The course will include talks and demonstrations in problems of special interest to the farm home. Ample entertainment will furnish relaxation. P. S. Miller, superintendent, says that the course is one of the most popular and beneficial offered at the West Central school.

State of Minnesota, Department of Insurance, Office of State Fire Marshal, State Capitol, St. Paul.

In the matter of the condemnation by the State Fire Marshal of a building owned by Lewis Benecke and located upon Lots Nineteen (19) and Twenty (20), Block Twenty-five (25), Red Lake Rapids Addition to Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county and state.

Order.

WHEREAS, the state fire marshal upon inspection of the building known and described as a vacant frame dwelling otherwise known as being 114 St. Paul Avenue, and situated upon the above described property, has found and determined that the building is a one and half story frame structure, size about Fourteen by Sixteen (14x16) feet; that the sills are decayed in places; that the siding is broken in places; that the windows and sash are broken; that the plaster is off the walls; that the floor is broken; that the doors are left open and that the building contains several torn mattresses containing excelsior and cotton, which is very inflamable; that the building stands among and next to a very costly frame dwelling house occupied by human beings, and that by reason of the above facts, said building is especially liable to fire, and, in his judgment, is dangerous to other buildings or property in the vicinity and to human life and limb.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority conferred upon the state fire marshal and pursuant to the laws of the State of Minnesota, said building is hereby condemned and it is ordered that it be demolished and the materials therefrom removed from the premises within Thirty days from the date of the service of this order and notice upon the owner thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the foregoing order is made and signed in duplicate by the state fire marsaal at St. Paul, Minnesota, this twenty-first day of April, 1919, with the direction that the same be filed forthwith in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for the county of Pennington, State of Minnesota as by law required.

GEORGE H. NETTLETON, State Fire Marshal.

Notice.

To Lewis Benecke, 1111 E. Franklin Ave., Owner of the building described in the foregoing order:

You will please take notice of the foregoing order, a duplicate original of which was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for the county of Pennington in the State of Minnesota on the 29th day of April, 1919, and you are hereby directed to comply therewith as required by law, and in the event that you fail so to do and do not file an answer and objections with the clerk of court and serve the same upon the State Fire Marshal within twenty days from the date of the service of this order and notice upon you, the state fire marshal, under the direction of said court, will proceed to enforce said order and your said property will be charged with the expense thereof and the penalties prescribed by law.

GEORGE H. NETTLETON, State Fire Marshal.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength, and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box, and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

WARNING!

Complaint having been made with reference to boys shooting within the city limits, the following city ordinance is called to the attention of parties who may not realize that the practise will get them into trouble.

Ordinance No. 53

"Section 5. It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot with any gun, pistol or other fire arm within the limits of the city of Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

"Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any person shooting on the grounds of any organized gun club."

The above ordinance will be strictly enforced

"Granny" Chamberlain

Is a mother who has once used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for she makes a point of telling other mothers about it, who in turn pass the news on. It is this that has made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a household word throughout the world. Just ask some mother in your community what she thinks of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy—she will tell you that it enables her to get her children through the winter without coughs, colds or croup, and that at first approach of a cold she herself takes

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

She will tell you that it is as thoroughly reliable for the youngest child as for the oldest member of the family. You can give it to the baby, the children going to school, or take it yourself, always with the same result—a quick relief."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the Motorist

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana), as a public servant, interprets its obligation to the 2,000,000 motorists in the territory it serves as reaching beyond simply supplying them with gasoline and lubricating oils.

The Company feels that it falls short of its full duty, if in the manufacture of gasoline and lubricating oils the elements of economy, efficiency, dependability, and protection are not inherent in every gallon.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) requires of its products, that, in addition to furnishing dependable power and lubrication the car investment of the motorist must be protected—his repair bills must be minimized—the life of the car must be prolonged.

Every frictional surface must be conserved. The engine must respond instantly in emergencies. The motorist must get every possible mile out of every gallon of Standard Oil gasoline which he buys.

To make these products as available to the 5-gallon buyer as to the 500- or 5000-gallon buyer, the Company maintains 1300 service stations conveniently located throughout the territory.

The Company realizes that its interests and those of the motorist are a unit—tangible and concrete.

Intelligent self-interest impels the Company to safeguard every product it manufactures and distributes that it may at all times give to the motorist the utmost of value and service.

Velvet THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

Thar's two things can't be imitated—youthful charm and mellow old

Velvet Joe

"Mellow old age" in good Kentucky Burley Tobacco is reached after it has cured for two years.

We put millions of pounds in warehouses every year, to ripen for two years. It is a slow, expensive method. But it makes Velvet as good a pipe tobacco as money can buy.

It makes Velvet mellow and friendly—cool and long-burning. Get that charm of Velvet's mellow age in your pipe today.

NOT A SINGLE BOOK HAS YET BEEN OFFERED FOR SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

There is one war activity in which the people of Thief River Falls and Pennington county are falling down lamentably. This is in supplying reading matter for the soldiers on the other side.

According to Miss Gena Granum, city librarian, not one book has yet been offered in spite of published requests and advertising through theatre slides and otherwise. The trouble seems to be that people believe any effort on their part in this direction is unnecessary now that the boys are coming home. This is a mistake. There never was a time when books are more urgently needed, as will be noted by the following plaint uttered by a lonesome doughboy:

> "'Books! We haven't seen them since we hit the trenches. Hadn't time or thought for them there, but it's awful to be without them now that the fighting's over.'"

While books are so needed among the troops not yet assigned to convoy, the A. L. A. is reluctant to withdraw any for transport use. Fresh and interesting fiction such as men like is being collected by the public library, to be placed aboard the troop ships.

Henry Werner Promoted.

The following taken from The Western Guard, published at Dawson, Minn., contains the following reference to Henry Werner, formerly agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school:

"Henry Werner, county agent of Lac qui Parle county for the past year and a half, has resigned to accept a position on the large stock and grain farm of Leslie Smith near St. Cloud. He will leave here for his new home the first part of June.

Since coming here, Mr. Werner has demonstrated that he is a man of more than ordinary ability in farm and stock matters, and it is no surprise that he has been offered a position that pays him considerably more salary than that paid by the state and county for county agent work. The farm bureau held a meeting Wednesday and endeavored to make it an object for Mr. Werner to remain here, but the salary could not be made large enough.

"In his new position, Mr. Werner will have charge of the crops on the Smith farm."

Back in America.

George Nelson, United States Marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson of Bray township, writes his brother, Herbert, from Charleston, Washington, announcing his safe arrival after having served since 1915. He spent eight months in Russia, where he was taken sick. Later he went to the Phillipines, China and Japan, having cruised in Eastern waters practically all the time.

"I like the country here pretty well," he says. "It is very pretty around here. It took us two days and two nights to reach this port from San Francisco, but we had a dandy time on the way. The people treated us very nice, especially the Red Cross. They served coffee, sandwiches and many other good things to the boys.

"I suppose there are many of the boys already home. I do not expect to be released until next fall."

Crookston Fair Dates.

The Northwestern fair at Crookston will be held on July 8, 9, 10 and 11. This was decided on at a meeting of the committee in charge last Saturday evening. This is the earliest fair in this section, coming fully one month before the Pennington county exhibit.

A Fine Exhibit.

The exhibit of articles manufactured by the pupils of the manual training class of Lincoln high school and placed in the window of the Oen Mercantile company's store during the past week, has created more than the ordinary amount of attention. The articles displayed showed exceptional taste and the very highest pieces would in many instances compare quality of workmanship. Individual pare very favorably with the best examples of the cabinet maker's art.

The exhibitors are pupils of M. A. Schmitt, for a number of years manual training instructor at the high school. He has every reason to take pride in the showing made.

Mr. Schmitt has applied to the school board for permission to attend the university of Minnesota during the summer term in order to be better able to equip himself to meet the exacting requirements of the Smith-Hughes vocational training act which is to be applied to instructors at the high school in the future. His request has been granted with the understanding that he is to take up his work here as soon as possible.

HENRY IN TROUBLE WITH HIS "FORD"

ORDINARILY GENTLE MACHINE SUDDENLY DISPLAYS BOLSHEVIK TENDENCIES

Henry Holt, the plumber, has operated a Ford automobile with a vast degree of satisfaction and considerable success for many years. He thought he was acquainted with the innermost thoughts of his particular pet and would hear nothing against it from friend or foe. He is not so certain now.

It happened one morning last week. Henry was starting from his home for the day's business and went out to the garage to put the speed drops to old trusty. Everything looked all right. There was nothing to indicate that a sinister purpose lurked under the somewhat battered hood.

Henry advanced the spark. He swung the gas control ahead to the exact point where experience had taught him he might look for results. They were forthcoming.

Without a moment's warning the machine started forward. There was no time for argument and Henry leaped to prevent being run over. He landed astride the hood and the machine kept right on. The garage doors were closed but this did not even cause the now thoroughly aroused car to hesitate. The obstruction was removed with a crash. Henry could neither jump off nor climb aboard. It was a hard matter to decide whether to pray or swear.

Right across the alley and against the barn back of the Central hotel went the car. The passenger went along. The barn is a rather substantial affair and after taking about three jumps at it and finding that it would not yield the auto finally gave up with a snort and settled back gracefully with its front wheels buried in a manure pile.

Eyewitnesses say these are the facts, no matter what Henry says.

A Dangerous Practice.

Chief of Police E. O. Erickson threatens to make an example of someone pretty soon. He claims that a number of boys who should know better are daily endangering their lives by acting smart when the Great Northern passenger train pulls in. They will crowd just as close as possible to the edge of the platform as the cars are backed down and it is only a question of time until some one of them will get caught. There is not much a policeman can do in the premises except issue a warning, which the boys do not see minclined to heed.

JURY CHOSEN FOR JUNE COURT TERM

GRAND JURY WILL CONVENE ON THE 24th, PETIT ONE DAY LATER.

Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund, Sheriff W. J. LaBree and Justice C. W. Nelson of Mavie, last week completed the drawing of the citizens who will act as grand and petit jurors at the next term of court, which convenes on June 25. The grand jury, which will meet one day earlier, is made up as follows:

O. Flattum, C. L. Hansen, C. M. Carlson, J. W. McGinty, Bert Norby, Math Barzen and H. S. Dahlen, Thief River Falls; Peter Erickson and K. Solberg, Hickory; Joe P. Glacken, Bray; A. Aug. Erickson, John Maakrud and T. J. Sumpter, River Falls; T. O. Langie, Mayfield; J. L. Rudinski, Deer Park; Erick Anderson, Sanders; Ole Giving and George Baird, Highlanding; A. A. Odegaard, Rocksbury; O. W. Brink, St. Hilaire; Christ Odegaard and Gilbert G. Hanson, Star; P. A. Dahle, North.

Petit Jurors—Oscar Sponheim, Oluf Tessum, Lars Backe, Thief River Falls; Charles Carlson, Sam Hanson, Charles Samuelson and James Evenson, Wyandotte; Theodore Hyland and Knute Dahle, Highlanding; John Markson and P. C. Halvorson, Goodridge; Albert Nash, N. A. Olson and Adolph Bilden, St. Hilaire; Clarence Roese, Rupert Nelson and Otto Johnson, River Falls; Alfred Forslund, Numedal; Osmund Mundt, Deer Park; P. L. Waynarnowski, Hickory; Peter Peterson, Kratka; G. O. Gustafson, Smiley, C. E. Ekstrom and Sigurd Lind, Sanders.

Will Attend Convention.

A number of the members of Lodge No. 521, Union of Commercial Travelers, are making plans for attending the grand council convention to be held at Grand Forks on June 12 13 and 14. It is probable that many will make the trip by auto, leaving on Friday evening and staying over until Sunday.

Lena Kristina Langseth.

(Contributed.)

Miss Lena Kristina Langseth passed away at the Oakland Park Sanitorium Sunday morning, May 12 at 2:25 o'clock. Her death was due to tuberculosis of the lungs.

Miss Langseth was born November 10, 1895 in Thief River Falls and was 23 years, 6 months and 1 day at the time of her death.

She was baptized and confirmed in the Norwegian Lutheran church of Thief River Falls and was a firm believer in her Savior, Jesus Christ. She was a member of the class of 1915 of the Thief River Falls high school and received her diploma, but before the completion of her senior year she was taken sick with tuberculosis and was sent to the State sanitorium at Walker in the spring of that year. She spent about a year there but made but little improvement in her health. She was then taken to her home on the C. Falk farm, three miles south of the city, where an open air cottage was built for her and gradually she regained her health until she was able to be about her daily duties.

She was an active member of the Rockabury Red Cross, being president of that association at the time of her death. Besides doing other Red Cross work she knit 20 sweaters. She also has to her credit the knitting of eight helmets in eight days.

Last winter her mother was taken ill and on Jan. 2, died, and this sorrow together with the extra work and responsibility, weakened her condition so that in March she was taken to the Oakland Park Sanitorium where she left this earthly sphere and passed to a better and fairer land, to meet father, mother, brother and sister, who had gone before.

Her home has always been in this community and her death caused great sorrow to all whom knew her. She was a girl of high ideals and pleasing personality.

She leaves to mourn her death besides her many friends, her sister, Mrs. John Gran of Buffalo, N. D., and her step-father, C. Falk, of Thief River Falls.

Card of Appreciation.

I wish hereby to extend my sincere thanks to the many kind friends who so pleasantly surprised me May the 18th; and especially for the good wholesome spirit which was shown throughout the afternoon and evening.—Richard Lund.

Why Close the Theatres on Sunday?

"Why close the theatres on Sunday?" ask a few, "the shows are about the only amusement we have and we cannot see any harm in going there on Sunday; and if the theatres should be closed that day, the churches will gain nothing because you cannot force people to go to church." These are the arguments some use, while others have mere commercial reasons for wanting the shows running on Sunday. Let us hold these arguments up in the light and look at them.

We will not forget that the Sabbath was made for mankind, and everything that is made for mankind is to be used according to laws of the highest order. The dreadful possibility is always at hand to misuse almost everything that is made to be used, but if we do we can hardly avoid to be punished. The Sabbath is made for man to use, not to abuse.

Some people think that if they attend church Sunday morning they must be free to go to theatres in the evening, but what is the use of the church a part of the day when the rest of the day you break one of God's great commandments? No one dares to say that pleasure seeking on Sunday is in line with keeping the Sabbath day holy. We are not pleading for blue laws, but between bigotry and a mush of concession give us bigotry every time. We appeal for a safe and sane Sabbath, not in the interest of the church and religion only, but in the interest of all the people, believers and unbelievers, because the Sabbath was made for mankind.

No argument can be used, based upon the best principles of life, for keeping the theatres open on Sunday. And who dares, in this crisis of time, to take a stand for anything that is not best—best for individuals, for society and for humanity? If any man seeks only his own selfish ends in his public activities he should at least be deserted and left alone.

Will there by any gain for the people and the churches if the theatres are closed on Sunday? Most certainly! If I want to go to one of two places, and one of these are closed, I know where to go then. And no one dares to say that the people of Thief River Falls are atheists and that they will not go to church under any circumstances. Everyone who has a soul needs the Sabbath and the church. "What is the cloud that looms over every man's path every day? Not sorrow, not poverty, not sickness, not business reverses. The cloud that looms over every path is temptation."—Dr. D. H. Martin.

"A great jurist recently said: "In this strenuous age, our republic, instead of making light on one Sabbath, ought to have two each week, not only to repair its jaded nerves, but to tone up its moral sense."

One of the greatest Americans, Abraham Lincoln, said: "As we keep, or break the Sabbath day, we nobly save, or meanly lose, the last best hope by which man rises."

How About You?

The Government wants every building material concern in the country to make a special effort to inaugurate a building program in the territory served. The carrying out of these instructions means a great deal to the immediate future. A good demand for labor and material will do more to bring about normal conditions than anything else within the peoples control.

You Cannot Do It All

We realize fully that to ask the people to build without first taking into consideration the prices of materials would be useless. Therefore it is our intention to cooperate in every way possible to assist in this movement.

WAR VETERAN BACK AFTER HARD CAREER

The boys from this locality who took part in the great war are returning so fast that it is hard to keep track of them. Frank LaFlex arrived Monday morning from Camp Dodge, where he received his discharge after having been in the army since Feb. 22, 1918. Mr. LaFlex was a member of the 325th infantry, 82d division, the same unit to which Harry L. Bakken, also of this city, was attached.

This soldier arrived in France a little over a year ago and took part in some of the hardest battles of the war, the more important being St. the latter place he recoiver a ma- Mihiel and the Argonne Forest. At the latter place he received a machine gun bullet in the right arm, which put him out of commission as a fighting man and confined him in the hospital for about a month. He considers himself very fortunate in that he has completely regained the use of his wounded arm.

IS BACK ON FARM AFTER 14 MONTHS

"If I had it to do over again I would enlist in the artillery, infantry or anything else in preference to the engineers," says Casper Weiner, Jr., who returned from 14 months' duty overseas the first of the week. "The engineers get it good and hard at all times, but sometimes it is worse than at others."

Weiner enlisted with the 11th engineers and left for France on Feb. 27. "Just to show the speed with which we were shoved to the front it might be stated that within two weeks of the day we landed we had our first man killed in action," he continued, "and from that time on there was no letup."

Joseph LaCrosse left Saturday evening for Plummer to visit friends for a day.

ELKS PLAN FOR $40,000 HOME ON RIVER BANK

CONSIDERABLE PART OF MONEY HAS ALREADY BEEN PLEDGED.

GREAT MEETING THURSDAY

The greatest meeting of Elks ever held in this section was fittingly closed last Thursday by the pledging of about $15,000 by the members toward the building of a club house in this city. Such a move has for some time been contemplated and now the project has reached a point where it can be definitely stated that building operations will be begun at an early date. It is estimated that the carrying out of this program will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000, all of which will be subscribed before work is begun.

Fine Site in View.

While the matter of location has not been definitely settled, a large majority of the members favor a site on the river bank at the foot of Third street. While considerable filling would perhaps have to be done, it is understood that arrangements for this can be made in such manner as to prevent the cost from being prohibitive. The proposed location is ideal for the purpose and can be made into a beauty spot having but few equals in this section.

Easily Financed.

There is no question of the Elks' ability to carry out this program. C. L. Hansen was the spokesman for the project at Thursday's meeting and outlined a plan of campaign that will be employed in raising the remainder of the money. He said that every member investing in the new building would be guaranteed a return of five per cent. It is figured that the $15,000 subscribed at the meeting is only a small part of what can be secured by this means. Exalted Ruler L. R. Johnston has appointed a committee to approach each member of the lodge personally and explain the details more fully and it is certain that there will be a ready response.

The lodge is in very good condition financially as matters now stand and could doubtless go ahead with the building without delay, but it is considered wise to have the required amount absolutely pledged before making any kind of move.

Was Wonderful Meeting.

The gathering at the auditorium on Thursday was perhaps the most remarkable event of its kind in the history of the state. Over 100 new members were initiated, this being the result of the membership campaign carried on during the month of May. A few of those who had been elected were unable to be present when the big class went through, the total number being 122.

After the ceremony of initiation there was a short speaking program, followed by a particularly pleasing vaudeville program and a moving picture exhibition.

Nothing Ever Like It.

There was quite a large number of out-of-town visitors, all of whom expressed themselves as astounded at the size of the class, the large attendance and the general good taste and judgment characterizing the entire proceeding. Some were Elks of 35 years' standing—Tom Parker of Stillwater, for instance—and all admitted that they had never before seen a larger class or a better-handled meeting.

The supper was served by H. A. Brumund and his crew had evidently put forth their best efforts, the results at least being highly satisfactory.

It Was Some Parade.

The parade in the afternoon was one of the best things ever seen in the city. The committee in charge had thought of more comical stunts than could be found in a carload of monkeys, and it all went well.

Early in the morning the kangeroo court began operating, with Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant presiding. Every Elk, resident or visiting, was thrown into the patrol wagon and brought before the court. Hero G. Howard Smith preferred charges and the judge assessed the fine. This brought in about $225 and helped considerbly in defraying the expense of the undertaking.

May Try It Over.

Exalted Ruler Johnston says there may be a similar campaign for members later in the summer. He says there remains a large amount of very fine material in Thief River Falls territory and it is his intention to go after it.

Bemidji Normal Head Here.

Prof. M. W. Deputy, president of the new normal school at Bemidji, was in the city last evening. His intention was to be here at the class day exercises of the Thief River Falls high school but he had been misinformed as to the date. Prof. Deputy would have liked to remain over for the exercises this evening but was scheduled to make the commencement address at the Kelliher school at the same time.

He stated that the summer school term would open at Bemidji on June 23 and that he already had received one applictaion for registration from Thief River Falls. He is very desirous of getting this section of the state interested in the Bemidji school and believes that teachers here will find it more convenient to attend the newly opened institution than to continue attending those farther to the south.

The regular year will be opened in September and the general plan of the older schools at St. Cloud, Moorhead and Duluth will be followed.

Prof. Deputy gives one the impression of being a sincere, capable man, who is naturally anxious to see the new institution in the northern part of the state, and of which he is the head, make as good a showing as possible at the outset.

Doctor Locates Here.

Dr. A. Sommerfelt, a physician and surgeon engaged in general practice at Hendrum until recently, arrived this week to look over the field with a view to locating here. He has decided to remain and will occupy offices in the Scandia block.

Dr. Sommerfelt is a graduate of the university of Christiania but has been practicing in this country for many years. His family will follow later in the summer.

STATE ARCHITECT WILL DRAW PLANS

FAIR BOARD EXPECTS TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS NEXT WEEK

The building committee of the county fair association has requested that the state send an engineer to Thief River Falls at the earliest possible date for the purpose of drawing up plans for the new buildings at the fair grounds. The expectation is that the committee will be able to advertise for bids for the new structure by next week. Upon the recommendations of this engineer will depend all future action with regard to the buildings.

At the meeting held this week a contract was closed with Lieut. Kaiser, instructor of aeronautic flying in the United States army, whereby he is to make two flights per day during the three days of the fair. He is heralded as a daredevil who performs the most astounding stunts with an airplane.

Negotiations have been opened with four professional motorcycle riders with a view to having them appear during the fair. These men have taken part in international races and have besides recently been discharged from the army, where they plied their profession during the war. They are now representing different manufacturers of motorcycles and may be depended on to display the best there is in their respective machines.

Besides these attractions there will be a number of daylight bombs timed to go off so as to give the best effect. There will be an enormous merry-go-round and two clean-cut independent shows.

The aim of the committee is to eliminate anything of an objectionable nature from the fair grounds this year.

LAST OF BROTHERS IN ARMY RETURNS

WILLIAM PROVENCHER PUTS IN ELEVEN MONTHS IN FRANCE.

The last of the Provencher boys, four of whom served during the war in some capacity and three of whom saw actual service abroad, returned last week and is greeting old friends. He was a member of an ammunition train company attached to the 82nd division and went through eleven months of the hardest fighting of the whole war without a scratch.

"Bill" enlisted in the Missouri national guard at Kansas City on June 1, 1917, and was sent to Fort Sill, Okla., for training. It was just about a year later that he landed in France and almost the same length of time until he again set foot on American soil.

This soldier was in practically every big battle during the last year of the war. He was at St. Mihiel but missed Chateau Thierry by a scratch. He was on the battlefield a couple of days after the fight, however, and says it sure looked as if things had been happening around there. In the last big drive in the Argonne he was among those who traversed the shell-torn roads with ammunition and supplies for the men in the front lines. Here he narrowly missed seeing his brother Harold, who was with the Rainbow outfit. He will visit around home for a time before definitely deciding upon his future course.

Doris Provencher, another brother, was the first to return, having been gassed and wounded in one of the battles of early spring. Leslie, the youngest, did not get across but joined the students' corps at the university of Minnesota.

BRUMUND ON CITY COUNCIL; MYHRUM QUITS

LATTER'S CHANGE OF RESIDENCE MAKES SELECTION NECESSARY.

APPOINT PAVING ENGINEER

WILL INVESTIGATE RECORD OF MINNEAPOLIS CONCERN BEFORE DECIDING.

H. A. Brumund, proprietor of the Brumund hotel and one of the substantial business men of the city, was on Tuesday evening elected to fill the place on the city council made vacant by the resignation of P. O. Myhrum. The latter changed his place of residence to another ward and automatically disqualified himself from continuing to hold the office. This is to be regretted as he has proven a capable and painstaking official.

In selecting Mr. Brumund as the successor of Mr. Myhrum the council acted in accordance with the expressed wishes of a large number of the people residing in the ward. The new councilman has long been a resident of the city and has always taken an active interest in its welfare. He is a solid, level-headed man who may be depended on to give his new duties the required attention.

H. A. BRUMUND.

Investigating Engineers.

Two engineering firms submitted figures for doing the supervisory work when the proposed paving contracts are undertaken and attending to all preliminary matters necessary. It will be the duty of the engineer chosen to look into the sewer situation, establish grades, look to the proper connection of all water mains and finally to see that the paving contract proper is complied with in every detail. It is an important undertaking and the council wished to know something about the concern selected before entering into a contract. The Charles L. Pillsbury company of Minneapolis, submitted the most attractive proposition and are favored for the job. It was decided, however, to look over some of the work already performed under the supervision of this company, and a committee will be appointed for this purpose. It is probable that this will consist of one councilman and two members of the citizens' advisory committee.

To Help County Fair.

The council voted to appropriate $400 to help defray the expenses of holding a county fair in Thief River Falls during the first week of August. This is an annual proceeding and much appreciated by the board of fair managers.

The Tuesday evening meeting was a special and no business of a routine nature was transacted. The next regular meeting night is June 10.

FITTING TRIBUTES TO SOLDIER DEAD

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCES IN CITY ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD.

The most impressive Memorial Day observance in the history of the city was participated in by the citizens last Friday. The auditorium meeting in the morning was well attended and the speaking and singing such as appropriately befitted the occasion. E. M. Stanton, W. B. Fuller and Dr. G. A. Penney delivered fifteen minute talks in which tribute was paid to the veterans of three wars. Mr. Stanton spoke for those who took part in the great battles of 1861-65, Capt Fuller paid the respects of the community to those who answered the call in the Spanish-American war, and Dr. Penney paid tribute to the boys who have just returned from the battlefields.

A considerable procession formed for the purpose of marching to the cemetery where the graves of dead soldiers and sailors were decorated, taps sounded and a volley fired by a squad of returned overseas men in charge of Corp. Fred Scanlan. Harold Provencher and Elmer Zeh were color bearers and Ralph Hilson and Severin Eberhardt color guards. The invocation at the grave was pronounced by Adjt. Hanson of the Salvation Army.

At the close of the exercises at Greenwood the firing squad went to the Catholic cemetery and fired the usual volley over the grave of Henry Dempsey, the only soldier of the late war buried there.

Will Visit in East.

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Froehlich and two sons start tomorrow morning on a visit to points in the East. The family will journey together as far as Chicago, from which city Dr. Froehlich will go to Atlantic City to attend the meeting of the American Medical association. Following this he will go to New York City to take up special work in surgery at the Post Graduate hospital. Mrs. Froehlich and the boys will go to northern Vermont to visit relatives for the summer, spending their time at the home of Mrs. Froehlich's mother on the shore of Lake Champlain. The doctor expects to return in a month or six weeks.

SERVE RED CROSS IN THE FAR EAST

DR. GAMBELL LEAVES FOR SIBERIA ON MONDAY; LIEUT. HIATT TODAY.

Dr. F. H. Gambell, for many years a resident of Thief River Falls, will leave next Monday afternoon for Seattle, from which point he expects to sail on June 15 for Siberia where he will engage in Red Cross work. He will be employed in his professional capacity but does not know where he will be stationed. The program of the Red Cross in Siberia, Corea, Japan, China and Russia is of such vast scope that it may carry him clear across the continent. He will hold the same rank as a physician in the army.

It has long been the desire of Dr. Gambell to enter the service of the Red Cross, he having offered himself during the war. He was not accepted at that time but was notified that he would undoubtedly be able to go on the Siberian expedition if he so desired. He accepted the offer and has been putting his affairs here in shape for departure. The first objective of the party is Vladivostock, Manchuria, the program after that being determined by circumstances.

Dr. Gambell is the oldest doctor in the city in point of service. He has been mayor and for many years was a member of the school board. A fine, progressive citizen, he will devote the best there is in him to the work ahead and his career will be watched with interest by a large circle of friends.

Lieut. L. R. Hiatt leaves today, he also forming a member of the party. He goes as an agricultural demonstrator and will be connected with the work of putting Siberia and Russia back among the producing countries of the world. Lieut. Hiatt has been agricultural instructor at the high school since coming to this city and has demonstrated his thoro fitness for this kind of work. He and Dr. Gambell will sail on the same boat which will be the last leaving this country for the East this year.

Banquet For Dr. Gambell.

Chairman Thos. A. Way of the Pennington county Red Cross chapter, has announced that a banquet will be given in honor of Dr. F. H. Gambell as a recognition of the work done by him for the chapter during the war. The affair will also be in the nature of a farewell party tendered by physicians of the city. The reception will be held at the Hotel Evelyn on Friday evening, June 6, and the invitation extends to all friends of the doctor whether they have received formal notice or not. As a committee on invitations Mr. Way has appointed Dr. H. W. Froehlich, C. L. Hansen and E. O. Mogensen. The program and reception committee is composed of Dr. L. F. Fisher, Dr. Jacob Biederman and G. Howard Smith.

Saw the N. C. 3.

A letter from Willie Bakke this week bears the date mark of Porta del Garda, Azores Islands, where he is now located on one of Uncle Sam's destroyers. Willie sends a couple of souvenirs in the shape of pieces of the seaplane N. C. 3 which came to grief in the harbor of the island on the 19th. He states that three moving picture concerns were on the ground to film the planes attempting the trans-Atlantic flight. It took just 11 days for the letter to travel from the islands to Thief River Falls.

Roth Building Moved.

The administrators of the estate of the late Fred Roth are moving the Vienna bakery building to the south about a foot. It was discovered that the structure extended over onto the lot of Carl Froseth, who is erecting a new brick block immediately adjoining the Roth property on the north and as he needed the space the other building had to be moved. It was found that the sills and joists were badly rotted and new ones will be put in and other improvements made while things are torn up.

CHURCHES JOIN IN SPONSORING GREAT REVIVAL

EVANGELIST FRANK MATHIS WILL HOLD MEETINGS DURING MONTH.

ORGANIZE MONDAY NIGHT

PRELIMINARIES TO BE ARRANGED AT SESSION NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

For more than a month past plans have been maturing for a great evangelistic campaign in Thief River Falls commencing Sunday, June 29, in the Auditorium, and lasting for a month. Several of the churches will join in the movement.

Evangelist Frank Mathis of Colorado Springs, Col., and party have been secured for this campaign. Mr. Mathis is described as a clean-cut Christian gentleman who has given years to this work and who brings a strong, helpful message, building up the Christian faith of a community without creating dissention. His work has met with the heartiest approval and commendation by clergymen and other church workers of all denominations wherever he has worked.

Carries Musical Staff.

Those who have become sponsors for this campaign have carefully gone over the field and from the list of available men have selected Mr. Mathis as the one who in their judgment will place the facts of Christian life and experience in a way that will meet the approval of all right-thinking men.

His assistants, a director of music and pianist, are artists in their line, and doubtless Thief River Falls folks will enjoy them to the full.

From time to time every community needs their attention fixed upon the great facts of moral and religious life. Every normal person feels the need of a moral stimulus to their lives. The Mathis party will give this stimulus.

In preparation for this campaign a meeting of all religious workers, irrespective of creed, are invited to meet at the Presbyterian church on Monday evening, June 9, at 8:00 o'clock for prayer conference and organization.

The services of this campaign will depend upon the spirit of co-operation manifested by those who are interested. The plan according to the sponsors is to harm none and to help all. It is felt that a sane presentation of the great biblical truths will be beneficial and helpful to every church in the city. All are invited to attend the meeting Monday evening for organization.

New Addition to Mavie.

Irving Quist, surveyor, was in Mavie last week for the purpose of platting an addition to that hustling settlement. As a result three and a half blocks have been added to the townsite, the property being owned by G. C. Stein. There are four new avenues in the addition and these bear rather unique names. The first is General, the second Pershing, the third Wins, and the fourth Victory. These all connect Nelson and Shay streets.

MRS. A. E. SHARP SUDDENLY CALLED

DIES OF APOPLEXY WHILE AT THE OFFICE OF DR. F. H. GAMBELL.

Mrs. Mary D. Sharp, 61 years of age, wife of Augustus E. Sharp and mother of P. W. Sharp, died suddenly of an apoplectic stroke while in the office of Dr. F. H. Gambell Tuesday afternoon. She had been feeling poorly for some little time but her condition gave no alarm to the members of the family.

In company with her daughter-in-law, deceased left the house for the purpose of consulting Dr. Gambell. While in the office of the physician she suddenly fell over and died in a few minutes without having regained consciousness.

The remains were taken to Melroy, Ind., last night and will be buried from the Presbyterian church there on Saturday afternoon. The body was accompanied by all members of the family.

Mrs. Sharp, whose maiden name was Mary D. Wilson, was born in Ohio in 1858. While she was yet a child the family moved to Melroy where they continued to reside for 35 years. Here she was married to Mr. Sharp on Sept. 9, 1879, and shortly afterwards moved to Bowbells, N. D., which for 13 years was her home. After living for three years at Osakis the family moved to Thief River Falls.

Besides her husband deceased leaves one son, P. W. Sharp, who has been making St. Paul his home since leaving this city a few weeks ago.

Deceased was a woman most highly regarded by all who knew her. While devoting herself for the most part to her home she had a wide circle of admiring friends to whom the news of her sudden death came as a distinct shock.

No Canadian Exhibitors.

At a meeting of the fair board held this week a communication was received from F. D. Sherman, state immigration commissioner, asking that space be not given at the fair grounds for exhibits of grains and grasses from Canada. The commissioner takes the position that as his department is expending thousands of dollars every year for the purpose of securing more settlers for Minnesota it is a little inconsistent to permit outsiders to come in with exhibits gathered under the most favorable conditions and taken from a large extent of country for the purpose of openly competing with the products of a limited section at home. It was decided that the foreign exhibits should be excluded and the hope was voiced that local real estate men would take it upon themselves to see that the place formerly occupied by Canadian products would be taken up with those raised on our own soil.

HAY MAY DELIVER ADDRESS AT PICNIC

MISS M. LUCILE HOLLIDAY WILL LEAD IN COMMUNITY SINGING.

The fourth annual community picnic, which is to be held at Squaw Point on Flag Day, June 14, promises to be a record breaker.

The community singing will be led by Miss M. Lucille Holliday of Minneapolis, now in the employ of the War Camp Community service. This alone will make it worth anyone's while to be present at the picinc.

An effort is being made to secure J. H. Hay, former superintendent of schools, as speaker for the afternoon.

The farm bureau, commercial and community clubs will also be represented by a speaker.

The sports committee has a fine program lined up for the day, including foot races for ladies and men as well as for the fat and thin. Also swimming races, boat races, ford races, sack and wheel-barrow races. Two or three bands from the county will furnish the music and there will be something doing all the time.

To Honor Flag Day.

The Elks lodge of Thief River Falls is making arrangements for the observance of Flag Day—June 14—which this year falls on Saturday. The ceremony will take place at the auditorium and the public is invited to be present.

Because of the happenings of the past few years the Flag has come to be viewed in a different light by many people who previously had taken the emblem more or less for granted. It is the intention of the Elks to make the occasion particularly impressive on this account and the general public is asked to turn in and assist.

The ceremony will begin at 8 o'clock in the evening and will be preceded by a parade.

NO CROPS INJURED DURING COLD SNAP

GARDENS SLIGHTLY NIPPED IN CERTAIN SECTIONS IS ONLY DAMAGE.

The cold snap general throut Minnesota and the Northwest on Monday night seems to have caused much less damage than was at first feared, thereby acting in the manner of similar visitations in years gone by.

In Pennington county the damage is so small as hardly to be worth mentioning, notwithstanding the fact that some ill-advised person sent a report to the city papers stating that there had been general injury to the crops.

County Agent J. J. McCann has inquired into the matter and is satisfied that the loss even of garden truck is not serious. In certain sections in the eastern end of the county tomato plants and others of a particularly tender nature were nipped, but this condition was not general. In the city the frost hit in streaks but nowhere was it severe.

JUNE STARTS OUT TO BREAK RECORD

FIVE MARRIAGE LICENSES ON LAST OF MAY—QUIET POLICE MONTH.

Business at the office of Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund is improving by leaps and bounds. April was the poorest month so far as marriage licenses were concerned of any in late years. There was not a single permit issued, and the beginning of May did not promise much better. The month wound up strong, however, there being five licenses issued on the 31st, breaking the record for one day and making a total of nine for the month. This means an unusual number of weddings for the first days of June.

Judge Tarrant in municipal court did not do so well. But one man was arrested in the city in May, the charge against him being assault.

CROP CONDITION BEST EVER AT EARLY PERIOD

REPORT FOR MAY SHOWS SITUATION IN COUNTY MOST SATISFACTORY.

OVER MILLION FOR WHEAT

ACREAGE 15 PER CENT GREATER THAN YEAR AGO—OUTLOOK GOOD.

The crop report issued by County Agent J. J. McCann and sent to the agricultural department at Washington, shows that conditions in Pennington county were never better. Practically every kind of grain as well as grass are reported as averaging near 100 per cent perfect while the acreage in almost every instance is greater than a year ago.

The condition of wheat is placed at 98, which is most satisfactory. The acreage is 15 per cent greater than last year and 50 per cent greater than in former average years. Should these figures prove correct it will mean a yield of 587,457 bushels in the county as compared with 528,571 in 1918. This will make the wheat crop alone worth considerably over a million dollars.

May Condition Perfect.

The oat crop condition is placed at 98, with an increase in acreage of two per cent. Barley shows the same degree of perfection, but the acreage is 15 per cent less than a year ago and 20 per cent below former years. Hay is given a mark of 100 per cent and rye 97 per cent. The clover acreage is 30 per cent below normal and 25 per cent below last year, but alfalfa shows an increase of 30 per cent in acreage and a perfect condition. The pastures are reported as standing at 98 per cent at this time. Cabbage, onions and [illegible] are reported at 95, 96 and [illegible] respectively.

WILL TRY OUT THE CELEBRATION IDEA

COMMITTE APPOINTED TO DECIDE WHETHER PLAN IS ACCEPTABLE.

The committee appointed by the Merchants association to decide whether or not it is advisable to hold an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration in Thief River Falls this year held a meeting on Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing the project. This committee is made up of E. O. Mogensen, A. S. Sapero, Dr. G. A. Penney, Gunder Tessum, A. S. Lieberman and Roy Lambert. After giving the matter proper consideration it was decided that the best way to find out whether or not a celebration is wanted is to see if anyone is willing to pay for it. Accordingly a committee was appointed to interview the business men in order to find out just how heavily they would be willing to contribute toward making the enterprise a go. Of this committee Mr. Lieberman was made chairman, the following members being added in order to give more weight to any proposition he might advance: Roy Lambert, F. H. Herrick A. S. Sapero and Julien Provencher. Should inquiry develop a preference for a quiet Fourth the matter will be dropped.

GUN CLUB EXPECTS LARGE CROWD HERE

WILL BE ONLY EVENT OF ITS KIND IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE.

The only gun club tournament to be held in the state this year, outside the big event at Minneapolis later in the month, will take place in Thief River Falls Saturday and Sunday, June 14 and 15. The programs have been printed and sent out by Secretary W. W. Prichard, Jr., and many responses have already been received.

On Saturday there will be nine events of 15 targets each. The entrance fee is $1.80 and $15 has been added to the regular stake. The total of added cash for the tournament is $270, making the purses among the best ever shot for in this section. The Squire money-back system will rule in all events.

On Sunday there will be seven events, besides the special and novelty contests. The same entrance fee and money division will obtain at this time as on the opening day.

This being the only shoot in this section this summer it is expected that a large number of crack shots will be present. The officials have been notified that Winnipeg will send some of its best and others will come from the Twin Cities, Duluth and Superior, as well as the smaller towns.

A MILLION FOR OUR WHEAT.

Pennington is one of the smallest counties in Minnesota, containing only 21 townships, and not all of these of the regulation size. It is doubtful if it has more than 10,000 people, one-half of whom reside in Thief River Falls.

At the risk of being accused of "counting its chickens," etc., The Times is going to predict that the county's wheat crop for the year 1919 will be worth one million dollars.

Just to prove that this is not merely guess work, we will show how we arrive at the figures. The wheat acreage of the county is greater by 15 per cent than it was a year ago. This means that on the basis of the harvest reports for 1918 there should be a total of 587,857 bushels threshed out this fall. At two dollars per bushel this will mean considerably more than the million total we claim. As a matter of fact the farmers of the county received just about that sum for last year's crop, although very few of us stopped to realize it at the time.

There never was a surer indication of a bumper hay crop. The leading creamery of the county has already set out with the intention of distributing $300,000 among the dairymen of its district and it is probable that the other creameries will bring the total up to at least a half million.

Had any man predicted a few years ago that the county would even stand a show of getting so much money for the wheat raised he would have been considered a boomer, to say the least. But had anyone maintained that dairy products would be worth half as much as the wheat crop with the latter bringing more than two dollars a bushel, he would have been adjudged crazy.

LET'S KEEP IT IN MIND.

The Babcock plan for the construction of a network of paved highways throughout Minnesota is so obviously reasonable and practical that it may be considered safe to proceed as if there were no opposition worth mentioning. This feeling is just what is liable to put the entire enterprise out of business.

Constitutional amendments of obvious merit have before this been turned down when put to a vote. The laws governing the passage of amendments to the Constitution are so constructed as to make changes extremely difficult. Any well-organized opposition to a measure is almost sure to succeed, and this notwithstanding the fact that a decided majority may desire its adoption.

For this reason the friends of the Babcock law should be up and coming every minute. They should not permit the voters to loose sight of the benefits the carrying out of the plan would bring and they should be on the alert against any tendency to let the matter rest. This is more dangerous than open opposition. There is no such thing as a sound argument against this amendment, but it might prove an easy matter to have it killed by forgetting about it until too late.

Every newspaper and every good roads booster in the state should bear this in mind. There is not enough being said about this matter right at this moment.

A CONSTRUCTIVE FACTOR.

It is not so very long ago that woman's clubs were regarded as organizations for the more or less intelligent discussion of Ibsen, Shaw and Browning—at least this was the view taken by the ordinary run of men as well as by the women who never went near one of the meetings and consequently knew nothing about the matter.

This opinion is no longer held, even by those who do not exactly see what the women expect to gain by expending a great deal of energy and putting in a considerable amount of time at tasks that seemingly do not directly concern them. It is generally admitted that they have found something useful to do and that they are going about it with purpose and determination.

The Woman's club of Thief River Falls has more real sound, constructive work to its credit than any other civic organization operating at the present time or at any period of the past. A recapitulation of the work accomplished during the past three years would prove that there is hardly a movement for the betterment of the community that has not originated in the club or at least had the enthusiastic and unqualified support of the members. And things have been accomplished for which the credit belongs solely to these women and which are of lasting worth to the people of the city. They have acted with judgment and decision on every matter that has been brought up and their assistance has been of the greatest value.

The club has just completed another year of effective work. During the summer no meetings will be held but early fall will again find these women back in the harness, planning things for the welfare of our people, and carrying their plans to a successful termination. The organization is a decided force on the side of whatever is good and elevating and is so recognized by all who have given the subject even passing consideration.

SHALL WE CELEBRATE?

If Thief River Falls is to celebrate the Fourth of July this year it should be done on a scale worth while. Unless our people are willing to put rather a sizable amount of cash into the enterprise it might better be left alone. The question is, would it be worth while to go to any considerable expense to get up the kind of celebration that would be a credit to the city?

The Commercial club is evidently going to leave the matter entirely to the merchants, who would have to foot the greater part of the bill. If they are willing to stand the expense Thief River Falls will be the gathering point for all the people within a considerable radius on the nation's birthday. If not, the matter might better be dropped.

That there should be a celebration of some kind in the county is certain. Most of the soldier boys will have returned from the war by that time and the doings could be made to answer as a welcome to them as well. In case this view of the matter is adopted there will have to be some changes in the general plan, but there is still plenty of time for anything of that sort.

The matter is being seriously discussed but no one thus far has showed up who is willing to take any decided stand. If it were not that the event might be turned into a celebration for the soldiers it is not likely that it would be undertaken at this time.

ONE SURE WAY TO HELP.

Wages are paid for the creating of wealth. Wages are labor's share of the wealth it HAS produced, rather than a mortgage on wealth that it will produce. Wealth depends upon construction; and in the building field not only does the individual add to his personal wealth, but he adds to the assets of the nation.

The United States now has more wealth than any other two nations combined. Every house built, every road constructed, every public building and improvement, is adding to that great accumulation of permanent wealth, making the nation stronger and stronger.

A general, country-wide campaign of building, assuming reasonable intelligence is exercised, would do more than any other one thing to increase the permanent wealth of the nation and the individual. While its permanent wealth is piling up—especially when it is in the nature of homes owned by individuals—a nation may have its perplexing problems, but there is nothing serious or dangerous in its industrial status.

The permanent wealth of the country is represented in homes, buildings, private and public construction work—is the nation's reserve fund. As long as the reserve fund is growing the nation is a going concern and in sound condition.

If you would add to your personal wealth and make the nation sounder and stronger—BUILD NOW.

MILLIONS OF LOST YEARS.

The ominous signs of unrest, so apparent in our country today, warn us to take prompt measures for safeguarding its future. Experts are carefully studying the various ways of Americanizing the alien, and many conferences are being held to discuss means to this end.

In solving the problem, one of the most important questions to be considered is the early training of the nation's children. What they learn today they will put into practice tomorrow. It is for us to determine whether they shall become an asset or a menace.

We should remember that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and provide kindergartens to develop the children of our untrained alien population into honest, law-abiding citizens. Only one child in eight of kindergarten age now receives the training to which all are entitled. There remain 3,800,000 neglected little ones who are denied this privilege.

The kindergarten trains children in efficiency, morality and patriotism. It renders a valuable service to the nation as well, for during the period of reconstruction there is need of the finest qualities among our citizens, to whom the nations of the world are looking for inspiration and guidance.

A million dollars worth of wheat and a half million worth of butter is doing pretty well for Pennington county. That first item looks like a lot of money but we would rather bank on the butter proposition.

Bringing the head of the lakes into direct communication with the Atlantic seaboard means carrying the wheat fields of the Red River valley closer to Liverpool. We are more interested in that project than most people seem to realize.

In spite of differences which pertain to little things of no particular importance, it is doubtful if the people of Thief River Falls have ever been so thoroughly in accord. They are just beginning to awake to the possibilities of their town.

It will only cost a dollar to become an associate member of the boy scouts. When one reads of the wonderful record made by the organization during the war the amount seems a mighty small one to pay for having the honor of being regarded as one of them. Only 51 are asked for in Pennington county and a campaign to secure them should not be necessary.

Two concrete mixers are working on Second street. The Elks are figuring on putting up a building to cost at least $30,000 on Third street. The government promises to pave that part of the Jefferson highway running through town and the citizens are going to do likewise to a considerable district. Our people are all right. They have simply been exercising the same conservative tendency noticeable in every other section of the country.

The ladies are going to need something in the way of assistance if they are to carry out the improvements contemplated at the fair grounds. It should be remembered that this work is all in the nature of a permanent improvement and that it is absolutely needed. The Woman's club is footing a considerable part of the expense and the members are actually no more interested in the enterprise than are other good citizens. The amount needed is very small and will cause no inconvience if properly distributed.

VISITORS FROM SUNNY SOUTH HERE JULY 19

JEFFERSON HIGHWAY BOOSTERS WILL SPEND NIGHT IN THIS CITY.

VERY IMPORTANT EVENT

FORSHADOWS GREAT ACTIVITY IN ROAD CONSTRUCTION FOR NEAR FUTURE.

What promises to be the greatest event of its kind in the history of highway promotion is a sociability run over the Jefferson Highway, announcement of plans for which has just been made by J. D. Clarkson, general manager. The official party will be composed of state officials and men of prominence in Louisiana. Owing to the personnel of this party, governors of states through which the Jefferson Highway passes, and mayors of cities along the way, are planning to extend special courtesies to the visitors.

Governor R. G. Pleasant of Louisiana; Hon. Duncan Buie, highway commissioner; Mayor Martin Behrman of New Orleans; Mayor John M. W. Ford of Shreveport, form the nucleus of the official delegation, which will also be made up of well known personages of the state, among them being Senator T. L. Dowling of Closter, president of the Louisiana division of the Jefferson Highway; and R. D. Nibert of Bunkie, secretary of the Louisiana division. Many ladies will be in the party, including Mrs. Pleasant, Mrs. Buie and Mrs. Ford.

In Return Visit.

In May, 1917, Hon. T. C. Norris, premier of Manitoba, Canada, and Mayor F. H. Davidson of Winnipeg, made a sociability run over the "Pine to Palm," meeting and mingling with the people of the 264 towns and cities, the ninety counties and seven states along the route. They carried official greetings from Winnipeg and Manitoba to the Jefferson Highway Neighbors and to New Orleans and Louisiana. The people of Louisiana had planned to make a return trip at once, but just then the United States was plunged into war and the trip was abandoned. The delay seems to have been a boon, for every indication points to the greatest of Sociability Runs. The first car leaves New Orleans at 9:30 o'clock July 1st bound for Winnipeg, where it will arrive July 20.

The City Commission of New Orleans in a resolution has sanctioned the trip of Mayor Behrman, and the officials from the state, which is the southern terminus of the Jefferson Highway, will carry to each community along the route and to the city of Winnipeg, official greetings and felicitations. The little city of Bunkie, Louisiana, will have a special car in the run, having been awarded the position of special escort to the Governor, because of the distinction won by that city in the organization work of the state.

To Promote Good Feeling.

The purpose of the run is to bring about a closer personal acquaintance and enhance the growing feeling of goodfellowship between the various localities that are engaged in promoting the Jefferson Highway. In accordance with this purpose a running schedule has been so arranged that a stop, either of long or short duration will be made in each of the 264 community centers on the Highway. These stops will be of from three to ten minutes each, except at noon and night controls where they will be longer. A speaking program will be in order at every stop, if it is desired.

That the above mentioned may be accomplished, the cars will be run at ten minute intervals, the stops being made on schedule, just as a train travels. With the cars running at intervals, it will be possible for each place to have a program of from forty to sixty minutes. Speakers will travel in the first four cars, which will leave at ten minute intervals, after which all other cars go. The occupants of the first car will open the program; the second car arriving a few minutes later, the program will be continued by the party it carries, the first car proceeding on the run. Visitors in the third car will relieve those in the second car, and in this manner a short program will be carried out. Often there will be speaking or a program in two or three different towns at the same time, where communities are close together.

Take Plenty of Time.

It should be noted that this is not a speed contest, or the run could be made in ten days. As it is for sociability, it will take twenty days to run nearly 2400 miles. The average distance will be 115 miles a day. The longest day's run will be the last, between Thief River Falls, Minn., and Winnipeg. The shortest day's run will be ten miles, between St. Paul and Minneapolis. The schedule has been arranged so that time will be given to visit points of especial interest.

The idea of maintaining a set schedule is original to the Jefferson Highway association, although this is not the first time that it has been used. The two previous runs, one of which was the occasion of the visit of the Canadians, were operated in the same manner. One great advantage to this plan is that each community, town or city along the way knows the day, hour and minute that the run will arrive.

Many Expected to Join.

Many cars are expected to make the entire trip. People along the route, who have been expecting to spend their vacation touring, will also use this occasion, it is said. It now seems evident that large numbers of motorists will accompany the official party for intermediate distances as the run proceeds.

The Hon. Thomas H. Johnson, attorney general of Manitoba, Canada, and president of the Jefferson Highway association will meet the run at the International Headquarters in St. Joseph, Mo., where it will arrive the evening of July 10th. Highway officials have been advised, also, that the citizens of Winnipeg will form a "welcome delegation" which will meet the party in the Twin Cities to escort them the remainder of the journey. Special plans for celebrations in nearly every community are being made.

The excurtionists will arrive in Thief River Falls on the evening of July 19 and remain overnight, starting at 8 o'clock the following morning on the last leg of the long journey.

Will Attend Summer School.

With the close of school this week there will be a general scattering of the teachers, most of them going to their homes while others will attend summer schools in various parts of the Northwest. Miss Leola Markus, Miss Hazel Sulerud and M. A. Schmitt will take up advanced work at the university of Minnesota; Miss Lillian Oldaker goes to the university of Iowa; Miss A. Viola Nepper and Miss Julia Costello to Chicago university; Miss Katherine Hinderman and Miss Harriet Thompson to the A. N. Palmer school, St. Paul, and Miss Ida Tandberg to Moorhead normal.

L. A. Lampert, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants State bank, is spending his vacation of about two weeks at West Union, the former home of the family.

MUCH GREATER WATER POWER MADE POSSIBLE

DREDGING OF RED LAKE RIVER WOULD MEAN MUCH TO THIS DISTRICT.

COST IS NOT PROHIBITIVE

DAM AT OUTLET WILL INSURE STEADY FLOW THE YEAR AROUND.

(Don Voigt in Grand Forks American.)

North Dakota's fight for flood control in the Red River valley assumed a definite stage in Congress today by the introduction of a report recommending the deepening of the Red Lake river and the building of a dam to control the flow from the Red Lake.

The project, as now outlined, would enable the construction of other dams in the Red Lake river, and give the guarantee of a contiuous flow which would supply enormous water power, sufficient to supply this section with an abundance of cheap electric power, according to Prof. E. F. Chandler of the University of North Dakota.

Such a water power project, if undertaken by the government and the state of North Dakota, would enable the operation of public flour mills and other state industries in Grand Forks at a cost much lower than possible elsewhere in the state.

Congressmen Back Plan.

Congressmen Baer, Young and Sinclair of North Dakota are giving the project their active support.

The project as offered to the government by War Department Engineer E. J. Dugan, proposes a dam at the mouth of the Red Lakes, and the dredging of the Red Lake river channel for a distance of about 45 miles, down to Highlanding. The area of the Red Lakes is 440 square miles, and by lowering the level of the lake a few inches, water enough can be obtained to keep the average flow of the Red Lake river at about 600 cubic feet per second through the whole year.

Figures compiled by Prof. Chandler show that there is a drop of 200 feet along the river from Red Lake Falls to Crookston that can be used to obtain power. Figuring the horse power that can be obtained from 600 cubic feet per second on a 200 foot drop, some 10,000 horsepower is available to this district the year around, he said. Of the total fall, only 47 feet are now used, and these dams are of doubtful value because of the variation of the river, according to Mr. Chandler.

Dam at Red Lake.

The dam at Red Lake will be but a small one, as the lowering of the lake will be never more than four feet. For flood prevention, the dam is an aid in several sections. In the district above the lakes, to the east, in the spring when the snow melts, the lake will be at its lowest stage, lower than is possible now with the natural channel of the river, and the lands will be drained immediately. The channel below the lakes will be some four feet lower, and all these lands will drain quickly instead of being overflowed as at present by the water from the eastern section.

When the flows from other small tributaries down the river have dropped to normal, the gates at the dam will be opened and the surplus water let out slowly. This holding up the water in the lakes will take a foot or two off the worst flood this city has ever seen, and it is the last foot that does most of the damage. In addition this method provides the steady flow of water necessary for successful water power plants.

The engineers working on the proposition state that the four foot drop that can be taken off the lake will provide sufficient water to keep the river at a constant flow for any period outside of a very long succession of dry years. In the records kept by the government, no set of years has been found which would have drawn below normal the flow, had the dam been in operation.

Natural Reservoir.

Outside of one other case, that of the upper Mississippi, the Red Lakes furnished the greatest natural reservoir in this country. They have an area totalling 440 square miles. Prof. E. F. Chandler, in the Quarterly Journal, April 1918 said "The storage capacity would be so great that the entire flow of a year or even two years could be held there, if desired the whole annual outflow could be discharged in any four or five months, or it could be equalized so as to give a uniform discharge from the lake for several years.

Dry years Grand Forks always has trouble with its water supply. The flow of the Red Lake river has fallen as low as 10 cubic feet per second, and that of course makes it important that something be done to insure the city a continuous supply. With the plan in operation no trouble would ever be experienced. When the water becomes so low, the percentage of sewage bacteria becomes alarmingly high, and the water consequently dangerous, Mr. Chandler said.

The cost of the dam and dredging as estimated by the government engineer is but $779,000, making this one of the cheapest projects involving so large a storage capacity and potential value in the country, according to the report.

FORMER MAYOR OF BIRMINGHAM, ALA., ENDORSES TANLAC

"YOU WILL HARDLY KNOW ME WHEN WE MEET; AM GETTING WELL," HE WRITES.

One of the latest additions to the list of leaders of thought and action who have come forward with their unqualified endorsement of Tanlac is the name of Hon. Frank V. Evans, former Mayor of Birmingham, Ala., ex-State Examiner of Public Accounts of Alabama, and at one time editor of one of the South's greatest newspapers, The Birmingham-Age Herald.

Writing to a personal friend in Atlanta Mr. Evans says:

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 2nd.

" * * * By the way, you will hardly know me when we meet again, because I am getting so well and strong again. As I told you while in Atlanta last month, I have been suffering a long time with gastritis, as the doctors call it—really a disordered stomach with consequent constipation pains in the shoulders, headache, belching, heartburn, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, and fainting spells. For weeks I could not sleep on my back.

"One week ago, upon recommendation of friends who had tried the medicine, I purchased one bottle of Tanlac and began taking it. Since my second dose I have suffered none of these troubles to which I refer, and really believe I am going to get perfectly well and strong again. Won't that be wonderful at my age? Well, certain it is that Tanlac is a wonderful medicine, and you know I am not given to 'puffing' mere experiments and am rather orthodox as to materia medicea."

"I shall continue the treatment with perfect confidence in the final results.

(Signed) "FRANK V. EVANS."

Commenting on this splendid endorsement of Tanlac G. F. Willis, International Distributor of Tanlac, said:

"Although the list of endorsors is a long one I recall a few leading names that lend both dignity and credit to the entire array. Some of them are:

"Hon. C. W. Mangum, of Atlanta, Ga., for three terms Sheriff of Fulton county; Hon. Moses R. Glenn, Superintendent of Printing for the State of Kentucky; Mr. C. C. Cooper, President of the Georgia Cotton Oil company; Mr. H. W. Hill, Bank President of South Pittsburg, Tenn.; Mr. J. F. Corroll, Cotton Mill Superintendent of Chattahoochee, Ga.; Hon. A. E. Anderson, of Houston, Texas, for seven terms Sheriff of Harris county; Hon. S. S. Shepard, ex-City Councilman of Atlanta, and many others whose names have heretofore been given to the public."

Later arrivals are: Corp. A. B. Stenberg, Co. D, 389th machine gun batallion; Corp. Elmer J. Zeh, St. Aignan casualty company; Pte. Homer L. Paskewitz, Grygla, 20th engineers; Milton Hestad, Grygla, 326th infantry.

FAMOUS BOOK NOW SEEN IN PICTURES

"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS" COMES TO LYCEUM NEXT MONDAY.

The homely story of "Old Matt" and "Young Matt," Sammy Lane and the gentle Shepherd of the Hills and all the big-hearted mountain folks, who were so realistically portrayed in Harold Bell Wright's novel of "The Shepherd of the Hills," live again in the picturization, which has been made by the author of this widely read book.

In filming this work, Mr. Wright has had a wealth of rich material from which to make his picture and the result has been a work of art in the field of motion pictures. A simple love story, typically American, the scenes are set in the Ozark Mountains of Missouri to which region comes a world-weary man who finds there a deep sorrow left by his long-lost son. In his endeavor to atone for this son's actions he gains the title of "The Shepherd of the Hills." The scenic background for this simple story presents a series of pictures dazzling in their grandeur and depicting faithfully the marvelous beauty of these hills of Southwestern Missouri.

The production is in ten reels and forms an evening's entertainment of exceptional interest. At Lyceum Theatre Monday, June 9.

Makes Good Offer.

H. O. Loken returned yesterday morning from the cities where he attended the sales held by the big wholesalers at this time of year. He states that the attendance was smaller and the stocks less desirable than at any time since he has been in business. Some excellent bargains were picked up, nevertheless, of which he will have something of interest to tell next week.

Mr. Loken is making the boys or girls who wish to become interested in mercantile lines an unusual opportunity in the advertising columns of The Times today. He will give them steady employment at good wages providing they show any aptitude for the business. This plan is being followed by the big stores in the cities with marked success, the reason for the innovation being the inability to secure experienced clerks and other necessary help.

Coming Back Fast.

The return of soldiers from France is surely being speeded up these days. The 20th engineers have been coming over in droves and Monday morning's papers contained the names of the following Thief River Falls boys who had landed in New York and may be expected home now almost any day: Omer Anderson, wagoner; Henry J. Rogers, horseshoer; Private Geo. E. Borden and Andrew Feragen.

On Monday morning word was received announcing the arrival of George Loken, musician with the 352nd infantry band.

WHO WILL PAY FOR THE BABCOCK PAVED ROADS?

(Warroad Pioneer.)

The county agents in Minnesota, in 1918, kept records of the operating expense of the cars they used. Small cars averaged 7.6 cents per mile and large cars 10.5.

It is fair and conservative to assume that the average cost of operating automobiles over our present Minnesota roads will average 9 cents per mile.

Over paved roads in California the cost figure of operating cars is 6 cents per mile.

That indicates there will be a saving of three cents per mile on all travel over the paved roads.

There are 200,000 autos in Minnesota now. Assuming that the average travel over the paved roads would be only 1,000 miles per car per year—which is a ridiculously low figure—the saving would be $30 per car, six million dollars a season.

The paved roads will be paid for by a license tax on automobiles and the money will come from the saving on gasoline, tires and the material of which automobiles are made—a saving of the natural resources of the nation.

It is a good proposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Elof Wassgren and children, who have resided in Thief River Falls for the past five months, left Wednesday for Warren, where they will make their home.

RATE RAISES UPHELD

Increased Railroad and Wire Charges Sustained.

Federal Supreme Court Rules on Case Taken Up From North Dakota High Court.

Washington, June 3.—The supreme court upholds railroad freight and passenger rate increases made by the railroad administration last June.

North Dakota supreme court decrees enjoining the Northern Pacific railroad and Director General Hines from enforcing an order of the railroad administration increasing rates in that state were reversed.

Wire Rates Also Upheld.

The court also set aside lower court decrees which held that under section 15 of the railroad control act, pre-existing, intra-state rates remained in effect as lawful police regulations.

Increased telephone and telegraph rates put into effect last Jan. 21 under an order of Postmaster General Burleson also were upheld by the supreme court.

The court held that under the joint resolution by which the wire systems were taken over by the government there was authority for interfering with intra-states rates.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS' PLAN

Proceeding on Theory That Prohibition Will Not Prohibit.

Washington, June 3.—Anti-prohibitionists are proceeding on the theory that prohibition will not prohibit and that congress eventually will declare beer and light wines non-intoxicating and that whisky can be distilled for certain purposes, refusing to pass legislation to enforce the constitutional amendment to the letter. The result would be strict enforcement of the amendment in dry states only, while wet states would become wet again. Inasmuch, however, as congress is more than two-thirds dry in both houses, it is conceded that only a great revulsion of sentiment could fulfill this hope of the wets.

SEES FAILURE OF STRIKE

Canadian Official Optimistic on Winnipeg Situation.

Winnipeg, June 3.—Gideon Robertson, Dominion minister of labor, in a statement made to the press before leaving for Ottawa to confer with federal authorities, said that the promoters of the general strike in Winnipeg "now sit in the ashes of their folly," that "sympathetic strikes must always fail," and that the Winnipeg strike is "the first rehearsal of the play written at Calgary," where the One Big Union movement was launched last March.

GERMANS MUST ACCEPT OR REFUSE BY JUNE 25

Paris, June 3. — The reply to the German counterproposals, the Echo de Paris declares, will be handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau Friday. It will constitute a refusal of the German proposals. The Germans, the newspaper adds, will be told they must either accept or refuse the Allied conditions before June 25.

CLUB COLLECTING HALF NEEDED SUM

WILL TRY AND MEET REQUIREMENTS OF COUNTY FAIR BOARD.

Members of the ways and means committee of the Woman's club met with the executive committee of the county fair this week and a plan for financing the erection of a woman's building was agreed upon. The association will give $300 toward the enterprise providing the club can raise a like sum. This will provide the minimum with which the committee believes it can get along and the collection of the amount has already been engaged upon.

Rather than deplete the treasury of the club it has been deemed best to levy an assessment. Each member will therefore be required to pay in fifty cents for this purpose, leaving or sending the money to Mrs. A. S. Sapero in care of the Sapero Company's store in this city.

It will be absolutely necessary for the club to fulfill its part of this contract before anything toward a building can be undertaken and Mrs. Sapero asks that all be prompt in making their remittance.

ACTIVITIES TODAY END SCHOOL TERM

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS BY DR. A. A. BESS AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

When school is dismissed this afternoon the youngsters will enter upon a vacation of two months. The week has been taken up with the usual exercises incident to the winding up of the term and has been full of interesting events.

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class was delivered at the auditorium last Sunday evening by Rev. J. A. Orrock of the Methodist church. It was an excellent sermon and greatly enjoyed by the large audience present.

The senior class day exercises took place on Tuesday evening, the program being particularly pleasing and well rendered. The class memorial was presented by Evelyn Tessum and accepted by President O. F. Mellby of the school board. The address for this occasion was delivered by Rev. M. J. Noesen of St. Bernard's church.

The exercises for the eighth grade graduates were held on Thursday afternoon, the program containing many excellent musical numbers.

The commencement address will be delivered this evening by Dr. Albert Allen Bess, president of Macalester college, St. Paul, the complete program being as follows:

Prayer .... Rev. I. T. Aastad
Salutatorian .... Evelyn Tessum
Song .... Mixed Chorus
Address .... Dr. Albert Allen Bess
Valedictorian .... Phyllis Curtis
Song .... Senior Octette
Class Presentation .... Mr. J. H. Hay
Diplomas .... Dr. O. F. Mellby
Alma Mater .... Senior Class
Benediction .... Rev. Albin A. Larson

Must Not Let Down

THAT the Savers of Thief River Falls have done much during the past few months to make their Savings Accounts in this Bank grow and prosper, does not justify a let-down during the summer months.

THERE are many opportunities for saving money during the summer, when work is plentiful and any one can earn a few extra dollars.

HAVE a purpose and stick to it. Have a Savings Account at this bank and add to it regularly.

WELL-BUILT BARN IS REAL ASSET

Poor Building Is Expensive Proposition to Farmer.

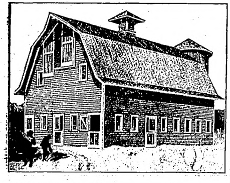
HERE IS AN IDEAL DESIGN

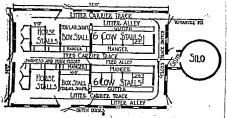
House for Live Stock and Winter's Supply of Feed Must Be Substantial Building With Prices at Present Level.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose three-cent stamp for reply.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

An old barn through which the wind sweeps in the winter time and which is so constructed that the farmer cannot do the work of caring for his livestock in the easiest way is a costly building these days. The prices of dairy products and the feed that is required to make the animals produce a maximum amount of milk make it necessary that the cows be kept in a warm, weather-tight barn which is so constructed that the labor can be performed with the least amount of effort. The farmer who is making the most money out of his livestock is the farmer who has a modern, well-built barn, equipped with the labor-saving devices.





Many farmers are now considering building a new barn, or a hog house, granary, or some other necessary building. To the man who wants a medium-sized barn, arranged so that modern equipment can be installed, the design shown in the accompanying illustration will appeal. Here is a barn that in exterior appearance, interior arrangement and size will suit the needs of most farmers. Its dimensions are 34 by 52 feet, a size sufficient to house 12 cows and eight horses, or 20 animals in all.

This is what is called a gambrel roof barn and will make a fine addition to any farm building group. How the first floor is arranged and equipped is shown in the floor plan accompanying the view of the exterior of the barn. The rear section of the ground floor is set off for the cows; the front part for the horses and their equipment. Through the center of the barn runs the feed alley, with an overhead carrier track that runs to the silo chute. On either side of the barn is the litter alley. Connected with the center carrier track is another that runs over both alleys, so that the manure can easily be taken to the pit at one side of the rear of the building.

On either side of the cow stable are six stalls, while in the horse barn are four stalls and two box stalls. The latter can be turned into single stalls, should the owner desire. The floor of this building is of concrete, with gutters at the rear of the stalls to make cleaning easy. The cows are faced in, so that their backs are to the light.

Sunshine and fresh air, together with a good supply of fresh water, are what cows require to be kept at the height of productivity. Sunshine is nature's germ killer. This design provides a continuous row of windows, so that the sunshine can hit the litter alley and the gutters. Foul air shafts are provided. The shafts run through the side walls to the ventilator placed at the center of the room. This draws out the foul air and keeps the animals healthy. From this description it will be seen that the stable floor has been arranged so that the work of caring for the animals may be done without a great expenditure of effort.

The mow floor is unobstructed, the building being so constructed that there are no posts required to support the roof. The mow doors are hung on tracks and slide down and out of the way, while in the ridge is a track for the hay carrier.

The barn is of frame construction, set on a concrete foundation, which makes it not expensive to build, but will give excellent satisfaction.

Fresh feed is also a requisite for animals in the winter time. Here is shown a silo in connection with the barn. Feed now is costly and by cutting up the fodder and preserving it in the silo there is a supply of fresh feed right at the barn, where it will supplement the hay and grain.

Kept in a barn like this, where they can get fresh air, and be dry and warm, the farm animals will be much more profitable than in an old, drafty barn. The feed that is given in the winter will go toward fat and milk, rather than be consumed to keep the cows and horses warm.

When considering the erection of a barn, it is advisable to consult a local architect. Builders save much money in this way. If there is no architect available, the local contractor in these days is a practical architect, who can advise with the prospective builder. The cost of such a barn as this also can be easily ascertained by consulting the contractor or material dealer. Prices of labor and materials vary with different localities, the cost of the latter being governed by the distance from the source of supply.

While it is economy to build well, when building, there is an excellent reason why every one who contemplates putting up a new barn should do it now. While prices of materials are higher than they were a few years ago, so are the prices of everything a farmer produces. And there is no chance that the prices of materials will come down until after the prices of foods come down.

The government is making a campaign to promote building. Assisting in this campaign are the business men and best citizens in every community. Buildings are necessary to keep the country and its citizens prosperous. And to be prosperous ourselves, our neighbors must be prosperous. Anything we can do and at the same time serve ourselves should be done, for in helping others we are helping ourselves.

Farmers as a class are now the most prosperous people in the country. They want to continue to be prosperous, just as every one else wants them to do, for their prosperity is the basis of the well being of the country. Building will help continue that prosperity.

Moose Charged the Hunter.

News has leaked out from Fredericton, N. B., that a Mr. Adams of that city had an exciting time of it on his moose hunting trip last fall. Adams was moose hunting with J. B. Smith when they came across a male and female moose feeding. The female is protected by law. Both shot at the bull moose, but the bullets had little effect. The bull moose started to run and Adams ran after the animal shooting when opportunity presented.

One bullet so angered the moose that it turned and charged the hunter. Adams, seeing the animal coming his way, also turned and ran. The moose gained and was snorting with rage when Smith, taking careful aim, toppled the animal over. When they examined the moose 11 bullets were found in the carcass. The animal dressed about 600 pounds. The antlers were preserved.

STATE SELLS FISH AT REDUCED PRICE

MAY BE SECURED BY DEALERS OR SENT DIRECT TO CONSUMERS.

Thrifty housewives can have fancy fish fresh from Red Lake delivered to any city in Minnesota at wholesale prices under an offer made last week by Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner. The plan will bring state fishing operations a step nearer consumers and thus toward reducing the cost of living, the commissioner said.

While the smallest shipment made is twenty-five pounds, housewives may club together, Mr. Avery explained, and purchase state-caught fish, well packed and iced and all charges paid, at the following prices:

Fish	25 lbs.	50 lbs.	100 lbs.	150 lbs.
Pike	$3.25	$6.50	$12.75	$18.75
Pickerel	2.25	4.50	8.75	12.75
Rough fish	1.50	1.75	5.75	8.25

Money orders payable to the state game and fish commissioner must accompany all orders sent here to the capitol. Pike are offered at 12 cents a pound, pickerel at 8 cents and rough fish at 5 cents, the additional charges being for shipping boxes.

Any Minnesota dealer's order will be filled at the same price, Commissioner Avery said, on condition that the fish will be sold at no more than 4 cents a pound over those figures.

Are You Figuring On A New Barn?

IF so, permit us to help you with the plans. The building illustrated in Mr. Badford's article on this page is well planned and, if correctly built of the right material, will prove an asset to any man.

We can furnish the materials as well as the plans and lay them down at your station at a price that will surprise you because of its reasonableness.

There Will be Plenty of Hay

This year and many farmers will go more heavily into cattle. They will need improved barns and we are ready for them. Our stock is the best procurable anywhere and the prices are low when compared with other staples.

This is the Time to Build

Do not wait until harvest is upon you before at least making all the arrangements. We shall be glad if you will avail yourself of our expert advice before making your final arrangements.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Delivered by

REV. JAMES A. ORROCK

Of the M. E. Church, Thief River Falls, at the Auditorium Sunday Evening, June 1, 1919

Text: "There is No Discharge in That War." Eccl. 8-8.

For more than five years past we have been confronted with the startling facts of the World war as they have been brought to us from every quarter. For more than three years we were spectators. We saw the hordes of the Huns as they made their great lunge westward leaving death and devastation in their wake. When only a thin line stood between them and their ambition we were amazed by their very audacity.

And then one day, after coming closer and closer week by week, we found ourselves in the great maelstrom of war. The president had asked congress to declare that a state of war existed between ourselves and the Imperial German Empire.

Almost like magic the machinery was set in motion to create a great army and equip it for service overseas. Camps and cantonments were constructed; equipment was manufactured; through the selective draft the choicest of our young manhood was called from countryside and from the city. Within six months from the day of the declaration of war that stream of khaki-clad men began to arrive on the shores of Europe. We saw them go and our hearts went with them. When the armistice was signed last November more than 2,000,000 were over there and ready to give an account of themselves, and millions more were ready to go. Never before in so short a time had the world seen such a spectacle. In a few months we had accomplished what it has taken Germany 100 years to do. Chateau-Thierry, Argonne Wood, St. Mihiel, Sedan—tell in accents more eloquent than mine what they did there.

And now for six months they have been coming home. A great army of straight, stalwart, upstanding men. The finest army the sun ever shown upon.

Hush!—See there are some that are blind, some have lost an arm, a leg or both—some have lost their reason. And—listen, some have not come home at all, but are sleeping upon a foreign field, some in an unknown grave, having paid the supreme sacrifice of loving service, for greater love hath no man than this that he lay down his life for his friend.

The war is over but who can measure the cost?

Measured in terms of money, a sum so large that no human mind can comprehend it. Measured in terms of men slain—a multitude so vast that no man can number them. Measured in terms of debt—an amount so great that the great grandchildren of this generation will still be bending under the lash of this cruel taskmaster.

But thank God the end has come and our boys are being sent home with an honorable discharge in their pockets, for in the wars of earth soldiers are discharged. But we ask the question: What was it all for? President Wilson answers: "That the world may be made safe for Democracy." And the answer was caught up by thousands and from the press, the platform, and the pulpit was heralded over the land until we thought it might be so. But after all it is not true. It cannot be true, for carnage, devastation, hatred and the whole foul brood from the man of hell can never make the world safe for anything.

What question, then, did this war answer? It gave answer to the question whether in the days ahead of us Autocracy, almost as old as the human race, or Democracy, an infant of days, should be given the first chance in the world—and democracy won. What is democracy? Oh, just another name for the brotherhood of man. From whence came it? Answer: From the heart of Jesus Christ the Son of God, the world's first great democrat.

But listen, the world is not safe for democracy nor is democracy safe for the world. To make the world safe for democracy and democracy safe for the world is the problem of peace, a problem which confronts this and each succeeding generation until time shall be no more. Christian civilization is now calling for enlistments in this great long list of peace and, "there shall be no discharge in that war."

The problems of construction are always greater than those of destruction. It takes longer to build than to tear down. A few brief hours suffice for the destruction of the work of a thousand years. Engineers tell us that it will require 20 years time and millions of money to restore the western battlefields.

Young men and women of the class of 1919, we face the mightiest task that was ever given to any generation. Over night kings have been torn from their thrones and in many places anarchy rages in their stead. It is a challenge to the best there is in us. We must not fail.

Democracy has been thrust upon the world and the world is not ready; for intelligence and righteousness are fundamental to democracy.

But, you ask, what business is this of ours? Much, in every way. Yesterday we were an isolated nation; today we are a great world power with world responsibility. Besides, we are the world's first great democracy and we have become the world's ideal. How did we become the such? It was the spirit of the early colonists who came to these shores, every one of whom came here that he might worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, but let us note that he might worship God. But without question the greatest single influence was from the Pilgrim fathers who 300 years ago landed on the bleak shores of New England and first built the church and then the school, and for 300 years the church and the public school has been the bulwark of our nation.

But what is the task? Let us take a look at the world. Look at the Orient—900,000,000 of the world; 1,800,000,000 people are there with Manila as the great center. And outside of the Phillipines and Japan 95 per cent are illiterate. Since American occupation 20 years ago illiteracy has been reduced in the Phillipines from 95 per cent to 55 per cent. How? By 600 American school teachers, and Christian missionaries. In 20 years English has become the language of the people to a far greater extent than Spanish did during 400 years of Spanish occupation.

What of China—440,000,000 people 95 per cent illiterate, only 2 per cent of her children in school. What are her resources? 220,000 square miles of bituminous coal fields and an unlimited quantity of iron. The average wage of skilled labor from 11 to 15 cents per day.

Look at India—315,000,000 people, 90 per cent illiterate. Average wage $9 to $9.50 per year.

What of Africa—10,000,000, nominally Christian; Cape Colony—40,000,000 Mohammedan; North of the Sahara—80,000,000 Pagan. What about resources: 800,000 square miles of bituminous coal, 4 times the iron found in North America. $10,000,000 worth of gum rubber exported from Congo region annually upon the completion of the Cape to Cario railroad.

Capetown is nearer London than Vladivostock is to Petrograd. 95,000 square miles of undeveloped agricultural land.

What of Russia, poor bleeding Russia? What is the matter? Eighty per cent of her 169,000,000 people illiterate. That accounts for the present condition of Bolshevism, for people without intelligence are incapable of self-government. Look to the South—South America with 75% illiterate. That accounts for the frequent revolutions there. And Mexico at our very door—80 per cent illiterate. Mexico needs teachers and missionaries, not invading armies. Our government spent enough money in six months to patrol the border to have built a college, a hospital and established a social settlement in every city in Mexico of 4,000 people and over, and to have maintained them for a period of ten years.

During the middle ages the choicest of the world's young manhood offered itself in the crusades. The purpose was to rescue the tomb of the Christ from the hands of the Moslem. In this our day another crusade is being organized. The opportunity of enlisting in the greatest cause ever given to man is being now offered as a challenge to the young manhood and womanhood of America. The church of the living God has a program which is the greatest ever undertaken. Recently representatives of the leading denominations of this country met in an inter-church council at Cleveland, Ohio, and there outlined a plan of action to make the world safe for democracy and democracy safe for the world. Basing my calculations upon that of the Methodist church, whose world program is nearing consummation, and which has for its objective the enlisting of 53,300 young people in definite Christian service and the raising of $105,000,000—a feat already accomplished. These 40 denominations who are now in the crusade and the others who will soon be in, will raise an army of over a 1,000,000 during the next five years and equip it for Christian service.

Three-fourths of the world's peoples are incapable of self-government because they lack in intelligence and religious ideals, two things absolutely essential to self-government. Col. House has recently said, "there can be no permanent peace unless the church can Christanize international relationship," while J. Campbell White tersely puts it: "Christ or chaos for the world."

Young folks of the class of 1919, God in our day has laid the world at our feet. He has equipped us as no other nation or people of time have been equipped for the task. Our banner is the cross of Christ, our objective world democracy, the realization of the brotherhood of man.

The world's door is open, shall we not enter in?

Legal Notices

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Notice is hereby given that default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Ole N. Lund, single, mortgagor to the Trail State Bank, a corporation, mortgagee, dated the first day of November, 1915, and which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, on the 3rd day of November, 1915, at Eight o'clock A. M., in Book 2 of Mortgages on page 607 thereof; that the amount claimed to be due and is due on said mortgage, at the date of this notice is the sum of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) with interest thereon at the rate of Ten per cent per annum from the first day of November, 1917, and whereas, no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

The Theatre Ordinance.

An ordinance introduced for the purpose of closing the theatres and moving picture shows on Sundays will come up for its third and final reading on Tuesday, June 10 at the regular meeting of the city council. The ordinance is supported by an overwhelming majority of our citizens. There cannot be any question but that it is morally right to close the theatres on Sunday. Anyone that has learned the simplest fundamentals of Christianity knows that God wants the Sunday used for public and private worship. If any legislative body then, should refuse to prohibit the various kinds of business activities on Sunday, it would be guilty of transgressing the will of God. Since the days of the first apostles the Sunday has been used by the Christian churches as a day of worship. No matter what differences and controversies there have been between the different Christian churches, on this point they have been unanimous. Therefore, we find that in all civilized and so-called Christian countries laws have been enacted to close all business houses on the Lord's day, except those absolutely necessary to our bodily welfare. It would seem then that no really valid reason for having the moving picture shows run on Sunday can be found. An apparent reason might be that the manager of the theatres can make money on Sunday—yes, make even more than on any other day in the week. It is admitted that he does. And since he usually advertises the greatest attraction of the week on Sunday, he may make more money on Sunday than any other day. But of course he can have this kind of attractions on any other day in the week. Then the money loss would be slight. But even from a business point of view it would seem foolish to let the theatres run on Sunday. There are some thirteen or fourteen churches in our city with a capital invested of perhaps $200,000, and an annual expenditure of probably $30,000. Would it not be the most deplorable foolishness to invest a capital like that, and spend as much money annually and then allow one man to place such hindrance in the way that the work the church is called on to do could not be done? If an organization of business men, for instance, like the Commercial club should want to go on record as either for or against the running of the theatres on Sunday there could be no doubt on which side they would line up. What's the use of having any churches in our city, if you hinder them by unnecessary amusements in doing their work? It would seem pure waste of money. But, moreover, we all know that the church is not a business undertaking. This God ordained institution is given us for a different purpose. And the Lord's day belongs to the church to do its business on, and that business is to meet with fellow-believers for public worship, with devout hearts adore God, hear the preaching of the word, use the sacraments, and besides to be edified by the word of God in the homes. Anything that hinders this is wrong. But then the objection is at once raised: You cannot legislate people to go to church and to worship God. That is true. Religion can not be enforced by law. They who pin their faith to legislation for the advancement of religion are bound to be disillusioned sooner or later. But to go to church and worship God is right, even if you cannot compel people by the civil law to do so. There is no justification in letting a thing that is morally wrong continue even if there are people that will persist in wrong doing. What is needed in our city, if it shall become a city of homes, is a strong public sentiment against everything that robs Christianity of the support upon which it must lean. If the moving picture shows on Sunday in our city tend to draw our youth and our elders away from the services of God's house, and away from the Sunday school, the prices that will have to be paid for it will be a godless, conscienceless citizenry which is becoming more of a menace to the country every year. Neither our city nor any other can afford to pay such a price. Criticism has been raised against circulating petitions asking the city council to enact the proposed theatre ordinance. It has been stated that the council would be fully able to settle this matter without interference of the public. Admitted. But the petitions have been circulated on the request of some of the members of the council. That some one of those circulating petitions may have been over-zealous is to be regretted. A great number of the states in the union have through their legislatures passed laws prohibiting theatrical performances and some other kinds of amusements on Sunday. In our state it has been left to the different municipalities to pass such ordinances as may be necessary. A large number of cities have already done so, and I do not doubt but that Thief River Falls will be found in the lead in Northern Minnesota in this needed and reasonable reform.

CONTINUE STUDIES WORKING ON FARM

SMITH-HUGHES ACT OPENS VAST POSSIBILITIES FOR BOYS.

Since it was announced that the schools of District No. 18 in Pennington county would qualify under the Smith-Hughes act, there has been considerable speculation as to just what the provisions of this law are. The following, taken from the Grand Rapids Herald-Review, explains the matter clearly, the article applying to Pennington county fully as well as to Itasca:

"The young people who are studying agriculture in Itasca county will have an opportunity to avail themselves of the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act next year. This is a radical change in the method of teaching better farming, and is made possible by a recent act of congress which enables the local school district to get federal aid for this work.

"The new plan of agricultural education follows the boy during the entire year. He is in school for six months, and on the farm the other half of the time, but his work on the farm is taken as part of the school work. If the pupil does his farm work as it should be done, and applies the lessons learned during the six months he was in school, credits will be given, and the work considered as part of the school work.

"The course will run six months of the year in the school and the other six months are to be spent by the boys on the farms, probably beginning October 16, and ending the term of school, April 16. The aim is to take the boy from the farm only when he can best be spared, and allow him to be there for the rush of spring and fall work and through the summer. While on the farm the boy carries out, with the help and supervision of the agricultural instructor, some definite problem or project on his home farm. In this way both the theoretical and the practical work are taken care of, providing a well-balanced course that is calculated to turn out efficient farmers, at the least possible expense to the boy and least loss of time from the farm. It is aimed to develop the course into a three and possibly four year course if the boys care to help make it such. What is wanted now is to have every boy in district No. 1 have a chance to join this course next fall, who is 14 years or over, who would like to have some training in agriculture and especially those boys who would otherwise not be able to come to high school for the full school year. This course will count for regular high school credits and these credits can be used for admission to the State Agricultural college. There will be other studies, adapted to the use of the boys taking this agricultural course arranged to go right along with the agriculture through the six months in school, such as manual training, spelling, arithmetic and others that will be of value to the farm boys.

"A. H. Frick, the agricultural instructor in district one, has been retained to direct the workings of this act of congress in the school district. Deer River qualified under the provisions of this act for the present school year, so that the Grand Rapids high school will be the second in the county to meet the provisions asked. It is now understood that there are many youths in this district who plan to avail themselves of these possibilities and advantages."

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the Farmer

THERE is no general class of men who understand so thoroughly, and appreciate so well, the service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as do the farmers of the Middle West.

Wherever he may live the farmer is as familiar with the dark green tank wagon as he is with the conveyance which brings the mail carrier. He knows that his requirements of petroleum products will be provided.

He depends upon the service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), confident that the company will deliver to him whatever products he needs, when he needs them, and at a price which is fair.

During the past two or three strenuous years the farmer of America has carried the responsibility for feeding the world. Every hour of every day he was busy, and every minute was precious.
